KINGSTON (CP)—The dean of engineering at the University of Saskatchewan says Canadian defence policy is framed by people "who don't know what they're talking about."

Dr. Arthur Porter told a regional conference of the Engineering Institute of Canada Saturday that "no politician or civil servant is personally conversant with the technicality of a weapon like the Bomarc."

"At present decisions are taken by people unqualified to make them," he stated.

Dr. Porter suggested that a top - level advisory council be formed to advise the government on defence. He would choose advisers from universities and industry.

Invite Russian Sub

VANCOUVER (CP)—Alderman Jack Price said Sunday the department of external affairs is attempting to get a Russian submarine for Vancouver's harbor during "Salute to Tourist Week."

"The department has issued an invitation to Russia and to other countries," said Mr. Baker, chairman of the city's "salute committee." He said there has been no reply from Russia.

Tourist week is July 4 to 9.

ARTHUR DUNCAN, public relations officer of the Bata Shoe Company, who took a party of musicians from Trenton and Batawa to the Hastings County Home for the Aged on Sunday night to wish them a "Happy Mother's Day", is seen on the left. Next to Mr. Duncan is William Tripp, 89-year-old visitor from Frankford; Kenneth York, supervisor of the home; Mrs. J. B. Foster, 94, of Belleville, who resides at the home, and Stephen Choma, well known concert violinist, who entertained.

He was predeceased by his wife, Jean, and one son, William.

12 Trenton Young People Attend Meet

TRENTON — Twelve young people from Trenton attended a United Church Conference on Christian vocation at Kingston last week-end. Sponsored by the 130 girls and boys from the Bay of Quinte conference spent Friday night, Saturday and Sunday morning at Queen's University.

Convener of the conference was Dr. S. L. Osborne. Theme speaker was the Rev. George M. Morrison.

The program included lectures, discussion groups, meditation and a Communion service on Sunday morning in Sydenham Street United Church.

Dr. Osborne arranged a tour through Old Fort Henry for the group. This was a special privilege as Fort Henry is not ordinarily open to the public until May 30.

The lectures and informal group discussions were aimed at developing a desire for and consideration of the ministry as a vocation. The young people acquainted with the need in the United Church for ministers, missionaries, counsellors and lay workers.

Those attending from King Street United Church in Trenton were Miss Ann Buchanan, Peter Bonter, Roger Rathbun, Ross Wightmon, Joan Duclau, Paul Buchanan and Jim Gerick.

From Grace United Church: George Puttenham, Ernest McLeod, Grant McLeod, Nancy Wright and Gail Smith.

Says Religious Orders Should Pay Income Tax

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP) — A retired school principal says religious orders are costing the federal government $30,000 a year in lost income tax.

Victor Emmanuel Nordby, 66, who was a principal in Saskatchewan, said in an interview he has sent a brief to all members of Parliament in an attempt to block what he terms an unloophole in the Income Tax Act.

He said a blow-per-cent exemption, incorporated in the act in 1949 affects members of orders who have taken vows of perpetual poverty. He said most are teachers, being paid out of public funds, whose cheques are turned over to their orders.

The orders, thus, were earning taxable incomes but paying no tax.

"This is an injustice. Religious groups should take their place in contributing to the revenue of our country. These people get the silk and sandals the same as those who pay income tax."

Mr. Nordby, a Baptist, says the orders he refers to are mainly Roman Catholic although some are Anglican. But, he says, it would urge the same action if any denomination affected any own church."

U.S. Aided Mass Migration Says S. Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)— Acting President Huh Chung today accused the United States today of using its influence to help launch a mass migration of Koreans in Japan to Communist North Korea.

Huh did not spell out what role Washington played but told reporters the idea was to help Japanese Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and Foreign Minister Aiichiro Fujiyama "save weakening face" when they were pushing for ratification of the new U.S.-Japan security pact.

South Korea hitherto opposed the voluntary migration proposal, but the mission of 49,000 Koreans from Japan to North Korea under the supervision of the International Red Cross since last Dec. 14. At least 80,-000 more are waiting to go.

The North Korean Communist regime in Korea, in Japan, most of them destitute, have returned. Japan agreed to the mission provided it was entirely voluntary.

The Commonwealth's Hour of Decision

We see that some persons have taken to predicting the current crisis in South Africa may disrupt, even ruin, the Commonwealth. An issue seems to be begged by these people. Is the Commonwealth in any position to exert any sort of force upon its members?

It is a curious compact, the Commonwealth. Membership is entirely voluntary and there are no rules or regulations binding the membership outside of having originally been members of the British Empire during their past history. It was conceived by Prime Minister Balfour of Great Britain who felt that members would be "equal in status, in no way subordinate one to the other in any aspect of their domestic or external affairs."

This is a very high ideal, to say the very least. As such it is extremely difficult to live up to if not impossible (which takes a little longer.) It has been suggested that the members of the Commonwealth ministers are meeting in London, might issue a declaration favoring government along multi-racial lines.

A spokesman for the Commonwealth Relations Office (sort of an offshoot of the British Foreign Office) is reported as saying that this is "the last thing that Commonwealth members want . . . We rather pride ourselves on the fact that we have no constitution, no set rules." From this we may reasonably assume, we feel, that the only criterion for the Commonwealth is its moral conscience, its sense of human dignity and honor.

These words may seem very strange and at first glance one might well think they form little more than idealistic prattle which will never have any real worth as far as national or international politics and governments are concerned. We might be inclined to agree with this if it were not for the fact that there is an underlying, possibly forgotten, influence.

This factor which we believe to be the saving influence as far as any talk of moral conscience, sense of human dignity and honor is concerned is that the member nations concerned have a common background of moral and political thought. It is to be realised that the leaders in just about every member of the Commonwealth have obtained their education and training in an environment created by one of the greatest empires which history shall record.

The end of the British Empire does not stand unblemished by poor judgment or by wrong doing at various parts or times of its 300-odd years of existence. But it has produced a positive good. It has proven to be the fertile womb out of which have come a large number of the finest thinkers and doers. It has produced a philosophy of life which we feel can surely stand the test of time and tribulation.

One of the greatest tests which it will have to stand up against is currently on its doorstep. The actions of the South African government are quite out of keeping with the philosophy of the Commonwealth. Yet the Commonwealth should not be bound by rules. It will be much stronger if bound by conscience. Rules can be broken, but one's conscience is with him always.

If we were to offer a suggestion as to what to do about South Africa we would suggest that a solution be offered the opportunity of mutual assistance from member nations to temporarily regulate life in the Union and to propose a series of conciliatory measures which might be adopted by the government "in no way subordinate one to the other in any aspect of their domestic or external affairs."

If this proposal were refused by the South African government we should make whatever move our sense of human dignity and honor and our conscience should dictate. We should not allow these values to be subjected to any pandering to political expediency or sterile sense of individualism by by-passing the problem as being none of our business. If we were to do this the Commonwealth would be repudiating its most valuable contribution to mankind . . . a philosophy of freedom for all to the prejudice of none governed by a worthwhile set of moral principles.

We would, as the Oriental says, have lost face; and that would be the end of the Commonwealth; which is a way of life, not a set of rules.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

WIND AND TIDE

Can you sail faster with the wind or against it?

Well, that depends, of course, on the run of the tide. If you sail with the tide with him, he can sail straight into the teeth of the wind by tacking back and forth and make exhilarating progress. But if the tide is running against him, even though his sails are filled with the wind, he seems only to move at a snail's pace.

We are usually held back in the most important of all voyage by the tides which run through our lives. The tide of melancholy can make the voyage dismal, even though the sails are billed with a vigorous breeze. Resentment, self-pity, and jealousy — what tides these are — how they slave back, no matter how privileged the condition amid which they exist.

Then there is the stormy scale in the tide which we have to sail against the wind. It can be done, but it takes skill and patience. The sails have to be set in such a way that a strong wind blowing straight against the boat will carry it not backwards but forward. And a good sailor always acquaints himself with the current can do to him.

So let us watch the tides and let us never forget that God in His mercy makes them run to our advantage, and we, often to our undoing.

Illegal But Common

Peterborough Examiner

Two doctors have been arrested and charged with trying to produce an abortion. Abortions are illegal in this country only if the life or health of the mother-to-be is seriously threatened and the pregnancy has not gone beyond the end of the seventh month. The question of criminal abortions is up to the criminal courts.

Abortion has been practised for almost as long as history is recorded. The morality has been in dispute just as long. The Hippocratic oath, sworn by physicians, forbade it. It was written in the fourth century B.C., categorically outlaws induced termination of pregnancy.

. . . Lucifly I will not add a woman to procure an abortion." Plato disagreed with Hippocrates and his pupil Aristotle who, in his books the Politics regarded it as infinitely preferable to infanticide and infant exposure. Many scholars believe that the Hippocratic oath's opposition to abortion was based not so much on morality as on the fact that in those days it was a hazardous operation.

Ancient Jewish, Hindu and Buddhist law forbade induced abortion but it was widely practised in all the pagan societies who, in his books the Politics regarded it as infinitely preferable to infanticide and infant exposure. Many scholars believe that the Hippocratic oath's opposition to abortion was based not so much on morality as on the fact that in those days it was a hazardous operation.

Ancient Jewish, Hindu and Buddhist law forbade induced abortion but it was widely practised in all the pagan societies who was also common in Germany and Central Europe before the Christian faith became firmly established and it was declared sinful, but the early Germans has one of the highest abortion rates.

A few people realize the extent to which induced criminal abortion is practised today; 40 years ago Professor Taussig described it as the "one of the greatest maternal problems."

A study in the United States in the early 1930's showed that there are between 500,000 and 750,000 illegal abortions annually in that country. Twenty per cent of diagnosable pregnancies are estimated destroyed by induced abortion and 16 per cent of attempted deaths were traced to it. The study also showed that 80 per cent of all abortions are performed on married women.

One remarkable aspect of the situation is that no matter how many laws are passed, the ar-

An Unlisted Phone Locks The Door

by SYDNEY J. HARRIS

The New York Telephone Co. has just begun to charge its subscribers 50 cents a month for performing a non-service — keeping their numbers out of the telephone book.

It may surprise you, as it pleased me, to learn that 400,000 persons have chosen in the New York metropolitan area have subscribed to this. This proposition for privacy on the part of telephone users is a created extra work for the company, including a separate set of records. Thus the additional charge.

I think it is well worth it. My own number is not listed in the book for a dozen years, and what a blessed relief it has been. There are several other Sydney Harrises in the local book, however, and reports have reached me that they are frequently afflicted with the annoyance of my calls.

None of these calls, I am sure, was of the slightest importance, although occasionally mortal, I was plagued with salesmen, solicitors, charity-seekers, people out to settle barroom bets, and miscellaneous others who seemed to think no one than invade the privacy of a stranger's home.

It is amazing that nearly a half-million New Yorkers feel the same way about it, and resist their presence from the directory. It was Robert Lynd, the sociologist, who pointed out that modern man is "the greatest nuisance among nuisances," and that the unlisted phone is "the greatest nuisance among nuisances," and that the unlisted convenience among nuisances." An unlisted number, to my mind, preserves the convenience while removing the nuisance.

A magazine I greatly enjoy, the quarterly "The American Scholar," published by Phi Beta Kappa, has lately been running a series of articles on "the concept of privacy" in modern American life. The consensus of its distinguished contributors has been that Americans are the most victimized people in the world.

Everywhere we turn, we are assailed by the most stupid proposition for our attention, from people selling dishwashers, ideas, emotions, prejudices; by tests, questionnaires, contests; and by home, which used to be a man's castle, has become an open-air forum.

The families who have pulled their names out of the phone directory are not suffering from seclusion, nor are they dodging creditors. For the most part, they are seeking a little peace and quiet in the one refuge that is left to them: I applaud the good sense of Telephonics Anonymous.

Why Krupp Was Jailed

Vancouver Sun

Time blunts memories.

The United Press International dispatch from Essen, reporting the rebuilding of the Krupp empire, says Alfred Krupp "was sent to jail as a war criminal because of his firm's role in the manufacturing of arms for Nazi Germany." U.P.I. should beatit itself to recall and report the facts.

Alfried Krupp von Bohlen und Halmbach was convicted at the Nuremberg war crime trials of 1948 on charges of:

"Plunder and spoliation of confiscated industrial and "spoliation, exploitation and abuse of slave labor."

In simpler words, stealing and slavery.

Gutenberg's Achievement

Cleveland Plain Dealer

A thoughtful letter writer a few days ago examined John Gutenberg's credentials as "the man who invented printing" and being indicated that the palms should go to ancient Orientals rather than to John Gutenberg.

The odd fact is that Gutenberg still popularly is honored for the wrong reason, while his actual contribution to the advancement of civilization and knowledge is overlooked. Most teachers or editors seem to realize what his great invention was: even some good encyclopedias don't make it clear that it was printing rather than taking printed pages off forms of hand-set type.

Modern experts on Gutenberg's history say it was this: He discovered that the alloy metals including lead which neither expands nor contracts when it goes from a molten state to the solid.

By getting the exact proportion of metals which expand on cooling and contract on heating, which contract on solidifying, Gutenberg achieved what he sought, an undoubtedly took numerous experiments.

Once he got his formula perfected, he could "cast" letters of right uniformity and the impressions of the desired letters cut into them. Then, according to Gutenberg could do this, because the molten metals they might have used either expanded or shrunk the type box or making it impossible to get a clean piece of type free or the metal contracted so the product was imperfect.

Cutting letters by hand although it was new in the fifteenth had been done, was too tedious a process to produce printing in quantities they lacked the desired uniformity of appearance. Gutenberg had created the way for printing by press.

Gutenberg then was a great medieval chemist - inventor as well as a printer-artist, and it was his alloy invention which principally gave him his right to be called the inventor of printing. And in one way of looking at his problem and its solution, he was even more. He understood the need for mass production.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE ART OF UNDERSTANDING

None of us can hope to make the world better unless we understand it, and the best way to understand it is to live it.

George Gissing, the English novelist of the 90's, was unfortunate in the lower classes of London because he understood them. He made them live but he was not of them He knew every song of poverty, of physical and mental suffering. Thus he could write intelligently about them.

The average of us will go through life that of understanding. We receive warmth from the reading of books because we are not able to absorb the spirit of the author and all that he lived and felt as he wrote.

If we can live the thoughts of others we develop the inner sympathy that he has given over to his characters, so as to make them live in us. Then h' thoughts, that book is worth while and we should live.

When people understand one another they don't have to look up words in a dictionary or a thesaurus.

Dangerous Delusion

Ottawa Journal

The president of Du Pont of Canada, Crawford Gordon Jr., told Lake, talked words to the annual meeting of his company which Canadians who don't own a share in Du Pont should know nevertheless.

Mr. Lank is one industrialist who does not accept the popular notion that this country is growing inexorably into an industrialized nation. "This comfortable idea, he says, is our most dangerous economic delusion". It is an unfounded myth.

The comparative statistics which he dredges pitilessly out of government reports are these. In 1940, Mr. Lank said, manufacturing accounted for 28.7 per cent of the gross domestic product; in 1958 it was 26.3 per cent.

Mr. Lank says the value of manufacturing went up and saw industries began, there was no relative gain. We supplied at the same time more raw natural resources to the world. Industrial production did not increase its relative importance in the whole economy.

Mr. Lank believes that Canada should re-examine its national objectives and decide whether it is

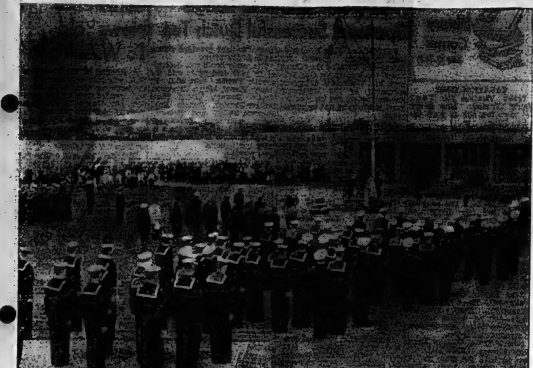
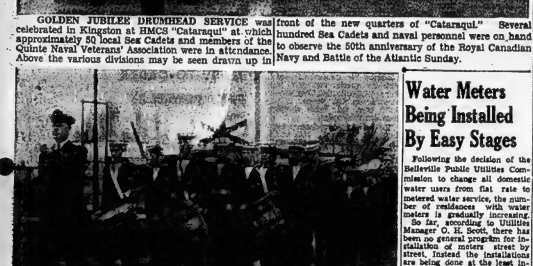
THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK



Millionaires seldom look like millionaires. It is the people who with they were millionaires who look like millionaires. I have never make it.

At a committee meeting in connection with a welfare campaign that I was covering there were five known millionaires present among the thirty or forty notables. They were the only lean, conspicuous gentlemen in the gathering. Nothing in their clothes, bearing, demeanor suggested that they were anything but plain businessmen.



The most millionairish man present, the one with the most money at his feet, speaking with the greatest authority, dressed in the height of middle-aged fashion and looking as if he were just home for a directors' meeting with his fellow cronies, was known to all present as a financial wizard. He was invited to call because they might bump their noses on each other.

The other men invited attention in the assemblage were young executives. They were wearing shrew expressions, which is the first step towards the first hundred thousand.

But the five genuine articles looked as if they each had about ten dollars in their pants pockets. Millionaires keep their money somewhere else than on their persons. Copyright: Canada Wide

GOLDEN JUBILEE DRUMHEAD SERVICE was celebrated in Kingston at HMCS "Cataraqui" at which approximately 50 local Sea Cadets and members of the Quinte Naval Veterans' Association were in attendance. Above the various divisions may be seen drawn up in front of the new quarters of "Cataraqui." Several hundred Sea Cadets and naval personnel were on hand to observe the 50th anniversary of the Royal Canadian Navy and Battle of the Atlantic Sunday.

BATTLE OF ATLANTIC SUNDAY— was observed by the ship's company of Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps "Quinte" with a church parade yesterday morning to Christ Church and to St. Michael's. Above Sub-Lieutenant Douglas Bailey may be seen leading the ship's company, with the recently formed drum section immediately behind him.

Quinte Sea Cadets Take Part In Two Naval Celebrations

Battle of the Atlantic Sunday and the golden jubilee of the Royal Canadian Navy were both celebrated by the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps "Quinte" yesterday in a day chockfull of activity. In the morning the corps paraded to Christ Church and to St. Michael's for their local church parade following a route march from the Sea Cadet building opposite the yacht club up Front Street across the Lower Bridge and up Coleman St. The corps was led by the newly-formed drum section.

Once the local church parade was over the cadets boarded a bus which took them to Kingston where Sea Cadet corps from Peterborough, Trenton, Picton, Port Hope and Kingston gathered together with the naval cadet officers from the Royal Military College, naval veterans from Belleville and Kingston and Deseronto's complement of HMCS "Cataraqui," Kingston to observe the Royal Canadian Navy's golden jubilee with a drumhead service.

Over a thousand persons were on hand to witness the assembling and falling in of divisions at the Cricket Field in Kingston prior to the parade. The parade was headed by a pipe band from the Royal Military College leading the RMC and RCN(R) divisions and the brass band from RCSCC "St. Lawrence" led the Sea Cadet divisions along a two-mile parade route through Kingston.

The salute was taken by Commodore D. W. Piers, D.S.C., C.D., RCN, commandant of the Royal Military College. Following this the divisions were lined up on the lawn of the new quarters of HMCS "Cataraqui" for a drumhead service which was well attended by civilians and visiting parents of Sea Cadets.

The drumhead ceremony was opened by Commander H. G. Cheesman, CD., RCN(R), commanding officer of HMCS "Cataraqui" who welcomed those present and thanked the many Sea Cadet Corps and veterans from out-of-town for their attendance on the occasion of HMCS "Cataraqui's" observance of the golden jubilee of the Royal Canadian Navy. Following the service, which was conducted by Chaplain F. C. Whittington and Chaplain C. H. Walsh, the divisions were broken off and refreshments were served.

On the local scene the crew of RCSCC "Quinte" spent the first part of the past week-end on an overnight "cruise" at the Sea Cadet building. Besides the navigational experience gained from an imaginary cruise in local waters the cadets also got a chance to get in some time at dinghy sailing in practice for the sail-past which will form a part of their inspection on May 26th.

The kitting out of a number of cadets who recently passed their new entry examinations was completed during the cruise and one new entry, Donald Watch, passed his new entry examination to qualify for admittance to the ship's company as an ordinary cadet.

During the next few weeks the local Sea Cadets will be especially busy in their preparations for their annual inspection. Demonstrations which are currently under preparation include cutter pulling, a sail past, a complete communications display using semaphore, signal lights, signal flags and radio equipment, a sheerlegs display, a live-saving demonstration, and a precision squad under arms using the new FN rifles.

Police Warn Rifle-Firing Is Forbidden

City police are receiving complaints from different parts of the city of air rifles and .22 calibre rifles being fired indiscriminately.

City Police Inspector J. Clair Hayes stated today that so far no damage had been reported as result of the use of rifles, but emphasized that injury or damage to property could easily result.

Noting that the discharge of firearms or air rifles within the city limits is forbidden, Inspector Hayes warned that persons using such rifles within the corporation would be charged and the rifles confiscated.

BRIDGE WORK HALTS

PRESCOTT (CP) — A strike halted work on the Canadian approach to the New Ogdensburg-Prescott International bridge Thursday. All 34 workers left the job when the strike was called by the Brockville Trades and Labor Council after the general contractor, Ron Construction Company of Ottawa, refused to negotiate a union contract.

FLOOD THREATENS

ported to have made their way to safety by boat.

Skies in the area were still heavy, with rain falling intermittently through the morning. A steady rain since Friday brought flood waters on the Mattagami to within 18 inches of an all-time record set in 1941, when the river was seven feet above normal.

Water in some parts of Moosonee covered streets to a depth of five feet and were rising steadily.

The forecast for the area was for more rain—and possibly some snow—today and Tuesday.

Meanwhile, another threat to the area was posed by flood waters at Lower Sturgeon Falls, 20 miles north of here, where damage to Hydro power plant installation brought the possibility of a power shutoff throughout the area.

The Red Cross and the Salvation Army set up aid posts. Those evacuated Sunday night were fed and lodged by the two organizations. Furniture and valuables from several homes were taken to the local armories.

Militia men were reported standing by, waiting for CD officials to call them if required.

At 5 p.m. Sunday Reeve Aitkinson announced the water was out of control. He said the reserve at Wewaitai was spilling over and nothing could be done to hold back two inches of water.

The dams on the Grassy River were opened last week to allow logging companies to begin their spring drive. At 5 p.m. Sunday, water covered the bridge at Fulhem Creek. Logs measuring 16 feet were rushing across the bridge, hampering rescue teams trying to remove families.

The bridge was believed unsafe and trucks could not be taken into the area. Continual rain was hampering operations.

Only one route into the township remained open. It was over a high bridge which was not threatened.

Water Meters Being Installed By Easy Stages

Following the decision of the Belleville Public Utilities Commission to change all domestic water users from flat rate to metered water service, the number of residences with water meters is gradually increasing.

So far, according to Utilities Manager O. H. Scott, there has been no general program for installation of meters street by street. Instead the installations are being done at the least inconvenience to the customer and depending on plumbing conditions and other factors.

In the case of new houses water meters are automatically installed. Also when a house is vacated meters are installed before the new tenant comes in.

But wherever public utilities workmen get around to the installation, water meters will make no difference in the cost of water for the average domestic user.

RATES SET

A service charge of 75 cents per month is being assessed, plus 25 cents per thousands gallons for the first 100,000 gallons. After 100,000 gallons the charge is 19 cents per thousand.

A minimum charge of $3.40 for two months has been set, this giving the customer 8,000 gallons of water per billing which is above what the average household will use.

Industrial and commercial water users in the city have always been served through meters and with the gradual program of changing over domestic users from flat rate, approximately one third of the city's 9000 customers are now being served by water meters.

Union Approves Jobs For Married Women

BRANTFORD (CP)—There's nothing wrong with a married woman taking a job, even if her husband has a good one, members of the United Packinghouse Workers of America agreed here Saturday.

A conference attended by representatives of 14 locals in southwestern Ontario saw nothing wrong with women earning more than men.

The conference — of both men and women delegates — denied that women were more catty or frivolous than men and favored women playing an active role in union business.

RECALLS REPORT

The Canadian Press reported here Jan. 24, 1957: "Competent authorities here say they believe Russian planes occasionally make reconnaissance flights over northern Canada and Alaska."

This story has never been officially denied.

Authorities here have said they believe the only purpose of such reconnaissance flights would apparently be to take high-level photographs of airfields connected with the Distant Early Warning radar line.

DAG SPEAKS OUT

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold spoke out vigorously Thursday against recent discussion of an international police force at the 10-nation Geneva disarmament talks. Hammarskjold said this issue is closely linked with the UN structure and any attempt to deal with it outside the UN would be unsound and a bypassing.

Ex-Service Women Present Cups

The Ex-Service women's branch of the Canadian Legion 578, met at Quinte recently with the largest attendance ever. Business was attended to by President Mrs. L. Elliott. The presentation of the cups was ably carried out by the sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. B. Kurby.

A most interesting report was read by Mrs. E. Seager, secretary. Her knowledge on legion affairs is advanced to the point where nothing is missed on the work this branch should know of outside and inside work concerning the Legion.

The treasurer's report was also good and read by Mrs. Chip.

The evening was enjoyed by a guest speaker, Miss Phyllis Goddard, women's representative of the Canadian Legion Her subject was "Do We Know Our Organization?" She gave a great lift in telling us about the part played by ex-service women.

The usual gift auction was a great success with the bidding a wonderful part of the evening's enjoyment.

Miss Goddard spoke of the vital need for ex-service women to join the Legion and hoped 578 would have more women from the services join its ranks as they did in the war years. So, it is the responsibility of all these women to see that sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. B. Kurby, Woodland 2-0707, and answer the call.

The junior hockey team, sponsored by this branch in Coe-borne was presented with silver cups, donated from the welfare fund to the two top boys of the team. This kind of work gives women a wonderful place in hearts and the duty to serve.

Bayside Local Assoc. G-B Plans Tea

The Bayside Local Association of Guides and Brownies, held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Gordon Ackerman, with 13 mothers in attendance.

The chairman, Mrs. Caves, opened the meeting with prayer.

The secretary and treasurer gave their reports.

Final plans were made for the tea which is to be held in Bayside School on May 14, from 3-4 p.m.

After the meeting adjourned, the hostess served cake and tea.

Country Club Golfers Hold Enjoyable Weekend Opening

Saturday night rains failed to dampen the ardor of Bay of Quinte Country Club golfers for their opening mixed two - ball competition of the season.

Some 84 drivers and putters of both sexes turned out to play over a slightly - soaked course in matches that brought out some fine golf under cloudy threatening skies.

And some 75 remained to enjoy the fine post - tournament dinner that marked the first unofficial social event of the year on the course.

To Joy Wonnacott and Don Stanton went the honor of winning first competitive low gross of the new season.

Phyl. Dyhle and Doug. Grant won the first low net with second going to Vera Wilson and Mr. Chips. Next came Ruth Jenkins and Fred McCorquodale, while tied for fourth low net were Donna MacDonald and Ted Doyle and Lib Gladney and Spence Wonnacott.

Three were tied for fifth low net, Bob Brett Bradford and Bud Trill taking the honors on the last hole.

The next event on the golf card of the club is the mixed two-ball qualifying round for the Jewellers' Cup scheduled for May 28th.

The club officially opens the season with a dance on Saturday, May 21.

Girl Guides, Brownies Hold Spring Meeting at O.S.D.

The Spring meeting of the Belleville West Girl Guide and Brownie Local Association was held on Thursday evening, at the Girls' Residence of the Ontario School for the Deaf. An interesting feature of the meeting was the Association's attendance at the opening ceremonies of the 6th Belleville (O.S.D.) Guide Company in the school auditorium.

This ceremony, presenting its usual smart appearance, demonstrated all the activities (which was taken by District Commissioner, Mrs. R. Gibbs), and Horseshoe and Color raising.

During this part of the evening, Lieutenant's warrant pins were presented, on behalf of the Local Association, to Miss Muriel Munro, and Myer G. Jeffs.

Games, played by the Guides, were much appreciated both by the children and the spectators for their Guides' enthusiasm and enjoyment was readily communicated to their audience.

The Association members who visited the Guides in their Patrol corners and admired the beautiful Patrol Flags which have been made by the younger girls in each Patrol and are cherished possessions.

The ladies of the Local Association were taken on a tour of the Girls' Residence by Mrs. Graham, Housemother in charge and had the pleasure of saying goodnight to several girls of the Brownie Pack, and their friends in a dormitory which had just had lights out.

The business portion of the Local Association meeting was held in the spacious recreation room under the chairmanship of District Commissioner, Mrs. Settle. Minutes were read by the Secretary, Mrs. H. W. Hunter, and a favorable financial report was given by Mrs. H. Martin, treasurer A total of 15 Brownie Badges and 64 Guide badges were reported by Mrs. W. McCormick, badge secretary.

A report of the first euchre held to raise funds for the new Guide and Brownie campsite at Waupoos revealed that the efforts of Mrs. Hunter and her committee had resulted in an enjoyable evening and a tidy profit. As guests, the Association will be unable to present to the Division a cheque for $100 towards Belleville's share of payment for the property. The Association is indebted to the Park Gate Community Centre and the Cubs and Cub Mothers' Auxiliary who arranged their meetings to allow the use of the hall, to Mrs. Fleming and to Mrs. Bush who loaned tables and chairs.

Prize winners for this evening of fun and fellowship were: lone hand — Mrs. P. Hammett; high man — A. E. Perry; low — Mr. Hammett; high lady — L. Hiles; low — Mrs. C. Jewell and Mrs. C. Bond.

TEA TICKETS SALE PRIZES

It was announced that Pack 2 had won the prize for selling most Tea Tickets, and Company 1 tied with Company 2 as the Guides selling the most tickets.

The recent Cookie Day had resulted in the sale of 147 dozen cookies in Belleville west. A cheque from the Church Army, to which it is hoped all Brownies and Guides in Belleville west will take part, is to be presented on May 15th at St. Thomas' Church.

Mrs. Gregg and Mrs. Hall will go to the World Relief Sale to be held by the Belleville Girl Guide World Friendship Fund.

Arrangements for the Roman Catholic Guides and Brownies announced later. A Brownie Revel — be in other words — an "afternoon of fun together" will be held at the O.S.D. on May 28th for all Brownies of Belleville West District.

The next meeting of the Ontario Provincial annual meeting held recently in St. Catharines, and attended by Mrs. A. Sternburg and Mrs. R. Setule of this district, was given by Commissioner, and clippings from the St. Catharine's Standard showing pictures of early Guides and Guiders, were circulated.

Highlights mentioned included the standing ovation given Mrs. K. B. Cragell, Provincial Commissioner, and the presentation to her of the Beaver — one of the highest awards for outstanding service to the Movement; the Gold Cord certificate presentation, at which 160 Guides from all over Ontario including a Lone Ranger Guide from Ottawa were presented with their certificates by Mrs. Cragell, daughter of Mrs. A. H. Malcolmson, the lady who began the first Guide Company in Ontario and is now in St. Catharines; and the presentation of the Provincial dinner to the members of that original Company, and of early Guiding in Ontario, many of whom reminisced about the problems and joys of early Guiding, and thus gave a wonderful opportunity of appreciating the years in understanding and faithful pride in the giant strides made by the Guide Movement in the intervening years.

Mrs. R. Roulet and Mrs. F. G. Belsey were among those who sent some of the telephoning for the

New Emphasis Being Placed On Home Care

OTTAWA (CP) — A new emphasis was placed on home care as an important supplement to hospital treatment at the two-day annual meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses, which ends here Friday.

The 200 delegates were told that four home-care projects in Canada have proved that they have shown the need for the service along with hospital facilities or referral service.

The four locations are plans are at St. Catharines, Toronto, Wiemipeg and Saskatoon.

R. S. Irvine, president of the Brantford V.O.N., said a V.O.N. home-care service provided the best alternative to hospital treatment. General Hospital encourages continuity of nursing service of the best kind under direction of the family physician.

It was impossible for any one invitation from the hospital first in establishing such liaison among nurse, hospital and patient.

Machpelah Rebekah Lodge Sponsors Successful Dutch Tea

PICTON — A little bit of Holland in Canada greeted 300 guests who attended the "Dutch Treat" tea held in the Odd Fellows' hall Wednesday afternoon, sponsored by the Machpelah Rebekah lodge, the tea was the usual outstanding and enjoyable event.

Entering the dining room, a model windmill with whirling vanes and backed with bright tulips, and the theme of the occasion. In the lodge hall as well, wooden shoes filled with tulips graced each window. Of much interest were many beautiful Dutch tapestries hung about the walls.

Tables were covered with white cloths, each being centred with tulips and daffodils. Names of hostesses were on the arms of miniature windmills in a variety of colors. For each guest a favor, was a tiny windmill filled with candy. Dutch figurines, tiny wooden shoes and a variety of other emblems stressed the theme. Also about the rooms were plates from Holland, a large mural depicting the Dutch countryside, made by Wellington school pupils and "welcome" boards.

Refreshments included fancy sandwiches, relishes, fancy cookies including some remarkable ring windmills, tarts and angel food cake which were served on wooden trays and in wooden bowls. Date and banana breads were passed and attractive trays of many kinds of Dutch cheese.

Tea was poured from silver services at each table by the hostess.

Around 80 Rebekahs looked after the guests and were in charge of the booths. They consisted of a Dutch Garden, Dutch Dutch caps and fancy aprons decorated with tulips.

The guests were welcomed by Kathleen Brummell, N.G. and Edith Hubbard, V.G., and directed to their tables by Mrs. Milton Dulmage Mrs. A. O. McGinnis, Mrs. Harry Bowers, Mrs. Russell Gardiner was convenor and largely responsible for the wonderful success of the event.

Mrs. Gardiner Whitney convened the bazaar while Mrs. Sherman Coulter and Mrs. Lawrence Burford convened the refreshments.

During the afternoon, Miss Lynn Gardiner provided fitting music at the piano.

The candy booth was decorated in pink and green and the popular sweets were sold by Junior Misses, Margo Rigginson, Vanice Bowers, Elaine Hicks Delores Presley, Bonnie Reid, Jo-Anne Seeley and Beverley Perry, who were Dutch caps and tulip appliqued aprons, who moved through the rooms carrying the Scripture baskets.

WIN PRIZES

Tickets were sold on a lovely Dutch lingerie and this was won by R. R. Martin, R.R. 10, Picton. A chrysanthemum plant, donated by J. A. Clemineon, was won by Mrs. J. J. Rogers, of Wellington.

The bazaar booths were well patronized. There was a tempting array of home cooking, many plants and flowers, fancy and useful aprons, a touch and take table and fancy work.

Prizes were received by Edith Bryant, Edith Hubbard, and Maisie Casner had charge of the draws.

The ladies, in their spring finery added to a most interesting scene and all agreed the "Dutch Tea" was indeed a treat.

Conference News Told To W.A. Meet

A meeting of the Messenger W.A. was held on May 5th at the home of Mrs. A. D. Revell and presided over by the president, Mrs. George Kerr. There were 17 members present.

The devotional was in charge of Mrs. Roy Vallieu and her group, with Mrs. Sid Johnson reading the Scriptures.

Mrs. Neddow gave a fine report on the rally at Crofton.

Mrs. Morley Davidson introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Picton. A chrysanthemum plant, donated by J. A. Clemineon, was won by Mrs. J. J. Rogers, of Wellington.

MODERN MANNERS

REFLECTIONS ON "MOTHER'S DAY"

Yesterday was "Mother's Day." Some of my friends and relatives are mothers (like myself) and made me think a little.

If their opinion, and mine, the real meaning of "Mother's Day" has been lost in recent years by placing the whole idea on a commercial basis. The "give a gift" idea has been over-emphasized and over-advertised, cheapening the day from which we may show a "public expression of our love and reverence for the mothers of our country."

Have you ever stopped to think that the gift of consideration would mean more to Mother than all the material gifts in the world? We talk about consideration for others being the basis of manners and good behavior, but too often we let our hair down with those close to us and don't make the effort to show thought for them. Particularly is this true in the relationship with Mother. We take for granted her unselfish love and untiring efforts in our behalf. Since our earliest recollection she has tried to make our way an easy one, so we accept it as our just due.

And what do we give in return? Love and affection, yes — but how do we show it? By a gift and a display of effusive sentiment twice a year, by daily gifts of the so-called "little" things that mean so much? The helping hand to lighten the everyday household chores, the steps saved by running for the seemingly unimportant errands, the light word, Mother's day as well as her work. Observance of small courtesies, the use of "Thank you" and "please" when dealing with Mother should be just as important. If not more so, as when associating with others. Too often this is not the case.

If you are married and living away from home, Mother's Day probably reminded you to write her the letter that you have been meaning to write for many weeks. While Mother is happy to receive this letter, don't you think a scribbled note written at the last once a week all through the year would mean infinitely more?

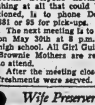
Perhaps you wrote that note and sent the material gift for Mother's Day — but don't stop there. Show your consideration throughout the year and this special attention will really mean something. Otherwise it seems to me to become an empty gesture.

G.G. Mothers' Aux. Plans Rally, Parade

DESERONTO—The Girl Guide Mothers Auxiliary held its regular meeting at the high school on April 26th. There were 13 members present. Madam president Dorothy Webster, opened the meeting. The Auxiliary had been expecting to send two Girl Guide leaders to Doe Lake for their camper's licenses, but it has been found there is no vacancy this year. Instead, these leaders will be going to the Guides' own camp at Waupoos for their training.

The Girl Guide rally will be held at the Memorial Arena on May 27th. All Deseronto Guides and Brownies are asked to be at the fire hall on Edmond Street at 6:30 p.m. on May 25th in full uniform for dress rehearsal.

The church parade is to be held on May 29th at 10:30 from the fire hall to the Anglican church, weather permitting.



The Girl Guide Mothers' Auxiliary is planning to hold an auction sale on June 11th at the Deseronto skating rink, beginning at 10 a.m. Donations for this are needed.

All proceeds are to go to help pay the Auxiliary's share of the cost of camp at Waupoos. Deseronto's share of the new Quinte area campsite, is to be $600. It is hoped to have an assortment of furniture, appliances, dishes, pots and pans, lamps, books. Everyone having anything at all that could be auctioned, is to phone Deseronto 351 or 93 for pick-ups.

The next meeting is to be held on May 30th at 8 p.m. at the high school. All Girl Guides and Brownie Mothers are requested to attend.

After the meeting closed, refreshments were served.

Melrose WMS Hears Talk on Refugee Year

The regular meeting of Melrose W.M.S. was held on May 4th at the home of Mrs. Preston Demille with ten members and three visitors present.

The worship service, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" was led by the president, Mrs. J. Millidge. Mrs. S. Demille presided at the piano.

The Scripture reading was given by Mrs. H. McIntosh. Mrs. Millidge read a poem on "Refugees" and Mrs. M. E. Bailey led in prayer for a blessing on Refugee Year.

A short business session was held. Mrs. R. MacFarlane reported that Dr. Eaton Conquergood kindly donated material for sewing, and a vote of thanks was passed to the firm. The treasurer reported the sum of $20 on hand. A banquet was planned, to be held in the Community Hall in October. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Millidge with Mrs. R. MacFarlane as group leader.

The group leader, Mrs. C. Bailey, took charge, the theme being "Refugee Year."

Mrs. Bailey read an article which explained the reason why 1959-1960 was "Refugee Year," the young people being the motivation for the refugee campaign. Mrs. Bailey said she could see where the United Nations decided to declare a Refugee Year, which began July 1, 1959. Funds are badly needed for the relief of refugees by voluntary contributions. All the churches of these camps look forward to a normal life in the future.

Mrs. Bailey read an article from "The Christian Century" by Paul Hutchinson, who said that it gave her a shock to find how normal these people were. They have no conviction about why people are free to come or go, yet it is not a normal life, and many aged people simply sit and wait to die."

It costs a dollar per day at the camps. There are half a million refugees in Europe today. The question is raised, "Why do not the churches do more to help these people?"

Mrs. Catherine read an article, "Challenge to Ontario," showing how little is done to help Indians, or show goodwill.

Miss M. E. Bailey read an article, "Refugee Bedspread," which spoke of the great need for assistance, and stating that those in the rich Ontario province did very little work for refugees. Only five cents of 4 percent as compared with 60 percent in some countries not half as prosperous.

Mrs. Roy Badgley closed the meeting with prayer for continued work.

Mrs. Bates thanked all who assisted in the program, especially the pianist, who had supplied material for it.

The hostess served refreshments and all spent a pleasant social hour.

Rawdon J.F. Hear Talk on 'Conservation'

The May meeting of the Rawdon Junior Farmers was held on Monday evening, in the Masonic Hall, Stirling.

The business section was centred on the discussion of the May Flower dance to take place this week.

Next meeting will be on the evening of May 31. There will be softball practice on the Stirling High School grounds previous to the meeting.

The agricultural representative, Mr. Sydney MacDonald, was called upon to welcome the new assistant agricultural representative, Mr. Gibson Patterson, who joined Hastings County the first of May. Mr. MacDonald gave a resume of Mr. Patterson's home life and education in Carleton County. He added that Mr. Patterson must be so interesting individual because he is a graduate of the noteworthy MacDonald College (in Quebec).

Mr. Patterson addressed the group and expressed his hope for a successful stay in Hastings County.

Miss Elsie Martin introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Dennis Tieman, a representative from the local Tweed Branch of the Department of Lands and Forests.

In Mr. Tieman's remarks, based on the theme for the evening 'home and country improvements', he stressed the idea that conservation practices tend to beautify the country.

Miss Ruth Morgan thanked Mr. Tieman for his interesting and educational address.

Mr. Pete Heasman led the group in a sing-song of Junior Farmer and other 'action' melodies.

Recreation led by the conveners, Miss Donalda Heath and Mr. Joe Hagerman was enjoyed by all.

Bountiful refreshments were served by the conveners.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, Mary Bergerman, a newspaperwoman's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been solved with fully responsible parties involved.

Ethel P. — Dick's partner walks all over him.

Dick P. — I'm so sap.

Ethel P. — My husband and I are in our early 30's and have been married a year. Our only serious problem involves a new business venture my husband has started.

I advised Dick to go into this thing alone, but he insisted that he needed a partner. He took a man named Jonathan, who is quite a few years older than we are and who thinks he can walk all over us.

Dick now admits I may have been right, but says it's too late to do anything about it. I say he must take a much firmer attitude and let Jonathan know he can't walk off with the whole show. But every time I try to get him to stick to his guns he gets angry at me in ways I can't, and the trouble between them. I am only trying to help.

Dick P. — I don't like being picked around by anybody. That includes my wife as well as my partner. She takes me for a prize sap and thinks I'd lose my shirt if I didn't have her to look out for me.

But even if my wife thinks I'm fish-weak, my partner seems to think I'm over bearing. The fact is that I've made several decisions without consulting him and he has it in for me because of that.

It happens that I really need Jonathan now. He has had quite a bit of business experience, aside from that, he has everything to gain and nothing to lose by making a success of our enterprise. Sometimes I am a nuisance of him, but I don't think he can put anything over on me and get away with it because of the legal angle.

The Council's Dick shows a youthful desire to prove himself and be on his own. This is all to the good, but his fear of being "pushed around" reveals his lack of confidence.

Dick should decide for himself whether or not he trusts his partner. If he doesn't, he should get out of the situation even if he must take a loss. He is young enough to make that up.

If, on the other hand, he does trust his partner, he must make every effort to co-operate in a mature manner. For example, he was dead wrong when he made decisions without consulting his partner. He suspect he made three decisions when egged on by his wife. He had an impulse to show that he held the whip hand, but the way he acted proved he isn't yet ready to hold the whip in his hands.

If Jonathan is an honest man, Dick is indeed lucky to have him as a partner. He should also recognize this.

Ethel's prime reason for her distrust of Jonathan. She seems to fear him even more than Dick's stronger person. She reveals great lack of confidence in her husband. This is certainly the first block to building his ego.

Ethel's attitude is that of an overprotective mother. This is a mistake. She will get hurt in the harsh, cruel world. Dick rightfully resents that he persists in a childishly rebellious manner.

Ethel should learn to combine facts carefully, then act on them in a rational manner. He should accept the mistake in good grace and chalk them up to experience. He should learn to listen to those who have real knowledge. Dick's feeling of "pushed around" by them.

Chimbu Women Prefer Men Already Wed as Husbands

By PETER BRANN

PORT MORESBY, Papua-New Guinea (Reuter)—Many women of the Chimbu tribe, a primitive people in New Guinea who use pigs as currency, prefer men already married as husbands.

"Most Chimbu women," said patrol officer J. E. Pegg, who has had many patrols among the Chimbus, "feel that they would rather be the fourth wife of a wealthy man than the only wife of a poor bachelor.

"The explanation is prestige. A woman gains prestige by marrying a man who already has a wife or wives because he invariably has a large number of pigs and much of the payment a man makes for a wife must be in pigs."

TWO YEARS SAVING

The desire of the Chimbu women for wealth and prestige is driving many young men from their inland home villages in New Guinea, a territory administered by Australia under a United Nations trusteeship, to the coast.

There they work as contract laborers on plantations until they have saved enough money and obtained possessions sufficient to buy a wife when they return home, often at the end of two years.

Payment, betrothal or "marking" of a girl for marriage is common among the Chimbu people, but divorce is less frequent.

Divorce is common, and every betrothal entails a commercial bargaining match as it is in many more civilized countries.

DIVORCE AGREED

If the desire for divorce is mutual, the husband is entitled to receive back from the girl or articles he paid for his wife as the bride price.

If the woman alone wants a divorce, he is entitled to a refund of half the bride price.

But if only the man wants a divorce, he can take back only part of the bride price, the amount becoming less with the number of years the couple have been married.

Regardless of which partner seeks the divorce, the children of the marriage remain in the care of the father.

Hungarian Meal

(In Two Instalments)

— by Mary Moore —

First Instalment

We are completely captivated by a charming Hungarian couple whom we have met recently.

Peter and Lucy Ruff are both doctors. He is a surgeon. She is a general practitioner. They have been in Canada two and one-half years after leaving their native land, with no possessions, when the Communists suddenly invaded it.

They are not bitter over the past — only grateful for our Canadian welcome.

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

MONDAY

Glazed Baked Back Bacon; Oven French Fries; Spinach with Mushrooms; Deep Dish Apple Pie with Cheddar Cheese; Coffee.

Peter Ruff is a surgical intern. On the same staff as my Pete. The two Peters seem to be kindred spirits. We had them for dinner and a rollicking game of bridge. Then we were invited to their apartment one evening when all of these doctors could arrange the same night off, and they served us a genuine Hungarian meal. This dinner I am going to describe to you as much as possible in Lucy's own words.

The menu was Chicken Paprika, Nokedli, Cucumber salad and for dessert Torte Palacsinta. This last item is huge French pancakes filled with a sweetened cottage cheese stuffing, and is delicious.

LUCY'S CHICKEN PAPRIKA:

Two big onions, finely chopped, are put into enough lard to swim a little. Saute under lid until yellow. Add 1 1-2 tablespoons paprika. Immediately add chicken. If you do not, and the paprika fries, it will become bitter. Do not permit this. The pieces of chicken have been floured. (Lucy allowed, I think, 4 legs, 4 thighs, 4 breasts and 1-2 dozen gizzards.) As Lucy said, immediately add the salted chicken pieces, turn them over in a minute, then cover and simmer 3 or 10 minutes, turning 2 or 3 times. Then add 1 raw tomato and 1 green pepper both chopped up and 1 cup water and simmer under cover 40 minutes or until chicken is tender. When chicken is nice and tender you may choose one of two things to do: 1) stew the gravy if you have guests or 3) for family don't stew. Now prepare 1 flat teaspoon of flour in 1-3 cups sour (commercial) cream, stirring until smooth. Stir this into the gravy. Return chicken; boil up and serve. (It was wonderful!)

NOKEDLI:

These are a type of homemade noodles for which Lucy has a special noodle-shaking sieve. Two whole eggs, 1-3 teaspoon salt, about 1 cup flour and enough water to make dough the consistency of soft pie crust. Beat eggs and water with wooden spoon until smooth. Now gradually work in sieve the little balls drop into salted water to boil, and are pierced with about 3 dozen holes about 3-4" in diameter. As the dough is forced through the sieve the little ball slrop into boiling water, but are not crowded. When they rise to the surface they are done and then skimmed out, until all are done. Rinse in a colander in cold water. Then reheat in a little butter until very hot and slippery.

NOTE:

Nokedli dough may be dropped in tiny 1-3" pieces into boiling water by those of us who do not have a nokedli sieve.

Tomorrow will give you Lucy's Cucumber Salad and Torte Palacsinta.

LONG PROJECT — The Trans-Canada Highway, 4,500-mile coast-to-coast road undertaken in 1949 under a federal-provincial cost-sharing agreement, will not be completed by the target date —December 31 this year. Saskatchewan has finished its section

Cross-Canada Survey

Trans-Canada Highway Plan Entering Its Second Decade Is Well Behind Schedule

By JACK REST
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The dawdling Trans - Canada Highway program has entered its second decade, still well behind schedule but showing some signs of accelerating.

The year 1960 was to have been the last one in the ambitious scheme to provide a 4,500-mile paved road stretching from coast to coast.

There is not a hope, however, that the long ribbon of bituminous pavement will be completed by Dec. 31, the target date set in the Dominion-provincial agreement of 1949.

Recognizing this, the federal government has agreed to extend its participation for three years to the end of 1963 and to increase its maximum contribution to $400,000,000 from $250,000,000.

SASKATCHEWAN FINISHED

A cross-Canada survey by The Canadian Press shows that of the nine participating provinces—all but Quebec—only Saskatchewan has completed its portion. Most of the others have a long way to go. Only Prince Edward Island, Manitoba and Alberta are near the finish.

By putting on a strong spurt, however, some could reach their objectives or come close. The survey shows they intend to give it a good try. Planned outlays on the highway in the present fiscal year total about $100,000,000—more than double the average in the first 10 years of the project which started in 1950.

British Columbia, with 450 miles completed to standard by mid-March, will soon have contracts out for the remaining 106 miles. It still hopes to finish by the end of the year despite the continuing challenge posed by Rogers Pass on the route through the Rocky Mountains.

OTTAWA PAYS HALF

Under the 1949 agreement, the federal government pays 50 per cent of the cost of approved construction and of bringing existing highways up to standard. In addition, by an amendment passed in 1956, Ottawa pays 50 per cent of the cost of completing vital gaps up to 10 per cent of the mileage within each province. It also pays the entire cost of construction through national parks.

Up to mid-March, government figures show, the federal treasury had paid the provinces $246,367,-847 for work completed. Projects worth $357,631,901 had been approved. The federal share of these projects is $332,600,847.

A total of 2,373 miles had been paved to specification and 3,060 miles graded.

Here is how the highway program is shaping up in the provinces:

Newfoundland: Total mileage, 594; miles paved, 61; ready for paving this year, 83 miles, with rough grading of another 130 expected; value of construction approved, $38,899,940.

Prince Edward Island: All 71 miles completed; only remaining works late Hillsborough bridge and approaches; value of construction approved, $9,131,666.

Nova Scotia: Of total of 311 miles, 3are completed with 45 planned in this year at a cost of $6,000,000; total value of construction approved, $22,317,804.

New Brunswick: Completed 133 of the 3 miles with $47,600,000 worth of construction approved and 200 miles to be built this year for $8,500,000.

Quebec: Not taking part in program; contends the federal government has no place in the highway field; however a 400-mile link between Quebec links New Brunswick and Ontario sections.

Ontario: Has completed 650 of total mileage of 1,454 and plans to bui 43 miles this year at a cost of $21,130,000; construction approved worth $179,965,193.

Manitoba: Mileage of 309 completedexcept for eight miles of Winnipeg bypass; three miles planned for this year at $2,500,-000 wp remainder in 1961; construction approved, $33,000,000.

Saskatchewan: The 658 - mile, $27,50000 highway officially opened Aug. 2, 1957.

Alberta: Of total of 282 miles, only 5ork left is to complete less than100 miles of road and construction of interchange near Calgary $1,000,000 to finish job tocalling $27,022,307.

British Columbia: Has completed 450 of 554 miles; value of construction approved, $161,544,-828 with $32,000,000 to be spent this year.

NICKEL ALLOY STEELS • NICKEL PLATING • NICKEL STAINLESS STEEL vital to the appearance and performance of today's cars!

QUALITY CANADIAN PRODUCTS CONTAINING QUALITY INCO NICKEL

Nickel alloy steels are stronger, tougher and more durable than ordinary steels. That's why nickel alloy steels are used in automotive transmissions, engines and other parts that must withstand hard wear and severe abuse.

Nickel plating is used under chrome for the "brightwork" on cars. On bumpers, grilles and trim, it's this heavy coating of nickel beneath the surface layer of chrome that provides the real protection against rust, corrosion and wear . . . for lasting beauty in depth.

Nickel stainless steel is used for wheel covers and other trim. Nickel helps give stainless steel its strength and corrosion resistance, providing resistance to flying gravel and to the corrosive action of de-icing salts, tar, asphalt and other destructive chemicals.

Traffic, Boating Accidents Take 34 Lives in Canada

By The Canadian Press

Traffic and boating accidents were responsible for the majority of the 40 accidental deaths recorded across Canada during the weekend.

A Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight EDT Sunday showed 21 persons dead in traffic mishaps and 13 drownings.

Quebec has nine traffic fatalities, Ontario six, and New Brunswick, British Columbia and Alberta two each.

Four of Quebec's traffic deaths occurred in one accident Saturday when a car plunged off a highway into the Cap Chat River near Cap Chat. The victims were Agnazil Quellet, 20, his sister Lucette, 18, Octave Michaud, 24, and Leandre Fournier, 30.

10 ONTARIO DROWNINGS

Ten drownings were in Ontario, four of them Guelph men whose boat overturned on a fishing trip 50 miles south of North Bay. British Columbia reported three drownings.

Other deaths included a hunting fatality and two falls in Quebec, a child hit by a train in Nova Scotia and another fall in British Columbia. A three-year-old girl died in Delhi, when a window crashed down upon her head as she was looking out.

The Ontario dead:

Bruce Cooper, 31, Gy Freeman, 21, Richard Fraser, 22, and Don Campbell, 4 all of Guelph, presumed drowned Sunday in Three Mile Lake at Katrine Station, about 7 miles south of North-Bay.

Three are believed to have sived at the lake early Saturdayand set out for an island in boat powered by an outboard motor. A cottager said he heard cries coming from the lake.

Provincial police from Bora Park found an upturned boat near the island. A car owned by Cooper was found near the lake.

Larry Douglas Doolittle, 8, drowned Friday night while swimming in a quarry pond near Hagersville, 25 miles southwest of Hamilton.

Thomas Lucas, 70, was struck by a car near Stratford Friday night.

Stephen Hudson, 51, drowned Friday night when he fell into Lake Ontario near Eatshilton Park.

Ronald Fitzgerald, 23, drowned Sunday while on a fishing trip at Trout Lake near St. Charles, 27 miles southeast of Sudbury.

Joyce Somers, 18, in a head-on crash between two cars Sunday near Midland.

Leslie Hampton, 32, Sunday when his car went out of control and crashed into a hydro pole in a Toronto suburb.

Kenlon Shroder, 2, of injuries suffered Saturday when struck by a car in downtown London.

Gerard St. Cyr, 19, of Chapleau, drowned Saturday night when a car in which he was a passenger slammed through a bridge on the Muskrat River five miles southeast of Pembroke.

Allan George LeBreton, 16, when his bicycle was struck by a car Sunday near his Ottawa area home.

Bonnie Libby, 1, drowned Sunday in a creek behind her home near Golden Lake, 35 miles south of Pembroke.

Eva Marie Hare, 3, of Delhi, Sunday in her home when a bedroom window closed suddenly, striking the back of her head.

Robyn Gore, 20, of Chatham, believed drowned Sunday in Lake St. Clair when a boat he was in overturned.

Herman Sandy, 35-year-old father of 10, drowned Saturday while attempting to cross Georgian Bay in a small boat from Christian Island to Cedar Point. Lake waters were chipped by 45-mile-an-hour winds.

100,000 Canadians Over 65 Desirous of Being Employed Says University President

Space Rocket Talks From Trip Around Sun

JODRELL BANK, England (AP)—The American Pioneer V space rocket sent scientific data to earth Sunday from 8,000,000 miles out in space.

It was the longest-ranging conversation in history.

Pioneer's transmitter was triggered by a signal from the giant British radio telescope at Jodrell Bank. Ninety seconds later the satellite's reply started coming in. It included data on cosmic radiation, charged particle energies, magnetic field phenomena and solar flares.

The information was relayed to Los Angeles.

The radio signal from earth switched on a 150-watt transmitter which had been silent since Pioneer's March 11 launching at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Until Sunday, a five-watt transmitter had been sending back a wealth of detail on cosmic radiation, charged particle energies and magnetic phenomena. More than 100 hours of broadcast data had been received.

As distance increased, the smaller radio's signals became harder and harder to pick up, and the long-planned changeover was made as Pioneer reached a point 8,001,000 miles from the earth.

The U.S. Aeronautics and Space Administration said the new radio provided "a much clear transmission, lasting about a minute and a half." But because it drains the space craft sphere's batteries so much faster, it will be used only sparingly.

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. G. Edward Hall, who became one of Canada's youngest university presidents after distinguished career in medicine, said today the people of Canada "are not as prosperous as they were."

Dr. Hall, now 53 and president of the University of Western Ontario since 1948, raised the issue in an address to the annual meeting of the Canadian Health Insurance Association, an organization of insurance companies in the sickness and accident field.

"As our population gets older," he said, "many new economic, social, cultural and medical problems arise which are not being faced with the degree of energy which they warrant and ultimately must receive.

"My thesis is that in this technological, scientific and missile age, surrounded by affluence, we should be a real concern for the recognition and preservation of human values."

One problem arises from the fact many workers must retire when they reach the age of 65, he said.

"Perhaps, as a guess, one might say that there are about 100,000 persons in Canada over the age of 65 who would be desirous of being employed, and from a health point of view could be utilized in the labor force, if labor-management and government would use them."

Dr. Hall cited the appearance of Canada as a country of young people is often misleading.

The actual birth rate, despite great medical advances, remains at the level of 1937, and the 29 live births a thousand of population.

Advances in medical knowledge and changed working and living conditions have greatly responsible for the overall increased life expectancy.

"Today, 35 per cent of our population — more than 5,000,000 persons—are under the age of 20 or over the age of 70," he said. "In other words, one-third of our people are in direct receipt of dependency allowances or old age pension."

He said these figures "should make us pause to consider the total planning has taken cognizance of these facts."

To those who advocate increased immigration to boost Canada's total labor force, Dr. Hall asked: "Are we using to the best possible advantage the people who are presently enjoying citizenship in Canada?"

He said that while compulsory retirement at 65 proved many productive years of life, it also "the so-called selective retirement which actually eliminates from too provides its heart-breaks."

"But perhaps the time has come for serious reconsideration of this perplexing question," he said.

His speech was released to the press in advance of delivery.

Quebec Leaders Launch Talks On Farm Picture

MONTREAL (CP) — Premier Antonio Barrette and Liberal Leader Jean Lesage have offered a look at Quebec's farm picture from two different windows in launching their campaigns for the June 22 provincial elections.

The premier, speaking Sunday in his hometown of Joliette, 45 miles northeast of Montreal, said it is a credit to his Union Nationale party that Quebec's agriculture has remained a family enterprise.

Ninety-seven per cent of the province's farmers owned the soil they tilled. The government had spent $180,000,000 on farm credit and $33,000,000 on rural electrification.

The government had helped reclaim more than 1,000,000 acres by spending $80,000,000 on drainage works, and had created an agricultural marketing office.

Everything possible, said Mr. Barrette, has been done to help the farming class "which this year has received more than it ever obtained up to now."

LIBERAL DISAGREES

Mr. Lesage, speaking at Louiseville, 70 miles northeast of Montreal and on a province-wide radio hookup, had a different view of the agricultural situation.

He said the government had no agricultural program nor a single new thought for farmers since Duplessis was established some years ago.

During the last 15 years the number of farms in the province had dropped to 118,000 from 146,000 and farming income had slipped to $1,500 in 1958 from $1,820 in 1949.

Declares Suez Stays Closed to Israeli Ships

DAMIETTA, Egypt (AP) — President Nasser of the United Arab Republic declared Sunday that he will not open the Suez Canal to Israeli shipping despite a ruling by the American congressmen.

Nasser told a rally here that some United States senators are seeking "an uproar about the passage of Israeli ships in the canal."

He added:

"We won't pay any attention to it and won't be terrorized by those people who are threatening us in America."

The U.A.R. maintains that a state of war exists between the Arabs and Israel, despite the armistice of this year. Egypt has the right to bar Israeli ships and cargoes from the canal as a security measure.

Nasser also praised the "noble and wise" policy of the Soviet Union in honoring its economic agreement with the U.A.R., despite the differences of social systems of the two countries.

RED DEMONSTRATION

PARIS (AP) — Police swung night sticks and fists Thursday night to disperse a Communist-led demonstration against right-wing posters. The meeting was called by the National Resistance Organization. About 500 young people gathered outside the meeting place crying "fascism will not pass" and "collaborators to the gallows."

Missing Quebec Boy Found Alive After Four Days

L'ASSOMPTION, Que. (CP)—Three-year-old Jean Beauchamp, weary and wet, was found alive and comparatively well Sunday in the woods near his home, four days after he wandered out of sight of his father on the family woodlot.

He was spotted by the four Gervais brothers, all experienced woodsmen, making a final sweep of their search area before giving up the hunt.

They bundled him into blankets and rushed him back to the family farmhouse. His mother, Mrs. Aurele Beauchamp, 30, greeted him tearfully. The family has six other children.

"I gave up hope four days ago," said the father, Aurele Beauchamp, 31. "I was sure he was dead."

Jean had gone to the family woodlot with his father Wednesday. He strayed away picking flowers while Mr. Beauchamp felled trees.

More than 1,000 volunteers, assisted by police and soldiers, answered the father's plea for searchers. Police said the boy would have been abandoned if no other had been found by Sunday night.

The boy was located by Adrien, Freddy, Laurent and Henri Gervais.

"I didn't know the Gervais family until today, but we're going to be the best of friends from now on," Mr. Beauchamp said.

They said the child was wet, hungry and suffering from exposure. But they said he would be kept under observation for several days and treated for exposure to his arms and legs.

"He must have walked between six and eight miles," said Police Chief Sylvin St. Jean of l'Assomption, a town 15 miles north of Montreal.

Union Lawyer Starts Talks With Conciliation Board For Railways Wages Hike

MONTREAL (CP) — Frank H. Hall, canny veteran of scores of contract disputes with Canada's railways, today was to begin arguing his case for pay increases for almost 120,000 non-operating railway employees before a three - man conciliation board.

Mr. Hall's arguments for raising the wages of the members of the 15 unions for whom he is chief spokesman are expected to take up the first two days of the hearings.

Then it will be the railways' turn—either to begin presenting their own briefs or to attempt immediate rebuttal of Mr. Hall's case. The hearings are now scheduled to run May 9-13, May 16-20 and May 24-31, but postponements are expected to prevent the board from winding up before the middle of June, with the board's decision—not binding on the parties—not expected for at least another month.

SEEK 20 CENTS

The unions are asking that the $1.77 average hourly wage of railway members of non-operating employees not actually engaged in running trains—be raised by 20 cents an hour, spread over a period of a two - year contract retroactive to last Jan. 1, when the last agreement expired.

Included in their demands are also a 35-hour week and one and three-weeks holidays to employees who have been employed more than 15 years and four - weeks holidays to those 25 years limited of 35 as well as other changes in working conditions.

They are opposed with the wage demand these other issues which have been relatively quiet during the six weeks of fruitless negotiations which broke down June. 22 in the railways' refusal by the CNR and CPR, flatly refused to consider any increases.

The apparently unbridgeable gulf between the two parties has produced the unprecedented conclusion that the hearings before the board headed by the department of labor after talks broke down—are more than a necessary preliminary to government intervention.

Wants S. Rhodesia To Quit Federation

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (Reuters) — The Southern Rhodesia Confederate party has called on the territory Sunday to join South Africa in leaving the African vote."

The party said in its newspaper, the Confederate, that it is resuming political activity after three years, to campaign for "not the enforcement of separate development, while not necessarily withholding the vote from all Negroes for the withdrawal of Southern Rhodesia from the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

Vaniers Enjoy Rodeo Show At Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP)—Governor General Georges P. Vanier and Mme. Vanier dodged the weather, took a peek into the era of the pioneer West — dusty cowboys, while - faced cattle, bucking broncs and even dancing girls.

It's the vice-regal couple's first official trip west, and so far the scenes in Ted' The Vaniers have captured the hearts of western; the West has captured the hearts of the Vaniers.

From Winnipeg to Edmonton, Gen. Vanier has let it be known that he and his wife are finding their first a refreshing experience.

While pioneer days usually found cowboys out on the range and chorus girls in saloons and dance halls, these particular ones performed for the Vaniers in a more regal setting.

The cowboys were professional performers participating in the Canadian Championships Rodeo; chorus girls part of the Army Show presented in the modernistic Jubilee Auditorium Saturday night by the 19th Alberta Dragoons.

After attending the rodeo Friday night, the Vaniers stopped in on 2,500 fellow French-Canadians celebrating their "opening - off party," an annual festival held to celebrate the old custom of moving to summer pastures.

Gen. Vanier Saturday visited members of the War Amputees Association.

Saturday afternoon was taken up with a drive through the city and a reception. The vice-regal couple Saturday night chuckled heartily throughout the musical comedy presented by the Dragoons.

Their Excellencies attended mass at noon Sunday at St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church.

Today they attend a joint luncheon by the Alberta government and the city of Edmonton and a hospital charity ball.

Unemployment Insurance for Farm Help?

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Tribune says it has learned the federal government is working on a scheme to extend unemployment insurance coverage to Canada's 90,000 farm laborers.

The newspaper says officials are investigating the feasibility of establishing a plan that would operate separately from the Unemployment Insurance Commission. The Tribune says one point to be worked out is whether the program would be voluntary or compulsory.

White Political Prisoners Are Moved

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Col. A. Spengler, in charge of area security police, disclosed Sunday that white political prisoners—presumably including David Pratt, the man accused of firing at Prime Minister Verwoerd April 9—had been removed from Johannesburg's city jail to another town.

The location was kept secret.

Although Spengler did not say so, the removal of the whites might be connected with the report of a plot to kidnap Pratt last week.

More than 1,700 people of all races are detained indefinitely under emergency regulations proclaimed March 30 by the nationalist government following racial violence and political unrest.

Bomarc Example of Impact Of U.S. Decisions on Canada

BOSTON (CP)—Cuts by Congress in spending on the Bomarc missile illustrate the need for the United States to remember the impact of its decisions in Canada, a conference on Canada-American relations agreed Sunday.

The three - day conference of Canadian and American legislators, businessmen and men interested in foreign relations called in a final communique for more opportunities for frank exchanges on opinion on common problems.

One of the chief topics discussed was continental defence and the Canadian delegation, headed by Dougl's Jung, Progressive Conservative MP for Vancouver, raised the question of the action of the House of Representatives in cutting funds for production of Bomarc-B, the anti-aircraft missile for which the Canadian government is building two bases.

During off-the-record sessions the Canadians argued that this step was taken without due regard for Canada's part in that area of continental defence.

The communique said the Canadians "suggested that more warning of a prospective cut in Bomarc should have been given the Canadian government and people."

"American participants agreed that earlier notification would have been helpful but expressed the hope that the U.S. administration in Washington still regards the Bomarc program, would seek a restoration of funds in the Senate."

Besides continental defence, the meeting covered American investment in Canada and Far Eastern policy. There was general agreement that it would be unwise to recognize Red China or admit it to the United Nations in present circumstances."

The communique said the Americans "expressed the hope that the Canadian government would not legislate Canadian shareholding in subsidiaries" of U.S. companies operating in Canada.

The Canadians urged that subsidiaries of American companies should carry on business in such a way as "good citizens of Canada with Canadian interest uppermost."

It was emphasized by American participants that in actions affecting Canadian subsidiaries American companies must seek to act in accordance with sound business practice," the communique said.

The Canadians at the conference were Jung; Progressive Conservative MPs Maurice Allard (Sherbrooke), Gordon Chown (Winnipeg), Art Smith (Calgary South) and Walter Dinsdale (Grey-Bruce); Toronto businessmen George Hogan and John Gray.

Mrs. E. Cross Cross as Can Be, Locked for Day in Men's Lavatory

WEST BROMWICH, England (AP)—Mrs. Ethel Cross is as cross as can be. She was locked in a lavatory. She was there from Tuesday to Wednesday and nobody knew she was there.

It was a men's lavatory. And she was licked in the toilet second half of the soccer match.

So she's writing to the directors of the local soccer stadium and sending a bill for £3 15s damages. This is not to recompense her for the 16 hours she was locked in the toilets when the cistern slot device jammed the door.

"It's really for my husband, three sons and a daughter-in-law who each lost a day's wages through taking time off to search for me," explained the 51-year-old grandmother.

It happened when she went to her first soccer match Tuesday to watch her 25-year-old son Leslie play in a local match. At the interval she went to the washroom and by mistake walked into one reserved for men. She closed the door behind her and it jammed. She heard men talking outside the door and was too embarrassed to shout for help.

When her husband got home at 10 p.m. and found she wasn't there, he reported her missing. Police searched the stadium. Even the women's powder rooms were checked—but not the gents. Mrs. Cross had lost her voice crying out for help in the empty stadium.

Next morning, her husband hoisted a search party. Her 21-year-old son Ray heard a faint cry for help as he looked through the stadium.

When the door to the cubicle was smashed open, Mrs. Cross was safe but tired, cold and cross.

"I never want to go to another soccer match as long as I live," she said.

Brighton Boy Winner of Lions Speaking Contest

MONTREAL (CP) — A high school student from Ontario won top prize Saturday in an interprovincial public speaking contest.

Gerald McNorgan of Brighton and Brockville, was first in the boys' section. The contest was sponsored by the Lions Club of Montreal and Quebec.

First-prize winners each received $100 and a $500 bond in scholarship worth $100 if they continue their education. Second prize was $100, $75 and fourth $50.

Other Ontario prize - winners were:

Girls' section: Jacqueline Wasylow, Gravenhurst, 2nd; Ursuli Shenette, Kirkland Lake, 3rd; Sonia Wan, Kingston, 4th.

Boys' section: Stephen Hinton, Barrie, 2nd; Stanley Haynes, Niagara Falls, 3rd.

French-language section: Gall Labaie, Swastika, 2nd.

Twelve contestants competed in the finals.

COSTLY FIRE

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — Fire swept through a large brick building at the Johns Manville Products Corporation Thursday, causing more than $4,000,000 damage. No injuries were reported.

Both Govts. Under Fire

LONDON (CP) — Both federal and provincial governments came under fire here Saturday during a Southwestern Ontario Liberal Association meeting.

Paul Martin, Essex East MP, said the federal government had failed to fulfil promises of a better deal for Canadian farms. Western Ontario farmers had suffered in particular because a promised soy bean support price was not set.

Ontario Liberal Leader Wintermeyer called the provincial government "grossly unfair" for the provincial government to expect municipalities to assist their own distribution systems.

Both men criticized the government - owned CNR decision to transfer passenger car repair shops to Montreal from here. They said they would join London officials urging the railway to reconsider the move.

Navy Pays Tribute to Dead Of the Battle of Atlantic

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Celebrating its 50th anniversary this week, the Royal Canadian Navy paid tribute today to the merchant mariners and 1,700 sailors who died in the Battle of the Atlantic.

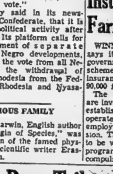
In church parades and open-air services across the nation, regular servicemen, veterans and cadets remembered the navy's surge into maturity in the struggle to keep the convoy lanes to Europe open.

Six days after Canada went to war the RCN had fewer than 2,000 officers and men and ships—two of them training vessels.

By 1944, when it reached the third largest allied navy with more than 95,000 officers and men and 400 ships. During the Atlantic battle, Canadian ships, alone or in company, sank 24 enemy submarines and destroyed 42 enemy surface ships. They lost 24 ships and seven torpedo boats.

Today, Defence Minister Pearkes placed a wreath at the National War Memorial and later took the salute at a parade of naval units past the national defence headquarters.

Nearly 2,000 sailors of the navy's Atlantic fleet paraded through the streets of Halifax and were joined at church services by cadets and members of veterans' organizations.



Rear-Admiral H. S. Pullen, flag officer of the Atlantic fleet, attended his last battle of the Atlantic Ocean before retiring next year as chief of naval personnel.

Atlantic service in an official capacity. He is to retire this summer.

In Vancouver, sailors paraded to a service at Christ Church Anglican Cathedral.

Rain in Toronto wiped out a parade, but veterans and cadets met in uniform for a service at Metropolitan United Church. Similar services were held in Quebec and Winnipeg.

Giants Sweep Pirate Series To Take Over National Lead; Sox Snatch Top From Yanks

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

Gerry Staley is making a comeback of the American League hitters. He's also the reason Chicago White Sox are in first place today.

Manager Al Lopez has called on his 40-year-old right arm eight times in 18 games and the op-position still has to score a run off him in 17 2-3 innings.

Staley gave a demonstration of his excellence to 19,505 Yankee Stadium spectators Sunday as the White Sox wrested first place from New York Yankees in 10 innings, 3-2.

It was the only game played in the American League. All the others were postponed because of rain.

SATURDAY GAMES

In games Saturday New York downed Kansas City 6-1, Chicago whipped Washington 8-4, Detroit shut out Detroit 5-0, and Cleveland defeated Baltimore 9-3.

In Sunday's game the White Sox were leading 2-1 as Billy Pierce had a four-hitter at the Yankees came to bat in the last of the ninth. The veteran southpaw was gifted for a quick run when Mickey Mantle doubled and Roger Maris singled. In came Staley.

Bill Skowron hit Gerry's first pitch for a double and Elston Howard was given an intentional base on balls.

Bases full, nobody out and pinch - hitter Hector Lopez the batter, Lopez grounded into a force play at the plate. Out.

The dangerous Yogi Berra, another pinch-hitter, was the next batter. Staley got him to hit the first pitch on the ground, and another force out at home resulted. Two out.

SCORED ON ERROR

Still another pinch-hitter, Kent Hadley. The lefthanded hitter sent a slow bouncer to the right of Ted Kluszewski. The first baseman chose to cover the bag instead of fielding the roller. Nelle Fox, at second, had to go far to his left for the ball. He slipped on the wet turf, bobbled the ball and the tying run scored as Hadley was credited with a scratch single. Tony Kubek fled out to end the inning.

In the 10th, the White Sox rapped lefthander Fred Kipp and righthander Jim Coates for five hits and scored as many runs to wrap up the victory, their fourth in succession and 10th in their last 12 games.

Minnie Minoso got his third hit, a single. Back in the fourth, he had hit a home run, his fourth of the season. Klu szewski also singled and Minoso scored the tie-breaking run on Sherm Lollar's single. Al Smith's two out single scored another and Jim Landis climaxed the uprising with a three-run homer.

Staley held the Yanks at bay in the 10th to register his third victory of the season. He has yet to lose.

The Yankees used five pitchers. Art Ditmar, the starter, was on even terms with Pierce until the seventh when the White Sox pitcher singled in a run to give Chicago a 2-1 lead. Singles by Minoso and Lollar off Ford had been hit by a pitched ball, increased Chicago's lead to 3-1 and chased Ditmar.

Dodgers Fail At the Plate Says Alston

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Walter Alston faced his audience like a man who had mistaken his notes for a speech he didn't want to make in the first place.

"I don't know what to tell you," said the manager of the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers. "I'd like to say something, but there's just nothing new to say."

"We must be hitting about .167 with men on base. I don't know what the exact figures are, but they're no damn good.

"It's not just one or two guys. It's the whole club. They've all had a chance."

The Dodgers had just suffered their 11th loss in 16 games, had just lost a series to Philadelphia and were in last place for the first time here last year.

Alston told reporters there will be more lineup changes.

On the Track

FORT ERIE (CP) — Anita's Son, favored colt, ran his most brilliant race Saturday to win the $7,500 Vigil Stakes.

Ridden by Hugo Dittfach, Anita's son sped over a muddy track to beat War Eagle by more than six lengths and covered the 6½ furlongs in 1:17 4-5, a fifth of a second behind the track record. Handsome finished third.

The Vigil Stakes eliminated Fort Erie's 76-day spring meeting, the most successful staged here. Total attendance was 194,625, total wagering $9,212,376.

For the corresponding 56-day meeting in 1959, attendance was 142,277, wagering $7,930,941.

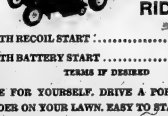
Meanwhile, the $7,500 Friar Rock Stakes will feature the opening of Old Woodbine's meeting today, beginning the 101st consecutive year of organized thoroughbred racing in Toronto.

CONSTRUCTION RECORD

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian construction records for the first four months of this year reached a new high of $1,018,904,300, doubles. Willie McCovey, who received his 1959 rookie award before the game, drove in four runs to raise his league leading total to 27. Willie had a single and double and boosted his league leading batting average to .425. Leadoff batter Don Blasingame scored three times.

Joe Gibbon, winner of his first two decisions, did not last an inning and was charged with his first defeat.

Cal McLish won his second game and outfielder Vada Pinson made his first homer of the year a grand-slammer as Cincinnati swept the three-game series with the Cards. St. Louis now has lost all eight of its road games as Curt Jackson lost his fourth against one victory.



Rookie catcher Jim Coker hit a two-on homer to climax a four-run sixth inning and give the Phillies the rubber of the three-game set with the Dodgers. Jack Meyer, with the help of Dick Farrell, registered his second victory. Ed Rakow, in his major league bow, was the loser.

the BANK OF MONTREAL

Canada centennial scholarships

A SEVEN-YEAR PLAN

To commemorate the Centenary of Canada's Confederation and the 150th anniversary of Canada's First Bank ...in 1967

124 SCHOLARSHIPS of $750 to $5,000 in VALUE

... Every Starter Eligible for Final Awards

If you are a high-school student — well up in your studies and confident of graduating next month — here is a great opportunity for you.

If you are a parent, with a son or daughter ready for university this year, here is important news.

We are searching for 50 top high-school students graduating this June . . . young men and women ready for intensive university training in the Arts or Sciences.

From these 50 students, we hope to find eight outstanding young scholars for Canada's Centennial in 1967. They will be young Canadians of exceptional scholastic attainment — well-equipped and anxious to blaze new trails for the benefit of Canada . . . in scientific research, in the social sciences or in the humanities.

One of the winners could be you . . . or your son or daughter.

50 SCHOLARSHIPS of $750 . . .

In a nation-wide competition opening this week, 50 of the best graduates of Canadian men and women, graduating from high-school this June, will be awarded Bank of Montreal Scholarships, valued at $750 each, for entrance to first-year University next autumn.

These young Canadians will be drawn from all of the ten provinces according to population, with a minimum of two scholarship students from each province.

They will be judged by independent University Selection Committees on the basis of academic standing and character. They will enter a Canadian university of their choice as Bank of Montreal Scholarship Students to pursue studies in Arts or Science. Professional courses, such as law, medicine and engineering, are not included. B of M Scholarship Students may hold other monetary scholarships for the first year only.

48 SCHOLARSHIPS of $1,500 . . .

In the Spring of 1961, the top 16 of these 50 students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $1,500 for second-year university training.

In 1962 and 1963, provided at least good second-class grades have been maintained, these same students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $1,500 per annum . . . leading to graduation in 1964.

In developing the plan, the Bank of Montreal is in no way seeking personnel for its own staff, but men and women who — through scientific research and pursuits in the public service — will contribute in some notable way to the common good of the nation in the years ahead.

24 FELLOWSHIPS of $3,000 . . .

In the Spring of 1964, the top eight of these 16 students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $3,000 for one year's study anywhere in Canada or abroad.

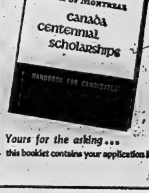
In 1965 and 1966, provided a satisfactory standard of work has been maintained, these same students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $3,000 per annum for further study leading to their Doctorate.

2 BANK OF MONTREAL CANADA CENTENNIAL AWARDS of $5,000 . . .

In 1967, to culminate this seven-year plan, the two top students — one in Arts and one in Science — will be chosen, from all 50 participants in the plan, to receive the Bank of Montreal Canada Centennial Awards of $5,000 each for a further year of study anywhere in Canada or abroad.

Thus, to each of these two winners — if they have been participants throughout the plan — the Bank will have provided financial assistance amounting to $19,250.

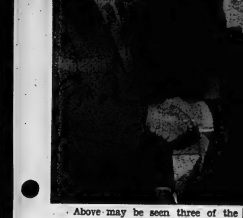
HOW SCHOLARSHIP STUDENTS ARE CHOSEN . . .



Scholarship students are chosen on merit alone — academic standing and character — by independent Selection Committees of faculty members of Canadian universities. The Bank will have no part whatever in the decisions taken by the Committees.

SEE YOUR BANK OF MONTREAL BRANCH AND MAKE YOUR APPLICATION WITHOUT DELAY . . . DO NOT WAIT UNTIL YOU HAVE RECEIVED YOUR EXAMINATION RESULTS. ACT NOW.

HOW STUDENTS IN ONTARIO (and Baffin Island) SHOULD APPLY . . .



Interested Ontario students, graduating from Grade XIII this June with Secondary School Graduation Diploma, should visit their neighbourhood B of M branch and ask for the "Handbook for Candidates" for the Bank of Montreal Canada Centennial Scholarships. This booklet explains the Scholarship Plan in detail and outlines the simple steps required to register your application for consideration by the Selection Committee of Ontario for one of the 13 scholarships available in 1960 to students in this province.

If there is no branch of the Bank in your district, then — and only then — you should write for your request to: The Assistant General Manager, Bank of Montreal, 50 King Street West, TORONTO, Ont.

Rain-Dampened Pt. Anne Holds 'Bobby Hull Night'

Above may be seen three of the major figures in Point Anne's "Bobby Hull Night" held last Saturday. On the left, J. H. "Ham" Legate, former plant superintendent at Canada Cement extends his congratulations to Bobby and Mrs. Hull after presenting them with a washer and deep freeze on behalf of the residents of Point Anne.

Villagers Pay Fine Tribute To Youthful Chihawk Star Despite Inclement Weather

By GEORGE H. CARVER
Sports Editor

The rain slanted downward in misty curtains. It had held off all day, but an unkind fate sent it down in time to dampen the dusty swards of the Point Anne softball park, but not the spirit of those who came to honor a native son.

It was "Bobby Hull Night" in Point Anne Saturday and a weather-lenience crowd did full homage to the youngster who emblazoned a golden glory trail in his third year in the National Hockey League.

A proud village presented him with a deep-freeze unit and a modern washing appliance, valued at $1,000, Bobby's California bride, Joanne (McKay), received a beautiful bouquet. The McFarlands Booster Club of Belleville sent a gift. The Ontario Amateur Softball Association honored him with an illuminated address. There were many other gifts.

There was a parade, clowns, majorettes, ancient cars, bands, Girl Guides, Brownies, Scouts and Cubs. And there was a distinguished assemblage of political, civic, and National Hockey League dignitaries here to add their accolades.

NIGHT OF NIGHTS

While sullen skies threatened and finally opened rain faucets to halt the major part of the planned entertainment, the presentations and addresses were given before the elements deserved.

The guest of honor, debonair in a dark suit with a proud bride and parents looking on, expressed his heartfelt appreciation of the honors given him.

"There have been Doug Harvey Nights and Gordie Howe Nights" Bobby said "but there will never be another night in the world like tonight. I cannot express the thanks of my wife and myself for the wonderful things the people of Point Anne have done for us, especially when times are not so good."

"Joanne and I are extremely proud to be associated with you. You have shown us what really wonderful people you are, we shall always remember this night."

Bobby paid special tribute to Earle Anderson and his committee who arranged the evening, the Canada Cement Company and staff, and those of his native village who in any way assisted.

Later he was almost mobbed by a crowd of youngsters to whom he presented autographed miniature hockey sticks.

Mr. A. O. Dryedale, plant superintendent of the Canada Cement Plant emceed the gala program at the park, later turning the mike over to Bobby Strachan.

After tribute to Bobby and the Anderson committee, Mr. Dryedale introduced Lee Grills, M.P., Hastings South; Clarke Rollins, M.L.A. Hastings East; Mayor Robert Temple of Belleville; Fred MacDonald ("Hooray for the mayor"); Charles Long, reeve of Thurlow; Alf. Wickett reeve of Thurlow; Mr. J. H. Legate, retired plant superintendent Canada Cement; Jack Point Anne; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hull, Sr. "the producers"; Mrs. Robert Hull, Jr.; Bonny Brennigan, Bob Wilson, chief scout Chicago Black Hawks; Rudy Pilous, coach of the Hawks and last but not least Bobby himself.

FINE OVATION

A thunderous round of applause greeted Bobby as he rose, and stepped forward to wave his hand at the crowd.

In his tribute, Mr. Wilson said "Tonight we honor a great hockey player. I have had a lot of faith in Bobby ever since he was 14 years of age. I said when he was 21 he would be one of the great players in the NHL and I say now that he will go into the Hall of Fame as one of the greatest ever to perform in the NHL."

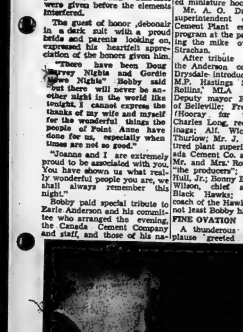
Mr. Wilson also paid fine tribute to Bob's mother, saying her assistance in the early years had been a wonderful help.

Coach Rudy Pilous said "we of the Hawks have had a great time with Bobby — but we also had our problems. I had the privilege of seeing him perform on nights when he did things almost unbelievable such as scoring four goals in one night. As Mr. Wilson says, I believe Bobby is destined to become one of the greatest players in the NHL and I only hope I am around to open and close the gate when he reaches that status".

Mr. Hull Sr., said "everything about Bobby has been said. I wish to offer my thanks". Mrs. Hull, Sr., asked to speak, was visibly moved and murmured "thank you".

Petite Bonny Brannigan presented the lovely wife of the guest of honor with a beautiful bouquet of roses and she in turn, in a gracious gesture, presented them to Bobby's mother.

Mr. Legate with brief words presented Bobby and Mrs. Hull with the gifts of the community. Bobby Strachan handed the hockey star the Belleville McFarlands Booster present and read the address from the OASA.



The village was on fete for the occasion with strings of bunting and colored lights strung across that part of the main highway that fare where a street dance had been scheduled. Due to the rainy weather, this was cancelled and the dance held in the clubhouse cafeteria.

A Mohawk war dance programmed by the Deseronto Girl Guides under Mrs. Peggy Sero was also cancelled due to weather.

The parade left the clubhouse shortly before seven headed by police car the crack 8RD Trenton RCAF drum and trumpet band. The Brenda Archer Twirling Belleties majorettes followed then came Bobby and Mrs. Hull and Mr. and Mrs. Hull Sr. in line followed VIP's cars, the Caroline Dickey Dance School troupe, the Mohawk guides, cubs, scouts a "motored" buggy of ancient village Ken Wickett's gas-driven "Model T", and the stirring pipes of the Quinte Pipe Band.

Earle Anderson's hard-working committee added another hilarious comedy touch garbed as clowns in an ancient Ford. The committee consisted of Bobby Strachan, Doug Bennett, Jack Hart, "Twink" Twining, "Gabby" Bennett, Ali Ueza, Basil McKendricks and Marlin Pyle.

Arriving at the softball park the parade units formed a circle. Bobby and Mrs. Hull walked in the dais to the sound of resounding cheers, car horns and the lilt of the Pipe Band followed by members of his family and other special guests.

Highlight of the evening's proceedings for the youngsters was the handing out of some 500 autographed hockey sticks by Bobby to them. Above Bobby may be seen presenting a stick to one of the youngest hockey enthusiasts present.

Mikhel Tal, 23, Wins World's Chess Title

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Mikhail Tal, a 23-year-old journalist from Riga, Soviet Latvia, triumphed over Mikhail Botvinnik of Leningrad Saturday to become the youngest world chess champion of the 20th century.

Botvinnik, who is 48 and had held the title since 1948, lost the 24-game series when Tal drew the 21st game of a two-month duel that had been avidly followed by thousands of Soviet spectators.

Tal forced a draw at the 17th move, bringing his score for the series to 12½ points to Botvinnik's 8½.

Tal won six games in the marathon Botvinnik two. The other 13 matches were drawn.

Tal began playing chess seriously only nine years ago.

Death Claims Geo. Dudley, Well-Known Hockey Figure

MIDLAND (CP) — Tributes from across Canada poured into this little town today for George Dudley, 70, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association who died in hospital Sunday.

Known as Mr. Hockey for his contribution to the game in Canada, he was president of the International Ice Hockey Federation and headed the hockey section of the 1960 Winter Olympic games.

He had been in ill-health for some time and suffered a stroke Friday.

"They say there is always someone to take your place. No one will take his place," said Conn Smythe, president of Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto, 80 miles south of here.

CAHA vice-president Jack Kerspurgh of Simcoe said Dudley was "the best man hockey ever knew."

WELL QUALIFIED

"To sportsmen, nationally and internationally, his death will mean the personal loss of an experienced, impartial and able administrator. His legal training, personal ability and hard work placed amateur hockey, and especially amateur hockey, in good stead for many, many years," said CAHA president Gordon Juckes of Melville, Sask.

Dudley, a native of Midland where he practised law for 43 years, was elected to the CAHA executive in 1926. He was president 1940-42, secretary in 1945 and secretary-manager thereafter.

In 1950 he was honored by the Ontario Hockey Association for 26 years' service. In 1958 he was honored by the CAHA, the OHA and the town of Midland for his services to hockey and the municipality.

In April, 1958, he was one of those named to the hockey hall of fame.

Cancer Claims Gen. Kilpatrick, Garden Head

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick, 70, president of Madison Square Garden for more than 20 years and 1956 chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Organization, died in hospital Saturday of cancer.

Kilpatrick, star end at Yale in 1908 and 1910, was elected to the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame in 1955.

He was a member of the army reserves for 37 years until his retirement in 1946.

After graduation from Yale, Kilpatrick entered the construction business here. In 1923, he became vice - president of the George A. Fuller company.

He supervised construction of the New York County court house, the New York Times Building and two buildings on the campus.

He left the Fuller firm in 1933 to assume the presidency of Madison Square Garden. He became chairman of the board in 1955 and was named honorary chairman in February, 1959.

Kilpatrick was president of New York Rangers hockey team at the time of his death.

Chicubs Ready To Talk Trade

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago Cubs in the National League caboose with a 6-12 showing, are ready to trade high, wide and handsome with Ernie Banks listed as the only untouchable.

"We will talk trades with all clubs in the league and we'll talk about every player we've got except Banks," said vice-president John Holland. "Banks is the only untouchable on the team. We are willing to trade any number of other players—front, liners—if we can get what we need in return.

With three straight games with Milwaukee being rained out in Wrigley Field, Holland and Braves manager Chuck Dressen have done considerable huddling.

A report that a big deal between the two clubs, involving 3-4 players and including Banks named most valuable player three last two years, was denied by Holland.

LISBON (AP) — Portugal beat Yugoslavia 2-1 in the national cup match at Lisbon's National Stadium Sunday.

Cartoonist Draws Winner Then Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Leo O'Meally's last cartoon was a winner.

The well-known sports cartoonist of the New York Daily News had a sketch of Churchill Downs in his regular two-column space Saturday morning with horses thundering down the stretch.

At the bottom, above his familiar Don Insignia, he printed: "I'm pickin' Venetian Way."

O'Meally, 76, died at his home Saturday morning. Almost 11 hours later Venetian Way romped home by 3½ lengths in the Kentucky Derby — just as Leo's pen had blueprinted it.

"A NIGHT TO REMEMBER"

It was a great night in the life of Bobby Hull. It was a great night for his lovely California-Chicago bride, Joanne McKay. It was a great night for the "Hull" family—and a great night for Point Anne and the Pointers in general.

But it was a greater night for another person. To Bobby went the wholehearted accolades, tangible and otherwise of a proud community and district. To the blonde youngster, scarcely out of his teens, who by his hockey prowess earned the highest honors the National Hockey League can bestow, went the tributes of honor and congratulation.

But to another something came out of that rain-misted evening that was more than accolades, gifts and other honors.

That which glinted her eyes and slowly coursed down her cheeks were not the gentle drops of falling rain. They were tears of joy, pride and appreciation. For this was one of the shining hours in the life of Mrs. Robert Hull, senior.

She sat on the platform beside her equally proud husband, her heart full, her pride slightly bowed as she heard and saw magnificent tribute paid to her eldest son. Perhaps some guessed it. Others may have known it too. But this was just as much "Mrs. Hull Night" in an individual sense as it was "Bobby Hull Night" in the community interpretation.

Her attractive daughter-in-law, Joanne, who sat near her must have guessed what was going on in the heart and mind of her. For in a very gracious gesture, after being presented with a lovely bouquet of flowers by pretty Bonny Brennigan, she rose, handed the beautiful roses to Bobby's mother with the simple words "For the lady who is much more deserving of these than I am."

Mrs. Hull rose to thank her daughter-in-law. Her voice broke. The tears came again. She said something in a low voice, stopped and sat down. Mere words could not express that which glowed and swelled in the proud heart of a mother.

From Bob Wilson, chief scout of the Chicago Black Hawks and one of the special guests of the evening, came fine tributes. During the brief interview, Wilson said, "There is another person here to whom I want to pay tribute and that is Bobby's mother. Without her guidance he may not have reached the heights. She did a wonderful job, especially in the days before Bobby reached the NHL."

Wilson never said truer words. During the early days when the youngster's path to glory was beset with minor roadblocks, Mrs. Hull and Mr. Hull, too, for that matter, exerted a steadying influence. For Bobby was young, and a strange new world was opening before him.

It was a world that had its temptations as well as its rewards. Many times the junior "pro" would say "Dad and Mom" sat in the stands, even as they did when Bobby made his debut in the National Hockey League and during his later seasons with the Black Hawks.

Mrs. Hull has "sired and dammed a thoroughbred"either watching from the stands or the living room television set. She "died" when Bobby was hit with bone-jolting bodychecks. She "lived" gloriously when the blonde "comet" and goalscorer-of-the-year set with one of his pile-driving shots.

She exulted with Mr. Hull and her other three sons and seven daughters when the Hawks swept through to victory. She "mourned." so to speak, when they met defeat.

She glowed with maternal pride when Bobby won the National Hockey League scoring championship. She thrilled when he was named to the NHL first all-star team.

But Saturday night was her night. The loyal burghers of Point Anne saw to that. Through their honoring of a native son for his hockey exploits they fashioned a "Mother's Day" gift that nothing of a tangible nature could equal.

There was no prouder, happier lady in Point Anne, or in Canada for that matter on Saturday night, than the mother who watched through misted eyes the impressive village do honor to a youngster who in a brief professional hockey span has indicated that he is destined to become one of the game's "greatest."

Bowlers Set New Record

WELLAND (CP)—Four Welland Elmview bowlers Sunday broke what is believed to be the Canadian record for marathon bowling by completing 144 games in 25 hours of continuous play.

The previous record was claimed by four years ago when a quartette bowled consecutively 24 hours and 15 minutes, playing 128 games.

The Welland players this weekend were sustained through the period with coffee and sandwiches and although, when they called a halt at 5 p.m. Sunday, they said they could have continued several hours more. The quartet was offered $1 a game, Walter Bergeron, Yvon Lapointe and Jacques Beauchesne.

TeePees Win Battle Of Goalies And Memorial Cup

Climax Uphill Battle Sunday To Net Well-Earned 7-4 Win Over Edmonton's Oil Kings

TORONTO (CP) — St. Catharines Teepees, who battled hard all season to keep out of the cellar in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A Series, today are Memorial Cup champions.

The Teepees won the title in the opening three months of the 68-game schedule, climaxed an uphill battle Sunday to dispose of Edmonton Oil Kings in the sixth game of their best-of-seven total final. The farm club of Chicago Black Hawks defeated the westerners 7-4 in a fast-skating, hard-checking contest.

The Teepees take the cup four games to two and sent Edmonton down to defeat for the fourth time in final time since the Albertans first made the national final in 1934. Their last loss was also to St. Catharines — in 1954.

COACH OVERCOMES

"I'm so choked up with emotion that I can't think straight," stammered St. Catharines coach Bud Poile following Sunday's thriller before 7,745 fans. It was the sat's best-played game and was featured by brilliant goaltending by Teepees' Charlie Hodge and by Edmonton Roger Crozier.

The Oil Kings took the opener 3-2 at St. Catharines but the Teepees won two 6-2 and 9-1. They tied the series at 3-3 with a win a week ago before bowing 9-6 Friday.

Sunday the Oil Kings just didn't have it. They were 2-0 after the first period and 3-0 going into the final session.

Gillow and Crozier stood out amongst a bunch of heroes, particularly in the first period when they turned aside labelled goals. Ron Ellis scored the first Teepee shot in each period, mostly because they concentrated more on passing than shooting.

SAVES

Gillow stopped 32 drives—19 in the first period, 13 in the second and 18 in the third. Crozier handled 12, 8 and 8.

Doug Robinson led St. Catharines goal-scorer's with two, while Ellis went to Bobby Cullen, Dallivet, Terry McGuire, Chico Maki and Duke Harris.

Ken Broderick, Joyal and Cliff Pennington were Oil Kings marksmen.

Joyal play - making centre tabbed by Detroit Red Wings as possible National League material, was the series' top—goalscorer with eight. Cullen had seven.

Maki, 20, right winger and captain playing his final junior season, led in points with 15 on four goals and 11 assists. He will be given a tryout by Black Hawks next fall.

The Oil Kings, who bid to keep the cup in the West after Winnipeg Braves had been eliminated in the semi-finals, threatened early in the third period with two goals in 26 seconds but three minutes later rewon the gap 4-2. But Teepees battled back three goals in three minutes to wrap it up.

PENALTIES EVEN

Referee Joe Klatt of Winnipeg called 10 penalties, five to each team. There were no power-play goals. The Oil Kings drew a little shorthanded in the third, Joyal scoring.

Kamlinsky thus earned the distinction of piloting a national champion in his first year as Junior A competition. But although the Teepees lost only one game throughout Sunday's contest, the coach couldn't relax.

"I'm choked up with emotion," was a bit in the final period but I thought the game would end in a tie," he said early. "When it was 4-2 for a while in the third period I thought maybe we might come back."

Oil Kings, meanwhile, hastily packed in their dressing room for the team's departure from Toronto Airport. Harry Allen left for the hotel immediately after the game.

'Bill' Rides 'Venetian Way' To Victory in Derby Classic

By ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Bill Hartack, horse racing's No. 1 controversial figure, knew how his chance to ride Venetian Way to victory in the 86th Kentucky Derby Saturday.

Vic Sovinski, who trains Venetian Way for Harry Guggenheim of Chicago, says that as late as last Friday he was toying with the idea of replacing Hartack.

"I knew I could get Eddie Arcaro," Sovinski said at he talked of Venetian's 3½ - length triumph over Bally Ache in the $158,950 classic for three-year-olds at Churchill Downs and the renewal of their rivalry in the $100,000-added preakness at Pimlico May 21.

"But I finally decided to stick with Hartack although I'll admit that I, with many others, don't approve of his outspoken attitude. And I am glad I did. He obeyed my instructions to the letter. He'll be on Venetian Way again in the Preakness."

MY NAME'S BILL!

Hartack, who curly advised reporters in the jockeys' quarters after the race that his name was "Bill, not Bob," captured the 1-2 Kentucky affair for a seven-furlong pony over the 1¼ mile distance. Ache best Venetian Way by more than three lengths.

"I told him to give Venetian Way a good workout for an additional quarter-mile," said Sovinski. "He did but was standing up in the saddle all the way. When I told him to go all out in the workout, I meant the boy to sit in the saddle and I told Hartack so."

Sovinski was further provoked when Hartack remarked: "I hope the horse was only just short." Sovinski said he took that as an intimation Venetian Way wasn't fit.

"And I let Hartack know it."

MIGHT HAVE

Hartack said his only instruction to Hartack for the Derby was to lay back in third or fourth position for a mile and then stretch and then to make his move.

How well this worked is shown by the fact Venetian Way was not moved into second place with a little more than a halfmile to go, caught first place a trifle higher Ache and Bob Ussery rounding the last big turn, went ahead of Leonard Fruchtman's hard-hitting colt seeking the quarter-pole and then widened his margin as the long drive for the finish.

"I rode him like anybody was on my tail all the way," said Hartack. "First time I'hi him was just before we turned for home. I told everybody after the Florida Derby that my horse definitely was short that day but that he was the one to look for in the Kentucky Derby."

Venetian Way was beaten a

Jets Defeat Buffalo 4-3 On One Hit

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

To Columbus Jets will probably go credit for winning the strangest game of the year in the International Hockey League. It was that the first-place Buffalo Bisons were pulling away from the ruins Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Jets took a 4-3 eight-inning victory over the Bisons Sunday when Hank Mitchell hit a leadoff home run to the bottom of the final seventh inning—his team's only hit. The Bisons won the opener 7-4 as Art Mahaffey won his third game against a single loss.

Miami Marlins swept a doubleheader from Montreal Royals, 4-2 and 8-3 in a 13-inning finale. Doubleheaders between Toronto and Havana, Sugar Kings and Rochester Red Wings and Richmond and Buffalo were rained out.

Rain also forced postponement of the Sunday night engagement at Toronto between Leafs and the Sugar Kings and at Columbus between the Jets and Rochester. The Marlins defeated the Royals 6-3 and Toronto Maple Leafs shut out Red Wings 6-0.

Mitchell's clout got 10 hits in losing Sunday's second game, led 3-0 going into the fifth inning as Jets scored four times. Columbus added a no-hitter. Then he Bisons' first-night batterman was replaced by Don Erickson.

Erickson held Bill Hall to a pinch-hit scoring in one run, wildpitched home a second and then gave up a sacrifice fly to Nino Escalera that tied the score 3-3 and brought in the winning run when he hit his game-winner off losing hurler Warren Hacker. Don Ellis followed with a single.

Mahaffey, with relief from Tom Tuley, blanked the Jets on one hook, scattered six hits, though giving a home run to Tom Bupp over Tom Cheney lost. The split gave Buffalo a 12-6 record while Columbus is 11-7 and first by a half-game, though both have a game in hand.

Woody Smith hit a 13th-inning home run to win the second game for Miami Sunday. Bob Thurman had a two-run homer and drove in five runs per the Marlins while Joe Altobelli hit two home runs for Miami in the fifth and eighth. Art Kay was the winner and Rabe Birrer the loser.

Jim Landis drove in National 10 hits to best Tom Lasorda (1-3) in the opener.

Toronto Bowler Has Big Lead

TORONTO (CP)—Simon Rizzuto, Toronto Transit Commission employee, Saturday took a big lead in the Ontario five-pin singles bowling tournament here when he rolled a 10-game total of 2,773.

The score shattered the open record he had high eight-game 2,731 is also tops for the tournament to date. His previous leader had scored 2,721.

Competition continues until Sunday with another bowler participating only once. First prize is $1,000 and the winner represents Canada will compete in the annual meet.

Best out-of-town scores posted during the weekend included:

Singles

John Scholes, Welland, 2,519; Angelo Di Pietro, Welland, 2,501; Ralph Scarlett, Orillia, 2,374; Everett Phillips, Peterborough, 2,356; Eugene Reynolds, Peterborough, 2,353; Al Elliot, Brantford, 2,349; Jack Meehan, Stuntgeon Falls, 2,175.

WINNER AND RUNNERS-UP — The winner and runners-up of the Bowl-O-Drome "Mr. Bowling" tournament which attracted a record 76 entries are seen here. Horace Ormshaw, Trenton, winner, with a score of 2607, is seen at centre, flanked by second place Jim McKenzie and Harry DeRushie, third place, both of Belleville.

Horace Ormshaw Wins 2nd District 'Mr. Bowling' Title

Well known veteran bowler, Horace Ormshaw of Trenton won the ninth annual "Mr. Bowling" tournament at the Bowl - O - Drome here over the weekend.

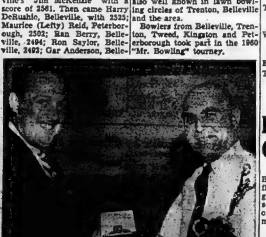
It was Mr. Ormshaw's second successful quest of the title in three years. He won the 1958 tournament.

Rolling an aggregate 3607 for a 2607 average in the ten game contest, Mr. Ormshaw defeated a record field of 76 entries from five centres of the district.

He collected a one hundred dollar cash prize as the winner, plus a handsome wrist watch donated by Gerry O'Connor of O'Connor's Jewel Box.

The top eight bowlers of the field collected prizes and awards.

In second place was Belleville's Jim McKenzie with a score of 3561. Then came Harry DeRushie, Belleville, with 3535; Maurice (Lefty) Reid, Peterborough, 3502; Stan Berry, Belleville, 2494; Ron Saylor, Belleville, 2492; Gar Anderson, Belleville, 2440, and Russ Jones, Belleville, 2416.



High singles of the tournament were rolled by Stan Berry with a 375 and Russ Jones with a 361.

A feature of the tournament was the fine performance of Bob Kiser, 15, and Jim St. Louis, 16. In their first appearances in tournament play, St. Louis rolled a ten-game 2345 for a 234.5 average, and Kiser a 2225 for a 222.5 average.

In the post-tournament ceremonies, Bowl-O-Drome manager Bill Bateman presented the 1960 "Mr. Bowling" with his cheque and trophy while Mr. O'Connor handed the winner the beautiful timepiece.

Mr. Ormshaw has been alley-bowling for years in Trenton, and district tournaments. He is also well known in lawn bowling circles of Trenton, Belleville and the area.

Bowlers from Belleville, Trenton, Tweed, Kingston and Peterborough took part in the 1960 "Mr. Bowling" tourney.

"MR. BOWLING" 1960 — Horace Ormshaw, Trenton, winner of the Bowl-O-Drome "Mr. Bowling" tournament held over the weekend is seen receiving a wristwatch from Gerry O'Connor. Mr. Ormshaw is a second time winner of the trophy which he is holding.

Decries Talk Of Pro League

ST. PAUL, Minn. (CP)—Talk about a new minor professional hockey league in the West is purely speculation, officials of the St. Paul hockey club of the International League said Sunday after weekend discussions with other hockey interests.

Joe Lein, general manager of the St. Paul club, said a report to this effect that originated in Winnipeg last week was "conjecture." Club president Pat Egan described it as "all rumor's and strictly speculation."

Lein said the talks here brought together officials of the western division teams in the International League — St. Paul, Minneapolis, Milwaukee and Omaha. Winnipeg and St. Louis also were represented.

"We tried to talk them into coming into the International League," said Lein. Winnipeg Warriors now play in the Western League.

The officials are to meet here again this week, probably starting Thursday, to continue their discussions. Lein said no formal action was taken at the first session and no consideration was given to forming a new league.

Barber Takes Golf Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Jerry Barber of Los Angeles threw a five-under-par 67 at his challengers Sunday for a record 72-hole score of 288 to win top money of $10,000 in the $42,400 tournament of Champions.

Barber, 44, oldest and smallest professional on the 30-man field at 21, breezed home in front by four strokes over Jay Hebert and set a tournament record for the four rounds. In a heated contest for the $5,000 second prize, Billy Casper, a seasoned young pro, finished two strokes in front of Julius Boros, 40, who had 274 for $4,000.

The previous 72-hole tournament record score was 275 set by Stan Leonard of Vancouver in 1956.

Don Whitt of Borrego Springs, Calif., took fourth place and $3,000 with 275. National Open champion Arnold Palmer and each received $1,650.

Bonus Baby Paying off For Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Joe Amalfitano is finally starting to pay off for San Francisco Giants—after a seven-year wait and a $60,000 investment.

The 28 - year - old utility infielder collected $35,000 as a bonus baby in 1954.

But Joe, a sensation at Loyola University at Los Angeles, warmed the bench his first season while the Giants, then based in New York, won a pennant and a world series.

Joe collected a full series cheque of $11,147.90 so he couldn't complain.

Because of the old bonus rule, Amalfitano stayed with the Giants the next year, when they finished third, still mainly a benchwarmer. Then he was farmed to Minneapolis, to Dallas, to Phoenix.

In 1958, the Giants traded him to Toronto Maple Leafs for pitcher Don Johnson. Last year he batted .308 and the Giants drafted him back at a cost of $25,000.

"I just wasn't ready in 1954," Amalfitano recalled.

The Giants then had Davey Williams at second, veteran Al Dark at shortstop and hard-hitting Hank Thompson on third. No place there for a beginner.

Now Amalfitano is filling in mainly at third and as a right-handed pinch-hitter. He's batting .300 for 12 games and plays second, short or third, with equal ability.

"He's a major leaguer and he'll help us," said Giants manager Bill Rigney.

It's difficult to come off the bench and play different positions," Amalfitano said, "but I like the job. I want to be a good utility man. There's always a demand for them."

Rain Stopped When Teeps Arrived Home

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Even the rain stopped for St. Catharines Teepees when they arrived home Sunday night after defeating Edmonton Oil Kings in Toronto to capture the Memorial Cup.

The players were loaded into 25 convertibles at the edge of the city and paraded through downtown to the arena. A fine rain that had been falling through the afternoon all but ceased.

Crowds lined the streets and a packed arena heard Teepees congratulated by Mayor Wilfred Bald and other officials.

Teepees travelled from Toronto by bus with three police escorts. Toronto police led them to the Queen Elizabeth Way, where provincial police took over until an escort of Grantham Township police met the bus.

A small reception was held after the welcome ceremonies.

Orioles Lose Ace Catcher

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore Orioles Sunday placed catcher Gus Triandos on the disabled list for 30 days and announced he will have a thumb operation Wednesday.

Triandos the American League's 1959 all-star game catcher, has had trouble with his right thumb since being struck on the back of the hand by a foul tip last Aug. 1.

COMEDY TEAM — Canadian comedians Johnny Wayne (left) and Frank Shuster have built up a substantial following among American critics and the television public. The comedians appear about once a month on the national Ed Sullivan TV show. Their working arrangements allows them time to try out on their own Canadian TV show the material they plan to use in the U.S. (CP Photo)

Wayne and Shuster Make Instant Hit in U.S., Known For a Long Time in Canada

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Two years ago a large segment of the American TV-viewing public watched, with mounting enthusiasm, a pair of uninhibited Canadians wrapped to bed sheets re-enact the infancy drama which followed the death of Julius Caesar.

It was the debut of Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster on the Ed Sullivan show and their introduction to United States audiences.

Their sketch concerned the efforts of Flavius Maximus, private Roman eye, to solve the murder of big Julie. The high moment came when Flavius walked into an ancient Roman bar and ordered a martinus.

"You mean a martini, don't you?" asked the barkeep.

"If I want two, I'll ask for them," snarled Wayne.

This, by most TV standards, stands as pretty egghead type joke, requiring as it does some understanding of the singularities of plural of Latin nouns.

Critics, along with the general public, took this new comedy team to their bosom. They commented not only about a fresh breeze from Canada but about the high intellectual content of its material.

Since The Julius Caesar Caper Wayne and Shuster started returning regularly to the Sullivan Show with more irreverent and off-beat satire.

A few weeks back they did a biting bit on Madison Avenue mores. Before that, they laid violent hands on the Basel and produced a baseball drama in Shakespearean language.

("Hitlers has he gone for 20 days." . . . "Oh what a rogue and bale-league slob am I." . . . "A bat, a Louisville slugger, that once was Babe Ruth did belong.")

The frank ardent devotees of the national pastime, as well as English majors, dug the humor.

They were the first to produce an adroit satire of the western and psychiatric-ite, fads. Their hero was Dr. Tex Hornbach, frontier psychiatrist, who asked every patient: "When did you first discover that you hated your mother?" Dr. Hornbach, incidentally, was given to such philosophical bits of wisdom as "There are no such things as outlaws; there are just problem cowboys."

Although they've been visible to south-of-the-border viewers for the last two years, Wayne and Shuster are a Canadian institution. They've been working as a team for almost 20 years—since they were 14, in fact, and sat side by side in a Toronto high school classroom. They were members of the same boy scout troop, attended Toronto University and then started a local radio show. They served in an entertainment unit of the Canadian Army through the war years, returned to radio and made their debut in TV in 1950.

Four years later they had their own show, and currently do six Canadian TV specials a year. During the last two seasons they have been seen on the Sullivan show.

"We don't have any trouble getting material," remarked Wayne during a break in rehearsals the other day. "We were brought up in radio so we never heard about using material more than once. They served us at it's best as something and then throw it away."

That's the reason we think we're so lucky," broke in Shuster. "We have all this time in Canada between Sullivan shows to work up new material and try it out on our own shows. Then if we really like it, we can do it again when we're here. It's gravy."

Shuster believes that the fact they are both comedians confuses American audiences.

"I suppose Martin and Lewis started it," he said, "but down here everybody thinks that a team of comedians means one tall good-looking guy who sings and one funny-looking fellow who is funny. We don't sing and we've been keeping it a secret that one of us is tall and good-looking."

Back home they live a block apart, and they keep regular 9-to-5 working hours—in the library at Shuster's house.

Each is married and has two and three children respectively. Although they are close—"like a family"—they are careful to keep their social lives separate.

"It's an ideal set-up," being away from New York and Hollywood most of the time," commented Wayne. "It makes it easy to find and evaluate material. From Toronto we can see the forest; in New York you can just see the trees."

Golfer Knocks Out Speaker In Battle of the Networks

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Barber, a little man with a mighty driver and an educated putter, not only vanquished a score or more of the leading professional golfers Sunday, but he practically knocked Representative Chester Bowles (Dem., Conn.) off a network in the process.

NBC had a special live telecast—scheduled for 60 minutes—of the final moments of the golf Tournament of Champions from Las Vegas, Nev., part of the entertainment was to be the winner picking up his prize—10,000 silver dollars. But too many players studied their pills for too many minutes, and winner Barber didn't even drop his final putt until the hour was up.

NBC had a decision to make. It could cut off the tournament prematurely, and absorb the complaints of viewers who had failed to see the end of the play. Or it could ignore Meet the Press, currently an unsponsored public service show. It decided—probably wisely—in favor of the golf match.

BARBER WELL HIDDEN

As it turned out, the viewers didn't get to see the 10,000 silver dollar touch of Barber. The winner refused to take off either his cap or his dark glasses, which concealed his face. And he slapped down the hand of a tournament official who tried.

NBC finally ended the show abruptly, before the prize was awarded. But not before many minutes had been consumed plugging the facilities of Las Vegas hotel, thanking its owners and a national charity.

Meanwhile, back in a Washington studio, Meet the Press was in full swing. Apparently, neither the panel nor the guest, Representative Bowles, were aware no one was hearing them. The home viewers heard only a couple of words before the program was over.

Golf is a tough game to televise live. Those taped and edited weekly golf shows are much more satisfactory entertainment.

Simone Signoret, the French star who won an Oscar this season as best actress, made her television debut Sunday night on the CBS' G.E. Theater. This program has its ups and downs but this was one of its best. Miss Signoret is an unmannered and impressive actress. And Lee Marvin was a perfect foil for her.

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal wildlife officials are becoming increasingly concerned over whether the polar bear population is being reduced excessively by over-hunting.

Aside from preventing this magnificent animal from becoming extinct, the government's wildlife service wants to conserve it because of the role it plays in the Eskimo economy.

The "ice king" of the Arctic is important to the Eskimo for his meat, which is a staple food both humans and dogs. Although rather stringy, the meat is quite palatable and is a welcome change from a seal and walrus diet.

Eskimos formerly used the bear's hide to make waterproof pants, robes for bedding and sled covers, and its fur is made today of the hide for clothing but there is a growing demand for skins by white men living in the Arctic.

CENSUS NEEDED

The big problem facing the wildlife service is that it has no idea of the polar bear population. However, many officials feel that an annual kill of 500 or more may be excessive and that the time has arrived to take a census and determine a harvest that will safeguard the species.

By next year the service hopes to have a biologist employed full-time on problems associated with the conservation of the polar bear, known to Eskimo as "the book." His job will be to estimate the population and determine an annual kill limit which will perpetuate the species for the benefit of the Eskimo.

There is no sport-hunting of the polar bear in Canada. Only Eskimos and Indians are allowed to hunt them and the kill is limited to single adult bears and female adults without cubs. The open season in the Northwest Territories is from Oct. 1 to May 31.

Wildlife officials say the current annual kill of 500 a year does not include bears taken off the Arctic coast beyond the three-mile limit. Other bears of Canadian origin also are shot off the coast of Alaska in the Beaufort Sea.

AMERICAN HUNTERS

Many of these bears are shot by wealthy American hunters operating from Alaska. Wildlife officials say representations have been made to United States authorities in the interests of conservation.

Another problem is the desire of white men working in the Arctic, especially Americans, to take home a polar bear skin. Several years ago an Eskimo could sell a bear's skin for between $12 and $15 but today he is able to get, anywhere from $50 to $200.

Wildlife officials say this has given added incentive to the Eskimo.

If studies show that an excessive number of bears are being killed, steps will be taken by the wildlife service to reduce the annual kill.

EXPORT BAN

Two alternatives are being considered. One would be prohibiting the export of the product of the export of skins from the Northwest Territories—the other would be the establishment of sanctuaries where large numbers of bears known to frequent.

Wildlife officials say a ban on the export of polar bear products would not create any real hardship for the Eskimos. They would still be able to take bear for their own use.

It must always be remembered that in their present economy based on hunting and trapping the meat of the polar bear is of more importance to the Eskimo than the money they might receive from the sale of skins," one official said.

MONTREAL (CP) — Football breaks down to a numerical mumbo-jumbo for Perry Moss, new coach and general manager of Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four.

To the final analysis, it's only the figures on the scoreboard that count. But, with the calculating approach of a business accountant, the 37-year-old Moss employs mathematics to grade his players.

Films of the team in action give Moss and a three-man staff a rundown on each player's performance.

The system works this way:

Five points are awarded a player who carries out an assignment perfectly—a key block, a good run by a ball-carrier or a sharp tackle, for example.

A failure is assessed downward according to degree—four points, three and so on. For a good such as a missed tackle or block there's a fat zero.

BONUS CLAUSE

But a player who comes up with the spectacular—a brilliant pass interception, a clutch recovery of a fumble or the like—gets a bonus, 10 points.

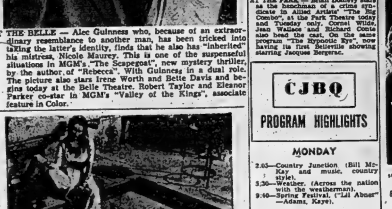
"A team whose players average three points or more is any given ball game is almost a sure winner," Moss says.

While four men it takes up to seven hours to go through a 150-play film of a football game, scoring and revealing the real to determine the effectiveness of each player in each scrimmage.

But Moss considers the projection time well spent.

Since joining the Alouettes from Florida State University last winter, the coach and his staff have projected 14 of Montreal's scheduled 1960 games and the unsuccessful playoff opponent, Regina Ottawa Rough Riders.

His statistics, he said, bear out the club's third-place performance. There were over two regulars who averaged more than three points for the year—honored defensive halfback Eddie Learn and import tackle Bill Dibiase.



From the figures Moss says he has gleaned a good distribution of each unit's value to the team as a supplement to visual appraisal. Football fans no doubt will debate the pros and cons of the system, pro and grind the vast amount of time consumed by computations and charting.

But for Montreal's front office the charts undoubtedly could prove a boon when contract-talking time rolls around.

Tuesday, May 10, 1960

General Tendencies: Now you have a day when it is necessary that you be as wise as the serpent and as harmless as the Dove if you are to avoid possible accusations and upsets that can have long-time detrimental conditions associated with them. Be sure you do give that calm, soft answer that turns away wrath. Otherwise much of the security you have so carefully built up can be shattered.

Aries (March 21 to April 19): Do not gamble in any way with securities or promises made today. Radical changes where monetary affairs are concerned, a show of jealousy or anger or contempt for others could bring dire results. P.M. be kind to loved one.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20): It would be the height of wisdom to carry through with promises to all and sundry, particularly partners, in business or private life. Also, act and think most kindly of everyone. Don't take chances with reputation.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21): Exercise extreme caution in motion now or you can have a good deal of irreparable damage. During the latter part of the day there is also the danger of harming health, or a loved worker. Especial care saves the day.

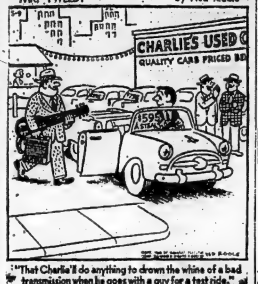
Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) You are sorely tempted to leave established position alone and run off to what is unknown and untried, simply because you are tired or vexed. Remain steadfast. Go out instead and have a little fun immediately. Relax.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you do not control that temper today, a difficult situation at home or at place of business can become almost disastrous. Do not expect more of others than they are capable of giving. P.M. be kind to closest of kin. Smile

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) Care on the road will save much time and pain today. You can then carry through with those constructive plans you have been working on. You take care you do not irk others to the point of a fight. Keep calm, collected.

Libra (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) You are very apt to invest unwisely today or lose your holdings through carelessness. Get more wits about you. P.M. set up a better budget. Improve health conditions through treatments.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) The slightest careless conversation can bring about a furious argument if you are not on guard. It is therefore important to maintain a calm and kindly attitude from morn till night. Drive your car most carefully, too.



Sagittarius (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) This is one of those days when every kind of unexpected event occurs to ruffle your usual calm manner and disturb your equilibrium. Be patient. Read the Good Book or great philosophers. Restore peace of soul.

Capricorn (Dec. 23 to Jan. 20) It is futile to depend upon the assistance or good graces of pals or associates today. Each has troubles of labors of his own. Don't let this hurt you. Be understanding and forgiving. Labor constructively.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Although you give duties may be boring today, see that you perform them carefully and establish your position in the community or with those in first power. Keep your promises are paid. Have a high credit rating

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) Refrain from making the radical changes you are contemplating or you lose valuable position and friendships of long standing. Remain steadfast and you win out and know true happiness for a long time to come.

If your child is born today . . . fit, or she will inherit great brilliance of mind, but will early require proper training in the spiritual and ethical values in order to use God's gifts properly. Otherwise there is a possibility that through some unpleasant influence efforts will be directed along the wrong channels. A very fine chart for politics, philosophy, writing, police work — any of the master professions, whether the child is male or female.

The Corporation of
The City of Belleville
By-Law No. 6981

A by-law for regulating the sale of fireworks in the municipal corporation of the City of Belleville.

WHEREAS it is deemed desirable by the Council of the Corporation of the City of Belleville to regulate the sale of fireworks by prohibiting the sale to persons under the age of 16 years except in the Municipal Market Square on the 24th day of May;

NOW THEREFORE, COUNCIL OF THE CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE ENACTS AS FOLLOWS:

1. For the purposes of this By-law, the following definitions shall apply:

"CHILD" means any person who is not at the time of sale, 16 years of age or more;

"FIREWORKS" means and includes pyrotechnic gunpowder explosives or other explosive devices of any sort of different kinds when set on fire;

"SALE" and "SELL"—include exchange, barter and traffic and also includes selling, supplying or distributing by any means whatsoever.

2. No person, firm or corporation in the City of Belleville shall sell to minors or have defined fireworks on any day or days during the year.

3. Any person, firm or corporation convicted of a breach of any of the provisions of this By-law shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars (exclusive of costs) for each offence, and in default of payment of the penalty and costs shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two months, unless the penalty and costs are sooner paid.

4. This By-law shall come into force and take effect on the 24th day of May, 1960.

READ A FIRST, SECOND AND THIRD TIME AND FINALLY PASSED IN OPEN COUNCIL this 9th day of May, 1960.

Signed:
FRED CHEEP.

HIT-RUN DETECTION PLAN

TORONTO (CP)—A scheme to cut down the number of hit-and-run drivers was advocated by Mayor Nathan Phillips in his weekly radio report to Toronto voters. Under the scheme, policemen called to an accident would make a check of the windshields of each cars in-volved. Service stations would have to report all damaged cars without stickers.

WILL USE SPY

view that in the face of a tickle situation, it's best for Congress to keep quiet.

Officials familiar with diplomatic history and precedent said they could recall no instance in the past in which a great power frankly acknowledged an espionage operation against another under such circumstances.

They said the rules of the game call for covering up or disowning any incident of espionage even when the other side has evidence to the contrary.

A statement cleared by Eisenhower and released by the state department Saturday night in effect conceded the accuracy of much of Premier Khrushchev's charge that the plane shot down by Russia was on a spy mission.

Two motives

What motivated Eisenhower and Herter to act as they did in this case has not been officially explained. But diplomatic informants said that two reasons stood out. One was because among top officials here Saturday.

One was that the failure of the mission and the capture of pilot Francis Gary Powers and the public use made of the incident by Khrushchev last Thursday and Friday had created tension between Washington and Moscow which threatened to wreck the summit conference. In the circumstances it was decided, according to the informants, to admit the essential accuracy of Khrushchev's charge but without confirming the detail of his case.

The other motivation assigned to the decision was to seize upon the affair to dramatize before the world the danger which the U.S. government sees in the Soviet policy of concealment.

Anne Wheaton, associate White House press secretary, said the Times report "is not true" and the president has issued no such order.

The U.S. statement also admitted that intelligence flights have been made by the same kind of jets "along the frontiers of the Soviet Union" in recent years.

The state department announcement said the aircraft making the flights on such peaceful civilian U-2 plane, a single engine jet which operates at very high altitudes.

The key sentence in the U.S. statement, however, was Eisenhower's charge that the aircraft was on a special mission, and was shot down by a Soviet missile while on this.

It appears that in endeavoring to obtain information now concealed behind the Iron Curtain a flight over Soviet territory was probably undertaken by an unarmed U-2 plane.

The word "probably" was used because it was learned from officials who drafted the statement that it would be in a position of confirming every detail of Khrushchev's lengthy account of how the aircraft was shot down.

Officials declined to say whether any protest would be made to the Soviet government for the admitted violation of Russian air space.

Some said that since Khrushchev had decided to wreck the summit in public statements before the Soviet Parliament, so as to gain maximum propaganda advantage against the U.S. a public statement might be all that was necessary from Washington.

The same authorities predicted, however, that the U.S. would intervene on behalf of the pilot.

The report of the statement was that he made the flights on orders from superiors in Washington. It did not indicate who such authorities might be. It left the impression that there would be further investigation and perhaps some further action in the matter.

RUSSIAN PEOPLE

cloud of dust rising from a nearby field and a parachute coming down.

"We rushed over to him with our guns brought in mind to help him," Surin said. As they helped remove his gloves, helmet and oxygen mask, they noticed the pilot was carrying a pistol.

"Then we couldn't think we say an enemy in front of us," Surin joked. "It just wouldn't fit our Holiday mood."

Surin kept the pilot to a car to drive to the state farm office and, as the farmers sitting him, saw a knife in his right pocket and removed it.

"We surrounded him just in case," Surin said. "What if he tried to do something to himself? We were scared. One could see it in him. What if all this was misunderstanding?

"The parachute jumper was not frightened. One could see he was well-schooled. He didn't say a word.

"He pretended he did not understand Russian, but when farm director Mikhail N. Berman said, 'No smoking here,' he immediately pushed an ashtray away. Our farmers were sure and more confirmed."

Khrushchev has indicated that Powers will be tried and said he might hold a press conference on the case. U.S. Embassy officials said so far Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson had not tried to see Powers. It is probably the first time in his 37 years in diplomacy that Thompson has been denied the possibility of interceding on behalf of an admitted spy.

Powers, a former U.S. Air Force lieutenant from Pound, Va., became a test pilot for the hard Aircraft Company in 1956, the U-2 jet, which was based in Adana, Turkey, was one of a fleet ostensibly used in weather research by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Powers said he thought he was an agent of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

The Soviet premier charged that Powers was crossing the Soviet Union, Peshawar, Pakistan, to Bodo, Norway, to photograph Soviet military and industrial installations.

The U.S. state department admitted he was on an intelligence flight but said the flight had not been authorized by Washington.

AIRMENS' CARS DUMPED — A number of cars belonging to RCAF personnel at nearby Uplands station ended up at the bottom of a ditch after being towed away from the station parking lot for lack of licences. One airman car-owner has initiated legal proceedings against the unidentified officer, Group Captain C. H. Mussella. (CP Photo).

Point Anne

POINT ANNE — Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bradshaw spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rippy, at Bath.

Mr. and Mrs. Daley Cummings spent the weekend at their cottage at the Maxinaw. Mr. Cumming's sister, Mrs. Levi Meeks of Northbrook, is a patient in the Belleville Hospital. Her many friends here, wish her a speedy recovery.

The many friends here of Mrs. Earl Brown and family extend to her their deepest sympathy in the death of a husband, a father and grandfather, Mr. Earl Brown who passed away suddenly at his home on the Front Road, on Monday morning.

Sympathy is also extended to Mr. Wellie Akey, Mr. Percy Akey, of Carrollton, and families in the death of their brother-in-law, Mr. Everett Sine, who passed away on Wednesday morning at Belleville at the nursing home.

Congratulations to the proud parents on the arrival, of their babies: to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lloyd, a daughter; to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clark, a daughter; to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cummings, a daughter, and to Mr. and Mrs. Gary MacDonald, a son. All the babies were born in the Belleville General Hospital recently, many varieties of sandwiches, cakes, cheese and tea.

Those serving were: Mrs. Ralph Sedore, Mrs. Ronald Sedore, Mrs. K. Preston, Mrs. F. Devean and Mrs. M. Y. Fisch. A most pleasant evening was enjoyed by all present.

RED PILOTS AID CASTRO

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Cuban who fled his country when Premier Fidel Castro came to power last Friday that Chinese Communist pilots and Chilean pilots have joined Castro's air force. The statement was made to the United States Senate internal security subcommittee by Col. Manuel Ugalde, former military intelligence chief under ousted Cuban president Fulgencio Batista.

NEED INDIVIDUALITY

Gilead

GILEAD — Divine service at St. Andrew's Gilead was held on Sunday morning at 9.45 with the Reverend James McCartney delivering an inspirational sermon. The Scripture reading was taken from Romans 12th chapter. Next service will be held at 9.45 a.m. on May 15th, when the observance of Mother's Day and baptismal service will be held. A special invitation is extended to any who wish to join in this service.

A record attendance at Sunday School on Sunday morning following the church service, was greatly appreciated by the officials of the Sunday School who hope this will continue. "Our children will be the citizens of our nation in the future let us give them all the help we can".

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ross and family spent the dinner hour on Sunday last with Mr. and Mrs. Carman Huffman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jeffs, Mrs. Frank Easton and Mrs. Mabel Treverton, were guests on Sunday last of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Treverton.

Mrs. M. Treverton has just returned from spending several months touring southern U.S.A.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Huffman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yorke were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Yorke and Mr. Everett Yorke near Chatham.

Mr. and Mrs. Carman Huffman and family spent the Sunday at dinner hour at the Swan home.

Mr. Leonard Baines has been confined to his home with the flu. All hope he will soon be around again.

Mr. and Mrs. George Chase and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Edison Sine and family.

Mrs. O. Swan and Bruce attended the social evening at Harmony Club, Marsh Hill on Friday evening.

The members of the Gilead Friendship Guild spent an enjoyable evening on Friday as guests of Carmel Comrade Club, at Carmel Hall.

Mrs. Fred Yorke was hostess for Gilead W.A. meeting on Wednesday afternoon with an average attendance. The usual business was dispersed with by the president. Invitations to various appointments were recognized and delegations appointed to attend the W.A. annual at Tweed on May 26th.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Wilfred Badgley and family in the death of her sister, Mrs. Carman Frost who passed away suddenly on Sunday morning.

Mrs. J. O. Huffman is visiting her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Dalrymple at Bowmanville.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Dalrymple on the birth of their daughter.

SHARK HUNTERS

KIRKWALL, Orkney Isles (CP) A Norwegian vessel has arrived in this northern seaport for a three-week stay. The crew hopes to catch the small sharks that are numerous in nearby waters.

Marmora

MARMORA — Mrs. George Hill, of Madoc, returned home on Tuesday following a few days' visit with Miss Grace Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Riordon and family, of Madoc, visited her parents, here, on Wednesday afternoon.

The W.J. card party held in the Memorial Hall on Thursday night was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swanson of Winona, spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Johnston.

Mrs. J. Coens is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough.

Mrs. George Empey received word on Thursday of the sudden death of her father, Mr. Jas. Dease, of Peterborough. Mr. Dease visited his daughter here on Sunday when he appeared in good health.

Decide To Make Front, Pinnacle One-Way Streets

Council Approves Plan, Effective This Summer

One-way traffic will go into effect in downtown Belleville this summer in an effort to alleviate traffic congestion and bottlenecks in the business section of the city.

This was decided by city council Monday evening when members voted to make Front and Pinnacle Streets, one way traffic streets. Traffic would proceed south on Front Street and north on Pinnacle.

Effective date of the new one-way traffic system will be delayed until the proper signs have been installed, but it is hoped the one-way traffic will start some time in July after which the necessary publicity has been given to the scheme.

Alderman Robert Temple, chairman of the city council traffic committee, introduced the motion for one-way traffic in downtown Belleville, noting that a great deal of work had gone into planning during recent months.

He said one-way traffic had the support of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce and had also been approved by a majority of the city council traffic committee.

WILL CUT BOTTLENECKS

"One way traffic will increase the traffic flow and will reduce bottlenecks, principally at Pinnacle and Bridge Streets where traffic now piles up during rush periods," he said.

Under the scheme Bridge St. East, Victoria Avenue and Station Street would remain two-way traffic streets, while Campbell, Dundas, Market and McAnanny Sts., between the two main arterials, would be one-way streets.

Only objector to the one-way traffic scheme was Alderman Ben Corbett who said he did not feel the city needed one-way traffic. He felt such a scheme would call for an overall city traffic survey.

Alderman John Barlow wanted to know whether the scheme was part of an integrated city-wide traffic plan and whether the scheme, if put into effect, would merely result in bottlenecks elsewhere.

But Alderman Wilcox Temple said it was not felt other traffic bottlenecks would develop as a result of the proposed scheme, while Acting Mayor Lorne McInnis said he felt sure the public that it would not interfere with any overall traffic plan which might be developed in the future.

APPROVED BY POLICE

He noted, also, that the one-way traffic scheme had the approval of the chief of police commission.

Both Alderman Eugene Harrison and Alderman William Jarvah spoke briefly in favor of the traffic, with the latter councillor suggesting that at the same time consideration

Commonwealth Ministers Shelve African Issue

LONDON (Reuters)—The Commonwealth prime ministers turned their attention today to next week's summit conference, shelving at least temporarily the explosive issue of South Africa's racial policies.

Prime Minister Macmillan was expected to inform his 10 colleagues of the contents of a letter from Nikita Khrushchev delivered to him Monday. Handed over by Soviet Ambassador A. A. Soldatov, it was understood to deal with the summit meeting opening in Paris Monday.

The conference also was scheduled to continue discussions of constitutional develop m e n t s in the Commonwealth — Monday it unanimously decided to admit the West African colony of Nigeria when it becomes independent Oct. 1.

The conference reached a stalemate in a bid to work out a understanding over South African race policies. And the Ghana government announced it has withdrawn an invitation for South Africa's External Affairs Minister Eric Louw to visit the West African state.

U.S. Atom Sub Circles World Beneath Surface

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. atomic - p o w e r e d submarine Triton has gone around the world without surfacing.

The 7,750-ton submersible, designed as a radar warning ship, was headed for her home port of New London, Conn., today after completing a historic voyage.

The Triton, built at a cost of $108,500,000 and commanded by Capt. Edward L. (Ned) Beach, former naval aide to President Eisenhower, thus had added a new first to the long-range submerged water exploits of the navy's growing fleet of nuclear-powered submarines.

She is presumably the world's first ship to be powered by dual nuclear reactors.

Russia Makes Formal Protest

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia today formally protested to the United States over the intrusion of an American plane on Soviet territory.

It also was disclosed that in return the United States has formally requested an interview with pilot Francis Powers, whom Premier Khrushchev has said is alive and well in Moscow. Powers was brought to Moscow after being shot down near Sverdlovsk on May Day.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: — The storm centre that has been pivoting around the Great Lakes for the last few days and causing cool wet weather across the province is still with us today. It is situated in Southern Lake Huron this morning and rain is falling over western and northern areas. Light snow was mixed with the rain in Southern Michigan and at Windsor during the night. The disturbance is drifting eastward and wet weather will continue today. With continued eastward motion, gradual improvement is expected Wednesday.

Spying Is Surprise Attack Defence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has acknowledged sending spy planes inside Russia occasionally as part of "extensive general surveillance" designed to protect the free world from surprise attack.

State Secretary Christian Herter reported the practice Monday after briefing congressional leaders on developments since the Russians announced shooting down of a U.S. plane deep in Russian territory May 1.

"The United States has not and does not shirk this responsibility," Herter said, leaving the implication unchallenged by the state department — that such flights might be continued until the summit meeting.

Washington now awaits an official Soviet response to its note of last Friday asking for full facts from the Russian inquiry into the incident.

Then the U.S. Embassy in Moscow is expected to follow up by asking to see Francis G. Powers, the downed American pilot.

U.S. officials watched to see whether the Soviet leader would try to stir the incident to a crescendo—perhaps by a spectacular show such as a press conference with Powers or a public trial —and thus heighten tension to the point of wiping away chances for success at the summit parley.

Herter said the reason for the U.S. flights—though they clearly violate international law—is the menace of surprise attack from Russia, in a statement issued by the state department, he said:

"The government of the United States would be derelict to its responsibility not only to the American people but to free peoples everywhere if it did not, in the absence of Soviet co-operation, take such measures as are practicable unilaterally to lessen and to overcome this danger of surprise attack.

"In fact the United States has not and does not shirk this responsibility."

TIMMINS FLOOD THREAT SLOWED BY LOW TEMPS

700 Evacuated From Stricken Area

TIMMINS (CP)—Freezing temperatures slowed the rise of the swollen Matagami River today and spurred hopes that a critical flooding situation in suburban Mountjoy Township has passed its peak.

But emergency crews remained on a constant alert in Timmins where nearly 700 persons were evacuated from homes Monday, many of them by boats along streets swirling with up to six feet of icy, dirty river water.

The Ontario Hydro - Electric Power Commission reported its key dam at Wawaitin Falls, 22 miles upstream, was holding its level. The dam backed up an impressive 37-mile-long reservoir in Smoogamissi Lake, and its rupture could spell a major disaster in this area.

At 10 a.m. today Councillor Charles Budd of Mountjoy said the river had risen less than two inches in the last six hours, a slowdown from its 6-inch-an-hour rate of Monday and late Monday night.

The river was seven feet above normal at midnight, breaking the mark set in 1917 before many of Mountjoy's present re s i d e n t s were even established.

Timmins itself, situated on a hill sloping towards the Matagami, was in no danger except for a small section of Commercial Street.

Doctors Urged to Back Pre-Paid Plans to Block State Medicine

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario doctors were urged Monday to support a program of pre-paid medical care as a means of self-defence against state medicine.

Dr. E. Kirk Lyon, deputy to the Duke of Edinburgh, president of the Canadian Medical Association, told the annual meeting of the Ontario Medical Association the shadow of state medicine has swept across the "medical sunset dial" to the west.

He suggested, however, that the medical profession should not dig in its heels but should be prepared to stand ready to consider all proposals carefully designed to improve the health of the Canadian people."

He said he would like to believe the profession has not experienced direct intervention of government in the personal liberty of its members because it has always been willing to sit down and discuss medical economic problems.

Speaking on the first day of the association's five - day meeting, Dr. Lyon, of Leamington, said he believes the Golden Rule is the principle of pre-payment of medical care 10 years ago, coverage of the Canadian population has been to 48 per cent, or more than 8,200,000 persons.

While some might consider as socialistic socializing the increase in government health expenditures, improvements in health services have been the direct effected by co-operation between government and the profession, Dr. Lyon said.

"I believe that doctors put forth effort themselves and not leave everything to the government."

Dr. W. W. Baldwin, OMA president, said the 5,800-member association favors anything in the prove the standard of medical care. Its only concern was that somebody outside the profession would try to dictate how a doctor should treat his patient.

GREEN DECLARES U.S. SPY PLANES COULD START WAR

Liberals, CCF Join In Deploring Policy

OTTAWA (CP)—The destruction of an American reconnaissance plane over Russia May 1 roused deep anxiety in the Commons Monday, with External Affairs Minister Green declaring that such an incident could trigger a nuclear war.

Spokesmen for all three parties expressed concern. CCF speakers suggested Canada should protest against such U.S. spying missions.

Mr. Green said: "The Canadian government regards this as a very serious incident and we think it points up clearly the vital need for a disarmament agreement. If incidents of this kind are to go on, one of these days such an incident might trigger a nuclear war."

Mr. Green said such incidents would not occur if there were an adequate system of reciprocal aerial inspection between Russia and the West.

H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) termed the episode "stupid," "irresponsible" and a

Scores of People Have Been Accused of Cold War Spying

LONDON (Reuters)—Since the cold war began scores of persons have been accused of spying on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

Less than two months ago Communist China jailed Canadian Bishop James Walsh, 68, for 20 years as a spy.

A Russian colonel, Rudolf Abel, was sentenced to 30 years for conspiring to steal American military secrets in New York in 1957. William Oatis, an American Associated Press correspondent in Prague, was convicted in 1951 of spying for the United States. He was pardoned and released in 1953 after serving 25 months.

In Canberra in April, 1954, Vladimir Petrov, a head of the Soviet secret police in Australia, was granted political asylum and brought documents detailing two spy rings which operated in the country a t t h e height of the cloak of the Soviet Embassy.

The Petrov case parallels that of Igor Gouzenko, cipher clerk in the Russian Embassy in Ottawa, who sought Canadian asylum in 1946 with information that led to the uncovering of a Soviet spy ring in Canada.

Eastern European countries such as Poland, Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary have many times reported the capture and sentencing of persons spying for the West, particularly the United States and Britain.

In August, 1953, Hungary "paralyzed and expelled" Edgar Sanders, 43-year-old Russian - born

Says Low Railway Revenues No Excuse for Pay Hike 'No'

MONTREAL (CP) — Union spokesman Frank H. Hall was expected to tell a board of conciliation today that $85,000,000 in wage increases for almost 120,000 non-operating railway employees today during his second day before a three-man conciliation board.

The veteran negotiator, when unhurried, carefully - inflected voice has been heard by many conciliation boards during his 13 years as chairman of the joint negotiating committee set up by the 15 unions which represent the non-ops, worked his way through a major part of his defence of the durable-goods standard of setting wages Monday.

Today, after completing the dowed American pilot.

U.S. officials watched to see whether the Soviet leader would try to stir the incident to a crescendo—perhaps by a spectacular show such as a press conference with Powers or a public trial —and thus heighten tension to the point of wiping away chances for success at the summit parley.

Lands Leasing Airports To U.S. Warned By Mr. K

U.S. Sees Him Embarke On Diplomatic Offensiv

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States said today it would uphold its defence commitments to its allies if Russia should strike at their bases.

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev has warned that Soviet rockets will shoot down any three spy planes that venture over Russian soil, and that his government will take "appropriate countermeasures."

The Soviet leader also warns that Soviet rockets will be aimed at bases in any foreign countries that allow American planes to take off on spy missions over Russia.

If intelligence missions are continued over Soviet soil, the premier said in a speech Monday night at a Czechoslovak Embassy reception, "we shall bring down the aircraft . . . We have shot down."

"If such flights are repeated we shall take appropriate counter-measures."

Khrushchev lshued a general caution against use of foreign bases for espionage. After his speech he called over Norwegian and Pakistani diplomats and told them that if the United States continues using bases in their countries for operations against the Soviet Union, "we will have to aim our rockets at your bases."

Khrushchev told the Soviet parliament last week that American pilot Francis G. Powers, shot down, had been captured May 1 at Sverdlovsk while on a spying flight, had taken off from Peshawar, Pakistan, and was heading for Bodo, Norway.

The U.S. at first said the plane was based in Turkey. Both Pakistan and Norway have denied any knowledge of Powers' flight.

"We assess such actions as provocative," Khrushchev said in his speech. "We tell the government of those countries, if you leased your territory to others and are not the masters of your land, of your country, we shall have to us treated it in our way.

WILL FIND RANGE

"Those who lease your territory to others must know that we will find a range to strike at those remote targets, we shall find the means to strike at them and will draw the appropriate conclusions."

Amid his taunts and warnings, the premier also sounded a conciliatory note.

"Our strength is being tested. Therefore let us not draw conclusions aggravating relations between countries, such conclusions

Three Days' Continuous Rainfall Unleashes Flood Threats in Ont

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Three days of nearly continuous rainfall in Ontario have unleashed a flood in the Timmins area and created minor flooding elsewhere.

With more rain predicted today, the Timmins area — where nearly 700 persons have been evacuated from suburban Mountjoy Township—remained threatened by the rising Mattagami River.

Ontario Planning and Development Minister Nickle said Monday night the flooding had created a serious danger in the northeastern section of the province where five inches of rain had fallen.

"We are in constant communication with the municipalities and in the event they have to call upon the province for help, it will be said.

At Pembroke the Ottawa River has reached its highest level in 10 years and was still rising Monday night.

Officials at the Ydro dam at the Des Joachims dam site, 64 miles west of Pembroke, said heavy rains and high winds have raised the water beyond the control of the dam.

Summer cottages are submerged in their windows and mile east of Pembroke and other cottages are threatened further down river.

More than a foot of water has risen over Highway 64 east of Kirkland Lake and road boundaries are marked with yellow stakes to guide traffic.

Many small rivers are swollen in the Metropolitan Toronto area which has received more than three inches of rain, but no serious flooding is expected as interior drainage is good.

Sections of highways are flooded in the Port Hope, North Bay, Sault Ste. Marie, Sudbury, New Liskeard and Cochrane areas.

Creeks have poured water into the streets in the Barrie area and at Orillia, Lake Simcoe was reported at it highest level in years, flooding some roads.

Agriculture experts have warned the rains could reduce crop yields by delaying seeding.

A general light rain is expected to continue through the southwestern and northeastern sections of the province today, with local rain fronts towards the northeast.

Sudden Twister Rips Roof off Kaladar House

A miniature twister which struck in a localized area north of Kaladar late yesterday afternoon ripped part of the roof off the home of a Kaladar district family.

The twister struck shortly after four o'clock, ripping shingles from the house, knocking the chimney down and ripping the roof off the back of the house.

The house was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Lobb, who live about one and a quarter miles north of Kaladar on No. 41 highway. No one was injured.

Telephone communication in the area was put out of commission temporarily with repair crews from Tweed being called in to repair the damage.

Provincial police at Kaladar said the Lobb house was the only one damaged as result of the sudden twister which apparently struck only in the one area.

Mr. and Mrs. Lobb, their daughter Iva, her child Donna and Donny Loucks, 32, brother of Mrs. Lobb, were in the house when the roof and furniture was blown away.

A large pine tree and two hydro poles were snapped and an outbuilding was buried 180 feet.

Sidney Holds Liquor Vote On Wednesday

For the first time in six years, residents of the township of Sidney will go to the polls on Wednesday, May 11th, to vote on whether they approve of the sale of liquor with meals in licensed dining lounges.

Six years ago — on April 21st, 1954 — Sidney residents voted on the same question as well as on sale of liquor in lounges without meals. The question at that time was turned down with the "yes" polling approximately 47 per cent of the vote. A three per cent vote is required to carry a liquor question.

Returning Officer J. B. Harder notes there is a total of 5355 voters in the list compiled to vote on Wednesday's question. There are 12 polling places with a total of 17 polls. Representatives of National Defence members entitled to vote will vote at the South RCAF Station and at Middleton Park. Voting hours are from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. (Standard Time), or from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m. Daylight Saving Time.

A very light vote has been reported at the Advance Poll.

Warrant Issued In Driving Case

Magistrate T. Y. Wills has issued a warrant for the arrest of Raymond Boudreau of Toronto who failed to appear today in city police court on a charge of careless driving.

Boudreau was charged following an accident April 18 in which 10-year-old Robert Drummond, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Drummond, 122 Foster Ave., was struck by a motorcycle on Dundas St., East.

Council Takes First Steps Towards the Construction Of Sewage Disposal Plant

First official steps toward the construction of a sewage disposal plant to cost an estimated four and a half million dollars for the Bleecker Park area and connecting trunk sewers, was taken by Belleville city council yesterday afternoon when it gave its readings to a by-law authorizing the city to enter into an agreement with the Ontario Water Resources Commission to prepare plans and called tenders for the construction of the proposed sewage disposal plant, together with trunk sewers.

A prior motion to prepare the by-law was tabled by Alderman Jack Ellis as chairman of public works. Alderman Ellis noted the city had no choice but to proceed with the sewage plant facilities construction had been made mandatory by the Water Resources Commission.

Under the proposal the Commission would construct the plant and operate it, charging the costs back to the city by fixed agreement by debenture issues.

The complete sewage disposal plant and trunk sewers would be built in stages which would coincide with the construction progressed.

Acting Mayor Lorne McDougall said the present construction of the sewage disposal plant

City Council
Will Hold Special Meeting To Consider Audit Report

Belleville city council will hold a special meeting Wednesday evening to consider the auditor's report of city's financial position in 1959.

The report was "received" at yesterday's regular meeting of council, but members felt they should have opportunity of reading the report before it was finally approved.

The meeting, at eight after considering the report on their own, then will have the report voted on them by the city auditor, following which they will have the opportunity of asking questions of any matters which they do not understand.

Decision to hold a special meeting to consider the auditor's report came after a series of motions and counter motions, one of which called for the report to be formally received and adopted with counsellor later being given the opportunity of going over the report with the auditor.

Alderman Robert Temple said he wanted time to read the report before he would vote for adoption.

"I only received a copy of the report this morning and I would rather wait some days and then hold a special meeting," he said.

Alderman Walter Elliott noted there were a number of suggestions by the auditor in the report which "deserve" the time of time to clear up and said it may take even more than one meeting to complete the matter.

But Alderman Ross Bailey said he should at least "not be caught," he said.

Acting Mayor Lorne McDougall, chairman of the Public Utilities Board was waiting for council's adoption of the report before a decision could be handed down on the city's application for authority to issue debentures to pay off the city's floating indebtedness.

"Why all the interest?" asked Alderman Ben Corke, "It seems funny that a council which has not looked at an auditor's report in five years suddenly wants to spend hours on it."

but wondered if the city was not proceeding just a little too fast.

He also wanted to know if issuing of the debentures for the sewage disposal plant connecting sewers (Cliquot) and the Ontario Municipal Board.

If so, he said, this could create a hardship for the city.

In reply Alderman Ellis re-iterated that the city had no choice but to proceed with the sewage disposal facilities construction.

He promised, however, that he would have the answer to Acting Mayor McDougall's question by the next council session meeting.

The by-law to enter into an agreement with the Water Resources Commission was given first reading, however, that the city would not proceed with the actual construction of the sewage disposal plant until some of the sewage disposal debentures were sold.

Canadian Navy Best Anti-Sub Fleet in World

"Today the Royal Canadian Navy is equipped with the latest and most modern of anti-submarine escort ships in the free world," Lt. J. T. Holland, RCN told local members at their annual dinner meeting yesterday afternoon. Commenting on the current position and function of the RCN today, the first officer of HMCS Catarqui, Kingston, said that Canada had developed the finest and most efficient hunter-killer anti-submarine navy in the free world today.

The University of Toronto alumnus who has been with the RCN since 1950, said that any of Canada's new destroyer-escort ships, equipped with the finest anti-submarine detection equipment available, could sink our and destroy a submarine within a five area of operation in eight out of ten instances. Lt. Holland also said that the Canadian Navy is highly efficient in other aspects as well, stating that 40 per cent of all bravery acts at sea, this percentage being the highest during peacetime, the navy has ever accomplished.

A brief history of the RCN was given by the first officer on the occasion of the observance of Battle of the Atlantic and the Golden Jubilee of the RCN. He noted that the RCN had changed from 1910, when $35 million would purchase three battleships weighing about 15,000 tons each, to a similar amount will purchase 13 destroyer - escort ships weighing some 4,000 tons and carrying a crew of approximately 70 to 400 men.

Lt. Holland also spoke on the unique position held by the Canadian shipbuilding industry which could be employed in the future as ports for the modern destroyer-escort ships to be carried in the hulls of aircraft and shipped by rail to any convenient assembly area, the latter requiring large shipyards to handle the task. Canada has already built and been learned during the last war, when Canada maintained the third largest Allied Navy.

FORMER SEA CADET

The former head of the Search and Seizure Section of HMCS "Shearwater" (Naval Air Station, Dartmouth) also explained the fine work which the Sea Cadet Corps throughout Canada is doing. A former Sea Cadet himself, as well as being a former Commanding Officer of RCSCC Ark Royal, Lt. Holland pointed out that there were some 10,000 Sea Cadets across Canada with 46 Corps in Ontario, all of which were supported by the citizens within the communities concerned. The RCN, he said, helps out to a degree by providing instructors for the Sea Cadets and paying the officers of each corps, together with the cost of the annual summer camps on both the east and west coasts for Sea Cadets.

Lt. Holland said that the youth problem in towns where Sea Cadet Corps were located was practically non-existent by their presence and activities. He suggested that the navy league would do well to support the work which these corps were doing.

The speaker was introduced by Ted Jones, who also introduced Lt. J. G. Donovan, RCSC, commanding officer of the local Sea Cadet Corps, RCSCC "Quinte." Bob Lanning thanked the speaker on behalf of members of the Sea Cadets have already been arranged for by Manor committee.

Finally a motion to receive the audit report only was tabled by Alderman Ellis and a motion to hold a special meeting Wednesday evening for consideration of the report in detail.

BCIVS Cadets Annual Inspection Slated for Bridge St. Armouries

In a new departure the Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School cadet corps will hold the annual inspection indoors this year.

Usually held on the campus or the Fair Grounds, the inspection takes place in the Bridge street armouries tomorrow night starting at 7.30.

The "indoors" inspection is designed to give those parents of cadets the opportunity to watch the corps stage its annual parade which otherwise would be unable to attend.

Also for the first time, cadet training this year has been of a voluntary nature. In former years it was compulsory for grades 9 and 10 to take the training.

While the corps lacks in quantity this year, will be made up in quality, according to school officials. They anticipate one of the smartest corps in years to go on parade.

Besides the usual inspection marching tactics there will be special demonstrations by the school band under Sergeant Bruce Miller, RCAF, Trenton; and in map using, signals, training in transmitting and self-shooting.

Lieut. Col. Angus B. Duffy, CD, commanding officer of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment will inspect the corps. Captain F. Evans, Eastern Area commander of cadet affairs will do the marking.

The color party of the corps has been under the instruction of WO 2 J. Bennett, while the corps' chief instructor has been Mr. Stan Barbour of school teaching staff.

Commanding officer of the corps is Cadet Lieut. Col. Gordon Carey. Second in command is Cadet Major Colin Box and the Adjutant Captain Richard Flindall.

The general public is cordially invited to witness the inspection.

Vienna Mayor Sends Greetings To Belleville

The hope that personal expressions gained by visitors to the Belleville-Quinte area this week-end will contribute to a better understanding of the manner in which democracy has to face in Europe, has been expressed by Mayor Franz Jonas of Vienna in a recent letter to Mayor A. Mc-Dougall, Belleville.

The letter from Lord Mayor Franz Jonas of Vienna, was sent to Mayor Haig following the recent visit of Belleville's Deputy Mayor Orland Wagg to the twin city during which time he was the guest of Belleville in the Vienna Mayor.

The letter read in part:

"I was happy to receive in our town half Deputy Mayor Wilderman Wagg. He also brought over to me your kind letter together with the marvellous flag of the city of Belleville. Many hearty thanks for this nice souvenir, I highly appreciate it.

"We had a very interesting time. The impressions that his visit to the so-called East-Block countries made on him. I trust that the personal experience Mr. Deputy Mayor Wilderman has gained will enable to contribute to a better understanding of the problems which democracy has to face over here in Europe.

Reciprocating your personal good wishes and those of all members of the council of the city of Belleville, I join you in the hope that peace and happiness be maintained and prosperity and success continue to reign in your city."

Ralph G. Walsh, Deloro Manager, Dies Monday

Mr. Ralph Graham Walsh of 238 Bridge Street East died at the family residence on Monday evening, May 9th, following an illness of some seven months' duration. Mr. Walsh was general manager of both the Deloro and Belleville plants of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company Limited.

He came to this area in 1949 when he was appointed general manager and director of the Deloro Smelting & Refining Company and resided in Deloro until 1955, at which time he moved to Belleville when his firm expanded to establish the Deloro Refining plant here. He was well liked and highly respected by those working with him.

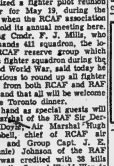
Mr. Walsh was also quite interested and active in community affairs. A graduate of Bridge Street United Church, he was a member of the official board. He was also a member of the Quinte Trap and Gun Club, the Quinte Curling Club, the Twenty-Second Club, the Belleville Rotary Club and the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

A graduate of the University of Saskatchewan in mechanical engineering, Mr. Walsh took a post-graduate course in mining engineering at the Michigan School of Mines. A member of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy for over 30 years, he also held a membership in the Professional Engineers of Ontario. Following his formal education and prior to his appointment to the Deloro Smelting Plant, Mr. Walsh was associated with Sisco Gold Mines Limited at Waterloo Lake, a firm of which he eventually became general manager.

He was born in Oshawa, Ont., the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walsh. He received his elementary and high school education in Oshawa and Toronto and served for six years as a prospector for the government of Manitoba before entering the University of Saskatchewan. He married Miss Gertrude Hamilton Chambers, a fellow student at university, who survives.

Besides his wife he is survived by one son, Graham Walsh at home; two daughters, Mrs. Ann Bell at her parents' home; a brother, Dr. Frank Walsh of Oshawa; a sister, Mrs. Ted Jones, Oshawa; and a sister, Mrs. W. G. (Marjory) Richard of Medway City, Ont.

Resting at the John R. Bush Funeral Home, Belleville. Funeral arrangements appear elsewhere in this edition.



Squadron Plans Fighter Pilot Reunion Dinner

TORONTO (CP) — Officers of the local RCAF squadron have organized a fighter pilot reunion dinner for May 19, during the week when the RCAF association will hold its annual meeting here.

Wing Cmdr. F. J. Mills, who commanded the wartime 401 Spitfire squadron, said the RCAF reserve group which was a fighter squadron during the Second World War is now a transport unit. Today it is anxious to round up all fighter pilots who served in the RAF squadrons and that all will be welcome at the Toronto dinner.

On hand as guests will be Marshal of the RAF Sir Dermot De Burgh Alexander Hugh Campbell, chief of RCAF; air staff; and Group Capt. J. E. (Johnnie) Johnson of the RAF who was credited with 38 kills during the Second World War to become top Allied air ace. He commanded a wing of RAF fighters in the war and now is at Imperial Defence College in Britain.

IN MEMORIAM

FRENCH. — In loving memory of a dear mother, Bertha Kate French, who passed away May 10th, 1957. We have only your memory, dear mother.
To remember those that pass away
Is all that we can do.
While on this earth we stay,
Gladly missed by daughter Lucinda and family.

JONES. — In loving memory of my dear father, William C. Jones, who passed away May 10th, 1959.
What we would give if we could say
Hello, Dad, in the same old way,
To hear your voice, see your smile,
To sit with you for a while,
To tell you how we have a father
Who is loved by all.
Heaven will never know the heartache
Till you see his vacant chair.
Sadly missed by daughter Loring daughter Lila, son-in-law Ed, and grandchildren Gerald, Wayne, Kenneth and Keith.

JONES. — In loving memory of my dear husband, William C. Jones, who passed away May 10th, 1959.
What could I give to clasp his hand
Or hear his voice once more,
To hear his voice and see his smile
As in the days of yore.
Sadly missed by his loving wife Ruth Jones.

JONES. — In loving memory of a dear father, William C. Jones, who passed away May 10th, 1959. We have only your memory, dear father.
To remember my whole life
Is all I can do.
But the sweetness will linger forever
As I treasure the image of you.
Lovingly remembered by his loving daughter Mavis Jones.

Technicians See Service Film

"Adding the Soil to Service" was the title of a film shown the local members by the Radio Technicians Guild of Belleville tarb by Mr. W. Choat, public relations director for Canadian Westinghouse at their regular meeting yesterday evening. A lively discussion followed the end of the film and many points regarding their work in radio were debated. Mr. Choat was assisted in the program by Mr. Dave Grey, district service manager for Canadian Westinghouse.

The first in a series of entertaining ways to ensure that members of the association are fully skilled to serve the public as regard to their profession is being held by the Quinte Chapter this Wednesday for a number of recent membership applicants. A number of current members of the chapter have also applied to write the examinations for the technical proficiency certificates which the association awards to successful examinees.

West's Farmers Oppose Curbs on Jap Imports

OTTAWA (CP)—A thick file of correspondence between officials of Prairie farm organizations and the federal ministers on the question of imports from Japan was tabled Monday in the Commons.

The file reflects the deep concern of the Prairie groups that any restriction on Japanese goods will have an adverse effect on Canada's exports of wheat to Japan.

In a letter to Prime Minister Diefenbaker Feb. 12, president W. J. Parker of Manitoba Pool Elevators asked for assurance that Japanese exports in 1960 would not be less than those permitted in 1959.

It was the farmers' "confirmed conviction" that domestic manufacturers, even of sensitive textiles, were adequately protected by tariff levels from which petition and ought not at the expense of our exports be afforded additional shelter."

Education Board Adviser Urges Booklet on Procedure

TRENTON — W. R. Stewart, the "adviser and counsellor" appointed by the department of education to attend all regular meetings of the Trenton Board of Education until the end of the year, when the present board will resign and a full new board will be elected, suggested to the board members at last night's meeting that rules and regulations concerning the proper procedure for conducting meetings, and outlining the "areas of responsibility" of the principal and the teaching staff, as well as those of the board members, be incorporated into a booklet form for the guidance of this board and future boards.

Mr. Stewart said that while a number of boards in the province have rules and regulations of their own, which cover points not necessarily covered by the various governmental acts governing such bodies. These rules and regulations may be revised or modified from year to year at the discretion of each elected board.

Mr. Stewart also suggested that a teacher-board relations committee be formed which would meet once a month or more often if necessary to discuss points of variance, and come to a mutually satisfactory agreement on subjects which might cause trouble if allowed to "fester."

He said that obviously there had been something amiss in staff-board relations or he would not have been called upon to attend meetings of the board. "What has been the trouble?" asked Mr. Stewart, "Is the principal not been carrying out the duties as outlined by the by-law governing secondary school boards and duties, or has he been over-stepping the mark? Has the board been at fault? This is specifically what I am interested in, it should have had confidence in him."

Mr. Stewart went on to say that "the principal and the board should meet together on the most intimate terms in order to operate the school properly for the sake of the students."

He said that it was not very likely that faults had been on one side or the other and that the past should be forgotten, and similar situations avoided in the future and that everyone should work together to get things running smoothly.

T. S. Ketcheson, chairman of the board of education, told Mr. Stewart that there was teacher-board committee, but that its meetings had possibly been infrequent and only when special problems warranted such action.

Board members Paul Tripp, Basil Brooks and Dr. T. A. McNally, who had been members of this committee were asked to remain members of the staff and form an active committee which would start in September to help regular meetings. "This will be a unique experiment," said Mr. Trenton, added Mr. Stewart.

There was a prolonged discussion as to the right of any school board to hold committee-of-the-whole meetings from which the press and public were barred.

Mr. Stewart said that naturally some of the board's business must be conducted in committee basis, and that any confidential matters could be ironed out in the committee and presented in the regular board meeting in a calm, reasonable manner.

Mr. Ketcheson said that if the board held committee meetings the minutes were accused by the press of holding "secret" meetings. He said that the board members were afraid to hold committee meetings because of "what might be in the paper."

Mr. Stewart said that "anyone" had a right to ask to see the board with a record of the minutes of the regular meetings.

"Anyone," asked F. J. Aziz, "You mean anyone could come in off the street and ask to see my minute book?"

"I'm afraid so," said Mr. Stewart. "But that's a good point. I suppose even Mr. Khrushchev could do so."

Hospital Report For April

TRENTON — Miss S. O. Moores, administrator of the Trenton Memorial Hospital, has filed her report for the month of April that the average daily population at the hospital was 84.7 (adults and children) and 13.9 newborn.

Admissions were 363 adults and children and 88 babies were born during the month. There was one stillbirth. Out patients numbered 405.

There were eight deaths during the month. Discharged were 365 adults and children and 85 babies were allowed to go home.

The major operation count was down a little from March, 19 operations having been performed and 102 minor operations being recorded.

In the Emergency and Out Patient Department, 129 emergencies were treated and 25 cases which would come under the heading of specialist.

In the X-ray department, 188 in-patients and 117 out-patients were X-rayed. 157 ministration chest films were taken and two elasthermy treatments given.

Thirty in-patients were given 1,000 rad Cobalt therapy treatment and 412 out-patients treated.

The laboratory was especially busy with 3,186 units being done in the hospital and 227 units sent to outside hospitals. Twenty basal metabolism tests were taken and 276 persons given electrocardiograph tests.

U.S. Dollar Climbs

MONTREAL (CP)—The United States dollar closed Monday in Montreal at a discount of 2 15-16 per cent in terms of Canadian funds—the lowest discount level since March, 1956.

This means the U.S. dollar is worth 97 1-16 cents in Canadian currency and the newsprint industry reacted immediately.

Resignation Letters Voice Praise of Board

TRENTON — Members of the Trenton Board of Education, who have come in for a certain amount of criticism from a number of quarters during the past few weeks, have again had the chance to sit back and enjoy hearing the secretary, R. V. P. Carswell, read a series of letters from members of the staff and school principals in which confusion seemed conspicuous by its absence and praise and appreciation and kindness of the board.

These complimentary phrases were contained in letters of resignation from Mr. Kenneth J. Perren, who has resigned as vocational guidance officer at the Trenton high school to assume the position of vocational guidance head at a Peterborough Collegiate; John A. Williams, who is leaving the senior public school to take up duties in Orillia; Miss Enid Bennett, girls' physical education instructor in the senior public school, who is leaving for a position in another community; Mrs. Donna O'Neill, music supervisor, and Audrey Williams.

Board Defers Pictures Bid

TRENTON — At last night's meeting of the Trenton board of education Mr. H. L. Blohm of the Canadian School Studios came before the board in offer the services of his firm to provide pictures of students and groups, individual use and also for the schools. He pointed out that Vern LaRocque, official photographer, could be considered before somebody out of town was hired. Mr. Ketcheson said that if Mr. LaRocque was interested he could supply later.

Mr. Blohm said that his firm was "Canadian" firm and could do all the work "right here in Canada," while other photographers were usually sent to color work to the States.

He said that he could supply the students with identification cards containing their photos, the teacher's name and the principal's signature. Mr. Blohm also said that he could supply photographs for the student year book.

The board deferred decision on the matter until a later date.

Bata Firemen Host at Party

TRENTON — Saturday night the Bata Fire Fighters' Association played host to members of the Trenton Fire Brigade, Trenton Mutual Aid Fire Fighters' Association and the employees of the Batawa Recreation Hall. Around 170 firemen and their wives and guests were in attendance.

Chairman Duhoux, public relations officer with the Bata Shoe Company, was the chairman for the evening. He welcomed those welcomed by John Aquino, chief of the Trenton Fire Brigade, and president of the mutual aid association.

Head table guests were: Fire Chief and Mrs. John Aquino, Fire Chief and Mrs. Cecil Ellis of Trenton, Fire Chief and Mrs. Fiset of Frankford, Fire Chief and Mrs. J. H. McVickers of Deseronto.

During the dinner and speeches, dancing was enjoyed to the music of Billy Jones and the Blue Stars, led by Stephen Chomiak.

Seeks Wife's Release

CAPETOWN (Reuters)— Brian Percy Hunting, father of the banned left-wing weekly Age said a former member of the Liberal party in the Transvaal has petitioned Justice Minister F. C. Erasmus for release of his wife "as an act of humanity."

Both husband and wife are among 100 persons detained under the emergency regulations. In the petition Hunting said detention meant their three children, aged 11, 9 and 7, were "deprived of all parental support at a critical stage of their lives."

Havelock Police Chief Resigns Before Starting

HAVELOCK (CP) — John W. Sheffield, of Sutton, hired at $3,600 a year plus $600 car allowance as police chief here, has decided not to take the job.

The police chief's duties include caretaker of the town hall, caretaker of fire-fighting equipment, building inspector and bailiff.

"He just came and looked it over," said Mrs. Ryan, wife of Dorothy McMillan, clerk of this village 25 miles east of Peterborough.

Toronto Plans To Probe Cement Price-Fixing

TORONTO (CP)—City council decided Monday night to investigate allegations of price-fixing by a nation-wide cement cartel and will report to Federal Justice Minister Fulton.

Alleging a flagrant violation of the Combines Act, Alderman Albert Cranham pointed out to council that four major cement firms each offered the same price for a year's supply of cement.

Canada Cement Company Limited, St. Mary's Cement Company Limited, Lawrence Cement Company Limited and Lake Ontario Portland Cement Company Limited, all submitted identical Portland cement at $3.61 a barrel and each early strength cement at $4.31 a barrel.

Bulk delivery prices quoted by four firms were also identical at $4.06 respectively.

"This is one of the most flagrant examples of price-fixing I have seen since joining this council," Alderman Cranham said. "To me this smells and it smells bad," he added.

City records show the same four companies offered identical prices last year, when the contract was split among them.

Oshawa Couple Die in Crash Near Maberly

MABERLY, Ont. (CP)—An Oshawa couple was killed today in a car-truck crash on the eastern outskirts of this village, 18 miles west of Perth.

Police withheld immediate identification of the victims.

Police said the Oshawa couple's car and a westbound Manitoba-Superior trailer transport collided head-on on a slight curve on Highway 7. The occupants of both the car and the truck were thrown from their vehicles and injured. The car burst into flames and was destroyed.

The truck driver, Sam Bellas, 36, and his brother, Dave, 35, of Calgary, were charged with facial cuts and bruises.

Mr. K. Seems Confident He Will Win at Summit Parley

(Next Monday in Paris, the presidents of the United States and France and the prime ministers of Britain and the Soviet Union sit down for talks at the summit. In this first of a series of four articles, AP news analyst William L. Ryan reports on the Communist position as the time for the conference nears.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Approaching the summit, Nikita Khrushchev seems brimful of confidence that he cannot only stand and the West cannot win.

The Communist approach to the four-power Paris meeting next week indicates a belief that Khrushchev builded a weak and irresolute Western alliance into a meeting it did not want, and thus will be calling the shots.

Moscow has reason for confidence. Even before the summit could be hailed as a success for Soviet diplomacy, Moscow seems studiously preparing for failure of Khrushchev's meeting with President Eisenhower, President de Gaulle and Prime Minister Macmillan to achieve any noteworthy contribution to peace.

There is little hope for agreement on the question of West Berlin and divided Germany. Moscow has rejected the Western idea of free elections for all Berlin. Unquestionably Moscow will reject Western proposals for the requisite for peace treaties with East and West Germany.

RUSSIAN GAMBIT

On disarmament, Khrushchev's proposal for total, universal disarmament by 1965 appears a big gamble. Every Western proposal is rejected out of hand with the retort: The West wants controlled armament, not disarmament.

Thus, the summit is not even to be meeting not for the sake of agreeing, but for the sake of meeting.

Has Khrushchev been calling his shots for the summit?

When he and President Eisenhower agreed last February to hold a summit meeting, U.S. understanding was that there would be no fixed agenda. Five months later at a Warsaw pact meeting in Bucharest, he laid down an agenda: Disarmament, the Berlin-German question, nuclear weapons tests and East-West relations.

Later, Washington dispatches pictured Western foreign ministers, gathering at Paris and Bonn as "hoping" it would take up; Disarmament, the Berlin-German question, nuclear tests and East-West relations.

Accordingly:

Do the Russians foresee any Berlin agreement? Almost all Soviet statements, including those of deliberately blocking progress on the question, Failure will be blamed on the West.

There is some indication that a face-saving statement will emerge from the summit hinting at progress on nuclear test bans.

Movie Censorship

e Board of Censors—Theatres Branch of the o Department of Travel and Publicity has just ed its annual report.

ne Board is alarmed at "the trend towards free treatment of the more sordid aspects of contrary life and the tendency to include rape, ry, premarital relations, homosexuality, vice, e, horror and even abortion amongst adolescents redients in film entertainment." We can understhis alarm, and at the same time fully appreciate edorse the Board's reaction when it says it "finds icult to challenge the right of the film producer to to the use of topics dealt with daily in the various communications media."

ather disturbing, though, are two sentences which ollow. "Without question the Board accepts the view ounger people can suffer positive harm when they nter in film entertainment that which may be unndable only to the mature mind. While not ifting the film as necessarily sweeping in its conces, it regards as an immediate pressing responsy the protection of an ever present, mentally ure minority from those films which portray y at its lowest level."

he first sentence is open to question on the point curacy. If younger people can suffer positive from films they are not brought into contact , does it not follow that they must be constantly ing positive harm from life itself, for they must antly encountering situations which they do illy comprehend. We think the contention that siderable amount of harm is done by the immature ers who see or read things which can only be letely understood by a mature mind is open to doubt. That some harm is done we should be ast to deny, but what other way can the young maturity than by facing and examining adult ems? The good is likely to outweigh the bad, ugh there is, in fact, a message for the mature mind film itself. The second sentence is a frightening ple of the censorship mentality. Because some s are mentally immature, all films must be tailored he needs of people in this class. Apply the same ard to books, and no book worthy of the name ever have been published.

ortunately there is evidence that the sentence d misinterprets the Board's actual approach. "The believes it has achieved a considerable degree of ess at attaining its objectives through its adult restricted classifications," it says. We most ily approve of this approach, but we think that board places too high a value on the co-operation it has received "from parents, parents' councils theatre management." In the first place, many its do not co-operate. In the second place, we do think that corporate bodies, such as parents' councshould enter the picture at all. The question as nt a child should, or should not, be allowed to see, ed, is best left to the parents of the child acting their own responsibility. For the theatre to play ideal, but there is no more reason why parents, as ole, should dictate what children, other than their should see or read than there is for giving them arable authority over what a child should believe. ept in cases of parental authority in the field of , to a group would invoke an outburst of indign and rightly so. The intrusion of a group in field of what a child should be permitted to see or ought to be just as stoutly resisted.

or the co-operation of theatre managements, we ect there is a great variation. Every theatre ager ought to refuse to permit a child to see a film e adult and restricted categories and managers do not bar children should be promptly punished. hild, though, ought to be admitted if accompanied parent or guardian is doubtful it may be refused by an adult of such an age that it would be ible for him or her to be the parent of the child estion.

Our Language Has Become Even Fuzzier

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In numerous stories and headlines, the Starved Rock Killer has been referred to as a "fiend." In other stories of similar nature by the same boys have been called "toughs" or "hoodlums."

But the Starved Rock murderer is not a "fiend." He is a psychopath and a moron. The boys are not "toughs" if they are weak. It is time to call them anything idiomatic, "punks" is the proper word.

Such nomenclature's more important than you may think. What we call these people helps determine what they think of themselves. Many boys are out to get a reputation as "tough." In jail they read their publicity avidly. Their pathetic egos are willing to put up with any punishment so long as they can feel important.

Newspapers, which should be the guardians of the use of words, often seem the most insensitive to them. Instead of seeking the precise word, they reach for the easy, the dramatic, the trite word.

Violent criminals, we know, are usually twisted and maladjusted personalities. They lack the strength to cope with the realities around them — they are unsure of their own manhood, and their reading only a fantasy of childhood. Most so-called "sex crimes" are among impotents.

These psychopaths thrive on publicity which describes them with fear and horror. They desperately need a "myth" and the worse the rap the better they like it about it. Each wants to be called a "desperado," when he is really a "dope fiend," after all, described a certain type of man; "fiend" is a term we take its place! An unprincipled woman- ise used to be called a "libertine," but now she is called a "playboy" or a "Lothario." The "fiend" can be but himself is much easier to live with than it used to be.

Language has become fuzzier as our values have become diffuse. The word "celebrity" nowadays covers everybody from Jonas Salk to Caryl Chessman—and the boys are proud to be called "celebrities" by the press.

Limit Smokes By Time Lock

Milwaukee Sunday Journal

There's a new Swiss cigaret case equipped with a time lock on the market, reports the Wall Street Journal. Heavy smokers can thus be able to get all their smokes only at set intervals. This sounds like a fine idea. It would be stronger barriers than our own practice of keeping cigarets in the coat closet, where they have to be hunted for when the urge to smoke seems desirable. Of course, the Swiss system can be defeated just as the Detroit fire alarm call system — by keeping an extra package of cigarets right in the desk drawer.

Letter To The Editor

Answers Criticism On Dutch Schools

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer:

In the Thursday issue appeared a letter to the editor signed by a "Fellow New-Canadian." May as another fellow new Canadian try to disagree with her or deal with widely accepted opinions contained in it.

1. There is none such as a "Dutch" church. Of all the numerous churches in Canada and the U.S.A. a few provided and do provide for the Dutch language religious assistance. Three of these are the Christian Reformed Church, the Roman Catholic Church, the Reformed Church of America. For the purpose of serving the great number of immigrants with religious services, these churches have bilingual or multilingual pastors or priests. The same or other denominations as true Canadian churches provide services in German, Italian, French, British, Hungarian, Polish and a number of other languages. The formation of foreign language parishes in Toronto and Los Angeles, Cal., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. Joss, Murney Street.

2. There is none such as a "Dutch" school. The four main educational systems prevalent in Canada in a wonderful democratic diversity. These systems are: (a) the church-school, which is used to about 40% in Quebec, (b) the private school, a system developed in Great Britain and known there as the Upper Canada College, (c) the parent-controlled non-religious school, a system developed to a great extent in the United States where the majority of elementary and secondary schools are run by parents and taxpayers, and schools are found in U.S.A. and Canada, (d) the government-run state controlled schools.

Each system has its advantages and its disadvantages. It may be taken as a warning how the state controlled school in Russia is the most powerful anti-Christian institution.

Many new Canadians of Dutch extraction organized parent-association schools (organizations for private) schools. These schools are used by many Canadian in language and in courses of study. An increasing number of "Old" Canadians join these associations.

Yours truly,
J. W. Bakker,
Fellow New-Canadian Number 3

To Your Good Health

NARCOLEPSY IS AN UNCONTROLLABLE TENDENCY TO SLEEP

"Dear Dr. Molner: We have a 50-year-old son who weighs from 195 to 205 pounds and is five feet, seven inches tall. He just can't stay awake. He has to fight sleep when driving a car. Recently he was driving to work, stopped at a traffic light, and fell asleep. We don't know which way to turn. — L. H."

This type of problem crops up occasionally in letters to this column, and strongly suggests a condition known medically as narcolepsy — an overpowering urge to sleep.

It is not, of course, to be confused with the sleepiness that comes to people who try to burn the candle at both ends. If you don't get the amount of sleep your system demands, then nature takes a hand.

But there are, indeed, individuals who are victims of a tremendous urge to sleep at the slightest opportunity.

This is thought to be related to some disease or injury involving the brain — encephalitis, cerebral tumors, or possibly the presence of cysts. A head injury is the past history in a fair number of cases.

You might well keep this in mind: Inflammation, such as that from encephalitis, may be sufficiently mild as not to be noticed, or at any rate not to be taken as a serious illness. But at the time it occurs, yet afterward lead to this condition of narcolepsy.

Another possibility is a disorder of the body's metabolism — severe underfunctioning of the thyroid and related endocrine glands. These are known causes of nervous condition, also can be at the root. (Remember that medically and psychologically the "hysteria" does not necessarily mean a wild-eyed screaming fit. It can mean tightly repressed emotion, with the outward manifestation taking many different forms).

In any event narcolepsy affects men more often than women, and usually starts at the age of about puberty. The cause is thought to be hereditary.

Treatment, as always, starts with finding the cause, if possible. This may require careful examination as well as tests for any disorders in metabolism such as the thyroid. These tests may provide the exact clue needed.

In other cases, stimulations of the amphetamine and ephedrine groups sometimes are helpful.

Your son's considerable weight is not unusual, for cases of this type tend to be among people who are overweight by the time they reach adolescence — again suggesting some disorder of the mid-brain. Incidentally, there is no dulling of the individual's mentality, however.

In some cases, the attacks of

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

A newspaper editor of my acquaintance was accosted on the street the other day by one of his readers. "I hear the Pro Bono Publico type, who said:

"You think you know everything, don't you?"

"No," replied the editor, "it is not my business to know everything. But it is my business to know who knows what."

That was about as compact a definition of the function of a newspaper as I have heard. There was a time, perhaps even sixty years ago, when that a great newspaper editor might know everything that was knowable or worth knowing. But there has been such a tremendous explosion of human energy in the past fifty years — a period roughly the working life-time of two succeeding editors — big specialists in a specialized world, that every direction, political, social, scientific and economic, that it would be utterly beyond the capacity of a superman to be properly informed on the basic facts of, all the activities on this planet that deserve to be brought to the attention of the public.

Thus the greatest editors today are men who study to know who knows. They build up staffs of sub-editors and reporters and other writers who can explore and discover those who know, in the manifold fields of human enterprise.

The modern newspaper searches for the searchers.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SOMETIMES

Sometimes we feel like total losses and full fledged failures—but that is usually just before we realize exactly where we are at.

Sometimes we get to thinking of our own little world of selfish interests so deeply that we isolate ourselves from every beautiful chance in life.

Sometimes we forget our "Thank-you's" and "Let-me-help-you's."

Sometimes tiredness creeps on and we are thoughtless, cross, unlovable, maybe mean — and thus build a fence around our finest interests, so that those who would help us most, can't find us to help.

Sometimes we do well with-while thing — then spoil them all in one fell swoop of impulse all unintended. Sometimes we fall off all around and then have not the courage to turn around and try again.

Sometimes we get our "wires crossed." Sometimes our brain is fagged, and our vocabulary lie down, and our feet grow cold.

Sometimes we don't know what is the matter with us — but we do know that something is!

Sometimes we wonder about everything.

But all of these things are natural — sometimes. So when we feel them coming on, let's nip them in the bud!

City Manager Recommends A Systematic Collection Of $295,923 Tax Arrears

Systematic collection of tax arrears, the total of which amounted to $295,923 at the end of 1959, is recommended by City Manager J. R. Reynolds, in his first report to city council since his arrival in Belleville last month.

The report, read to council by Deputy Clerk Adam Stalker, gave total tax arears as of December 31st, 1959, as $295,923, of which $100,856 is for the year 1958 and prior years.

The city manager noted that these funds represent the municipality's working capital and were urgently needed if the city was to keep borrowing costs at a minimum. It was also necessary that these funds be collected to enable the city to stay within its borrowing limits, particularly at the end of the year.

Subject to approval of council Mr. Reynolds said in his report that he proposed a diplomatic and systematic method for the collection of tax arrears.

Mr. Reynolds also noted in his report that a city auditor for 1960 had not yet been appointed by council. The finance committee was directed to bring in a recommendation at the next meeting to cover the appointment of an auditor for this year.

Also during the meeting council passed the tax collection by-law setting out collection dates, the discounts to be allowed for early payment, and penalties for late payment.

"Tax" date deadlines this year will be June 15th, August 15th and October 3rd. The same discounts and penalties as for last year will apply this year.

Alderman Walter Elliott suggested that the penalty interest rate for late payment of taxes be increased, and in this way discourage any tendency of business men to finance their businesses with city money.

He said Hastings county council had increased its penalty rate and he thought this was good business.

It was noted, however, that the tax bills were already being printed and it was now too late to do anything about the matter this year. It was noted that the penalty in effect last year for late payment of taxes was one per cent per month to the end of the year, then one-half of one per cent per month thereafter.

Following reading of a letter from E. E. Dickenscheid, secretary of Belleville Industrial Commission, asking regarding the expected completion date for road extension and—installation of sewer and watermains to serve a parcel of land in the industrial area on Dundas Street, council authorized the public works committee to proceed immediately with the work. It is not expected, however, that the sale price of the land affected will cover the entire costs of the work.

Paul Martin (L—Essex East) said he regretted the incident would not prejudice the coming summit conference.

Mr. Green said: "I am sure the House will join with me in expressing the hope that now that both sides have seen just how serious incidents of this kind can be and just how little it might take to start a world disaster the nations of both sides will get down to business and really try to work out an agreement on disarmament."

Listening intently to the discussion from his seat in the diplomatic gallery was Soviet ambassador Arcoutunian, Soviet ambassador to Canada.

should be given to angle parking.

"This would mean more parking meters and our deficit would be paid off more quickly," was Ald. Jarvis's tongue-in-the-cheek comment.

Alderman Don Whalen noted that he had opposed many things in council, but this was one measure with which he agreed.

"It will be an interesting experiment," he said.

Argyll IODE Chap. to Mark Anniversary

The regular monthly meeting of the Argyll Chapter I.O.D.E. will be held on May 3rd in the Memorial Room. The Regent, Mrs. (Dr.) Pritchard, and the meeting was well attended.

Plans were completed to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the Chapter on June 1st, when former members of the chapter and present members of all chapters in the district will be entertained at a tea.

A new member, Mrs. Frank Johnson, took the oath of allegiance and the badge of the order was presented to her by Mrs. Duffy.

Mrs. Preston, convener of Immigration and Citizenship, reminded the members that a citizenship court will be held on May 19th. Following this the new Canadians will be entertained in the Officers' Mess by the St. Julien and Argyll members.

Mrs. E. F. Smith and Mrs. H. J. Birkenshaw, who had been delegates at the provincial annual meeting held in Hamilton, gave excellent reports and thanked the members for giving them the privilege of attending this convention.

A social hour followed, with Mrs. Digby and Mrs. Birkenshaw acting as hostesses.

The Argyll Chapter is pleased to report that it is a participating organization in the Belleville United Appeal.

Wedding

DEFRESCIO — JOHNSTON

A quiet, but pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday, April 30, at 3.00 p.m. in Bridge Street United Church, Belleville by Reverend Harry R. Davis, when Helen Madeleen Johnston of Belleville, daughter of Mrs. George Reid of Fishfield, Ontario, and the late Mr. Reid, was united in marriage to Raymond Robert Di Fruscio, of Trenton and of the late Harry Di Fruscio of Trenton, and the late Mr. Di Fruscio.

The traditional wedding music was provided by the church organist, Mr. S. Alec Gordon.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. George Dalnard of Belleville, R.R. 7, was attractively attired in a rose-toned street-length sheath gown, with matching rose velour hat and gloves, and corsage of pink roses.

She was attended by Mrs. Donald Grass of Belleville, who wore an aqua-shaded gown in sheath style, with matching hat and accessories, with yellow rose corsage.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Donald Grass of Belleville, while Mr. Archie Dill of Belleville, ushered the guests.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held at the bride's home, where the guests were received by the bride's mother, wearing navy blue with matching accessories and white rose corsage. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother, gowned in navy blue with matching accessories and red rose corsage.

The bride's table was appointed with white linen damask and lace, the light all-white wedding cake.

For the wedding trip to New-York State, the bride chose a navy blue suit-dress with white hat, navy accessories and corsage of pink roses.

Guests were present from Trenton and Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Di Fruscio are residing in Belleville.

SHIPPING DISPATCHER — Enid Whittaker, once an agriculture student at the University of Saskatchewan, now handles a key position in the shipping trade on Canada's west coast. For five years she has been a dispatcher in the British Columbia Pilotage District, assigning 55 pilots under her control to guide foreign ships into any of B.C.'s 30 ports along an 11,000-mile coast. Miss Whittaker is shown in her Vancouver office pointing to a map dotted with pins marking positions of ships and pilots. Born in Saskatoon, she was forced to give up her study of agriculture because of family illness. (CP Photo).

Former Prairie Farm Girl Keystone in Shipping Trade

VANCOUVER (CP) — Enid Whittaker, a former Prairie girl with a frustrated love for the farm, now finds herself a keystone in the British Columbia shipping trade.

Bright - eyed Miss Whittaker dispatches all the pilots on the B.C. coast. From her office in downtown Vancouver, she must keep a constant check on every deepsea vessel between Puget Sound in Washington State to the south and Alaska to the north.

There are 55 pilots—the men who take over guidance of foreign ships for their entry into port — in the British Columbia Pilotage District.

For the last three months they have been working at close to capacity as more and more ships head for the numerous ports along the B.C. coast.

Miss Whittaker and fellow dispatchers must know the whereabouts of the pilots every hour of the day. When the call comes in for a pilot from a ship at sea, they must be prepared to send a man to any of the 30 ports in the B.C. district.

Control centre of the pilotage district is a large map of the coast in Miss Whittaker's office. Magnetic pins mark the location of every ocean ship and pilot on duty.

There are 11,000 miles of coastline to be serviced and often it must be done on short notice.

"We have a crystal ball down here that we rub, every now and again," she says. "It's an exciting business because there's always something unexpected happening.

"Most of all, it's a job of meticulous detail."

Born in Saskatoon, she studied agriculture at the University of Saskatchewan. Illness in the family forced her to give up her course and move to Vancouver nine years ago.

She took an office job with the pilotage authority and five years ago became dispatcher.

"We have a place called the bull-pen in the office, and that's about as close as I get to farming right now. I still have a yen to go in my agriculture course, but I don't know whether I'll ever complete it.

"But I would still love to get into that kind of work."

Qualities Sought by Employers Are Also Wanted by Husbands

By ELIZABETH MOTHERWELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — The qualities of loyalty, punctuality and neatness demanded by the employer are also wanted by husbands, Mrs. (), Childerhose, employment superintendent, R. B. Eddy Company, told Ottawa secretaries Saturday.

He said girls working to "make time" before marriage should make full use of their business training for home-making.

"Some girls think the attributes of a good wife are magically acquired with a marriage certificate," he told the Association of Administrative Assistants or Executive Secretaries.

CHOOSE JOB CAREFULLY

Miss R. E. Addison, civil service commissioner, said many women look upon careers as a stop-gap, then find themselves with dead-end jobs for life.

She said women should avoid dead-end jobs and those with a high degree of specialization which block their chances of promotion.

She said outmoded attitudes towards marriage and careers should be revised. "The woman worker is an important part of our manpower resources. For every three men working there is a woman worker. We must make full use of all workers—regardless of sex."

The secretaries heard that women often embarrass employers and lose promotion by not exercising sense in dress.

THE CORRECTAL LOOK

Beaded eyelashes, the 9 a.m. cocktail party look, and too many jewellers were frowned on by four women executives who took part in a panel discussion.

"Perhaps the shooting of the wrong clothes for the office can lose a job. I've seen it happen," said one.

The women thought examples of the best lesson—and taking the offender, especially a pretty girl, aside for advice if other methods failed.

Sheer blouses and form-fitting kneelength dresses were demonstrated along with tailored attire at a fashion show following the panel.

C.A.R.S. Aux. Plans Patients' June Party

The May C.A.R.S. Auxiliary meeting was held on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. J. S. Stock, Bridge Street East, with the president, Mrs. Rose David, in the chair. The financial report was given by Mrs. J. A. Lewis. Special attention was directed to the first Eastern Ontario Conference on Arthritis and Rheumatic Diseases to be held in Ritchie Hall, Queen's University, Kingston, on May 11th, and as many members and their friends as possible were requested to attend.

Several patients were visited or written to by Auxiliary members since the last meeting. Many suggestions were proposed for the patients' party to be held at Christ Church parish hall on Wednesday, June 8th, under the convenorship of Mrs. L. Wamboldt and her committee. One of the highlights will be a fun competition of a bicycle-exerciser, donated by the Women's Auxiliary of the Hastings and Prince Edward Medical Society.

Miss B. Rose, district physiotherapist, reported treating many patients during the month and she has been appointed also at Stirling High School and Albert College on physiotherapy, in order to interest them in this worthwhile profession.

She was introduced at the meeting by Mrs. D. G. Williams.

Plans were finalized for the rummage and auction sale held Friday, Mr. Greenley donated the services of a truck for the removal of articles to the armouries. Mr. Robert Sullivan of Plainfield was the auctioneer.

At the close of the business meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostesses, Misses G. and R. Macdonald.

Manly MacDonald Paintings Highlight U.W. Club Spring Tea

The University Women's Club of Belleville and District were again hostesses at their annual "Spring Fair" held at the Kiwanis Centre on Saturday afternoon, last. Many guests from near and from Hamilton, also including Picton, Trenton, Kingston, Brockville, Hamilton, Madoc, Tweed, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Montreal and Ottawa were present.

The guests were welcomed by Mrs. John McArthur, president, and Mrs. Archie Lewis, vice president, and the general convener, Mrs. P. T. Seibert.

BEAUTIFUL PAINTINGS

The centre of interest of the afternoon was the exhibition of beautiful paintings by Manly Macdonald, R.C.A. The art exhibit was under the convenorship of Mrs. J. H. Bateman; it showed the lovely subjects which Mr. Macdonald likes most to paint, the familiar scenes of the Bay of Quinte district along the waterfront; old mills, villages and homesteads set in fertile farmland; figures that form a natural part of the landscape. All these were there for delighting viewers.

Mrs. Bateman was represented — the richness of fall, sparkling winter, and the magic moment of transition from winter to spring.

Then the summer day was given by the picture of a boy fishing from a small raft. The large oil painting of Belleville featuring the clock tower of the city hall drew all eyes. The artist's mastery of composition and color was again evident in this exhibition.

PAINTING DONATED

Mrs. A. Pickering and Mrs. A. May were in charge of ticket sales. At the close of the afternoon, Mr. Macdonald made the draw for the painting which was won by Mrs. Olive Gerow, Herchimer Avenue.

The home baking table, set up on the first floor, drew early rush business with its enticing display. Mrs. F. Mansfield and Mrs. H. W. Burns were the conveners.

An interesting part of the exhibit was a glance backward through the years that Mr. Macdonald has donated a painting for the scholarship fund with ten paintings which have been won at previous spring fairs. Other convenors of Manly Macdonald paintings graciously lent their works for the occasion.

Mrs. P. G. Allan and Mrs. L. Langlois were in charge of the tea room on the second floor where the guests were welcomed by Mrs. H. Floyd and Mrs. J. Nelles.

A beautiful floral decorations enhanced the scene with stands of spring plants at the entrance. The tea table was centred with an arrangement of opened tulips and snapdragon from which rose slender tapers. On each table spring blooms floated in flower bowls. The lovely decorations were in the capable hands of Mrs. S. Lipson and Mrs. R. Pringle.

Pouring tea to accompany the most delicious refreshments were Miss F. Dewey, Mrs. J. Gillis, Dr. L. Mathieson, Mrs. Peter Mac, Miss E. Fonseca, Miss O. Delaney, Miss M. Young, Miss N. Merry and Miss J. E. Grout.

Mrs. A. Locke and Mrs. J. Musgrove were in charge of the kitchen with Mrs. E. Benger, Mrs. R. Graham, Mrs. E. Leard, Mrs. B. MacDonald and Mrs. G. Barrett replenishing the plates.

Miss Hilda McLaren was the admission convenor.

Grateful thanks again go to Mr. M. Smykalyk of Q.S.S. Mr. Ritchie of R.C.I.V.S., Mr. Edgar Buchanan, and to Q.S.S. students Peter Valks and Byron Casselman for their special work in assisting in the arrangement of the Art Exhibit. Their enthusiasm and interest are greatly appreciated.

This most successful occasion owed its success to the kind generosity of Mr. Manly Macdonald, who by his presence to discuss the paintings with the guests.

The general convener, Mrs. P. T. Seibert, is to be congratulated on the success of this happy event.

STRANGE COLLECTION

NOTTINGHAM, England (CP) — When Ernest Webb moved into his new home he found the former occupant had left behind 1,000 milk bottles. At least 1,850 were found hidden in cupboards and chimneys and behind false wall panels. The milk company would take back only 150.

Ladies' B.L. Ends Season, Names Officers

The Wednesday Evening Ladies' Bowling League of Stirling, brought the season to a close Wednesday evening by all motoring to Belleville and joining in a delicious turkey dinner at the Belmont restaurant.

After the dinner a business meeting was held and President Mrs. Maud Runnalls thanked all for their co-operation during the year.

COMPILING LIST OF WEDDING GUESTS

Last week we looked into the financial responsibilities to be assumed by the parents of the bride-to-be and the bridegroom when making plans for a wedding. Today, suppose we go into a task which, if it is not handled well, can cause more confusion and handwringing than any other associated with wedding plans. It is the compiling of the all-important guest list.

Too often, the compiling of this list is approached with a hit-or-miss attitude. Only confusion, duplication and hurt feelings can possibly result. Someone important is bound to be left out. Writing down names at random is not the way to do it! While it may seem a waste of time, a little careful planning at the beginning will save a lot of worry and chaos as the wedding day approaches.

First, a decision must be reached by the family of the bride as to the type of wedding it is to be, and an approximate idea of the number of people to be asked must be reached. These may be divided into two groups — those to be asked to the ceremony only, and those to whom both the church and reception invitations are to be issued.

The plan for the latter method is as follows: purchase a set of alphabetical index cards, size three by five inches; an inexpensive cardboard box file; one set of plain white cards, and another of colored cards of the same size (the bride-elect usually uses the white cards, the bridegroom's family the colored ones). An individual index card is made out for each person or family to be invited, using the last name first to facilitate filing. Place the address on the next line in the upper right hand corner, indicate the number of persons included in each card. Place a red check on those to be invited to the reception. The family of the bridegroom follows the same idea. Then the two lists are combined. All chance of duplication is avoided. A quick count of the red-checked cards will indicate those to be asked to the reception.

According to good form, all wedding invitations should be engraved and the invitation itself should be enclosed in two envelopes. The outer envelope contains the name and address. The name should be given in full. For example: "Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Green." On the inner envelope only the last name is given, "Mr. and Mrs. Green." Of course the address is not repeated.

The reason for two envelopes is that it is optional that a wedding invitation be received in spoiled condition. For this same reason, the small tissue inserted in each invitation should not be removed. This tissue is there to prevent any smudging of the engraving and should accompany the invitation to its destination.

Question: I am a Catholic and have recently been invited to attend a confirmation in the Episcopal church. Is it customary at that I take a gift to the child? Does a party follow such an occasion?

Answer: When invited to a confirmation in the Episcopal church, one simply attends the service. A gift should not be presented unless one is a godparent of the child. If so, a gift is customary. It is not usual that a party of any kind be given after a confirmation.

Trinity W.M.S. Plans for Coming Bazaar

MADOC — The members of Trinity United W.M.S met at the home of Mrs Fred Hemmil on Wednesday afternoon for the May meeting. Miss Holmes, president, welcomed all and read a most appropriate poem.

In the worship service following with the theme being "Women of the Bible"; "Elizabeth, the Humble" being chosen.

Mrs. Empey paid tribute to the mothers and read a poem, "A Mother's Mission."

Reports were received from the treasurer and stewardship convener, followed by a prayer for the missionary, Mrs. Olive Shaw.

Mrs. Fleming reported on cards and calls and Mrs. Gordon on literature.

Mrs. Bennett gave a reading "Reclaimed Chemist."

Plans were made for the summer bazaar usually held in July. Articles for the Mission and the layette are to be sent in June.

Mrs. Neyler was in charge of the program and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Jarrett, who gave a most interesting and informative talk on the customs, home life, dress and education of her native land, India.

Following the closing, a sale of aprons and other articles was held. Afterwards a pleasant hour, with lunch, was enjoyed.

Deloro Stellite Holds Banquet, Presents Prizes

The combined banquet of the Deloro Stellite Social and Athletic Association and the Deloro Stellite Bowling League was held recently at Club Canara.

Tickets were taken at the door by Mr. Thomas Walsh.

A scrumptious turkey dinner was enjoyed, after which the master of ceremonies Mr. Charles Doran, introduced the head table which consisted of the executive of the Association and Bowling League: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. George Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doran, Miss Barbara Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pelling, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Magee, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Heslip, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Moon, and Mr. and Mrs. Ron Ward.

The master of ceremonies introduced Mr. Houston, manager of Deloro Stellite, who gave an interesting speech. Mr. Gordon Magee president of the Bowling League was then introduced. Mr. Magee made a presentation to Mrs. Fran Moon, secretary of the Ladies' Bowling League and to Mr. Ron Ward, treasurer, for their efficient work during the past bowling season.

TROPHIES PRESENTED

The Company Trophy was presented to the first place Nynamoggers team by Mr. Houston to the Red Caps captained by Jack Reid; Deanna Mansfield, Bruno and Lorraine Mackenzie, Don and Muriel Oglivie.

Mrs. Hugh Heslip, vice-president of the Bowling League presented the Ladies' Trophy to the first place play-off winners, the Double Dippers captained by Gordon Magee; Marion Magee, Joan McKenzie, Percy Tyrell and Mrs. Donald Shearer.

Mrs. Houston presented the second place Nynamoggers team to the Cyclones, captained by Raymond Courtney; Mary Courneya, Norma and Kathy Cunningham, Thomas Walsh and Pearl Alexander.

Third place League winners, the Nynamoggers, were presented with trophies by Mr. Hugh Heslip, captained by Jack Weston; Ron Ward, Gordon Read, Joan Henderson, Bob and Bonnie Ford.

INDIVIDUAL LEAGUE TROPHIES

Individual League trophies were presented by Mrs. Gordon Magee to Kathy Cunningham, ladies' high average of 181; Mae Olaveson; ladies' high triple of 728; Fran Moon, ladies' high single of 377; Raymond Courneye, men's high average of 213; Charles Doran, men's high triple of 717, and Bob Ford, men's high single of 346.

Individual play-off trophies were presented by Mrs. Hugh Heslip to Lorne Sloane, ladies' high triple with handicap of 756; Jean Henderson, ladies' high single with handicap of 350; Jack Henderson, men's high triple with handicap of 723 and Clear Sloane, men's high single of 286.

CRYING TOWELS

To the two losing teams, the Whatnots, consisting of Muriel and Irene Crozeen, Ron and Pam Ward, Marcel Wheadon and Marg Gallinger and the Pitchouts consisting of Warren Soule, Hugh and Theresa Heslip, Norm and Hazel Barriage, crying towels were presented.

Following the trophies distribution, two door prizes were drawn for. The first, a toaster set was drawn by Mrs. Fran Moon and won by Miss Barbara Hughes; the second, an electric kettle was drawn by Mrs. Gordon Magee and won by Mr. Alex Young.

The evening ended with an enjoyable dance played for by the Club Canara orchestra: The spot dance prizes were won by Jean Rochon and Marvin Elsworth, Fran Moon, Hugh and Theresa Heslip, Wayne Oglivie and Donna Hartley.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

James B. — My parents object to my dating a 14-year-old.

Mrs. I. B. — She's still a baby.

James B. — I am 19 and I have been going out recently with a girl of 14. I know that seems very strange, but this girl is taken for 18 by everyone. In fact, I thought that was her age when I first dated her.

Rosemary is a beautiful girl and she is exceptionally mature. My parents agree with me about that. But they still object to my dating anyone so young. She has dated fellows even older than I am.

I like her very much and I can't see what harm there can be in my dating her, especially since her own parents don't object. My folks are giving me an awful hard time about the matter.

Mrs. I. B. — We think Rosemary's parents are not too smart to let a kid like that run around with older boys. She's very bright and precocious, but just the same she's a 14-year-old — which makes her still a baby.

I know Jimmy is a decent kid, but he is only an adolescent and may do foolish things. For his sake I would like him to be with a girl who has a little sense and maturity.

Maybe we're a bit old-fashioned about things like this, but we think 14-year-olds should not be dating at all. Our own daughter is that age and we only let her go to parties and dances where there are big groups of youngsters.

The Council: Sorry Jimmy, we are with your parents.

Jimmy is fortunate in having parents who see a bit beyond their immediate responsibilities. Certainly, Rosemary's parents shouldn't permit her to date older boys, and their lack of forethought last night well have serious repercussions.

Five years is a very small age difference in the later years, but it is a crucial one in these adolescent years. A 14-year-old belongs fairly close to her own age group, in the case of a precocious girl of advanced physical development, this often poses a difficult problem. But the parents should try to hold the reins even if the child must suffer a bit. Within about two years, the girl will probably have weathered the storm. The boys closer to her own age will start to catch up with her — and she will be old enough to handle some of the problems of dating.

Jimmy is undoubtedly aware that his parents are concerned about his ability to handle his emotions and conduct himself properly at all times. He may feel quite sure of himself, but he is a rare 19-year-old if he doesn't occasionally find his feelings breaking out of restraints he has imposed on himself.

A 14-year-old girl is just enough of a child to tease out of sheer curiosity and deviltment. She can be a far more dangerous companion than an older girl, who is willing to shoulder some of the responsibility for keeping the courtship game on a level that will be enjoyable and safe and safe as well.

Apart from these considerations, we think that Jimmy is mistaken when he sees Rosemary as a suitable companion. The girl may be bright, but she still lacks the seasoning that comes with more knowledge and social experience. Probably Jimmy is somewhat afraid of girls, girls closer to his own age and he feels more comfortable with a girl he can easily dominate, but-level.

Hungarian Meal

Second Instalment (Continued from Yesterday)

by Mary Moore

Yesterday I gave you the recipes for Tony's Chicken Paprika and Nokedli and promised to give her recipes for Cucumber Salad and Turos Palacsinta (paper-thin dessert pancakes).

At midnight, after we had eaten this genuine Hungarian meal cooked by a good Hungarian cook, who is also a medical doctor, Lucy and I sat down and she fixed me with her lovely brown eyes and told me how to make

TUE DAY
(Oven meal)

Pineapple Juice; Meat Loaf with Tomato Sauce; Baked Jacket Potatoes; Brussels Sprouts; Blueberry Cottage Pudding with Spice Sauce; Tea.

HUNGARIAN CUCUMBER SALAD:

In Lucy's own words: Pre-pare 2 cucumbers, 2 tablespoons thin slicing them thin enough to see through, as you should do — the one you use for thinly slicing potatoes for making (!) They must be thin. To 2 sliced cucumbers add 1 teaspoon salt, 2 whole cloves of garlic not sliced, mix, and let stand to draw out the indigestible factors. Meanwhile prepare; 1 cup water, 4 teaspoons vinegar and 2 teaspoons sugar

It should have a sweet-sour taste like good lemonade. Remove garlic from cucumbers and squeeze cucumber slices in your hands to remove all water. Add to salad fluid. Add just as much hot red pepper as will go on tip of paring knife and about 2 good teaspoons sour cream. A perfect salad to accompany the rich Chicken Paprika.

TUROS PALACSINTA:

Make French Pancakes: 2 cups milk, 1-4 cup butter, 4 eggs, beaten, 1 cup sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt.

Heat milk and butter together in saucepan. When slightly cooled, beat in eggs, flour, baking powder and salt. Beat until smooth. To bake barely grease 7" heavy frying pan and heat it. Pour in just enough batter to coat the bottom tilting the pan to just cover it evenly. Cook 1 minute over medium heat. Loosen edges with spatula and flip and cook other side 1 minute or until just delicately browned. Lift out to hot platter and keep warm. Cook remaining batter; each pancake separately, until all is cooked up.

FILLING:

Sieve 1 pound cottage cheese an add to it 2 egg yellows, 1 cup sugar, 1-3 cup plump raisins, a little grated lemon rind and a little grated lemon rind and a little vanillin (vanilla) to taste. Mix. If too dry put in 1 teaspoon or more sour cream. Whip the 2 egg whites stiff and fold in. Put some like the shape of a long sausage across centre of

Sport Snapshots

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

John Gibson adjusted his rumpled six-foot frame in an easy chair, stroked his frisky Irish terrier and confided with a deep-throated chuckle: "Now I'm starting to live. I retire on Aug. 1 and you're likely to see me at the races quite a bit."

There's nothing unusual about the—except:

He's an Anglican minister, 83 years old. He is probably the only person in North America with monosyllabic race horses among a worldly assets.

"There may be others of my calling who race or own horses," said the big, friendly minister in creased, food - stained trousers and slightly tattered shirt. "But as far as I know, they haven't come out to admit it."

OFF-TRACK BETTING

His views on horse racing and gambling are broad enough to take church elders wince. He has bought, sold, trained, traded and given away horses all his life and to him racing is "one of the cleanest, most wholesome sports there is." He believes off-track gambling should be made legal.

Mr. Gibson, who gazes at the world with ever-twinkling eyes behind wire-rimmed glasses, was interviewed in the living room-office of his old brick home on the seamy west side of downtown Toronto. It is a section inhabited by bookmakers and bootleggers—and I know them all"—amid a rabble of many tongues.

It has been his parish for more than 30 years.

The furniture of his home is frayed. The walls are lined with pictures of his children and grandchildren; the book cases filled with worn and faded religious volumes. Scattered on his desk are pictures of his beloved horses and a book telling how to train them.

NEVER BETS

"I never did get around to reading that book on training tips until lately and there's hardly anything in it that haven't practised," he said with the indulgent air of a connoisseur of horseflesh. "And do you know there are a few stunts I've tried that the author doesn't even know about."

He has never bet a horse in his life. His racing game is to the races; has never read a racing form or manual "although I read the sports pages and race charts every day." Last week he gained national prominence when his filly, She's a Gem, won a six-furlong sprint for three- and four-year-old maidens at Fort Erie, Ont.

Son of "a strait-laced father who many times thought I was going to the dogs," Mr. Gibson told how he got into thoroughbred racing.

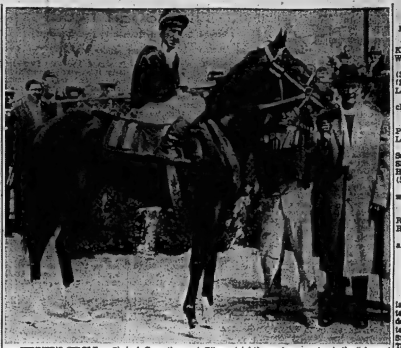
Five years ago he bought for $75 the brood mare Locker Shot, by Bunty Lawless, 1936 King's Plate winner and one of the greatest sires in Canadian racing history.

MARE MISHANDLED

"I knew she was a Bunty Lawless mare. She didn't kick or bite, but there was something wrong about her and I thought it was up to me to find out. She'd been mishandled and no one could ride her. I took her to my farm, put a saddle on her back and away we went."

His old friend, Trainer Morris Fishman of Toronto, owned the stallion Selector, and they made a deal. She's a Gem was the result. "My filly is the first thoroughbred I've ever raced. If I was a betting man I'd put my money on her. Now that I'm an owner I don't have to do that. Now I'm really living."

People in his parish have stopped him on the street in the last two years and whispered "which is she running?"



BOOKIES' FRIEND

"Everybody thinks it is wonderful for a minister to race a horse. Even though they couldn't get to the races to see her run, I was glad they were able to bet on her through a bookmaker. It makes them feel as if they have an interest in her.

"And the bookmaking business should be made legal. We are not civilized when we have to go underground to bet. The laws should be changed. There won't be an increase in betting."

Does the church approve of his racehorse ownership?

"I don't know. I haven't heard officially. Anyway, now that I'm retiring I'm thrilled that I have an interest in life."

WINNER'S CIRCLE — She's A Gem, three-year-old filly, stands in the winner's circle with her owner and breeder Rev. John Gibson, 83-year-old sports-loving Anglican minister from Toronto. She's A Gem won her first race this season, a six-furlong dash at Fort Erie, Ont. Mr. Gibson (right) says horse racing is the "cleanest sport there is because you may corrupt the men but you can't corrupt the horses." A track assistant holds the filly for this winner's photo. The jockey is Avelino Gomez. (CP Photo).

He has one up to offer. She's A Gem has a brother, A Padre's Scamp. "He might be racing next year and if he can run like his sister, he'll be okay."

District League Was in a Huff When Lawyer Worded Entry 'Bluff'

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Call it a bluff if you will, but bluff or otherwise, he got away with it.

Lawyer Robert Telford sat at home last night, "sandled" the case via phone through "Prosecutor" Bill Old, and finished his way to a moral victory for the Bellerville Rebekah softball club.

All the action took place during the second half of the Bellerville and District Softball League's entry deadline meeting, after six teams had paid entry fees, opening dates had been arranged and it appeared the only remaining item on the agenda was adjournment.

Secretary - treasurer Robert Blaind had already accepted the entry fee of $25 from the six teams which will participate in the league this year, namely Bellerville Sports Centre, Deseronto Athletics, RCAF Flyers, Trenton Kellcrest VFW's, Cobourg Merchants and last season's champion Bobcats.

Then Old took a phone call from boseman Temple and dropped the bombshell.

"Unless the Bobcats are given on Wednesday night for home games at the CONA Park Mr. Temple has instructed me to withdraw the team from the league and to bring back his entry fee," he "ullimated."

The courtroom — no, shoop — meeting place fell into shocked silence.

Earlier in the evening Old had verified the fact that the Bobcats were seeking to have Wednesday night for home games rather than Friday, the night that the club had originally requested. But in the meantime Sports Centre had taken over the park for Wednesday games and it was stated that all other nights had been allotted to Commercial league teams. It appeared that both Bellerville teams have a player or two who cannot get off work to play every Friday night but no one figured the matter would be carried to the threat of withdrawal.

For the next 45 minutes the teams, all with one, two or three representatives at the meeting, strived for a solution. Several ideas were turned down. The league executive, Umpires' Association President Al Kelleher and CONA Parks commissioner Harold Bawden all offered ideas. Sports Centre refused to budge, ditto the Bobcats.

The rumble around the table was that Temple was bluffing but "Perry Mason" Old just repeated his earlier statement and waited.

Finally it appeared that the league would replan the season's operations on a five-team basis rather than six, as Mr. Blaind reached for the Bobcat entry fee and it definitely looked as if the Bobcats would be the loser. But entry for the first time in a good many years.

Hawken broke a lengthy silence with a last desperate offer. "Tell Temple he can still have Thursday night instead of Friday, but Wednesday is still out!"

Old placed a quick call to Lawyer Temple, returned to the room and said that Thursday would be satisfactory. The jury did not leave the room before returning its verdict.

The Bobcats were back — and the B. and D. league was again a six-team loop.

As things stand now the league will open on Wednesday, May 18 when the Bobcats do get at least one Wednesday home game, against the RCAF at 6.45. Sports Centre will pry the lid off in Trenton on Thursday, the 19th, at 8.30 p.m.

So RCAF home games will be on Tuesdays at 6.45, Sports Centre's on Wednesdays at 6.45, Bobcats' on Thursdays at 6.45, Trenton's on Thursdays at 8.30, Deseronto's on Fridays at 6.45 and Cobourg's on Saturday at 3.15 p.m.

Most of the league's business had been settled at earlier meetings. The loop did varify a 20-game schedule and re-appointed Garry Alexander as league statistician.

A complete schedule is to be drawn up by the end of this week.

"Blaind" was a much-used word at the representatives filed out of the Recreation Centre. But after all you have to pay to see the cards.

SPORT IN BRIEF

SNEAD WINS TOURNEY

YORBA LINDA, Calif. (AP)—Sam Snead won the $50,000 roundrobin all-star golf tournament by six strokes Monday and the top prize of $10,000. Second in the double competition were Jimmy Demaret and Cary Middlecoff, each with 209 for $7,000 each.

OPTION FIELDER

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago Cubs optioned outfielder Lou Johnson Monday to Houston of the American Association subject to 24-hour recall. Johnson had five hits in 24 trips for a .208 average with the Cubs.

Fishing Cast Puts Town In Darkness

POINT HOPE (CP) — A fishing fisherman flicked a long, overhand cast Saturday night and for two hours this village of 1,000 east of Toronto lay in darkness.

The story behind the power failure was released Monday by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission. They declined to name the fisherman.

The mysto fishing line became entangled in a 4,000-volt line near the Peter Street bridge. The youngster kept hauling on it to free it but instead he drew three of the power lines together. Fuses blew for miles around.

The boy was not injured. He was insulated by his rubber boots.

Birds Hit Snag In Search For Catcher

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles apparently have run up against some blank walls in their search for a catcher to replace diabetic Gus Triandos.

Lee MacPhail, Orioles president and general manager, said he contacted "six or eight" big league clubs in an effort to acquire a right-handed-hitting receiver.

Big Gus, who will be lost to the Birds for at least a month, is scheduled to undergo surgery Wednesday for relief from pressure on a nerve in the inner side of his right thumb.

MacPhail's primary target Monday is believed to have been Darrell Johnson, third-string St. Louis Cardinals catcher who caught briefly for the 1954 Birds.

There is a strong possibility that the Orioles will recall catcher - outfielder Gene Green from Miami, Baltimore's Triple-A affiliate in the International League.

SECOND CHANCE

MOSCOW (AP) — Garnir, the Soviet horse which finished fifth in the international race at Laurel, Md., last Nov. 11, will get another chance. The Russians have told the United States Embassy that Garnir is being sent back for the Veterans' Day classic next November, but Flang, which finished eighth after a mixup at the start last fall, would not return.

Braves Deny Player Deal

NEW YORK (AP) — Hailer pitcher Don Elston and infielder Don Zimmer of Chicago Cubs will be traded to Milwaukee Braves for two promising young pitchers, the New York Daily News says.

The newspaper says the Braves' pitchers involved probably will be Ken Mackenzie and Don Nottebart. It adds that the trade shows the Braves, as a contender, wanted to shoot for the National League pennant this year while the Cubs are willing to settle for the future. Elston is 31, Zimmer 30, Mackenzie 23 and Nottebart 24.

In Milwaukee, general manager John McHale of the Braves said there is nothing to the story.

TORONTO BID FOR BOUT

NEW YORK (CP) — Toronto has been suggested as the site for the Archie Moore - Eric Shoeppner light-heavyweight boxing title bout July 18. The World-Telegram and Sun says Dave Rush, a Toronto businessman who staged Moore's fight with James Parker in that city in 1956, made a bid for the Moore-Shoeppner bout in conversations with Feature Sports Inc. here during the weekend.

'Ole Archie' Has Had It, Says Willie

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Willie Besmanoff arrived here Monday and assured everyone he will whip world light - heavyweight champion Archie Moore in a May 23 non-title fight and make money at it.

Besmanoff said Moore "has been great," but he's running out of gas.

"My only plan for the fight is to make speed. Moore won't like that. His legs won't carry him."

Besmanoff, who directs himself, also expounded his views on managers, saying "the fighters take the punches and the managers get fat," adding by his theory that he'll get paid for every punch he takes.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

The unpredictable Wren Blair has done it again!

Unquestionably one of Ontario's better hockey men, the dynamic Whitby-Clinton hockey mentor, who has aimed many a deadly verbal arrow at the professional ranks, has followed what is now a sport cliche.

"If you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

The announcement that Blair signed a three-year contract to coach-manage the Kingston Frontenac entry in the Eastern Professional League came as a jolt to many.

To others who know Blair better, it did not come as a surprise.

After all, the Kingston Frontenacs club had a very dismal year in its first season in the new professional league. It finished a bad last, and its directors probably felt something drastic was needed if the club was to be a success next year.

What they needed, as another writer puts it, "was a bedside physician to an ailing patient. And prithee, who better could they get than "Doctor" Blair?

Blair is quoted as saying "I will remain as a general manager of the Clinton team of the U.S. Eastern League and have signed a two-year contract with the Comets to that effect. As of now the Comets will become the Boston Bruins No. 1 development farm club and will have a working agreement with Kingston."

"I will maintain my interest in Whitby but it will only be as a distance. I will be in Kingston full time. but feel my connection with Whitby will make players like Bobby Attersley and Harry Sinden available for emergency with the Frontenacs."

Is this double-talk or is Blair working three ends with the middle? Max Jackson of Kingston CKWS-TV said the other night that he was of the opinion Cal Gardner, last year's coach of the Frontenacs, and without a doubt one of their best players, would go to Whitby in some sort of capacity.

Blair, it is stated, has severed his connections with the Montreal Canadiens' farm system. He has cut the buddy-buddy ribbon with ebullient Sammy Pollock and is once more back on familiar ground as the "opposition."

Another question that pops up is, will Blair's "distance connection" with the Whitby Dunlops, and his assistant that Attersley and Sinden will be available for "emergency duty with the Frontenacs, mean the end of the hockey glory that once was the Dunlops?

It seems a bit passing strange that the directors of the Whitby club would allow their "amateur" players to be juggled around at the beck and call of a professional coach. Or have the Dunlops become the "No. 2 farm club" of the Boston Bruins?

There is one thing sure. If Blair cannot produce a winner or a reasonable facsimile for the Kingston brass, he too can. He has a tremendous faith in his own ability to organize and lead winning hockey teams.

He is no respecter of persons as far as players go. If he a well known fact he benched Long John Henderson for the Cuba world tournament—but Blair came home with the title.

This department, like many others, has had its differences with Blair, but he ranks among the top five in the "friends" league. "I'm a peace-lovin' guy," he says, "and don't mean to offend anybody."

If Blair is manager-coach of the Frontenacs—he will be just that. There will be no back-benchers or "advisers" telling him what to do. Usually he knows what he wants—and goes all out to get it without the benefit of outside interference.

But he is one hundred per cent for his club or league. from his blonde curling forelock to the tip of his pointed shoes. He has been known to ruin at least five hats in one season, literally by jumping on them. He maintains an iron discipline but always has the respect of his players.

The "amateurs" are going to miss this dynamic character. After all he was mainly responsible for bringing senior "A" hockey to this neck of the woods. Let us hope with his new job he does not develop philtidal intent.

Four Bobbles, Neal's Homer Gives Dodgers 7-4 Victory; Pascual Tosses Three-Hitter

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Pittsburgh's stumbling, fumbling Pirates still are at it, losing six of seven since spurting into the National League lead with a nine-game winning streak.

They dropped their fourth in a row Monday night, giving up a pair of unearned runs and losing 7-4 at Los Angeles as Charlie Neal slugged a three-run homer in the ninth that tagged the once unbeatable Elroy Face with his third defeat.

The Pirates now are 1½ games behind idle, first place San Francisco and only one game ahead of Milwaukee's third place Braves, who were rained out at Chicago in the only other NL game scheduled.

Rain also halved a two-game schedule in the American League. Righthander Camilo Pascual, winless since the season opener, pitched his second three-hit victory as Washington clubbed Kansas City 8-1. The Cleveland at Boston game was postponed.

COMMITTED FOUR ERRORS

The Pirates, who committed 4 errors Monday night, and 13 in their last five games, were shut out on one hit for seven innings by Don Drysdale. The Dodgers' ace righthander struck out 13, but gave up two-run homers by Bill Mazeroski and Bob Skinner in the eighth and ninth before relieve Larry Sherry took over.

Sherry, back to doing what comes naturally after a fling as a starter, came in with the tide-breaking run on first, struck out Don Hoak and then retired Gino Cimoli on a grounder to end the Pirate rally. Neal's second home run of the season, following a single by Maury Wills and an intentional walk to Junior Gilliam got the job done.

It was Sherry's third straight victory in relief—all the Dodgers have won in their last nine games. It made him the champs' top winner at 4-2. The young right-hander has only a 1-2 record to show for his shot as a starting pitcher.

Bob Friend lasted seven innings for the Pirates before giving way for a pinch-hitter in his 12th consecutive unsuccessful try for a complete game against the Dodgers. Los Angeles scored twice in the fifth, when singles by Norm Larker and Bob Aspromonte sandwiched Don Demeter's double, and another in the sixth on Larker's second of three consecutive singles. It followed two errors by shortstop Dick Groat on Wally Moon's grounder, giving Groat five boots in two games.

UNEARNED RUN

The Dodgers scored another unearned run, on Dick Stuart's error in the eighth against Face (0-3) the relief wizard who won 18 of 19 last year.

Pascual (2-3) struck out 11 and gave up nothing but singles while posting away the fifth three-hitter of his career for Washington. He lost a shutout in the ninth when the A's scored an unearned run on the first of two hits by Dick Williams, a passed ball and a two-out error by shortstop Billy Consolo. Williams got the A's second hit in the eighth, Jerry Lumpe got the other in the ninth.

The Senators, after losing three straight, beat Ray Herbert (3-2) with three runs in the first on two walks and singles by Dan Dobbek, Earl Battey and Reno Bertoia. Jim Lemon hit his sixth home run, tying Cleveland's Woodie Held for the AL lead, in the second inning, and Bob Allison socked his second, first since opening day, in the eighth.

Argos Name Ninth Import

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Argonauts picked up a ninth import Monday — the 20th American candidate so far for the Big Four team.

Willie Brown Jr., 225 - pound guard and linebacker from Southern Illinois University arrived at a long-shot contender for a place on the team.

Head coach Lew Agase is already expected to keep a minimum of one quarterback, three halfbacks, an end and two defensive specialists in his United States quota.

Briton Wins Empire Title

SWANSEA, Wales (AP)—Local boy Brian Curvis won the British Empire welterweight boxing title Monday night, outpointing champion George Barnes of Australia over 15 rounds.

The young Welshman, who has been fighting as a professional less than a year, was the clear winner with exhibition of cool and clever boxing. Both weighed 146 pounds.

Earlier British welterweight champion Wally Swift outpointed Larry Baker of New York in a 10-round bout. Swift, who weighed 148½ pounds, Baker 148.

Freddie Glover American League M.V. Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Scoring champion Freddie Glover of the Cleveland Barons was named Monday as the American Hockey League's most valuable player for the 1959-60 season.

Glover, 26-year-old native of Toronto, will receive the Les Cunningham Plaque and $300 bonus from the league.

The veteran right winger was a unanimous choice of hockey writers and broadcasters in the seven AHL cities. He collected 36 points—five from each city.

Glover scored 38 goals and 68 assists last season for 107 points to lead the circuit in scoring for the second time. He is also the AHL's all-time scoring pace-setter with 822 points, resulting from 339 goals and 483 assists.

Ed Chadwick, Rochester Americans goalie, was runnerup with 16 points. He was followed by Larry Zeidel of Providence Reds, 4 points; Steve Kraftcheck, Rochester; Bill Sweeney, Springfield Indians, 2; Phil Maloney, Buffalo Bisons, Harry Pidhirny, Springfield, and Bob Perreault, Hershey Bears, 1 each.

Cats Refuse Player Release

HAMILTON (AP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four football league have refused to give centre and linebacker Jim Taylor his release to play for Edmonton of the new American Football League this season.

Taylor, a Texan who joined the Tiger-Cats last summer after Duke Carlisle left National Football League, requested his release in February.

"I don't really care where I play football," Taylor, who moves back here two weeks said Monday. "I'd just as soon play in Hamilton."

Pitching — Camilo Pascual, Senators, gained his second three-hit victory of season, striking out 11, giving up nothing but singles and losing his shutout on an unearned, third-inning run in 8-1 decision over Athletics.

Hitting—Charlie Neal, Dodgers, hit three-run tie-breaking homer in ninth inning beat Pirates 7-4.

BAN BOXING

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The University of Wisconsin faculty voted Monday to ban competition in intercollegiate boxing, terming it "not an appropriate sport." The action came less than a month after the death of Wisconsin's Charles Mohr of Merrick, N.Y., as the result of a brain injury suffered in a National Collegiate Athletic Association bout at Wisconsin.

Vees' Hurler Wins Third; Beats Wings 2-1

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eli Grba is a tough man.

Not only does he have one of the toughest names in baseball to pronounce (It's Grr-ba), but he is giving the batters in the International League fits trying to make something of his pitching.

The Richmond Virginians hurler won his third straight Monday night, 3-1, over Rochester Red Wings, and ran his earned run average to 0.50 in 35 innings. All other IL activity—Buffalo Bisons - Columbus Jets, Miami Marlins-Montreal Royals, Havana Sugar Kings - Toronto Maple Leafs—was rained out.

Grba scattered five hits and struck out eight. He has allowed only two runs—both earned—in four starts and has given only 23 hits. What's more impressive is his 24 strikeouts against only 11 walks, and three complete games, two of which were shutouts.

WILD THROWS HELP

The Vees pushed over the winning run in the eighth after two were out. Deron Johnson reached first on Julio Golay's error, went to second on a wild pitch and continued to third on another. Dave Ricketts's wild throw. He scored one batter later when Jim Piscoi singled. Grba scored the first run in the third when he was forced home by Piscoi, who walked with the bases loaded.

Rochester pulled off a second triple play of the season in the second inning. With the bases loaded and none out, Bill Shantz' liner was snared by third baseman Bill Harrell, who stepped on third to get the second out and threw to second baseman Bob Sadowski to complete the triple play. Sadowski caught Granny Hamner off the bag.

Duke Carmel's double and Ricketts' single scored the Wings' only run in the fifth.

INGO WORKS OUT

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson, warming up for his June 20th defence against Floyd Patterson, boxed two rounds each with light - heavyweights Artie Towne and Bill Johnson Monday.

New 'Ingy' Trains for Fight, No Secret About His 'Right'

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — There's a "new" Ingemar Johansson of Sweden training for defence of his world heavyweight boxing championship high in this Catskill Mountain resort.

No longer is Johansson the easy - going, take-it-slow fighter that he was the last time he showed up here a year ago. He showed so little then that some folks feared for his life against champion Floyd Patterson.

Johansson cut down Patterson and won the title with a devastating right hand.

Ingemar began sparring Monday. He isn't hiding the right.

FASTEST HE'S BEEN

"I never saw him so fast," said sparring partner Artie Towne of New York. "Those rights, they were coming very fast."

Towne and Will Johnson went two rounds with the champion and both took dozens of sizzling rights to the head.

"Johnson was a flat-footed boxer when I stepped into the ring against him for the first time last year," said Towne. "He's a changed man now."

While he didn't cut loose with the full force of his blows, Johansson left no doubt as to how he intends to operate against Patterson in their return match at New York June 20.

Even when he isn't sparring, he is working on the right. Trainer Nils Blomberg has a "shining ball" which looks something like a muskmelon. He spins it and Johansson goes after the fast-moving target with rights for accuracy.

"I don't mind the training," said the 27-year-old champion. "In fact, I enjoy it a lot."

Predicts Big TV Coverage For Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—The closed-circuit television coverage of the ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson return heavyweight championship bout June 20 will be the widest in history, the president of TeleProm Inc predicted today.

Irving Kahn said, "We expect to have even more sites on the closed circuit this year than the record 174 we had for the Sugar Ray Robinson - Carmen Basilio middleweight title fight in 1958.

"The picture will be carried into ball parks and other sports arenas as well as theatres."

Major Leagues Homer Kings Form Non-Operating Union

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle of New York, Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee and Rocky Colavito of Detroit are high on the list of sluggers dragging their feet in the major league home run races.

Mantle has hit only one homer in 18 games. Mathews, last year's National League champion with 46, has three in 18 games while Colavito has three in 15 and none in his last 11. In the same number of games a year ago, Mathews had eight, Colavito four and Mantle three. And that's not all. Washington Harmon Killebrew, who shared the American League crown with Colavito with 42 in 1959, has walloped only two. However, Killebrew has been sidelined with a leg injury. Willie Mays of San Francisco also has two. And Charly Maxwell of Detroit, a bi-homer contributor for Detroit last year, has yet to get one this season.

The leaders through Sunday's games were Willie McCovey of San Francisco with eight in the National League and Woody Held of Cleveland with six in the American.

While Mays has been lagging in homers, the Giants' star continues to pace the National in batting with .425.

"I shot a deer today. Why do they build a zoo so close to the archery range?"

Chess Champion To Compete In 'Olympics'

MOSCOW (AP)—Mikhail Tal, 23, new world chess champion, told a press conference Monday he will take a two-month vacation and then compete in the chess "Olympics" at Leipzig.

The young king of the chess world—he is the youngest in history, it is claimed here — also said he may publish a book on his championship match with Mikhail Botvinnik, whom he unseated, with comment on his play.

Told reporters: "I know I made what appeared to be bad moves at times, but they served the purpose to make an opponent use up time figuring why I made such a move."

Yankees Long On Short

NEW YORK (AP)—If you had asked any member of New York Yankees to identify Billy Short two months ago, he probably would have scratched his head, then remember:

"Oh, yeah, that kid they had at Richmond last year."

Tonight, the same Short, 22 and less than two months out of the army, becomes the most important pitcher on the Yanks when he faces Cleveland Indians.

Short has compiled a 2.33 earned run average while winning two games and losing one. A 3-1 decision to Baltimore Orioles; He has one big problem—wildness — and has issued six walks in each game.

"I'm sure the only reason Billy has had control trouble is his late start this year," pitching coach Ed Lopat, who managed Short at Richmond last year, said Monday. "He had very good control at Richmond. He gave up only 36 walks in 179 innings.

Short's big advantage over most rookie flingers is that he has mastered the fine art of the changeup.

Montgomery Has Own Ideas For Upping Video Programs

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Montgomery, once the most debonair of Hollywood film heroes and more recently a TV producer and actor, has a simple explanation for the current low state of television programs.

"You can't mass-produce entertainment," he says.

And although Montgomery professes the greatest admiration for the medium itself, he's pooh-poohing a return to TV.

"I'd be interested in coming back, but only if I have the right — the freedom — to produce shows, sponsored or unsponsored, over a network. That means a network now in existence—or in existence in the future on a subscription basis—and without being discriminated against by being placed in a competitive position with shows produced by the networks themselves."

CONTROL TOO TIGHT

Montgomery feels that the networks control television too tightly and that shoddy quality results because they are unable to produce good hour-long dramatic shows.

"Large organizations are not keyed to producing good material," he says. "In the half hour shows, of course, no quality is required or given. But the good, live hour-long shows — Kraft, Philco, Studio One and the others — have all disappeared at the time our show did. That was when the networks decided to produce and control their own shows. Today there are practically no dramatic shows left — and significantly, most of the small producing units are gone, too."

Meanwhile, he hopes that subscription TV will come, and come soon.

"I think it will be terribly healthy," he adds. "And I think the reason the commercial networks are fighting it so hard is that they are afraid it will be successful."

Television, while quietly stocking up on next season's supplies of western and action tales, is noisily underwriting a little culture, too. CBS has ordered a new opera from Gian-Carlo Menotti and NBC will present the world premiere of Brigham Young, by Leonard Bernstein, as the first of four NBC opera productions next season.

CBS also has asked for a "contemporary ballet," based on the story of Noah from Igor Stravinsky and George Balanchine, the choreographer. The NBC Opera Company will also do Boris Godunov, Montemezzi's The Love of Three Kings, and, as usual, Menotti's Amahal and the Night Visitors.

On the Track

TORONTO (CP) — Windsor Field, owned by Mr. and Mrs. E.P. Taylor and ridden by a multi-talented Roddy Ellis Morrison, won the $7,500 Friar Rock Stakes at Toronto's Dufferin racing year of thoroughbred racing opened at Old Woodbine Park Monday.

Morrville was given the mount when Avelino Gomez was ill.

Although the weather was wet and cool, a surprisingly good crowd of 2,947 welcomed the return of racing to Toronto.

Says Prospects Good for New Pro League

WINNIPEG (CP)—Jack Perrin, general manager of Winnipeg Warriors of the Western Hockey League, said Monday there are "terrific prospects" for a new league including Winnipeg and mid-western United States cities.

He had just returned from a weekend meeting in St. Paul, Minn., where he talked with representatives of teams in the Intermediate League.

Although officials of the St. Paul club of the IHL dismissed talk of a new league as speculation, Perrin said in an interview: "The possibilities, in my mind, are terrific. This is what I'd like to see, and I believe the rest of the Western League feels the same way."

He said a number of cities in the amateur IHL would like a better calibre of hockey and are leaning towards an organized minor professional league.

Roger Torrey Got Help From Everyone in Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Roger Pugmire, a handsome giant, faced a bright future in the movies. Obviously he needed a new name.

In this era of Rips, Rocks and Tabs, he was offered these choices: Tank Smith, Silver Dean, Spats Noel, Bud Hill, Bolt Action, Red Rock, Levi Sock, Joshua Tree and Judd Butte.

"The one that killed me was suggested by someone at MGM: Bot Canyon," said Roger. "I couldn't stand any of them, so I took my mother's name, Torreson, and shortened it to Torrey."

Just a year out of Pocatello, Idaho, Roger Torrey seems on the road to success. He is 22 and stands six feet, five inches. He told rather wooderingly of the things that happened to him recently.

They say that Hollywood is supposed to be a tough town," he said, "but everybody has been nice to me here. I've gotten help wherever I turned."

Roger left home to find out what he wanted to do in life. He knew one thing: He didn't want to enter his parents' mobile business. So he came to California to find work. After five inches he told rather wooderingly of the things that happened to him recently.

"I'm not sure that Hollywood is supposed to be a tough town," he said, "but everybody has been nice to me here. I've gotten help wherever I turned."

Roger left home to find out what he wanted to do in life. He knew one thing: He didn't want to enter his parents' mobile business. So he came to California to find work. After five inches he told rather wooderingly of the things that happened to him recently.

"They say that Hollywood is supposed to be a tough town," he said, "but everybody has been nice to me here. I've gotten help wherever I turned."

Roger left home to find out what he wanted to do in life. He knew one thing: He didn't want to enter his parents' mobile business. So he came to California to find work. After five inches, he then heard that towering Jim Backus was a double for television's Gunsmoke.

"Jim and I hit it off well right from the start, and he took an interest in my well-being. He has been a great help in guiding my career."

Roger was born and reared in Pocatello, and his forebears were Mormon pioneers in Idaho.

And what do his westerners think of today's TV horse operas?

"They like them, and they tell me so do I," he answered. "But some of the others . . . I don't see why they don't have to be a law officer. And I don't agree with the range rule figures have been played. I've talked to some of the people who would know, and they say that men like Wyatt Earp and Bat Masterson weren't as good as they are portrayed on TV."

AT THE McCARTHY — Artists' reflection of a scene from "The Strangers of Bombay," Hammer Films new thriller released by Columbia Pictures, which opens today at the Starring the Guinn McCarthy and Belleville Drive-In Theatres. Red Cameron hit is "The Electronic Monster," featuring Rod Cameron and Mary Murphy.

AT THE PARK — Maurice Chevalier plays a show-biz-wise private eye in "Can-Can," musical comedy hit which opens today at the Park Theatre in co-starring with Gary Cooper and Audrey Hepburn. Alfred Astaire, who-the-town hit is now showing at the Park Theatre Wednesday and Thursday only, a two-way engagement only. Also on the program is "Hypnotic Eye" and Cinemascope "The Hunchback of Notre Dame", starring Gina Lollobrigida and Anthony Quinn. One complete show starts at 7.30.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Wednesday, May 11

General tendencies: The day-time is fine for whatever has to do with making some pretty comprehensive plans for the future. Be sure you do use every means to get adroit but honest nature to be a sensible system for the time. Then tonight you can be sure to state in words of one syllable exactly what you want that is new, untried, lofty.

Aries (March 2 to April 19) — During the morning you can get all of your monetary and private affairs in better order. Be certain to follow advice of financial authorities. P. M. fine for garnering new data, making new contacts, new friends.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — You can cement far better relations with associates today by getting right into those important new deals. Evening is then ideal for reaching greater rapprochment with loved one. Be understanding, devoted, yet firm.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — A very early start this morning will see you accomplishing much that is practical and lucrative. Evening will then be free to spend in the company of charming comrades who are cheerful and most devoted. Have fun.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — Be sure you take the testimonials that will bring out that innate charm today, then be off to tea, visit, etc., that please. Make it a point in P. M. to come to better understanding with following and fellow workers. Be kind.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Important you think of the welfare of close ties during day hours and be sure to get all of your basic affairs in order. Evening can then be a very happy one at the recreational outlets that most please and satisfy.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Fine day to get an early start on all visits, calls, shopping, etc. Advance in all material ways. P. M. put your abode in the very nicest order and then invite friends in for a bit of repartee, lots of chitchat.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Early make any repairs necessary to home, then make collections, pay bills. Get right on the beam. P. M. just fine to visit with good relatives and friends. So charming. Have fun.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — If you are very friendly with close ties and good pals, they will give you excellent ideas on how to get ahead faster. Use the positive approach. P. M. take inventory of holdings. Plan how to add to them materially.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — A. M. is fine for ferreting out that which puzzles and giving a helping hand to the truly needy. Later, increase your contacts, be very sociable and sign whatever agreements are stable and sure. Expand.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) — Intellectual friends extend the support you require and give you a mental uplift. A.M. then enjoy a charming luncheon or evening dinner together. P. M. help the needy. Do important research work.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Civic affairs can be handled very efficiently now, but be sure you get the support of most influential persons. Evening should be spent doing the social rounds and making fine contacts. Have an enjoyable time, too.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Many new ideas and much important data is within your reach now, so be sure you are alert to all the opportunities ahead. Also, show respect and gratitude to those who extend favors. P.M. be active and impress your employer.

If your child is born today ... he, or she, will soon show great ability to ferret out that which is puzzling and yet relatively unknown. So be sure to give your youngster the finest education possible. Adult years will be spent in travel that will be lucrative and very broadening. Your progeny will be an avid reader, so you must always have the finest books at hand to feed adequately this great mind.

SPY ACT AMENDED

MOSCOW (Reuters)—The Supreme Soviet has approved a decree amending the criminal responsibility of Soviet citizens recruited for spying against the Soviet Union. Under the amendment, a Soviet citizen recruited to spy against his homeland escapes criminal responsibility if he has not carried out any hostile activities and has voluntarily reported his connections to authorities.

SPLIT - LEVEL

Would you like to live on a quiet street—where there is no through traffic—and yet be close to town? Then, we have a mighty fine brick split-level home for you. Situated on a crescent of a quarter and it is now ready for occupancy. Has all the extras that you would expect in a home of distinction throughout. The living room is big 22—you could put a 9x12 rug in it, if you so chose. This one we must sell right away. Would be pleased to show it to you day or night and submit your offer. The downpayment is easy.

A LITTLE HOUSE

BUT what a wonderful place for retirement, not very far at all from downtown, yet it has the atmosphere of the country. Here's a home worth considering. It's as cute as a button, and it's in tip-top shape. Take care for when "retiring", it's always nice to have a little price — and we are sure it would make you more than a little happy. $8,200.

SOUTH CHURCH ST.

A 3-bedroom home plus an extra bedroom and rec room. A good investment or a good place to live yourself. Would like to show you it today. Taxes less than $100. $9,500.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

"Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a way to shrink hemorrhoids and relieve pain without surgery. In tests made on patients suffering from the most severe forms of hemorrhoids, 9 out of 10 reported relief from pain, and even more reported reduction or shrinkage (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was sustained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among those sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoidal conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Cross Canada Survey

Varsity Students No Longer In Position to Be Fussy About Summer Vacation Jobs

By DON BANRIGHT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The days have passed when almost any university undergraduate could survey the summer job field, pick a spot to his liking and then walk into it—without much effort—for four months.

Now most students will have to take their chances in the labor market, say National Employment Service officials in Ottawa. They no longer can be fussy about the type of summer work they will accept. They'll have to take what's going and hustle to get it.

A cross-Canada survey by The Canadian Press shows that in all provinces except Ontario university authorities are concerned over the extra job-hunting problems that 1960 has brought but commonly cited as a cause of the decline is a construction slowdown.

Still largely exempt from this situation, however, are the engineering students and the seniors in many other courses. And employment opportunities for graduate students vary from good to excellent.

OPTIONS ON PROFESSIONS

The toughest spot are students in the professional faculties of medicine, pharmacy, dentistry and especially law.

Economic conditions most universities expect the situation to be unusual. In British Columbia the picture is the most bleak it has been for the last two or three years, officials say. But the greatest contrast revealed in the survey is between Quebec and Ontario.

In Ontario all appears well with the job-hunting student. The universities of Toronto and Ottawa, along with Carleton University in Ottawa, report no trouble placing undergrads in May-to-September employment.

J. K. Bradford, head of the placement service at the University of Toronto, said that by the third week in April about 3,000 student job applications had been handled and there was "no trouble finding jobs for all of them." As many companies as usual, if not more, were offering spots for students.

PLENTY OF JOBS

A. S. Barber, Mr. Bradford's counterpart at the University of Waterloo in Waterloo, Ont., said there were not enough engineering students to fill the jobs available. Upwards of 100 undergraduates could have been placed in summer work if they had been available.

At Queen's University in Kingston employment bureau manager Pat Stewart said job prospects this spring are improved from last year. While construction and tourist-resort jobs were fewer, in other fields the picture was encouraging. Undergraduates in metallurgy, chemistry and mechanical engineering were in good demand. All commerce students had jobs—and in a few cases there were more jobs than students.

Officials at the University of Western Ontario were "reasonably optimistic" about 1960 prospects. However, for the last three summers employment for students had been getting more difficult, some of them having to wait two or three weeks before finding any work. Job offers to students were appearing later every year.

Contrast this with the Quebec picture:

Poor summer employment prospects are reported by spokesmen for McGill University and the University of Montreal. At Laval University, the placement bureau said prospects don't appear as good this year as last, when about 800 of 1,000 student applicants were placed.

BLEAK OUTLOOK

Rowan Coleman, director of McGill's placement service, said hundreds of McGill students "are going to have a great deal of difficulty finding work to keep them going through the summer and help them pay for next year's education." Even some of the engineering students who needed practical summer experience were having difficulty finding work.

Mr. Coleman's explanation for the situation:

1. Increasing adoption of a two-week shutdown by whole plants for employees' summer holidays, eliminating the need for individual replacements.

2. Completion of large construction projects launched in the early 1950s.

3. Organizational changes within firms — changes reducing summer work.

In Ottawa, national employment authorities were asked to comment on these points and the general feeling among placement officers that a construction decline has affected the undergraduate's chances.

One official noted that the main slowdown this year has been in construction of private dwellings. House contractors never have many students for summer work, he said, because they have their regular crews. Meanwhile, industrial building and engineering surveys were going ahead.

He doubted, too, whether any trend toward midsummer holiday shutdowns by industrial plants has become pronounced—or will, in the near future. This pattern may be developing in the automotive industry. But in most others such as steel, it would be impossible.

How will the undergrad be affected this year by the Canadian unemployment roll? There were 328,000 unplaced Canadian job applicants at April 1—the latest available figure.

The student who displays a real willingness to work won't be affected, the official replied. The unplaced applicants list always includes many men making no great effort to find work. The jobs were there, and the student with the incentive to search for them would succeed.

In brief, this is the picture east and west as shown by the survey:

Newfoundland—From a student enrolment of 1,200 at Memorial University, 150 have applied for jobs with a student job-hunting committee but at April 21 there were only 30 jobs. It was estimated that nine out of 10 student job-seekers would be successful.

Prince Edward Island—Prospects never are bright, due to a lack of industry. Biggest student opportunities are with the provincial highways department. Some undergraduates go to the mainland and such jobs as budworm spraying in New Brunswick.

Nova Scotia—National Employment Service officer at Dalhousie University reported job opportunities "on the quiet side." In late April about one-third of the 300 to 400 student job applicants were still seeking work.

New Brunswick — NES says prospects are poor, and not as good as last spring. At the University of New Brunswick, a spokesman said, the situation is "very difficult." First- and second-year engineering and science students have "not a hope" and arts undergraduates are "begging for jobs."

Manitoba — The NES regional office said 7,000 undergrads in the prairie provinces were looking for jobs through NES. The outlook appeared a little brighter than in 1959, but it would be difficult to place most students until seasonal work opened up more fully.

Saskatchewan—Students of Regina College of the University of Saskatchewan are not expected to have much difficulty. There is a chance for unskilled labor on the South Saskatchewan River dam project at Outlook.

Alberta — A University of Alberta spokesman said there are "twice as many students as jobs available". Opportunities this year were down slightly because of a slowness in the start of construction work.

British Columbia—A UBC spokesman describes the situation as the worst it has been for the last two or three years. Of some 6,000 male applicants, 1,500 still were unplaced at April 20 and only half the 1,500 female applicants had found jobs. About 25 to 35 per cent of applicants depended for jobs on the construction industry, which had slowed down.

American Planes Crossed Canada But Not Spying

On Weather Flights, Left Soviet Air Alone

OTTAWA (CP)—American aircraft of the type that was shot down over Russia May 1 have made flights over Canadian territory—but not for the purpose of spying on the Soviet Union, Defence Minister Pearkes said in a statement Tuesday night.

He said that American U-2s have flown over Canada on weather reconnaissance and visited Soviet air space.

"No U-2 plane which might have flown any missions over Communist territory had operated from Canadian bases.

Mr. Pearkes' statement was in reply to one made in the Commons Monday by External Affairs Minister Green that Canada was unaware the U-2 was flying reconnaissance missions across Soviet borders at all.

Mr. Green assured the House Tuesday that Canadian anxiety about the danger of such missions to world peace had been made clear to Washington. He also described as "wild speculation" press reports that there had been spy flights over Russia which continued after last May eight.

He said that time lists on these planes have been spotted by the DEW radar line in the Canadian Arctic, it had never been possible to confirm that the unknowns were Soviet planes.

Russia claims the American plane downed 1,200 miles within the Soviet's borders May 1 was on a spy mission and that it proceeded to bombard bases from which U.S. reconnaissance flights originate.

Mr. Pearkes re-phasized that the weather flights are restricted to North American air space. They were designed to gather scientific information on cloud formations, jet stream movement, atmosphere and radiation, and the planes involved were unarmed.

In Washington Tuesday night a spokesman for the Atomic Energy Commission and Space administration confirmed that U-2s "jets" have never been operated out of Canada the plane took off from Alaska.

On June 3, 1958, Prime Minister Diefenbaker dealt in the Commons with conditions under which U.S. bombers carry nuclear weapons over Canadian territory. He said that "there is a standing prior permission from Canada for flights from time to time with respect to, specific application. And there is a blanket authority. The weapons are rendered safe to avoid the possibility of accident."

Mr. Diefenbaker emphasized that none of the flights had approached or been to the Canadian U.S.S.R. border.

DEMAND INSPECTION

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian Association of Consumers' members should write their members of the Ontario legislature demanding compulsory provincial inspection of meat, Miss R. W. Morningstar told the Ontario association's annual meeting Tuesday night. The association executive man said 2,000 dead animals are found in municipal dumps each year in Ontario and recently two animals were found dead or 250 each two days after they drowned.

RUSSIA HINTS AT REPRISALS IN POLITE NOTE

Why Shouldn't We Copy U.S.? It Asks

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia has charged the United States government with aiding and abetting commanders alone — with responsibility for American spy flights over Soviet soil, and indicated that U.S. spy pilot Francis Powers may stand trial for espionage.

Moscow Radio today followed up the protest note to Washington with a strong hint that further flights over Russia might trigger a Soviet blow at an air base in the U.S.

A broadcast beamed to North America revealed that Washington had repeatedly announced that at the first sight of enemy planes approaching the continental states, American bombers would be ordered to deliver a return blow.

"Why then shouldn't the U.S.S.R. do likewise when it finds a U.S. plane in its territory?" the commentator demanded.

MOSCOW'S NOTE

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko handed the Soviet protest note to U.S. charge d'Affaires Edward Lee Dawey Tuesday. It said:

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)

"What a heck of a note for a boy to join the navy to see the world and then go around it underseas!"

This was the comment made Tuesday by Robert Sawyer of Middletown when he heard that his son, Gary, 20, was one of the crew members of the nuclear submarine Triton—the first ship to go around the world under water.

Crown Charges Four in York Township

TORONTO (CP) — Attorney-General Kelso Roberts said today charges will be laid under the Criminal Code against four men involved in a suburban York Township municipal affairs inquiry.

Included in the four men is Magistrate Fred Hall, former reeve of the township, and now chairman of the Metropolitan Toronto Licensing Commission.

He, Harry Wilson, Graham and Councillor Harold Eakins, who submitted his resignation Monday, will be charged with corruption under section 104 of the Criminal Code, Mr. Roberts said.

The fourth man, contractor Maunie Baker, is to be charged with perjury under Section 112 of the Criminal Code.

Mr. Roberts, who has been studying the 205-page report on township affairs by Hamilton Magistrate Sweet, said he will reply his announcement of charges later today.

Three provincial police inspectors have been carrying out investigations since the report was issued last week.

BATTLE BOWS, ARROWS

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (CP)—Police quickly quelled 50 persons Monday who were arrested after a pitched battle in which a Congolese tribe fought with bows and arrows against army rifles and tear gas. Two Congolese were killed in the clash, which took place during the weekend.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: The sluggish motion of the disturbance which has plagued Ontario with damp, unsettled weather remains ill will remain in the area for another day. It is weakening, however, and is expected to merge with weather systems along the Atlantic seaboard. As this takes place drier air which has moved into northwestern areas will spread southward, giving slowly improving conditions by the remainder of the province Thursday. Little change in temperature is expected.

K. Uncertain About Ike Visiting Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchov said today the spy plane incident had changed his estimate of President Eisenhower and they will discuss in Paris whether the American leader should come to Moscow as planned.

He made the statement as he stood on a wicker chair talking to correspondents amidst the wreckage of the plane he says was shot down May 1 east of the Urals.

One of the reporters asked him point blank: "Do you want Eisenhower to come here in view of the plane incident?"

"What do you want me to say?" Khrushchev replied. "You got in to my place here and reply for me."

WOMAN WIELDS GUN

CALGARY (CP) — A Calgary woman, apparently calmed by her husband's persuasion, gave up a shotgun barricade Monday that was taken to police headquarters. Earlier she had wielded the gun in threatening a policeman investigating reports she had broken two windows in an apartment building. Police formed a cordon around the house until her husband returned home. Neighbors said the woman had been breaking windows in the area for years.

Queen Mother Starts Visit To Strife-Torn Rhodesia

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (Reuters)—The Queen Mother arrived here by air today from Northern Rhodesia for a three - week tour scheduled to take her into an area where African violence has flared.

The area is Northern Rhodesia's copper-mining region which Queen Elizabeth's 59 - year - old mother is scheduled to visit from 21-22 on her visit to Britain's central African federation of Northern and Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

Main purpose of her tour is to open Rhodesia's giant Kariba dam, a hydro-electric project, on Tuesday.

Colonial Secretary Iain Macleod said in London Tuesday that there were no plans to alter the Queen Mother's program in the light of violence in Northern Rhodesia, but added that the situation would be "watched carefully in the next few days."

Thousand Timmins Citizens Forced From Homes by Flood

TIMMINS (CP)—A three-block section of Timmins city was being evacuated today as the flooding Mattagami River which has already 250 homes awash in suburban Mountjoy Township swirled higher.

The river, was rising at a steady rate of one inch an hour and civil defence officials said there was no indication when the peak would be reached.

By 11 a.m. EDT today 1,100 persons had been removed from their homes in Mountjoy.

Rescue crews were trying to reach the others isolated on nearby farms cut off from outside communities Tuesday. Many of the farmers did not want to leave because of their cattle and livestock.

Logs from broken upriver booms were complicating the situation today. Thousands of huge timbers were rolling down on the racing current, creating a hazard for both rescue crews and threatening homes already surrounded by up to eight feet of water.

Some 4,000 of these logs were piled up against the piers of the concrete bridge which is the only link between Timmins and Mountjoy Township across the Mattagami. Lumbermill crews were trying to clear the jam and police have started a 24-hour watch on the structure.

Police reservists in the troubled Northern Rhodesian copper belt were called up for active duty Tuesday. Last week Negroes began attacking whites after authorities broke up a political rally.

Extra police from other ports of the country were sent into the area following weekend violence.

About 1,000 whites met at Mufulira Tuesday night and called for the resignation of Northern Rhodesia's Governor Sir Evelyn Hone. They also demanded permission for "every sane and sober European over 21" to carry arms.

Territorial Minister Rodney Malcolmson told a meeting of 2,000 whites at Kitwe that Negro nationalist leaders must be restrained. He said the growing unrest was planning the best way to "exterminate each race."

The government said "I don't know" had all they can take from the murderous thugs," Malcolmson added.

KENNEDY VICTORY UPS MOMENTUM FOR NOMINATION

Knocks Humphrey Clean Out of Race

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Senator John F. Kennedy's thundering primary victory in this state has vastly increased the momentum of his drive for the Democratic presidential nomination.

For one thing, it has given him a counter-argument to use against those who say a Roman Catholic cannot win the presidency of the United States.

The Massachusetts contender not only rolled over Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota but also knocked him out of the presidential race completely.

At 2:00 a.m. Humphrey conceded. Minutes later he issued a statement in which he said:

"I do not believe I am qualified for the Democratic presidential nomination."

THANKS VOTERS

Kennedy, a Roman Catholic running in a predominantly Protestant state, thanked the voters. "I had no doubt," he said in Washington, "that today that you would cast your vote on the basis of the issues and not on any religious prejudice."

With 1,396 of the 2,750 polls reporting, Kennedy had 104,000 votes and Humphrey 69,298.

The Massachusetts senator evidently unexpected, but the size of his victory.

A few observers had thought that Kennedy might take a beating here. But nearly all agreed it was that it would be close, with the edge to Humphrey, a Congressional native of Minnesota.

Castro Closes Oldest Paper In Country

HAVANA (AP) — Pro-government unions early today seized the 141-year-old Diario de la Marina, oldest newspaper and the loudest critic of Premier Fidel Castro and his regime.

The 128-year-old morning paper was taken over by the Graphic Arts Union and the National Confederation of Labor Workers, spearheads of the campaign to bring the Cuban press completely behind Castro.

A spokesman for the newspaper's management said Tuesday the two unions said they were "intervening" the paper because its counter-revolutionary position could no longer be tolerated in the revolutionary state.

Officials of the unions said, after the paper's last edition, that the paper had "abandoned" their direction of the journal. This was the same reason given by the two unions when they took over Adelante, Communist Party paper, Jan. 18.

Editors of Diario leaves only one outspokenly anti-Castro paper remaining in Cuba, La Prensa Libre, and two other pro-Castro papers which are not considered to be government mouthpieces, Hoy and El Crisol.

Diario, a conservative, militantly anti-Communist paper, was founded by Jose Ignacio Rivero, a 29-year-old Cuban lawyer and journalist. The paper had been in his family since 1895.

HONOR FROST

KINGSTON (CP)—The Royal Military College here will confer honorary doctor of laws degree on Dwight D. Eisenhower at convocation ceremonies May 30. The college honored Prime Minister Diefenbaker similarly last year.

Swiss Oust Two Russians For Spying

BERN, Switzerland (Reuters)—The Swiss government, the Soviet Embassy in Bern have been asked "to leave Switzerland immediately" for spying, the Swiss government announced today.

The announcement said the two Russians were arrested in Zurich Tuesday night as they were talking to an agent in the part of the Soviet espionage service.

The two Russians released to have received from the agent plans of Swiss Army radar establishments and information on the organization of the Swiss Army, as well as plans on the rocket bases in West Germany.

Stronger Stand Against Apartheid By Canada Asked by United Church

TORONTO (CP) — The United Church of Canada has called upon Prime Minister Diefenbaker for a stronger policy by Canada in the United Nations against South Africa's apartheid program of racial segregation.

In a statement sent the prime minister and made public here Tuesday, the executive of the church's general council said it "looks forward anxiously to a change of policy in the direction of responsible involvement while yet there is time."

Canada's present stand on matter racial questions could be construed as neutralism, the statement said.

"The present inter-racial issues developing so ominously in Africa," the executive said, "have moral and executive implications for all minorities in the developing globe. . . .

"We believe that Canada's voice on such matters as racial discrimination needs to be heard much more significantly in the United Nations.

"We believe that Canada's influence among the Afro-Asian members — many of which owe their membership so largely to Canada's efforts — could be deteriorate if Canada continues at the UN a policy which could be construed as neutralism on major racial questions."

Ike Is Doubtful Plane Shot Down At High Altitude

Is Still Hopeful Summit Meet Will Ease Tension

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia today rejected President Eisenhower's latest appeal for an "open skies" agreement and went surprise attack.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said the proposal, originally made by Eisenhower at the 1955 summit conference, was made in total disregard of American military intelligence.

"Obviously the Soviet government could not accept the open skies idea," he said. "The Soviet Union is and will be firmly closed."

(Eisenhower told a Washington news conference today he would ask again at the summit conference next week for an "open skies" agreement.)

Gromyko denounced an American claim that Soviet planes had flown on spy missions over American or NATO territory. He told a press conference "the open sky idea is alien to Soviet policy."

At the same time Gromyko warned that Russia would shoot down any foreign planes which violated Soviet into Soviet territory.

He also told foreign correspondents in Moscow that Russia "respects civilian" foreign bases used by the United States for espionage flights over Soviet territory.

Gromyko's statement followed an exhibition of wreckage of the American U-2 aircraft shot down

Student Urges Canada Drop Out Of Nuclear Race

NORTH BAY (CP)—A University of Toronto student Tuesday called on all Canadians to "urge our government to drop out of the nuclear race altogether."

Ian Cameron made a talk at this city climaxing a student demonstration by 100 university students and a Canadian involvement in the nuclear arms race.

Toronto student Norman Johnston and various crowds of onlookers they said that their members of Parliament and Prime Minister Diefenbaker protesting the construction of a missile base here. The Bomarc base was the scene Monday morning of the first demonstration by members of the combined universities campaign for nuclear disarmament. Students from six Ontario and Quebec universities took part.

ELEPHANT DIES

BOSTON (AP)—Jumbo, a performing elephant with Ringling brothers circus and the Barnum & Bailey circus, died Monday at the Franklin Park zoo. She was 68. Curator Walter E. Shoop said Jumbo died of "complications due to advanced age." Jumbo had been here since 1942. In 1882 Canada, children polished her out as "the last of her kind."

Survivors of Prospecting Party Tell Grim Tale of Suicide, Death

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP) — A grim tale of suicide and death by starvation in the Little Nahanni Valley was told Tuesday by two members of a five-man prospecting party.

The Nahanni Valley is in the Northwest Territories near the Yukon Territory boundary with the mouth of the Liard River northwest of Edmonton and 300 miles west of Fort Simpson.

Dead is Alex Meikonen, killed in a self-imposed dynamite explosion March 29. Missing and believed dead are Tony Pappas and Willie Webb.

In hospital is Dean Rosswarne, 23, of Toronto, a prospector, a younger man, was released from hospital shortly after his arrival here Saturday.

The five men went into the valley—known by many as Headless Valley—last October to prospect on behalf of a Yellowknife group. They thought they were to be picked up March 3 at their camp on McMillan Lake, but no plane arrived and food supplies rapidly disappeared during the ordeal.

Pappas and Webb, driven by hunger, left the camp on foot in April for the settlement at Nahanni Butte, a 110-mile hike over treacherous terrain, in search party is being organized but there is little hope of finding the men alive.

Rosswarne and Richardson were picked up Saturday by Buck and Jim McAvoy of Yellowknife, flying a Cessna 180.

For two months, the men said in an interview, they stayed on a diet of dog meat, squirrel, paste made from flour, cracking and boiling the dog bones for the marrow inside. For several weeks prior to the rescue, they added, their only food was the paste and moosehide, boiled to a jelly-like consistency.

Although they had plenty of fishing equipment and had tried fishing through the ice they had caught nothing.

Rosswarne lost 55 pounds during the ordeal.

CITY AND DISTRICT NEWS

DISTRICT STUDENTS TO GRADUATE JUNE 4

Students receiving their diplomas at the graduation exercises at Kemptville Agricultural School on June 4 are, from Ontario: Miss Gardner of Deseronto, Kirby Nelson, of Keene, Vella Post of Demorestville, Leonard Woddingham of Napanee, Wayne Kerr of Campbellford, Robert McCutcheon of Napanee, Eric Beck of Carrying Place, Norman Gray of Marysville, Victor Hall of Orono and William Tomlinson of Orono.

SIX FOREST FIRES IN TWEED DISTRICT

Six forest fires occurred in the Tweed Forestry District during the past week, two to the account of area zone near Lavant and three east of Tamworth. Three of these fires were blazing on carelessness with burning smoking materials, one started from a fisherman's neglected camp fire and two resulted from lightning. Fire fighters were able to get the fires under control quickly and the burned areas were small.

BELLEVILLE MAN PRESIDES OVER ELECTRONIC MEET

Mr. O. L. Bell of the Bell "A" Company Ltd., Belleville, president of the Canadian Electronic Wholesalers' Association, was chairman at the fifth annual meeting and national convention of this association held recently in Montreal, Que.

During the convention, which drew the largest attendance of members from Eastern and Western Canada of any previous annual meeting, a new Board of directors was elected and installed. Mr. Bell was elected chairman of the board.

He was also elected to the four-member executive committee for Eastern Canada.

To Seek Subsidy For Surfacing Of Front Street

Belleville city council will seek a 50 per cent subsidy on its expenditure of approximately $100,000 for surfacing the travelled portion of Front Street between the Upper Bridge and the intersection of Front and Bridge Streets.

At Monday night's meeting of council, the Mayor and the clerk were authorized to sign a highway link agreement with the Department of Highways requesting the subsidy.

Alderman Jack Riffle, as chairman of public works, said an amount of $8,000 had been placed in the budget for re-paving of part of Front Street, but if the 50 per cent subsidy was not obtained from the Department only part of the anticipated resurfacing could be done, namely as far as Victoria Avenue.

Alderman Ellis noted plans are called for paving only the travelled portion of the street. He agreed the entire street width needed re-surfacing but said this would cost $20,000 and it just money than had been placed in the budget.

It is hoped the re-surfacing job could be started by June or July and, regardless of whether the 50 per cent provincial subsidy is received, the $8,000 provided in the budget will be used this year.

Bancroft Miners Get Increase Of Nine Cents

OTTAWA (CP) — Wage increases amounting to nine cents an hour by March 16, 1961, have been granted to employees of Bicroft Uranium Mines Limited of Bancroft, the labor department said Tuesday.

The increases form part of the settlement of a labor dispute between the company and District 16, United Steelworkers of America (CLC).

Under a new agreement starting March 16, the workers will receive a wage increase of four cents an hour effective last April 1. They also receive an additional five cents an hour March 16, 1961.

Frequent Rains Hold up Seeding Work

Frequent rains of the past several weeks have served to hold up seeding operations in Hastings county with only very small parts of the spring sowing yet done and many farmers still not having started spring's work.

Farmers with high well drained fields are finding it now possible to do some spring sowing although with the very wet weather there still has been very little growth.

Stirling, Marmora, Hastings county agricultural representative at Stirling, stated that what rain breaks does come they will be able to get the ground quickly with the mechanized equipment with which most farms are now equipped.

Mr. McDonald said fall wheat and meadows generally were wintered very well, but the cold wet weather has so far resulted in very little growth. He said meadows appeared okay, but a few fields of fall wheat were starting to look a bit yallow.

Can Solve Trade Problems Japanese Diplomat Asserts

All problems arising from trade differences between Canada and Japan can be solved if there is mutual understanding, willingness for frank consultation and for compromise," Mr. Yoshitaka Ushimura second secretary, (agriculture) of the Japanese Embassy in Ottawa, told members of the Belleville Kinsmen Club Monday.

Mr. Ushimura addressed the weekly luncheon meeting of the club on the topic, "Japan's Economic Conditions and Trade Relations."

In tracing the general trend of Japan's economic evolution and her trade problems and relations with under-developed countries, Communist countries, and highly developed North American and West-European countries, the speaker stressed that Japan is completely dependent on foreign trade.

"Literally, we must export to live," he said.

He explained that because of the dense population and lack of natural resources, Japan must import raw materials to enable it to expand industry, and also products to feed the 93,000,000 population.

Commenting on trade between Canada and Japan he said it has made "very satisfactory development" since Canada's entry into conclusion of the trade agreement in 1954.

Trade for 1959

He said Japanese trade with Canada in 1959 recorded the highest trade volume ever, with Japan imported 129 million dollars worth of Canadian goods and exported in return approximately 102 million dollars worth of Japanese goods.

Mr. Ushimura said Canada as a "big trading nation," is an "important trade partner of Japan."

While noting some of Japan's exports are competitive with some Canadian domestic industries and causing "grievances," Mr. Ushimura said Japan is willing to take "any possible measures" to help Canada's industry in Canadian producers of that particular commodity which Japan is exporting to Canada.

He added that competition is a "healthy thing" and provided it is not too excessive or unfair, there is always a limited number of Japanese exports are creating "a real difficulty" in Canada.

"As you know, last Thursday we announced the quota system concerning textiles and stainless steel flatware products into this country for the year 1960. As a result of this, we placed quota restrictions on a variety of cotton garments and many other textile items," he said.

He added these measures — such as prescription of minimum standard prices, of or minimum price, and the export quota system — are voluntary ones, administered by the respective Japanese exporters' associations.

BEST WHEAT CUSTOMER

Noting that Japan is the best customer for Canadian wheat and other grains, he disclosed this year Japan will import approximately 45,000,000 bushels of wheat from Canada.

Pulp, iron ore, coal and other mineral products are also imported from Canada, and in the very near future other industrial raw materials, such as uranium ore, natural gas, and crude oil, will be added to Japan's import list.

He disclosed Canadian experts have benefit from the Japanese government's far-reaching program of import liberalization, including abolition of the dollar discrimination still maintained on a few items.

Mr. Ushimura was introduced by Gregory Thayne, and thanked by Bill Wills. Added thanks of the meeting were expressed by president George Tripp, who presented the speaker with a Kinsmen Club club's appreciation.

Among the guests present were Earl Dicknoether, secretary-manager of the local Chamber of Commerce, and chamber member, Charles Hyde.

Next week Kinsmen chairman Ken Flinder announced the annual Kinsmen Trade Show, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, will be held May 26th.

Will Appear On Television Talent Show

Two young local acrobatic dancers, Iris Lobnes and Jackie Cook, will be among the contestants appearing on the Talent Caravan program Thursday evening to be seen over the CBC national television net work commencing at 8:30. The program is seen locally over Kingston TV channel 11.

The two young girls auditioned for the show some weeks ago and were invited to go to Toronto to appear on the nationally televised talent show.

Kingston Man Tells of Work For Retarded

The regular monthly public meeting of the Belleville and District Association for Retarded Children was held last week at Prince Charles Public School. The president, Mr. Alvin Parkhurst, presided.

Recreation chairman Mrs. Audrey Parkhurst reported that Amherstview together—with Mr. "Red" Doran and the Belleville Recreation Committee is to operate a playground for retarded children. Over Belleville girls and a girl from Picton will act as counsellors this summer at Gudgeon Kiwanis Club's camp, Belwood, for retarded children. A charge for $100 was received at the meeting from the Northport Lions Club.

Mr. Douglas R. Cornu, past president of the Kingston and District Association for Retarded Children, spoke to the group, telling some of the club's history of that association. A house was bought to serve as a hostel for retarded children in Kingston and surrounding districts. Transportation of the children to and from school was provided financed at $2000 a month for taxi fares. The Kingston Association now transports by bus 40 children to the classes given by the Kiwanis Club of that city.

Mr. Cornu stated that a great deal of counselling is done, as parents people do not know about mental retardation and the proper steps to take when a child is retarded. From the formation of the workshop by interested educators realize that the teaching of reading and writing is important but that the real training and rewarding for the children is in the field of handicrafts, playing and working together. Another realization is that repetitive tests are necessary and need a great deal of love from others.

One need not be a parent of a retarded child to join the Belleville and District Association for Retarded Children. Membership is open to all interested persons.

Two to Attend Ontario C of C Annual Meeting

Knox David and Earl Dicknoether, president and manager of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, will be representing this city at the 46th annual meeting of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce being held in Toronto from today through Friday. At the meeting the policies of the provincial body regarding such matters as labor relations, municipal affairs and agriculture will be decided for the coming year. Resolutions which may be proposed by any member will be considered. Of particular interest to the Belleville Chamber delegates will be a resolution regarding the deepening of the dredging and marking of the Trent-Severn inland waterway, which will be up for consideration of the meeting.

Over 240 members will be represented, Mr. Dicknoether in his report yesterday evening, and each Chamber is allowed one vote.

The principal speaker at the annual meeting will be Premier E. Coyne, Governor of The Bank of Canada, who will speak at the annual dinner meeting. Also of special interest to delegates will be a special panel discussion on Friday entitled "The Problem of Automation." Dr. J. Parkin, chairman of Queen's University, at Kitchener, and will include such eminent Canadian businessmen as D. C. Willmot, president of Acme-Imperial Company, Robert B. Bradley, president of International Harvester of Canada, George L. Wilcox, president of Canadian Westinghouse, and Allyn Taylor, president of Canada Trust Company and Huron and Erie Mortgage.

Honor Publisher

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)— H. Leslie, 84-year-old owner of The Review, was honored Tuesday night at a testimonial dinner to mark his half century as a publisher. Mr. Leslie has the longest record as a publisher in Canada.

Guests at the dinner included Labor Minister Daley of Ontario and Liberal leader John Wintermeyer.

(Born in Walkerton, Mr. Leslie became publisher of the Tavistock Gazette in 1900 and four years later bought the weekly Review, which became a daily in 1914.

Kinsmen Plan Busy Program At Their Pool

This year the local Kinsmen Club will be sponsoring an improved and expanded program of swimming activities supervised by Doug Hicks, currently of the local YMCA staff, club members were told by president Lorne Jones at their regular weekly meeting last Monday evening. The new program will include adult learn-to-swim classes and special use of the Kinsmen pool on Dundas Street, East, upon arrangement, for parties, business concerns, educational groups and swimming teams.

DOUGLAS PATON

It is expected that the pool will be open for use before and weekend use from June 1st, when the weather is suitable. The Kinsmen pool by public, private, and high school physical education classes during school hours for instruction in water safety is hoped for. Mr. Paton, a qualified swimming instructor will be in charge of the pool's operation.

One of the features planned for the operation of the Kinsmen pool is that a voluntary leadership training will be conducted in which boys and girls over the age of 14 may take part in such as checkers, locker room attendants, and junior assistant life guards and instructors in charge for swimming privileges.

In this manner each of the responsibility for the good upkeep of the pool will be acting as a life with the teen-agers using it.

Mr. Paton outlined the above plans to the Kinsmen members following the announcement of his appointment as pool manager. The pool's operation is in the hands of the Kinsmen Club and the Belleville Recreation Committee. Recreational director Lloyd Brown will be acting as co-ordinator for the pool's operation this summer. Enquiries and bookings regarding the pool will be handled through his office.

Club president Lorne Jones introduced Lyn Johnston and was aided at the Shrine Club.

Life, Death Main Topics at Medical Meet

TORONTO (CP) — Life and death were two of the main topics discussed at the Ontario Medical Association's annual meeting Tuesday.

Dr. G. Allen, a Buffalo anaesthetist, said mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration is by far the best method of resuscitation. He said 19 of 21 surveyed cases of "near drowning" survived without ill effects although two died following hours of apparent success.

Dr. Elam scoffed at the idea coral resuscitation be approved by the governors, Richard Rohmer, "A rescue situation is very president for Watergreen, said financial chaos would result for the different from the conference shareholder owners. They would lose room where each gentlement "tremendously."

EXPRESSES OPTIMISM

Mr. Waters, on the other hand, said he is thrilled by the Seaforth Seelgrove's broadcasting expert, Watergreen could put CKPT into the black by Christmas.

The transfer application calls for Watergreen to take over all the outstanding shares in CKPT. The investment firm, in which Mr. Waters is president, will receive shares equally, would retain $3 per cent of the shares and sell the rest—20 per cent of it to Peterborough viewers.

Mr. Rohmer already has taken over the station management and has filed with the transport department in Ottawa the written applications of several persons to participate in the new operation.

Board member Carlyle Allison said how "you can unscramble this omelet" if the BBG didn't allow the stock transfer.

Mr. Allen said the present owners would have to find both new capital and new management, if they couldn't obtain either, increasing revenue would be only answer to the present financial predicament.

Also to be heard this week is an application for a change in the ownership of radio station CFRA Ottawa.

U.S. Charge Mead-Johnson Ltd. Denies Harmful Fluorine in Pablum

TORONTO (CP) — A leading United States opponent of fluoridation of water said Tuesday he was told a packaged baby food known as Pablum contains harmful quantities of fluorine.

Dr. Frederick B. Exner of Belleville, Wash., told a special commission on fluoridation here that Pablum contains boneseal in which there is fluorine.

"I have heard it said there were 14 parts per million of fluorine in it," he told Mr. Justice K. G. Morrow, who is conducting the public hearings, now in their second week.

"Those who favor fluoridated drinking water recommend that sodium fluoride be added to the ratio of one part per million as a means to prevent tooth decay. Yet, Pablum, a baby food, is made in Canada when fluorine is present in the diluted teeth—an effect of too much fluorine.

"We've never had a drink of fluoridate water in the United States. They must have got it through ingestion or in other ways than through drinking water—through Pablum, probably."

He said fluorine is ingested not only through fluoridated water but through fruits and vegetables that have been sprayed with fluorine compounds as a protection against insects.

Dentist

In Belleville, Gerald Winhart, vice-president in charge of manufacturing Pablum for Mead Johnson of Canada Limited, said there has been no bone meal in pablum for eight years.

To set the record straight bone meal used to be an ingredient in Pablum but it was removed from the formula about eight years ago.

We do periodic checks for fluorine content," Mr. Winhart added, "and there are negligible traces of it in Pablum."

He denied the amount can be between one and two parts per million.

"Frankly, our medical department sees no need for getting it any lower than that."

Want to Acquire Peterborough Radio Station

EDMONTON (CP) — Two veteran Ontario broadcasters went before the Board of Broadcast Governors Tuesday with a proposal to buy and revive the floundering Peterborough radio station and , make it tick financially.

The application to take over control and ownership of radio station CKPT was made by Watergreen Investments Limited, which controls the ownership and policies owner of radio station CHUM Toronto, and Rohmer Dyment president of radio station CKPR Barrie.

Their appearance before the governors marked the first time the two have appeared together in a transfer of stock in a broadcasting station. It has been discussed in a public hearing.

Under a BBG policy announcement in 1958, such proposals will be followed on all future licences involving a change in station control or ownership. Minor transactions will continue to be considered by the governors in camera.

$40,000 LOSS

Gurston Allen, vice-president of Peterborough Broadcasting Company Limited which now owns CKPT, said he is acting at a loss $40,000 loss since going on the air last December.

He attributed the loss to inexperienced management, underestimation of the first year requirements for the new station, and the fact that the Peterborough economy is now trailing $12,000-a-month expenses by some $5,000 a month.

"This is not a case of trafficking in a broadcasting licence," Mr. Allen said. It was a question of finding "the right key for the right lock," Mr. Rohmer added. He would be selling out to Watergreen at no profit whatever.

Asked by BBG members what would happen if the ownership change had not been approved by

Stock Shortage Sends Canadian Funds to U.S.'

TORONTO (CP)—Shortage of suitable Canadian investments is sending some Canadian investment money to the United States, Lloyd N. Whitten, manager of the investment department of the Montreal Trust Company, said today.

Mr. Whitten, who addressed a conference on pensions arranged by Montreal Trust, referred specifically to the needs of pension funds and the supply of Canadian equity (common) stocks.

He said his company is including purchases from a selected list of U.S. stocks for most of the pension accounts under its administration.

During the last 10 years, Mr. Whitten stated, the floating supply of good investment - grade stocks available in Canada has declined considerably. One reason was the "takeover" of a large proportion of Canadian industry by foreign interests.

Hopes Other Lands Will Help Aid Africa

OTTAWA (CP)—A hope that countries other than Commonwealth members will possibly be induced to contribute in the future to any expanded Commonwealth economic assistance program for Africa was expressed in the Commons Tuesday by External Affairs Minister Green.

He said in a reply to Paul Martin (L—Essex East) that consideration is being given by the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference to increasing economic aid to Africa. Canada now contributes $500,000 a year toward economic aid for Commonwealth countries in Africa.

Why Air Espionage Is Stupid

Outside official Washington circles, there appears to be unanimity on one point, and one point only, with respect to the shooting down of a U.S. espionage plane deep within the Soviet Union.

Almost everybody appears to agree that the excursion was stupid, rather than criminal. With this viewpoint we wholeheartedly agree.

Unfortunately, of the many who are condemning the U.S. for stupidity only a few appear to put their fingers on the real reason why the spying trip was stupid.

Most of the critics stress the possible effects this incident may have on the forthcoming summit conference. If this were the only thing which need concern us, then the incident would be of minor importance. It will figure largely, or not at all, in this conference just as those attending the meeting desire—in other words if it appears to play any importance at all in the deliberations of the world's leaders it will only be because one or some of the leaders are using it as an excuse for decisions based on entirely different reasons.

Senator Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Democratic leader in the U.S. Senate, is one of the comparatively few in the U.S. who appear to have grasped the real enormity of the blunder. An Associated Press despatch from Washington says that he declares the episode "should prompt correction of structural flaws in the government to guard against any accidental triggering of a nuclear war."

The only thing which the United States and Russian planes have been permitted to fly over the Russian territory from bases in Turkey, Pakistan and Norway is a bomb which can destroy a whole city, aerial espionage trips become fraught with the danger of war by misadventure. Some person may press the wrong button.

The Russian people are said to be worried because of the deep penetration, 1,400 miles, by the U.S. plane before it was shot down by a rocket. One possible explanation is that Russia, finding impossible the task of keeping a radar watch on the long perimeter of its borders, has its radar stations located well inland, around industrial areas, and that it was not until the plane was over the Urals that it was picked up. Another, and more comforting, explanation is that the Russians knew of its presence the moment it crossed the border, as they claim, but that the delay in shooting it down was because the decision to fire was referred to the top echelon, and communications were difficult. But this gives us some assurance against an accidental start to a nuclear war resulting from a U.S. plane flying over Russia, have we been given any good reason to expect equal care if a Russian plane is detected flying over the U.S.? Can we be sure that Eisenhower, or some equally mature official, would be consulted? The U.S. declaration that the espionage plane's flight was not authorized by any official in Washington does little to re-assure us on this point.

Even if the Russians do not mistake some espionage plane for an H-bomber, and loose their missiles to start a nuclear war, frequent espionage flights could provoke a war because of special circumstances. All we need to do to envisage such circumstances is to assume that Russia is as distrustful of the intentions of the U.S. as the U.S. appears to be of the intentions of Russia—and this is not so unreasonable an assumption as some would have us believe. If Russia does fear a U.S. attack, and if Russia has placed her trust entirely in the retaliatory power of missiles, and if, as one suspects, the installations for launching these missiles are so complex that they exist in only a few locations, then espionage flights which threatened to reveal all these locations and make them potential targets for the first H-bombs might frighten the Russians into firing first.

That is the terrible stupidity of the U.S. espionage flight—and not any effect it may have on the summit.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY

DR. EARL I. DUDLOSKO

NOT EXTERNAL EVILS BUT INTERNAL

Newspapers and magazines to-which twists the beneficent day carry an endless number of machinery of democracy out of articles on the hazardous possibilities of atomic energy. Sometimes, it seems as if we were only a few weeks away. There are some people who do not believe it safe to declare that civilization and perhaps the world itself is in imminent danger of destruction as the result of this great scientific discovery.

But there are some who believe — and not without reason — that the greatest danger threatening our country is not an external but an internal danger. There are influences at work among our people which bid fair to be more destructive than the atomic bomb. One of these is the influence of pressure groups of life.

shape. Another is the pitiful ignorance of a number of our people in no way connected with these pressure groups. Another is the growth of drinking and intemperance among the people of this fair land. There are social injustices today which may well have a more destructive effect upon the life of our nation than anything Russia can drive us to us. We stand united against Russia but against these internal affairs we are divided because of our selfishness, our greed, and our appetites.

So let us stop thinking about the atomic bomb for a while and think of the explosive possibilities which we have permitted to come into being in our nation-

Letters To The Editor

One-Way Traffic Decision Criticized

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer.

May I request your indulgence to express an opinion regarding the newly adopted one-way traffic regulations on Front St. and Pinnacle St., passed yesterday by our honorable city fathers.

I have been working on Front St. for the last forty five years and during that time I have watched and studied traffic and parking problems very carefully.

In my opinion the traffic at the present time is flowing quite freely and generally speaking all motorists in this area are very cautious, courteous and patience with the assistance of our highly respected Police Department, without any serious difficulty.

I believe the newly adopted system would cause the greatest confusion and congestion we've ever known in this city. I am definitely sure there is only one dissenting voice in council.

Our city fathers have estimated on the expenditure of $4,500 to arrange for placing the new system in effect. This amount may probably rise to much nearer $5,000 and I would consider to be a waste of the taxpayers' money.

It is possible that the key-note this year should most respectfully be one of the strictest economy in all departments of our city administration and it is my earnest hope that the Council may decide to reconsider their decision before going to squander any money on the new system.

And for the same reason it would be well to defer any further action on the construction of sewage disposal for some time.

Respectfully submitted,
Charles L. Hyde.

Answers Criticism Of Dutch Schools

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer:

With growing concern I happened to hear Immigrant Italians Having Own Schools. Such outburst of the facts really does create a break between Old and New Canadians! The Christian Reformed Church does not deserve a blast as being antagonistic, and utterly devoid of common sense, just for the same reasons as the Roman Catholic church is blasted with exactly the same doctrine!

I, as their own language, one "Dutch" sermon presently being in use, this is just for our people who have a hard time to understand English and especially the Dutch dialect.

As far as the "Dutch" schools are concerned, I am positive the language used is English and the curriculum Canadian! Does not every child in the Dutch history book for Canadian Schools? Does not every child Canadian really believe himself?

The only thing behind the Dutch schools being started is the parents' longing for a true Christian education, because school life of their little new Canadian is not the foundation. Is there any difference in loyalty, between Dutchmen who attend Public schools or schools of separate schools during the week?

Is there any difference in loyalty between Canadians, of Dutch origin, who attend Roman Catholic schools and some to public school?

Finally I would like to add that in several cases Dutch schools, there are several Canadian teachers of non-Dutch origin, who are teaching there because of their religious conviction, for a mere pittance. They would get in public schools.

A New Canadian,
S. Brunsma,

Cellar Crew Crop of Hair

BBC London Letter

"I never understood why for centuries people believed in the philosopher's stone which turned base metals into gold," said A. C. Dobbs in a recent BBC broadcast. "Then I found myself one day in a cellar under a barber's shop in the middle of Manchester. As a reporter he had covered many strange stories, but this was the first time he had been sent by his news editor to investigate a hair. A handsome hair had been found growing on the cellar floor under the barber's shop. Sure enough, he said, was "a luxuriant growth of hair, remarkably like healthy hair — not just a few tufts, but a whole crop about six inches square. I touched it, and it felt like hair. I examined it and it looked like hair in the ground all right."

Mr. Dobbs found the well-trained acquisitions of the newspaperman beginning to waver as he began to wonder about what had reported the discovery existed. Surely, he thought, the miraculous crop was due to the fact that hair-clippings swept up in the barber's shop in the days when the barber's shop had dropped through a hole in the floor into the cellar, and there been nurtured to growth by some property resulting from what the barber

Floods Continue To Plague Many Parts of Ontario

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Floods forced evacuation of two Northern Ontario areas Tuesday and other sections are reported threatened as the province enters its eighth day of intermittent rain.

Most seriously hit is the Timmins district where more than 1,000 residents of suburban Mountjoy Township sought emergency shelters as the Mattagami River continued its rise.

NEW LISKEARD SITUATION

In the New Liskeard area, about 60 miles south of Kirkland Lake, residents along the Montreal River were told to evacuate their homes Tuesday night.

Hydro officials said they would have to open partially two dams in the area because a log jam had broken loose.

The public weather office predicted a light rain and drizzle would continue in southern areas today with snowflurries in northern regions. Cool winds may help the stricken areas Thursday.

NO LIVES THREATENED

Rivers throughout Ontario continued to rise dangerously but officials said there is no threat to life. Rescue operations were credited with saving lives in the northern regions.

Peterborough residents were asked to use fewer flushes as little as possible. Officials made a radio and television appeal after reports that sewerge had backed up in some cellars.

At Little Britain, 30 miles west of Peterborough, flood waters heaved an 18-inch metal culvert into the air and washed away a bridge's retaining wall on a county road.

J. M. Hambley, general manager of Ontario Hydro, assured that there is no threat to Hydro dams or generating stations because of the pressure of flood water.

Officials said Tuesday night it is still too soon to say whether the worst flood dangers are over. Reports from southern districts said the high water levels had eased today but in the north the situation remains critical.

NONOR WAR DEAD

OTTAWA (CP)—A 150-member contingent of the 2nd Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, Saturday will begin no eight-day tour of battlefields and military cemeteries in France, Belgium and the Netherlands to honor fifteenen of the regiment who were killed in the First and Second World Wars.

This giant lake trout, held by Annette and Angela, twin five-year-old daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carter of Picton, was caught in Loughborough Lake, near Kingston, by a Picton fisherman, Fred Greatrix. The trout weighed 16 pounds, two ounces, and was hauled out of 75 feet of water on a four-pound-test line and light spinning rod, after a 45-minute battle. Greatrix was accompanied by the twins' father, Bob Carter, Jim Cowan of Ottawa and Tom McCallum of Kingston. (Hodgson, Picton).

Caught Trout On Way Home, Just Like That

Like to catch a couple of rainbow trout for supper while on your way home from work?

Just ask Cameron Walker, 244 Queen Street, who did just that Tuesday evening somewhere "just west of Belleville."

"I caught both of them in just ten minutes," Cameron told the Ontario Intelligencer. "I was surprised and also happy."

But, with true fisherman reticence, Cameron wasn't telling where he caught the two beauties, both of them slightly over two pounds.

Just say it was west of Belleville," he said.

ANNEXATION STUDY

WELLAND (CP)—City Assessor J. D. Paterson and City Treasurer Fred Turner of Welland were the first witnesses as a hearing began Tuesday before the Ontario Municipal Board on an annexation application by the city. Welland is seeking to add a total of 6,706 acres, the bulk of which is located in adjacent Crowland Township.

Capital Punishment Subject Belleville Rector's Report

KINGSTON (CP) — Abolition of capital punishment is a subject with which all churchmen should be concerned, Rev. L. Arthur Page of Belleville said Tuesday night.

In a diocesan council for social service report he told the Anglican Synod of Ontario "perhaps in the near future a bill for the abolition of capital punishment will be introduced unanimously."

In other sessions the synod wrestled over problems relating to religious teaching in schools.

Rt. Rev. C. C. Evans, Bishop of Ontario, said groups opposed to the 'teaching were seeking a change in board of education legislation on the matter. Such persons had gained the ear of the press.

Rev. E. Kerrison of Kemptville said he found it frustrating to give religious instruction in schools. A Roman Catholic priest could come into a school and take children of his faith into a classroom for instruction

"But in my classes I find not only Anglicans but youngsters from several other Protestant denominations and what I am supposed to teach them, goodness only knows," he said.

"I must confess I cheat a little bit. . . . We are not getting anywhere. I am quite disturbed about the whole thing."

Rev. R. Rayner of Prescott urged clergy to give religious instruction in schools their full consideration "despite your personal opinions."

A report on the giving potential of parishes was presented.

The report said that on the basis of national income the envelope users were contributing 1.65 per cent of their income. The report was given by Very Rev. Brierly Brewer, dean of Ontario.

Rt. Rev. J. C. Evans, Bishop of Ontario, said the State of the Church report showed population in the diocese at 38,197, a decrease of 1,023 in the past year. However, "with the growth and expansion so evident all through the diocese, these figures just haven't been properly prepared," he added.

Cuban Paper Scoffs at Russian Claim

HAVANA (AP)—The independent newspaper Prensa Libre scoffed Tuesday at Russian claims of downing an American plane with a new type rocket.

Its satirical account referred to the new weapon as "a delicate rocket made for love."

After the rocket disabled the plane, it said, the pilot was plucked from the air unhurt by another secret Russian weapon—"a long magnet covered with American chewing gum."

Gib Patterson Asst. Ag. Rep. For Hastings

A recent graduate from McDonald College Gibson Patterson of Ottawa, has been named assistant agricultural representative for Hastings County. He assumed his new duties on May 1st.

He takes the place of Clinton Nesbitt, agricultural representative assistant in the county for he past two years who has been transferred to Carleton county for a temporary period and will later go to New Liskeard in Northern Ontario as assistant to the representative there.

Mr. Patterson is a native of Ottawa, the family farm actually being within the Capital City boundaries. Before attending McDonald College he took an active part in 4-H club work and in Junior Farmer work.

Last year he assisted in the Frontenac county agricultural representative's office.

Man Appeals to Domesday Book To Avoid Paying Parking Fee

LONDON (Reuters) — A weather - beaten former sailor stood fast in a London court room Tuesday, defying the lord of the manor and claiming his Domesday rights as a "Man of Bonham."

The case has sent legal experts delving back into England's feudal past to a Latin document signed by Richard the Lionhearted and the Domesday Book itself, compiled as a kind of giant real estate list in 1086.

It started when 51-year-old Edward Martin refused to pay mooring fees worth about £50 ($120) and a 5s charge for car parking to the Earl of Iveagh, the lord of the Manor of Bonham.

Bonham appears to be just another small village on England's south coast. But the lord of the village, under a feudal law still on the books, enjoy the "benefits of Bonhamry"—the right to refuse to pay fees.

The obscure origin of Bonham Manor was traced in court Monday to before the Norman conquest in 1066 when the Earl of Godwin approached the Archbishop of Canterbury and asked for a "boscam" or blessing.

The story goes that he pronounced it more like "Bonham." The archbishop said "I give you bosscam." The earl and his men promptly seized the land.

"But I don't think my opponent (Martin) is attacking me on that score," the lawyer for Lord Iveagh, quipped. Iveagh bought the manor in 1927.

Martin has claimed he was born within the boundaries of the manor and always had lived there. There now are 27 men of Bonham officially registered.

Tabernacle WA Sees Slides of California

The regular monthly meeting of Tabernacle United Church W.A. was held in the church parlors on Thursday, May 5.

The president, Mrs P. Kerr, opened the meeting. A special hymn, remembering mothers, Dear, was sung, after which Mrs. Eastcott led in prayer.

Corresponding secretary reported several get-well cards had been sent out.

Mrs. Rose had charge of the devotional. Scripture was read from Hebrews 13. The subject was "Jesus Never Changes."

"These changeless things; time changes nations; strong nations become weak; God free people are enslaved; time changes the landscape and time changes our homes. Jesus was the same yesterday, today and forever."

"Jesus was never changed by circumstances. When He was strong in body he remembered the weak. When He was suffering on the cross, all His sympathy was for others.

"Things change, but Jesus never changes. Before His death Jesus met with His disciples in the Upper Room. After His death Jesus revisited His disciples in the Upper Room. Before His ascension He made friends of humble fishermen and publicans. After death Jesus appeared to these men were His companions before He died.

"Before His death, Jesus sent 70 men out on a missionary journey of His mission. After His death, Jesus commanded His disciples to go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

Mrs. W. C. Barlow was appointed as a delegate to the W.A. convention at Trenton on May 20th.

The group decided to give a donation to the official board; also to the C.G.I.T. and decided to send a C.G.I.T. girl to camp.

At the joint meeting of the W.A. and W.M.S. on June 14, Mrs. Alex Brown, Alderwood College are to speak to the ladies. Members their week while they were missionaries in Trinidad.

After the business was concluded, Mrs. J. Buchanan and Mrs. Archibald showed pictures they had taken on a trip to California during the winter.

Refreshments were served by group one and a social hour was enjoyed.

Women's Activities

HOLY TRINITY W.G.

The regular meeting of the Women's Guild of Holy Trinity Church, Shannonville, was held recently at the home of Mrs. Gordon Sager with 18 members present.

Mrs. M. Bradshaw, on the flower fund contact list, and Mrs. Freyce and Miss P. MacFarlane put in their birthday offering.

Mrs. G. Sager showed a slide on her beautiful trip to Florida which everyone enjoyed immensely.

Mrs. Wrighton thanked Mrs. G. Sager for the entertainment.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. Whittle on May 12 with Mrs. N. Edwards convening the program and Mrs. W. Wilson the devotional.

Mrs. W. Wilson thanked the hostess for a delicious lunch.

Good Idea to Investigate Before You Invest; Says BBB

By EDNA BLAKELY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Telephone before you sign that contract, not afterwards, when you may be in trouble. That's the advice of the Better Business Bureau about door-to-door salesmen.

This is the season that house-hold repairmen, for instance, or people selling shrubs make the rounds of the neighborhoods. Some of these may be dishonest. Best way to find out is to call and ask to see some of their previous work.

The Toronto Better Business Bureau has distributed a pamphlet about the "good" and "bad" door salesman, its theme is: Be Sure Before You Invest, Investigate." Information for the booklet was obtained from the Direct Sellers' Association, which represents 10 or 20 bona fide door-to-door salesmen in Canada.

DIFFERENT TYPES

Gwenn Davidson of Toronto, the association's public relations officer, explained in an interview there are three types of door-to-door sales effort. These are canvassing, name - to-name and a party plan.

Canvassing is a straight knock-ring-or-door system. Name - to-name begins by selling your friends, then expanding the clientele as word spreads. The party plan is used by many manufacturers of women's goods as a means of introducing their products.

When an unknown salesman appears at the door, the first step should be ask for his credentials. Most will start reading. Examine the products carefully. Read the printed labels, and look to see that the manufacturer's name is printed on the label or just stamped on the article.

If you do buy, signing a contract is usually necessary.

CONTRACTS BINDING

"So many people don't seem to realize that a contract is a legal and binding," says Miss Davidson. The guarantee should appear in the contract too, she explained.

A good salesman starts off by telling you who he represents. He doesn't offer a hard luck story either, says Miss Davidson. Nor will he offer merchandise at bargain prices, although he may have seasonal specials.

For a final check, telephone Better Business Bureau, the local Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade.

The bona fide seller, she notes, will accept a "no" courteously. But it's quite likely he'll call again.

Over 200 Attend Y's Menettes' Father-Daughter Banquet

Girls of the Y.M.C.A. brought their fathers this year to the annual banquet sponsored by the Y's Menettes' Club. More than 200 people were in attendance.

Grace was said by Lynne Tulloch and after dinner, Mrs. R. Summers and Mr. Wes Scarrow led a lively sing-song.

Mrs. Ed Pringle, speaker for the evening was professor Isobel Lead, M.A., B.E.D., F.R.Ps. S. Queen's University Her topic was "Families", and with delightful skill she emphasized the importance of families as the group in which one should practice to control disobedience, anger, fear and jealousy. Tenderness and anger (for the right reasons) are required at all times and older and younger and jealousy may be conquered if one learns early how to overcome. Play the game according to the rules is another important lesson to be learned at home. Miss Lead was introduced by Mrs. F. R. Clarke and thanked by Mrs. R. H. Craig.

Sandra Balyx, Susan Gist, Sue Skelly and Patti Rutland gave a highly skilled demonstration on the trampoline, which was much enjoyed by all present.

Greetings from the Y.M.C.A. and Y's Menettes' Club were brought by Mr. John McDonald, president. Mr. F. R. Clarke brought greetings from the program and membership committee and Mrs. J. P. Wheeler spoke on behalf of the Physical Education Committee.

A toast to the fathers was proposed by Kathryn Gist, to which Mr. George Mountford responded.

Mrs. A. Newman, president of the Y's Menettes' Club, was in the chair, and thanks to her and Mrs. Linda Smith and Janice Hogan, convener was extended by Donna Sills.

Life in Nigeria Shown at St. Peter's WMS

MADOC — The May meeting of St. Peter's W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Fields Allan. Mrs. Bailey presided over the business portion of the meeting.

Mrs. McIntosh, convener of the program, gave an informative reading on "Nigeria," stressing the need of work among the young people who have proven that no child is too young for service and be penetrated by the Light of Hogan — God's love — and that the education there is provided by the Christian Mission.

Mrs. Ross Shawnee Craig — on Christianity, race and nationalism and the power of the cross — was carefully reviewed. Mrs. McIntosh also read a selection on "Dr. Barnado and the Face of Dark Africa," closing with an appropriate poem.

Slides depicting life in Nigeria were shown and Mrs. Sinclair closed the meeting with prayer.

Lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants.

Community Honors Young Couple

MINTO — Springbrook Orange Hall was recently filled on Friday evening at a shower held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Max. Wm Sine, who were recently married.

Mr. H. Stobbart acted as chairman, expressing best wishes to the bride and groom.

A short program followed. Misses Mary and Margaret Ray, Barbara Twidale and Donna Geen, sang; Miss Edna Tanner gave a reading; a tap dance number by Linda Barker.

Mr. Stobbart invited Marvin and Barry Sine to present the gifts and Keith Twidale read the address and made the presentation of a tri-light, two table lamps and a match, a coffee table and a chair.

The bride and bridegroom thanked everyone for their gifts and all who had helped with the shower.

Dancing was enjoyed with music by Mrs. Doug Jones and Mr. Charles Campbell.

Refreshments were served at midnight.

Three Sea-Going Women Give Ship Touch of Home

VANCOUVER (CP) — Three sea - going women, including a grandmother, have given a touch of home to the Norwegian freighter Arna during the last four years.

Mrs. Violet Wiseman, 58, known as "Mom" to the crew, is a grandmother 12 times, a fact signed on as stewardess as did Gunvor Fjaerelde, who flew from Norway to Vancouver five months ago to join her fiance, Arna steward Leiv Smith.

Third woman in the crew is Laurel Kristiansen, second cook. Her husband is first cook.

The good-looking grandma has served on three freighters and a tanker.

This - - - and That

By HARRIET STEVENS

Many of us will soon be answering the call of the open road, ether and taking to the highways by vacation trips. More and more vacationers are taking their own accommodations along either in the form of tents or trailers. For those of us who have yet neither to invest, the veteller's guide gives this advice: to assure yourself a comfortable, unobstructed, night's rest on the road, make sure the place you choose is level, preferably on the following — Is it far enough back from the road to escape traffic noises? Be sure there are no dance halls nearby. See that there are facilities that do not predominate. Is it bright and clean? Check drinking glasses, sheets and blankets!) See that the water is really hot and that there are plenty of towels. Has it considerately left a night light lamps for easy reading and is there a convenient outlet for electric razor? If absolute quiet is desired, ask about soundproof walls between your unit and the next. Maybe you won't be able to get all of these but it's even better if you have an idea to check for the important ones.

Several weeks ago we pointed out that last year Canadians women each purchases more than twelve pairs of nylons, a higher consumption rate than that of the United States. Now something very like good news from the fancy fines — nylon hosiery that: will give an illusion of slenderness to the plumpest legs. These latest glamor aids are color shaded in such a way as to give a diminishing effect on areas of the ankles and toe plump for perfection.

The leg-slimming nylons were introduced during the recent Hosiery Fiesta staged by the Canadian Hosiery Fashion Council. In future, ladies may be offered color in wash and wear, to be sprayed on plain nylons. The advantages of this do-it-yourself tinting process would be that the color can be washed out, and the stockings re-sprayed in another shade for another occasion.

Stockings have come a long way from their introduction in the days of early Greece. They have advanced through wool, cotton, silk, and silk to nylon, a fibre so tough that steel of comparable weight would be less durable. Recent accent on color has made them a most important fashion accessory, and with the latest illusion hosiery and shoe trends always opening up new possibilities.

It is heartening to read in the monthly publication "India" that various ties seem to be drawing Canadians and Indians closer together. In March, India's eighth was held in Ottawa providing a program of Indian dances and music and a taste of traditional Indian snacks. The event was held at Friendship House under the auspices of the Overseas Friendship Society of Ottawa. Indian nationals in Ottawa presented a colorful variety revue of folk dances, wedding dances and instrumental music.

In South India, a Canada-aided hydro-electric project has been inaugurated at Kundah. This is the biggest project in India with which Canada is associated; the assistance being given in the form of power-house turbines, generators and transformers. There will be four dams, a reservoir and two powerhouses.

The Kundah scheme will provide needed power for industries as well as for domestic lighting purposes. Speaking at the inauguration, Prime Minister Nehru said the Kundah project was a symbol of national and international co-operation, and expressed his gratitude and that of the Indian government to the Canadian government for the help they had rendered to the Indian project. "Their help, of course, is very welcome and we are grateful, but it is even more that it makes me happier just to see that this project will come up with joint co-operation between the Canadian government and their engineers and our engineers."

Diment School of Dance Recital Well Attended

Before a filled auditorium the Diment School of Dance under the instruction of Miss Gail Heuther held its dance recital. Being different from other years, there were three scenes "Storyland," "Snow White," and "Ole Soo Soo."

To open the show, the marching girls drum and bugle corps under the direction of Ralph Seaton, showed their playing ability with a few selections. The theme of "Storyland" was a visitor meeting all the characters of this make believe land; Bobby Goose greeting the visitor, who then met Little Miss Muffet and Darling Armstrong; Humpty Dumpty — Vicki Haggis, Brenda Lancaster, Colleen and Stephen Bowen, Karen McLaskie, Robbie Adams, Helena Barriage; drum majorettes — Wanda Basson, Carol Parrot, Lyn Pollard, Wanda Lowes, Debbie Bentley; Mistress Mary — Patti McFarland; Little Bo Peep and sheep — Susan Flinder, Mary Parker, Valerie Mosely, Marilyn Short; Little Boy Blue — Ralph Woods; children in the shoe — Michael, Anne McEwen, Debbie Anderson, Annette and Penny Beaucaire, Heather Hollingsworth; Debbie Ferrier, Susan Lockhart — Anne-Marie Forestell; Ittle in the pumpkin — Irene Armstrong, Jeanne Lloyd, Debbie Bentley, Mary Parker, Ann Vardy Valerie Macaulay, Karen Donovan, Marilyn Wood, Lee Ann Doran; flowers — Dorothy Jacob, Cheryl Noakes, Barbara Allen, Barbara Bayley, JoAnne and Kathy Burns, JoAnne Blakely, Susan Lee, Linda Pringle, Melanie Butler, Debbie Mcintosh, Elaine Hollingsworth, Semark, Sandra Blockley; The May Queen — Gwen Slickle; happy school girl — Karen Pinder, Gail Reid; smallest dancer — Cheri Hollingsworth; tor — May Elizabeth Young.

JAZZ BATON

The well-known Marching Debs majorettes performed a Jazz Baton well precisioned. For a change of pace, Mrs. Ralph Motley, pianist, showed her ability by playing three beautiful selections.

Snow White followed with the dancing interpretation. Queen — Debbie McAllister; Snow White — Betty Bannon; prince — Joel Henricks; mirror — Gail Reid; dwarfs — Karen Donovan, Lee Ann Doran, Carol and Brenda Pond, Ann Vardy, Sharon Macaulie, Sandra Chisholm.

After a short intermission Mr. Robert Burke, master of ceremonies, did his amusing interpretation of a Chinese waiter. Finally, the audience visited "Ole South," seeing Lady Luck, Alex Wawsenakew; Mississippi Mimes, Mandy Merritt, Lynny Woodhouse, Vicki Hounsbey; twirling, Pam Thornton; Sweet Southern Belles and Beau, Mary Elizabeth Young, Joel Henricks, Karen Donovan; fan dance, Debbie McIntosh, Don Bland, Wendy Webber, Lee Ann Doran, Rick and Cheri Barker; Miss Canadian Belle, Mary McAllister; broadway bounce, Iris Lohnes and Jacqueline Cook; "I'm Just A Gal," Sheila Cameron; Mississippi Gambler, Barbara Woodcock; swingin Down the Lane," Debbie Derushia and Jeanne Lloyd; "Dixie Dolls," Carol and Brenda Pope, Sandra Chisholm, Sharon Mercele; "Steppin Out," Gail and Joel Henricks; "Dixie Hi-Steppers," Linda Magee, Beverly Smith, Alice Wannenacker, Sheri Sprague, Jean Ann Hilsted, Cheryl Noakes, Joyce Grant, Sharon Anderson, Janet Shepper, Sheila Canning; Blues, Gail Hesterlay "Sweet Kentucky Rose," Sandra Blockley.

Last, but not least, Miss Barbara Barlow (formerly Diment) added her professional touch with her sparkling personality and dancing feet. She rendered an enjoyable evening for the students, parents and friends.

Miss Barlow wishes to thank everyone who made this recital a success.

CENTRE - VICTORIA CEREALETTES

The 5th meeting of the Centre-Victoria Cerealettes was held recently at Sandra Green's.

Plans were done during the rest of the meeting. Date and category was a tomato and macaroni casserole with cheese.

Mrs. Pulver gave some facts about flour mixtures and the group reviewed wheat, oats and corn products. For lunch all enjoyed eating the macaroni dish and the date and oatmeal squares.

The next meeting will be held at Linda Dougherty's on December, on May 14, at two o'clock. The roll call for that meeting is, "My favorite recipe for fruit loaf."

Home Assignment included make one dish from rolled oats; prepare a macaroni dish and record in record book; plan and describe recipe for a fruit loaf; fill in the 2nd grams score sheet and the 2nd day in record of cereals.

Canniffon-Corbyville WMS 'Open House' Hears Talk On 'Church in India'

It was a lovely sunny day on May 5th, when the doors of Canniffon United Church were opened for the "open-house" meeting of Canniffon-Corbyville W.M.S.

Mrs. Douglas Brenton and Mrs. Willis Brenton greeted the guests at the church door and extended a warm welcome to each lady from the visiting W.M.S. auxiliaries from the following communities: Plainfield, Gilead, Bethany, Centenary, Carmel, Aikens, Foxboro, Melrose and Shannonville.

Mrs. Douglas Brenton, president, was in charge of the worship service while Mrs. Roy Pound read the Scriptural selection. Mrs. Brenton chose for the theme of the service, a short talk entitled, "Patience," saying in part: "It is not God who fails us in moments of trials, but rather man himself. God cannot be blamed for conditions of the world; the world was given to men and it is what men have made it."

POWER IN RESERVE

"Patience can be mistaken for laziness; but real patience is power in reserve. Patience is a life-long experience and perfection in patience can only be reached by long and tedious toil. It is the patience in small things, the petty everyday annoyances, that is needed most. It is God only who can supply this patience for His power is infinitely higher than the patience of men."

Mrs. Brenton found that she had need of this kind of patience, too; for she said the day seemed full of frustration for her. At the last moment, the pianist, the organist and the guest soloist from Centenary were unable to be present, however two other ladies had kindly volunteered their services, thus proving that "patience has its own reward."

Mrs. Brenton closed with a poem entitled, "Just Passing By."

Before handing the meeting over to the guest speaker, she had a message for the Canniffon W.M.S. The newly-formed C.G.I.T. group was going to hold its meeting on Tuesday, May 10th, and Mrs. McCaul, of Belleville, was coming to give a talk and the mothers were asked to attend and give their support to this worthwhile project.

Three ladies from the Bethany and Canniffon area, a trio, which was much appreciated. This musical item was unique in that the trio consisted of a mother, Mrs. Sills, and her two daughters, Mrs. Skelton and Mrs. B. Foster, the latter also doing the piano accompaniment.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mrs. Clarence Bird introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. Mrs. Elinor Leard, M.A. B.D., the assistant minister of Tabernacle United Church Belleville. Mrs. Leard, attended Chatham College. She graduated with a B.A. degree from the University of Western Ontario, London in 1943; taught in Alma College, St. Thomas, for one year prior going to the United Church Training School, where she received her diploma in 1945. She was then appointed travelling secretary for the W.M.S. until 1948 and was first secretary of the personnel committee for women's work.

In 1950, she graduated with a B.D. degree from Emanuel College, then went to Central India with her husband, where she did volunteer work, returning to Canada on furlough.

In 1957 she obtained her M.A. degree from Columbia University, New York, and that same year was ordained to the United Church ministry by the London Conference. She returned to India but came to Belleville in 1958. Mrs. Leard chose India as the topic of her talk, stating she found it difficult to speak to Canadian audiences on the subject of "India" for most Canadians were totally unprepared for the sort of speech she usually gave.

"To speak of India is not to tell of a success story, in the space of ten minutes or so, it was impossible to change her conception of religious life in India. For 80 years there had been a church in India, highly organized but in many denominations. A few years ago, a new church of Christ was built in North India which those of almost all denominations could attend. This was the fruit of the tremendous work done by missionaries in India who felt it a sin for Christians to be unable to take communion at one seat of the dress, of the silk linen. WELLINGTON — St. Andrew's Guild met at the home of Mrs. Douglas Herrington last Thursday evening. The meeting opened with prayer. Two minutes' silence was observed in memory of Mrs. Millard Weir. Ten members answered the roll call and the treasurer gave her report.

The new tablecloth, recently purchased, was on display. It was decided that bills be paid and that $5 be given to the secretary for postage.

Thank-you cards were received from Mrs. L. Bryant, Mr. F. Hender and Mrs. Peel. Arrangements for a dinner, to be held on May 18th, were completed. A committee meeting is to be held at Mrs. Evans' home on May 11th, at 7.45 p.m. It was also planned to hold the annual bloosom tea on June 22nd in the town hall. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Tom Boyle.

MODERN MANNERS

Carolyn Hagner Shaw

ATTENTION, YOUNG MEN!

Several young men readers have written to complain that I am always telling milady how to mind her manners, but that the men are exempt. This is an attempt to rectify this unintentional oversight. I thought we would go into a few of the things that a young man must pay attention to when taking his best girl out for the evening.

First, and this is extremely important, he should be sure that he is well groomed and well dressed. He should avoid clothes of flashy fabrics and fancy cuts. A plain conservative color, such as navy blue, brown, or gray, is an excellent choice for your best suit. It will be suitable for many occasions —luncheons, afternoon parties or all kinds, or any informal evening festivity. If your suit is a conservative one, you can be sure that you are well dressed if, and this is a big if, attention to detail is followed in the total ensemble. If not, even a conservative suit won't save the day.

Follow through with a small-patterned, striped or plain tie, harmonizing shirt and socks and stay away from the exaggerated, polished collar. If you wear a handkerchief in your upper pocket, make it inconspicuous. Above all, mix it while, fancy matching ties and handkerchiefs are not in good taste. Watch your socks, too. While they don't show much, be sure they don't droop over your shoe tops, or display a violent color.

Last, but not least: When purchasing shoes, get the heavy, well-made type. Stay away from fads. Remember to keep them shined to the Nth degree.

Don't spoil the final picture by wearing a hat to which you may be violently attached, for nothing makes you look pretty sad and droopy.

When making a date, be the thoughtful young man who makes definite plans for the evening. Don't leave the young lady wondering what she should wear! If you are going to dine and dance at one of the hotels, tell her so. She will thank you for it. Also, don't call her up an hour before date-time. This is very flattering, because naturally she is pretty sure that she'll second or third choice!

Maybe YOU won't get 35 mpg!

Frontenac can deliver better-than-35 miles per gallon under ideal driving conditions. Perfectly tuned engine. Regulated load. Steady speed. Precise, gas-miser driving. Few people drive that way.

Gas mileage is largely a matter of individual driving habits. In controlled tests Frontenac has delivered as much as 41 miles per gallon. However, if your fender enjoyment to outright gas thrifty driving, you may get only 25.

City driving can take its toll, too. No matter how careful you are, you still have to stop. Speed up. Slow down. Speed up again. Under these conditions, even a Frontenac won't respond with its best mileage record. But Frontenac is designed for economy. Only the degree is up to you.

If you want top gas mileage keep your car "tuned" and drive for it. If you like to "step on it" from time to time, expect less. But, whatever your driving method, Frontenac gives you maximum compact car economy.

And it doesn't stop with gas savings. Frontenac's full-flow oil filter lets you drive as many as 4,000 miles between oil changes. Its muffler is aluminized to last twice as long. The lively 90 hp. Frontenac Six has the lowest wear index of any compact engine.

Maybe you will get 35 mpg. Maybe not. But there'll be a smile in every mile, because in a Frontenac it's a pleasure to save money, no matter how you drive. See your Frontenac dealer and start saving—today!

Kingston Art Assoc. Holds Spring Display

The spring exhibition sponsored by the Kingston Art Association is now on view at the Agnes Etherington Arts Centre, 116 University Avenue, Kingston, and will remain until the 25th of May.

The display includes a well-rounded collection of art in all its manifold forms, still life, portraits, scenery both local and distant, flowers, landscapes and water scenes, animal life, birds and design work.

Miss Pearl McCarthy, art editor and critic of the Toronto Globe and Mail, acted as adjudicator, and opened the exhibit. This annual spring show is open to professional and amateurs alike, and paintings from such artists as Andre Bieler, Ted Bieler, Ralph Allen and Bridget Allen make it an exhibition of wide interest.

Local painters successful in having their work accepted are Muriel Anderson (Mrs Lewis) and Dorothy Brown (Mrs Thornton).

This exhibition, open to the public, free of charge, includes 190 paintings and drawings.

BETHANY W.A.

The second meeting of the Bethany W.A. was held at the church hall. Mrs. W. Easton read a short selection, "Prayer for Every Day," followed by the theme, "Mother and Springtime."

The Scripture was read by Mrs. Douglas Martin.

Mrs. J. Berkhuizen gave a short reading on "Work in the Church" and Mrs. E. Hince read "Appointed Tasks." Mrs. W. Easton gave a short poem to close the devotional meeting.

Mrs. Bruce Martin and her group put on the program which included the following items: Mrs Martin, "Mother's Day, and What It Has Become Down Through the Years"; Mrs. Gerald Eggleton and Mrs. G. Beers sang "When Mother Prayed." Readings were given by Mrs. G. Eggleton, on "Mother," Mrs. G. Cole on "A Mother's Way" and Mrs H Howes on "Father's Day."

Mrs. R. Ritz and Mrs. D. Turnmon gave interesting talks on their stay at Five Oaks.

The business was carried on in usual way, after which a dainty lunch was served.

California Consumers Have Most-for-Money Assistance

By DICK MEESTER

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — In California, as elsewhere, the buyer must beware. But California consumers have a special aid that's available in no other American state: Their own official lobbyist.

She's Helen E. Nelson, a state economist appointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown last fall as the state's first consumer counsel, with those principal duties related to buyer protection:

To advise the governor, make recommendations to the legislature, appear before public regulatory bodies, coordinate protection efforts of all other state departments, and tell consumers how to get the most for their money.

The $15,000 - a - year post was created by the legislature last year at the urging of Gov. Brown, who said the interests of Californias as consumers were not being adequately served.

Brown had proposed a full-blown agency, but pressure from some retailers and the Republican minority in the legislature limited the consumer counsel office to a staff of four.

Mrs. Nelson says she and her staff can't begin to keep up with the requests for help. But she feels the increasing volume of requests indicates she is fulfilling her purpose of making consumers "show pride in being careful shoppers."

RIVER VALLEY W.I.

STIRLING — On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Percy Craighead was hostess to River Valley Women's Institute with 16 ladies in attendance. Mrs. Roy Tucker opened the meeting.

Mrs. George Heasman read letters from two branches, who have accepted an invitation to the 50th anniversary on May 23rd.

A donation of $3 was made to the Sidney Township 'no-vote campaign'.

The members were invited to attend girls' club Achievement Day on Saturday, May 14th.

The president voiced thanks to his convener of standing committees for planning their programs. The printer now has the material.

Delegates to district annual will be Mrs. Ernest Carr and Mrs. Ralph Utman.

Two members are donating the anniversary cake and another is donating the special serviettes.

All women who have been members at any time from 1901 to 1960, are cordially invited to attend the 50th anniversary party on May 23rd.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Carr when the reports of Guelph Conference and district annual will be given.

Mrs. Vernon Harry was in charge of the program based on "Agriculture and Canadian Industries".

Mrs. Ralph Utman gave the motto, "The love of the land lies deep in the heart of man" and at the close she read a poem, "It's Spring Again" and Mrs. R. Carr read, "How Much is a Farmer's Wife Really Worth?"

Mrs. Harry Vanderwoert read, "A fence on the cliff or a ambulance in the valley"; Mrs. Harry Morrow contributed a musical selection "The Chapel in the Mountains"; the convener gave the topic on, "The use of wood shavings for mulching"; Mrs. Alan McDonell read a selection entitled "Red Geraniums on My Window Sill"; a contest on "A part of the human body", was interesting; and the winners received a package of Nasturtium seed.

Six ladies paid their fees, one of whom was a new member.

The lunch conveners served refreshments and Mrs. Gerald Brooks expressed appreciative thanks.

Mrs. Harry Vanderwoert modelled off a large array of plants, slips and bulbs an d the treasury was enriched by $7.25.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two seniors. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Mrs. M. T. — Adele is heading for a breakdown.

Adele B. — I'm doing the right thing.

Mrs. M. F. — I am the mother of two married daughters. They both have young families. I don't believe in interfering with them, but I am very worried about my youngest daughter, who is running herself ragged catering to her children.

Adele has three children, a boy of 5, a daughter of 2 and an infant. That's a mass-sized job, especially with no help. Adele makes things extra hard by catering to her little boy's every whim.

For example, he won't go to kindergarten unless he knows she will sit outside of the school until he comes out. He would never find out if she went away for an hour and a half, but she actually sits in a park near the school the whole time. Then she must rush to do all her shopping and housework and is so exhausted by dinner time that she can't even eat. She's heading for a breakdown.

Adele B. — Mother is sure she knows everything about child-rearing, but frankly I don't think she did such a wonderful job herself.

When my sister and I were 5 and 8, Mother had to have an operation. She and Dad took us to our grandmother's home and said they'd be back in a few hours. We didn't see mother again for a month. It was such a terrible experience I promised myself I would never break a promise to a child.

My little boy is exceptionally sensitive and shy. He was terrified about going to school, but he gives him some sense of security to know I'm so close. Gradually he is getting used to every thing. As long as he knows he can absolutely depend upon me he will remain in the classroom without making any fuss.

It's true I'm a pretty tired mother by the end of the day, but I feel I'm doing the right thing.

The Council: We agree that promises to a child should never be broken without urgent reason and detailed explanation. It is far more important to keep a promise to a child than to do another grownup.

But we think that the kind of emotional setup which forces a parent to make promises to a child is unfortunate in the first place.

Promises are usually made when the child feels mistrustful and fearful. They are a concession to allay his fears. It would be far better to avoid this kind of situation.

Adele, for example, should have prepared her little boy for school several months before he started. She should have taken him on walks to the school and let him get a peek inside at the children busy at their "grownup" activities. She might have told him that as soon as he gets a little bigger he will be permitted to join them.

The concession to remain outside the school for the first few days might have been made if the little boy suffered from those first day jitters, but she should soon have encouraged him to think of himself as an experienced schoolboy and told him she would be outside to call for him when he comes out — with no explanation of what she would do in the meantime.

Adele reveals that the person she is really catering to is herself as a little girl. This is a mistake. Many of us have a tendency to feel we were deprived of our just share of understanding and security as children, but when we are motivated by these self-enclosed ideas we graft our own unhappiness onto others. For example, Adele's little boy might be much less sensitive if his mother didn't cherish her childhood fears and anticipate them in him.

SPEEDY BUILDING

Using prefabricated concrete parts a four-storey apartment building of 16 units was built in 19 days at Stockholm early in 1960.

A solution of dry mustard and water makes an excellent bottle deodorizer. Allowed to stand in the bottle for several hours, it will leave it fresh and sweet.

Five Art Club Paintings to Be Shown at Toronto

MADOC — The Madoc Art Club held its annual art exhibit and tea in the Madoc High School auditorium on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon. Five paintings were chosen from the exhibit to be shown later in Toronto. Three of these will be shown later at the Madoc Art School, and the prizes awarded will be $30 in tuition fees at the art school. The five pictures chosen were: Lou Barker's — "Horse in The Snowstorm"; Margaret Cochran's — "Carriage House"; Edna Wood's — "Rural Scene"; Miriam Atkinson's — "Snow Scene"; Vera Burnside's — "Rural Scene".

Several other paintings awarded honorable mention were: Sonia Hallstone's — "Old Mill"; Lou Barker's — "Beech Trees"; Vera Burnside's — "Trees in Winter"; Margaret Wright's — Black River; —Summer Scene; Geiha Burns' — Madoc Fall Fair; R. Peter's — Winter, Sleet Storm.

Mr. Cameron of Belleville, acted as adjudicator and commented the class on their pictures. Miss Monty of Belleville, being the art instructor, Mrs. E. Connor, club president, who has been so actively interested in the club.

While tea was being served Miss West and Mrs. G. Murray provided music.

Mrs. R. Vanderwater poured tea. Assisting in serving were: Mrs. J. Watson, Mrs. B. Tanner, Mrs. T. Rupert, Miss Jane Rupert and members of the Madoc Art Club.

USEFUL SEEDS

Sesame seeds—often used as a garnish on baked foods — also provide oil for cosmetics, soap and salad dressing.

SPEEDY GRANDMA

CHRISTCHURCH, N.Z. (CP) — In the first go-cart contest between Auckland and Canterbury here a member of the Auckland team was injured when her go-cart got out of control on a hill. It hit a bale of straw and overturned on the driver. The driver was Mrs. Doreen May Slovens, mother of 15 children and grandmother as well.

London Town

by Mary Moore

Did I imagine it or not? Did I imagine that the London bobby understood my thrill of excitement, as I sat myself down on the steps below Eros in Piccadilly Circus?

I had asked Herbie what side of the street we would be on when we emerged from the tube. He said we would be at the Shaftesbury Avenue. Oblivious to the hundreds of impassive Londoners darting around us, we reached the top step and stood still in glorious sunshine. Two huge red fire engines clanged past. About six double decker buzzes waited at the curb. A London bobby, with white half-sleeves, calmly held that pell-mell traffic in check, then lo and behold he waived it as three Canadians and gave us free passage across to Eros.

As Marianne and I sat down on two kleenexes I thanked God for the realization the It had not lost the capacity to be excited! Then was when the bobby came to me a long look. I just grinned and — bless him — he grinned back. We all had Mulligatawny Soup, the base of which was lentil puree. Herbie and I ordered Prawn Curry, but Marianne went all out and had hot Malay Chicken Curry. The headwaiter, very grand in maroon jacket and turban described to us how the Persian Pulao Rice was prepared. I was intrigued for mixed through it were grains of orange-colored rice prepared by frying it raw in oil with a special orange-colored curry powder. I am going to buy some in their Indian shop and try my little trick when I get home.

A strange item called Poppodums puzzled me so I asked to be enlightened. It comes in big 5-inch wafers, bumpy, paper thin, and is made of baleon flour (whatever that is) and is flecked with fishy-tasting spices. Evidently it is indispensable to an Indian meal and intended to crumble over an assembled curry. I have a lot to learn about Indian cooking.

For dessert we had various types of halvas which might be described as a sweet paste in various colors. One was chocolate-flavored. Another seemed to be made of coconut puree. Another was rolled in roasted sesame seeds.

After the theatre, while we waited for train time, we stood at the centre of Waterloo Bridge and really watched the world go by.

Our next trip is to London Zoo in Regent's Park for Gary's fourth birthday celebration. He and Davey (3 1-2) can both say "duck-billed platypus" without missing a consonant.

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

WEDNESDAY

(Guests — Lucy's Hungarian Meal, or Monday and Tuesday)

Lucy's Chicken Paprika; Nokedli; Lucy's Cucumber Salad; Turos Palanczinta (filled French Pancakes); Espresso Coffee.

What a day! We walked for hours and for miles.

I wonder if you remember me telling you about my train acquaintance, James Oakes, who is clockmaker to the Queen? I met him when I was returning from Calgary in May of 1958. When we parted he invited me to visit his shop at 6 Duke St., St. James whenever I came to London. That address was our first call, and I'm sure enough there he was, just the same as I remembered him. And he remembered me.

He and Mrs. Oakes were busy readying gifts for Princess Margaret's wedding. He described to us one handsome barometer that the palace staff were giving her.

His place was fabulous for Mr. Oakes had priceless antique treasures in china, silver clocks, watches, and barometers. For instance he showed us, and allowed me to hold, a Chelsea teapot-a beauty — there are only two. The Queen Mother has the "matching opposite". It is from the Raised White Anchor period and is worth $2,500. When a gentleman by the name of Sponsmont bought the Chelsea factory bit artist, they say, he proclaimed they could make a teapot with an unbreakable, unbreakable silver spout and a wooden handle. That did it. The figures on the shelf are from Aesop's fables and are a fox, dog, sheep, turnip and eagle, all exquisitely executed .It is only about a two-cup size but its craftsmanship and delicacy and priceless enchanted us.

We reluctantly bid them goodbye, then were off to buy tickets for the evening performance of Barrie's "What Every Woman Knows" with Maggie Smith, Wendy Williams and Fay Compton.

Then we sight-saw through Trafalgar Square, looked into about five rooms of the National Art Gallery ,watched a wedding emerge from St. Martin's-in-the - Field Church, passed through Leicester Square, saw our old familiar Mapleton Hotel (from our 1955 visit) then made our way to Veeraswamy's — a genuine Indian restaurant with gold and red decor.

The waiters were in full Indian costume and pretty girls in saris performed extra little duties. We all had Mulligatawny Soup, the base of which was lentil puree. Herbie and I ordered Prawn Curry, but Marianne went all out and had hot Malay Chicken Curry. The headwaiter, very grand in maroon jacket and turban described to us how the Persian Pulao Rice was prepared. I was intrigued for mixed through it were grains of orange-colored rice prepared by frying it raw in oil with a special orange-colored curry powder. I am going to buy some in their Indian shop and try my little trick when I get home.

Finished Articles Displayed at Weavers' Guild

The May meeting of the Belleville Weaver' Guild was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Godden, Charles Street, on Monday evening. There was a good attendance.

It was decided to have the year run from May to May, in place of the calendar year, to coincide with the Arts and Crafts' year.

After the business had been taken care of ,the evening was spent in an interesting discussion.

On display were many kinds of threads, weaving books and finished articles. These formed the background for an excellent evening whereby one could find ideas to help in weaving.

The members were urged to attend the workshop in Guelph and Ottawa. A workshop for the Guild will be held in the fall with Miss Maaff, the crafts adviser for the community province, branch of Ontario.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Churches Observe Mother's Day

IVANHOE — A Christian family service of worship was observed at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning at 10.45.

The theme of the service was "The Family As A Christian Community." The Rev. Kenneth Rooney spoke from the text, Psalm 85:8 "God setteth the solitary in families," pointing out the importance of working together with God in the home, the church and the community.

During the service the junior choir sang, "This Day We Give To Mother." A solo, "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling," was given by Mr. Rooney.

The offering will be used to support the mission work of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

SPRING FLOWERS

A special Mother's Day service was held in Beulah United Church on Sunday at 11 a.m. The service was conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Harold Stobbard, who spoke for his text —"Forsake not the Lord of thy mother," Prov. 1-8.

Mr. Stobbard spoke of a Christian mother's tremendous power for good. A mother's love, sacrifice and reverence — and dear deep concern for the spiritual need of her family.

Special music, under the direction of Mrs. George Wood, the junior choir rendered "Everybody Ought To Know" and "What A Friend We Have In Jesus."

Club Activities

FULL GOSPEL C.A.

FRANKFORD — Frankford Full Gospel CA's held their regular meeting on Sunday at 8 p.m. President, Miss Gail Walker, opened the service. Mr. James Curry and Paul Andrews were in charge. Miss Beverley Wannsmaker led in prayer and Miss Linda Fisher the song service.

Ushertettes, Miss Ronda Payne and Miss Lois Wright received the evening offering.

A radio broadcast from Eastern Pentecostal Bible College, Peterborough, was played. The Ambassador's Girls' Trio sang, "So Send I You." Mr. Reg. Sellers rendered a vocal number and brought a missionary message. Mr. Lyle Carbert was the announcer.

Mrs. A. Waters conducted a "Bible Quiz" on Bible Rods."

The second radio broadcast was played with a girls' trio singing, "Side by Side.With Jesus", vocal duet, Miss Betty Gill and Mr. Lyle Carbert rendered "Just a Closer Walk With Thee"; another girls' trio rendered, "The' I'm Unworthy".

Radio announcer Lyle Carbert asked questions "How to be Saved and Know Christ?" and radio director, Reg. Solmes, gave the answers.

Mrs. Mary Patrick closed the service in prayer.

Volkswagen makes sense for you – Here's why!

① Volkswagen's engine is air-cooled, an astonishing advantage when you think about it. No water to boil over in summer. No water to freeze in winter. Owners say the VW engine seems to go on forever with so little effort, fuel or attention. Friction and stress are so low, in fact, that a VW can cruise at 70 all day long without any over-exertion.

⑤ One of the things designed right into the Volkswagen is easy, low-cost maintenance. The car is so well conceived that its engine can be removed and replaced in only 90 minutes.

⑥ And best of all: the price of a Volkswagen is much lower than you would expect. No wonder, then, Volkswagen is the largest selling import in North America—by far.

KEEPING WATCH — Twin radar scopes of the Distant Early Warning (DEW) line are constantly scanning the skies to guard North America against a surprise attack. Nearly 1,000 Canadians are employed on the Canadian section of the line which consists of 60 radar sites dotting a 3,000-mile landscape north of the Arctic Circle from the west coast of Alaska to the east coast of Baffin Island. Two DEW line employees are shown at work in one of the isolated stations. (CP Photo).

Radar Inventor Has Probably Done More Than Any Man to Open North for Exploration

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Sir Robert Watson-Watt, inventor of radar, has probably done as much as any man to split open the North to more intense exploration.

Fur and fish opened Canada Grain populated the Prairies. Now radar may point the way to quickened development in the Arctic.

The original concept of North American air defence was building radar stations and interceptor bases onward and outward from Great Lakes. The Pinetree radar chain was one result.

But as the Soviet Union developed faster and longer - range bombers it became apparent that Pinetree would not provide sufficient warning time of attack.

DEW LINE

With typical American gusto, the United States slashed out the DEW (distant early warning) radar line across the rim of the northern mainland of Canada. At the same time, Canada built, in even more difficult terrain, the mid-Canada warning chain along the 55th parallel from Hopedale, Labrador, to Dawson Creek, B.C., where it hooked up with the western leg of Pinetree.

To erect the De-/ line, the U.S. had to build 21 major airfields across the Arctic to fly in construction materials.

It is these airfields, which Canada will, eventually take over, that will provide the jump-off places for further exploration and development.

Airfields and helicopter landing pads will provide similar facilities for more development along the mid-Canada line, especially east of Hudson Bay.

COST IS FACTOR

The big problem, however, will not be the discovery of resources such as oil and minerals, but how to get them out of the north economically.

Here again the building of the defence installations may play an important part.

Big sea convoys carried building supplies to the DEW line and are stiffened to supply the bases each year. They broke into Foxe Basin in the eastern Arctic and into the Beaufort Sea in the western Arctic behind icebreakers to land their cargos.

COASTS CHARTED

The Canadian Navy charted the Arctic coasts for these convoys, enabling them to unload by lighter over the open beaches. This oceanographic work is continuing under several agencies of government, including the Defence Research Board and the Department of mines and technical surveys.

Thought has already been given to carrying northern Canadian resources to Europe by huge cargo submarines which could ignore the ice that locks up the coasts for seven months of the year.

The radar line construction far surpassed the eastern and western staging routes the U.S. built in Canada during the Second World War to ferry aircraft to Europe and Alaska. Many of the 33 northern airstrips now operated by Canadian government agencies were taken over from the U.S. after the war.

BAFFIN BASE

One notable base is Frobisher on Baffin Island, now a regular airport for liner flying the polar route between Europe and North America and Asia.

But Frobisher is far south of the route now being flown by some carriers such as Scandinavian Airlines. Some day the airstrip at Hazen Lake, only 450 miles from the north pole on Ellesmere Island, may be an emergency stop for planes. Sc-entists of the Defence Research Board have carried out explorations in the area.

Incidentally, the mid - Canada line is capable of carrying television. A prospector in Ungava one day may be able to watch live programs from Europe.

GENERAL AMNESTY

YAOUNDE, Cameroun (Reuters) — Ahmadou Ahidjo, elected last week as Cameroun's first president, Monday announced a general amnesty for all political broadcast speech, he said there would be only one condition—offenders must hand in their arms. This West African state, formerly a French trust terrgiory, achieved independence Jan. 1.

RADAR NETWORKS — Radar stations are still being built in Canada for defence against bombers.

Map shows general location of the three radar lines in Canada. The Pinetree line controls operations of manned or unmanned interceptors. The Mid-Canada and DEW lines are primarily warning networks.

Seven heavy radar units are being built across the Prairies, Ontario and Quebec as additions to Pinetree. Unmanned radar units, known as gap-fillers, are being constructed between the heavy units.

Map also locates the 21 major airfields the United States built across the Arctic to fly in DEW line construction materials. Canada will eventually take over the fields. (CP Newsmap.)

OPENING NORTH — Radar may point the way to quickened development in the Arctic. Canada will eventually take over 21 major airfields across the Arctic, built by the U.S. to erect the Distant Early Warning (DEW) line. These airfields will provide the jump-off places for further exploration. This aerial photo shows an isolated radar station on the DEW line. Round bulb in the centre is a radome housing a circling antenna. Parabolic antennae of the telephone and communications system connect the 60 DEW line sites. Directly in front of the radome are living quarters of station personnel. (CP Photo).

Will Clamp Down On Abuse of Jobless Fund

OTTAWA (CP) — The government has ordered enforcement officers to bear down heavily on Canadians who draw unemployment insurance benefits to which they are not entitled, it is learned.

The most flagrant offenders are those who do not report in full the money they make in casual jobs while drawing unemployment insurance, and those who illegally acquire insurance payment stamps for their books.

Only a few cases of racketeering in unemployment insurance stamps have been uncovered recently. Some years ago, such fraud was more prevalent in large cities.

Extend Government Uranium Mining Communities Study To Bancroft, Uranium City

OTTAWA (CP) — The government's special study of ailing uranium mining communities is being extended to Bancroft, Ont., and Uranium City, Sask., an informed source said last night.

The committee of cabinet ministers and senior civil servants was originally formed to find ways of helping the Northern Ontario community of Elliot Lake, facing heavy unemployment through impending loss of U.S. uranium purchase contracts.

An army team of experts has visited Elliot Lake and is expected to report to the government this week on the feasibility of setting up a training establishment there. It would bring 50 instructor families and several hundred trainees to the town.

Bancroft and Uranium City were also hit by the U.S. decision to discontinue uranium purchases in Canada after 1962. But the blow was felt more heavily in Elliot Lake, carved out of the rock and bush in the Blind River area solely for uranium mining. Bancroft has other commercial interests, particularly tourism, and Uranium City employment is only a fraction of Elliot Lake's.

The government committee, formed recently, worked informally until Trade Minister Churchill announced the training establishment last week. Labor, finance, lands and other departments are understood to be represented on it.

Co-ordinating the work is Richard Thrasher (PC-Essex South), parliamentary secretary for labor, who visited Elliot Lake on a fact-finding mission in March and returned with Mr. Churchill and Labor Minister Starr last month.

The government arranged with the U.S. to stretch out deliveries under the contracts expiring in 1962 so that some mines will be kept operating until 1966. Some mines have combined operations on the contracts, resulting in a few immediate closures.

Consideration is being given to rearrangements which will keep more mines operating, at least part-time.

The government has been convinced by its advisers that there is a long-term future need for uranium for peaceful purposes and believes the big problem is only the immediate future.

Some thought has been given, but no decision made yet, on the possibility of the government keeping the mines open through its crown agency, Eldorado Mining and Refining Limited.

Meanwhile, the government is handing firm on its decision to proceed with construction of a nuclear research establishment at Whiteshell area 60 miles north of Winnipeg. Ground breaking and construction of bridge abutments at the road to the site are to be done this year at a cost of under $300,000.

Compact Cars For Govt. Depts. When Possible

OTTAWA (CP) — Government departments have been instructed to buy compact cars instead of big ones wherever possible.

This was disclosed Tuesday at a meeting of the Commons estimates committee, now studying health department estimates.

Dr. George F. Davidson, deputy health minister, said the department so far has bought big cars. However, it had received a directive from the treasury board's motor vehicles committee to consider compact cars wherever it was felt they could do the job as well.

Outside the committee, a treasury board official said the directive went to all departments earlier this year as an economy measure.

The estimates committee also heard that the federal health department has no control over cigaret advertisement.

George C. Fairfield (PC—Portage — Neepawa) asked whether the department is doing anything about the "campaign" done by "advertising for particular cigarettes."

Dr. C. A. Morrell, director of the department's food and drug administration, said cigarets cannot be classified as food, drugs or cosmetics within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act.

"We have no control over the advertising of cigarets," he said.

Senate Moves to Organize Committee to Seek Cures For National Unemployment

OTTAWA (CP) — General approval was expressed Tuesday night as the Senate moved to set up a committee to search out cures for unemployment. But the government took some digs for what Liberals termed its reluctance to face the situation as was asked not to limit the investigation's scope.

Senator Walter Aseltine, government leader, moved to establish the 35-member committee. It is to study "manpower requirements and utilization in Canada with the object of exploring the possibilities of maintaining and extending a high level of employment."

Senator W. Ross Macdonald, opposition leader, noted he had suggested formation of such a committee in March. Now it was being put into effect two months later.

GOOD TIMES?

Early last month there were "approximately 800,000 men and women out of work." This despite statements by government leaders that "we are living in the very good times, times of a buoyant economy."

The committee could determine whether "we have to accept the fact that just under 10 per cent of the labor force should be unemployed in these good times."

Senator Macdonald said the committee should not be tied to the particular terms of the resolution establishing it. The best are piece of wreckage at this time. Russian experts would certainly impound the wreckage for detail study. (AP Wirephoto).

Confusion Won't Be Repeated Says Minister

PORT ARTHUR (CP) — Education Minister John P. Robarts of Ontario said Tuesday that this year's budgetary confusion for municipal boards of education, caused by the late announcement of provincial government grants, will never be repeated.

In an interview, he said that earlier this year his department was criticized by several municipal boards of education when government grants were announced. In many cases, the announcement came after the boards had struck their budgets for the year.

Many boards, including Port Arthur's, found that a levelling out of provincial grants on an area basis would result in it caused a deficit in their year's financing. Several adjustments in the grants had to be made to bring some of the grants up to the 1959 level.

"This confusion will never happen again," Mr. Robarts said. He said he hopes that final figures for the basing of grants will be completed by December 15 at the latest and that grants will be announced no later than January 15.

Mr. Robarts is on a Northwestern Ontario tour arranged by Minister of Reform Institutions George Wardrope.

Says Portable Pension Plans Of Great Value

OTTAWA (CP)—Welfare Minister Monteith said Tuesday the findings of an Ontario committee established to study portable pension plans should be of "great value."

He was replying in the Commons to Erhart Regier (CCF—Rosthern-Coquitlam) who asked what progress the federal government is making on such plans.

Mr. Monteith said there are big disadvantages of industrial pensions in that they are not transferable from one firm to another. The matter has been mentioned in a report to the government on social security.

Mark Drouillard (Essex East) asked when the government would do something about this 1958 report—made by Professor Robert Clark of the university of British Columbia.

Mr. Monteith said the report was being studied and "when a decision is made the proper course will be followed."

UN URGES CRACKDOWN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) Australia was prodded Tuesday in its efforts to eliminate head-hunting and cannibalism in New Guinea. The question was raised in the United Nations Trusteeship Council by Rafik Asha, a representative of the United Arab Republic. Australia administers the trust territory for the UN.

Rail Movement Western Crop Royal Commission's Problem

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's royal commission on transport is being engrossed in cross-examination of the shipping industry of how to figure out the cost of moving western grain to ease Canada's big export grain crop.

Manitoba counsel Arthur Mauro launched a prairie attack Tuesday on the cost study made by the CPR and CNR, trying to find flaws in the figures in the analysis, casting suspicion on the allocation of various segments of the railway business to the grain operation, seeking loopholes in the electronic computations behind the figures.

He matched wits and words with W. J. Bennett, chief director of the CPR's economic research branch, who has been devising a way of finding out the cost of moving grain.

The two major railways claim loss of $70,500,000 in 1958 on the grain operations alone. To offset this loss, caused by the statutory freight rate level on export grain shipments, the railways want a federal subsidy.

The cost study has been submitted many months ago to the commission by Bennett, then chairmanship of M. A. Mac Pherson, but cross-examination what I'm driving at."

Louw's Assault on Critics Ends Hope of Healing Split

LONDON (CP) — Eric Louw, South Africa's external affairs minister, took the offensive against critics of his country's racial policies Tuesday night. His action virtually ended any hope that the Commonwealth prime ministers can heal their split over apartheid before their conference ends on Friday.

Speaking outside the conference chamber at a dinner of London's South Africa Club, Louw explained that "leftist elements" are fomenting an anti-South African campaign in Britain and said relations between the two countries will be "seriously damaged" if it continues unchecked.

Louw's speech, an aloof defence of racial segregation, was the third occasion since the conference opened a week ago that a delegate emerged from the closed-door sessions to deal with the South African issue.

Louw himself dealt with it at a press conference on Wednesday in which he defended his country's record. Malayan Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman countered the following day with a bitter attack on the South African and an announcement of his refusal to participate in further apartheid discussions.

Their speeches, together with Ghana's curt withdrawal of an invitation to Louw to visit the country, effectively nullified the peace - making efforts of such prime ministers as Britain's Harold Macmillan, Canada's John Diefenbaker and Australia's Robert Menzies.

The timing of Louw's latest speech indicated the South African had lost interest in a face-saving compromise.

It came after a conference session in which he broached the idea of South Africa's continued Commonwealth membership after she carries out her announced intention to become a republic.

At the same session, the prime ministers approved Ghana's formal application to join India, Pakistan and Ceylon as republics that still belong to Commonwealth. But there was a strong disinclination to give South Africa the go-ahead in advance.

Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah told the conference the Ghana republic will be proclaimed by July 1. Ghana wished to remain a full member and would recognize the Queen as head of the Commonwealth, Nkrumah is president - elect of the republic.

Delegates assured Nkrumah that relations would not be affected by the switch.

Cut Navy's Rum To Pay Olympic Costs, Proposal

OTTAWA (CP) — John Taylor, Progressive Conservative MP for Vancouver Burrard, says the navy rum ration should be eliminated to pay for Canadian participation in the Olympic Games.

Mr. Taylor, an army captain during the Second World War, said Tuesday night in an interview that his proposal has been approved by the Canadian Christian Temperance Union of Ottawa in a recent resolution and that it will be passed on to the Canadian Temperance Association.

The navy spends more than $300,000 a year for rum which is handed out in daily two-ounce tots to sailors over 19 and aboard ships. About half refuse the allotment and get an allowance of $1.50 a month.

Mr. Taylor said the government has provided $60,000 for the Olympics, to be held in Rome in August, but that the Canadian Olympic Committee has asked for another $20,000. He said it is unwilling to cut expenditures to maintain the tradition of the rum ration when athletes need funds.

NOT U2 WRECKAGE, SAYS DESIGNER —C. U. Johnson, designer of the high-altitude U2 plane, holds a radiophoto copy of the picture Russia purporting to show wreckage of a U2 and says, at Burbank, Calif., he believes the picture is a phony. Johnson circled and pointed areas in the picture to make these points: 1. The wing section is definitely not that of a U2. . The wing taper is wrong as is the structural pattern of ribs and beams. 2. The heavy structural element has no counterpart in the U2. Not one single U2 part can be identified in the wreckage. 4. If the U2 wreckage were as bad as shown, film would have been destroyed. 5. The large number of men, women and children would not have been allowed so close to such an important piece of equipment. (AP Wirephoto).

PRAVDA SAYS POWERS MADE THIS PICTURE — The Russian newspaper Pravda published this picture on its front page and said it was made by U.S. jet pilot Francis Powers as he flew over a Soviet airfield. The planes are clearly seen as four-engine aircraft. Russian claim Powers was shot down by rocket. Powers or he piloted his Lockheed U-2 over Soviet territory last week and that his camera and other material was confiscated. (AP Wirephoto).

Welland Bottleneck Reduces Importance of Seaway, Claim

BUFFALO (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway will never realize its full potential as a vital trade route "until the bottleneck at the Welland Canal is eliminated, president of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Association said Tuesday.

Dr. N. R. Danielian told the Council of Lake Erie Ports that canals traffic should be speeded "either by the duplication of the single locks of the Welland or by construction of an all - American canal, whichever is quickest and cheapest."

Ship jams at the canal entrances slowed traffic last year—the first of the seaway operation. Canada is spending $7,500,000 on the canal, much of it in lengthening two locks at the various locks so vessels can wait their turn instead of tying up part of at anchorages at either end of the waterway.

Canadian officials said this could speed ship traffic by 25 per cent.

Danielian said the seaway probably would be modified 10 years ir developing fully but added that Great Lakes ports now are on the threshold of a great resurgence." He said the realization of this depends a great deal on international co-operation.

Ronald B. Peterson, a deputy commissioner of the New York state department of commerce, said New York state has gained 23,000 business and manufacturing firms and 700,000 employed in the last 10 years.

Request Poultry Tariff Boost

OTTAWA (CP) — A delegation representing Ontario and Quebec poultry producers and processors urged the government Tuesday to raise tariffs against United States imports.

In a brief to Agriculture Minister Harkness and Finance Minister Fleming, the delegation said importation of dressed poultry from the United States has increased fourfold in the first four months of this year.

Mr. Harkness said the poultry producers presented a good argument and a strong one.

They had asked for a five-cent-a-pound tariff, equal to the tariff on Canadian poultry going into the U.S. However, the present tariff structure is being restated under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Much Statistical Evidence

MONTREAL (CP) — The non-operating railway unions today moved to introduce a mass of statistical evidence before a three-man conciliation board to back up their demands for 25 - cent hourly wage increases for their 120,000 members.

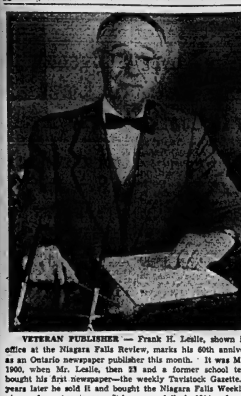
The evidence, mainly graphs and charts, was designed to offset anticipated company arguments that the durable-goods standard of setting non-op wages is not a fair one.

As such it was expected to be given a searching analysis by the railway statisticians and the conciliation board was also expected to ask for elaboration and explanation.

On Tuesday, Frank H. Hall, chairman of the joint committee which negotiates for the 15 unions representing the non - ops — all railway employees not actually engaged in operating trains — filed labor reading the unions' 103-page brief to the board.

Mr. Hall developed the union position that non-ops must not accept sub-standard wages simply because railway revenues are low.

If revenues are low—and the unions and railways are basically agreed this is the case—they are low because of government regulations which set unprofitable freight rates and prevent the railways from abandoning uneconomic lines, Mr. Hall said.



The railways claim the increases demanded—the present average hourly wage for non-ops is $1.71—would cost $35,000,000 annually and the unions largely output.

VETERAN PUBLISHER — Frank H. Leslie, shown in his office at the Niagara Falls Review, marks his 60th anniversary as an Ontario newspaper publisher this month. It was May 13, 1900, when Mr. Leslie, then 23 and a former school teacher, bought his first newspaper—the weekly Tavistock Gazette. Four years later he sold it and bought the Niagara Falls Weekly Review, a four-page paper. It became a daily in 1914 and now has a circulation of nearly 15,000. (CP Photo).

Frank H. Leslie Can Look Back Across Sixty Years Of Work in Newspaper Field

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)] Frank H. Leslie, from the cluttered workroom of his Welland County farm can look out across 150 years of Canadian history.

Through the big picture window of Grove Farm he can see the canal over Navy Island in the Niagara River, where once thundered the scarlet and blue cannon of William Lyon Mackenzie.

Fenian Raiders marched and burned across the fields down the road.

The banks of quiet Usshers Creek which joins the Niagara outside his door, once hid American forces who lay in wait for the Canadians in 1813 and "shot them down like birds" in a bloody prelude to the battle of Lundy's Lane.

60TH ANNIVERSARY

And today, from his desk in the Niagara Falls Review, he can look back across 60 years in which the name Frank H. Leslie and the title "publisher" have appeared together on the mastheads of Ontario newspapers.

The occasion will be marked tonight by a civic banquet for Mr. Leslie in the Sheraton-Brock Hotel. He will receive a plaque on behalf of the Review staff, freedom of the city from Mayor Franklin J. Miller and a provincial government scroll from Labor Minister Daley, the chairman of the Niagara Parks Commission.

It was May 13, 1900, that 23-year-old Frank Leslie, former school teacher and country correspondent for county newspapers, gave up all thoughts of shoeing, harnessmaking, blacksmithing and farming and paid $1,300 for the weekly Tavistock Gazette.

"I was looking for a business to get into and in those days a small weekly newspaper could be picked up without much capital."

FALSE ALARM

It was a false alarm that made him publisher of a daily paper. It was tragedy which turned him into a newspaper owner and pictures watched all over the world.

The Depression made him, almost against his will, a financier.

He is the Canadian Press member with the longest service, joining in November, 1917, less that three months after CP's formation as a national news association.

Mr. Leslie, who will be 84 on June 4, was born in Toronto and ticken to Glenis in Bruce County as an infant. He was educated at Walkerton and became a school teacher there, serving for a time as acting principal of the high school.

He sent items to the Walkerton Telescope, then the leading paper in the county.

"By the next mail came back stamped, addressed envelopes and a supply of copy paper. I was one of that great and respected body known as country correspondents." He hrad designs out to extend his coverage to the Dalhousie district and the Georgian Watchman, all without pay.

It was when he contrasted his $345-a-year salary as a teacher with the $2,000 income of A.W. Robb of the Telescope that Frank Leslie "seriously considered the weekly publishing field."

He kept the Tavistock Gazette for four years until, looking for greater scope with an expanding population, he sold it and bought the Niagara Falls Weekly Review, a four-page paper. How he expanded it to eight pages is one of his favorite stories.

His editor, Archie Fleming, Niagara Falls, now in the St. Catharines Standard and, on receipt of that newspaper in Niagara Falls, would mark stories The Review could use. The type was saved in St. Catharines, 18 miles away.

HEAVY RESPONSIBILITY

"Every Wednesday, yours truly went to St. Catharines for the type and brought it back that week and this went into The Review. The physical effort is not that type was great. When I took the streetcar in St. Catharines, I had the book case and stone sometimes more of the used type. At St. Catharines I had to carry the type about a block. The return journey was just as laborious—a page of type weighed about 100 pounds."

The Review became a daily Oct. 5, 1914, through a false alarm.

He had been planning for some time to convert The Review to a daily in opposition to The Daily Record. When he heard a report that another daily paper was to be established in the Honeymoon City, Frank Leslie hurriedly put up financing and, "by the time I found out the report was a false alarm, I was a daily publisher."

Since 1900, The Review has climbed from a weekly with fewer than 1,000 subscribers to its present strength as a daily with nearly 15,000 subscribers. In 50 years, staff has increased from four to 100.

JOINED BY GRANDSON

The 100th was an advertising salesman named Frank B. Leslie—his grandson. Bruce Leslie, Frank B.'s father, is editor and manager of The Review, making three generations actively engaged in producing the paper.

A sideline of The Review is the printing and distribution of picture postcards of the scenic Niagara area. Many of the views were taken by Frank Leslie. He took on the job many years ago, when his photographer was drowned, leaving him with a lucrative sideline in postcards and nobody but himself to take the pictures.

During the Depression, he became a member of the Niagara Falls Advisory Commission, a four-man body set up when the city encountered financial trouble and "was unable to meet its obligations."

He was appointed to the commission after he had turned down an invitation to join it. His work in this regard brought him into contact with Canada Permanent Company, of which he has been a vice-president for 20 years. Mortgage loans.

He still goes daily to the office, editing the weekly farm and builders' pages. His weekly column Grove Farm Notes, is written in longhand on the backs of old letters and handbills.

At home, he takes intermittent interest in his bennett full of rower tools—sometimes making fine furniture—and pictures which his wife, Catharine, paints.

He is a member of Lundy's Lane Historical Society—he could hardly escape it with the panorama of history outside his window.

For the last 10 to 15 years he has taken an increasing interest in old books, especially those dealing with the Niagara area. His collection may one day go to a historical library, he says.

"Five years ago," says Frank H. Leslie, "I bought many, many books. I put them aside to read when I'm an old man."

Doctors Claim Fluoridated Water Harmful

TORONTO (CP) — Fluoridated water can cause damage to the brain, premature births, paralysis of the nerve ends and complications of diabetes, a royal commission on fluoridation was told here.

Dr. Charles A. Brusch of the Brusch Medical Center in Cambridge, Mass., said he could produce evidence by medical subpoenas to back his charges. He told Mr. Justice K. G. Morden of the Ontario Court of Appeal, who is conducting the hearings now in their second week, that he would send him the information.

Dr. Brusch said the Nazis administered fluorine to prisoners in German concentration camps as part of a "brainwashing process."

Another opponent of fluoridated water, Dr. W. A. Costain of Toronto, said sodium fluoride in drinking water lowers the calcium level of the blood and the tissues.

Earlier, a University of Toronto professor said proposals to add one part per million to 1,000,000 parts water are perfectly safe and beneficial to teeth. Dr. Edward A. Sellers, a professor of pharmacology, said the human body could even worry at dealing with a high consumption of fluorides. Only extraordinary large quantities are harmful; excreted through the kidneys, or excreted through the pores in hot weather, he said.

'Canadian Room' May Be Wedding Gift

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government hopes Canada's wedding gift to Princess Margaret will form the nucleus of a "Canadian room" in her country home, the prime minister's office said here.

The gift includes six pieces of early Canadian pine furniture, an Eskimo carving, two colored prints of early Canadian scenes and an engraved map showing Canada in 1759.

The pine furniture is in a style unique to early French Canada. It was made by Quebec artisans at various times between 1750 and 1800.

A chest of drawers of attractive simplicity is the earliest of the six pieces. The set also includes two armchairs chairs, one Windsor chair, a corner cupboard and a desk.

The two colored prints are of street scenes at Prescott and Cornwall showing the communities as they were 150 years ago.

Collection of Photographs Of Canadian West Becomes Memorial of Great Artist

By GERRY McNEIL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP)—"If it's an old-time picture, it's mine."

That was the proud boast of the late Ernest Brown. His collection of old photographs of the Canadian West has become his memorial.

Caught in the glass negatives are the faces of Louis Riel and his Metis rebels, Chief Poundmaker and Father Lacombe, contemporary gaudy-dancers revealing over the CPR, smiling remittance men, worn homesteaders and grinning traders.

A Cree Indian, Mr. Brown's first Canadian customer, stands proudly in buckskins and flowing hair. He had the picture taken to preserve the memory of himself as he was before he traded buckskins and wampum beads for a team of horses and the white man's ways.

In another photo, a young Blackfoot Indian impassively endures the rigors of a tribal initiation ceremony in Southern Alberta, tightly gripping two poles to keep himself upright as two weighted ropes stretch taut from thongs embedded in his chest muscles.

The Brown collection contains negatives dating back to the 1860s when the CPR was pushing west. There are photos of almost every fort from Winnipeg to Victoria, from Montana to the Arctic Circle.

The dusty, false-fronted streets of the frontier towns show little promise of what they were to become.

Beyond the frontier, the cameras of pioneer photographers caught a fur train at Fort Smith, N.W.T., a group of Eskimos on the Arctic coast, a suspicious herd of buffalo on a plain that now is farmland.

Though Mr. Brown took at least 17,000 pictures of Edmonton and district residents, most of the 70,000 photos in his collection were the work of earlier photographers.

He bought their collections and had compiled most of his before the First World War. Later, he held onto his negatives though successively ruined by war, fire and depression. When he died in 1951, a tired 74, he was still working on the collection.

Born in 1877, Mr. Brown was an apprentice photographer at 15. The Boer War depressed the business in England and he came to Canada in 1902, working at odd jobs in Toronto.

In 1904, he learned that an Edmonton photographer, C. W. Mathers, was going on tour in the North and wanted someone to handle his business. Mr. Brown got the job.

Mr. Mathers later sold his business to Mr. Brown and in 1908 sold him his entire collection of negatives. These became the basis of the Brown collection.

Business boomed and in 1909 Mr. Brown hired Gladys Reeves, a bright teen-ager, as apprentice and secretary. Meanwhile, he returned to England for his wife, Molly, arriving back with $5.

"Brown's technical knowledge was the best," says Miss Reeves, now 69 and custodian of the collection. "There wasn't a better photographer in the West."

Mr. Brown's black mustache, high forehead and ever-present, nail-smoked cigar became well known in Edmonton. His habit of scribbling notes on his stiff shirt cuffs was often a topic of local conversation. He meticulously recorded the stories he heard and placed them in his files as footnotes to the photographs.

In 1914, Mr. Brown owned a heavily mortgaged 96-foot barge loess block and his studio was the largest in the West. The war brought ruin. Almost 26,000 people left Edmonton for England to join relatives while husbands and fathers fought, or for the United States to avoid the possibility of being conscripted. By 1920, Mr. Brown was evicted. His collection was dumped into the street as junk.

The shock of financial ruin turned him into a radical and he was active in an obscure labor party and published a peripatetic newspaper. The sorrowful—"A Little Light in the Dark" was its slogan.

He and Miss Reeves parted in 1930 and she opened a photography studio which operated until 1940. Mr. Brown placed his collection in a leaky shack and didn't take an active interest in photography again until 1937 when the Hudson's Bay Company offered him $750 for photos of its early forts.

With the idea of selling a series of collections of his old pictures, Mr. Brown used the money to buy leather albums and set up shop in Vegreville, Alta., making prints and sending them to Miss Reeves' studio to be bound.

In 1939, fire flashed through the Reeves studio, destroying 3,000 prints and albums. Fortunately the negatives were in Vegreville.

After the Depression years of the 1930s, Mr. Brown rented a hall in Edmonton and started a museum with 32 truckloads of dinosaur bones, Indian artifacts, maps, visual documents and junk.

He forgot socialism and concentrated on showing the exhibits to the thousands who visited the museum. Children listened avidly to his tales of the whole thatched curator.

But when the Second World War came and the building was required for other purposes, he was again evicted.

The Alberta government saved Mr. Brown from penury by buying the museum collection for $50,000. He spent his remaining years writing, adding notes to the collection, but worry, work and the heartbreak of earlier years caught up to him in 1951 and he died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Copyrights of the negatives were willed to Miss Reeves who now spends several hours each day labelling and filing them and answering letters about the collection. The province hopes to place it in a museum by 1963, fulfilling the dream of the farsighted Brown—who knew history when he saw it.

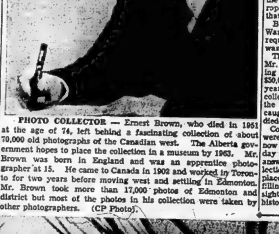

PHOTO COLLECTOR — Ernest Brown, who died in 1951 at the age of 74, left behind a fascinating collection of about 70,000 old photographs of the Canadian west. The Alberta government hopes to place the collection in a museum by 1963. Mr. Brown was born in England and was an apprentice photographer at 15. He came to Canada in 1902 and worked in Toronto for two years before moving west and settling in Edmonton. Mr. Brown took more than 17,000 photos of Edmonton and district but most of the photos in his collection were taken by other photographers. (CP Photo).

United Church Holds Mothers' Day Service

WELLINGTON — The Wellington United Church was filled on Sunday morning for the annual Mother's Day service. All were sorry to hear that Rev. A. Poulter was ill. The baptismal service was postponed. The Rev. C. W. Townsend, assistant minister of Holloway St. United Church, Belleville, was in charge of the service.

Beautiful flowers at the altar in loving memory of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Hurkyo, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morley, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Ferguson and Mrs. James Findlay.

The "All Mother's Choir," under the direction of Mrs. Jack McNeill, sang the familiar anthem, "He Brightens the Shadows." The choir members were Mesdames R. Bishop, J. Dick, P. Bryant, H. Earl, S. Court, H. Adams, M. Tayler, B. Bishop, B. Hicks, G. Lane, B. Gibson, C. Hicks, D. Greenfield, A. Holmes, A. Pettingill, B. Read, C. Tripp, J. Dick, P. Brown, A. Foster, G. Parks, F. Brimley Jr., D. McKenzie and B. Aiyea.

NO RANSOM

MANCHESTER, England (CP) Manchester City soccer club paid £33,000 when they acquired Denis Law in a transfer last month, but a group of students couldn't get £25 for him. They kidnapped the football star as part of a charity campaign stunt, but the club refused to pay £25 as ransom.

Another Link in Confederation

From East to West 2 Hours 30 Minutes

At 6 a.m. on April 1st, a pale grey morning with a hint of spring in the air, the doors of Canada's mammoth $20 million overhaul and maintenance base at Dorval, Que., clattered open and a sleek red-trimmed jetliner rolled soundlessly onto the tarmac. With veteran flyer, Captain George Lothian, at the complicated network of electronic controls, the big plane taxied to the domestic terminal of Montreal's International Airport to board passengers. At 7.15 a.m. it moved over to a new, 10,000 foot runway and opened out its 4 powerful motors. In 22 seconds, to the applause of a sprinkling of spectators who had gathered to witness its inaugural flight, the slender, missile-shaped aircraft lifted effortlessly into the brightening sky, climbed rapidly, headed westward.

Six hours and 20 minutes later, after a 54-minute station stop at Toronto, the mighty airship set its 127 passengers gracefully down at Vancouver's scenic Island Airport. Commercial aviation in Canada had entered the jet age.

Flying time for the 2498-mile journey had been cut in half and a Confederation promise to knit Canada's farflung provinces into a closer unity had become a reality beyond the dreams of the country's Founding Fathers. Taking advantage of the 3-hour time differential in travelling to the West Coast, it is now possible for a Montrealer to leave Dorval airport at 10 a.m., be on time for a 12.30 luncheon engagement in Vancouver. Without any doubt, during the next decade—when Canada will have a fleet of jetliners plying the skies from British Columbia to Newfoundland, and throughout the air lanes of the world—Canadians will come to know their own country and understand their neighbours as never before in their history.

In the past decade domestic passenger traffic in Canada has skyrocketed from one million to nearly 5 million a year. International services last year carried more than a million and a half people to or from Canada.

Other countries flying the big, 330-mile-an-hour DC-8 jets are the United States, Japan, Holland, Greece, Italy, Brazil, the Philippines, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Switzerland, France and Great Britain.

Canada's new DC-8 jetliner measures exactly 150 feet and 6 inches from the tip of its streamlined nose to tailend — a length equivalent to three and a half freight cars — and its 42 foot tailfin raises roughly as high as a four-storey building. It cruises at 30,000 to 40,000 feet in silent blue world of upper atmosphere.

Looking faintly like a ship from outer space, this nose-up view of Canada's giant jet shows the DC-8 with air starter hose connected prior to starting up its four powerful engines.

Capt. Al Ross (seated) and pilot trainees test flight deck mockup of DC-8 which is used for cockpit familiarization and classroom instruction. Veteran pilots undergoing conversion course to "jet flying" also train on a million-dollar electronic "simulator" capable of doing everything the aircraft can do—except leave the ground.

Expect Battle Over Grain Rates To Be Renewed

By ROBERT RICE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — A prairie-railway feud over the cost of hauling export grain by rail is expected to break out again today before the royal commission on transportation.

It's a long-standing squabble, a bitter battle around a highly-complex subject — and abstruse matter, commission counsel Gordon Cooper of Halifax once called it.

But it is the crux of the railways' claim for a multi-million-dollar subsidy from the federal treasury to help move Western Canada's grain crop to export terminals at the Lakehead, Pacific ports and Churchill, Man.

With economitricians — a new breed of economist with statistical analysis training — rolling vast quantities of information into electronic computers, the railways came up with a precise figure of their losses on the export grain business.

Retired Admiral, Now 84, Recalls Early Days of RCN And Command of 'Rainbow'

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Walter Hose was a commander in the Royal Navy in 1909 when he saw that the Royal Canadian Navy was about to be formed.

He wrote to Admiral Sir Charles Kingsmill, already acknowledged as certain to be Canada's first naval chief, asking for a posting to the new navy.

In short, 1911, he took over command of the cruiser Rainbow, first ship commissioned in the RCN.

Today, as Rear-Admiral Walter Hose (Ret.), still alert and sprv at 84, he has vivid memories of the first years of the RCN, founded 50 years ago on May 4, 1910.

NEWFOUNDLAND CHIEF

Actually, his naval association with North America dates back to 1902 when, as a veteran of 12 years in the RN, he accepted a post as chief of naval training services in Newfoundland. It was while in St. John's that he met his wife-to-be.

He was still in the RN when he became commander of the Rainbow, acquired by Canada from Britain along with the cruiser Niobe. It wasn't until 1912 that he severed his ties with the Royal Navy.

Unfortunately 1911 wasn't much of a year in the Canadian navy's history. The Niobe, in charge of the Atlantic patrol, ran aground off Cape Sable July 31 and spent the next 18 months in drydock at Halifax.

And the same year brought with it a new government and a new naval policy—top recruiting.

FEWER RATINGS

Under Sir Robert Borden's Conservative government the number of cadets entering the navy dropped from 29 in 1910-11 to four in 1913-14. Expenditures on the navy dropped from $1,700,000 to $597,000 and the number of ratings declined to 330 from a high of 704 in 1911.

"The government had put a bit of a spoke in our wheel," Admiral Hose recalled. "We did our best just the same to keep our flag flying at sea but it was pretty much like making bricks without straw."

The Rainbow, based at Esquimalt on Vancouver Island, continued through 1912 with occasional two - week exercises. On weekends, for lack of anything better to do, the cruiser would sometimes put into an out-of-the-way harbor and crew members did a little hunting.

Somehow, word of these impromptu expeditions got to the Calgary Eye-Opener, irreverent and irregular newspaper published by the late Bob Edwards, bringing a slightly sarcastic comment: "Six hundred tons of coal and three ducks—what ho, the Canadian navy!"

NOT SO

The admiral's reply: "Three ducks, my eye! We really got a very good bag."

In the spring of 1913 funds and men finally ran too short and the Rainbow had to "pack up shop." It wasn't until July, 1914, that the ship was ordered back to sea for a three-month cruise to enforce sealing agreements in the north Pacific.

In May, 1914, the steamer Komagata Maru sailed into Vancouver harbor with close to 400 passengers, natives of India and would-be immigrants. The immigration department balked, refusing entry to all of them. The Indians decided they could be just as stubborn as the officials, electing to stay put in Vancouver harbor.

When police tried to board the ship they were greeted by a hail of coal. The situation deteriorated to the point where early in July city officials decided to call in the "Navy"—one ship, with only a skeleton crew aboard.

ESCORTED BY RAINBOW

The Rainbow's presence had the desired effect, however. The Indians agreed to leave without a fight, and were escorted out of the harbor by the warship.

The Rainbow spent most of the First World War on the West Coast, the Admiral remaining in command of her until 1917, when he was transferred to Ottawa to organize the East Coast patrols. Appointed Captain of Patrols that summer, he retained the post for the war's duration.

After a year as Senior Naval Officer at Halifax he was appointed to duty at Naval Services Headquarters in Ottawa in December, 1918. In 1920 he became assistant director of naval services, succeeding Admiral Kingsmill in January, 1921, as director.

"In 1933, I felt it was high time that an officer with modern seagoing experience, which I had not, might take my place."

Today, still speaking with a trace of an English accent and with only a slight hearing difficulty to show for his years, he lives with his daughter and son-in-law in a comfortable bungalow in suburban Riverside within a block of the Detroit River.

With the St. Lawrence Seaway bringing ocean ships past his door, it's almost as if the sea had returned to him 27 years after he left it.

The Couples' Club of St. Ola United Church is being entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Phillips on Friday evening, May 13th.

Mrs. Wellman of Belleville sent a bunch of chrysanthemums to the St. Ola United Church last Sunday, May 8th, in memory of her father and mother, the late Mr. and Mrs. Philip Embury.

Mrs. Hannah King is in Trenton with her policeman son, Russell, whose wife is undergoing surgery in the Trenton Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Willard Veley and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Boomhour and daughter, of Wesleymkoon, were visitors in Stconberg last Wednesday.

Miss Leda Morrow of Toronto University is the guest of Miss Mavis Ender, in St. Ola.

COMMANDED FIRST SHIP — Rear-Admiral Walter Hose, 84, living in retirement at Windsor, Ont., was commander in 1911 of the cruiser Rainbow, first ship commissioned in the Royal Canadian Navy. Previous to his RCN posting, Admiral Hose was a commander in the Royal Navy. The Rainbow and a second cruiser had been acquired from the Royal Navy 50 years ago to start the RCN. Admiral Hose, director of naval services in Canada from 1921 to 1934, is shown relaxing in his Windsor home reading a report he once wrote for an RCN publication. (CP Photo).

WELLINGTON

135 Attend Dinner in Honor Of Bantams

WELLINGTON — About 135 sat down to a sumptuous turkey dinner on Friday evening in the Town Hall, Wellington. This was given in honor of the bantam hockey team, Eastern Ontario Champions and runners-up for the Ontario championship.

The bantam and pee wee teams were all seated at one long table. Guests at the head table were Mr. Doug Patterson, Stirling; Mr. Doug Robson, Stirling; Mr. Albert Watkins, Peterborough; Warden and Mrs. Arthur Moore, Bloomfield; Reeve and Mrs. A. C. Platt, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ogilvy, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, "Dutch" Ainsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brimley, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jack McNeill; Mr. John McKenzie and Mr. Wilfred Burrus.

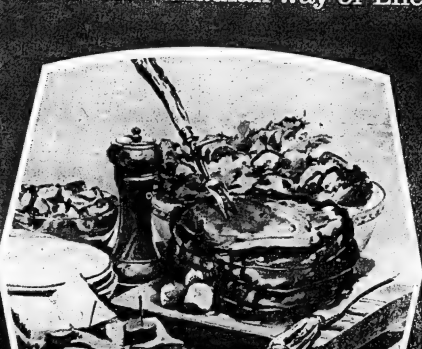
Mr. Jack Ogilvy acted as chairman and welcomed the boys and the many guests present.

Dinner was served by the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary, turkey, dressing, potatoes and gravy, relishes of all kinds, jellies, salads, pie and ice cream.

After dinner Mr. Jack McNeill gave a vote of thanks to the ladies for such a wonderful repast.

Short speeches were also given by the Reeve A. C. Platt, the Warden, Mr. Moore; Mr. W. Ainsworth; Doug Patterson 3rd vice-president, O.M.H.A. Mr. Albert Watkins; 2nd vice-president O.M.H.A. Mr. Doug Robson, convener for this district and Mr. Ron Sivel.

TROPHIES PRESENTED



Reeve Platt presented each Bantam player with a individual trophy a gift from the village of Wellington. Each boy will also be given a windbreaker from Mr. W. Ainsworth, and a crest from O.M.H.A. at a later date as they didn't arrive in time for Friday night.

Mr. W. Ainsworth was surprised when the captains of the Pee Wees and Bantams, Larry McKenzie and Gary Lavender, presented him with a leather wallet and a pen, on behalf of their team mates.

At the conclusion of the inspection, a parade was formed up on the school grounds and headed by the high school band in their smart uniforms and under the direction of Band Leader Don Hodgins, they marched through the downtown streets of the village and back to the school, where the cadets and boys and girls of the band were served chocolate milk and ice cream.

LUNCHEON SERVED

A splendid luncheon was served to the officers and guests in the home economics room by Mrs. Gerton, economics teacher. This was the first year that the new cadet flag had been on parade.

During the afternoon the displays of skills learned during the year were all well received.

The awards presented were, to Cadet Captain Stephen Macdonald, for the best shot 1958-59; to Cadet Lieutenant Ralph Lawrenson, for best shot for 1959-60; best cadet on parade, Cadet Major Anthony Courneyea, and most valuable cadet, Cadet Lieut. Don Hodgins, for his work with the band.

The dance in the evening was well attended and enjoyed.

Official Evades Comment on 'Resignation'

TORONTO (CP) — Provincial Secretary MacDonald Phillips of Ontario was still unavailable to answer questions Tuesday on whether he intends to resign following his conviction for failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

Liberal Leader John Wintermeyer has demanded he do so.

Dr. Phillips' secretary said he had not returned to his office since the day before he left for Paris, April 21, although he had been in Toronto two days and had called his office by telephone.

When a reporter telephoned his Toronto apartment a woman answered "no comment" and hung up.

Last week reporters who called at his Owen Sound home were told he was away on a fishing trip.

Premier Frost refused to comment on the demand that Dr. Phillips resign and said he had not talked with him.

GIRLS, TOO CLOSE

CARDIFF, Wales (Reuters)— An opposition member of Parliament complained Monday about putting girls too close to boys in a prison. After a three-hour visit to Cardiff prison, Labor member Alan Brown said "appalling" overcrowding had resulted from the transfer of 30 young girls from a reformatory to a wing at the prison. Girls and boys inside and looking out of ventilation windows the boys could see the girls 20 yards away, he said.

MILITARY MUSEUM— Farmer Ernie Simmons, who likes to dabble in mechanics, started 15 years ago to collect old aircraft and army equipment on his farm near Courtlind, Ont. Now he has 48 tattered planes, 161 motorcycles, assorted army trucks and guns and a stockpile of airplane engines and propellers standing on his orchard and fields. Mr. Simmons, shown at right in the cockpit of a two-seated Yale trainer, predecessor of the Harvard trainer, says he bought the discarded military planes in hopes of converting them to civilian use at a profit. At left is the remains of a Royal Navy Swordfish, the type of fleet torpedo bombers which battered the Italian navy at Taranto during the Second World War. (CP Photo).

Ont. Farmer Has Collection Of Old Planes

COURTLAND, Ont. (CP)— Ernie Simmons' private air force is a motley collection of 48 aircraft of Second World War vintage or older.

They're scattered about the orchard on his 150-acre farm near this community 27 miles east of St. Thomas.

Some appear to be in fair condition but none is airworthy and, says the farmer - collector, the "mosquitos have used up a lot of gas flying their Expediter over here to see if I've been flying any of them."

Mr. Simmons began collecting the planes 15 years ago, trundling them home on the back of a battered old truck. Among them are two-seater Yale trainers; a "mosquito" the fleet air arm torpedo bomber that blasted Mussolini's fleet at Taranto; and a Lysander, reconnaissance plane used by the British Army in 1939.

In addition he has bought Brentcraft gun carriers, army trucks and 161 motorcycles, aircraft engines, propellers and a heap of spare parts, old cars, trucks, tractors and farm implements.

He says he bought the planes and other equipment because he thought he could sell them at a profit. He figures the aircraft might be used as crop dusters, for example, but they would need an overhaul first.

Mr. Simmons said he knows how to fly although he has no licence. This summer, he said, as part of a celebration of the 151th anniversary of the venture into the world of air power, he plans to fly to one of the wingless Yales and taxi it around the pasture of the farm.

RIGHTS FOR SECURITY

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Composer Jule Styne Monday was ordered to put up film and television rights to the Broadway play Gypsy as security until he pays $70,000 back alimony to his former wife, Mrs. Ethel Styne. A settlement approved in Los Angeles superior court gave Styne, 54, until the end of this year to pay $20,000 and until the end of 1962 to provide another $30,000.

Ivanhoe

IVANHOE — Mr. and Mrs. W Rollins and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Blair Neal in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reid and family and Mrs. W. Seeley spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carey, Selby.

Miss Gladys Rollins of Toronto spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. E. Rollins, and visited her mother, Mrs. Joseph Rollins, at Bonnieboro Nursing Home, on Mother's Day.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Shaw on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carnahan, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thrasher, Mount Pleasant and Mrs. William Shaw.

Mrs. A. Wood spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Wood.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacMillan were Mr. and Mrs. William Smith and Beverley Ann of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brough and family, Thamesburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jeffery and family of Tweed were Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Earl McMaster.

Says Czech Embassy Loaded With Red Spies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigators for the House of Representatives have released testimony of a former Czech military attache that his country's embassy here and United Nations delegation in New York have been loaded with Communist spies.

Lt.-Col. Frantisek Tisler, the military and air attache who defected to the United States last summer, said his official position was a cover for his main job of heading Czechoslovakia's military intelligence operation in the United States.

Tisler estimated that 45 per cent of Czech Embassy and UN personnel in the United States "was engaged in some type of intelligence activity" 1953 - 1959 when he was assigned here. His own role, Tisler said, was to recruit American agents to furnish him with U.S. military secrets. His staff officers—four here and one in New York—attempted the same, Tisler said.

Tisler did not comment on the success of his operations. He did say they were well known to Dr. Miloslav Ruzek, the present Czech ambassador, and Karel Petrzelka, Ruzek's predecessor.

Everyone's going EVINRUDE in 1960

I go for Evinrude's EXTRA POWER

TWIN 40's OR 75

'Mom alive . . . what a 75! A turn of the key puts me in complete command of my great new Starflite. Its compact, cushioned V-4 engine delivers a fierce, sustained thrust of velvet smooth power. Now I get exhilarating new speeds in my runabout and still travel smoothly, quietly, economically.'

Evinrude's mighty Starflite V-75 with Jetstream Drive gives even the heaviest cruisers new "get-up-and-go." See the amazing new Lark 40 too . . . new power and features make it the lestest, finest 40 h.p. afloat!

Both Starflite and Lark are completely new with the first automatic choke in outboard history!

I go for Evinrude's EXCELLENT STYLING

'My husband knows about the inside of outboards . . . he goes for Evinrude's advanced engineering and proven reliability. I judge outboards by how they look and sound . . . one look tells me the new 1960 Evinrudes are today's most beautiful outboards! My ears tell me they're the quietest too!'

The dramatic new Evinrude motors are designed to be seen and heard. Sound-sealed, Fiberglas hoods have premium quality, baked-on, automotive enamels. Every conversation quiet! Evinrude is a beautiful complement to the smallest pram or the proudest cruiser. See them all today!

We go for Evinrude's EASY OPERATION

'Dad says his new Starflite starts and handles easier than a car! And you should see how easy our new Lightwin 3 starts. Just one tug boy, and it's running slick. It never conks out, either . . . just keeps running swell. Mom even lets 'sis' steer it, and she's only little. And is it ever easy to carry!'

Jetstream Drive in the Starflite, key-turn electric starting, automatic choke and optional 'props' in the Lark and Starflite, thermostatic cooling and full gear shift in all models but the Lightwin 3 and a host more fun features make each and every Evinrude the easiest handling outboard in its power class.

Agitation Over TV Violence Beginning to Show Results

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — All the public agitation about excessive violence in television—the horse operas, the private eyes and the adventure shows—is beginning to show results.

The hour-long mystery series which will be NBC's summer replacement for Dinah Shore is making a special point of eliminating excessive violence. It will use a chessboard as a trademark.

The question is: When does violence become excessive violence? Is it violence or is it excessive violence when the hero is felled by a chop on the back of the neck? Or when the hero cuts down the villain by the same method? How many non-excessive punches and kicks is the villain allowed before the hero shares his bed and uncorks his roundhouse right? Is it excessive when the thug is shown, in slow-mo, pistol-whipping or clubbing a victim who is out of camera range?

Probably the delicate point won't be established immediately since most of the summer action shows consist of reruns of the season's shows when excessive violence hit a new high.

But fair enough to bring a diminution mayhem. The word has already gone out that sponsors are getting nervous about the criticism. And the networks already are sensitive about the subject.

Five Days Inside Ball For Chicubs

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs had one of their longest streaks in years today — five straight bad weather postponements.

"Enough is enough," said Lou Boudreau, whose debut as the club's new manager was marred 9-7 last Thursday by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Boudreau hasn't had a chance since to try to start the Cubs climbing out of the National League cellar.

Rain washed out their entire three - game series with Milwaukee, plus a re - scheduled Monday date with the Braves and Tuesday's opener of a three-game set with the Cincinnati Reds.

Rain needed a few days off because our pitching staff was suffering from arm fatigue," said Boudreau. "That rain looked pretty good then. But now—it's too much. I'm afraid we might get stale."

Today's forecast was for clearing by afternoon.

The league record for successive postponed games is nine, set by the Phillies in 1903.

Fullmer, Redl Fight Tonight

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP) — Manager Marv Jenson says 21-year-old Don Fullmer may have trouble knocking out veteran Stefen Redl of Germany, but Fullmer is going to try it "in a kayo anyway in their 10-round middleweight bout here tonight.

But then Redl says he'll try for a knockout, too.

"Redl is pretty hard to knock out", Jenson said. "He gets up fifteenth in the years and is very aggressive".

Redl says he hasn't seen Fullmer fight, but figures his knockout record is better than that of the Utahn, who is the youngster of the "fighting Fullmers" which includes NBA middleweight champ Gene and lightweight Ray.

Redl, the 27-year-old German, has a 28-5-1 record with 14 knockouts. Fullmer's record is 20-3 with eight knockouts.

CARDS OPTION TWO

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Rookie catcher Chris Cannizzaro and outfielder Ellis Burton were optioned today by St. Louis Cardinals to Rochester Red Wings on 24-hour recall, trimming the Redbird roster to the 25-man limit.

PIONEER AUTO RACER DIES

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Erwin G. (Cannon Ball) Baker, 78, a pioneer motorcycle and auto racer, died in hospital Tuesday, a day after suffering a heart attack. Baker had been commissioner of the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing since it was formed in 1947. He won the first race ever held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway—a motorcycle event in 1909.

SWITCH BOWL DATES

NEW YORK (AP) — New Year's Day falls on a Sunday and the special events committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association said Tuesday it had given approval to the Cotton, Rose and Orange Bowl officials to play their football games on Monday, Jan. 2. Officials of the Sugar Bowl will apply to play on Jan. 2 soon.

WAR GARDENS PREXY

NEW YORK (AP) — Funeral services were held Tuesday for General John Reed Kilpatrick, former president of Madison Square Garden. Attending were many leading public and sports figures. Kilpatrick, an outstanding athlete at Yale University and a veteran of two world war, was president of the New York Rangers hockey team until his death Saturday.

OBLIGING JACQUES

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Jacques Gallo divorced actress Nicole Maurey Monday. Afterward, she thanked him and he kissed her on the cheek. The French - born entertainer told Judge Otto J. Emme that Miss Maurey planned to get a divorce but that she had not completed a 90-day's residence in Los Angeles, as required by law. So Gallo filed the action instead.

Fernando Lamas Tells Why Hollywood Marriages Fail

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Why do Hollywood marriages fail?

That familiar cry arose again when, within a few days, Lucille Ball got a divorce, and Joan Fontaine, Bette Davis and Susy Parker announced they were getting theirs.

Fernando Lamas has an answer. Admittedly his marriage to bosomy actress Esther Williams had rough times, but both say it is rolling smoothly now. Here is his reasoning on the matrimonial unions:

What is acting? It is a profession, not a way of life. Too many people in Hollywood forget that they are men and women first, and actors second. They bring their roles home from the studio and try to live them at home.

SHE PAYS THE BILLS

"Man was meant to be dominant. When ah-actress' career zooms higher than her actor husband's, it is an impossible situation. Soon she starts paying the bills. He cannot stand by and retain his self-respect."

As to his own household, Lamas admitted he retains a Latin view of male superior in the home.

"From the start, I insisted on paying all the bills," he stated. The actor said, "Arlene can do whatever she wants with the money she earns. But I have never allowed her to say 'I' concerning anything about the household. It's always 'we.' I am the only one who can say 'I' and I choose to. I also say 'we.'"

I wonder how many other American wives would go for this part of the Lamas marital plan: two nights a week, the wives out alone.

"This is very important to me."

Patterson Takes Training Easily

NEWTON, Conn. (AP) Former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson rested for the second straight day at his training camp Tuesday, in preparation for his return bout with world champion Ingemar Johansson at New York June 20.

Paterson believes he burned himself out training for his first fight with Johansson last June and is pacing himself carefully in the hopes of reaching the fight in peak condition.

Furillo Will Stay Active

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles Dodgers, who have talked to Carl Furillo about going on the voluntarily retired list, announced Tuesday night the veteran outfielder will remain active.

The Dodgers didn't say what prompted up the matter, but one reason would be that the club could call up another player and still be under the limit of 25 if Furillo was inactive.

He said, "I have to feel that I as still free. Of course, I have to play out of trouble. And I've many columnists who would love oreport that I was straying".

Sport Slices

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

IT'S HERE!

This week, sportswise, is "whiskers-and-beef" week in the city. It seems everybody from Hector's pup to the Society for Dandruff Destroyers is entitled to a "national week" or why not this theatrical but fascinating realm of athletics?

In other words the wrestling season makes its debut after a long hassle of hockey and winter frolics. And there is enough "beef and whiskers" coming in for the inaugural show to make Nero Gerow's loe palace look like a convention of butchers and barbers—in reverse.

Remember the Kalmikoff brothers, those bearded sons of the Russian steppes who were the stars of snatch-and-coss here not so long ago? Well, they're back to raise the curtain. They say the bewhiskered Cossacks have made enough maxuma the past few years to fill a half dozen drooktys, so don't be surprised if they arrive here in a guided missile.

They're still hiding behind that chin foliage of Siberian sage-brush, and their booted tootsies have lost none of their kicks. They're as good—or bad—as ever and they'll be out to regain their spot in the top ten of the local "Hate Incorporated."

But they've added a couple of derricks to their stand, and equipment just for this week's debut. And no wonder. They slaye the first tag-team match of the year against a pair of strange foemen. One is the fiery Frenchman, Bernard Vignal, and the other the "Mighty Jumbo." And in case you're wondering, the latter lives up to his name. He tips the scales at 317 pounds.

Now you just don't pick up a quarter-ton of beef-on-the-hoof and toss it around willy-nilly like an old softball in a game of "catch." You handle it carefully, and don't let it get into your whiskers. Another good idea is, if you see it toppling your way, scram quickly. You'll just be a drip-and-dry. You'll need no ironing.

That is what the Russky foeres are up against and they're taking no chances. They'll be out to whittle "Jumbo" down to ordinary size, but they shouldn't forget M'sieu Vignal. Voila!

Then there is another big fella who isn't exactly at the back of the popularity poll for wholesale. He is Big Ed Miller, that 300-pound plus giant who is no shrinking violet when it comes to the rough stuff. He tangles with popular Billy Stack.

Rounding out the opening card is the popular Mike Valenti who meets a stranger hereabouts, one "Knobby" MacDonald.

So there's your Friday night clashing dish, a mixture of Canadian-American-Italian-Russian-Scottish and Elephantine that should prove exciting.

THE LATE GEORGE DUDLEY

Hockey in general and amateur hockey in particular, lost a friend and valued friend the other day in the passing of George Dudley, Midland lawyer who was secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and a member of the International Ice Hockey Federation.

George Dudley made a brilliant contribution to hockey in his lifetime and he was highly respected and esteemed in all its phases. He had a hard, tough job to do, one that at times would have forced any other man to toss in the sponge. But he met every problem, hard or otherwise, with his characteristic fighting spirit—and hockey was the better for it.

He was forceful in debate and argument, and while at times some did not agree with him, he was seldom on the losing side. He fought hard for amateur hockey, and his efforts in this phase will never be forgotten.

George Dudley was a "great" in his own sphere of hockey activity.

Tigers Shake 10-Game Tail Kink; Giants Up Lead

Colavito, Mossi Combination Gives Bengals 1-0 Victory; Bucs Rally to Beat Dodgers

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Winning a key game is just as important as compiling long winning streaks, Ask San Francisco Giants. They have a modest, four-game victory string going but a 1½-game lead in the National League race.

They matched their longest success mark since 1958 with a 4-2 victory over Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday night after replacing Pittsburgh in first place with a three-game sweep over the Pirates.

And they needed this one to prevent the Pirates making up lost ground. The second - place Pirates, who had lost four straight after winning 10 of 12, defeated Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2.

CUBS' LONG REST

The only other league game scheduled, Cincinnati at Chicago, was rained out as the Cubs fell straight postponement.

The Giants, getting two unearned runs as the Phils made three errors, won it on Don Blasingame's tie-breaking single in the seventh inning after blowing a 2-0 lead.

The Phils caught up with Wally Post's two-run homer in the seventh off Johnny Antonelli, who was working on a two-hit shut-out. Stu Miller (1-1) won the game by facing and retiring one man, losing pitcher Gene Conley (0-1) in the seventh. Billy O'Dell then blanked the Phils on one hit over the last two innings.

LAW WINS FIFTH

Righthander Vern Law became the first pitcher to win five games in the major league season as the Pirates backed his eight-hitter with home runs by Hal Smith and Bill Mazeroski. Southpaw Johnny Podres (3-2) lost to Pittsburgh at Los Angeles for the first time in four decisions, giving up both homers.

Norm Sherry, who hit a home run in the second inning, and Junior Gilliam, who tripled and scored on an infield out in the eighth, had five of the Dodgers' hits between them.

It was the second major league home run for Sherry, the catcher's brother of Dodger relief ace Larry Sherry. His first beat Philadelphia 3-2 in 11 innings Saturday night. This one was the first by the Dodgers of Law (5-1) since Memorial Day, 1957.

Both Los Angeles runs were earned, although the Pirates were charged with two errors—giving them 13 hoots in three games and 17 in their last six.

They didn't win by much, but the Detroit Tigers are losers no more.

After dropping 10 in a row and going scoreless for 21 2-3 innings, the Tigers finally broke through Tuesday night, winning 1-0 at Washington on Rocky Colavito's two-out home run in the ninth inning and the three-hit pitching of lefthander Don Mossi. That ended Detroit's longest slump since 1952, a skid that plunged the Tigers from top to bottom in the American League standings.

Chicago's White Sox were beaten 9-7 at Boston by two grand-slam home runs, but retained a one-game lead as Cleveland knocked off second place New York 5-1 in 10 innings. Kansas City walloped Baltimore 10-0 with a nine-run fifth inning and a six-hitter by Dick Hall.

DROUGHT ENDS

Colavito, the slugger Detroit got from Cleveland in an effort to avoid such things as a 10-game losing streak, broke up a three-hit shutout by Washington's Tex Clevenger (1-1). It was Rocky's fourth home run, all in victories, and the 14th by the Tigers, who hit 11 while winning their five games on the road.

Mossi struck out three and walked just one for his first victory in three decisions, He gave way to Billy Gardner and Reno Bertoia and a triple by Bob Allison while pinch-hitting and third three-hitter of his career.

Pinch-hitter Rip Repulski and Vic Wertz slammed the White Sox but after Friday's trade with Los Angeles, won it with a tie-breaking shot in the eighth off reliever Don Ferrarese—after borrowing Bill Skowron's bat used for a long loaded homer in the first. Wertz's single made him the fourth active AL player with 1,000 RBI, and also started useless Early Wynn, last year's ace, on the way to his fifth straight knockout.

Frank Baumann (1-2), the ex-Red Sox lefty, was the loser and Frank Sullivan (1-1) the winner, both in relief. Al Smith, Roy Sievers and Norm Cullar homered for the White Sox.

Cleveland got rolling in the four-run 10th with a hit batter,

Soccer Will Help Refugees

TORONTO (CP)—A collection in aid of World Refugee Year will be made during the exhibition soccer game between Manchester United and Heart of Midlothian at Varsity Stadium Saturday night.

Bill Simpson, secretary of the Ontario Soccer Association, said Tuesday he was glad soccer was a part of the campaign because many players and fans are foreign refugees.

Saturday's game will open North American tours.

ALS SIGN ENND

MONTREAL (CP)—John Measin, end with Calgary Stampeders and Edmonton Eskimos of the WIFU in 1956 and 1957, has signed a tryout contract with Montreal Alouettes of the CFL. He is a native of Edmonton, was a student-coach at University of Alabama in 1958.

Nearly Poked The Umpire Says Prince

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip, Britain's best known polo player, sheds his royal dignity a bit when he canters around the field.

Last weekend, at a match in Windsor Great Park, the umpire penalized him for a foul. And Queen Elizabeth's husband felt like socking the guy good and hard.

He said so at a luncheon given by the Lord Mayor of London Monday.

"I had the greatest difficulty in restraining myself from doing the umpire," the prince said.

The umpire — Maj.- Gen. Claude Pert, 61—isn't worried.

"Prince Philip was just joking," he said. "He always takes my decisions like a sportsman. He's a charming fellow and a very good player."

The referee, Col. A. F. Logan, penalized the Prince because in making a backhand shot he pulled his pony across the line of the ball.

'Ole Casey'

Wanted to Be 'Lefty' Dentist, Had an Early Yen for Yanks

NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel started his second half-century in baseball today with his usual sly wink and a long look back to Kankakee, Ill.

It was on May 10, 1910, that Stengel, 19, took his spot in centerfield for the Kankakee club in the old Northern Association.

"They called me 'Dutch' in them days," razzed the 69-year-old New York Yankee manager. "I dunno why, but they did. I remember the team like it was yesterday.

"The league only lasted until July 4 and no records were kept. I never did find out what I was hitting. After the last game, the owners split up all the dough they pulled in and beat it.

"I didn't know it during the last two weeks, but I was playing for nothing. I never did collect that pay.

"All I had on my mind was making enough money to go to dental school the following winter. I still had my mind set on being a lefthanded dentist."

Stengel spent the rest of the 1910 season with Shelbyville of the Blue Grass League and Mooberry of the Southern Association. Then he was sold to Brooklyn Dodgers.

Casey wishes he had only similar problems these days, thinking back a few years to Tuesday night's 5-1, 10-inning loss to Cleveland Indians.

ROSEWALL TOPS HOAD

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australian Ken Rosewall defeated fellow Aussie Lew Hoad Tuesday night and won the championship of a professional tennis tourney that was labelled anyone the world title. The scores of the marathon match, played on a floor built over the Olympic swimming pool, were 6-3, 9-11, 9-10, 7-5, 6-3.

Pair of Shorts Cooling off Major Batters

NEW YORK (AP)—Big league baseball has no shortage of rookie talent this season—not with pitchers such as Bill and Chris Short around.

The Shorts, Bill of New York Yankees and Chris with Philadelphia Phillies, are among the more than a dozen first year players forcing pace with the established major leaguers in the first month of the 1960 campaign.

Bill, a classy lefthander who won 17 games for Richmond of the International League in 1959, has won two games and lost another by a 2-1 count. He has a neat 2.25 earned run average for 23 1-3 innings.

Chris, also a southpaw but not related to Bill, has allowed only one earned run in 9 1-3 innings as a reliever. He has a 1-0 record.

The Phillies have three other promising rookies: outfielders Tony Curry batting .353 and a Ken Walters .261 and catcher Jim Coker .222.

The Baltimore Orioles also have produced a quartet of good rookies. First baseman Jim Gentile has three doubles and four homers among 12 hits for a .293 batting average along with 10 RBI, second highest in the American League. Shortstop Ron Hansen is batting .249 and second baseman Marv Breeding is at .263. Pitcher Chuck Estrada has looked impressive while winning two and losing one.

TICATS SIGN CENTRE

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four football league signed centre and linebacker Jim Taylor to a 1960 contract Tuesday. Taylor, a sophomore, was refused a release by Hamilton to join Houston of the new American Football League.

Use the Naran Plan to Lose Ugly Fat

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Leafs Lead International; Whip Royals

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toronto Maple Leafs are perched atop the International Baseball League by 21 percentage points over Buffalo Bisons but both had better keep an eye on Richmond Virginians.

Toronto handed Montreal Royals their second consecutive home loss 4-1 Tuesday night to take first place as Buffalo's game with the Red Wings at Rochester was rained out.

Bud Stephenson, winning his eighth game in the last 10, took third place with a 5-1 victory over Miami Marlins and is only 2½ games out of first. Havana Sugar Kings were also rained out against the Jets in Columbus.

Ron Negray won his third without a loss for the Leafs, scattering seven hits and striking out four. Don Dillard's double scored the first run in the first inning and he scored a minute later on Jim King's single.

Roy Graber's double drove in the other two in the seventh inning.

Rene Valdes, who gave up all Leafs runs, lost his third in four decisions, leaving Montreal tied yet to see a victory by their team.

Jim Pisoni's three-run homer gave winner Zack Monroe a nice cushion as he cleared his record at 2-2 for Richmond.

After Miami took a 1-0 lead in the third on Norm Zauchia's double, an error and a fielder's choice, Richmond tied it as Jim McKnight's solo homer in the fourth and took a 2-1 lead in the fifth when Johnny Jaciuk's RBI single drove home Jack Reed.

Pisoni hit his big homer in the eighth off reliever Bunky Stewart. Herb Moford lost.

In tonight's action, Bob (Riverboat) Smith (4-1) will try to retain Toronto's lead as he faces Babe Birrer (2-2) in Montreal; Buffalo's Ken Lehman (4-0) will start against Cal Browning (3-1) at Rochester; Ted Wieand (0-1) of Havana opposes Al Jackson (3-2) at Columbus; and Miami's Wes Stock (1-1) meets Jim Brosnahan (0-2) at Richmond.

Coliseum Bad For Drysdale; Wants Shift

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Drysdale, ace of the Los Angeles Dodgers' pitching staff, says he is convinced he cannot win in the Coliseum and the Dodgers should trade him.

"I mean that", he told a reporter. "You make a mistake in the Coliseum and you're dead. I'm not lucky."

Drysdale, 23, has made gloomy statements before but has been working hard this season to curb his well-known temper.

He fanned 13 Pittsburgh batters Monday night and allowed only one infield single going into the eighth inning, yet he had to give way to Larry Sherry in the ninth after two homers had tied the game 4-4.

"I made two bad pitches", said Drysdale. "One was a curve to Bill Mazeroski, another to Dick Groat.

"This ball park is a farce. Look at the ball Charlie Neal hit to win the game in the ninth a towering fly that fell behind the left field screen for a homer, and yet Duke Snider hit one a mile to right field and it was caught. That makes a joke out of baseball.

"I've pitched against San Francisco, Milwaukee and Pittsburgh here in the Coliseum and haven't won a game".

LEAFS GET FIELDER

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs acquired Tuesday infielder Don Dillard, 24, sent Gown on option from Cleveland Indians of the American League. He batted .283 with San Diego of the Pacific Coast League last season.

New International League Includes 10 European Teams

NEW YORK (AP)—An ambitious project to make soccer a big - time sport in the United States will get under way here May 28.

That's when the International Soccer League, composed of 10 European teams, one from Brazil and one foreign - studded New York squad, will start operation at the Polo Grounds. There will be 30 games—20 at the Polo Grounds and 10 at Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City—through early August.

Soccer, a major sport throughout the world, never has caught on in the U.S. American interest has been on the rise however at the high school and college level in recent years.

TIME IS RIPE "

Promoter William D. Cox believes the time is ripe to make the jump to the professional level on a grand scale.

Cox once was president of the Philadelphia Phillies baseball team and executive of Brooklyn Dodgers of the defunct All-American Football Conference.

"The foundation of our support is made up of the large foreign groups in the region to whom soccer is the No. 1 sport," said Cox.

"After I saw crowds of 16,000 and more three weeks running at Ebbets Field for a grade of soccer much below that we will of-

Canada Cement-Bowling League Holds Banquet

Team and individual championships were honored as the Canada Cement Bowling League wound up another very successful season with its annual presentation banquet and dance at the Club Canada recently.

Outgoing president Alvin McKenzie welcomed the bowlers and introduced Mr. E. W. Hutchinson, assistant superintendent of Canada Cement Co. Ltd. Plant No. 5. Mr. Hutchinson attended his greetings to all and expressed his wishes that the bowling league continue to operate in the same successful manner in the future.

Frank Insley was master of ceremonies for the evening and presided at the election of officers for next season. Bob Strachan was taken over unopposed to position from McKenzie; Nick Dandalik replaced Insley as secretary and Jack Finlan as treasurer, replacing Jim Sherwood.

The master of ceremonies also thanked the ladies of the CNRA, through Mrs. Storms, for the delicious meal and for the courteous and efficient manner in which it was served.

Earlier in the evening many beautiful trophies were presented.

The Quarry team, consisting of captain J. Finlan, T. Hollins, D. Mahar, D. Pepper, R. Grills, L. Brannigan, R. Bennett and H. Jones, received the championship trophy, presented by Mr. Hutchinson.

The consolation prize was won by the Lab team and the attendance prize by the Packhouse team. Quarterly winners were the Rebuild, Office, Kilns and Quarry teams.

In the individual department, Jack Stewart was the winner of the A. O. Drysdale Elimination Trophy.

Jeans and Wilf Twining received one Mr. and Mrs. Trophy. Doug Bennett captured the high average honors with a 220 mark and also the high single trophy with a 290.

Jack Stewart accepted two high triple award of the 870 score.

The enjoyable evening wound up with dancing to the music of Charles Kammer and his orchestra.

Herb Elliott Predicts Poor Show in U.S.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Herb Elliott, world record holder in the mile run, left by plane Tuesday night for California declaring he would do poorly in a series of meets because of a strained foot ligament that has interrupted his training.

"I haven't trained in the last 10 days because of the foot injury and do not expect to do well in my first race in America," he said as he entered the plane.

Elliott will make a brief stop in Honolulu, where he will participate in an exhibition race.

Disarmament, Berlin Talks Will Dominate Summit Meet

In this second of a series of four articles, William L. Ryan describes the strategy and tactics behind the Soviet approach to the summit conference while Moscow was still friendly.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

In November 1957, Moscow summoned leaders of 64 countries to an important conference.

From it came a declaration which has colored Soviet policy ever since. It is the very essence of world communism's approach to next week's summit meeting in Paris.

Disarmament and the dynamite-laden Berlin-Germany questions will dominate the summit talks of President Eisenhower, Premier Khrushchev, President de Gaulle and Prime Minister Macmillan. But Communist operation was concentrated elsewhere, on the issue of the East-West global conflict: The intense struggle over the future of under - developed countries in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Authoritative Communist pronouncements in connection with the recent celebration of Lenin's 90th anniversary provide a basic but true view of Soviet aims and intentions:

1. Since the war, capitalism has achieved further development because of huge spending for arms. A relaxed atmosphere will bring demands for relief from the tax burden for arms.

2. Whatever happens at the summit, efforts will be made to retain a relaxed mood for a while, in expectation of Western economic concessions. The capitalist world will fall into quarrels and contradictions and a world crisis will follow.

3. While preparing for this, Communists will trust Moscow's political wisdom, "conduct themselves as "proletarian internationalists" and do whatever is good for Moscow is good for world communism.

4. Communist leaders are chiefly concerned with the ceaseless process of liberating more and more peoples' from imperialism. Events in Asia mirror the inevitable collapse of Western colonialism. The battle now shifts to the Middle East, Africa, and, as one Communist leader wrote, "to another continent if the people of Cuba have shown all Latin America an example of how a people can liberate itself from the yoke of American imperialist interests."

5. Communists, supported by Soviet economic and military power, will exploit such developments while marking time in Europe.

Moscow warns Communists that "peaceful coexistence" does not mean an end of politics or war for Communist world supremacy. It does not even mean cessation of armed conflict. Red pronouncements are laying heavy stress on these words of Lenin:

"Peaceful proposals of socialist (Communist) States, broad propaganda for the idea of coexistence of two systems, in no way signify renunciation by Communists of their ideological principles as they since its early sort of rearrangement with the bourgeoisie (capitalism)."

So, it appears that to Moscow the summit meeting is just an incident on the path to world Communist domination.

GROMYKO

over Russia May 1 while on an espionage mission.

He said that nations violating Soviet airspace "were playing fair ball" and engaging in "one of the most dangerous forms of brinkmanship."

"We shall meet such unlivited guests in the same ways as aggressors have always been met by the Soviet people and only wreckers will result of any planes which might axe the temerity to poke their noses into our territory."

He said the May 1 flight was sent from a base in Turkey and that Turkey was "an accomplice in this aggressive act, as it is now way where the place was due to land."

"NO ROOM FOR DOUBT"

"The facts in the possession of the Soviet Union leave no room for doubt that the reconnaissance American organs, by sending this plane across the Soviet frontiers, were bent on a gross act of preparations of aggression and with aims hostile to the cause of peace," Gromyko said.

The note said this "this direction" on the eve of the summit conference "have been literally forced upon it by the world public facts."

Gromyko referred to the "lying versions" put out by the state department of the task of the reconnaissance plane and said: "These have brought their inventors nothing but discomfiture in the eyes of the whole world."

He said a third official U.S. statement had been made, this time by Secretary of State Christian Herter.

"To describe this statement of the head of the American diplomatic department as cynical is, although say, being too mild," he said.

Gromyko said Herter's statement once again proved that violations of the frontiers of other states and espionage have been proclaimed an official policy in the United States.

RUSSIA HINTS

"Hostile acts of American aviation which have taken place numerous times in relation to the Soviet Union are not simply the result of the activity of the military command of the U.S.A., in various areas, but are an expression of a calculated U.S.A. policy.

"These violations are premeditated . . . the government of the U.S.A. instead of taking measures to stop such action by American aviation, the danger of which has more than once been pointed out by the Soviet government, officially announces such action as its national policy.

"Military intelligence of one nation by means of intrusion of its aircraft into the area of another country can hardly be called a method for improving relations and creating confidence.

"It is self-evident that the Soviet government is compelled, under such circumstances, to give strict orders to its armed forces to take all measures to repulse against the violation of Soviet frontiers by American aviation."

SUSPICIONS CONFIRMED

The note said Powers' flight confirmed the correctness of Russian suspicions that President Eisenhower's 1955 "open skies" proposal on the ground that it was intended to throw open the doors of other nations to American reconnaissance.

"Does all this mean that, with the U.S.S.R. and a number of states to accept this proposal for open skies, the U.S.A. is attempting arbitrarily to take upon itself the right to 'open' a foreign sky?" Mr. Khrushchev asked.

Referring to the summit meeting, which Paris, the note said:

"The government of the U.S.S.R. regretfully states that, while it undertakes everything possible for the preparation and improvement of the international situation, the leading circles of the U.S. follows a different path.

"Apparently, the two governments view differently the necessity of improving relations between our countries and for the creation of a favorable ground for the forthcoming summit meeting."

The note, which was relatively polite throughout, ended with a hint that the U.S. should join Russia in seeking an end of the cold war.

KENNEDY VICTORY

55 counties showing reports, Kennedy was ahead in 45 and Humphrey in seven, with three tied.

Although the victory should be a powerful argument to advance against the Republican foe, a public can be elected as an American, Kennedy didn't diffuse himself. Kennedy a single extra delegate to the party's convention in July.

FREE VOTE

This was strictly a popularity contest. The West Virginia delegates who will cast 25 votes at the Democratic convention in July are free to do as they please. It is one instance of Republican presidential primary here, and the voters will not be bound and presumably go to vice-president Richard Nixon, who is unopposed. Kennedy has announced that the vast number of votes in Tuesday's primaries would be cast for him. But the hustle of his showing there was dimmed a good deal by the write-in total for Nixon on the Republican ballot.

The latter was listed on the Nebraska presidential preference ballot for either party were Kennedy. Yet Nixon was piling up almost as many write-in votes as Kennedy received on the regular ballot.

With 1,908 of the 2,107 polls reporting, Kennedy had 27,598 votes on the Democratic ballot. Nixon had 20,354 Republican write-ins.

As in West Virginia, the results of the presidential preference ballots do not bind the Nebraska delegates.

Liberals Tried to Starve Quebec Into Submission States Fleming

OTTAWA (CP) — The big bad villain tried to starve the beautiful princess into submission and would still be doing it if the handsome hero hadn't come to the rescue.

That, in fairy-tale words, is Finance Minister Fleming's picture of the way the Liberals treated Quebec on the university grant issue until the Progressive Conservative government took office at Ottawa.

"If the Liberals had continued in office . . . they would have continued their nefarious efforts to starve the province of Quebec into submission . . .

"We of this government were not prepared to stand idly by and see a great province of this country treated in this discriminatory manner . . . There are no second-class provinces in this country."

Mr. Fleming's attack came Tuesday night as the Commons went ahead steadily to approve the principle of the government's legislative method of getting university grants into Quebec university hands on the same scale of $15.50 per head as to universities of other provinces through the existing Universities Foundation.

The legislation will enable Quebec and any other province wanting to follow suit, to assign the proceeds of the university grants on its own. To get the finances to do this on the federal scale of $15.50 per head, provincial population, Quebec is increasing its corporation income tax by one percentage point and Ottawa will allow corporations similar increase in deduction from their federal tax.

Quebec has refused to accept the Liberal method of having the federal grants go to the provinces through the universities foundation, contending this was an invasion of provincial jurisdiction over education.

The bill will embark on second reading 188 MPs, including Conservatives, Liberals and CCF members. No opposing votes were cast.

Minto

MINTO — St. Thomas' W.A. held a dinner and quilting in the Grange Hall on Tuesday.

Mrs. and Mrs. Cecil Carter, of Toronto, spent the weekend at their home here, and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Twiddy on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Warren, of Harrowsmith, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Wright. Mr. and Mrs. George Wood spent Sunday afternoon at the same home.

Mesdames Ted Prestoe, Lindsay Tuson and Albert Hoard and Miss Tanner attended the Diocesan annual meeting of the W.A. held in Kingston, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Colden and family, Toronto, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Colden.

Mrs. and Mrs. Marvin Sine of Milton, also Mr. and Mrs. Ron Sine, Toronto, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Sine.

Sorry to report Mr. George McMaster is a patient in hospital. Wishing him a speedy recovery.

HUGE CATCH

ABERDEEN, Scotland (CP)— A trawler has made a seaport landed a shark weighing nearly 2,000 pounds off the Faroe Islands. The shark's stomach contained 36 fish hooks and about 20 pounds of fish.

of health for the area, said no contamination or health has had been uncovered. Dr. Lane said he did not anticipate any problems with polluted water.

"We'll be all right for a few days with Timmins water connections," Mr. Atkinson said.

But there was some concern that the Hollinger Mines pumphouse, which sits along the Timmins side of the river, might be put out of action if the water rose another 12 inches. This pumphouse supplies water to 40,000 persons in the Timmins area.

CLEARING LOG JAMS

Emergency crews were working early today to improve a log jam which piled up between piers of the railway bridge connecting Timmins with Mountjoy. The logs floated down from broken booms.

Officials of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission reported Tuesday that the upriver storage dams could no longer hold back the flood, and within two hours the Mattagami had burst its banks to flood main roads in the township.

The river rose three inches in one hour in its largest surge since the flooding started Sunday night.

A major disaster area was declared by the Ontario government and Ontario Red Cross commissioner, as civil defence crews and township emergency units began evacuations of areas along the banks of previously flooded sectors.

Dozens of farm families were moved from their homes along the river burst its banks downstream from Timmins, washed out the road to Timmins airport. Trans-Canada Air Lines cancelled flights there.

Protective booms in front of the Mattagami River power dam were threatened by logs driving down from broken upriver booms.

RED CROSS BUSY

Thousands of dollars worth of food vouchers were distributed among flood victims by the Red Cross. Furniture from flooded homes was piled in the Timmins armouries.

TRAYS BANNED

LONDON (CP)—Pilots of British European Airways a limit may eat their m als from trays on their laps. A special board recommended that the trays should be in every plane, because there is danger of knives and forks falling on vital controls.

Tweed

CHAIRMAN NAMED

TWEED — At a recent meeting of Tweed Parks Board, Roy Parks, who is the Legion representative, was named chairman of the board.

The directors are Ken Thompson (Kiwanis Club), Mrs. Cecil Hughes (Kinette Club); Wallis Mosher (Kiwanis Club); Ray Woolbry (Chamber of Commerce); Dr. O. G. Allen and Kenneth Hodgins (Tweed council) and Reeve Douglas Spencer, ex-officio member.

John Marsele has been re-appointed caretaker.

The Modernaires Orchestra of Tweed will again be playing for the Friday night dances.

Following the removal of the CPR trains Nos. 33 and 36 from service through Tweed, the station staff has been reduced and Agent Russell Green will now be in charge.

Agent Russell Green will now be obligated to carry on during the night hours. Mr. Marsh, night operator, will be the only telegrapher of Tweed CPR station staff.

Mrs. C. H. Kerr, after spending the winter in Fort Lauderdale, and over 30 years in her home on Victoria Street, left last week for Toronto, where she will make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Kerr.

Mrs. J. J. Laffoon, who purchased property on Victoria Street, moved into Mrs. Kerr's house, and Mr. Arthur Young of Toronto, Mrs. Laffoon's brother, the barber shop and property of the late J. J. Laffoon, took over possession last weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Young will be welcomed to the new citizens to Tweed.

Tweed Business and Professional Women's Club was represented at the 10th-anniversary banquet of Delightful club in the banquet room of the Belleview Restaurant by Mrs. George Owens, Mrs. R. Beckwith, Mrs. Ken Thomas, Mrs. Ken Hodgins and Mrs. S. R. Curry. Special speakers were Miss Naida Dane, M.P., Provincial Secretary, Toronto.

Mrs. Russell Green is attending the Worthy Supreme White Shrine convention in Cleveland, Ohio, this week.

Mrs. Mildred Frizzell of the Tweed telephone staff has returned home after a two-week vacation in Saskatchewan City, where she visited with friends.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Mallory, Tweed, were Mr. and Mrs. Harper Newman and children, Mr. Ray Wood, Smith Falls, and Mr. Donohue, of Oxford Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Porritt have returned from their daughter's daughter, Mrs. John Minnes, and Mr. Minnes, at Willowdale, recently.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE HELPS BREAK DOWN FATS
IN THE DIGESTIVE TRACT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fats . . . actually breaks them down. It is an established fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fats are broken down and form a smooth, soap-like solution.

In your digestive tract, liver bile helps break down fats the same way. Many of the foods you eat reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down these fats — so much easier and more complete digestion.

Carter's Little Liver Pills' unshaken formula of vegetable ingredients relieves your biliousness and aids digestive. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fats in your digestive tract.

So when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, take Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Remember, Carter's not only relieve irregularity, but actually improve the flow of liver bile. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today!

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER
Thursday, May 15, 1968

General Tendencies: So much energy is released today that everyone is apt to be outspoken and direct in whatever they wish to do. Make sure you do use self-control to prevent any sort of accident from flaring up—and this could apply to tempers as well. However, it's a fine day and night for getting constructive matters completed.

Aries (March 21 to April 19). Ideal time to follow your aspirations and look into new and fascinating outlets. A good day for a new beginning, too, and adopting the finest philosophies that will bring about greater success. Generosity is a must.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20). After contacting those persons who can give you the benefit of their ideas and experience, sit down and make concrete plans about how to carry them through constructively. P.M. be thoughtful and charming so that you have happier time with loved one.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21). Having long talks with your regular associates shows you the way to reach greater harmony with the kinds of constituents. P.M. go out socially, together and have a ball. Be cheerful and quietly amusing. Smile.

Mean Children (June 22 to July 23). Stop deliberating and think and actively work out those ideas or meet the obligations that await you. Aspects are ideal for accomplishing a great deal and thereby getting ahead by leaps and bounds. However, work methodically.

Leo (July 24 to Aug. 21). This should be a carefree day for you. Try fixing your hair a little differently, get the beauty services you require. Then ride your favorite hobbies. P.M. fine for romantic leanings, enjoying favorite sports, theatre, etc.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22). Important you come to greater understanding with close ties. Ask them for ideas and view points that will help clarify matters. Be helpful with whatever needs repairing, too. P.M. have guests in for quiet fun.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22). Get an early start with all of your creative and business activities, and be sure you also sandwich in visits with friends, relatives you should see. P.M. carry on happily. Have fun.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21). You must raise your level of consciousness and think along the lines of real abundance. And to spare, if you are to accomplish all you are capable of. P.M. take the health treatments you need. Also, budget wisely.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21). A day to spend as you most prefer. You are able to attain almost anything you desire, and you can have fun at the pleasures you most enjoy. Be sure to shop for that extra bit of finery you want so much. Be gay.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20). Fine day to ferret out that which is puzzling or ambiguous and also to find out the views and ideas of dependable persons, those of wide experience. Be grateful to those whose kindness and courtesy is of real assistance.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19). Make it a point to cement better relations with those persons you want sailing with you in the future. Get good comrades to cooperate with you. Plan a better system of operating in the future, too.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20). There is a good opportunity for you now to convince those who have power over you to see and appreciate your ideas and viewpoints. Do your civic duties to the best of your ability; too, and be creeli higher.

If your child was born today—He, or she, will have a great love for study of the finest philosophies, all academic subjects, science and the like. So be sure to afford the best education possible for this searching and incentive mind. See that more than one language is learned. making arithmetic the major, so that the potential for success in this chart is fully realized.

'U.S. Gets A-Bomb First Minute Of War'

Lift Censorship, Revealing Grim Warning By K.

Flyer Charged as Spy; Will 'Try Him Severely'

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Premier Khrushchev has warned that the United States will get an atom bomb on its territory "in the first minute" if the Americans try to unleash a war.

The warning was made in an impromptu press conference Wednesday at an exhibition of a shot-down American reconnaissance plane.

The full quotations of Khrushchev's words were cleared in Moscow this afternoon—nearly 24 hours later.

MAY POSTPONE VISIT

Diplomats here said today that Khrushchev will send a postponement of President Eisenhower's scheduled visit to Russia next month. They said Khrushchev would suggest this to the president at the summit conference starting in Paris Monday.

The diplomats based their views on Khrushchev's statement Wednesday that he was "horrified" to hear Eisenhower had ordered the flight of an American U-2 spionage plane over Russia May 1.

Khrushchev decl-red State Secretary Christian Herter's statement that the flights would continue was "audacious, brazen impudent . . . and a threat to peace."

"If the United States is going to unleash war and if they never have experienced an atom bomb on their territory, they certainly will in the first minute of the war."

CRITICIZES HERTER

The premier said Herter, by making his statement, seemed to slipped off all the makeup and showed the true fangs of an imperialist."

Khrushchev added Russia has not sent and never will send its planes over the territory of any other country.

"I want to warn those people here and say that we will have no mercy on them," he said. "They will be treated as spies."

He waited 20 seconds before replying to the next question: "Would you like the Americans to come here?"

Khrushchev replied: "what shall I say? What do you want me to say: You get up here in my place and answer for me. Tell me what to say. The difficulty is, and I say so quite frankly, you know my attitude toward the president. I stated it publicly.

"I say frankly my hopes have not been justified. After all I am a human being. I have feelings, bear responsibility for the Soviet government and Soviet people. The Russians are open-hearted people and always urge Russian people to give an open-hearted warm welcome to a guest who sends spies in reconnaissance planes into the Soviet Union. They would think I was mad to tell them to give a warm welcome to a man who spies. American imperialists place me in a very difficult position as a host preparing for the visit of the United States president. Imagine what would happen if, on the eve

LONDON (P)—Pilot Francis G Powers has been charged with espionage over Soviet Premier Khrushchev has promised: "We shall try him—try him severely as a spy."

This was reported today by Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

The penalty for espionage in the Soviet Union ranges from 10 years' imprisonment to execution by a firing squad.

The latest developments were announced by Tass broadcasts from Moscow today in the wake of the Geneva conference Khrushchev held Wednesday at the Moscow exhibit of espionage articles which the Russians say Powers carried when he was downed deep over Russia May 1.

3 PSATCHES HELD UP

Part of Western correspondents' dispatches on the summit conference had been held up in Moscow censorship, Tass' account of Khrushchev's talk was said to be carried from Moscow 29 hours after the press conference took place.

The agency said Powers told interrogators:

"I plead guilty to the fact that I violated Soviet territory and over given points indicated on the route of the flight."

The charge had been expected, since the Soviet government, in a note to the United States Saturday protesting the flight, said the airman would be "brought to account under the laws of the Soviet state."

The Russians claimed they shot Powers' high-flying U-2 jet down with a rocket and captured their pilot when he parachuted unhurt.

The U.S. after first trying to pass Powers' flight off as a weather mission that went off course, admitted later learning of his capture that he was collecting intelligence.

NO U.S. INTERVIEW

Powers was captured near Sverdlovsk, in the central Urals 900 miles east of Moscow. The United States has not been granted a U.S. Embassy request for an interview with him.

Tass charged a giant Powers, as given by Tass, was:

"The pilot of the U.S. intelligence unit, Powers for the purpose of collecting information of a strategic nature was flying in a specially equipped aircraft, on the territory of the Soviet state frontier of the U.S.S.R. from Pakistan . . . he made aerial photographs with the aid of specially engineered cameras fixed in arrays with industrial and military objectives, and gathered other espionage data."

Tass said punishment of such an offence is provided for by Article 2 of the law on criminal responsibility for offences against the state."

There was no indication when Powers would be put on trial. There has been some speculation in Western capitals that Premier Khrushchev might free him as a propaganda gesture to ease international tension in his military might.

PHILLIP RETURNS

LONDON (Reuters) — Prince Philip returned by air Wednesday night after a visit to Bergen-Hohne in West Germany as colonel of Queen's Royal Irish Hussars. He is colonel-in-chief of the regiment.

IKE RELUCTANT TO CALL OFF TRIP TO RUSSIA

Hear K. Will Urge Postponing Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today was believed reluctant to call off his trip to Russia except for the most compelling reasons.

Prospects are that Eisenhower will hold off final judgment on this score at least until he has a chance to see Premier Khrushchev at the summit conference starting in Paris Monday.

Hearst News Agency reported diplomats in Moscow as saying today that Khrushchev will seek postponement of Eisenhower's visit. They said Khrushchev would suggest this to Eisenhower during the summit conference.)

For this and other reasons, the outgrowth of the U-2 spy plane incident loomed large as an unknown factor as the key diplomats awaited meeting of East-West heads of state.

The rising tension over the affair has cast gloom on chances

EVACUATED — Mrs. Roger Prevost holds her dog in her arms as her household furniture is ferried from flooded home in Timmins suburban Mountjoy township.

Twenty Square Miles of Timmins Suburbs Lie Abandoned Under Dirty Flood Waters

More than a thousand residents are out of their homes and in emergency shelters as the Mattagami River continues to rise. (CP Wirephoto).

TIMMINS (CP)—The rapid rise of the flood-swollen Mattagami River began to fall off early today.

Since 8 a.m. EDT the river has been rising only at the rate of a quarter-inch an hour after main taining a rapid one-inch-an-hour rate for the last few days. Flood control officials said one reason for the was that waters were spreading out further upstream.

Then the river will actually begin receding was another question, however. It stood nine feet above normal today. Most damage in the area were reported full to overflowing.

Almost 20 square miles of suburban Mountjoy Township lay abandoned, much of it buried after five days of major flooding from the river.

The flooding brought out about 12 persons during the night and early EX-TENSIONS they are "quite sure" only a few farmers remained in the flood area and that they were not in any immediate danger. All but a handful of Mountjoy's 1,900 residents were safely quartered in Timmins, across the Mattagami from the suburban township.

A state of emergency was ordered Wednesday after a loggers' dam—begun some 50 miles upstream, freeing some 40,000 logs but by this morning none of those logs had reached the Timmins area and officials were confident most of them had become trapped up the Mountjoy River and were secure. Other logs threatened the concrete bridge between the city and Mountjoy.

Nearly 100 motorboats took part in the rescue operation, ordered by Reeve Jack Atkinson, who declared the township in a "state of emergency" and called on all residents to abandon their homes.

The holidays were a few farmers who insisted on remaining to care for their livestock. All were

Railways Start Presenting Case Before Board

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's railways today began to begin submitting their briefs to a three-man conciliation board inquiring into a contract dispute between the railways and their 120,000 non-operating employees.

The railway arguments—jointly prepared by the CNR and CPR —were to follow more than three days of union submissions and were expected to take far longer since the onus or proving that the union wage claims are relief logical not possible is on the railways.

To do this they must show the board that the standard of setting non-ops wages—in use by conciliation boards since 1936—is not a fair one and that they can afford no wage increase of any size. ABOLISH SENIORITY

Using the durable-goods industry as a base, they have asked for a 25 - cent hourly increase in their members—all those railway employees classified in actually operating trains—during a two-year period.

Present average hourly wage for CNR and the railways say the increase would cost $85,000,000 annually. The unions are also asking longer paid vacations.

In 1950 and 1958 the railways, although operating under far less attitude other standards for durable-goods—which they supported by arbitration—failed to convince conciliation boards that their employees should enjoy no increases in pay.

Among charts and graphs submitted by union spokesmen Wednesday was one which purported to show that non-ops' "real earnings" in 1959 were "at a lower level" than in 1946.

He warned that the ban on the territory's main nationalist organization will be extended to other parts of the protectorate if necessary.

The ban makes it an offence for anyone to hold office in the party, conduct any business for it or hold any public meeting. The entire party machinery in the province also can be controlled.

A cooper-cut in Salisbury was scheduled to be visited by the Queen Mother May 21-22, has been the scene of a string of racial disturbances.

GREETED BY CROWD

The Queen Mother got a 21-gun salute and a welcome from 800 persons as various cases when she arrived from London by air Wednesday night to Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia. Another multi-racial crowd greeted her as she drove from the airport through Salisbury's downtown area.

Among the crowd of about 60,000 was a group of about a dozen Negro women holding a banner with the words "distressed wives of detainees imprisoned without reason."

In the centre of the banner the "welcome" appeared in large letters.

Queen Mother Rests Before Three-Weeks African Tour

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (Reuters)—Queen Mother Elizabeth rested today while the authorities cracked down on militant African nationalists on the eve of her three-week tour of the Rhodesian federation.

Shortly after her arrival here Wednesday night, Governor Sir Evelyn Hone announced he had outlawed the United National Independence party in the protectorate's western province, and that 120 Negroes had been arrested.

The action came as another white woman was taken to hospital with facial injuries suffered when her car was stoned.

China's Shadow Looms Over Summit Meet

PEKING (Reuters) — China's shadow looms over the East-West summit conference opening in Paris Monday.

Although their representative will not sit beside the leaders of Britain, France, Russia and the United States, the Chinese Communists have made it clear that they have their own ideas about what is wrong with the world.

Peking has given notice that it will not be bound by any international agreement on disarmament, or on any other issue which it has not participated or signed.

The West acknowledges that any global agreement on disarmament can be effective only if Red China participates in it.

As long as she is left out of the United Nations she will be likely to keep reminding the world that major world problems are unlikely to be solved satisfactorily without her.

The Communist Chinese have maintained a tough, suspicious attitude towards American peace aims and has been cautious about the prospects of relaxing international tension.

Recent pronouncements here have appeared to some observers as pointed warnings to the Communist world and Soviet Premier Khrushchev to be wary of any compromise with the West that might be damaging to the interests of world communism.

Bill Requests Better Deal for Small Borrowers

OTTAWA (CP) — A new deal for the small borrower is the objective of a bill introduced in the Senate Wednesday by Senator David Croll (L—Ont.).

The bill would help protect borrowers against exorbitant interest rates by requiring that all charges be stated in terms of annual rates.

At present, Senator Croll said, very high interest is charged, especially under a system of monthly rates. The annual rate sometimes goes to 40 per cent, he declared.

"Throughout our country gifted salesmen are gifted in unfair contests against people of limited means, little or no sophistication in contract matters and, in fact, no real defence against unscrupulous dealers," the senator said.

Even mathematicians found it difficult to understand the combination of charges used by many lenders, and the normal borrower was left at sea.

WON'T PASS IN HOUSE

The Croll measure has a fair chance of passing the Senate, with its top-heavy Liberal majority, but is not likely to get far in the Conservative - dominated Commons. It is similar in purpose to ones that have been introduced from time to time in the Commons by the CCF.

Speaking on a proposal to make a long-term study of Canada's manpower problems, Senator Arthur Roebuck of Nova Scotia said Canada has to come to grips with the question of whether she should remain a member of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

"I do not think there is a secondary industry in Canada that is not today faced with almost bewildering competition from without", he said.

Senator Thomas Crerar (L—Manitoba) said it is essential for Canada to find markets for raw materials.

Second CBC Television Network Possibility Under Study by BBG

EDMONTON (CP)—The possibility of a second CBC television network across Canada is being explored by the Board of Broadcast Governors.

Chairman Fowler said such a plan would involve TV stations in the same areas.

Reaction to this suggestion is being elicited by the BBG from the five applicants appearing before the board here this week in support of their bids for a licence to operate Edmonton's second TV station.

The publicly owned CBC, itself one of the applicants, appears loudly against the idea. J. A. Ouellette, Conservative member of parliament for Edmonton East, said in a telephone interview from Ottawa that he couldn't give a categorical "no" to the proposal because it already is being considered by the CBC board of directors. But he thought network-spanning would be impractical.

Two private applicants heard Wednesday — Northgate Broadcasting Company Limited and Edmonton Video Limited—are tied with BBG counsel Graeme Haig that it might be possible to share the CBC network programs with existing private stations here, CFRN-TV, which already is a CBC affiliate.

Diefenbaker Wants Another Parley Shortly

Opposes Majority Move To Impose Sanctions

LONDON (CP)—South Africa's 16 Commonwealth partners are reported preparing a public repudiation of that country's racial segregation policies.

The Associated Press said the drive for strong action was backed by other Commonwealth leaders, in informal talks with South Africa's External Affairs Minister Eric Louw, tried unsuccessfully to get a modification of his government's apartheid policy of strict racial segregation.

The 10 countries reported ready to disown the South African racial policies are Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the Central African Federation, India, Pakistan, Malaya, Ceylon and Ghana.

Senior Commonwealth officials said they were shocked at a decision when the Commonwealth prime ministers conference ended Friday.

In an effort to keep South Africa from quitting the conference, the delegates agreed to discuss the racial issue with each outside the formal conference sessions. They found him unwilling to give ground.

MAY BE DROPPED

South Africa now is confronted with the possibility of being dropped from the Commonwealth if she goes ahead with plans to become a republic.

Louw sought unsuccessfully to get assurances that South Africa could hold its membership, like the republics of India and Pakistan have done. The other Commonwealth leaders withheld a pledge of continued membership.

Membership in the Commonwealth carries with it trade and tariff benefits worth millions a year to exporters.

Louw prepared today to confer with Secretary-General Sir Hugh Marsakjold of the United Nations about the South African Council's April 1 resolutions condemning his country's racialism.

Louw's visit has argued that the issue is an internal matter, and that other Commonwealth countries should not interfere.

CANADIAN PLAN

Meanwhile it was learned Prime Minister Diefenbaker has been quietly campaigning for an other Commonwealth prime ministers' conference to discuss a relatively short time" in a bid to win support for Canada's policy of apartheid.

Informants said the Canadian leader had this initiative after it became clear the majority of the Commonwealth leaders wanted to apply sanctions to the Nationalist government of South Africa.

Diefenbaker's policy in racial matters cool in the hope that conditions will have changed before the next meeting, say within a year or two.

NEWLYWEDS INVITED

KINGSTON, Jamaica (Reuters) — Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong - Jones have been invited to spend part of their honeymoon at Frenchman's Cove in Jamaica, it was learned today. The invitation was extended by Canadian millionaire Garfield Weston, who owns Frenchman's Cove Hotel, through Governor Sir Kenneth Blackburne. The princess was guest of honor at a party arranged at Frenchman's Cove when she visited Jamaica in 1955.

GREEN DENIES SPY PLANES USE CANADIAN BASES

Repeats Assurance Given by Pearkes

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Green said Wednesday there are no American spy planes there ever operated from Canadian bases.

In substance, he repeated in the Commons what Defence Minister Pearkes had said in a statement Tuesday night.

Mr. Green read a Toronto Globe and Mail headline which said: "Spy-type planes fly from Canada." The newspaper reported from Washington that Canadian soil is being used by U-2 spy planes.

"Stories of this kind don't help very much in the aim of reducing world tension," Mr. Green said.

Now, if ever, is the time for cool heads, both in the East and in the West."

Mr. Green said, as Mr. Pearkes did, that U.S. reconnaissance planes have made meteorological and electronic flights over Canada but that the flights were confined to the American air space.

Lift Emergency Laws in Rural South Africa

PRETORIA (AP)—Emergency regulations were lifted in 20 of South Africa's magisterial districts Wednesday in a move to ease tension by the government. All but the bleakest areas, however, remained under restrictions.

Emergency regulations had been clamped on 119 of the country's 200 magisterial districts earlier this year to help cope with racial violence and political strife.

City Public Schools Costs Double Plus in Five Years

The cost of public school education in Belleville increased over 100 per cent from 1954 to 1959, according to figures listed in a report for last year of the public schools superintendent.

Total expenditures for public schools in the year 1954 are listed at $453,343 and by 1959 had soared to $944,753.

Instructional salaries over the same period increased from $284,930, to $544,468 last year.

In the same period instructional supplies costs jumped from $17,725 to $44,448; plant operation from $8,435 to $14,944; plant operation from $34,130 to $76,616.

But the over-all picture is not quite as bad as it may seem.

The 1959 public school education costs take in increases resulting from annexation when four additional public schools were added to the city schools system. These four schools are Avondale, Bayview, Prince of Wales and Hillcrest.

In 1958 — the last year before annexation, instructional salaries had increased slightly over $100,000 from the 1954 figure, while total public schools expenditures increased $602,987, as compared with $453,815 in 1954.

Debenture charges in the Belleville Public Schools Board soared from $41,441 to $113,000 last year.

Higher teachers' salaries had their effect in boosting school costs, but possibly the biggest booster was the sharply increased school enrolment.

The average daily public school attendance in 1954 was 2,384 and last year had soared to 3,746 with the sharp increase in enrolment for the first time going over 4,000. The cost per pupil of average daily attendance in 1954 was $189.33 which in 1959 had increased to $252.30.

And the public school millrate — creeping increase of school costs — increased from 19.5 mills in 1954 to 23.2 mills last year. In total tax levy the cost Belleville ratepayers $332,020 six years ago and $570,321 last year.

Public schools inspector J. M. Cousins reported that as of December 31st last year, enrolment in public schools totalled 4,206, up slightly over 300 from the 3,901 at the end of the school term last June.

Schools Superintendent L. A. Kells reported that an enrolment exceeding 4,500 pupils was expected by September 1960 and construction of additional accommodation would be required.

To this end two additional school sites have been purchased, one in the east end and one in the west end.

Final plans are now being drawn for the proposed new seven-roomed school in East Belleville, but drainage problems at the site chosen for the Parkdale School have resulted in a change of plans in favor of additions at the Ecole George and Prince Charles Schools. Department approval has been granted for the East Belleville school and approval is currently being sought for the two proposed school additions in West Belleville.

LIFE SENTENCE

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. AP)— Dennis Whitney, 37, today began a life sentence for murder in the slaying a Hialeah woman, the only person he was charged with killing on a crosscountry tour. The jury was convicted last week of slaying Mrs. Virginia Selby, 62, last March 5. The jury recommended mercy and Judge James Knott passed the mandatory life sentence Wednesday. Whitney also is accused of killing two persons in the Miami area, three in Arizona and one in California.

Obituaries

EARL W. McNEIL
Napanee

TWEED — The funeral of Earl W. McNeil of Napanee, was held at Wartman Funeral Home with the Rev. W. B. Thornston, conducting the service. Interment was in Wilton Cemetery.

Mr. McNeil died suddenly early Monday at the Kingston General Hospital at the age of 64 years. He was the son of the late Arvin Judd and Alice McNeil, and attended school at Burnley. He spent three years as an assistant in the bottling department at Corr. Ont., then attended a course at Kingston Dairy School in 1936, then went to Napanee to run cow where he managed the cheese factory for 22 years. When fire destroyed his business three years ago, he started operating a service station until his death.

Mr. McNeil was a past deputy as a director of the Quinte Co-Operative Milk Producers in Belleville and was a member of Victoria Lodge No. 299, Centreville.

Surviving are his wife, the former Elsie Hagerty; two daughters, Mrs. W. J. McQuay (Mary), of Moscow, Ontario, Kingston and one sister, Mrs. William Bouth, Marlbank.

Bearers were Gordon Flagar, Irwin Hood, Melbourne Brooks, Arthur Thomas, Thomas Heath and Erwell Huff.

RALPH GRAHAM WALSH

The funeral of Ralph Graham Walsh was held Saturday afternoon with Rev. H. M. Davis conducting the service in Bridge Street United Church.

Mr. Walsh died at his residence, 238 Bridge Street East, Monday after an illness of some seven months. He was personnel manager of both the Deloro and Port Hope plants of Canadian Smelting and Refining Company Limited and had lived in this city since 1951.

The funeral was largely attended by scores of relatives, friends and business associates who had been in contact with him.

Interment was in Belleville cemetery.

Honorary bearers were Jerry Brown, H. Fuke, A. Purdy, W. Finkle, C. Thom, J. Pearson, J. Houston, J. Redpath, B. O'Brien, A. Scott, C. Buskard, and P. McGuire.

Active bearers were J. Atchison, D. Stair, Jack Ann, Green, B. MacKenzie and F. Fleming.

MRS. PETER MILLER
Oakville

Word was received today in this city of the death of Mrs. Ellen Maude Miller, wife of Colonel Peter Miller, D.S.O., M.C. and Bar, of Oakville, and mother of Judy Ann.

Mrs. Miller was the only daughter of Dr. William Wadmore Hastings, who was prominent in brain surgery at Liverpool Hospital, England.

Col. Miller, formerly of Glen Miller, is a brother of Mrs. Hugh Carr of 243 Dundas Street East in this city.

DAVID ERNEST FISHER

David Ernest Fisher of 23 Turnbull Street, a retired CNR engineer who served 40 years as a railroader, died Monday morning, May 12, 1960, in Belleville General Hospital. He had been ill approximately one week, and was in his 75th year.

Born in Suffolk, England, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Fisher. He resided in Belleville for the past 32 years, coming here from England.

He commenced his railroad career as a fireman with the Grand Trunk Railway in 1907. He was classed as an engineer in 1910. He retired as a CNR engineer in 1947, following 40 years of service as a railroader.

He was a member of St. Thomas Anglican Church.

Active in many clubs and organizations in the city, he was well known, and will be greatly missed by the community.

He was a life member of the Quinte Firehaglin Chapter, the Belleville Lawn Bowling Club, and an honorary member of Hastings No. 20 L.O.L. No. 1055 A.M. He was a member of the Belleville Curling Club when the rink was located on George Street. He was also a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Division 189.

Besides his wife, the former Millie Ethel Niles, he is survived by one son, Norman Carl Fisher of Belleville. Also surviving are one brother, John Fisher of Bristol, Mich., and three grandchildren.

Resting at the Pinkston and Luscombe Funeral Home, Victoria Avenue at Church Street, until 11 a.m. Saturday. Funeral arrangements appear elsewhere in this edition.

VESSEL HELPLESS

HAMILTON (CP) — The 8,000-ton Mexican freighter Esther Schulte was a helpless vessel after longshoremen unloaded part of her iron ore cargo Tuesday. The cargo, all taken from the after section of the ship, left the stern high in the air, the propeller six feet out of water. It took two tugs four hours to move the vessel one mile where the remainder of the cargo was unloaded.

Active Collections System On All Accounts and Taxes Recommended by Auditors

An active collections system on all accounts and taxes receivable, together with the use of bank accounts held by certain committees which cannot legally have accounts, has been recommended by city auditors George A. Welch and Co. in their presentation of the 1959 city audit which was formally adopted by council at a special two and a half hour session on Wednesday evening.

In adopting the audit, council charged City Manager J. R. Reynolds with the responsibility of putting into effect where necessary the various recommendations contained in the audit report. The report was read to council by Robert Irvin, representing George A. Welch and Company.

It was the first time in seven years that Belleville council has taken more than a passing look at its annual audit report and in doing so members went over in detail the many points in Belleville's finances had run into difficulties.

It was May 9th, 1959, that council learning city money had been tied up in debentures for the city-sponsored Belleville Mutual Insurance Company, after investigation revealed a program of self-financing had been followed.

The city has applied for permission to issue debentures to pay off its floating indebtedness, the matter now being before the municipal board from which a decision is expected shortly.

The request was for issuing of debentures for $67,420 covering hockey and arena deficit and $20,000 for deficit incurred to the end of 1959. Permission is also asked to issue debentures for the general deficiency for an indebtedness of $91,435

DEBENTURE DEBT

Net debenture debt of the city as of December 31st, 1959, was listed in the auditors' report as $2,698,000.

The auditor found bank borrowings of $506,695 in excess of the statutory limit.

The city's action of accepting cash advances from Belleville ratepayers to help set up city street parking was criticized by the auditor, who said the municipality had no legal basis for accepting such advances. He recommended that council obtain clarification of its position before any repayments were made.

Since the transaction giving rise to the advances by the city for parking purposes had no legal basis, these advances amounting to $70,196 had been charged to the city deficit account. Similarly the funds of the parking committee in the amount of $31,253 had also been charged to the deficit account. It was noted that legislation had been passed this year for the issue of debentures to cover the parking authority deficit, subject to the approval of the municipal board.

ARENA LOSS $9,589

The hockey deficit for last year was given as $37,726, (this being in the early months while the team was city-sponsored), while the loss on arena operation had been $9,589. The arena canteen showed a profit of $2,271.

It was noted there were claims of $13,776 still outstanding for hockey loans, $5,000 for hockey sajaries, equipment purchases and other items which had been included in the hockey expenditures for the year but had not been paid.

Councillors noted that approval for payment of the equipment purchase accounts had been given, subject to municipal board approval.

Included in the audit report were the accounts of the Belleville Municipal Hospital, the Belleville utilities commission as well as those of the various smaller boards.

It was noted that approximately $32,000 in hockey grants would create a problem in the near future with the new hospital wing were still outstanding. The auditor also advanced it was estimated the city would receive from the $5,900 from funds on hand and from the $2,500 grant in aid pledges.

GET LOW INTEREST

Of all city boards set up to administer trust funds, only the Civic Playground Committee possibly is in the best shape financially.

It has investments of just over $12,000, some of which are of a low rate of interest. Included in the investments are Town of Trenton debentures amounting to just over $6,000. The interest rate on these per cent and the debentures run until 1960.

In his comments the auditor told the income from the Ritchie Playground Fund was to be used for the payment of instructors for small children in public playgrounds in East and West Belleville. The trustees of the fund are to be the Mayor, director for Education, and the City Comptroller.

But apparently the Board does not meet regularly. The auditor noted the minute book of the trustees of this fund contained no minutes subsequent to 1956.

"is that when those two per cent debentures were purchased, we acquired one alderman.

Thieves Had No Trouble Taking This Car

Keys left in the ignition as the car was parked at the curb made it handy for thieves who last night stole the car of Mrs. Delaney, 171 Victoria Avenue.

Mrs. Delaney told police she had parked the car at the curb while he carried groceries into the house and on coming out ten to put the car in the garage found it gone. He discovered his car was gone at 8.30 this morning.

Missing with the car was a camera and briefcase left in the vehicle.

Five Members Initiated by Legion Branch

Under the direction of branch padre Bram Humphreys, the newly-formed initiation team of Belleville branch, No. 219 Canadian Legion, initiated five new members last night. Dr. Dan McVicker, Zone Commander of Deseronto acted as presiding officer for the initiation event. The largest attendance this year without a banquet preceding.

Past Zone Commander W. F. Bailey was appointed delegate to the Dominion convention which will be held in Windsor, the first week in June. Dr. McVicker also spoke on the interbranch visits, pointing out that this type of fraternizing was important for the future welfare of the organization.

The next meeting of the branches of Zone #3 will be held in Picton on Sunday, May 15th, at which time the 40 and 50 year men with the members enjoying a conserning film shown by Norman Hardy.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Investors found encouragement in the stock market today as most sections went on the increase.

The 11 a.m. volume was 380,000 compared to the 418,000 shares traded at the same time Wednesday.

Papers led industrials higher, with Bathurst A up 1½ at 43½. Falconbridge, N o r a n d a and Ventures held back the mines section, all off ¼ at 31, 28½ and 23¾, while Kerr Addison boosted gold figures with a gain of ⅝ at 11⅝.

Among senior uranium, Gunnar gained 10 cents at 87.85 while Denison was off five cents at $2.25.

Trading was light Wednesday with industrials up .19 on index of 328.94 and base metals up .80 at 155.32.

of my visit in the United States, we had a spy. What would my welcome be then? They would have given me the welcome which I would deserve. Our people understand democracy."

Khrushchev said he did not want to comment on the possibility of Eisenhower postponing his visit.

"I am sure we will exchange views on that question with the president shortly," he said.

"We want to punch the nose of those who poke their noses in matters that do not concern them but we want good relations with the U.S.A. and if time is given time, we will have good relations. We know that Mr. Eisenhower but we also have good heads on our shoulders, and we know that even the worse kind of aggravation is better than war and we will do all in our power to keep the aggravation digested and have normal relations with the United States if they also want to."

"Bear that in mind and proceed from that when you write your articles," he told reporters.

He said he could assure Eisenhower there would be "no excesses" during his visit.

"Our people are very disciplined and something leads to poison their minds they will not do anything rash. But as for actions that is up to governments.

"Would the plane incident be discussed at the summit, he was asked.

"This question has already become the subject of discussion throughout the world and that is sufficient. No sane man can deny that. But I do not think the question will be raised and put on the agenda.

"It is not an appropriate question. I would be the only representative of the Socialist countries against three allies. And I am sure that two of these allies would consider the incident and that reflects their honorable position."

Says Kingston Hospital Wing Last Big One

KINGSTON (CP) — Ontario Health Minister Dymond says the last big wing of the Province of Ontario Hospital in Kingston will be the last of the "big hospital" type hospitals built in Ontario.

He made the statement in a brief visit Wednesday to the 1,650-bed hospital as part of his tour of hospitals during mental health week.

The new trend is towards functional units of not more than 300 beds, Mr. Dymond said.

Many hospitals in the province were overcrowded but the government was "trying to keep pace with the increasing demands."

Coins Worth $500 Tossed Into Fountain

NEW YORK (AP) — Three bucketsful of coins in a fountain — about $500 worth — were hauled off to a bank Wednesday.

Passers-by had tossed the coins into a Japanese garden display at the steps of the public library in the last two weeks in an apparent belief it was a wishing well.

The city had set up the display to help beautify the Fifth Avenue area. No coins were solicited.

Five city workers waded into the fountain and shoveled the coins into three buckets. About half the money was in pennies, but also there were nickels, dimmer, quarters, various foreign coins and some subway tokens.

A few people apparently wanting to get their wishes fulfilled for free had thrown in slugs.

Casting the slugs aside, the city will use the money to buy a kinkgo tree and plant it on the library grounds.

Former Belleville Woman Praised For Children's Plays in New York

A former Belleville woman, Mrs. Laszlo Kormendi, producer and director of the Children's Repertory Group of New York City, has attained a good deal of success her theatrical profession.

Mrs. Kormendi, the former Joan Maraskas, sister of Mrs. Francis Burns and Mr. Louis Maraskas of Belleville, has received critical acclaim for her productions of children's plays designed for and acted by children.

The Children's Repertory Group which she heads, is a non-profit organization supported by donations, which was formed to give performances of plays by children for child audiences. Membership is open to children of unusual talent only, and members of the group receive free continuous training in acting and in dancing as a performing unit.

Among the numerous children's plays produced and directed by the Versatile Mrs. Kormendi is a recent production, "The Stolen Prince," which received enthusiastic reviews. The play was performed during Easter week at Maidman Playhouse, New York City.

Noted author Meyer Levin wrote: "The wonderful thing about Joan Kormendi's theatre is that she lets her children act as children do when they make up their own plays, only she brings this to a point of art."

Nick Kramer of the New York Mirror, wrote: "If NBC doesn't present this fantasy as a special colorcast, it is missing a great bet."

Prof. W. Fosco Call, children's theatre expert at Hunter College, said of her: "This is one of the most artistically harmonious productions I have seen. Its beautiful simplicity, the setting, dancing, music and decor, were all blended into an excellent total effect."

The New York Post, wrote: "As romantic as springtime, the story delights children . . . particularly colorful show."

Mrs. Kormendi attended Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School, and Queen's University, Kingston. She studied dramatics with Miss Dora Mavor Moore and Miss Hollie Merry and took leading roles in many high school plays.

Many Belleville ians may remember the production, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," which she directed during World War Two for the Red Cross. She also had a leading role in "Stage Door," opposite Court Miller.

Excellent reviews of her productions have appeared in "Parents' Magazine," and "Theatre Arts."

DDGM Pays Official Visit To His Home Lodge, Trenton

TRENTON — The annual banquet of the Trenton Lodge, No. 38, A.F. & A.M., No. 38, was held Tuesday evening in the banquet hall of the Trenton Masonic Lodge, with 160 members from Trenton and other area lodges in attendance. Members of the Eastern Star prepared and served the banquet.

Chairman for the evening was Worshipful Brother Thomas E. Bedford, master of the Trenton lodge.

The occasion was the official inspection of the work of the lodge by the District Deputy Grand Master of Prince Edward District, Brother Edward District. DDGM McMaster has visited 17 lodges in his district since he took office. His mother lodge, Trenton, is the last on the visiting list. He said that the lodges had all done excellent work this year and that membership is increasing. Mr. McMaster praised their attendance, a more concentrated effort on the part of the membership committee of the Trenton lodge and regular visiting of sick members.

The Trenton lodge has been in existence for over 100 years. Mr. McMaster is the seventh Trenton member who has had the honor of being the district deputy grand master. During his term a new lodge temple was opened and dedicated in Belleville. Last December the Grand Master of Ontario officiated at these ceremonies.

Tuesday evening Mr. McMaster presented 50-year membership jewels to W. W. Bonisteel of Belleville, M. A. Harris of Consecon, and A. A. Hogle and W. W. Miller of Trenton.

Allan Border was inducted into membership.

The Prince Edward District council, made up of 17 lodges, will hold a divine service in Trenton on Sunday, June 5, at 3 p.m., at King Street United Church. The speaker will be the Rev. Robertson Millar, D.D., assistant Grand Chaplain of Ontario.

Teachers Rate Board on Three Phases of Work

TRENTON — The results of a highly confidential survey taken in the spring of 1959 among secondary school teachers in 231 Ontario centres, have been published in a Toronto newspaper.

The teachers were asked to rate their school boards as to the board's attitude towards educational improvements, teacher-board relations and working conditions.

The top score in each category could be 400. The rating was based on "very good", "acceptable" "below average" or "unsatisfactory" opinions of the boards' involved in the survey.

Trenton high school teachers gave 206 votes out of the possible 400 to the board for its attitude towards educational improvement, placing the Trenton board in the 221st place among the 231 school boards considered.

Out of the possible number of 400 in teacher-board relations, the Trenton board received 162, ranking 225th in the 231 boards in the survey.

The teachers' opinion of working conditions placed the board 211th out of the 231 schools in the survey, the teachers scoring 312 votes out of the possible 400.

Board Hears Various Matters

TRENTON — At Monday night's meeting of the Trenton board of education, Mr. J. Carswell, secretary of the board, read a letter from W.C.P. Craig of Canada an enquiry from the board re 1961 non-resident fees for RCAF personnel. Mr. Craig said that the matter was being taken up with "a higher authority."

Another letter, from P. M. Muir, of the Trenton Trustees' Council, was read. Mr. Muir thanked the board for its help and finds itself in difficulty. He said that he hoped that the Trenton High School were proceeding smoothly. The Trustees' Council was considering the Trenton board during the recent difficulty with the Belleville Secondary School Teachers' Federation.

A letter from the architectural firm of Jackson-Ypes was read. The letter called for work on Prince Charles School to be completed. Also that new classroom furniture could be installed. There will be a display of the furniture in the school on May 18, and the board members may make their selections.

S. B. Coon had written to the board concerning the boiler in North Trenton School. The boiler is in poor condition and that it has begun to disintegrate. Their are cracks evident in the back part of the boiler and a complete retubing job will be needed. Mr. Coon said that the boiler was supposed to be a three-year-master, and already has lasted 25-30 years. He wondered if another type had been substituted by the supplier or the manufacturer.

ANCIENT ORDERS

JERUSALEM (AP)—One of Israel's greatest modern soldiers has commanded a unit defending orders issued by an Israeli commander 18 centuries ago, Yigael Yadin, Israel's chief of staff until he retired to archaeology in 1958, told a gathering of soldiers and officials an expedition he led found 11 letters written on papyrus and slabs of wood by Shimon Bar Kochba, who led the Judean revolt against the Roman Emperor Hadrian in 135 A.D. The letters did in a cave in the Judean desert and were found five weeks ago in a cave in the Judean Wilderness, near the Dead Sea.

The shoot took place at the Quinte Hand Gun Club Range.

BABY KIDNAPPED

WALSALL, England (Reuters) Police today issued a appeal for the return of a three-months-old baby girl snatched from her carriage outside a local store. Mrs. Jean Griffiths, 23, said she left her child outside while she went inside to buy a toy gun for her two-year-old son. When she returned five minutes later the child was gone. Witnesses said they saw a woman running with a baby towards a bus station.

Those Who Saw Wreck Certain Of Authenticity

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times in a Moscow dispatch says persons who compared the wreckage shown at a Moscow exhibition Wednesday with photographs of an American U-2 single-engined jet were convinced it is the authenticity of the display."

The wreckage was displayed to diplomats and Western correspondents as being from the American plane the Russians say they shot down over Soviet territory May 1. Westerners were allowed to photograph it.

FLEE CUBA

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Eight Cubans who claim they fled communist Premier Fidel Castro's regime were rescued by a United States Coast Guard cutter Tuesday after their 20-foot boat ran out of gas in the Gulf Stream 33 miles southeast of Miami.

Prevention Could Become Cause

United States spokesmen, from Secretary of State Christian Herter down, have made the best possible case for systematic espionage flights over Russian territory—they are designed to detect tell-tale signs of the impending surprise attack which the free world, to alert the Strategic Air Command, place the retaliatory power of the U.S. beyond the reach of Russian attack and, by preserving this retaliatory power, prevent the planned surprise attack and save the world from the holocaust of a nuclear war.

This is all very plausible—brilliantly so.

Unfortunately, whether those who plead this explanation believe in its validity or not, it is unsatisfactory. It is unsatisfactory because the espionage flights create as much, or more, danger than they eliminate.

This was strikingly proven Monday and Tuesday at the very time when Secretary Herter's explanation was starting to circulate around an alarmed world.

Monday Nikita Khrushchev warned countries which lease air bases to the U.S. that if U.S. espionage planes from these bases continued to fly over Russia, Russian rockets would be aimed at the bases as well as the planes. Tuesday the U.S. state department announced the U.S. would uphold its defence commitments with its allies if Russia should strike.

All this has a simple and terrible logic. The U.S. flies planes over Russia to guard against a surprise attack. These flights are a breach of international law. Countries which permit Herter to be used for this illegal purpose are committing a hostile act against Russia. So Russia will blast the bases if the flights continue. If the bases are blasted, the U.S. will aid its allies. The espionage flights, designed to prevent the mere possibility of a nuclear war, would thus start it. And because the bases are in Europe, Uncle Sam are stending toe to toe, like two stubborn, frightened little boys, afraid to take their eyes off each other.

The place to do something about this is the summit conference. We hope that these forthcoming talks will see more sense prevail and that the mutual suspicions of Mr. Khrushchev and Mr. Eisenhower should surely realize the fear of making concessions is something most people leave behind them in their childhood. We look forward to some concrete steps being taken to ensure peace and concord amongst the major nations and Onlooking in the world today and we do not care who takes the first step.

By step we do not mean propositions or counter-propositions; we mean the implementation of and adherence to a peaceful course of action. Whether it is an "open skies" policy or an international system of weapons control and inspection, we do not care.

If such does not occur at the meeting of the major powers it is about time for the smaller nations to band together to try and give this world of ours some moral leadership. It appears that Bomarcs and ICBMs and H-bombs are not going to bring us sang the world to "peace on earth, good will to men." Perhaps it would be best if we were to try a little old-fashioned-horse sense until something better comes along.

Need Permission Not Compulsion

Briefs to the three-man Ontario royal commission on fluoridation were made public by the Canadian Dental Association and the Health League of Canada.

We think the Health League goes too far in demanding that the Ontario Government make fluoridation of all public water systems mandatory within three years. This is a question which different communities ought to be able to decide for themselves. There is a vast and an important difference between preventing local communities from their own decisions in favor of fluoridation, as the Ontario Government has done in the past, and in forcing them to fluoridate their water no matter what local opinion may be.

What is needed is not compulsive, but permisive, legislation. Increasingly public opinion is behind the favor of fluoridation. When the Canadian Dental Association says that only about one-third of the population receives adequate dental care, and that there is no hope of controlling tooth decay by present methods alone, the majority of people are willing to believe it.

Who Shall Make Our Songs?

Memphis Press-Scimitar

"Give me the making of the songs of a nation and I care not who makes its laws".

So said Andrew Fletcher of Saltoun in 1703, and it has been accepted as a truism ever since.

Turn the dial. Sometimes you will never find a program of music fit to listen to. Always such programs will be hard to find.

There are many causes of juvenile delinquency. One of them is the so-called music. Too many of the popular songs express low tastes and vulgar ideals, if any, and are demoralizing. Some express the standards of the night club and dive and are downright immoral. Yet this is what young sters listen to as they get their lessons.

Adults didn't like it. But they rediscuss: "The boys and girls are fine, clean youngsters, and it is only what they like, it must be all right".

Now we find it was never what they would choose. It was chosen for them by unscrupulous adults willing to corrupt taste, manners, minds and morals for a dollar. Payola.

While we have spent billions on an educational system to develop, guide, mold and inspire youngsters, we have permitted a subterranean system to develop and exist, negating the contributions and savagely set the efforts of dedicated teachers.

What do we do now?

Who shall make the songs that will make this nation?

What kind of music shall go out over the nation's airwaves? What kind of records shall come into the homes of America?

Somebody will choose! What is played is no accident.

Who shall be the choosing? The payola crowd stopped in one fell swoop? Or keeping on with the unformed minds of adolescent? Greedy adults, catering to the "teenage market"?

Leaders in education and citizenship should ponder these questions, assuming the responsibility they have dodged.

Every city should have a board of censors. Not to censor, but to act—in a large majority of cases—in the interest of youth, to select an Ought-to-be-a-Hit Parade.

No record ought to be permitted to come into a city without unless it has the approval —of the censors, and that by the youth in that home. Records should be sold on approval — approval of the parents, and that's where a radical proposal, it shows how far we have gone from the rails.

Radio stations should select their own and parents should demand that they do.

Music publishers and composers have a responsibility with conscience. They should be subsidized by "angels" of habit-forming musical dope.

"And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea".

Censorship? That's not the right solution. But someone is going to choose what songs are written, published, recorded and played.

Who shall make the choices that will make this nation what it is to be?

And what do you who read this choose to do about this situation?

A seaport on the pacific coast, nine miles north of Victoria, B.C. With an airport excellent harbor and a dry-dock, a graving dock, it hums with activity. In early years it has been a well known naval base. The name is of Indian origin meaning, "a place gradually shoaling."

Strictly Personal

Most Strength Is Really Only Safety

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Purely Personal Prejudices:

From careful observation of human nature, I learn to avoid their mistakes; but no observation can prevent us from making our own mistakes — and the wise marriage counselor may well be heading for divorce in his own way.

Some people get their deepest pleasure out of despising pleasure, and thus live in the delusion that they are superior to pleasures that attract the rest of us.

A truth that has to be proved can never sway men's emotions; it can only appeal to them by syllogisms.

Most of us give to make ourselves feel good, not to make others feel good, what we call "charity" being a subjective virtue not an objective duty.

"Strength is relative," observed George Macdonald, "is a greater compliment than to be loved." And it is because so many romantic relationships comes from the fact that they bring loving to be able to bring trustworthy — although the former cannot survive without the latter.

Nobody knows himself until he has been tested, and few willingly calamity; it is only in crises that we learn our true identity and the limitations of our virtues brought life thinking he was strong, when he was only safe.

In order to make a person a genuine democrat, you have first to give him something to lose; contrary to Marx's prediction, communism has not appeared in developed countries but only in those blank recesses where the populace had nothing to lose. In a reaction, not liberalism, that paves the way to revolution.

I have never understood the sentimental use of the phrase "horse sense" — for a horse has less sense than almost any animal you could name.

The drunkard is the object of the world's scorn, but no one is contemptuous toward the gluttton. Yet the latter is commonly a sincerer person than the glutton, merely weak where the other is greedy.

Love is a form of intelligence, its highest form; and the evidence is that stupid love usually crushes or deforms whatever it embraces, like an uninteligent parent who cripples a child with a burden of misdirected love.

A small town that has only "one good hotel" has no good hotels.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FILES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

May 12th, 1940

Sunday is "Florence Nightingale Day". The world over will pause in memory of the gentle "Lady With the Lamp" whose sacrifice and self-denial in the dark days of the Crimean War, inaugurated one of the noblest professions in the world. And in further tribute to that gallant figure and to the thousands of counterparts who write proudly behind their signatures the letters "R. N.", the civilized world will pay homage Hundreds of people, residents of this city and of the district served by the institution, will visit Belleville's fine hospital. The eyesore of hundreds of eyes on Sunday will be the magnificent new wing of the hospital which will be opened to the public for the first time. Newly completed and equiped, at a cost of over $200,000, the new addition consists of three storeys that house the last word in modern medical and other equipment designed for the alleviation of human suffering.

Four former pupils of the Belleville Collegiate Institute vied in the list of successful students trying their science exams Queen's University. Results which were announced today show that Bill Newby attained honors in the science examinations while three other Belleville boys, Robert Lill, James Moon and Don Spring were also successful in their science exams.

Mrs. A. B. Collins, retiring president of the Catholic Women's League, entertained the members of her executive at a luncheon at the Queen's Hotel, followed by a bridge party at her home on George Street.

Last evening on the high arch ground baseball match was played between teams representing Forms I-A and II-A. The result was a score of 8 to 7 in favor of Form II-A. The game was full of thrills. Arnott knitted a good game for I-B. Turner connected with a number of safe hits which came at exactly the right time. Boyle and Curry did the best work with the bat for I-A. The following composed the team: Form I-A — Boyle, Beamish, Day, Hardwick, Blanchard, Curry, Harden and McIntosh.

Form I-B — Barlow, Turner, Bowyer, Facer, Marsh, Simmons, Arnott, Crozier and Macintyre. The umpire was Leslie Adams and he gave good satisfaction.

Miss Annie Evelyn Dempsey of this city received the degree of B.A. at McAlister University, Toronto, Ont.

Mr. George Clinton Barlow of this city received the degree of M.A.; and Mr. George Leslie Pound of R. R. No. 6, Belleville received the degree of B.A., at Queen's University.

May 12th, 1910

When the Duke and Duchess of York visited Belleville on Wednesday, October 13th, 1901, they were given a royal welcome at the G.T.R. station. Now, owing to the death of King Edward, the Duke and Duchess are King George and Queen Mary. The Royal tram and the Royal Canadian special train reached Belleville shortly before midnight and were plainly visible to the large population. A guard composed of the following local men remained on duty around the trains all night; J. Patterson, L. Soule, J. Miller, Charles Gibson, H. Benfew, W. Nelson, E. Spriggs, C. Boyle Tom Hyland, H. Smith and F. Lynn. The first train to come into the station shortly after nine o'clock on Saturday morning was that carrying the Governor General and party. The band played and the crowd cheered. His Excellency stood upon the platform of his car and the following were presented: Mayor H. J. Graham; Mr. W. B. Northrup, M.P., and Mrs. Northrup; Mr. Robert Meighen of the D. and D. Institute and Mrs. Mathieson. The train left after a delay of five minutes, and then the Royal train came to a stop a little further. A welcome given the Duke and Duchess was indeed inspiring. Mayor Graham, Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, chairman of the reception committee were the officers which were given last loyalty. The following were presented to the Duke: Lieut.-Colonels Mayor R. J. Graham, Adj. Captain Bogart, Adj. George Denmark, Adj. S. Harris and Mrs. R. E. Sewell, who presented to the Duchess a magnificent bouquet on behalf of the Daughters of the Empire. The 15th Regiment paraded about one hundred strong, and the 49th Regiment had a good number on parade. At the reception at the drying of the National flag with his corner under the direction of Prof. Hunt.

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

MARTECTOMY CAN BE A MARVELOUS LIFE SAVER

"Dear Dr. Molner: After having a mastectomy, it was brought to my notice how some people understand the operation and the results. I have two wolves and others don't. Some believe you'll be back in the running in nothing flat. And still others treat you as though it might rob off or be catching. — M.B."

You've brought before us a matter that might very well be better left unsaid. Martectomy (removal of the breast) is decidedly not a terrifying operation but it certainly can be marvelous life-saver.

The most frequent cause of this operation, of course is cancer of the breast, which is at the top of the list of the fatal cancers among women. The last figures I noted showed about one cancer death in five from this cause among women.

However, this ratio should be declining notably, because, without question, if more cases of breast cancers should be cured. The important factor is to find them — and treat them early.

Every lump in the breast should be examined at once, not "at once" I mean exactly that. Every lump should be felt out by your doctor immediately.

In point of fact, the majority of the lumps will prove to be nervous at all, but enough of them will be found to cancerous and lives to be saved or lost each year.

Where a lump is malignant, removal of the breast is the only answer. Excerpting only that the surrounding tissue must be removed for safety, the area up and including the arm pit including which serve the area. This means that the patient will require a deep operation up to the armpit, and must remove some of the muscle tissue of the chest wall.

This is neither a brief or a simple operation. Everything considered happily it is known as an operation which involves very little risk.

It is not unusual for a patient to be out of the hospital in 10 days, but full recovery may take from four to six weeks.

Additionally the arm is usually stiff, lame and sore. However this will pass with exercise and the patient, she must be encouraged to keep using it to keep raising the arm. Let her baby it too much, and she may ultimately find that she never can raise the arm above a limited level.

The man may wonder why (although not ordinarily) it may take several months to get rid of the last of the swelling. So, while the time varies, it takes some time for the lymph and the general strength back into the arm. The operation isn't "all over and done with" the moment she leaves the hospital.

As to people who are afraid the disease might "be catching" — well it just isn't. And it's decidedly unfair to treat a patient as though one thought so, any more than amputation of a leg or removal of an appendix is "catching".

"Dear Dr. Molner: The skin at both corners of mouths has split and cracks are quite painful when I open my mouth. — Mrs. R."

A deficiency in Vitamin B can cause this, if that isn't it, suspect an allergy. Lipstick, tooth paste, material used on dental plates, or other such things coming in contact with the mouth are possibilities.

Soviet-Style Businessman

Financial Post

Meet "the Red executive," described in a book of that title by Joseph Granick. This relatively new variety of Soviet man is not unlike his North American opposite number, the hired managerial expert to be found at the head of nearly every big concern here.

Any top Russian executive must meet in addition certain a university graduate, most probably an engineer, and must never narrowly trained in the techniques of one industry.

His technique is to let ten times those of the average undertaking. The underlying thing that Russian income tax is applicable to the top men, is distributed, this spread at least equals, maybe exceeds, the salaries of American norms. The Red executive has, or hopes to have, a car and country house but keeping down with the Joneses is his motto. He can't cool politics for him to be too conspicuously well off.

He would be a production quota, earns bonuses for reaching or passing it, does everything he makes is instantly needed and used, he wouldn't be there you for others than the services of the world's best salesmen. He needs is a procurement man, to find him the fuel and other stuff he needs If he is to hit that quota.

The rise of the Russian business world will be well enough is a good thing for them but what is good for certainly, like his Western competitor, a man of peace with no aggressive whatever for the risks, distractions and probable disasters of war. How much political influence does the Red executive possess? Probably an increasing amount for he has become indispensable.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

The most efficient, enthusiastic and obliging grocery clerk of my acquaintance is not a man but a mechanic who works an eight hour day, forty hour week, standing at a lathe in a thumping manufacturing plant.

But he has a part-time job, all day Saturday, working in a big grocery store at highly non-union wages, to wit $1.00 an hour. In the morning when he starts to help get the store and stock in readiness, until the time at which time the store is tidied up after the Saturday rush.

The money he gets for his part-time job is far less than the wages he earns as a union member in the factory But in addition to the dash, for one week's supply of groceries and meat at a discount, and of the highest quality.

"But how about your leisure?" I asked. "Don't you want weekends that seem to be such like precious things nowadays?"

"Leisure can come later", he said. "My children are two an all big big manufacturing jobs having a house. To put it plainly, I need the money. The grocery store is a grocery store is a change, a relaxation, a fun and human contact for me. You see as a youngster, I was delivery boy for a family grocer, and I must have fallen in love with the grocery business. Who knows? Maybe I can pile up enough money to be a wholesale and part-time clerk to buy a grocery store some day."

There are more fringe benefits than leisure. Copyright: Canada Wide

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ON DEFEATING DEFEAT

It's the way you look at things, says Professor all. Life's finest things are what you see, what you read and out for, what you experience by way of the one and thought. It's not what you dream about and regret at not attaining.

If fellow is beaten by you in the race, look it over with a stiff upper lip, determine to do it better and defeat it! Create along new pathways — if you would defeat defeat.

Beethoven was deaf, yet he composed matchless music to inspire endless millions along the years imparted the gift. Helen Adams Keller, through illness, was deprived of sight and hearing at the age of 19 months. Under private instruction, however, she was later imparted the gift of language and learned to read and write. Robert Louis Stevenson was a consumptive, yet he created literature so beautiful that it stand alone in its entrancing charm and thought.

Winning is a matter of intelligence. No strong man ever achieved defeat. He knows that of all that we are — and then we overcome defeat by using it. If we key our heart to victory, we shall win for, to be defeated, we must have crossed its path in advance.

The one big job given to every man and woman to handle is this — defeat defeat! But there must be no letting up. It is an offensive game, and calling for litigative every moment of the day — and with your will standing at attention, lest one single letup may defeat defeat!

One of the highlights of the demonstrations presented by the BCIVS Army Cadets last evening was the physical training display shown above. The work of four cadets on the trampoline was enthusiastically received by the spectators.

BCIVS Cadets Paid Tribute After General Inspection

"Be positive that you are a Canadian and be proud you are a Canadian", Lt. Col. Angus Duffy C.D., told the officers and men of the Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School Army Cadet Corps following their inspection at the Bridge Street armouries yesterday evening. "Do not be a negative character . . . you should not be one of those people who are hunting for something for nothing", continued the commanding officer of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment and added a few words of caution in that there is "no such thing as letting George do it or the government do it . . . you must be prepared to do it yourself".

He congratulated the corps on their performance and efforts as being indicative of the fact that they wished to do something for their country. Lt. Col Duffy also stated that he was "very well pleased" that the members of the corps had honored the cap badge of the Hasty Pees by keeping it clean. He complimented the band saying that he felt it had improved considerably over last year.

Captain Fred Evans, area cadet training officer stated that he was "extremely impressed" with the inspection. He added that it has been a long time since he had seen a corps so smartly turned out.

The inspection parade commenced with the general salute, taken by Lt. Col. Duffy following which the ranks were inspected by him and Capt. Evans. This was followed by the march past and the advance-in-review order with the corps under the command of Cadet Lt. Col. Charles Lundy.

Following the inspection there were a number of displays led off with a very smart demonstration by the drum and bugle band under the command of Drum Major Cadet Lt. Lorne Cornell. The band's excellent performance won the compliments of many of the speakers and those present. It was organized and trained with the assistance of Sgt. Bruce Miller of RCAF Station Trenton and Mr. William McConnell of the BCIVS staff.

A rifle demonstration was next, which showed range procedure for marksmanship, target shooting with the SMLE Mk. No. 1 training rifles and with the new FN rifles. There was also a field stripping and assembly group in this demonstration as well.

A physical training display, with four cadets on the trampoline, was very well received by the audience. A precision squad drill a signals display and a map-using display completed the demonstrations.

Following these, the corps was drawn up for the presentation of awards. The best cadet award was made by Lt.-Col. Duffy, following his selection from the platoon winners by each platoon and the band. These cadets were Clare Brant, John Coombs, Paul Emerson, Jack Hanna and Ray Stephens. Cadet Clare Brant was selected as the best cadet. Lt.-Col. Duffy also presented an awards to Elizabeth Hamilton as being the girl who contributed most to the band.

The best company award was presented to Baker Company, commanded by Cadet Major Graydon Scott, by Captain Evans. The best platoon award was presented to No. 2 Platoon of Baker Company, commanded by Cadet Lt. W. F. Lott, by Lt. Wm. Scrymgeour, who also presented a large number of marksmanship awards. Attendance awards were also presented to the members of No. 1 Platoon of Baker Company and hockey crests were presented to the Cadet League champions captained by Cadet Major C. Scott.

Speakers following the presentation of awards were J. B. Durrant of the Bay of Quinte High School Board, who stated that he felt the evening's performance evidenced the development of the corps into a cohesive unit since its recent reorganization, Mr. Durrant also extended the congratulations of the board to the members of the corps.

Mr. E. A. Orr, principal of BCIVS, also spoke thanking the parents for their good attendance at this, the corps' first evening inspection. He also thanked the members the instructors at the school and the various members of the Hasty Pees who were responsible for the training of the corps, for their fine work.

Mr. Orr extended his compliments to the members of the corps for a very fine show and said that he was quite proud of their effort.

During the evening the various stages of the inspection were announced by Captain A. Snetsinger and Captain Stan Barbour, the assistant chief instructor and chief instructor, respectively.

Above, Lt.-Col. Angus Duffy, CD, may be seen inspecting the drum and bugle band of the Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational Institute Army Cadet Corps at its annual inspection yesterday evening. Close to 200 cadets took part in the inspection and demonstrations which were observed by a capacity audience at the Hasty Pees' Armouries.

John D. Rockefeller Jr. Dies, Gave Away Third of Billion

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—John D. Rockefeller Jr., famed philanthropist and head of one of the world's wealthiest families, died in hospital Wednesday at the age of 86.

Death was attributed to pneumonia and heart strain.

A great humanitarian who abhorred waste, Rockefeller poured millions of dollars into welfare and cultural projects around the world.

No estimate of his personal fortune was available, but his known gifts totalled more than $350,000,000.

Once looked upon by fellow capitalists as a radical, Rockefeller also was a pioneer in paying better conditions and an eight-hour day for the American worker.

UPHELD LABOR

Early in his career, long before the era of public relations, Rockefeller felt he should not be obliged to fight for what is its just due. Capital should be on the alert to find out what is equitable and see that labor gets it."

In his philanthropies, as in his business career, Rockefeller followed the footsteps of his father, founder of the Standard Oil Company, upon which the family's great wealth is based.

The total gifts of the Rockefellers for the benefit of their fellow men is past, present and future generations is conservatively estimated at more than $1,000,000,000. This does not include interest on endowments financing such organizations as the Rockefeller Foundation, General Education Board and Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

BRILLIANT SCHOLAR

Rockefeller graduated from Brown University in 1897 with a Phi Beta Kappa key for scholastic attainment and immediately went to work for his father.

In 1901 Rockefeller married Abby Greene Aldrich. They had six children, a daughter and five sons—Abby, John D. III, Nelson, Laurance, Winthrop and David.

Mrs. Rockefeller died in 1948. In 1951 Rockefeller married Mrs. Martha Baird Allen of Providence, R.I.

Rockefeller had been ill for several months. His son Nelson, governor of New York, arrived by plane only a few hours before the death.

Party Promises Youth-Voice If Elected

SAULNIERVILLE, N.S. (CP)—Youth will have a voice in Nova Scotia government councils if the Liberals are elected June 7, Liberal Leader Henry D. Hicks says.

The proposal for a ministry of youth in the provincial cabinet, similar to the portfolio held by the late Paul Sauve before he became premier of Quebec, was made at a Liberal convention here and at nearby Yarmouth, Liberal strongholds on the south shore of Nova Scotia.

"We shall find ways to enable our young people to live in dignity and prosperity in their home province," Mr. Hicks said. "The ministry would be staffed by people who understand the problem of youth. We deplore the departure of our young men and women who, given the opportunities at home, could become the leaders in the profession, in public life and business, and become the hard-working prosperous Nova Scotians of tomorrow."

Arrested After Historic Holdup 11 Years Ago

AIX en PROVENCE, France (Reuters) — French undercover figure Paul Leca has surrendered to police here after being sought for 11 years for his part in the sensational holdup of the late Aga Khan's car in 1940, it was disclosed yesterday.

Leca, said to be the "master mind" in the holdup, was sentenced in absentia in 1952 to hard labor for life. He did not explain why he gave up.

Gangsters made off with $400,000 worth of jewels belonging to the Aga Khan's wife in a robbery described by French newspapers as "the most sensational of the century."

Keep Lonely Vigil on Mountain To Make Sure TV Reception Good

SALMO, B.C. (CP)—High on a windy mountain top in the heart of British Columbia, two men keep a lonely vigil. But the television reception is good and they are there to keep it that way.

Their task is to maintain the Salmo microwave station, perched atop Stag Leap Mountain, 7,000 feet above sea level and 20 minutes by helicopter southeast of Nelson.

During winter months when the snow is as much as 35 feet deep they remain for from two weeks to two months at a time. In summer, when access by road is fairly convenient, the station is manned on a regular five-day-week basis.

Seven radio, television and electronic engineers from Nelson take turns at the station, one of 112 carrying TV, radio and telephone links across southern B.C.

Buildings house living quarters, diesel generators and other equipment. Living quarters are equipped with a propane - gas stove, refrigerator, television set and radio. The station is powered by three diesel generators fed by fuel from a 15,000-gallon tank that needs filling only once a year.

Passages lead from one section of the station to another and the whole structure is buried beneath the snow in winter with only the tall tower and fuel tank visible.

Club Activities

HARMONY CLUB

MARSH HILL — The members of Marsh Hill Harmony Club recently entertained members of Holloway St. Zenergetic Club and members of Halloway Rum Double Club.

The president, Mr. Farley Lindenfield opened the meeting with a short sing-song with Mrs. David Leitch at the piano.

The devotion period was opened with the singing of a hymn, "The Wey of the Cross Leads Home", followed with the Lord's Prayer in unison.

The Scripture lesson from St. John 21: 1-14 was read by Mrs. Allyn Finkle.

A thank you note was read from the Rev. F. R. Darke and a donation made to the chairman of the finance committee at the Sidney no-vote.

Mr. Bruce Swan of Thurlow, favored with an accordion solo.

Mr. Hay-Ellis, of Stirling was called upon to address the group and told of his experiences as teacher in France, India and England.

Bruce Rose favored with a vocal solo, "Bless This House".

After the benediction, refreshments served under the leadership of Mrs. Allyn Finkle, Mr. Irvin Wannamaker and Mrs. Harry Coulter.

Refreshments were served by the committee.

Bayview H-S Presents Slate for 1960

The annual meeting of the Bayview Home and School Association was held in the school. Mrs. A. J. Fort relinquished her post as president for the past year.

The new slate of officers for the coming year was presented by Mrs. F. VanKoningsvy of the nominating committee. Two members of the VanKoningsvy and Mrs. S. Whitaker were nominated to the executive.

An election by ballot was held, with Mrs. S. Whitaker being the successful candidate. The balance of the executive being elected by acclamation were: Mrs. G. Hutchinson, recording secretary; Mrs. C. Holmes, treasurer; and executive members, Mrs. R. Bonnetta, Mrs. W. Bowles, Mrs. B. Loosemore, Mrs. L. Jourard, and Mr. S. Whitaker.

Mrs. R. Jones, president of the Belleville and district Home and School Council, was present and installed the new executive.

The president's annual report and secretary's reports were read to the members. The other report had been printed and were distributed at the meeting.

PROGRAM

The grade five and six students of Mrs. Walkem's room provided the entertainment for the evening. The first number was a choral reading, "Who is the Patriot". Those in this group were: Jane Bailey, Paul Boulton, Lynda Charlton, Debbie Hanson, Kathy Hatfield, Douglas Hoy, Wanda Loewen, Sandra Low, Kaye McQuaid, Jon Morrison, James Poulton, Diane Thompson, Nancy Walsh, Penny Wayment, Barbara Whitaker, Michael McLaughlin and Charlotte Price.

The second number was another group recitation, "Rule Britannia", with Mary Lynn Jarrett, Britannia; Gail Booth, Canada; Janet Boyce, Australia; Marianne Bakker, India; Ellen Morgan, New Zealand; Elizabeth Taylor, Pakistan; Heather Wilcox, South Africa and Nancy Wey and Louise Fisher as the Isles of the Sea.

The third number a choral reading by the grade six students, "A Patriotic Walk" with Bobby Bateman, Bobby Bellwood, Barry File, David Hall, John Hayman, Teddy Rushton, Danny Thompson, Alan Williams, Terry Young and Nell Meade.

Finally three students acted a skit entitled, "But, Grandpa!" which was quite humorous and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Grandpa was played by Alice Aselstine; grandpa, by Terry Young, and granddaughter, by Lynda Charlton.

Mrs. Walkom won the room plaque for the evening.

A presentation was made to Mrs. Coughlin for having the highest number of parents in attendance during the year.

Refreshments were served to the parents and students.

Christ Church EBWA Holds Business Meet

The monthly business meeting of the Evening Branch of the Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church was held on Monday evening in the parish hall.

Following the singing of a hymn, the Litany, as found in the "Living Message" was read by the president, Mrs. W. Bogard; the Scripture reading by Mrs. C. Laing and prayer by Mrs. R. Stevens.

The secretary and treasurer's reports by Mrs. P. Burton and Mrs. F. Goodchild were heard, as well as correspondence.

Mrs. K. Smith gathered the collection for the Dunaldee fund.

Mrs. W. Edwards reported the purchase of gifts for the Christmas parcel to be sent to the Arctic.

The president mentioned the work the Auxiliary to the Hastings Children's Home is doing in visiting the residents, giving entertainments and providing many articles they would not otherwise enjoy.

Mrs. L. Marsh read a letter of the Vestry Council which was discussed.

SEWING MACHINE PURCHASED

The group has purchased a sewing machine to aid in the work and it was decided to buy a hymn book with music for use at the weekly meetings.

Mrs. A. Swain volunteered to look after the visiting of the members during the summer months.

Plans were discussed for the fall tea, the mother and daughter banquet by the Junior Auxiliary and the rummage sale for next week, followed by films on the work at Pangnirtung.

Pictures and clippings of the recent W.A. annual meeting in Kingston were displayed and found interesting.

There will be no meeting of the group on May 22nd because of the holiday.

Mrs. C. Muncow and Mrs. J. Spencer served tea and cookies.

VON Sponsors Most Delightful Spring Tea and Home Cooking

After the storm, the calm; and after the rain, the sunshine, as the beautifully adorned lower auditorium of Tabernacle United Church hummed with activity for the Spring Tea sponsored by the Victoria Order of Nurses yesterday afternoon.

Irish harps entwined with pastel-tinted leaves, sprays of golden forsythia, and predominant roses met the eye in the entrance hall, forerunners of the lovely tea room with its tall standards of white chrysanthemums, white carnations, and trees mingled with laurel leaves; a Japanese-like garden with hanging baskets of pretty pink flowers, the walls adorned with sprays of forsythia bells and flitting butterflies.

On the platform, a lovely Victorian Order Nurse in her dainty and attractive uniform of navy blue, stood, amid a bower of white chrysanthemums, with her medical case, ready at a moment's notice to go to the assistance of those in need.

PRETTY GIRL WAITRESSES

The two twin tea tables, most ably appointed with white damask linen, and centred with bunches of varying types, and with blue iris, featuring the theme color of the V.O.N.) were flanked by tall white and pink candles in silver holders. On each guest table again the blue and white predominated, with a crystal holder of blue water on which floated a white carnation.

Mrs. John Leanox, assisted by Miss Dorothy Conway, nurses, received the guests, while Mrs. L. Madill, acted as treasurer.

Escorting the guests to the tea room were: Miss B. Corbett, Mrs. E. E. Morton; Mrs. A. E. Miles, and Mrs. E. Bulger; while those who presided over the silver services were Mrs. C. C. Eastcott, wife of the pastor; Mrs. C. W. Coleman, wife of the pastor of Tollowey United Church; Mrs. C. Cook; Mrs. A. Campbell; Mrs. H. W. Ackerman; Mrs. L. McDougall; Mrs. E. D. Finkle and Mrs. F. Morton.

REPLENISHING

Replenishing the teapots, were Mrs. Hodgert, Mrs. A. E. Miles, Mrs. J. Andrews, and Mrs. C. Edwards. Replenishing the sandwiches were: Mrs Douglas Burr; Mrs. C. E. James; Mrs. G. L. Thrpe and Mrs. W. Turner.

Those who arranged the tables included, Mrs. W. G. McGee; Mrs. A. F. Hitchon; Mrs. C. Mott, and Mrs. C. Green; those engaged in the tearmaking, Mrs. H. Taylor and Mrs. E. Bowers.

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE

The Women of the Moose held their regular meeting of the month with Sr. Regt. Mrs. Hardy, presiding.

The Ladies escorted Co Georgina Ptolemy to the altar and presented her twin daughters with silver cups and spoons from the Chapter.

Three candidates were balloted and will be enrolled at the next meeting.

The annual banquet for the White Cane Club is to be held next week. Co Workers M. Burns and M. Johnson to convene same with Co Workers help.

A euchre is to be held at Gladys Ritch's home; a draw, donated by M. Johnsot, was won by Annie Cholnard.

After the meeting closed, penny bingo was played and lunch served by M. Johnson and her committee.

Christ Church Coming Events

The Parish Guild of Christ Church met on Tuesday afternoon. The president, Mrs. R. H. Cleaver, met with Mrs. J. S. Creegan, Mrs. E. P. Smith and Mrs. H. Masiah, welcomed the many guests.

The ladies of Ameliasburg Guild were special guests, and transportation had been arranged for many senior members and ladies from the county home. Each one, on arrival, was presented with a lovely corsage of spring flowers, made by Mrs. William Smith.

The different officers and convenors gave satisfactory reports, and plans were made for further projects in May and June.

Mrs. Horace Wright presided at the piano for the hymns and Mrs. W. Jordan read an inspiring poem.

Mrs. E. Hickey had arranged a fine program, put on by the Evening Branch of the W.A., under the leadership of Mrs. Bongard. This was a musical review of old-time songs and favorites, which caused much merriment. It was a bit difficult to recognize the participants, but they joined on to Mrs. R. Stevens, Mrs. J. Ling, Mrs. F. Burton, Mrs. E. Smith, Mrs. J. Goettler, Mrs. G. Bonner, Mrs. A. Summers and Mrs. J. Spencer, with Mrs. J. Hibbard providing the musical background.

A social hour followed with most delicious refreshments and happy meetings with old friends.

Queen Victoria H-S Elects 1960 Officers

The Queen Victoria Home and School Association held its annual meeting Monday evening in the school auditorium.

Copies of the annual reports of the executive were distributed to the members attending.

Mrs. K. Beatty, president, thanked the members, executive and staff for the help and support and co-operation given during the year, also the officers for their most gratifying reports.

OFFICERS

Mrs. J. Winstanley, past president of Queen Victoria Home and School Association, presented and installed the following slate of officers of 1960-61:

President, Mrs. J. Smith; vice-presidents, G. Sprackett, Mrs. B. Salisbury and Mr. G. Burley; recording secretary, Mrs. N. Douglas; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. Chaplin; treasurer, John Webb; executive members, Mrs. V. Eagle, Mrs. J. McCabe, Mrs. M. Morton, Mrs. J. Rolfson and Miss W. Old.

Mr. Frink, school principal, thanked all members of the Home and School Association for a most successful and co-operative year. He also presented Mrs. Beatty with her past president's pin, thanking her for so capably filling the office.

The room count was taken. Miss Aikenhead's class was the winner for the yearly award for the senior classes and Miss Creighton's and Mrs. Lyons' classes winning the junior award.

Mrs. J. Smith, the new president, thanked the members for confidence placed in her and asked for the support and co-operation of all during the coming year.

A sing-song was held with Mr. J. Winstanley at the piano.

A film, "Ages and Stages", dealing with child behaviour, was shown.

While members enjoyed a refreshing cup of coffee, a brief discussion about the film was held.

Women's Activities

FAIRDALE BAPTIST L.F.

The Ladies' Fellowship of Fairdale Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Hannah on May 5th with 16 members and two guests present. The meeting opened with the singing of some choruses, and prayer by Mrs. Chapman. The Scripture reading was given by Mrs. Sills, and was taken from several, chapters in 1st. Peter.

Mrs. Blake presided over the business session, following which there was a season of prayer.

Mrs. Sills, devotional leader, reminded the group that one sometimes wonders why certain Christians have so many sorrows in their lives, but, she said that "suffering has a place in God's plan. There would not have been salvation if Christ had not suffered on the Cross for our sins, and, as Christ was glorified as a result of His suffering, so shall we be. We should suffer patiently. Pride is acceptable to God. Also, suffering strengthens faith. Later on in our Christian lives, we can look back and rejoice that we have suffered as we can then see that those times of testing and suffering have helped us to grow as Christians."

Mrs. Sills closed the devotional time by reading the poems "The Thorn" and "The Weaver."

Mrs. Blake closed the meeting with prayer.

QUESTION BOX

Question: I have been invited to a wedding that is going to take place in the home of the bride's parents. I want to give a present and would like to know if I should take it with me the day of the wedding or send it ahead of time?

Answer: Ahead of time, by all means. The sooner the better, I might add. A wedding gift should never be presented on the day the ceremony takes place. Have it delivered to the bride-to-be at her home, as soon after you receive the invitation as possible. Address it to her in her maiden name and enclose a card with your full name upon it. No message is necessary. However, if you desire to with her happiness, this is not considered improper. The above procedure also applies when you receive an invitation to a wedding that is taking place in a church, with a reception following in a club or hotel.

Question: What in the world do you do when you get a mouthful of watermelon seeds, grape seeds or an olive pit? Do you spit them out in your hand and place them on the plate, do you put them in your napkin, or what?

Answer: Never, but never, spit them into your hand or directly on the plate! Place your napkin before your mouth with one hand and quietly remove the seeds, or whatever they may be, with your other hand. Still holding the napkin as a shield, put them on your plate. Do not remove them by putting them on your fork. This is one time when the use of your fingers is necessary, and they can be used in an unobtrusive manner.

Question: Should I always throw a lighted cigaret away when I meet a woman acquaintance when walking down the street? A friend and I are having an argument about this. He says it is a stupid waste to discard the cigaret when you only stop for a moment. What do you think?

Answer: That your friend is absolutely wrong. If you stop to chat, even for a moment, the cigaret should be thrown away. If you merely bow, lip your hat, smile a greeting and keep on growing, then it is not necessary.

Lutheran Women See Liberia Film

On May 9th, the United Lutheran Church Women held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. S. a Wodzak, 20 Gordon Street.

Devotions were led by the Rev. Lindeman followed by a film strip of Liberia explaining what the Lutheran Church is doing in Foreign Mission Work. This year is the 100th anniversary in Liberia and there has been 2,000 baptisms.

Mr. Lindeman closed with a prayer.

Mrs. Sully welcomed Mrs. Cadbury, Mrs. Schmidt, Mrs. Quickert, Mrs. Schweidenberg, Mrs. Dubbelstein, Mrs. Geo. Wodzak as new members of the U.L.C.W.

The committee chairmen gave their reports and it was decided to make up two layettes for a June project.

Mrs. Beck and Mrs. Sully reported their day at the U.L.C.W. convention in Petawawa, Ont., and were pleased that Mrs. Sully was chosen as secretary-treasurer of next year's convention.

Pastor Lindeman pronounced the benediction.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wodzak and Mrs. Wilman.

SHANNONVILLE W.M.S.

The monthly meeting of the Shannonville W.M.S. was held in the church hall on May 4th. As it was home and fellowship week, the president, Mrs. J. Wood, read a poem on "What Makes a Home."

The group leader, Mrs. S. Elliott took the service, reading Psalm 27. Mrs. C. Clarke read a poem, "We Are Confused." Mrs. D. Hinchey gave the prayer for "World Refugee Year." Mr. Leadlaw led in prayer and Mrs. C. Wood read "The Refugee, A Symbol."

A business period followed. Mr. Leadlaw addressed the group and spoke of a rally in June.

A bake sale followed.

All are grateful to those who assisted with the pie social on the program and refreshments.

Lunch and a social half hour followed.

The next meeting will be held in the church hall on June 2nd.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

Editor's Note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Sharon R. — Mother tries to push me.

Mrs. M. R. — I'm only trying to help her.

Sharon R. — I am a single girl of 24. I am considered fairly attractive and I dress well but unfortunately I don't have much social life.

My mother is always trying to push me into things and she causes me a lot of embarrassment. She always talks about me to her neighbors, asking whether they know anyone I can go out with. Sometimes they have some one call me and we go out, but I feel you never meet anyone worthwhile that way.

I have only one close girl friend and she doesn't go out much either. We both joined a social club last fall, but we didn't meet anyone we liked. I would like to move away from this community because the people aren't very social-minded.

Mrs. M. R — Nobody can understand why Sharon has so much difficulty finding new friends. She is considered very pretty and quite smart.

I feel she is just too shy and backward and I want to help her all I can. What is the harm in asking friends and neighbors if they know any nice, suitable men? I met my own husband through an older woman whose store I used to patronize. She liked me and introduced me to the son of a friend of hers. We clicked immediately. What was there to be embarrassed about?

Sharon keeps nagging about moving away from this community, but I don't think I'd want to do it even if it were practical. One place is as good as another.

The Council: People who feel they could be happier living in some other place or with some other family or marriage partner are looking for something that can only be found within themselves. They lack the spark that makes happy individuals love everything and everyone around them.

We all get our share of good and bad things in life, but the individual who constantly stresses the bad has developed the habit of self-torture, and the one who stresses the good has developed the habit of happiness. Both habits grow stronger with the years, so it is important to get the better pattern at an early age.

Sharon, like many individuals of her type has found a companion to share her habit of faultfinding. This can be the only reason two young women weren't able to find a single person they could like in a large social organization.

Sharon shows clearly that she rejects most of the men she meets. Yet she feels rejected by them. This is why she is embarrassed when her mother seeks dates for her. Pride will not let her say she is afraid of one more rejection. It is significant that many lonely girls shun blind dates, while popular ones welcome them.

Sharon should try to step out of this rather prim and shame. She needs to forget about her own feelings and learn to like both men and women. It is certainly true that one place is as good as another as far as people are concerned. No community is without interesting, desirable human beings.

When Sharon learns to like others, she will find them liking her and she'll look forward to every opportunity to meet new people.

"Lines on Life"

By Dr. Stuart E. Rosenberg

You tell a man a story of great adventure, how a friend walked one day in a forest, lost his way, and then wailed for night fall to make flares to light up the sky.

You describe two days and two nights of loneliness, of terror and fear. Finally, you dramatize the escape. Your friend is sighted by a helicopter which seeks a clearing, lands and brings him back alive. And after this hair-raising story, the man who has been listening all the while without a display of emotion, says: "There's nothing so unusual about that!"

This man, like many others, is a "so-what-ist". A "so-what-ist" is a person who has lost his sense of thrill, of wonder and surprise. No matter what great or thrilling happens, his major reaction is one of "so what!"

The pity of this is that it can happen to anybody. But the striking fact is that the older we get, the more we are subject to to the disease of "so-what-itis."

It is, unhappily, a contagious, communicable disease. If we consort with people who are afflicted by it, we may very well catch it. Yet there are many cases on record that prove it is a curable malady.

One therapy consists of a very simple procedure. Just take a walk under the canopy of the skies, making certain all the time to get the fog out of your eyes, to see clearly what is really before you.

Unfortunately, there are cases which indicate that some people could not see the forest because of the trees. Strange to say, there are many people like this — people who get up every morning, dress hurriedly, eat the same breakfast, rush off to work, see the same people do the same thing, and never have been aware of the world of beauty that immediately surrounds them.

In the Bible we have the record of a man of a different stripe. He said, "The Heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament shows His handiwork. Day unto day expresses His greatness, night unto night makes Him known". This man knew the beauty and the revival of life, because he knew and was close to the whole world of nature.

But talk to a man who is a prisoner of canyons of steel and stones about some of these things. His answers are of utter emptiness. An emptiness that echoes the hollowness within him. He has lost his sense of wonder and surprise because he is cut-of-touch with God's world and only in touch with his own.

Young people have a lot to teach their elders. More than their elders realize. They still have a sense of excitement in their doing, because they are filled with the joy of being alive and with the romance of growing and aspiring.

But youth is an attitude of mind as well as a time of life. People grow older. But sometimes they grow down and not up. Growing up means holding on to and keeping alive the spirit of adventure and the thrill of living.

St. Michael's C.W.L. Council Plans June Tea

St. Michael's C.W.L. Parish Council held its monthly meeting on May 8th in St. Michael's auditorium. Mrs. Herbert Brown presided. Rt. Rev. J. P. Sullivan opened the meeting with prayer.

There were 35 members present. Mrs. R. Ackerman, 1st vice-president, reported a paid-up membership of 123. Mrs. K. Soden, 2nd vice-president, stated that her committee for the present year would consist of Mrs. J. Sheridan, Mrs. C. Casey, Mrs. A. McFadden and Mrs. C. Langsbeer. Mrs. H. Ryan, 3rd vice-president, reported that approximately 200 members attended the Holy Hour in honor of Our Lady of Good Counsel on April 24th, in St. Michael's Church.

Mrs. R. Barrett, citizenship convener, asked for members to tag on tag day for the Retarded Children. Mrs. J. Gallagher read the treasurer's report.

Mrs. J. Boyd, Canadian League Magazine convener, reported 42 subscriptions. She read an article from the president's message in this month's magazine. In this message, the national president mentions that a member of the parish council, Mrs. Edith Peterkin, will represent C.W.L. at the Canadian Conference on Children, to be held at St. Adele, Quebec, in October.

Mrs. E. Logan, convener for the reception for Father Kelly, assisted by assistants, Mrs. J. Whelan, Mrs. J. Boyle and all other members who helped to make the reception successful.

Mrs. J. Boyd read her V.O.N. report and reminded the members to attend the tea on Wednesday in aid of the V.O.N.

Mrs. B. Flagler reminded the members of C.W.L. tag day, May 20 and 21. Anyone wishing to volunteer, please call Mrs. Flagler at WO 8-5284.

The annual "Spring Tea" will be held in June in St. Michael's rectory. Mrs. F. Domenico and her hospitality committee are conveners.

Six hundred pull tickets will be ordered for the annual fall bazaar. Following the business session of the meeting, group discussions were held by the various conveners and their committees to plan and organize their work for the fiscal year.

Mrs. B. Roote and her committee served refreshments.

Outher readings of Scripture were read by a number of members. A letter was read concerning the purchase of two books chiefly the "Statistics of W. M.S. Work".

Woman Once Jailed by Reds Teaches Immigrants English

TORONTO W(CP) — Twelve years ago Mary Lichtenberger was being hounded by Communist police for her Salvation Army activities in her native Yugoslavia.

Today, Mrs. Maj. Lichtenberger teaches English to immigrants in the quiet surroundings of a Salvation Army centre on downtown Queen Street here.

Her severe expression and easy smile conceal memories of terror in her homeland and of a period in prison on charges of conspiring against the state.

Her first association with the Salvation Army was in 1926 when as a little girl she met a commissioner who was visiting Belgrade. In 1927 she joined the army and went to London. Later she was sent to Czechoslovakia and in 1933 went back to Belgrade to organize the first army unit in Yugoslavia.

Christian Family Week Observed

6th SIDNEY — Christian Family Week was begun by a service of worship in Scott's Church on Sunday.

Mr. Frank Moon, superintendent, called the Sunday school to order and gave the invocation, and prayer which was repeated by all in unison.

After the hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy", Mr. Carl Sine, assistant superintendant, read the Scripture passages taken from Ephesians and 1 John.

Kathy Sine read the prayer of thanksgiving followed by the Lord's Prayer.

Hymn, "Happy the Home When God is There" was sung and Monjea Sine gave an illustrated address, "God Setteth the Solitary in Families".

Ross Martyn led in the Litany, the offering was taken by Ross Martyn and Roger Sine and dedicated by the Rev. R. McMullin.

The minister took as his text John 68:7 "God Setteth the Solitary in Families"; God belongs in all families especially in Christian families. If families become lax in their attitude to church, this influence will spread and people move to communities that are lax in their living. Thus slum conditions are formed when people become lax in family living. We must hold the line or we lose it. Negative thinking is bad. All that is necessary for the triumph of evil, is that good men do nothing".

The Junior choir sang, "My Mother", with Mrs. A. Martyn at the piano.

The hymn, "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind" was sung and Mr. Moon closed the service with the benediction.

Women's Activities

CENTRE ST. W.A.

The ladies' W.A. of Centre St. United Church held their regular monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon in the church auditorium with an average attendance.

Mrs. Longhurst welcomed all present, and with this thought for the day "Through our worship of God in the home, He blesses us with the spark that gives meaning to life."

The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. G. Wood from Galations 5: 13-15, 25. Topic was given by Mrs. Collins, "Freedom in the Spirit."

"For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another."

Mrs. Longhurst explained how many chapters, verses and amount of words there were in each book of the Bible, which was also interesting.

Under new business the ladies plan to hold a 50c social and entertainment later in May.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. D. Hudgins gave a reading, "Mother's Job" and Mrs. K. Ferguson one entitled "Mother's Love."

All joined in singing "Happy the Home When God is There," followed by prayer.

A dainty lunch was served by hostesses Mrs. K. Ferguson, Mrs. F. Stapley and Mrs. D. Hudgins.

"Happy Birthday" was sung to Mrs. G. Wood.

A social half hour was enjoyed by all.

Ladies!

Well we're back again to let you know,
That we have more new styles to show,
Dresses we know you're sure to find,
Are exactly the type you've had in mind.
The styles are cute, the prices low,
So this is the place for you to go,
Now here's another ad for you,
To let you know about what's new.

Our cotton dresses you will find are smart,
For summer they make a real good start,
The prices are low, the quality high,
You'll find that they're a real fine buy.

Prices from 3.98 to 13.98

Now for that very special dance,
Come in and give these frocks a glance,
Chiffons and nylons, cottons, too,
You'll find that dress just made for you.

Prices from 12.98 to 17.98

For the girl who likes more casual dress,
We've skirts and blouses and you can guess,
Our prices you'll like, cause they're always low
So come in and see what we have to show.

SKIRTS 2.98 to 4.98
BLOUSES 2.98

Our bathing suits have just come in,
For you gals that like to swim,
We've new tropical prints and plain colors too
All very smart, all very new.

Prices from 7.98 to 11.98

We also have girdles, slips, bras and hose,
Whatever you want in the line of clothes,

Festival Time

by Mary Moore

I want to go to an Englishon village where they are having a Summer Dance Festival and watch sight young English couples dance the Morris Dance to flutes and violins and pipes on the greensward.

I also want to go to a Strawberry Festival and eat strawberries until my face is red.

To satisfy all these cravings, I play, somewhat haltingly, the Morris Dance on the piano, and made two lovely strawberry desserts.

They are both quite swish. One of them is made with strawberry ice cream in baskets, which you can make with cookies while they are pliable and hot. The other is Individual Baked Alaskas made of meringue, strawberry ice cream, and topped with fresh strawberry sauce. Do you like these ideas? You can have your own Strawberry Festival at home.

STRAWBERRY ICE CREAM IN BASKETS:

(Serves 6).

1-3 cup maple syrup, 1-4 cup butter, 1-2 cup sifted flour, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 quart ice cream.

Heat maple syrup to boiling point. Add butter; stir until melted. Remove from heat. Stir in flour and sugar which have been sifted together. Add vanilla. Drop by tablespoonfuls on a well-greased baking sheet about 4" apart. Bake at 300 deg Fahr. about 15 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from oven. Allow to cool only 1 minute. Carefully remove each cookie with wide spatula. Place inverted inverted custard cup; pinch corners to shape into basket. Cool. Remove from custard cup. (If cookies become too hard to shape, they may be returned to oven for a few seconds.) Fill each basket with spoonfuls of strawberry ice cream, top this with sliced fresh strawberries, if desired and serve at once.

Dinner Menus

THURSDAY

Barbecued Spareribs; Mashed Potatoes; Green Peas in Green Onion White Sauce; Cheese-Stuffed Celery Hearts; Rice Custard with Fresh Frozen Raspberries; Coffee.

SUNDAY

Roast Leg of Lamb; Mint Jelly; Buttered Noodles; Fresh Green Peas; Hearts of Lettuce Salad with Roquefort Dressing; Strawberry Ice Cream in baskets (see Thursday); Tea.

INDIVIDUAL STRAWBERRY BAKED ALASKAS:

For 3 servings, preheat your oven to 500 deg. Fahr. Cover a wooden board with brown paper or aluminum foil. Place 3 cake rounds 4" in diameter and 1" thick on the board. This may be plain or sponge cake. Beat 3 egg whites until foamy, and

Young Couple Honored by Community

FRANKFORD — A community shower was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs Clayton Rose, by the neighbors and friends, of R.R. 3, Frankford, in honor of the newlyweds, Kenneth and Janet Rose.

Chairman for the evening was Mr. Dave McConnell. A social time was enjoyed.

Kenny and Janet took their honored places and an address in the form of a poem, was read, wishing the young couple much happiness together.

The presentation was made of two rockers and cushion.

The Rose family presented them with a tri-light lamp and two matching table lamps. Ken-here's a tip, always have the eggs at room temperature to give you greater volume. Add 1-4 teaspoon cream of tartar and 1-2 teaspoon vanilla. Beat until eggs begin to hold a peak. Gradually beat in 8 tablespoons sugar and beat until stiff but not dry. Remove one pint strawberry ice cream from its round container; cut into slices. Place ice cream on top of cake rounds. Completely cover the cake and ice cream with meringue. Swirl the surface with the back of a spoon to make peaks. Bake about 3 minutes at 500 deg. Fahr. until golden. Remove and place on very cold plates. Top with a fresh strawberry sauce. Serve at once. The high heat and short baking time delicately brown the meringue without melting the ice cream one little bit.

Good Mixers

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

Now is the time for all good, co-ordinates to make things easy for the suitcase toter and traveler. Here is a nice clutch of mix-or-match numbers. The silky cotton overblouse has red and blue stripes down the outer arm extending up into the collar. There are slit sides for easy fit and white ball buttons on the sleeves. It complements a blue skirt or blue Jamaica shorts. Capri length pants are also available in white, blue or red.

Wedding Ring Club Names 1960 Officers

The Wedding Ring Club of College Hill United Church met in the church hall Tuesday evening. The meeting was opened by the president and the club's business was transacted.

The Hill's group was in charge of the evening and the devotion was on the springtime theme. Hymns were sung and Scripture read. A committee was formed to look after and act a dale for a strawberry social.

The nominating committee brought in the slate of officers for the coming year: presidents—Doris and Carmas Sine; vice-president — Muriel and Don Dafoe; sec. Lella and Ken Belcour; treas. — Jessie and Clarke Dodd.

Nellie - Greenwood gave two hilarious readings "A Wife Is the Girl You Married"; "Abolition of a Monkey"; "I've Got a Secret" was played with Art Greenwood as emcee. Howard Thompson, Carmas Sine, Frayne McDonald and June, Gray were the panel.

"My Get-up and Go Has Went"; an egg relay was played also "Say Wink" which was enjoyed by all.

Refreshments were served. All enjoyed Nellie Greenwood's one-made buns.

Mrs. Frayne McDonald thanked the Hills's group for an enjoyable evening.

Four Men Being Mentioned As Possible First Leader Of New Left-of-Centre Party

OTTAWA (CP)—Who will be the leader of Canada's new, as reborn left-of-centre political party?

The question, which started as a hesitant whisper during the preliminary labor-CCF conventions is becoming louder and more insistent as the time approaches for the actual marriage of the two forces into a new people's party.

Four men are presently considered in the running, but others might emerge before the new party's founding convention next year in Ottawa.

The four are:

T. C. (Tommy) Douglas, 55, premier of Saskatchewan, head of Canada's only in-office CCF government, a former Baptist minister, one-time printer's devil in Winnipeg.

Hazen Argue, 39, House leader of the eight-man CCF group in Parliament, a Saskatchewan wheat farmer with a string of election victories since 1945, only prairie CCF MP to be re-elected in the last federal election.

Stanley Knowles, M. ST., a CCF pioneer and former Winnipeg MP, since a United Church minister, now executive vice-president of the Canadian Labor Congress, central body of organized labor.

David Lewis, 50, a Toronto lawyer, national president of the CCF, a key figure in the CCF-labor brotherhood, currently silling as nominal chairman of a three - man coordination board seeking settlement of the day-to-day wage-union dispute over wage increases for 120,000 non-operating personnel.

A darkhorse—some new, bright but unheralded figure—could appear on the scene and win the leadership. Observers consider this highly unlikely, however. Many Canadian unions, and some of the most talented labor leaders, are solidly behind the new party. A number of the labor chiefs has been mentioned so far as leadership possibility.

The warm old knees of all-CLC President Claude Jodoin, who says he'll hold the No. 1 party card in the new movement—is not expected to be interested. While helping guide Canadian labor toward the new party, he also has maintained the CLC's long dependence from it, defending the right of the 1,150,000-member congress to criticize the new group.

Of the four top choices, there is almost complete unanimity on Premier Douglas, one of the country's outstanding political orators—if he would stand for the rigorous and risky office. His health is regarded as a big question mark—is he robust enough to tackle the formidable job of mentor, maker and master of a fledgling party dedicated to social reform in Canada?

Mr. Argue, astute, ambitious, young and healthy, is said to have the support as leader of the new party from CCF MPs. He is the CCF's main voice in federal politics.

David Lewis, Polish - born Rhodes scholar, ebe-lime national secretary of the CCF, now a successful barrister. Twice a political candidate, he was never elected. Observers are unsure whether he would be willing to plunge into active politics once more.

Stanley Knowles, defeated in the 1958 election after 11 years in the Commons, has a secure and influential job with the CLC—$12,000-a-year post as executive assistant to Mr. Jodoin, leading figure behind the formation of the new party. He may aspire to the leadership, say observers, but he is uncertain whether he would abandon his job security for the fickle political field.

Initiative for a new party, aimed at placing a new labor-farmer-CCF alliance with "liberal-minded" people into federal and provincial politics, came from the CLC more than two years ago.

Last month in Montreal, the CLC Party showed its weight overwhelmingly behind the party. Next move is up to the CCF party at its convention in Regina Aug. 9-10-11.—30—

Often Harmful To Jail First Offenders

MONTREAL (CP)—A research conference on criminology and delinquency was told today that in many cases it is harmful and unnecessary to send first offenders to jail.

Sponsored by McGill University and the University of Montreal, the three-day meeting was launched with a symposium of papers by Dr. Bruno M. Cormier, psychiatrist at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary here, and by Mrs. M. Kennedy, psychiatric social worker at McGill.

Both papers dealt exclusively with male first-offenders over the age of 20 sentenced to two years or more.

Dr. Cormier said his investigation was based on the study of 176 cases. Mrs. Kennedy's survey centred on 115 married first-offenders—described as "latecomers" to crime.

ALL NOT EQUAL

Dr. Cormier said.

"There is a principle in justice that every man is equal before the law. "I accept this principle, but there is another principle, apparently opposite, that I also accept. This principle is the fact that men are in reality unequal. They are unequal in their intelligence, in capacity to take responsibility, in social rank, in physical and mental health.

"We cannot escape the fact that harsh, unemployment sentences, which take into consideration only the protection of society, at the expense of the guilty man, not only do not fulfil a social function but seriously inhibit rehabilitation. . . ."

Mrs. Kennedy of the 176 studied we felt that at least 40 per cent could have been rehabilitated outside penitentiary and without any harm to society.

"Not only that, but our impression is that it would be easier for these guilty men to return to society after a few months—even if they had not spent two, three, four years in a prison."

EVALUATION NEEDED

Continuing his thesis that all men are equal and that they therefore they should not merit equal punishment for crimes they committed, Dr. Cormier said:

"We would like to see in the near future that every judge could have at his disposal a forensic clinic, which would include a psychiatrist, psychologist and social worker whom he could consult and from whom he would expect an evaluation which would help him to make his own judgement."

Mrs. Kennedy, after analyzing the reasons certain crimes were committed, said:

"Let us emphasize how large is the group of late offenders in which the criminal act arises, as a result, direct or indirect, of a triangle marriage, or a marital crisis."

Ontario Commerce Chamber Pledges Support to Frost In Opposing Welland Tolls

HAMILTON (CP)—The Ontario Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night reiterated its opposition to tolls on the Welland Canal despite the opinion of some delegates that its stand is contrary to chamber policy.

Debate on the subject came when the policy committee recommended adoption with minor change of a resolution passed last year.

The resolution as revised and adopted by a big margin, endorses statements by Premier Frost and offers "strong support" to the province to have tolls on the Welland removed.

J. B. Carson of London said his chamber feels the chamber should be against a subsidy to any one aspect of industry at the expense of taxpayers.

George Perley of Ottawa said a delegation had called on Transport Minister Hees and the minister had been emphatic that the tolls would not be lifted.

FEARS TOLLS MAY SPREAD

D. G. Wilmott of St. Catharines said tolls should apply only to the seaway and not to the inner lake facilities. If tolls were retained on the Welland they would come some day to Sault Ste. Marie and other lake points where deepening or widening might be carried out.

Deepening the Welland, Mr. Wilmott said, benefitted ocean-going ships only. It did not benefit industries which had been using it till-free since its inception and none were suffering.

The chamber, whose three-day annual meeting opened Wednesday, also repeated its approval of the unit system of advancing school students.

Under this system a year's work is divided into units, and a student is credited with the units he passes, and does not have to repeat a whole year's work when he fails in only part of it. Fast learners might complete four units in a school year while an average student is completing a normal three units.

Many school systems in Ontario have already adopted the system, it was stated.

SYSTEM APPROVED

Approval of the system was given in a general statement which expressed pleasure with the progress in Ontario education, but said "there is considerable room for improvement."

R. N. Bissonnette of Stratford thought the statement put too much emphasis on turning out students as fast as possible. And it is one thing, he said, to tell educationists what result is expected but they shouldn't be told "how to do their job."

W. G. Leonard of Kingston said no body of bureaucrats should be able to prevent a body like the chamber from making its own comment.

A. O. Drysdale of Belleville, chairman of the education committee, said the committee approved the unit system as the best method of moving a child forward.

H. S. Marion of Streetsville reported for a committee appointed to study the tourist industry, particularly ways of making available long-term credit to operators of tourist establishments.

He said the committee felt the chamber should support the tourist and perhaps help the industry prepare its case, but it did not think the chamber should be asked to advocate legislation to obtain long-term credits.

Dr. J. Lawson Mackie of Picton—stating that he is public relations representative for transit operators in Ontario with an investment in lands and buildings of $800,000,000—said the industry is not asking for subsidies but only some measure which would make it possible to get loans of $6,000 to $10,000 over 10 year terms. He suggested this might be done by guaranteeing banks against some percentage of loans.

EMPHASIZE NEED

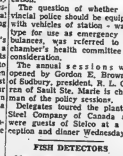
Bruce Goulet of North Bay and J. Harvey Johnson of Fort Williams also advocated support of tourist operators in their need for credit.

Don Murie of Niagara Falls told of the difficulty in that many tourist operators sell out after they are in business from two to five years. Thus it is difficult to give a long-term loan to any one individual.

The matter was deferred for further consideration today.

Greater emphasis on citizenship training in schools was urged in a policy statement on communism which will be sent to the provincial minister of education.

The question of whether provincial police should be equipped with vehicles of station - wagon type for use as emergency ambulances, was referred to the chamber's health committee for consideration.



The annual sessions were opened by Gordon E. Browning of Sudbury, president, R. L. Cutran of Sault Ste. Marie is chairman of the policy sessions.

Delegates toured the plant of Steel Company of Canada and were guests of Stelco at a reception and dinner Wednesday.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—For the next two years Hans Melle, Dutch-born sculptor, will be busy working on eight busts of past prime ministers of Newfoundland for the new federal building in St. John's.

Since other sculptors already have completed eight of the 16 busts required, Mr. Melle unhappily is forced to follow the same style.

But because he likes to eat and earns barely enough to subsist from his job as teacher at the Newfoundland Academy of Art, he has prudently agreed to submerge his own creative urge for this project.

Unmarried, he lives in a cramped third - floor apartment overlooking the harbor. There, in his studio, he turns out sculptures the way he thinks they should be created, "starkly beautiful, shorn of all unnecessary lines and curves," as one critic has said.

Born in Tilburg, Holland, Hans worked and studied in Dresden and Munich, it was while he was teaching at the Vrij Academie in The Hague that he became acquainted with Rez Shenherd of the Newfoundland Academy of Art. He came to St. John's with Shepherd in 1958.

Besides sculpture, he has produced murals, one of which decorates the wall of the General Hospital here and has considerable comment.

His work has been shown in Montreal art shows and has won some award and several honorable mentions.

Says Spy Trips Might Lead to A-Weapons Ban

ST. CATHARINES (CP) — Rather than provoking war, flights over Russia might be the means of halting nuclear weapons development, Wilson Woodside said Wednesday night.

The national director of the United Nations Association told a service club the knowledge that U.S. planes could penetrate into their interior and Americans realize they were vulnerable to retaliatory action if they began dropping bombs.

He said Soviet Premier Khrushchev knew the U.S. flights were taking place four years ago.

Khrushchev was not making a row about the U.S. spy plane recently to be a key summit meeting purpose, but he might be using the incident to threaten smaller countries permitting such bases on their soil, said Mr. Woodside.

THOUGHTFUL SABOTEURS

AUGHER, Northern Ireland (AP)—Four police men with a purpose ordered two women and a child out of a hall used for police training, then tossed a bomb and blew it up Tuesday night. It happened just 200 yards south of the border of the Irish Republic.

Says That Canada, U.S. Cities Will Have to Absorb 40 Million in Next Decade

CHICAGO (CP)—Stewart Bates of Ottawa, president of Canada's Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, today warned the mayors of Canada and the United States that their cities must plan now to absorb 40,000,000 more people in the next 10 years.

He addressed the first joint session of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities and the U.S. Conference of Mayors.

Copies of his speech were released to the press in advance of delivery.

While it took 200 years to establish the present population of 100,000 in Canada and the U.S., he said, "it will require only 10 more years for it to grow by 40,000,000."

BUILD CONDITIONS

It was not likely to be a matter of adding to the number of cities "if it simply grew much of a matter of building on to the ones we have."

"It will fall upon the local governments of our two countries to perform the major part of the task of receiving and accommodating" the coming generation.

Heads of local governments will be subject to "the constraints of time that can be gained from local tax sources or that can be obtained from other levels of government."

These revenue sources will get a limit to the range and standard of services the local governments can provide.

Effective performance would be made increasingly difficult by old, outdated systems of local municipal jurisdictions.

Bates' comments on the struggle for funds in municipal affairs continued a theme which dominated the first day's part of the conference in which the Canadian delegates heard.

FINANCING REQUEST'

The Canadian mayors approved a motion which called for the federation to "request the federal government to amend the income tax law so as to exempt the interest derived from the purchase of municipal bonds, thus contributing to the reduction of interest rates charged by the lenders.

The mayors also voted to ask federal and provincial governments to relieve municipal governments of all capital and operating costs of hospital 'services'.

A resolution on the care of indigent men was rewritten to ask the federal government to accept responsibility for sharply cutting up hostels in the larger centres of the country, providing rehabilitation services required and providing a training for employment program.

The mayors also asked for an inquiry into the country's unemployment problem, saying until they had secured the question of all political implications.

Fear Flooding Should Spread Due Melting Snow and Rain

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The weather man promised many more days of flood-stricken Northern Ontario dotted civil defence authorities the province was for the tense to deteriorate.

As floods spread new heights, warmer weather was expected to end the runoff from winter snow that has been in the process of being down already swollen rivers. Much rain was forecast for South-ern Ontario, aggravating flood conditions there.

In Sudbury Township, across the Mattagami River from Timmins, tents of boats Wednesday evacuated the remaining 600 of the township's 1,900 residents. No deaths or injuries were reported.

Reeve Jack Atkinson declared a state of emergency and appealed to the federal government army and civil defence aid.

Acting Prime Minister Green said the federal government will consider relief help for flood victims in the Timmins area if the province asks for it.

The Mattagami River, which rose almost a foot Tuesday night, rose another 10 inches Wednesday and was continuing to rise an inch an hour.

Rivers and lakes in the Sudbury area were dangerously swollen. The peak flow crest was expected today.

The Spanish River at Espanola, 42 miles west of Sudbury, caused some flooding Wednesday. The Onaping and Vermillion rivers, which join the Spanish above Espanola, were still rising.

The Onaping lapped on to the highway at Penage, 25 miles west of Sudbury, and threatened a residential area 25 miles north of Sudbury. Lake Nipissing water started to encroach on shoreline areas near North Bay.

Some residents of homes in low-lying locations in the tri-town area of Cobalt, Haileybury and Haileybury, 90 miles southeast of Timmins, when watercourses filled.

Hydro officials at Elk Lake, 40 miles south of Cobalt, Wednesday warned some people to leave their homes as the Montreal River continued to rise, and if highways in the area were flooded.

Civil defence at Long the Ottawa River near Pembroke were inundated.

A dam at Timiskaming, Que., was threatened Wednesday when a log boom burst in the Ottawa River and sent 20,000 pulpwood logs downstream. Some logged in dam causeway.

Pulp mill officials in Timiskaming, Que., were rushing to reinforce a boom holding back 100,000 logs. Officials said the north-west wind would break the boom.

In Southern Ontario the Holland River rose up to three feet of water into parts of Holland Marsh and Bradford, 35 miles north of Toronto. The water threatened 100 farm families, many of whom retreated to the second storeys of their homes as water swirled across the ground floors.

The outlook for some spring crops was described as critical in other parts of Southern Ontario.

A 90-foot section of Canadian National Railways track was washed out by heavy rains, near Port Hope, on Lake Ontario 60 miles east of Toronto.

Transport department officials in Peterborough warned that rains have made parts of the Trent Canal unsafe for boating.

Three Killed In Ship Blast

BREST, France (AP)—Three sailors were reported missing today after a terrific explosion shook the 18,000-ton Liberian tanker Bulkoil, forcing her crew to abandon ship.

The Dutch coastal ship Mies took the Bulkoil survivors aboard but returned them to the tanker when the flames subsided an hour and a half later.

The number of men in the crew was not reported.

Extent of the damage was not reported.

The explosion took place about five miles off the Ile d'Ouessant, off the northwest tip of France.

GREEN DENIES

estly the main type of U-2 is designed for high-flying meteorological and technological sampling. It carried U.S. air force markings and was flown by U.S. Air Force pilots.

The U-2 plane which came down in Russia May 1 had neither air force pilot nor markings, he said.

The U-2 did not have sufficient range to fly from the U.S. over Canada to Russia, Mr. Green said. He added:

The U-2 planes which have flown over Canada have filed standard flight plans and made the standard periodic reports on their location during flight.

ASKS ABOUT CBC

William Benidickson (L—Kenora-Rainy River) said the CBC had "down-played" the Globe and Mail spy-lane story though it invariably used the newspaper's front page as its chief source of information for its morning broadcasts. He asked whether the CBC had "down-played" the story on orders of the government.

Marcel Lambert, parliamentary secretary to Revenue Minister Nowlan, who reports to Parliament for the publicly - owned corporation, said he was not aware of either of Mr. Benidickson's suppositions.

WASHINGTON (CP) — U.S. state department spokesman Lincoln White said Wednesday "I'm raising no question" about a denial by the Canadian defence minister that any U-2 plane had flown from Canadian air bases into Soviet territory.

White told reporters he wished to "categorically deny" a Canadian newspaper report that U-2 planes had taken off from Canadian bases for surveillance flights.

MADOC

John McMurray Ordained to Ministry

MADOC — It was a great occasion for St. Peter's Presbyterian Church, Madoc, when Mr. John McMurray was ordained to the Holy Ministry by the Presbytery of Kingston, on Monday night. A large congregation of friends from St. Andrew's, Tweed and St. Peter's, Madoc, as well as from the community, attended the impressive service.

The service of worship was conducted by the Moderator of Presbytery, the Rev. Max Putnam, of St. Andrew's Church, Kingston, and the sermon for the occasion was delivered by the Rev. David McLelland of Trenton.

The Moderator presided for the Act of Ordination, and was joined by the other ministers of the Presbytery in the Laying on of Hands.

Following the ordination the address to the newly ordained minister was given by the Rev. R. A. Sinclair, of Madoc. The service of praise was led by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Lorne Crawford. The choir, which was augmented by friends from other local churches, sang the anthem, "Great is Thy Faithfulness".

After the ordination service, a reception for the minister was held in the school room of the church. Gifts were presented to Mr. McMurray by the congregations of St. Peter's, Madoc, and St. Andrew's, Tweed, for whom Mr. McMurray had served as supply minister during the years of 1958 and 1959.

Mr. McMurray came to Canada from Northern Ireland in 1952 to study for the ministry. As a student, he served the charge of Roslin, Fuller and Foxboro, and later Madoc and Tweed following the death of the Rev. Mr. Heslip. He is married to Jean McMurray of Gilmour, and they have one daughter. He graduated from Knox College on April 26th and has been appointed to the charge of New London in Prince Edward Island.

Flyer Is Not Legally Spy

BERGEN, Norway (Reuters)—Professor Edvard Hambro, a distinguished Norwegian jurist and former secretary of the International Court at The Hague, has said that according to international law, American spy-plane pilot Francis Powers could not be summarily treated as a spy.

In a newspaper interview he said the fact that Power was in uniform and that he had not operated in time of war put him outside the legal definition of a spy.

On the other hand, he said, the Soviet Union's own laws on spies who sought to supply a foreign power with information could be applied against Powers.

"International law, however, categorically states that he cannot be punished without due trial."

Stirling

NEW POLICE CHIEF

STIRLING — Mr. Douglas Ketchison, Oshawa, has been engaged as chief of police for the village of Stirling.

He served in the Canadian Army, and in 1947 joined the Ontario Provincial Police and was stationed in Bancroft. In 1951 he accepted a position in Oshawa with the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission as a security police officer.

He was born in Sidney township, and has a wife and two children.

Mrs. Earl Johnson was hostess for the IODE meeting with the Regent, Mrs. Ed Warren, in charge.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Robert Hatton. Mrs. Don McIntosh displayed a large selection of foam rubber flowers. Various items of business were conducted. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Janet Tilman attended the Mothers' Day service on Sunday morning in her former church, Sidney Baptist Church, and spent the day with her son, Mr. Gerald Irvine, Mrs. Irvine, and Douglas.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fox spent some time in Dundas where Mr. Fox assisted with a dedication ceremony at an IOOF hall.

Mrs. A. Fanning entertained Mrs. H. A. Jackson and family of Islington, Ont., last week.

LAUREL LODGE TEA

Laurel Rebekah Lodge No. 211 held their annual spring tea and bake sale at the home of Mrs. Walter Elliott on Wednesday.

Guests attended from Tweed, Madoc, Thomasburg, Peterborough, Belleville, and nearby points.

The tea-room was enhanced with a floral centrepiece of mauve, yellow, and white blooms.

The bake table was laden with a large selection of food which was quickly sold.

HALIFAX (CP) — Thirty-five hundred boxing fans who crowded into the Glace Bay Forum April 16 gasped as Blair Richardson plopped unceremoniously on the seat of his sateen trunks.

It was the first time the 30-year-old South Bar, N.S., middleweight had hit the canvas. The embarrassment was the result of a right hook to the jaw by Al Rose of Brookline, Mass., in the first round.

Richardson took the mandatory eight count and played the openings from then on, avoiding the Rose artillery. He sent the New Englander down for nine in the second round, dropped him at the bell in the fifth and crumpled him for keeps in the sixth for his 22nd victory—18th in a row.

Soon after, fans learned that Richardson's jaw was broken in two places in the first - round knockdown and that he insisted on continuing despite pleas from his manager to quit. Richardson also had broken his math weapon, his right hand, Saturday the winning punch in the sixth.

BOOTING FANS

The first effects on a loyal Maritime audience that often dotes on its boxing heroes was a mixture of shock and admiration.

Richardson shrugged it off as a matter of principle. The only way to get him out of the ring would have been "to count me out and carry me out." Furthermore, "a lot of people paid to see a fight and I didn't want to see them disappointed."

The question of brittleness was the next to crop up. He had cracked the same hand in disposing of Calgary's Bobo Fiddler in a Halifax bout last November.

"This will teach me to keep my mouth shut." Richardson said shortly after the Rose fight.

OPENED HIS MOUTH

Dr. Arthur Ormiston who examined him said that if he had kept his mouth closed "the fracture would never have occurred."

Richardson hopes he'll be ready to resume action by late summer and may return to Boston for another Waiter's campaigning under veteran Johnny Buckley.

He would like a title fight with Canadian champion Wilf Greaves of Edmonton but admits he'will have to concentrate on gradual development before he tangles with such "rough, tough, experienced boy."

Despite the temporary shelving of the Maritimes' most colorful fighter, the boxing game in the seaside provinces probably is the healthiest ever.

FOUR CHAMPS

The list shows four Canadian champions and two top challengers, the latter group including Richardson.

Dick (Kid) Howard, 30, of Halifax, won the Canadian light-weight title in 1954 and has defended it four times. He lost a 1956 British Empire title bid in a 12-round decision to Willie Toweel in South Africa.

The fighter that experts think has the brightest future is 21-year-old Len Sparks of Halifax, a transformed southpaw who defeated Jackie Hayden of Stellarton, N.S., last year to win the newly-established Canadian junior welterweight crown. He has 18 wins and a draw in 20 pro bouts with 10 victories by knockouts.

Johnny Devision of Glace Bay beat Marcel Gendron of Quebec City last November for the Canadian bantam crown and has won 10 of 13 pro fights.

Lack of competition has kept Lloyd Gordon of Saint John, N.B., Canadian flyweight champion, out of the spotlight.

Ready to try for the light-heavyweight throne vacated by Yvon Durelle of Bale Ste. Anne, N.B., is Ted Doncaster of Sackville, N.B., who has returned from the United States for a Maritime campaign to prime himself for a title bout with champion Burke Emery of Sherbrooke, Que. Doncaster has won 20 of 25 pro fights, 15 by knockouts.

City Minor Puck Champions, Stars Honored at Arena Party Saturday

The Belleville Minor Hockey Association will honor its team and individual champions at a party Saturday afternoon to officially wind up the 1959-60 season here.

The party has been scheduled for the Memorial Arena at one o'clock sharp and all boys, coaches, referees, etc., who were connected with the organization this past winter are invited to attend.

All team coaches have been asked to notify the players on their own team of the party. And the kids will not be bored with a lot of long speeches, according to Recreation Director Lloyd "Red" Doran. The speeches will be kept to a minimum in both number and length.

There will be free soft drinks for all the boys but the main item on the agenda will be the presentation of cups to individual and team winners as well as awards for the winning teams.

The team championships were won by the squirt Browns, peewee Bruins, Bantam Rangers, Midget Canadiens and the juvenile Rovers this season.

Individual trophies will go to the most sportsmanlike, the most improved and the most valuable player in each of the squirt, peewee and bantam divisions.

In the most sportsmanlike competition, Paul Goodfellow of the squirt Browns will receive Jim Ward Trophy, Doug Dickey of the peewee Red Wings will get the Ed. Lewis Trophy and Bill Leslie of the bantam Rangers will receive the H. G. Jones Trophy.

In the most improved player section, Tom Hamilton of the squirt Rangers will accept the Ontario Intelligencer Trophy, David Emerson of the peewee Mats the CJBQ radio Station Trophy and Bob Ethier of the bantam Rangers the Pat Boland Memorial Trophy.

Robin Hood Trophies will go to each of the most valuable players, Larry Moore of the squirt Browns, Bob Moon of the peewee Mars and Allan Mott of the bantam Mats.

There will be no special guests Doran said he expected the affair would be over within an hour.

Toronto, Montreal Definite Candidates for AFL League

TORONTO — Toronto and Montreal are definite candidates for American Football League franchises in 1960.

Harry Wismer, president of New York Titans and chairman of the emergency league's expansion committee, confirmed yesterday that applications have been received from the two Canadian cities, and that the Toronto bid, by A. J. Bennett of Principal Investments, was accompanied by $250,000

Crawford Gordon Jr., president of Gordon Enterprises, heads the Montreal syndicate.

Bennett, a 32-year-old graduate of the University of Toronto, said his group expects a favorable decision from the AFL committee within a week, and franchise approval from the governors inside a month's time.

Wismer states that United States football rules would prevail if the Canadian cities entered the league, and that teams currently in the circuit would provide player help and assist the new clubs in finding coaching and management personnel. "I am very enthusiastic about this international expansion," Wismer added. "And I am sure that my associates will feel the same way.

Rumors of National League expansion to this country have been frequent in recent years, but this move by the AFL would appear to be the most concrete expression by U.S. pro football.

The AFL will open this fall with eight teams—New York, Denver, Los Angeles, Buffalo, Boston, Oakland, Dallas and Houston, and has approved two more bids for 1961—Minn. has provided a stadium is obtained where whites and Negroes may compete together, and Chicago.

Acceptance of Toronto and Montreal would bring the total to 12—the figure set as a goal by the loop's founders as the winner.

A major problem facing both Canadian bidders is to find suitable stadia facilities.

Toronto and Montreal teams in the Big Four hold long-term leases with the Canadian National Exhibition here, and McGill University in Montreal. The only other park in Montreal with anything close to adequate seating capacity, Delormier Downs, is not considered ideal for football.

Plans have been discussed for an all-sports stadium with 33,000 capacity, but nothing has been undertaken.

Bennett said his associates are interested in eventually prospects for use of Varsity Stadium, but have not talked with university officials. The Motor Bowl has a seating capacity of 27,392, but blueprints were drawn up some years back for eventual expansion to 42,000 through completion of the bowl, and double-decking the west stand.

Tennis Serves

The tennis season gets away to a flying start, with a round robin tournament on Trenton Air Station's courts Saturday afternoon, all day Sunday and Monday and Tuesday evening.

This teiT which is being held to determine the strongest players for coming inter-city competition with Peterborough, Oshawa and Kingston, will include the best of the district.

Belleville's entries will be Bill Redquest, Tim Cook, Dr. Mike Walcott, Dr. Tom Woodley, Doug Grant, John and Mike Black, Art Bentz and others while Trenton will be represented by Wing Commanders Fred Craig, Wing Commander Tommy Thompson, Bill Mulhauser, Bill Templeman, Jerry Ireland and some new entries.

At a recent meeting of the Quinte Tennis League executive it was decided to extend the number of matches and players participating with a view to introducing new players to competition.

All the teams of the Trenton and Belleville areas have been solicited to form a two team league. The Trenton team will be comprised of players from that city, the Air Station and Deseronto while the tops of Quinte will represent Belleville.

A schedule of ten matches every Wednesday evening from May 25th to July 27th is the most extensive in the league's history.

In inter-city competition a determined district team will attempt to retain the Grant trophy from Kingston August 21 and 28 while a home and home series with Oshawa is tentatively set for July 30 and August 13. Dates are also being arranged for a similar setto with Peterborough.

Instruction and competitions will also be provided for juniors interested in qualifying for junior tournaments in Ottawa and Toronto.

American League Splits the Player Loot

NEW YORK — Players of the Springfield Indians, recently crowned Calder Cup Playoff Champions of the American Hockey League, will divide $25,-641.02 as their share of the playoff pool. The Indians will receive 61% of the total of $83,343.94 which went into the Jackpot from the minimum number of games which were necessary to decide the three playoff series.

The Rochester Americans, which finished the regular season in second place and were the losing playoff finalists against Springfield, are rewarded with 32% of the total pool or $19,950.05.

The Providence Reds and the Cleveland Barons, both of which were eliminated in the semi-final rounds, will receive 14% and 13% respectively. The share for the Providences comes to $8,728.15, while Cleveland has $8,104.72 to divide.

The playoff pool is based on 50% of the net gate receipts from the first four games of each of the three series, two semi-finals and the finals, or a total of 12 games. The entire playoffs required 17 games to arrive at a champion, thus the players shared in all but 5 games.

Soccer Substitutes Closer Says Famous 'Hearts' Coach

TORONTO — The use of substitutes in British soccer is closer to becoming a reality than many of the fans in the Old Country realize.

Tommy Walker, who brought his Heart of Midlothian team into Toronto yesterday morning, is the authority for the statement.

Walker, who has guided the famous Hearts team to many honors, including the Scottish League, First Division, title this year, said, "I am speaking personally, of course.

"I would like to see substitutes because I feel it would speed up the game and give the fans a run for their money," he claimed.

Hearts, who are in Toronto for a game against Manchester United Saturday night at Varsity, haven't suffered too much by the loss of a player, through injury, in a crucial game.

Walker's views on the use of substitutes wasn't shared wholeheartedly by his players. Their opinions were divided. Some thought it would be good if an injured player could be substituted while others, in broad daylect, claimed it would change the complexion of the game.

The problem of substitution came to a boil as an aftermath to last Saturday's Football Association cup final at Wembley Stadium.

In that game, as in many other finals, a team has been forced to play most of the 90 minutes with only 10 players through an injury to one of their stars. Walker, who returned he was speaking personally, claimed he would like to see 14 players on the bench, with the three alternates being used at the discretion of the manager, with permission from the referee.

"We would like to use subs just like you do in hockey and Canadian and American football," said the affable Hearts manager. As anyone who follows hockey or football knows, Walker wasn't actually correct since in those sports substitution is allowed at any time.

BLOW TO LABOR

CHICAGO (AP) — Coffee drinkers and their prized institution, the coffee break, were cooled off a bit Tuesday. The 6,800-man Chicago Journeymen Plumbers Union has negotiated a contract with a contractors' group which specifically bans coffee breaks. A spokesman said it was the first such labor contract in the United States.

PHILIP GOOD SHOT

BERGEN-HOHNE, West Germany (Reuters) — Prince Philip emerged oil-stained and triumphant from a British Centurion tank Tuesday after knocking off a perfect score in a gunnery exercise. Firing the Centurion's 20-pounder and machine-gun, he hit every target he aimed at during a one-hour battle run.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

If you saw the movie version of "Huck Finn" and somebody told you (if you didn't already know) that the old colored slave "Jim" had fought 207 fights in the ring, won 177 of 'em (129 by knockouts) and lost but a comparative few, you probably would have called for the guys in the white coats.

Yup, your informant would have been correct. "Jim" was none other than ageless Archie Moore who turned movie actor just for the fun of it, but more to chuck another barrel of silver dollars into one of his buck-filled vaults.

Now ole Jeet-lovin' Arch is turning to his favorite pastime for the two usual reasons: (1) to collect another huge bunch of coconuts; (2) to protect his light heavyweight world crown from a would-be extractor by the name of Willie Besmanoff.

ARCHIE MOORE
Now Willie is a man—and a heavyweight.

Not that that makes any difference for Uncle Archie is as scared of any heavily-upholstered leather thrower as Mr. K. is of suspicious-looking places flipping over the Ukrainian or any other Red steppes.

As it stands ageless "Jim" has already shot the German pretender to his throne down once and is readying his leathered-smothered gnided missiles for another repel-boarders fracas. The jousting takes place at Indianapolis on May 25.

Archie says he'll be 44 come December 13 but his mammy done tole some other mammys and folks that Ill Arch was done he's on December 13, 1913. But Ill Arch probably won't admit that until old age pension time rolls around.

They say Archie's legs may not stand the gaff of a durable fast-moving fighter. That is what Besmanoff is banking on. Could be—we doubt it. At least there is nothing wrong with his heart(y).

Remember back in December 1958 Archie picked up 100,000 Canadian iron men in Montreal for battling the then-popular Yvon Durelle. The French-Canadian fisherman floored Archie three times in the first round. Now could it be, as some folks say, that while Arch was reclining on the canvas peacefully awaiting the nine count, he heard rustling noises in the distance. Say the rustle of another one hundred grand of those beautiful green Canadian dollars? You know the rest.

Anyway his victory in that fight was hailed as the greatest comeback of the year. But Arch excelled himself in the comeback league. He came back after finishing August for another six-figure bonus, but this time he hummed "When I grew too old to dream I'll have you to remember" and proceeded to polish the canvas with Durelle as the carpet sweeper.

Moore hasn't had a fight since the last Durelle incident and he hasn't lost to a heavyweight since a guy named Rocky Marciano took him over his knee, spanked him, and told him to go home and play in his own backyard.

Archie should not have too much trouble with Besmanoff. Yet you never can tell. The old guy with the scythe and whiskers never fails to call, and some of these fine fightin' days he's going to drop a heavy hand on the "Moorian shoulder, and whisper "O.K. Grandpappy, you've had it."

But you cannot blame the Satchel Paige of the ring for playing out the string to the bitter end. Speaking of movie roles his own career is a saga of heart-throb, drama, etc. He boasted middleweight and light-heavy champions for two decades without getting a peep-in. He became the gyrpe of the ring, fighting in Australia and South America.

He once suffered a serious illness which reduced his body to 100 pounds and almost killed him. But he never gave up hope. "Stay in There" was his slogan, in fact it is the title of a song he has written.

Moore is a crafty, wily boxer, and a panthershrewd puncher who combines ringcraft with fighting savvy.

But the experts say Besmanoff is greatly improved over his last appearance with Moore. He is much faster and punches harder. He is depending on his speed to wear down the old ring soldier.

Be that as it may. That's what they said Durelle would do in that second schmeozle in Montreal. And you know what happened there.

Giants Rack Up 5 In Row; Tigers Win Second 1-0

Sad Sam Toothpicks Phils In Two-Hit, One Run Effort; Bucs Beat 'Bums', Birds Win

By ED WILES
Associated Press Staff Writer

Ed Mathews hit two homers and drove in three runs for Milwaukee Braves and Elroy Face, Pittsburgh Pirates reliever, finally won one. But the man of the moment in the National League is Sam Jones, the guy with a toothpick and an arm.

Sad Sam did just about everything for San Francisco Wednesday as the first-place Giants won their fifth in a row. The toothpick - chewing righthander beat Philadelphia Phillies 1-0 with a two-hitter and got the run home when he walked with the bases loaded in the second inning.

The Pirates retained second place, 1½ games behind, by defeating Los Angeles Dodgers 6-3 with three runs in the eighth and three similar innings of one-hit relief by Face. Third-place Milwaukee topped St. Louis Cardinals 12-8 with Wes Covington and Del Crandall joining Mathews in the homer hammering. Cincinnati's game at Chicago was called off because of cold weather, the Cubs' sixth consecutive postponement.

PROLONGS STINGY STREAK

Jones, 34, put away his fourth victory in six decisions and his fourth low - hit game, all at Candlestick Park. He struck out 11 in his first seven and walked only three for the fourth two-hitter of his career, record over the Phillies.

After beating St. Louis with a three - hitter opening day, then pitching a one-hitter against Chicago and a no-hitter against Pittsburgh, Sad Sam allowed the Phils only a fifth-inning double by Harry Anderson and a sixth-inning single by rookie Tony Curry.

The Giants managed only five hits, four off loser Jim Owens (2-3). A leadoff walk to Willie McCovey and two-out singles by Hobie Landrith and Ed Bressoud loaded the bases before Owens walked Jones.

The Pirates got all their runs with two out—in the first, eighth and ninth. They scored in the first on Gene Baker's single, his first hit since he was given up for lost after a 1958 injury. In the eighth Hal Smith's tying, two-run single chased loser Sandy Koufax (0-3) and ex - Dodger Gino Cimoli clinched it with a single off reliever Larry Sherry.

DODGERS IN DAZE

Face, now 1-3 after winning 18 of 19 last year, took over in the seventh after rookie Joe Gibbon gave way for a pinch - hitter. Rookie Bob Aspromonte drove in all of the Los Angeles runs, their seventh loss in 10 games.

Mathews's 304th career home run, his fifth of the season, gave the Braves a clinching 9-2 lead in the ninth inning after he had singled home a pair in a six-run frib. Warren Spahn (3-0) collected his 289th victory, the first over St. Louis, but needed relief help from Don McMahon and Lew Burdette.

Three Milwaukee homers were off righthander Larry McDaniel (1-1). He hadn't allowed a run in 13 3-3 innings going back to last season, and had been tagged for only two home runs in 104 innings of relief which he made his last start, May 21, 1958.

LATIN LOSES PRESTIGE

CAMBRIDGE, England (Reuter)—Students trying to enter Cambridge University will no longer have to pass a Latin examination as the result of a decision by senior faculty members Tuesday. They voted to abolish the compulsory Latin clement and substitute a requirement for two languages other than English. Oxford University recently also voted to abolish the compulsory Latin examination.

Toronto Promoter Hopes For World Light-Heavy Fight

IF attached itself last night to the possibility of a world light-heavyweight title fight in Toronto between Archie Moore and Germany's Eric Schoeppner.

Dave Rush, Toronto Industrialist who likes to keep a finger in ring promotions, said he was assured of the bout — if he wanted it.

"If I can get the guarantee of an outstanding follow-up fight for this one, I'll take it," he said. If he if can be matched with Feature Sports, Inc., of New York, which has champion Moore and challenger Schoeppner signed, then the fight is expected to be staged at Varsity Stadium or Maple Leaf Stadium around July 18. It would be a joint venture of Feature Sports and Rush.

"If I want certain things to go with it," Rush amplified, "I'd like a heavyweight championship between Moore and Ingemar Johansson, providing Johansson retains the title against Floyd Patterson next month, for Toronto in late August or early September, if that falls down, I'd like to get Moore and Ray Robinson for Moore's title."

Rush said he had figured expenses for a Moore-Schoeppner fight in Toronto as $310,000. That would include $200,000 for Moore, $50,000 for Schoeppner, as well as training expenses, general expenses and promotion.

Feature Sports has a guarantee of $250,000 for closed-circuit theatre television rights. And I think we could draw $200,000 at the gate."

FIRE KILLS TWO

BOSTON (AP) — An elderly blind woman and her nephew perished Wednesday when trapped by flames that raced through a four-storey brick rooming house in the Roxbury section of the city. Seven other occupants of the building and three firefighters were taken by hospital for treatment for smoke inhalation. Firemen used ladders, including an elderly crippled woman.

"This is definitely a wood shot. Just a matter of using your head, old man!"

Top Swimmers In East Enter Quebec Meet

MONTREAL (CP) — Eastern Canada's top speed swimmers and divers will engage in something of an Olympic-trials preview here Saturday at the Quebec Provincial Indoor Swimming and Diving Championships.

The one-day meet will be held at McGill University Memorial Pool. More than 30 top competitors in the Ontario zone will compete on invitation of the Quebec section of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association.

Best known swimmer with the Ontario contingent will be Sara Barber of Brantford, experienced in Olympic, British Empire Games and Pan-American competitions. Strong competition has been entered by Toronto Granites and Etobicoke and a group of promising divers will represent the London, Ont., Young Men's Christian Association.

More than half a dozen Montreal clubs have strong entries and a team from Quebec City's Palais Montcalm is also entered.

Heats will be held Saturday afternoon. All finals, along with he optional phases of the three-metre diving events, will be held at night.

Barry McKay Takes Rome Tennis Meet

ROME — Barry MacKay won the Rome international tennis meet today with a 7-5, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1 victory over Luis Ayala.

The United States player almost blew the agile Chilean off the court in the first two sets but refused to chase any shots in the third and fourth, in the fifth set he again wrecked Ayala with his cannon-like blasts.

BC Swimmers up Training Trip to Rome Prospects Help

By JIM PEACOCK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP)—The prospect of a trip to Rome is quickening the pace in the pools of the Pacific Coast as British Columbia swimmers step up training programs, with eyes on the 1960 Olympic Games in August.

Their coaches expect team to fill at least half of the 10 berths on the team Canada will send to contest swimming and diving events. Ontario and Quebec likely will share the rest.

The Olympic team will be chosen at the combined Canadian championships and Olympic trials in Winnipeg July 13-14, when British Columbia will field at least 13 strong contenders.

EXPERIENCED GROUP

Coaches Ted Simpson of the Vancouver Amateur Swim Club and Howard Firby of the Dolphin Club rate as top contenders Vancouver's Bill Slater, Marg Iwasaki, Mary Stewart and Ed Carlet, and Victoria's Bob Wheaton.

All have had international experience and Slater, 20, now at Canadian university in Philadelphia, was fifth in the 1,500-metres at the 1956 Olympics, and fourth in the same event at the 1958 British Empire Games.

Wheaton, 18, ranks with Slater in the international class. A backstroke specialist, the Victoria College student was third behind two Australians at the last British Empire Games, and reached the backstroke finals in the Pan-American Games last year.

Marg Iwasaki is a 17-year-old sprinter who took a fourth place in three events at the Pan-American Games—the 100-metre freestyle and butterfly, the 200-metre freestyle, and now is doing well in the longer distances.

Stewart, 14, also a sprinter, took sixth place in the 100-metres butterfly in the Pan-American swims, in which he was the youngest competitor, at 13 years of age. He also helped the relay team to a second-place finish. Carslet, 17, with ability in freestyle and backstroke, showed well with the men's relay team.

OTHER HOPEFULS

Slater, Iwasaki and Stewart swim for the Dolphin Club, which coach Firby says will also send distance swimmer Katie Campbell, 15, and two breast-stroke specialists — Judy McHale, 17, and Pam Wilson, 13.

Coach Simpson says his club will also send to Winnipeg freestyle swimmer Bill Campbell: 16, freestyle - butterfly entry Aldy Meinhardt, 15, freestyler Susan Elliott, 15, and 13-year-old Ann Harvey, who swims freestyle and backstroke.

The up-coast community of Ocean Falls will have at least one contender—Pat Huffman, 17, Canadian breast-stroke champion in the past who has shown well in training this year.

Strong eastern contenders include Bonnie Benson and Sandra Scott of Toronto in breast-stroke and freestyle sprints; Richard Pound and Steve Rabinovich of Montreal, respectively in sprints and breast - stroke, and Tom Verita of Toronto, who swims 100-metre and 400-metre freestyle.

Sara Barber of Brantford, Ont., who established herself as a fine competitor in the 1958 Empire Games, and Cameron Grout of Montreal, 100 - metre freestyle swimmer in the 1958 Empire Games and last year's Pan-American, are other contenders.

From Winnipeg, Janice Shepp will compete in breast - stroke events.

The 1960 Olympics for the first time will include the medley relay, in which four different strokes are used. The Vancouver coaches say Canada's best chances may be in the medley relays, so that selection of the relay teams will have a great bearing on the overall composition of the Canadian team.

Marlins Bow To Richmond; Buffalo Wins

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's no place like home—particularly if you're the Richmond Vees in the International League who have won seven out of eight in the current home stand, including five in a row, and have allowed opponents only two runs in the last four games.

That's the story today after the Vees defeated Miami 2-0 Wednesday night in one of two IL games. The Buffalo Bisons edged Atlanta 2-1 in 10 innings.

The percentage points of first place Toronto with a 3-1 victory over Rochester. Toronto-Montreal and Havana - Columbus were rained out.

The biggest thing about Richmond's splurge has been its pitching. The Vees' hurlers have tossed four shutouts in addition to the two one-run games. In the eight games, Ed Grba and Zack Monroe each have a shutout and each has a one-run game while Bill Stafford and Jim Bronstad have shutouts.

Bronstad got his Wednesday night with a three - hitter. He walked four and struck out three, allowing more than one baserunner in only one inning, the fourth. Jack Reed's triple and Bob Martyn's bloop single scored the Vees first run in the first inning and they got their second on Rickie Weidle's triple and Bronstad's sacrifice fly in the sixth.

Ron Swinford's two singles and Roger McCardell's double in the only Miami hits, as Wes Stock got a four-hitter.

Ken Lehman won his fifth game in as many starts, each of which has been a complete game, and handed Rochester its fifth straight loss. Don Landrum's walk, Bob Bowman's single and an infield out scored Atlanta with the eighth off loser Cal Browning, who lost his second in three decisions. He allowed only six hits while Lehman gave seven.

Generals Hire Hendy's Son

GREENSBORO, N.C. — James Hendy, 34, son of the general manager of the Cleveland Barons on the American Hockey League, today was named business manager of the Greensboro Generals of the Eastern Hockey League.

Hendy, of Cleveland, Ohio, replaces Ken Wilson, who was released at the end of the season. Hendy has been business manager of the Cleveland club for the past seven years.

Carson Bain, president of the Generals, said Hendy would start work June 1 on a one-year contract as business manager. Wilson held the title of general manager.

Bain announced at the same time that Roly McLenahan will not return as coach next season.

Riot Marks Soccer Match At Utrecht

UTRECHT, Holland — The soccer match between the local D.O.S. team from Montevideo, Uruguay, billed as a friendly game, ended in a minor riot last night.

The match was halted 20 minutes before it was scheduled to end. Penarol was leading, 2-0.

The Dutch fans resented the rough tackling of the South Americans, especially on their centre-forward Tonnie Can Der Linden. A half time, Penarol led 4-0 with goals by Crescio and Longo. Soon after the restart Crescio made it 5-0.

Tempers had cooled at this stage, but a goal by Van Der Linden resulted in the Penarol players resuming their robust play which brought retaliation from the Dutch players.

Flashlights broke out among the players. The fans soon joined the brawl on the field. Police used in and used batons to drive the fans off the field.

The fans refused to leave the neighborhood of the stadium after the game, and the police escorted the Penarol players to their hotel.

One Dutch player, Piet Kromhout, suffered a broken jaw when he was punched by an unidentified South American player.

Triandos Out For 4 Weeks

BALTIMORE — Gus Triandos, the American Baseball League's 1959 all-star catcher, underwent a two-hour operation today and may be back in Baltimore Oriole's lineup in four weeks.

The operation was performed by Dr. Raymond Curtis to relieve pain in Triandos' right thumb. It was injured by a foul tip last August.

The Orioles bolstered the catching department during his absence by buying Valmy Thomas from Philadelphia Phillies of the National League today. The Phillies had optioned Thomas to Indianapolis just before the 1960 season started.

Stengel Moves Mickey Mantle To Second Slot

NEW YORK — Manager Casey Stengel today announced a long lasting order for New York Yankees which will feature Mickey Mantle batting in the second slot for the first time in his baseball career.

Stengel also moved up Yogi Berra, Roger Maris, Bill Skowron and Elston Howard a notch each, dropping Gil McDougald from second to seventh. Mantle has been batting third, followed by Maris, Skowron, Berra and Howard.

"I decided to make the change for three reasons," said the 69-year-old skipper who yesterday celebrated his 50th anniversary in baseball.

"First, Mantle has walked more than anybody on the club," he said. "That's because he's looking over the pitchers better than he did last year.

"Second, he's moving all the other good hitters up, too, I'm giving them one more time at bat in a game. Those are the guys who have been doing most of the hitting and driving in most of the runs.

"Third, the hitters who haven't been hitting are down in the lineup."

Mr. K. Wants West Berlin But not Enough to Risk War

This third of a series of four articles on the approaching summit meeting in Paris analyzes the problem of Berlin in the light of post-war history

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

A dozen years ago Joseph Stalin wanted West Berlin badly enough to risk war. He failed.

Nikita Khrushchev wants West Berlin. But he's in no such hurry.

The future of West Berlin, isolated 110 miles inside Communist-ruled territory, is a dominant issue before President Eisenhower, President de Gaulle, Prime Minister Macmillan and Premier Khrushchev at their Paris summit meeting beginning Monday.

Khrushchev says he wants the Western allies out of Berlin. He wants it made a free city. If the West refuses to come to terms eventually he will act on his own and sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany, which then will lay claim to West Berlin and end allied rights there.

The campaign to get the United States out of Germany—and that out of Europe—is a long-range one. There is unlikely to be much agreement on the questions of Berlin and divided Germany.

Here's how the Berlin situation came about:

As the Second World War neared its close, the U.S., Russia and Britain agreed on a four-power occupation for Berlin and Germany. An allied council for Germany would be set up. Air corridors between Berlin and the American, British and French zones would be marked out. A four-power directorate would control traffic.

In December, 1947, a London foreign ministers' conference failed to agree on how to restore German economic unity. The U.S., Britain and France decided to merge their occupation zones. It was the beginning of the end of co-operation with Moscow.

Three months later the Russians walked out of the allied control council. By June, 1948, the Russians had stopped allied traffic to Berlin.

On June 25 the West began a historic airlift. The Russians gave up, lifted the blockade.

While the Stalin era faded, Moscow marked time. Then it declared East Germany sovereign and in control of its own domestic and foreign policies. The West in turn permitted West Germany to rearm. The Russian answer: the Warsaw Pact military alliance of Communist Eastern Europe.

NEW PRESSURE

Gradually new pressure on West Berlin developed. East German Communists claimed full control of air corridors from the West, despite the Yalta and Potsdam agreements. A big propaganda campaign claimed West Berlin was really part of East Germany.

In November, 1958, Khrushchev said he would end Soviet occupation of East Berlin, demanded that the allies get out of West Berlin and declared he would turn it into an international "free city" within a specified time. The West called this an ultimatum and said it would stay in West Berlin.

Khrushchev backed away. His meeting at Camp David last September with President Eisenhower brought a pledge of no deadline for Berlin negotiations. Five months later, Khrushchev renewed his threats, but he set no time limit.

Khrushchev likely will proceed slowly with regard to Berlin, seeking a formula under which the West might agree some day to withdraw. But it is highly unlikely that the West will buy any such idea.

Writers Kid One Another At $20 Plate Banquet

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood is a place where they have a lux-and-mink strike rally at $20 a plate. That was the situation at the Writers Guild of America banquet last weekend. The writers gave out their annual awards and saw no reason to cancel the show because they have been on strike for four months.

The show did go on, and what a show! It was the kind the academy has tried to stage on TV, but has never quite managed.

Milton Berle and Edie Adams did an alpine spoof of the stars who are storing up tax dollars by living in Switzerland. There were skits with Craig Stevens (Peter Gunn) as David Susskind, George Jessel as Hurwitz's oldest living theatre man, Bart Lescaster as a song and dance man, a bedraggled crew of gladiators spending their free time reading Spartacus, and Rod Taylor in a Sky Fair Lady parody (Let's action in your life and you're invited to Attack the Knife).

The writers kidded everything in sight, specially themselves. Now the party's over, and the strike continues. The producers seem even further apart from the writers than they were from the actors. The writers hold unnervingly to the theory that they create film material and hence seek to enjoy a royalty therefrom. The producers aren't budging, and the wheels of production are slowly running down.

Even if there is a settlement, it would be weeks and months before the studios would again have the backlog of scripts to resume shooting.

AT THE McCARTHY — Yul Brynner and lovely Kay Kendall keep the laughs rolling in Stanley Donen's sophisticated comedy, "Once More, With Feeling", Columbia Pictures' release. Gregory Ratoff is featured in this Technicolor version of the Broadway stage hit by Harry Kurnitz. The new picture opens today at both the Odeon McCarthy and Belleville Drive-In Theatres.

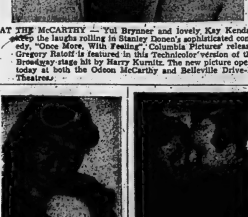
Pioneer Private Eye on TV Big Success in Navy Series

By CYNTHIA LOWRY



NEW YORK (AP)—Back in the dear, departed days of primitive television, before tape was invented, Roscoe Karns pioneered as a private eye.

Actually, it was only 11 years ago that Rocky King, Detective, hand-tailored by the inimitable Karns, delighted owners of 12-inch screens all across the country — particularly in the New York area where the show was live and the picture, consequently, better.

Today Karns is one of a small band of television frontiersmen who have survived the erosion of public taste and escaped the perils of over-exposure. He is safely ensconced in the role of Captain Shafer, the crusty senior medical officer in Jackie Cooper's navy comedy series, Hennessey was one of the season's big successes and CBS has renewed it for next season.

Rocky King died after about four years because we picked the wrong network," said Rocky Karns. "The network was broken up, and the show went with it. It was very popular, though, that we'd been with NBC or CBS instead of ABC-TV."

Presley from military service, welcoming Sinatra pals Sammy Davis Jr., Joey Bishop, Peter Lawford and daughter Nancy Sinatra, taped several weeks ago in Miami.

AT THE PARK — John Wayne and Maureen O'Hara play two navy couple of "The Wings of Eagles", M-G-M's comedy-drama based on the story of Frank (Spig) Wead, one of the Navy's great modern heroes. Dan Dailey co-stars in the picture, directed by four-time Academy award-winner John Ford, which opens today at the Park Drive-In theatre. Also featured are Ward Bond, Edmund O'Brien and Kenneth More. Technicolor and Technirama.

AT THE PARK — A feminine Russian flying ace discovers that the best man for the job is a man. That's the basic theme of "The Iron Petticoat", with Bob Hope and Katharine Hepburn co-star for the first time in the witty sparkle comedy, released by M-G-M, starts Friday at the Park Drive-In. On the same program "The Wings of Eagles", M-G-M's comedy-drama starring Dan Dailey, John Wayne, Maureen O'Hara and Ward Bond.

High School Activities

By TRINA JANITCH

The current spell of warm weather is giving everyone at B.C.I.V.S. visions of summer holidays and all the wonderful things they bring — picnics at the beach, long drives in convertibles (if you're lucky), wiener roasts, swimming and most of all, those long lazy days free from such tiresome details as homework, deadlines, tests and even the book reports. It certainly is good to think that only a few weeks remain. But of course, June exams lie between us and that goal.

Meantime, although extra-curricular activities have slowed somewhat, several school events remain to look forward to and talk about during May.

Not counting the weather, the warmest thing at B.C.I.V.S. is the discussion of the new "taxation" proposal advanced by Students' Council president Martha Hughes at last week's meeting. This system would take 10 per-cent of all club receipts and turn them over to Council for its own use. Although it seems a very new and different form of taxation, many other schools have accepted the idea.

Supporters of the proposal say that it would help to relieve the profits of the clubs, pointing out that some clubs manage to build up an impressive treasury while others have no way of making money.

Another argument advanced is the fact that the individual student is often the one who, through his patronage of club fund-raising projects, supports club activities, while receiving no advantages from these activities. Funds derived from the "taxation" system would go into school projects to benefit all students.

They point out also that Council has experienced assistance in the handling of clubs at the disposal while the individual club does not.

Those against the proposal say that Council is taking the "easy way out" of its financial difficulties. Council has always been managed to provide its own funds, they argue, and with its many resources, should still be able to do so without "preying" on club money.

NO ASSISTANCE

According to its opponents, if the system went into effect the clubs would be literally supporting Students' Council, and the majority of clubs, do not receive any assistance from Council.

They also note that club representatives to Council are given virtually no importance in the council makeup: they are not placed on standing committees and they are left out of many of the activities.

Both sides have ardent supporters and good arguments, so next week's council meeting should be, to put it mildly, interesting.

By the time this column is published, the 1960 Army Cadet inspection will be history. However, all signs now point to a fine program. This year, for the first time, the inspection is to be held at night. Lt.'Col Angus Duffy, will take this salute while the 160-man corps will be inspected by Capt. F. Evans, Area Cadet Officer. The corps will keep step to the rhythmic beats of our own 40-piece marching band. Displays in precision drill, signals, band, map using, rifle drill and P.T. will make the inspection even more interesting.

At a general meeting of the Girls' Athletics Society last Wednesday, the following officers for 1960-61 were elected: president, E. Cooper; vice-president, Mary Musgrove; secretary Bev Bonter; treasurer, Helen Walsh.

After the campaign speeches, a suggestion period was held and the idea brought forward that all girls wishing to take part in sports should purchase an athletic card for a nominal sum. This is something for the new executive to look into, as it may solve some of the society's problems.

As always the Ken Colling memorial run held last Wednesday proved a day of thrills to the large crowd of spectators. A record 57 runners attempted the gruelling four-mile course in spite of the oppressive heat. Bill Bonter of O.S.S. came through first to himself and to his school not only by coming in first, but by establishing a record for the run. Congratulations to Bill, and also to "our boys" Harvey Brant, Lawrence Boyle who placed in the first six.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Friday, May 13, 1960

General Tendencies: Much charm is just what you should express today, for you could thus put across whatever ideas are important to you and get the good will and affection from those vital to you. The period is good for analyzing just what you have done so far and how you can get your affairs on a more solid and secure basis.

Aries (March 21 to April 19) During A.M. certain modern methods of operation will come to your attention that should be quickly adopted if you want to achieve greater success in the future. P.M. handle important public affairs. Show respect and loyalty for higher-ups.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) During the morning you will get fine inspirational ideas on how to advance more quickly in your career. Be certain to first pay all of your pressing bills. P.M. take care you do not commit yourself to any long-term contracts.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) It will be easy to conclude any important meetings or come to quick decisions with key people during working hours today. P.M. get your bookkeeping records in order and plan tomorrow's activities wisely. Then relax with loved one.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 22) Wind up those important tasks early. Then confer with co-workers about future activities. And this is one of the times evenings when you have to be careful to meet every obligation and not fall back on your word.

Leo (July 23 to Aug. 21) A day for relaxing at favorite pastime or leisurely following up any idea you may have in mind. Have a happy tete-a-tete with co-workers and plan your next week's activities wisely. Retire early and restore your energies.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) Think more about the times of greater comfort and happiness for and with close ties today. Also, make plans for operating more efficiently so that you have greater abundance and gain inner satisfaction.

Libra (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Be sure to shop for those items you need so badly that will help you be perfectly groomed. Also, invest in gadgets that will make work easier. P.M. you can convince close ties to cooperate with you as they should.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) In taking inventory of all your holdings this morning, you will then be in a better position to plan your activities so that you can increase your abundance. Adopt more modern systems of operation. P.M. have fun with comrades.

Sagittarius (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23) A banner day for you if you get an early start dress nicely and see all those persons who can assist you in your career or make life happier in one way or another. P.M. plan better ways to become more successful.

Capricorn (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20) The right day to contact experts for advice that will help you succeed in your chosen field. P.M. impress influential persons with your good sense and appearance. Make lasting contacts.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) By expressing your viewpoints with loyal comrades, you find that you will get immediate and enthusiastic co-operation. Be sociable, also. P.M. have a private tete-a-tete with those closest to you and show your appreciation for favors.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) Advancement in business affairs is very possible today, if you do your best. Express yourself explicitly with higher-ups and impress them with your practicability, also. P.M. you should go out to some fine social affairs.

If your child is born today . . . He, or she will be honest and blunt type of individual who may, nonetheless, be early misunderstood by others who are more devious in their ways. Hence, teach early that silence is golden. Also give as much spiritual training as possible since the middle life is bound to be most successful to permit philanthropy in the waning years. This is a very promising, clear, sharp mind.

ed fairly high ground reasonably safe from the flood had marooned on islands between the twisting currents.

A three-block section of Timmins had to be evacuated Wednesday when the river spilled over its banks in the southern end of town but the main part of the community of 28,000 was well above the danger level.

WEATHER IMPROVING

Forecasts called for sunny and warmer weather today. The rise in temperature could trigger a new flood crest by increasing the runoff of melted snow from the brushland of the vast Mattagami watershed. Snow lies three to four feet deep in most areas.

"If that snow starts moving we're in for real trouble," said David Lalone, a volunteer rescue co-ordinator. "Most of the lakes south of here are frozen yet but they could go up in a hurry."

Mr. Atkinson appealed to provincial and federal authorities for army and civil defence aid. Sawlogs from smashed upriver booms still were the main peril. The heavy logs came riding the swift current to endanger rescue boats and slam against buildings. Smashed boathouses and upfooted wharves add to the danger.

At nightfall the residential areas of Mountjoy, just across the river from Timmins, lay deserted and dark.

CRACK DOWN ON LOOTERS

Police Chief Justin Talbot said two youths were arrested Wednesday in the act of looting an abandoned home. He said stern measures would be introduced if further looting occurred.

The river had spread to more than a mile in width at some points. At normal stages it averages about 200 yards across.

Township officials said 250 homes were in deep water and another 100 situated on higher grounds were marooned.

Damage was estimated to run into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Lumber company officials said 81,000,000 worth of lumber and logs had been swept downstream and lost.

The peril was sharpened by the collapse of a loggers' dam Tuesday at Muskisenda Lake. At estimated 40,000 logs broke loose when the dam gave way 50 miles south of Timmins, cascading into the Mountjoy River, a tributary of the Mattagami.

Civil defence officials warned evacuees that it may be more than a week before some of them can return to their homes. A fund has been organized by Timmins businessmen to provide money for a building for the homeless.

One of the holdouts was Mrs. Katerina Rettig, 46-year-old mother of eight children who insists on staying at her farm to care for her 40 registered Jersey cows. She asked rescue crews to take her four youngest children to relatives in Timmins but the others—the eldest 18—stayed behind to help with milking and barn chores.

At the township's flood rescue centre here the noise and confusion of evacuation finally ebbed after midnight and volunteers began a careful recheck of municipal records to assure that every resident was accounted for.

"It is nothing short of a miracle that we haven't had a drowning or even a serious injury," Mr. Atkinson said.

Decline to Ask For Probe Into Auto Industry

CHICAGO (CP) — A proposal that the federal government be asked to set up a royal commission to inquire into Canada's automobile industry divided the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities Wednesday before it was scrapped.

The proposal came from Hamilton and pointed out that "imports of finished cars into Canada has reached over 20 per cent of the country's domestic production and is increasing," placing Canada's future as an automobile maker "in jeopardy."

Mayor Michael Patrick of Windsor said:

"Forty per cent of the new cars sold in Canada this year will be imported. It is a shocking situation."

His was about the only support. Mayor Wilfrid Bald of St. Catharines said it was useless to ask for royal commissions, which have a history of "accomplishing nothing except to spend money."

for success at the summit parley as well as shadows of Eisenhower's Russian trip, scheduled for June 10-19 in return for Khrushchev's visit here last September.

The United States is preparing a formal reply, to be sent to Moscow soon, to Tuesday's Soviet note. The Russians protested the May 1 U.S. plane flight into Russian territory, and threatened reprisals in the future "hostile acts."

Eisenhower told his press conference Wednesday that "I expect to go" to Russia. But that was before news reports were received here of how Khrushchev comments which cast doubt on the kind of welcome he would receive.

Talking with correspondents inspecting the purported wreckage of the plane, Khrushchev said "The Russian people would say I was made to welcome a man who sends spy planes over here like Akal."

The spy flight had changed his opinion of Eisenhower, Khrushchev added, and he would not like to be in Eisenhower's shoes when the American president visits Russia.

He said the two can discuss at Paris whether Eisenhower should visit Moscow and—as though assuming Eisenhower will make the trip—added that there would be "no excuse whatsoever among the people."

Khrushchev's words startled officials here. There was an impression that the Russian host was deliberately hanging out an "unwelcome" sign.

But authorities also studied press reports to see if the talkative Soviet premier was just wisecracking. Moscow clamped censorship on Khrushchev's remarks after they had stirred a furor, although not until it had let through much that cast doubt on Eisenhower's welcome.

Eisenhower has viewed privately belligerent-sounding remarks by Khrushchev as the type of Communist propaganda that might be expected in advance of an international conference.

Russian Aid Offered Nfld. To Develop Power

Casually Suggested By Premier at Meeting

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Joseph Smallwood said today that the only help Newfoundland might accept from Russia in getting power transmitted from Hamilton Falls in Labrador would be knowledge.

He told a press conference that he had no intention of giving the impression in a service club speech Thursday night that the province would allow Russia to help in the development of the Hamilton Falls power potential.

Mr. Smallwood told the service club that the Russian knowledge of transmitting power over long distances exceeds that of the West. They were willing to share their know-how with other nations "provided it is for peaceful purposes."

"You Newfoundland government has had absolutely nothing to do with the Russian government," Mr. Smallwood said today. "There has been absolutely nothing—no talks with the Russians, no dealings with the Russians."

BY RUSSIA NOW

He added, however, that "there are people from Newfoundland in Russia right now." He would not elaborate except to say they did not represent the government.

Informed sources said the Bell-Newfoundland Development Corporation, which is developing the Hamilton Falls site, has representatives in Russia on commercial and official business. The talks are located on the Gouin Reservoir air force base and international airport.

Mr. Smallwood said the Russian power but the problem is transmitting it." Mr. Smallwood said: "If we can improve diving conditions of the Newfoundland people by electric power in Hamilton Falls with Russia's technical knowledge I don't care who knows it."

Western technologists have developed ways of transmitting power by land cable for a distance of 1,000 miles, he claimed, there is a power loss. The Russians are said to know how to carry power for 1,500 miles with little loss. It is the same quantity it had at the point of origin.

NOT FINANCIAL

Mr. Smallwood, who could not be reached for comment on the speech Thursday night, said today that no financial or technical assistance would be accepted from Russia. Technical experts would go into the area. Knowledge was the only thing in which the province was interested.

He told the dinner meeting it was only a question of finding enough power at Hamilton Falls" 8,000,000 — 9,000,000 — horsepower potential and a convenient and economical way of delivering the power.

The Russians may have an answer to that. We are out to find out." But he did not elaborate.

He said the development would mean "fantastic prosperity" for Newfoundland. "Just imagine — we will have the vast power we could sell casually and have a few million horsepower in Ontario. It would destroy the subways of New York, factories in Nova Scotia and the textile industry in Toronto all could be run with power from Hamilton Falls."

Resigns From Ontario Cabinet

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. Mackinnon Phillips, cabinet minister since 1950, has resigned as provincial secretary, Premier Frost announced Saturday following a cabinet meeting.

Mr. Frost released a letter to him from Dr. Phillips in which the 61-year-old physician minister said he "was resigning due to circumstances surrounding a traffic accident Jan. 28.

Dr. Phillips pleaded guilty April 28 through a lawyer to a charge of failing to remain at the scene of an accident and was fined $200 in a Toronto magistrate's court. The minister had left the day before on a trip to Paris.

Today's Chuckle

Conscience is what makes you worry about what it couldn't stop you from doing.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: — Cool, unsettled weather still injured over a large part of Ontario this morning as a result of low pressure which stretched from Southern Ontario to the Carolines. Very warm weather over Manitoba and Saskatchewan is moving slowly eastward into northwestern Ontario. Some sunshine and slightly higher temperatures are expected for Southern Ontario Saturday.

UNIVERSITY BILL SURVIVES FOUR LIBERAL MOTIONS

Still Did Not Get Final Approval

OTTAWA (CP) — The government's university grants bill, on the final leg of a long and turbulent journey through the Commons, survived four Liberal challenges Thursday but still did not gain final approval.

The challenges took the form of amendments to the measure, which is aimed at making the grants available to universities in Quebec, Quebec has until now rejected the grants on the ground they violate provincial jurisdiction in education.

Just before the end of Thursday night's sitting, after all the Liberal amendments had been disposed of, it appeared the measure would receive third reading after weeks of intermittent debate. However, a rhubarb developed over a statement of policy by Lionel Chevrier (—Montreal Laurier) and Speaker Roland Michener, looking disgusted, finished the sitting.

TRY AGAIN TODAY

Third reading is scheduled for today.

Under the bill, any province wishing to could assume payment of the grants, now distributed through the Canadian Universities Foundation. To get the money, Quebec has already increased by one percentage point all corporate taxpayers of the province will be in addition a comparable abatement on their federal taxes.

The main Liberal amendment, proposed by committee by John Chevrier and ruled out of order by Speaker Jacques Flynn, would have allowed any province dissatisfied with the present arrangement to receive and distribute the grants through a provincially-incorporated university council. This body would be made up of representatives of the province's institutions of higher learning.

Mr. Chevrier held that this formula would eliminate the "constitutional objection." He repeated Liberal charges that the proposed measure in effect gives the federal government the power to dictate how a province is going to spend its money and how to meddle in the relations between a province and its universities.

Timmins Flood Waters Start To Drop Slowly

TIMMINS (CP) — The flooded waters of the Mattagami River, nine feet above normal Thursday night, began to drop overnight by 3 a.m. had gone down three inches.

Upriver, the water dropped two inches at the Wawaitin dam and three inches at the Kenogamissi Lake dam.

Light rain was forecast today for the area east of Timmins. By noon Thursday, the rain was expected to move east of the province.

Premier Frost Thursday declared the flooded district a disaster area and said the province would match disaster relief funds dollar-for-dollar.

The river, swollen with heavy spring runoffs and nine days of intermittent rain, has forced 1,100 residents to flee their homes and wrought damage estimated at $2,000,000.

New danger struck at Foleyet, 62 miles southwest of Timmins where a dam on Ivanhoe Lake threatened to give way. Should the dam break, 650 Foleyet residents would have to evacuate and the flood's crest would move into the Mattagami system.

ONLY A FEW LEFT

Apart from a few farmers, all Moonlight residents have abandoned the area. Most have moved across the river to Timmins—staying with friends or camping down in disaster shelters.

Sunshine would be a mixed blessing. On the upper Mattagami watershed, the heaviest winter's snow in 50 years still lies three feet deep in the thick bushland. A fleet of small powerboats manned by volunteers, moved into the 30-square miles of flooded streets Thursday in an effort to evacuate the last of the township's 1,000 residents.

Lands and Forests Minister J. W. Spooner has named co-ordinators of government aid, will fly to Timmins today.

In Ottawa, Acting Prime Minister Howard Green said the federal government would help the area as far as it could.

HOUSE DESTROYED

Some farmers in the stricken area are sticking to land despite the flooding, using their second-floor bedrooms.

Soviet Air Force Chief Calls off Visit to U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chief of the Soviet Air Force has called off his scheduled visit to the United States.

Chief Air Marshal K. A. Vershinin, who was due to arrive from Moscow Saturday, informed the U.S. Air Force that "it would be more appropriate to postpone my visit to the United States until a more suitable time."

His decision was clearly another repercussion from the May 1 downing in Russia of an American spy plane, an incident Soviet Premier Khrushchev bitterly condemned.

The Russian air chief and nine other Soviet air officers were to have been guests of U.S. Air Force chief of staff, Gen. Thomas D. White.

The Soviet group had been invited to attend a demonstration of U.S. military power at an armed forces day exhibit at Andrews Air Force base near Washington. Thereafter, the Russians were to have toured several important U.S. Air Force centres.

The invitation to the Russians was in return for the courtesies extended Gen. Nathan F. Twining, then air force chief, on a visit to Russia in 1956. Twining is chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff.

U.S. officials feel the case of the spy plane is certain to figure in the summit talks starting in Paris Monday. They fear a clash between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev at the two meet in the French capital.

Anti-American Rally Lasts Hours at Havana University

HAVANA (AP)—Shouts of "Get out! Get out!" greeted every mention of United States Ambassador Philip Bonsal at a hysterical five-hour anti-American rally at Havana University that carried into the early hours today.

More, than 15,000 students, workers and civilian militiamen were whipped into a frenzy by student and union leaders ranting against U.S. "imperialism" and charging repeatedly that the U.S. is preparing an invasion of Cuba.

Maj. Rolando Cubelas, head of the University Student Federation, called the rally to muster support for his charge that Washington plans "direct aggression" against the island republic.

He again cited as proof signs that the U.S. embassy has prepared "spotting on American-owned buildings in the event of trouble. The embassy has explained that the notices are routine preparedness carried off by the U.S. embassy all over the world.

Jeepers were fanned by the killing of an American civilian pilot, Matthew Edward Duke, 45, earlier in the day outside Havana. Officials said he was shot by a gang of Cubans branded by the Castro regime as war criminals. The government said he landed on the highway, and an ambush was waiting for him, and was shot as he tried to take off again.

Duke was on the U.S. border patrol's blacklist of 29 pilots suspected of illegal flights to Cuba, and U. S. airspace has been warned not to rent any of them a plane. One federal aviation official said he rented a plane at Baton Rouge, La., by saying he was flying to Texas.

Prince Aly Khan Killed At Wheel of a Sports Car

PARIS (AP)—Prince Aly Khan—playboy, sportsman, lover of beautiful women and apparently diplomat—was killed Thursday night at the wheel of a sports car.

After an afternoon at Longchamps race track and the running of the 48-year-old prince was driving to his half-brother's home at St. Cloud for a dinner party when his Lancia and a flight sedan crashed head-on in suburban Suresne.

The wealthy prince met death in a dinner jacket with a beautiful woman by his side.

Bettina, former French model who was the prince's constant companion in Europe in recent years, suffered a broken arm and blood poured over her green silk evening-gown." She was given first aid treatment and released.

Aly's chauffeur, riding in the back seat, was only slightly injured.

The prince, who turned to motor diplomacy in 1958 as Pakistan's first Ambassador Extraordinary to the United Nations, was rushed to a hospital but died on the way to the operating room. Hospital attaches said he suffered a fractured skull, broken legs and perhaps a broken neck.

Herve Bichaton, driver of the other car, escaped with minor injuries. Agence France—Presse said reports from the scene in-

Trenton Sends Plane to Hunt Missing 'Beaver'

TRENTON (CP) — The RCAF here said today a Dakota aircraft has been dispatched from here to search for a Beaver aircraft missing in the Hudson Bay area. Three persons are believed to be aboard the missing plane.

The plane, believed to carry a pilot and two women passengers, left Povungnituk on the west of Hudson Bay for Sugluk, a little settlement further northern Ungava shore, Thursday morning.

It was last reported over it at p.m. Thursday when the pilot radioed Sugluk that he was following the shoreline to Sugluk.

The plane, single-engined and float - equipped, is owned by Wheeler Airlines.

A Navy search aircraft from the Murray Mining Company based the Sugluk area Thursday night without success.

The RCAF said another Dakota and a Canso aircraft are standing by to join in the search when fog here permits taking off.

South Africa Is Refused Guarantee People Would Remain In Commonwealth

Conference Communique Emphasizes Association's Multi-Racial Nature

LONDON (CP)—Commonwealth leaders today formally refused to guarantee that South Africa will be allowed to stay in the Commonwealth if it follows apartheid policy state becomes a republic.

But a communique issued at the wind-up of the two-day meeting of prime ministers and leaders from 11 countries emphasized the need for "good relations" among the members of their multi-racial association.

Opposition to South Africa's racial segregation policy of racial segregation brought the first open rift in the history of such Commonwealth meetings.

Statesmen of the globe-girdling community suggested that South Africa, which now recognizes the Queen as Head of the Commonwealth, ask for the "consent" of her government before becoming a republic, she still wants to remain within the Commonwealth.

But the Commonwealth leaders posed before South Africa's Dr. Verwoerd, an unmistakable strict apartheid racial segregation policies are modified.

The communique said: "The Commonwealth is a multi-racial association."

At the same time it reaffirmed the "traditional practice" of Commonwealth governments not to discuss internal affairs of member countries.

The declaration pointed out that informal talks were held on the Paris Monday. They fear a clash between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev at the two meet in the French capital.

RAILWAYS READY TO ARGUE CASE WITH NON-OPS

Sharp Exchanges After Statement

MONTREAL (CP)— Representatives of the country's railways appeared ready to begin presentation of briefs today to a three-man conciliation board looking into the railways' contract dispute with their 120,000 non-operating employees.

The railways' first brief, presented by Keith Campbell, the CPR's assistant manager of labor relations, was postponed Thursday but was postponed for a day to allow study of union principles and statistics.

Sharp exchanges came when union counsel Jules Nolan attempted to force union spokesmen to answer why they should consider railway revenues in bargaining wage-demands.

SAT CONCILIATION HIGH

The railways contend the present demands—for a 25-cent hourly increase for about 90,000 non-ops—would cost them $85,000,000, far beyond their resources.

The non-ops, railway employees engaged in running trains, make up average $1.77 an hour.

Despite collant pressure from Mr. Nolan, union advisor Dr. H. D. Woodward, associate professor at McGill University, maintained that the union's sole concern was to get a fair wage for their members.

The point first arose during discussion of union statistics which showed the total number of non-ops was declining steadily.

Mr. Nolan suggested this was due to high wage demands which forced the railways to cut down on labor force and improve their equipment.

FACE CONSEQUENCES

Dr. Woodward said this was the only reason for layoffs but that union members were prepared to face the consequences.

"If I told you that as surely as night follows day, pressure on employment will result from your demands, would you suggest that the board follow your recommendations?" Mr. Nolan asked.

Dr. Weldon said the board should listen to both sides and make its decision.

"And to hell with the consequences?" Mr. Nolan put in.

Frank H. Hall, chief negotiator for the non-op unions, then interjected:

"You'll do what you want to do and take (layoffs) anyway."

Again and again, Mr. Nolan returned to the relatively-owned CPR would get the wage-boost each time Dr. Weldon replied that the CPR was no longer in business since railway revenues were paid to the government.

What if wage demands forced the CPR to close up? Mr. Nolan asked.

"It would concern us as citizens but not as wage-earners," Dr. Weldon answered.

Londoners Shocked to Learn City May See Chicago-Style Gang War

LONDON (Reuters) — London's gangland, where the seamy side of life is normally hidden behind the royal wedding, have received a terrifying shock. The whole city may be on the verge of a Chicago-style war of the underworld.

Police officers say gang violence is rising between London's rich, powerful and heavily armed gangs.

Several large gangs — one of which boasts that it can "put an army" of 100 armed men within a few minutes — have enormous profits from London's prosperous "protection money" rackets.

Existence of the underworld empire was revealed to the public during the sensational Penguin Club trial which ended this week.

One woman witness disappeared before she could be called to the stand. Other witnesses said they had to be hidden in outlying hotels under police protection while the trial over the shooting of a night club owner was under way.

Police officers say they are convinced that one man received a five-year sentence for "causing grievous bodily harm" to the murder victim, Jack Spot.

Officials say London's powerful new underworld is as well organized and profitable as large business corporations.

Its leaders dress more like businessmen than the old-fashioned hoodlum. They have a preference for expensive suits and handmade shoes.

One of the main gangs, centred in the dockside east end, has ambitions to move into the territory of another in West London's theatrical Soho district.

It's the east end gang that's rumored to have the "minute men"—plus an armory of machine guns, hand grenades and tear gas guns.

Norway Protests U.S. Using Base For Spy Flights

OSLO (AP)—Norway formally protested today to the United States against the alleged plan of landing a plane at Bodo airfield after an espionage flight over Soviet Russia.

Foreign Minister Halvard Lange told Parliament that this morning he had called the U.S. ambassador in Oslo, Miss Frances E. Willis, to his office and delivered the protest on behalf of the Norwegian government.

"At the same time I asked the American government to take all necessary steps to prevent similar plans of landing espionage planes in Norway being made."

Pilot Francis Powers' plan to land in Russia was reported by Nikita Khrushchev, who said also the destination marked on a map found among the wreckage of an American —2 after it was shot down May 1 by a Soviet rocket.

The U.S. said admitting that Powers was on an intelligence-gathering flight, has not confirmed that he was to land at Bodo on the way.

Lange had said previously that Norway was not informed that Powers was planned to fly to Bodo. He said that while Norway is a member of the North Atlantic Alliance, its airfields are not open to NATO planes which violate the territory of other states.

U.S. Fails in Plan to Put in Orbit Balloon Big as 10-Storey Building

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States tried but apparently failed today in an effort to sail a giant balloon satellite in orbit around the earth as a reflector for long radio waves.

The experiment, called Project Echo, will be tried again later in the day. The ultimate aim is a procession of 100-foot aluminum-coated plastic spheres circling the planet as a communications backboards for worldwide communications.

Today's balloon, collapsed inside a 26½-inch magnesium ball, got off to a good start when it started at 3:16 a.m. EDT on the nose of a towering Thor-Delta rocket. The aim was to eject the balloon and inflate it as big as a 10-storey building, at orbit level.

Ground observers saw the second stage rocket take over in the sky some three minutes later, but after that contact was lost.

Scientists said there was a slim chance the payload had gone into an orbit different from the planned path.

But a spokesman said the most likely thing was that the second stage, with the payload still attached, had failed to fire. There were no reliable signals even to indicate that the second stage was detached.

Two hours later scientists at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington reported communications difficulties which left them in the dark about what happened later. One said there had been no radio reports from the 3rd stage of the rocket. This stage, a pingle balloon, its skin covered with even thinner metal, rode up collapsed in a 26½-inch magnesium sphere in the nose of the giant rocket.

NASA estimated the cost of the device, including rocket and payload, at between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. If successful it would have put into orbit the biggest, and by far the heaviest, satellite ever sent aloft.

POLICE PROBING SEVERAL BREAK-INS AT OAK LAKE

Belleville Provincial Police are investigating a series of break-ins at Oak Lake cottages where items of cottage equipment are reported to be missing.

Earlier in the week the cottage of a Stirling man was found to have been entered with an electric range and other items reported missing.

Yesterday cottages of Kenneth Ray, Stirling, and Harry Rogers of Frankford, were reported entered. Among items missing was kitchen chinaware.

Charge Against Motorcyclist Is Withdrawn

A charge of careless driving against motorcyclist Raymond Beaudreau of Toronto was withdrawn from a magistrate's court Thursday, two days after a coroner's jury absolved him of any blame in the traffic death April 16 of Robert Charles Drummond, 10, 129 Foster Ave.

"I read something in last night's paper," said Magistrate T. Y. Wills. "I expected something like this would happen."

A coroner's jury Wednesday night attached no blame to Beaudreau who was driving a motorcycle which struck the boy on Dundas St., East.

So Drunk He Could Not Form Intent to Rob, Man's Defence

Roy Taylor, 33, of 32 1-2 Front Street, pleaded not guilty Thursday when he appeared before Magistrate T. Y. Wills, charged with breaking and entering.

After a lengthy court session the case was remanded to Monday at 10 a.m.

Taylor was charged by city police when a downtown store was discovered May 1 at the Simpsons-Sears warehouse of the corner of Henry and Everett Streets. Taylor was found inside the building under a table. Nothing was taken.

Another man, John Hamilton Collingridge, R.R. 3 Belleville, was charged with the same offence. He has yet to be tried.

The crown alleged Taylor, who testified that he had been intoxicated, wasn't drunk enough that he didn't know what he was doing.

"In the building, we don't find a happy-eyed, staggering drunk," said Crown Attorney John Pringle, "we find a man sitting under a table."

INCAPABLE OF INTENT

The defence, conducted by Robert Vincent Meagher, said Taylor was so intoxicated that he was incapable of forming intention.

"Had Mr. Taylor and Mr. Collingridge planned break into Simpsons-Sears or any other place, I doubt if they would have gone about it this way," said Mr. Temple.

Constable William Stephenson testified that he and Const. Elmer Minaker entered the warehouse shortly after midnight May 1 and found Taylor under a table.

Earlier, Const. Stephenson and Const. Don Temple arrested Collingridge in a car outside.

"Had Collingridge been drinking?" asked Mr. Temple.

"I think so," replied Const. Stephenson, adding that this was his first break-in investigation since joining the city police force one year ago.

"Had Taylor been drinking?" asked Mr. Temple.

"I don't know," said Const. Stephenson.

LIGHT NEARBY

"Did you think that a warehouse with a street light 10 or 15 feet in front of it, one that was pried open was a very good place to break into?" asked Mr. Temple,

"I didn't think so," replied Const. Stephenson.

Inspector J. B. McLauchlan testified that he had interviewed Taylor at about 2 a.m., less than two hours after Taylor and Collingridge were arrested.

"Taylor had been drinking," he said, "but there was no indication of intoxication. Collingridge was in the same condition."

While Mr. Temple was attempting to bring out the nighttime activity on streets in the neighborhood of the warehouse, Magistrate Wills interjected: "I think, Mr. Temple, we are aware that Belleville doesn't close up in midnight like some places."

Taylor, a truck driver, testified that he had started drinking at noon April 30 in a hotel and stopped at 8.30 p.m. for dinner after visiting a number of beverage rooms in Belleville. He resumed his drinking at about 8.30 p.m. and stopped when the beverage rooms closed at 11.30. He said he met Collingridge in a beverage room late in the afternoon and later at night.

"How much would you say you had to drink during the day?" asked Mr. Temple.

DRINKING CONTINUOUSLY

"I don't know for sure," said Taylor, "but I was drinking continuously."

After the beverage rooms closed, he continued drinking elsewhere.

"How much whisky did you drink?" asked Crown Attorney Pringle.

"I don't know."

"Do you remember coming out of the warehouse?"

"Vaguely."

"Did you drink more than three beers an hour in the afternoon?"

"I imagine so. They were draughts."

Mr. Pringle was "concerned" that Taylor could identify the house he visited and the sequence in which he visited them but was unsure about other things.

"I'm wondering when you stopped answering," said the Crown attorney.

Mrs. Taylor, wife of the accused, testified on her husband's behalf.

"If any your husband ever drank to the extent that he has suffered losses of memory?" asked the Crown attorney in cross-examination.

"Yes," she replied, "he certainly has."

Collingridge testified that the last thing he remembered was parking the car on Pinnacle about 9 o'clock.

"I don't remember much of anything that went on after 10 o'clock," he said, "I was past the state (of sobriety)."

Learn to Swim Classes Will Be Big Ones

The registration for the annual "Learn to Swim" classes at the local YMCA indicate that there will be a very heavy attendance. The largest number of requests have been received for beginners but there have been also as a result of this increased interest.

Boys' classes will be held on Tuesday and Friday afternoons with four half-hour classes of 14 pupils each. These will commence at 3.30 p.m. Girls' classes will be held at the same time on Monday and Thursday afternoon starting on May 30th.

Adult classes will be held between the hours of 8.00 and 9.00 o'clock on Tuesdays and Fridays for the men and on Mondays and Thursdays for the women. These classes have not been as heavily subscribed for as the junior classes and there is still room for more adults.

This annual program of the YMCA supplements the contribution it makes as a member of the Quinte Water Safety Council to the Council's water safety and swimming education program. Persons interested should contact the YMCA.

Judo Becomes Popular Sport 'Y' Centre of Activities Here

The records say Chinese monks in the centuries before the Christian era created it.

The Japanese take credit for inventing it. They developed it, polished, further and named jui jitsu by Occidentals.

Professor Jigoro Kano, an Oxford graduate, and a member of the Japanese House of peers, improved upon it — and called his new method judo.

The Chinese priests in their wanderings were often set upon by brigands. Without arms or weapons, the record says, they developed trick holds to subdue their aggressors.

The success of the means of attack and defence attracted the attention of the ancient Japanese. They adopted the methods, improved them and later ridiculously they were the originators.

Jujutso was adopted by the Samurai warriors at least seven centuries before the Christian era and was practised by warriors of the Mikado.

The full story of the jui jitsu long was one of the treasured possessions in the palace of the Mikado. For many centuries the technique of this form of combat remained a secret among the succeeding Mikados.

In more recent times the Mikado's features became public property through publicity given the span of centuries only the privileged class were permitted to learn and practise the art.

There are three different systems and perhaps 300 different movements in jui jitsu, but, the record says, the deadly ones still are known only to the inner circle of masters.

Judo is rapidly gaining popularity in the United States and Canada. Starting in the large cities it is spreading to the small communities where it is actively and being practised by members of both sexes.

The hub of judo, in Ontario at least, is the Hatashita Club here and Toronto, the largest in Canada, and considered one of the best on the continent.

YMCA sports officials have adopted judo and have expressed an opinion. It is heading for a top spot in national athletics.

The Hatashita Club has taken judo to its athletic heart with something akin to pride and are making a marked success of the development of the sport in the city and district.

It is regarded by Mr. Hatashita as one of the best and most progressive clubs in this part of the province — and its record bears out his opinion.

Under the instruction of people like Dr. Dreger and others, it has developed some outstanding judo exponents, not a few of whom are now instructors in their own right.

Take Jim McLaughlin for instance.

McLaughlin entered organized judo at the Y here five years ago—and is now an authorized YMCA instructor.

He is officially associated with the Hatashita Club and is regarded by many as one of the best of the sport at McMaster University.

Judo caught on with the students and 40 turned out for the first class. Surprise was that McLaughlin hopes to have 150 turn out for the sport next season.

McMaster's athletic director, Norm Wyatt there was one of the excellent progress the first year... we are well pleased with the results".

For his work in introducing judo and organizing classes, the university presented McLaughlin with a special merit award.

Dean P. R. Clifford made the presentation pointing out that interest shown in the judo classes was excellent and that this form of athletics under McLaughlin's guidance "faces a bright future".

Purchasing Agents Told of Value Analysis

The final monthly meeting before the summer recess of the Purchasing Agents Association of Eastern Ontario was held at the Hotel Quinte Wednesday.

The speaker for the evening was Mr. Karl Stewart, who is director of purchasing for the Bata Shoe Company.

Mr. Stewart's topic was "Value Analysis" which he defined as sometimes called purchasing research or cost analysis. He stated that it is effectively carried out only through the buyer and the value analysis man, with also being placed on the buyer due to his familiarity with the duties that the vendor has to offer.

Value analysis relates price to functions and the buyer must know the true value of every component in order to have an effective value analysis program.

Mr. Stewart stated that value analysis means to get the maximum value for every dollar of the company's money that is spent, and in order for this program to be a success assistance must be received from all departments concerned.

Briefly Mr. Stewart outlined how a purchasing department should establish a value analysis program.

Mr. Stewart summed up his talk by stating that if the program showed that savings are going to be significant it will not be necessary for it to be management since they will more than eager to buy it.

President Bun Sheffield reviewed briefly the accomplishments of the past year and thanked the various committees and the executive who had assisted him during his term in office.

The slate of officers for the incoming executive was submitted to the group and was voted on and accepted by the Association.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market shot ahead leaps and bounds today.

Industrials jumped more than one and three-quarter points after an hour's trading—the best gain seen for months—with western oils up almost three-quarters of a point and golds ahead a decimal point.

The 11 a.m. volume was 310,000 compared to the 380,000 shares traded at the same time Thursday.

Steels figured prominently amid industrials' buying spree, with Westeel up ¾ at 16½. Atlas Steel up ¼ at 23¾ and Algoma up ¼ at 33¾. National Steel Car, after a few days of successful trading, dropped a point at 15½.

Labrador led mines lower, off ¼ at 18¾, with Cassiar and Noranda off ¼ at 12¾ and 38½, while International Nickel improved ⅜ at 51⅞.

Golds followed the trend set by Kerr Addison up ¼ at 11¾, with Hollinger up ¼ at 22½, while Dome was off ¼ at 31⅜.

The market rallied Thursday after a day of ups and downs.

Index changes: Industrials up 1.06 at 490; golds off .24 at 79.12; base metals up .22 at 152.86, and western oils up 1.01 at 87.29.

Volume was 1,701,000 compared with 1,556,000 Wednesday.

Westeel went ahead ¾ at 16, with Atlas up ¼, Dominion Foundries up ¾ and National Steel Car and United both ahead ½.

Utilities saw mixed trading, Mexican Light and Power ahead two points and Superior Propane ahead ½, while Steelgran lost ¼, International Utilities lost ¼ and Union Gas dropped ⅛.

Papers, banks, oil refiners and oil lines all were higher.

International Nickel was up ⅜ at 51⅞, with Hudson Bay up ⅜ and Noranda ahead ¼.

Denison gained five cents while Gunnar was not mean.

Calgary and Edmonton led western oils to their finest gain for months, up ⅞ at 15, while Bailey Selburn improved 25 cents and Royalite moved up 20 cents.

Weekend Livestock Review

TORONTO (CP) — Slaughter steers were unevenly steady to easier this week at the Ontario public stockyards.

Heifer, yearling, cow and bull prices were steady while vealer calf prices closed strong and hog prices steady to 25 cents per hundredweight higher. Sheep and lamb prices were steady.

Cattle receipts totaled 400 head fewer than last week and about 500 head less than the same week in 1959. Calf receipts were fewer than last week and about 500 head less than the same week in 1959. Cattle receipts from Western Canada numbered 347 head, 111 more than last week, and western stock calves totalled 61 head. Shipments to Eastern Canadian Slaughterers numbered 1,000 cattle and 1,000 calves. There were no exports to the United States.

Slaughter cattle: Choice steers 24; good 22-23; medium 18-21.50; common 15-18; good heifers 20-21 with sales to 21.50 and an odd choice to 22; medium 17 19; common 14-17; choice cows 18; carrying 22-24 with an odd exception top at 24.50; good 20-22; good cows 17 with sales to 17.50; medium 16-17 common 13-16; canner and cutter grades 12-15; good heavy bologna bulls 18 with odd tops to 18.50; common and medium light bulls 14-17.50.

Replacement cattle: Good handyweight slockers mostly 25-26 with sales to 24.50; common and medium 18-22.

Calves: Good vealers 28-31 with choice at 32-34.50; medium 25-27; common, 18-25; boners 12-18.

Hogs: Grade of 22.25 with early week sales at 22.50; heavy sows 15.50; lights 17.50; slags 19 on a dressed weight basis.

Sheep and lambs: Good native feeder lambs 22 cents; good shorn and medium 16-23; good heavy lambs 24; sheep 4-10 according to quality; spring lambs 28-35 per hundredweight.

Discuss Future Extension of High School

TRENTON— Members of the Board of Education met Wed. in Toronto with Dr. R. R. Rendall, provincial superintendent of secondary schools; to discuss the extension of high school facilities in Trenton.

After due consideration of several possibilities, Dr. Rendall expressed a preference for the addition to take the form of a "composite school", which would mean the addition of about 13 classrooms, plus two shops and a cafeteria. The school would accommodate about 1,200 students, and would offer technical courses as a complete commercial course, as well as the general academic course.

There will be a number of government grants available for this type of school, and also grants in connection with transportation of students who live more than two miles from the school.

Dr. Rendall advised the board members to consult a local bus company, rather than set up bus transportation business themselves.

W. R. Stewart, assistant superintendent, Toronto, arrange to have one or two specialists in the subject of composite schools visit the Trenton board.

Details of the interview with Dr. Rendall will be placed before the next meeting of the board with a detailed summary of the estimated cost of such a school.

It was pointed out that there would be little difference in the cost of making the present school into a composite school and that of erecting a new school outside the east side of the river. In the latter case, the board would be faced with acquiring the services of another high school principal and a duplicate staff.

Round Robin Contest Starts Tennis Season

TRENTON — The tennis season gets away to a flying start with a round robin tournament on Trenton Air Station's courts Saturday afternoon, all day Sunday, and Monday and Tuesday evening.

This tour, which is being held to determine the strongest players for entrance into inter-city competition with Peterborough, Oshawa and Kingston, will include the best of the district.

Belleville's entries will be Bill Redquest, Bryan Dr. Mike Walcott, Dr. Tom Woodley, Doug Grant, John and Mike Black, Art Bestic and others, while Trenton will be represented by Ralph Cowan, Wing Cmdr. Tommy Thompson, Bill Muldoon, Bill Templeton, Jerry Ireland and some new entries.

At a recent meeting of the Quinte Tennis League executive it was decided to extend the number of matches and players participating in the round to introducing new players to competition.

All the teams of the Trenton and Belleville area have been consolidated to form a two team league. The Trenton team will consist of players from Trenton, the air station and Batawa, while the tops of Quinte will represent Belleville.

A schedule of 10 weekly matches will be played, the competition to run from May 25 to July 27 is the most extensive in the league's history.

In inter-city competition a determined district team will attempt to win the Grand Challenge from Kingston August 21 and 22. A home-and-away series with Oshawa is tentatively set for July 30 and August 13. Dates are also being arranged for a similar tournament with Peterborough.

Instruction and competitions will also be provided for juniors interested in qualifying for junior tournaments in Ottawa and Toronto.

'No Town Planning' Delays 50-Unit Subdivision Start

TRENTON — The B. E. P. Company, which wants to buy a strip of land east of Byron St. for a street subdivision consisting of more than 50 housing units, has written to town council asking that their offer be extended for a three-month period in order that the plan of the sub-division may be changed to conform with Central Mortgage and Housing standards, and that certain other matters may be cleared up.

One of these "matters" is the fact that a portion of the area is built out onto the road allowance, and that a house on the other side of the road is built so near the road that widening in that direction is prohibited.

"That's what comes of no town planning," said Mayor MacDonald.

"Every time council allows a road allowance to be used by any individual it's discriminating against every other taxpayer in town," said Councillor D. R. Fraser.

"It's incumbent on this council to straighten out road allowances in town. The town will suffer if we lose this subdivision deal.

"We sold a street allowance to Dominic Angelo not long ago," Councillor Lange reminded him.

"Well, it's our right to close a street if we want to," replied Councillor Fraser.

"This is a question of the persons knowingly or inadvertently using the street allowance without permission. From now on I think the buyer of town property should have a survey before he buys," said Mayor MacDonald.

"The town should pay for the survey," Councillor Whitley said.

"That doesn't happen in private business," said Fraser.

"This problem is bigger than this one case. It could go on for another hundred years with people all over town taking down property for their own use. Sooner or later some council is going to have to take a stand."

In the meantime we might lose a development," said Councillor C. V. Graham.

The town needs the assessment. It's a serious matter," he continued.

Councillor Vagn Lange suggested that the town buy replacement land for a street allowance and let the store owner pay for it.

The town engineer, Walter Murray, was instructed to find out how much town land the store owner had built on, and report back to council.

"Why all this consideration for the B.E.P. Company" asked Councillor Whitley. "We want to build houses and the town to let us."

"The B.E.P. wants to build 50 houses," said Councillor Lange. "Well we want to build 150 and that's a good percentage of 50," replied Mr. Whitley.

Council Will Seek Use of RCAF Airfield

TRENTON — At Thursday's committee-of-the-whole meeting of Trenton council, councillors decided to go along with a suggestion from the Belleville Industrial Commission to contact RCAF authorities requesting that the Trenton airport or the airfield at Mountain View be made available to commercial and industrial air traffic and also to a certain amount of pay-as-you-go traffic.

The commission suggested the alternative of building a new airport somewhere in the Trenton-Belleville area.

Councillors thought the use of one of the RCAF airports would bring more trade into Trenton rather than using an airport which might be situated closer to Belleville.

"Let's work Trenton in," said Councillor Graham.

Council agreed that such an arrangement would benefit the Trenton area and attract new industry to the town.

GAS SUPPLY

Public supply of gas in Britain will be cut off for a time in mid-July, it was announced Thursday. The cutoff is initiated with gas lights.

Dept. Comments On Deficits

TRENTON — The department of municipal affairs has written to Trenton council commenting on deficits in the 1960 budgets of various departments of the town.

Last year the board of education had a deficit in the high school budget, the parks board had a $900 deficit in its budget and the Community Gardens Commission worked on $4,000 deficit plus a $5,000 bank overdraft which the town covered.

The board, of education and the parks board have taken their deficits into consideration in their 1960 budgets.

Council will meet with members of the commission to discuss the situation. Councillor Vagn Lange, who also serves as chairman of the gardens commission said that so far this year the situation looks promising. He said the gardens should break even this year.

"Why did the parks board have a deficit?" asked Councillor R. J. Whitley.

O. W. Larry said he thought this was due to the fact that the board had lost money on its later works program last year.

"The town can't afford to build sidewalks, I say to the paper," observed Councillor N. J. Graham.

"Personally, I don't think the board should go along and build sidewalks anywhere without some authority from the town."

SUNDAY LAUNDRY OKAY

May Be Better This Way

If the Associated Press is a true prophet, Eric Louw, South Africa's minister of external affairs, has virtually ended all hope for healing the split amongst Commonwealth countries over the South African policy of apartheid.[1]

He has done this by taking the offensive against critics of his country's racial policies.

It may well be that those who believe in justice owe Mr. Louw a vote of thanks—the first, and probably the last, he will ever receive from them.

We are not at all sure that "healing" the split in the Commonwealth would be anything more than an cumphemism for sitting on the fence.

If all the Commonwealth countries can be prevented from adopting an Asquithian "wait and see" policy, perhaps some of them will be prepared to act when the attacking natives are next shot in the back, as were many of the white killed at Sharpeville.

Somebody will have to act if Africa is not to see a bloodbath. If reports of the situation there are true, Donald Gordon, son of the CNR president, writes that "hard-faced men" have made their appearance in native settlements. These are experts in revolt. Gordon says that in the recent series of protests the natives were unarmed, except for sticks and stones. The white policemen and soldiers withheld their fire, except in instances where frustration drove the natives to futile violence. Then stones were answered by bullets. Next time, says Gordon, the bullets will be copper, not Gandhi's passive resistance but the tactics of guerrillas, trained by men who learned these tactics the hard way. The result will almost certainly be a massacre of the natives, if Gordon is right. But the history of revolt should teach us that, even today, nationalistic majorities are not to be suppressed by better-armed forces. One massacre will breed another, unless some nation or groups of nations steps in to call a halt. Perhaps Mr. Louw has shoved the required peace-enforcer off the fence. Time will tell.

Proud Moment In Naval History

The completion of the first under water circumnavigation of this old world of ours is certainly an event worthy of mention in history. In accomplishing that feat the atomic-powered submarine Triton was underwater for almost 83½ days and travelled close to 42,000 miles. This is quite a feat, especially if one disregards whatever military significance might be attached to the episode. Elementary mathematics indicate that the Triton, a 7,750-ton submarine, averaged almost 21 miles an hour during her underwater journey.

These figures call for an interesting and, we hope, not completely, academic contemplation of the possibility of commercial shipping being conducted under the surface, thus relieving the seas of the oceans of the world. According to the latest figures we have available the average ocean freighter maintains an average speed of some 15.5 miles per hour. It is also subject to the change of the elements and many a ship has been sunk during a storm.

Underwater, however, there is little effect from the wrath of the elements above. Submarines have been known to ride out rough water simply by submerging, just as an aircraft might fly above the clouds. It will be most interesting to see if such will be the great advantage lines of the world take to the construction of underwater ships to carry the cargoes of the world.

We might be excused at this point if we should comment that the United States has proven her preeminence in underwater craft during Canada's Centennial Week in which the Golden Jubilee of the Royal Canadian Navy is being observed. It might also be noted that the Canadian Navy is recognized as the leading navy of the free world for anti-submarine equipment and tactics.

REQUIREMENTS OF SAVIOURHOOD

"He emptied Himself" (Philippians 2:7).

This was written of Jesus. In that vast realm beyond, which we designate by the name "heaven," the Son of God had enjoyed kingly privileges far exceeding anything the human mind could imagine. There was the sense of boundless power and sufreing supremacy, His divine Being fully satisfied Himself to become incarnate and to live the life of a common man on the earth. He suffered an ignominious death. God raised him in splendor, and the Son then returned to exercise the majestic powers which had been His from the beginning.

It is always the course of the saviourhood that the saviour must empty himself. The man who sets out to be the saviour of his country in the grim hour of battle has to empty himself. He may be only one of a vast army and his rank may be nothing at all, but the responsibility rests upon him. Likewise, the parent who becomes the children with complete devotion empties himself or herself of many things that would be natural steps in to take pleasure in the hour of crisis puts all thought of self aside that he may give himself completely to the task before him and relies upon him.

Jesus was the Saviour of the world. You and I in our way are saviours. Originally we were created in the image of God. As Christian believers we come to partake of the image of Jesus Christ. Our lives, if we are faithful, are fashioned after His likeness.

"He emptied Himself." Thus we find the secret to the requirement of Saviourhood.

Biological Warfare

Condensed from an article by Dr. Brock Chisholm in Journal of the Atomic Scientists

Assurances from some military authorities that they are able to defend their citizens do not speak for how they proposed to deal with possible biological attack. Certainly nonexistent military methods of defence would be quite useless.

There are many possible biological weapons. Botulinus toxin is probably the most widely known, and not influenza, brucellosis, disease, plague, cholera, smallpox, typhus whereas not many defences have been experimented with.

It is likely known that at Porton in England as at Fort Detrick in the U.S. and at Suffield in Canada, large institutions are devoted to the development of such weapons and to defences against them. Of the known threats are and how effective such defences would be in practice is not publicly known.

Of course the major problem is the practice of biological warfare is distribution.

Aerosol sprays have been used from U.S. Navy submarines and have covered very large areas, but as with other methods have not been announced. Another useful method is to drop, from a plane, something like the pollen from trees, which can be distributed over great areas.

One method of such distribution, multiply local attacks, would be particularly suitable in the use of Botulinus toxin. This material is not an extraordinarily potent, but it is oxidized in air within a few hours, and so does not contaminate ground, nor does it propagate itself as in the case of a living organism, only a poison.

Breathed in, on lips, in eyes, in food, or in fluids it is fatal in microscopic doses and within six hours. Death is painful as it acts directly on the central nervous system, producing convulsions.

Let us suppose, for instance, that "Ruritania", or any other country, or for that matter any ideally powerful group, including good biologist, a few appropriately experienced physicians who had not contaminate ground, nor does it propagate itself as in the case of a living organism, only a poison.

Breathed in, on lips, in eyes, in food, or in fluids it is fatal in microscopic doses and within six hours. Death is painful as it acts directly on the central nervous system, producing convulsions.

Let us suppose, for instance, that "Ruritania", or any other country, or for that matter any ideally powerful group, including good biologist, a few appropriately experienced physicians who had perhaps worked in penicillin or other biological production, had a laboratory for distribution, should become convinced that North America was in need of such a lesson in humility and respect for other peoples. Botulinus toxin would be ideally useful for that purpose.

The simplest way of using it would be to send any one hundred persons, all perfectly healthy, to be tested to the U.S. and Canada, not at all difficult to do and any reasonable number, of course, be sent if many more were desired, without detection.

Each of these persons would carry a few pounds of Botulinus toxin which could be carried in a body belt with practically no risk of detection. They would then distribute themselves over the countries to all major cities, railway centres, airports, railway centres, air force, military, naval and atomic bomb centres etc., and at a prearranged time, say, for example, between 4 and 6 a.m. each would take a small private plane from a local airport.

Many such planes can be hired for export, unsuspected even locked.

With a very simple, easily made apparatus, any city could be sprayed with the toxin about a time.

Depending on the density of the population, the time of distribution, for instance, to catch the commuters, the relative amount of toxin released, the weather, and the like, the fatalities might range from a figure as low as 40 percent to a high of nearly 100 percent. Many fatalities, of course, would result from panic and the flight of any survivors.

Clearly all transportation would be frozen, roads and railways blocked by crashed cars. There could be no effective communication between communities, nationally or even internationally, nor any police or military control.

* * *

Unless "Ruritania" or whoever had initiated the attack, could assume responsibility, which would not be likely and perhaps not believed if it did, the whole world in all probability be blamed on the U.S.S.R. The latter would be expected to be dragged from foreign bases. Whether they too had not been dusted, would be sent on their way against the prepared enemy.

Retaliation from the U.S.S.R. would be automatic and immediate. The results would be fatal for hundreds of millions of people all over the world, and the doom of civilization as we know it would be inevitable.

In the face of such possibilities as these, we are being assured, that our military are equipped, or should be equipped, to defend us from any enemies, although it would seem that the most they can really hope to do is retaliate, after most of us, and of them, are dead.

If our governments have any effective means of protection from a sneak biological attack, surely the co-operation of all would be necessary and it does not influenza, brucellosis, dis- we should know what our role is to be, or do we just die quietly? The booklet: "What You Should Know About Biological Warfare", produced by the civil defence organization of the government of the U.S., is not convincing that any effective defence is available.

Our governments are not at all fooling any potential enemies by their preparations, which they surround the facts of biological warfare. Our governments are fooling only us, their own people, not anybody else and apparently for the purpose of maintaining the myth of the value of military preponderance in ensuring our security.

* * *

Unless our governments can give us an assurance of peace, or at least effective protection, for convincingly than any of them has done yet, or has shown any signs of being able to do, we shall have to accept as a fact that they cannot protect us now, or probably ever again, and that we must look for our security for their own people.

Syd Discovers He Is Really A Lousy Driver

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

I wish I knew a book for those who drives an automobile, for pleasure or for work, would read from cover to cover, "Proficient Full World of the Automobile."

I am sure such a book is not nothing about racing, or watching races. I am as ignorant as a cow about racing cars, the technical aspects of automobiles.

But I am sick and tired of being and valuable for three important reasons: (1) it made me realize how poorly I drive, (2) it made me realize how unsafe my driving habits are, and (3) it confirmed my previous view that most books, especially those in the U.S. last year — are the most shocking and needless blot on contemporary publishing.

Purely lovers cars and understand them. He is one of America's pre-eminent writers in the field. What he has to say about the way we drive should point out of affection and respect for automobiles, and for knowledge, skill and experience. Drivers like you and me are his favorites. He is scarcely as racing experts: an 1,000,000 of us have paid with our lives for the right to drive in the 20th century. More Americans have died in car accidents than in all our wars since 1776.

I thought I knew how to drive a car until I read Syd's book; in fact, I considered myself a superior driver. Now I see I am a bum. I never really learned to drive a car; I was merely lucky. My chances right now are 50-50 that I will be involved in a serious accident before I complete my lifetime. (The chances are 10-to-1 that a motorist in any will return unwounded.)

Did you know that the little car is considerably safer than the big one? I didn't. If you are going to hit a brick wall, Syd points out, there is more danger of getting killed in a tank than in a Volkswagen. Also, "small cars don't "hold the road" any better than the light ones." The big auto, with limited horsepower, is safer both before and during an accident.

Why aren't automobiles built automatically so that drivers will respond. If the public demands it in sufficient numbers, Public Interest requires the makers to concentrate on luxury items such as power brakes, power steering, electric window lifts, and electric clocks; when what we should demand are crash-padding on the dash, safety belts, collapsible steering columns, and airplane type doors.

But let's not blame the makers. Let's blame ourselves. We know nothing about cars except how to gas and the color. Let's learn.

Collect Hair For Industry

Munich Suddeutsche Zeitung reports that hair is used in many jobs to hair collectors. A recent law orders that all hair cut by barbers and hairdressers shall be saved carefully and deposited twice a month at a central office where women sort it according to length. Short hairs are sent to stuffing factories and chemical industries. Long hairs are used by the textile industries.

MEDICINE HAS MADE GIANT STRIDES IN DISEASE PREVENTION

"Dear Dr. Molner. A recent article on Thomas Edison reminded me of a statement he once made. 'The doctor of the future will give no medicine but will interest his patients in the care of the human frame and in the cause and prevention of disease.' "What did he mean — O.C."

Why ask me? I didn't say it!

However, I'll stick my neck out and guess. I question whether Mr. Edison, who was a practical shrewd gentleman, meant that the statement should be taken literally. He probably presented it as a goal towards which to strive.

And in this, I quite agree with him. If we could learn everything about the body, and care of it, and about the causes of disease, and prevention of all these causes, then nobody would get sick and we wouldn't need any medicine.

I'm sure Edison didn't expect this to happen in the next Tuesday.

But then we've come a considerable distance in this direction in some specific instances. Now we have just about put an end to smallpox, so we don't need smallpox vaccine. I wonder how long it is going to take us to do the same with polio. We have the vaccine; all we need is the good sense to use it.

We've nearly upheld a rare disease by cleaning up our water, milk and food supplies. At the same time we have eliminated or made rare many other diseases.

Influenza and other respiratory diseases still afflict us, but we have made obvious headway against them.

Understanding (and following) the principles of hygiene has to scurvy, rickets, pellagra and a host of others which used to afflict us.

We have reduced deaths at childbirth to a low minimum indeed; we have reaped the benefits of vaccination against whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus.

We haven't done as much as we might have in preventing rheumatic fever and heart disease, although we have learned a great deal about curing them. We are thoroughly convinced that with a 10-year "crash program" using the tools we already have ready know, we could close nine-tenths of our TB hospitals.

I think all of the foregoing is the essence of what Edison meant.

He was canny enough to phrase it in such a way that caught your interest. Good for him!

If he'd merely said we ought to pay more attention to preventive medicine, nobody would have listened to him — No!

"Dear Dr. Molner: I take two to three milk of magnesia tablets every day, for hyperacidity. Are they harmful?"

"Also is there any danger in using suppositories once or twice a week? — B. S."

There's no particular harm in milk of magnesia tablets, but you that you find out why you have this "hyperacidity." Perhaps you have an ulcer or some other condition that might better be definite treatment. An occasional dyserin suppository is not dangerous. It's better than a daily habit. I wonder if you really "need" as many as you think. Sometimes patience for another day or two reveals that nature is still on the job, even if it is all on the tardy side for a time.

Kind Words From Detroit

Detroit Free Press

In this large-page about a Canadian discounting of United States coins and paper money should be entered into the record, and which may not enter a Detroiter's contemplation at the taste.

Whatever and on whichever side these topics have been, and whatever reception United States coins have received in Canada has not been readily negotiable in the United States, except close by the border.

Detroit is the when the discount ran well in favor of the United States, you still couldn't get a cup of coffee downtown or a New York delicatessen proprietor would accept a dime where in places such as Detroit or Buffalo a Canadian coin, no its face extremely runneth. has been given the certain thrift and free trade ling or Confederate shin-plaster unless you were willing to pay for it a bank for formal exchange.

It's a point to remember in weighing the aspersion which has been cast upon our money — if indeed it is one.

ON DEFEATING DEFEAT

The expert driver is the one who realizes all the time how few expert drivers there are.

The truly inexpert driver is the one — and there are millions of him and her — who goes whooshing along in the fatuous assumption that he is a better driver than the other fellow.

Last year in Canada, which has a higher accident rate than countries per capita in which lot more attend to safety, 3,213 were killed and 84,374 injured in 241,685 motor traffic accidents.

The chances are that the very great majority of those involved in this massive casualty list were drivers who considered themselves without question to be expert drivers. If you asked them, they would tell you so.

The chances are that, few, a very few, of those involved were in fact expert drivers who could qualify for the title by someone else. But they must have been rare indeed.

You and I do not have to do it figure your mind the characteristics of main highways — travelling in two directions with endless torrents of cars, each in the tail of another, overtaking, dodging, passing, and every single one of their drivers trusting to God that everybody else in the stampede is an expert who knows every split-second of each minute of each hour exactly what he is doing.

The casualty list measures the fact that our roads. Copyright: Canada Wide

Artificial Kidney Helping Patients Back to Health

VANCOUVER (CP)—An artificial kidney—one of two in Canada—is helping patients back to health in Vancouver General Hospital.

The machine, known as a dialyser, requires the attention of three orderlies, three doctors and three nurses — all specially trained for the job.

It is used primarily for treatment of Bright's disease, which causes the kidneys to stop functioning and fills the blood with uremic poison.

To rest the patient's diseased kidneys, a vein in the wrist is tapped and the poisoned blood in the body drains into the drum-like receptor standing at the bedside.

The blood then is filtered to remove impurities and returned back through the wrist at the regular rate of body flow.

The treatment usually lasts about three weeks, during which time the patient's kidneys become thoroughly rested and may heal of their own accord. Without the artificial kidney, death would probably result.

The only other dialyser in Canada is at Toronto General Hospital.

Dr. Russell A. Palmer of Vancouver General saw the plans for the artificial kidney in The Netherlands in 1947. He brought the plans here and had the apparatus built.

"Since then we've used it at least 100 times, with an average of eight or nine patients a year suffering acute kidney damage."

Observers Believe Nikita Will Slow Down Propaganda

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Has Nikita Khrushchev passed the peak of his propaganda barrage over the American spy plane incident, or is the greatest crescendo still to come?

Some observers believe Khrushchev will slow down now lest he push his posture of outrage so far he will wreck all chance of making further gains at the summit meeting in Paris next week.

Diplomats point out that Khrushchev has already reaped tremendous propaganda benefits around the world. But they say that if he continues his verbal pummelling of the United States indefinitely on this one issue, people may become surfeited and even more cynical than they are now.

He might make it impossible for President Eisenhower to deal with him at the summit and later to go through with his planned trip to Russia. The world could return to the worst aspects of the cold war — something that has been against Khrushchev's diplomatic aims.

But the Moscow words of the Soviet premier as quoted by Tass give little indication that he is moderating his tone.

Instead, he continues the threat about taking to the United Nations Security Council the "question of the aggressive intrusion of an American plane within the confines of our country."

"If the Security Council — on which apparently pressure will be exerted by the United States — does not take the right decision, we shall raise the matter in the UN General Assembly."

It's early and startling — to imagine Khrushchev, in the role of outraged innocence, denouncing the U.S. in a return appearance before the 82-member General Assembly. That's where last September he kicked off his disarmament challenge which has been in world headlines nearly ever since. It's one of the best sounding boards in the world.

Three Cafeterias At High Schools Not Paying Way

High school students taking their noon meals at cafeterias in Belleville high schools are having their eating costs subsidized by the Bay of Quinte District High School Board.

This is noted in the annual auditor's report covering the Bay of Quinte District High School Board which was presented to city council Wednesday evening.

Cost to the board for operation of the three cafeterias at B.C.I., St. Quinte Secondary and at Moira Secondary School when operated only for a brief period last year, amounted to $4,773.

Revenue at the Collegiate cafeteria resulting from sales amounted to $8,362 with $2,433 being received from the board to assist in operating. Revenue at the Quinte cafeteria was $14,940 with $2,168 being received from the board. Food costs at B.C.I. were $7,072 and at Quinte $13,184, while wages amounted to $3,260 for B.C.I. cafeteria and $3,547 at Quinte.

Eight Cadets From District To Graduate

Amongst the nearly 140 officer cadets comprising the graduating class at the Royal Military College at Kingston this year there will be eight from this area. Those receiving Queen's Commissions as Lieutenants in the Canadian Army on the May 20th graduation ceremonies will include William Carter of Belleville (commerce and economics), Stanley Franklin of Bloomfield (electrical engineering) and Ronald James of Brighton (commerce).

A number will receive Queen's Commissions as Flying Officers in the RCAF together with their degrees. Local recipients include James Cooling of Trenton (general science), Hugh Ray of Trenton (general science), Robert Jordan of Belleville (electrical engineering), David Jllingspon of Trenton (honors science-physics) and Peter Robson of Belleville (political and economic science).

These graduating officer cadets will be amongst the second graduating class from RMC since it was elevated to university status. Degrees will be conferred on those who have taken general and honors arts courses and the general science course.

The Honorable George R. Pearkes, VC, Minister of National Defence, will confer the degrees and present diplomas and Queen's Commissions to the graduates in his capacity of President of the College. Commodore D. W. Piers, DSC, RCN is the commandant of the College and will give the opening address. The Honorable Leslie M. Frost, Premier of Ontario, will deliver the convocation address.

AWAY ALL RUNNERS — Above may be seen the start of the sixth harrier race held at Quinte Secondary School yesterday afternoon. The winner, Bill Vermilyea, a grade 10 student who also won the BCIVS harrier race recently, may be seen at the left. In the inset the winner may be seen crossing the finish line after a record time of 11.24 minutes.

Bill Vermilyea Breaks Record In Winning Race

The unwary passer-by could quite easily have suffered an unpleasant end yesterday afternoon if he had been casually walking past the entrance to the Quinte Secondary School at about 3:10 p.m. It was at that moment that around 300 eager youths took off at the sound of the starter's gun to compete in the school's sixth annual harrier race.

For a brief period after the sharp crack of the starting pistol, fired by school principal, Alden Lemman Leslie Reid, the thoughts of the observer where displaced by the soft thunder of some 600 hurrying, scurrying feet as they rounded the turn at the start and headed west along College Street.

The 2.3-mile course wound its way through Belleville suburbia and ended with the competitors returning back along College St. in an easterly direction having the long climb up the hill before reaching the finishing line.

Bill Vermilyea, completing the course in 11:24 minutes, set his second harrier record of the year. In this instance he broke his own previous record of 12:17 set in 1959. He has also taken the honors in setting a new record for the annual BCIVS harrier held last week.

Alex McNaught came in second with a time of 11:50, also better than last year's record, followed by Bruce Symons in third place. In the various class groupings the first three men were: grade 9 — Bruce Symons, Ron Werden and Jim Middleton; grade 10 — Bill Vermilyea, Alan McNaught and GeofeGrady; grade 11 — Mike Stubbert, Gerald Pletzer and Gordon Starrlott; grades 12 and 13 (combined) — Alex McNaught, Bill Wood and Gerald McKeown.

The winning class award was won by form 10-G. Runners-up were forms 13C and 11C. Among the runners completing the course were six girls, Vlasta Rabel placing first amongst the fairer sex. The slowest finishers took about 20 minutes, a bit longer than it would have taken an infantry platoon to march the distance.

Need Not Burn Down House To Kill Bugs-Mr. K.'s Belief

This is the last of a series of four articles on best week's summit conference

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Nikita Khrushchev has sayings to fit almost any occasion. For the summit meeting next week it's: "To kill the bugs one needn't burn down the house."

This attitude seemed to dominate the Soviet premier's tactics in advance of the summit meeting opening Monday in Paris.

Khrushchev, patently, still aims at world domination. But achieving it by force could risk burning down the whole house in a nuclear war.

To that extent, it might be said that Khrushchev sincerely wants peace. Why, then, his belligerent blasts at the West, such as the one before the Supreme Soviet last week?

For one thing, the West indicates it will resist a par Soviet ics —a peace imposed on the world on Soviet terms. For another, there are impatient forces in the background in the Communist world, nagging at Khrushchev and threatening to force him into repeating Stalin's old mistakes.

Communism, a dynamic movement, risks stagnation if it stands still. Khrushchev seems to feel it has plenty of room to move elsewhere than in Europe while it pursues a dogged, long-range attack on NATO's foundations. A factor behind Khrushchev's eccentric peace offensive and evident anxiety for a summit meeting seemed to have been a wish to give the momentum to drive against the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Its liquidation, if it was to be achieved at all, would take time.

One reason for NATO's existence was a Stalin mistake. His grab for Berlin and openly warlike posture frightened the West into close military co-operation.

Khrushchev's thrusts have been mostly tactical, political feints, showing little inclination to repeat Stalin's errors. Only in an atmosphere of relaxed tension would Khrushchev hope to pull NATO apart.

Yet Khrushchev's blast last week could hardly be considered a contribution to relaxed tension. Perhaps there was more to it that time than just the familiar Communist procedure: advance and retreat, threat and blandishment.

There are strong indications that Khrushchev's all-out peace offensive tactics have been challenged within his own party and among the Soviet allies.

Khrushchev, as many a Communist statesmen has testified, had seemed confident that the balance of political authority was ringing to the Communist side throughout the uncommitted world. His plan seemed to have been to sustain enough pressure to focus world attention on Berlin and Germany, but not enough to upset the peaceful coexistence applecart.

Perhaps Khrushchev still does not want to burn down the house to get at the bugs. But it was possible that the impatient ones with whom he must deal had thrust a sledge-hammer into his hands. And with it, Khrushchev may have damaged severely the delicate peaceful coexistence structure he had been building so carefully for the last several years.

Most Canadian Women Interested in Marriage

REGINA (CP) — Women must accept the responsibilities that go with the rights they have fought for, says Mrs. Harry S. Quart of Sillery, Que., national president of the Women's Progressive Conservative Association.

"A great many women concentrate on rights too much and have fallen down on assuming and accepting the responsibilities that go with these rights.

"Our task ahead is not only to convince the men as much as to educate the unconverted masses of women who are too apathetic and complacent."

Mrs. Quart was interviewed during a visit here following her return from Argentina where she was vice-chairman of a meeting of the UN commission on the status of women.

Most Canadian women were more interested in marriage than a career and didn't want to "storm parliament."

But they could combine their jobs as wife and mother with that of custodian of democracy.

"A woman interested in the affairs of her country thinks of the future of her children and her family. She develops a tremendous sense of justice. . . . The many organizations through which she serves are valuable links between governments on all levels. Through them she can make men's views known to the legislatures and councils."

Women could not be the rivals of men. "They should not be regarded as militant suffragettes nor a group of frustrated females." They should join men as partners. In public life, working together "to hold fast to basic spiritual principles and values that to exert influence to preserve a democratic way of life."

UNITED CHURCH WMS

WEST HUNTINGDON— Mrs. Frank Hammond entertained the members of the United Church WMS on Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance present.

Mrs. Russell Sills presided over the program. Mrs. Atmood offered prayer and Mrs. Hubert Gilbert read the Scripture lesson.

Donna and Sharon Hammond gave a duet.

Mrs. Hammond had charge of the Bible study. Mrs. John Moorcroft gave a reading. Mrs. Ted Pollock had charge of the study book, followed by Mrs. Alex McCurdy who gave a reading on temperance.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bernard Warkentin are pictured cutting the wedding cake following their marriage in Albert College Chapel, Belleville. The bride is the former Miss Janice Mae Kiser, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Warkentin of Belleville R.R. 3. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Warkentin of Belleville R.R. 3. WARKENTIN — KISER

Tall white standards of white chrysanthemums mingled with red carnations, accented by wide satin ribbons, adorned the chancel of Albert College chapel, each white satin bow centred with red carnations and laurel leaves designated the guest pews for a lovely, double-ring wedding on Saturday, April 30 at 3 p.m. when Janice Mae Kiser, Belleville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Leo Kiser, became the bride of Ronald Bernard Warkentin, of Belleville R.R. 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Warkentin. The Rev. W. Ross Livesay, pastor of College Street United Church, officiated.

Miss Carolyn Belcour, of Belleville, guest organist, rendered the wedding music, "O Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride — marriage by her father, Mr. Nelson Kiser, the bride was radiantly lovely in her bouffant, floor-length bridal gown of sparkling white Chantilly lace over ice blue taffeta. The molded bodice featured a sweetheart neckline, outlined with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, and sheath-like sleeves ended in "V" points over the wrists. She wore a pillbox bridal headdress encrusted with pearl, iridescent sequins, fingertip veil of silk tulle illusion, and carried a white Bible crested with red Sweetheart roses mingled with lily-of-the-valley, and white satin streamers knotted with Sweetheart roses on cluster ends of ivy.

Mrs. Dale Balcanquel, of Belleville, R.R. 7, as matron of honor, wore a waltz-length gown of cornflower blue nylon over taffeta embossed in white, fashioned with fitted bodice having a Sabrina neckline, matching picture hat, blue gloves and white shoes.

The bridesmaid, Miss June Frederick, of Belleville, cousin of the bride, was in pink silk organza fashioned with a waltz-length featuring a molded bodice with Sweetheart neckline, with ruffle trimming, accented by back flowing panels; pink picture hat, matching pink gloves and white shoes. Both carried garland cascades of tawny gold roses, white heart and gems.

Little Pamella Flindall, as flower girl, was demure and sweet in her embroidered yellow organdy frock over taffeta with high neckline, short puff sleeves and knee-length full skirt. She wore a tiny, embroidered "callot" type of hat of matching material, white shoes, white socks, and carried a pink basket of yellow and white mums and yellow streamers accented by yellow bows of satin ribbon.

Master John Kiser, of Belleville, younger brother of the bride, was the page. There was navy in his blue suit with white boutonniere.

Mr. Robert Roamtree, of Detroit, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was groomsman, while Mr. Jay Kiser, elder brother of the bride, and Mr. Dale Balcanquel, both of Belleville, were ushers.

The reception was held in the Sunday School auditorium of Tabernacle United Church, Belleville, where the bride's mother and the bridegroom's mother received the guests. The former was attired in a pale blue sheath with matching hat and purse; beige shoes and gloves, and corsage of pink Sweetheart roses, while the latter wore a black suit with pink hat, white blouse and gloves, with black accessories, and corsage of red Sweetheart roses.

Trish ride's table was appropriately appointed with white damask and centred by a three-tier, pedestal wedding cake, topped with a tiny bride and bridegroom, and misted about the base with pale pink tulle. A large floral arrangement of orchid and white chrysanthemums and the bridal bouquets added a delightful touch to the table.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Dovey, to which the bridegroom responded.

For the wedding trip to Toronto, the bride chose a royal blue suit with white feather hat, white blouse and gloves, black accessories and corsage of white orchid and fern petals with white satin bow.

Guests attended from Foxboro, Belleville, Detroit, Burlington and Montreal.

Previous to her marriage the bride was entertained at two miscellaneous showers, one at the home of Mrs. Dale Balcanquel, and one at the home of Mrs. Ronald Bernard, both of Belleville, and also at a linen shower given by Miss June Frederick, of Belleville.

The staff of the Belleville Credit Union wish to extend gratitude of a white and blue satin bedspread.

'The Refugee' Topic at WMS Meet

The regular monthly meeting of Afternoon Auxiliary, Bridge St. WM.S., convened in the Sunday School room of church with a good attendance. Preceding the opening of the meeting, the pianist, Mrs. Perry, played quiet music.

The president conducted a short devotional. She spoke of the death of Miss Bowers, a valued faithful member and also informed that the Society had been left the sum of $500 by the late Miss McMartin .She also expressed her pleasure regarding the success of the luncheon and thanked all whose efforts had made it the gratifying gathering it had been.

The secretary, Mrs. Wisbert, reported the receipts from the luncheon as $237.56. There were the gross receipts with several bills not yet settled, it was not possible to announce the net proceeds, Mrs. Finkle had forwarded $240, to the headquarters after the Thank-Offering meeting.

Miss Adsett, literature secretary announced the title for the study book for next year "Into All the World Together."

Mrs. Ray Sharpe, stewardship secretary, stressed the need of stewardship education in our lives all year round, which means by the end of June, she asked that the July and August offering be brought to the June meeting if possible.

Her closing thought was entitled "Power," which followed by a short quotation from it:

"The power of stewardship resides in the multiplied increase of the gift when dedicated to God. He uses what one gives to feed multitudes even as He used the lad's loaves and fishes. What does God do with the fruits of faithful giving? He translates our time and money into churches, schools, hospitals, printing presses, communicating systems, missionaries, moral comfort and strength to people everywhere."

Mrs. MacDonald reported having sent 28 cards, in speaking of the bridegroom, groomsman, while Mr. Jay Kiser, elder brother of the bride, and Mr. Dale Balcanquel, both of Belleville, were ushers.

The reception was held in the Sunday School auditorium of Tabernacle United Church, Belleville, where the bride's mother and the bridegroom's mother received the guests. The former was attired in a pale blue sheath with matching hat and purse; beige shoes and gloves, and corsage of pink Sweetheart roses, while the latter wore a black suit with pink hat, white blouse and gloves, with black accessories, and corsage of red Sweetheart roses.

TV Talent Caravan' Winner to Sing Here

Homer James, possessor of a dramatic tenor voice and one of the most versatile and amiable artistic crusades, as well as a popular radio and recording artist will appear in the person Saturday evening at the Youth For Christ rally to be held in the Masonic Temple.

Mr. James made his first transcontinental tour at the age of 18, singing in churches and summer conferences, and was associated with the Reverend Leighton Ford, associate of the Evangelist, Billy Graham. He has travelled to many countries of the world, during the Graham Crusade with Billy Graham, Stuart Hamblen and Cliff Barrows, being soloist on the "World of Life."

Out of 400 auditioned in Ontario for the TV program, "Talent Caravan", he was chosen for one part, and winner of the Ottawa program and also of the finals.

A film, "The Power of the Resurrection," awarded the 1959 Academy Award will also be shown, portraying the life of the Apostle Paul, as found in the New Testament.

Local Women Teachers Group Hears Talk on 'Indian Life'

The Belleville members of the Federation of Women Teachers of Ontario held their dinner meeting on Tuesday at Tabernacle United Church.

A delectable turkey dinner was served and the enjoyment of the women was expressed by Miss Barbara Brown at its conclusion. She also thanked the ladies of the church for their thoughtful co-operation at all times.

Mrs. Shetler, who introduced the guest speaker, suggested that often our picture of the North American Indian was of over two hundred years ago, and that the speaker, Mr. L. Claus, with his topic "Indian Life in Modern Times," would help bring us more up-to-date.

She explained that being a farmer, agriculturist and trapper, and now a teacher of the Tyendinaga Reserve, made him qualified to speak on the topic.

Mr. Claus explained that in one-time, all he knew about his people, the Iroquois Indians, was what he had learned in limited quantity from text books at school.

MANY FACTS UNTRUE

Feeling he should know more of his people, he began, years ago, he began earnest research in the field, and now knows many facts he had formerly learned were quite untrue.

The Indian Reserve, under the department of Indian Affairs, is a unique experiment in the history of Canada.

The story of the tribe, who had a voice in tribal affairs, were self-governing, and cared for children until they reached the age of 10 years at which time the children were taught the basic skills to the boys.

Mr. Claus remarked that the suggestion that poor hunting during winters resulted in the starvation of many, did not correspond with the fact the Iroquois Indian was essentially a vegetarian.

They dehydrated many varieties of fruit and vegetables and stored them in hand-made baskets and bags for consumption during the winter months.

He disclosed that North American Indians are the originators of such foods as baked beans, succotash, corn meal, pumpkin pie, tapioca, and about twenty varieties of corn.

STORIES COLORED

Many of the misconceptions formed by white people in these people resulted from the fact that in many cases, not the Indian, but the white man, told the tale. Their stories were colored for their own benefit, he said.

Mr. Claus added it is only in the past that the Indian's research in this field has been started.

But what of the Indian today? he queried.

Factors such as the Bay of Quinte District, where discrimination is at a minimum, the life of the Indian of today is, on the whole, like that of his white neighbor.

The children attend well-run schools and many are continuing into areas of higher learning.

The most difficult plans have taken their place, he said. They have outstanding representatives in teaching, medicine, the military, ballet, acting, atomic science and engineering.

One of many examples; cited by Mr. Claus was that of Dr. Oronhyatekha, a full-blood Indian of Six Nations Band. Dr. Mooney has represented Canada and the United Nations on over twenty economic commissions in his field of geology and mines engineering.

Most Indians are self-supporting and do not have to pay either income or property tax while living on a reserve, the speaker stated.

They receive free education and every year substantial assistance towards higher learning. Medical assistance is provided, and they receive hunting and fishing privileges.

HAVE NO VOTE

However, they have no vote and are not actual owners of property on which they live. They are not able to take out mortgages and in poorer areas, because of assistance granted, do not have a true incentive to improve conditions.

The Indian of today is a victim of poor publicity he said. Often he is still thought of as "running about wearing a headdress of feathers."

Minor revolutions, which are great attempts of attention are usually the voice of uneducated tribal members rather than the feelings of the tribe, as a whole, he said.

Mr. Claus stressed that it is the duty of teachers to help bring a true understanding and friendship between Indians and white people.

He said he is looking forward to the day when Indians have equal say and carries equal responsibility in Canada.

Mr. Claus ended by reading a prayer directed to the "Great Spirit," asking that all may come to know themselves better.

THANKS SPEAKER

Miss Ruth Harris thanked the speaker on behalf of those present and presented him with a gift of locally produced cheese.

Following this, the business portion of the meeting took place under the chairmanship of president Barbara Brown.

A request by the Ontario Teachers' Federation for outstanding pieces of art for display at the opening of their new offices, was made known.

The ladies were reminded of the spring conference in Kingston on May 14th, of the June tea at Bonnycastle, and of the annual meeting in Toronto on August 24th and 25th at the Royal York Hotel. At the latter, those who wish to attend as visitors reminded that they must register.

Miss Brown also announced a course in "Junior Education" would be held in Pembroke this summer, and a course in "Religious Education" would be offered at Albert College.

OUR CHANGING SOCIAL FORMS

Traditions have not the permanence for most of the social forms that we follow today. But we cannot always base our actions on traditional backgrounds. The years bring changes, and new forms must be evolved to cover the circumstances. Take divorce, for instance. A half-century ago divorce was practically unknown. As it has become more prevalent, it has been necessary to build a set of rules to take care of the problems that have risen.

The following letter from a reader brings up a rather interesting case in point. She writes:

"I divorced my husband three years ago. We had been married for six years and had no children. During our married life together, I became quite fond of his mother. She was bitterly opposed to our getting a divorce and, after the decree became final, I lost contact with her entirely. My ex-former husband recently died, and I am doubtful about the procedure I should follow. I did not send flowers to the funeral, and the question in my mind now is whether or not I should write his mother a note of condolence. As she has seen fit to ignore me for the past two years, would it be better to do nothing, or should I express my sympathy for her loss? My inclination is to write to her, as she was very kind to me for many years. What would you suggest my doing?"

To answer the reader directly: Regardless of the stand taken by your former husband's mother upon the occasion of your divorce, I would strongly advise that you write to her. Time has probably healed much of the hard feelings she bore against you. After all, they were a natural reaction on her part when she saw the happiness of her son being jeopardized. Naturally, too, that is her mind she should shoulder most of the blame, whether her son was right or wrong. As the years have gone by, perhaps she has felt a little guilty with regard to her attitude. A letter from you at this time of bereavement will undoubtedly bring her comfort and solace. By all means write her letter.

Question: A friend of mine is to be married next month. She is very popular and has showers already have been planned for her. Any type of gift may be taken to two of the showers. One of the others is for kitchenware and the last one for lingerie. Do I have to take a present to each one of these, and on top of that give a wedding gift? Frankly, I can't afford it!

Showers do have a way of getting out of hand! Unless you feel you are supposed to arrive at each one bearing a gift. The only solution I can offer is to purchase inexpensive items (costing not more than two dollars apiece) for the showers. For the wedding gift itself, many attractive things — such as ash trays, glasses, etc. — can be bought for between five and ten dollars.

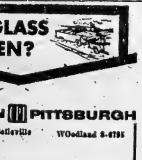
THRASHER — McQUAID

Bridge Street United Church, Belleville, was the setting for a recent lovely wedding when Eunice Ellen McQuaid, daughter of Mrs. N. McQuaid of Belleville, became the bride of Donald Joseph Thrasher, of Belleville, son of Mrs. M. E. Miller of Toronto, and Mr. J. L. Thrasher of Ambersthurgh. The Reverend Harry M. Davis, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. S. Alec Gordon, church organist, presided at the console of the organ for the traditional wedding music, and accompanied the soloist, Miss Loretta McDougall.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Edward John McQuaid, the bride was radiant in her bridal gown of white nylon lace and net, featuring a fitted bodice of lace having a Queen Anne collar in "V" shape, and long, lily-point sleeves. The bouffant skirt was of nylon net over taffeta. She wore a headdress of tulle petals and seed pearls with waist-length veil of silk illusion, and carried a bouquet of red and white carnations misted with adiantum fern.



Mrs. Teresa Skipper, as matron of honour, was attired in mauve chiffon, and Miss Marilyn Thrasher, and Mrs. Jack Gooding, as bridesmaids, were in yellow chiffon, while little Katherine McAdams, as flower girl, was sweet in her green nylon frock. All were matching hats and gloves, and carried nosegays of yellow, mauve and white mums.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Duane Thrasher of Toronto, while the guests were ushered by Messrs. Stanley McQuaid and Allon H. Robinson, both of Belleville.

The reception was held in the banquet room of the Belmont Restaurant, where the bride's mother, attired in light blue rayon bengaline with corsage of pink carnations, and navy and white accessories, received.

She was assisted in the receiving line by the bridegroom's mother, wearing navy crepe with white pleated organza trim, navy and white accessories, and corsage of white carnations, and orgonna hat.

For travelling to Montreal the bride chose a navy blue linen sheath with jacket, white accessories, and corsage of pink roses.

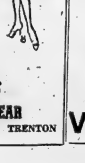
Guests were present from Belleville, Oshawa, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Picton, Boston, Massachusetts, and Schenectady, N.Y.



Previous to her marriage the bride was honoured by a miscellaneous shower by the Bell Telephone Company and by the traffic department, when she was the recipient of a lovely yellow spread.

Mr. and Mrs. Thrasher are residing at 67 Moira Street W., Belleville.

Readers' Friday Column

As conducted by Mary Moore

LETTER:

Like yourself I was most surprised to learn of the value of chicken necks and backs . . . Have a growing, hungry family to feed on a limited budget and am always happy to hear of tasty cheap meal dishes. I tried your recipe and for 35c we enjoyed the pie and a nice pot of soup — not bad for a family of five. This was the 35c we had chicken stew and dumplings plus the soup. Thank you for your interest in the ordinary housewife. So many of the cooking and recipes appearing in women's magazines are just not practical for everyday family eating, — too expensive and too much time required in preparation. I read your column every night and have used and still do some countless recipes. Thank again. Have you published a book lately? If so, where could I procure copy? If not, please do so.

ANSWER:

I have to admit I do not have a cookbook. No time to get it ready. Thanks for your comments — maybe in the next decade. I'm so glad you like my meatless ideas. The work I do on these days is a labour of love for girls with families just like yours.

QUESTION:

Have you a recipe for fresh herring which you roll up, with onion, add vinegar and bake in the oven? My husband is English and he says they are delicious. He grew up on these delicacies. But I would like to have your recipe. Mrs. Jack L.

ANSWER:

Yes, I have. It is called

SOUSED HERRING (or Mackerel)

Roll up medium-small fillets of herring (or mackerel) and fasten with toothpicks. Arrange in baking dish. Pour over enough mild spirit vinegar to cover. Sprinkle salt and pepper and add 6 each whole cloves and pepper berries, and 1 small onion, very thinly sliced. Top with 1 tablespoon butter and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. about 30 minutes.

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

FRIDAY

Nova Scotia Soused Herring or Mackerel; Parsley Butter-ed Boiled New Potatoes; Grilled Crumbed Tomato Halves; Canned Peaches and Cream, Brownies; Tea.

NOTE:

Herring or Mackerel fillets may be layered instead of rolled. This is good hot or cold.

QUESTION:

. . . Have been asked to give a menu for a special occasion, such as a wedding feast or Christmas dinner, for three countries. The country chosen is Mexico . . . Mrs. H. M. B.

ANSWER:

I had some difficulty finding what I am about to give you and still it is not exactly what you ask for. The following is Mexican, but famous. This could conceivably be used for a wedding, but I do not know.

MEXICAN FESTIVAL MENU:

Spinach Soup with Macaroni Stuffed Tortillas; Black Beans; Chicken in Spiced Sauce; Rice; Chopped Avocados; Boiled milk and Sugar Pancakes; Café con Leche, Mexico's National Drink; or Pulque, Tequilla Mezcal. I hope this helps.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a woman's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Because she has taken over so completely, Cynthia's sisters may feel somewhat shoved out of the way. It is also quite possible that her mother would like a little more attention from them. They should certainly be called in to shoulder some share of this unhappy responsibility.

We hope Cynthia will recognize that in this case her husband knows best. A good nurse will be able to win her mother over — at least as a part-time arrangement.

Cynthia A. — Mother needs me.

Nat A. — A competent nurse would be better.

Cynthia A. — My husband and I are in our late 40's and are childless. For the past three years we have had my mother living with us and she is suffering from an incurable disease. The doctors say she won't last the year.

Naturally I am terribly upset about this and I feel my husband is letting me down. Instead of being sympathetic and thoughtful he keeps nagging me to go out with him and spend less time with my mother.

Nat can't understand that I just can't enjoy myself when I'm out. My mother is suffering so terribly I feel guilty every second I'm away from her. She has asked for me specially by nurse or anyone but me.

* * *

Nat A. — I may be selfish, but I feel we all have only one life to live and we've got to make the most of it. Cynthia and I will be quite willing to care for her. Why do we have to suffer with her illness?

Cynthia's mother has had a long, rich life. She is part of the past. She always loved health. I know she is suffering now, but she would consider Cynthia this way. A competent nurse can handle her even better.

Cynthia's two sisters have done very little in pitch in and help. It's time for the families to care for, but they should do something to co-operate.

* * *

Council — There is no question that Cynthia is going through about the worst of life's trials. Much times, it is the case that others are unsympathetic and lack understanding.

In this instance, however, this is far from the real case. Nat is extremely understanding and is making a reasonable request. He wants his wife to take this burden situation in stride.

Cynthia's sister the impression that she dwells on her mother's sufferings excessively. Possibly she feels she can in some way alleviate her mother's pain by taking a little of it on herself. But this is impossible. Actually, the person bearing the pain and suffering is mental anguish than the watcher.

Possibly Cynthia has found a degree of satisfaction in her unhappiness. Although she is likely unaware of it, some people seems to need her as urgently as any child. Unfortunately there cannot be the same joy as in mother-child love. Watching her offspring grow into new strength.

Community Friends Fete Young Couple

SCORAIE — Friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hutton on Monday evening in honor of their daughter, Evelyn, Mrs. Max Radford and Mr. Radford, who were married sometime ago, but owing to weather conditions, the presentation was postponed.

The evening was spent in contests after which Mrs. Harry Foster called it to order. An address was read by Mrs. Harry Foster and the young couple received a gift, coffee table, a step table and several other gifts from the community.

The chairman expressed their thanks and invited all to visit them at their home in Belleville.

The ladies served refreshments bringing a pleasant evening to a close.

Mrs. Norma Foster and Mrs. Finley Hennessy were conveners of this event.

Gaitskell Says U.S. Flights Were 'Stupid'

LONDON (CP) — Opposition leader Hugh Gaitskell says that American intelligence flights over Russia clearly violate international law.

"I hope the government will urge second thoughts on the U.S. government," he said.

Gaitskell described it as "stupid" to send reconnaissance planes over Soviet territory just before the summit conference.

He told the House of Commons in a foreign affairs debate that such flights should be undertaken only with the approval of the entire NATO alliance.

Such approval is a necessity because this form of espionage "conceivably could set off a nuclear war."

Earlier the government refused to reply to questions in the House of Lords and in the Commons on the incident. Government spokesmen explained matters related to intelligence were best discussed in public.

Lord Strangeyle, a Socialist peer, was forced to sit down when the Lords passed a government motion declaring that "the noble lord no longer be heard."

Sunday School Lesson

New Generation of Martyrs

By ROY L. SMITH

As we come to the end of what has been called "the International Sunday School Lesson" there is being forced upon us the realization that there are more martyrs among us, in this generation, than the world has known in a thousand years.

We boast of our scientific advances, and our improved standards of civilization, at the very moment when 45,000,000 uprooted, homeless, and unwanted refugees are wandering the highways of the world or are penned up in prison camps or slave labor concentrations.

In only an infinitesimal number of cases are these unfortunates in their state of tragedy through any fault of their own. They are where they are because they lived on the wrong side of a line, they spoke the wrong language, or they got in the road of someone who was ruthless and strong.

BLESSED PERSECUTED

It is very difficult to make the refugees think they are the fortunate of the earth, and that they are to be congratulated, as Jesus said, That kind of gospel would not get very far among the Arabs of Palestine, or among the dispossessed Jews of Egypt.

As a matter of fact, this beatitude of Jesus is one of the most difficult ones of all for the interpreters, until we read the last three words, "for righteousness' sake."

That's what makes the difference! There are those in our world who suffer because of what they are, and there are those others who suffer because of what other people are. As between the two groups, the persecuted are the more fortunate.

LEAVEN IN THE DOUGH

It has been one of the functions of Christianity, through the ages to serve as leaven.

Northport

NORTHPORT — The teacher, Mrs. Percy Pearsall and pupils had arbor day Tuesday with picnic dinner and a trip to the woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Colin Kotcharyar and daughter, of Prescott, were weekend guests of his parents, and Mrs. Fred Kotcharyar.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith, Lois and Corinne were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs William McCaw, Picton R. R. No. 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo P. Reedy of Syracuse, N.Y. arrived on Tuesday afternoon and will be spending some time at their summer home here.

Mrs. Percy Pearsall and Philip of Bethesda, are staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Foster, while Mr. Pearsall is a patient in Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith were dinner guests Sunday, Mother's Day, of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lacey and family, Belleville.

The Misses Ruth Wallbridge and Edna Foster spent a recent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Trenholm and family.

Mrs. Lacey is study group and altar parsonage on Tuesday night.

Elizabeth Fry, the little English Quaker'ess, must have seemed very small and insignificant to the people of London when she began her campaign in behalf of prison reform. But she eventually moved a nation.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for May 15: THE CHRISTIAN SOCIETY, St. Matthew 5:10-16; 12:31-35.

John Wesley was an inconspicuous priest of the Established Church, of England, who never held a vicarage and never was recognized as an exalted one by his own denomination. But he finally saved England from a French Revolution, in the opinion of competent historians.

John Brown may have been an eccentric, he may have been a mildly insane or he may have been ahead of his times. But in any case he did help to start the nation thinking — he helped to leaven the political lump.

And what a job of leavening Ghandi did, with his doctrine of passive resistance!

But every leaven lives every day within the sight of martyrdom.

EVERY CHRISTIAN A LIGHT

Frank Laubach, preacher, in telling his spiritual experience, told the story of the old lamplighter in one of the cities of Java. The street in the evening time, lighting the street lights.

"I loved to watch him, as a child," the preacher said, "because everywhere he stopped he left a light."

There is no Christian in all the world today who is not in a position to light a light for some dark place there is in this world of ours.

There are shops, offices, schools, factories and streets which would be forever dark if an eccentric to do it.

It were not for some stray soul who lights it up with good humor, faith and good will. And it does not require a college degree to qualify for that kind of job.

Laguna Beach, on the south coast of California is a lovely little city clinging to the foot of the mountains alongside the sea. And at a convenient spot on the main highway, near to a stop light, an eccentric takes up his post day after day, hailing every passer-by and every motorist in need rallicry or wise comment. There are thousands of travellers have gone on their way smiling because of the light he has lighted.

And one does not need to be an eccentric to do it.

BETTER HOMES MAKE BETTER FAMILIES

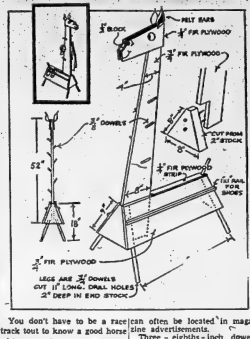
CEILING-HIGH FIREPLACE design serves as a decorative room divider, while the fireplace, itself, serves, two rooms. Gold toned sandstone in a random ashlar pattern of varied pre-cut modular shapes provides color and texture interest.

Fireplace Of Stone Lends Distinction

In an age of look-alike housing developments the home with distinctive decorative features immediately commands a better resale price. One of the most practical ways to give an elegant custom decorated look in an ordinary room is to install a natural stone fireplace wall.

Nowadays, a great variety of textures and colors in quarried stone are available in pre-cut, lightweight modular shapes that are practical for use in interior decoration. A fireplace unit can be built into almost any type of house and usually more than pays for installation costs by enhancing the resale value of the house.

Limestone, bluestone, sandstone, granite, quartzite, travertine and marble offer the home decorator a variety of colors; ranging from pastel pinks and yellows to deep blues and purples and charcoal greys and jet blacks. Textures range from deep corrugated effects to highly polished surfaces.



Many interior designers are using the ceiling-high fireplace wall of natural stone as a prime focal point of decoration for the whole room.

In line with the trend of bringing the outdoors in, decorators suggest choosing a type of stone or the interior wall that matches or complements the color and texture of exterior stone walls. Extension screws make it practical to use the interior wall of stone as a background for plant shelves, mirrors, objects d'art, arranged in interesting composition with the textured stone background.

Designers give particular attention to co-ordinating the texture of upholstery and drapery fabrics. There is literally no limit to the variety of design used by interior decorators in creating elegantly distinctive stone fireplaces. Contrasting borders of polished stone are frequently utilized to dramatize the ribbed or rugged texture of the fireplace construction. Geometric designs or random type ashlar patterns are suggested to add to the importance of the fireplace as the inspiration of the fireplace as the dominant decorative element in the room.

If a new fireplace unit is constructed, it is important to comply with local fire prevention regulations. For good results, the base of the fireplace should be

Novel Fir Plywood Clotheshorse

You don't have to be a race track tout to know a good horse when you see one.

This gally-painted thoroughbred will delight junior as well as teach him to be tidy with his clothes.

Easily made in the basement workshop from pieces of 1-4" and 3-4" fir plywood, the height or size of the clotheshorse can be altered without trouble for smaller or larger children.

First draw out the various pieces on fir plywood. After they are cut out, sand all edges. Assemble with glue and nails or screws.

Ears for the clotheshorse are cut from pieces of felt which can be found in mother's sewing basket. Realistic eyes, in color, can often be located in magazine advertisements.

Three – eighths - inch dowels are located at intervals on the long neck to provide hangers for junior's clothes. Larger dowels, 3-4", are used at feet.

Tackled on the body of the clotheshorse is a 1" x 1" lumber rail over which the heels of shoes can rest.

When the clotheshorse is completely assembled it should be given a coat of wax before the final sanding.

Final painting is a matter of taste. If Dad fancies himself an artist, he might well decide to turn the clotheshorse into some sort of zebra. Or he can play it straight (using varnish) or employ regular undercoat and enamels to match room decor.

And there they go!

directly in contact with the earth.

The use of natural stone for interior floors in match stone or paved patios is another decorative technique borrowed from the palaces of ancient Greece and Rome, which modern interior designers are adapting successfully to contemporary homes to create an air of elegant distinction at modest cost.

Fun Room Can Be Made Anywhere

A rainy afternoon can be less dreary on the housewife if the youngsters have a recreation room in which to release their pent-up energies. The home doesn't necessarily have to have a basement in order to find a

Electric Heating For Your Home

Can you imagine a house without a furnace or some kind of heating plant? For that matter, how about a house without a chimney, or without unsightly heating ducts, hot water pipes, radiators or registers?

Can you conceive of a home where, with the flick of a switch, bedrooms are kept sleeping cool while other rooms stay toasty comfortable on cold winter nights?

These are only a few of the advantages of electric heating, which ranks second only to air conditioning as the most important step forward in home comfort of modern times.

Today, home owners in many parts of the country can enjoy the luxuries of electric heating, thanks to years of research and development that have brought its cost down to compare with other types of heating.

The most important factor in the economical operation of an electrically heated home is thick insulation. Current recommendations for electric heat are a six-inch thickness of mineral wool in the ceiling, at least three inches in walls, and three inches in floors where needed.

The National Electric Manufacturers Association, in its Manual for Electric House Heating, says that when proper insulation is installed, "the savings resulting are usually enough to pay for the original cost of the insulation within a few years."

Insulation is so important to good electric heating that many utility companies grant special rates for electrically heated homes with proper mineral wool insulation. For example, the Duke Power Company of Charlotte, N.C., grants a 50 per cent reduction to electric heat customers whose homes have the mineral wool insulation formula as specified in the Manual for Electric House Heating.

In many areas across the country where electric utility rates are low, electricity is rapidly becoming a standard heating fuel for homes.

Another advantage of a house insulated for electric heat is that air conditioning can be added at any time since both require the same amount of insulation for best efficiency. Meanwhile, the thick mineral wool helps keep the house more comfortable in summer, even without air conditioning.

Warns Growing Foreign Debt Must End Canadians' Ability To Be Masters in Own House

HAMILTON (CP) — Rapidly growing foreign debt must lead Canadians ultimately to loss any capacity to be masters in their own house, James E. Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada, said Thursday night in an address to the Ontario Chamber of Commerce.

He called for correction of Canada's adverse balance of payments in its dealings with other countries; for correction of its adverse merchandise trading balances; for development of Canadian secondary industry; for sharing by all Canadians of the cost of unemployment and its cure; and for adequate development of all Canada's economic resources.

"At times," Mr. Coyne said, "the amount of foreign borrowing done by Canadians has exceeded even the large volume of imports requiring to be financed and led to the strengthening of the Canadian exchange rate.

"This in turn has induced a higher rate of imports than would otherwise have occurred, pushing the rate of imports up another notch—over and over again—imports which compete with Canadian production for the domestic market and have an obvious effect on employment conditions.

BLAMES BORROWING

"I have no doubt that the marginal factor—the straw that broke the camel's back, so to speak, has been the unnecessary and ill-advised borrowing in foreign currencies on the part of some provincial governments and municipalities and their agencies and corporations have no connection with foreign exchange transactions on which to base the servicing of foreign currency obligations.

"If the Canadian dollar ever starts down the slippery slope of currency depreciation, no one can say what the ultimate price may be at which these foreign debts will have to be redeemed."

Mr. Coyne said the cost of unemployment and of measures to promote increased employment are real and must be borne by some one.

"In one way or another those of us who are employed must contribute out of our resources to help share the cost of unemployment and to help create conditions in which greater employment opportunities will be available."

In addition to whatever expansion of employment increasing export industries may reasonably be expected, Mr. Coyne stated, a large expansion of domestic secondary industry in various parts of the country is essential.

Mr. Coyne spoke at the chamber's national dinner. The three-day meeting ends today.

MANY RESOLUTIONS

The meeting completed consideration Thursday of some 35 new resolutions plus revision or readoption of a long list of older resolutions and statements of policy.

A Stratford resolution calling for widened programs for medical rehabilitation was adopted. Such rehabilitation includes victims of heart attacks, accidents or mental troubles.

The Ontario government was asked to lift the color ban on margarine under a Sarnia resolution which was passed.

Under a Stratford resolution the government will be asked "to safeguard the public against the sale of uninspected meats and poultry."

A Hamilton resolution which was adopted requests legislation under which municipalities might deal with misuse of such sales terms as "going out of business," "liquida tion," "bankruptcy", etc.

Under a Midland resolution the chamber requests that the government against the application of provincial Standards Act in smaller communities.

R. B. Moffat said under the act, which is 2 years old, industry in Midland found itself governed by the decisions of labor leaders and Toronto competitors.

LIBRARY GRANTS

A Richmond resolution, also approved, asks that municipalities be granted public library buildings or additions on the same basis as provincial grants substantially in excess of present grants.

Under a Cornwall resolution, representation is to be made that in areas where fish are now seasonal boundaries be set up whereby three-day licences or family licences can be obtained.

Cornwall delegates stated many people who would like to spend a few days fishing in the areas are prevented by the lack of longer-term licences.

Orillia won enthusiastic approval of a resolution asking improvements on the Trent-Severn Inland Waterway, which traverses Ontario for 240 miles from Port Severn to Trenton.

The chamber decided to establish a committee to work with the tourist industry to investigate means of obtaining long-term credits for improving tourist establishments.

FURNITURE SALVAGED — Furniture loaded on a make-shift raft is towed along a street in the Timmins suburb of Mountjoy township, as trucks at the fringe area of the flood move it to safety. Almost 30 square miles of the township have been abandoned to the swirling waters of the Mattagami River and all but a few of Mountjoy's 1,900 residents are quartered in Timmins. (CP Wirephoto).

Govt. Seeking New Ways To Raise Money for Housing Loans to Speed Building

OTTAWA (CP) — Federal experts are looking for new ways to raise money for housing loans without putting the government into competition with municipal and provincial governments in the bond market, an authoritative source says.

British and American government practices are being reviewed with the possibility that some of them might be adopted.

One idea is the creation of a new Crown company which would sell shares, debentures or bonds to the general public at a moderately-attractive rate of interest and put the money into National Housing Ac mortgages.

The maximum rate of interest on government - insured NHA mortgages now is 6% per cent. The interest which might be paid to investors would be at a rate enough below that figure to cover the cost of administration.

LOANS LIMITED

Earlier this session, the government asked for parliamentary approval for an additional investment of $500,000,000 in direct loans to house builders this year. It is letting the money out on a limited scale, basically to individuals with annual incomes under $5,000.

Canadians with higher incomes wanting to buy houses must go either to the banks for a mortgage, the interest rate of which is limited to six per cent, or to the insurance companies and other agencies which charge a 6½-per-cent NHA mortgage, or to the commercial mortgage rate, now 7¼ per cent or higher.

Furthermore the authorized from writing horse names in the books — the verger and I and must be raised in the com- have lost $20 already."

SEVERAL SYSTEMS

One possible way is by creation of a mortgage bank which could guarantee depositors a good return on their long-term savings, and use the deposits to finance home mortgages.

Another is the creation of a commercial mortgage market, which would not raise housing money but would make it easier for individuals to buy and sell mortgages.

A third way is to encourage individuals to form mortgage bond companies, by which the principals would raise money through selling shares, and lend the money in mortgages under terms similar to the NHA guarantees.

Prime Minister Denies Report Of Statement

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Thursday night that a suggestion he has made for another conference of Commonwealth prime ministers is not based on the South African situation.

Through a spokesman, the prime minister acknowledged that he has suggested an early meeting is desirable — perhaps early next year—but said his proposal was not made in a bid to avert a crisis over South Africa's race policy.

He also denied that he is seeking another meeting in connection with any desire by the majority of Commonwealth leaders to apply sanctions to the South African government.

The prime minister's denial resulted from a report he said was carried by the CBC. This presumably was based on a London Press London dispatch Wednesday night which used a word-ing similar to that denied by the prime minister.

The CP report was based on accounts from conference sources. Some reporters, in talks with these sources, received the impression that the prime minister's proposal arose in part at least over South African policies.

LARGE OUTPUT

LONDON (Reuters)—The British Motor Corporation Thursday night announced that its output of vehicles in the first 40 weeks of the current financial year passed the total for the whole of the previous financial year. Output for the 12 months of the 1958-59 financial year was 486,048 vehicles.

Impossible to Put Too Much Fluorine in Water Supply Says Brantford Chemist

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario royal commission on fluoridation was told Thursday it would be impossible for a city to mistakenly place too much fluorine in its public water supply.

Donald B. Williams, a chemist with the Brantford Public Utilities Commission, said equipment used to fluoridate drinking water dispenses exact amounts and there is no danger of an error. The city has installed its water supply since 1945.

Of the fluoridation machine were to break down, said Mr. Williams, it would automatically stop feeding the chemical into the water supply. The machinery is regulated to put between 1 and 1.5 parts per million into the water.

Someone would have to tamper with the equipment to introduce a larger amount of chemical, he said, adding that it was checked by the water works staff every 20 minutes.

PIPES NOT CORRODED

The dental claims of anti-fluoridationists that fluorides corrode water pipes or collect in possibly toxic quantities in water mains.

He said the cost to fluoridate Brantford's water supply was about six cents a person for a total bill of $2,406 last year. Earlier, a different figure was used by the city of 36,000 population, the cost of which amounted to about 17 cents a person.

The letter from Ross Clark, Metropolitan Toronto works commissioner, was read to the commission. It said the cost to fluoridate the city's water supply would be about $200,000 a year.

Mr. Justice K. G. Morden of the Ontario Court of Appeal, head of the three-member commission, said this would amount to 7½ cents a person for a population of roughly 1,500,000.

Mrs. Mildred Mott of the Kingston Pure Water Committee suggested parents could purchase sodium fluoride to mix with water. The fluorine could be purchased at any drug store without signing for it or a doctor's prescription, then fed to children at the rate of one teaspoon a day. One dollar's worth would last three years, she said.

Toronto druggist Clarence Boyle said fluorine may also be consumed orally in one-milligram pills.

The hearings are in their second week.

Judge, Professor Advise Doctors on Points of Law

TORONTO (CP)—Mr. Justice Aylesworth of the Supreme Court of Ontario suggested Thursday that doctors confer with each other before giving evidence in court lest they make conflicting statements.

Any conflict "may reflect upon the ability of both doctors and the profession as a whole," he told the Ontario Medical Association.

He also labelled "a complete myth" the belief that what is told a doctor in confidence or a question in the confessional is privileged in law.

Doctors under Canadian law can be forced to relate confidences, he said. "The only sanctity of the confessional is that a priest will go to jail before he'll tell what was said."

Mr. Justice Stewart called for the medical and legal professions to devise a code which would help the doctor soon called to give in law in regard to medical confidences.

In an address to the coroners' section, Prof. Jozylen Rogers of the attorney - general's department said the impression coroners have with the public depends on their knowledge of and adherence to procedure and the way they conduct their courts.

He said the attorney-general's department is reviewing the Coroners' Act in hopes of meeting criticisms raised by coroners.

Dr. Ivan Smith, director of the Ontario Cancer Foundation's London clinic, told the meeting that 13 Ontario women die from breast cancer each year. This is the province's greatest single killer of women between the ages of 35 and 44, he said.

"Radical surgery is unchallenged as a treatment of early breast cancer each year. This is the only known therapy can be dramatic for the individual patient but indicates the determination of the profession and the patient never to give up."

He told the meeting that although there has been an overall drop in female deaths from all types of cancer the effectiveness of breast cancer education as been "sluggish".

Hospitals which will offer birth mental and general hospital services were forecast by Dr. R. Bruce Sloane, head of the department of psychiatry at Queen's University.

No Word of Hike

ST. THOMAS (CP) — Ontario Health Minister Dymond said Thursday he has no word about possible increase in hospital insurance premiums.

Hints of an increase in 1961 were heard from governmental officials in Toronto two weeks ago. It was intimated that premiums might be boosted by as much as 10 per cent.

The health minister, here to visit the Ontario Hospital, said the Ontario Hospital Services Commission has made no recommendation to him for an increase.

Parties Stopped When Tony Met Margaret Says Dutch Photographer Now in Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—The sign beside the black studio door in London read: Display: "Antony Armstrong-Jones, portraitist."

"When I had enough courage, I knocked," said Peter Hordyk, 35-year-old Dutch photographer now working in Toronto.

"A boy in jeans, covered with paint, answered. He asked who I was and what I wanted. He asked me in for a drink, to look at my work and discuss photography. He was redecorating his reception studio. I was hired somewhere during the conversation. But this time I was helping paint."

Mr. Hordyk, who started photography career in Holland worked with Mr. Armstrong-Jones for four years.

When it became evident that the man who married Princess Margaret was going to close shop, Mr. Hordyk decided to come to Canada. He is working for Toronto's Donald McKenzie, who photographed royalty last year.

Interviewed here, Mr. Hordyk said he described Mr. Armstrong-Jones as a boy because "he always gave the impression of being a happy, gay, boy. But he was a good photographer."

In their four years together, Mr. Hordyk was sometimes confidant, but though the princess called often during the months before the wedding, the subject was not mentioned only with reservations.

"We knew for some time that the engagement with Princess Margaret was likely to occur. It was quite a strain on us keeping it secret.

"In a friendly way we would be told that a visitor was coming and we would leave. A chauffeur-driven car would arrive and they would have a little time to talk together."

Mr. Hordyk never met the princess. He did, however, meet Prince Charles and Princess Anne.

"We took the children's pictures together, Princess Anne was charming and very, whatever you asked, she did. Prince Charles was a little more difficult, a little more restless."

Mr. Hordyk said he attended parties in the basement of his employer's studio in Belgravia. Everyone was expected to be bohemian and to have a hilarious time, he said. Mr. Armstrong-Jones played the part.

Inevitably, the hostess was Eurasian actress Jaqui Chan. She was "simply a good friend," Mr. Hordyk said.

When his employer met Princess Margaret, he added, the parties stopped.

Treasurer Hints Corporate Taxes May Be Hiked

GUELPH (CP) — Provincial Treasurer James Allan hinted Thursday that corporation taxes may soon be raised to meet increased provincial expenditures.

He told 200 banking officials attending a week - long banker's school at the Ontario Agricultural College that money comes from only two sources: Taxes and borrowing.

"Borrowed money must be paid back with interest," he said, adding that corporation taxes will bring in $190,000,000 this year.

"Having taken a look at estimates for $700,000,000, I know it isn't going to be enough," he said. "I feel sure we are going to need $1,000,000,000 this year."

Mr. Allan said the farmer is being turned into a businessman by tremendous changes in equipment, techniques and the rising cost of overheads.

THIS PLAY STARTED AN ARGUMENT— Third baseman Gene Baker of the Pittsburgh Pirates scrambles around catcher Norm Sherry to score against the Los Angeles Dodgers in the eighth inning at Los Angeles Thursday night. Baker came in from first on Hal Smith's long single to left centre. Umpire is Tony Venzon. Sherry and Dodgers' manager Walter Alston put up a brief argument and then Pittsburgh went on to a 6-3 win.

On the Track

TORONTO (CP) — Trainer Johnny Starr announced Thursday that Wonder Where will be entered in Saturday's $7,500 Ultimus Stakes at Old Woodbine Park.

The announcement caused mild surprise since Wonder Where raced only Wednesday when she scored a convincing victory in the $7,500 Whimsical Stakes.

"She had an easy race on Wednesday," explained Starr. "We're going to enter for the final look at the condition of the track on Saturday morning". Wonder Where won in the mud Wednesday.

Wonder Where will carry 118 pounds and will receive a seven-pound concession from Winding Shot and Tybawk.

Wednesday, owner Jack Stafford of Toronto and jockey Hoivin Velez, a new comer from Puerto Rico, scored their first victories of the Canadian racing season when Flying Robert won the Lansdowne Claiming Purse.

A handsome daily double of $384.10 was recorded when Papa Pheasant and Pancho's First won the first two races.

Riders Sign Halfback Star

OTTAWA (CP) — Signing of defensive halfback Richard Kaser, with the Vancouver Lions in 1957 and 1958, was announced today by Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four Football Union.

Kaser, 26, played college football with the University of Toledo for four years before joining a service team at Fort Lewis, Wash., in 1956.

Sparring Pal Pokes Ingy Little too Hard

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson got a teeth-jarring belt from one of his sparmates Thursday, and quit his workouts in a huff.

Disappointing a small gathering, he stalked out of the ring to his dressing room and gave orders that he'd never work out again with strong lights on the ring.

Newsreel cameramen were taking shots with bright lights when Johansson was jolted by a right hand thrown by a new sparring partner, Coley Stewart.

The blow seemed to stun the Swedish boxer briefly. He refused to go through the usual bag-punching and rope-skipping exercises with which he normally winds up his drills.

"I didn't see the blow coming behind the lights," Johansson said. "No more lights when I work—that's orders."

TiCats Get McNichol for Als' Lampman

HAMILTON (CP) — Doug McNichol, the all-star defensive end of Montreal Alouettes traded to Hamilton Tiger - Cats Thursday, may wind up playing tackle for his new team.

"He's big and strong enough to play a tackle spot as well as defensive end," Jake Gaudar, president and general manager of the Big Four Tiger-Cats, said. "It's possible we might try him at tackle.

Gaudar pointed out that Hamilton's Pete Neumann, another all-star defensive end, had seen action as a linebacker in last year's Grey Cup game. He suggested the Ticats might experiment with Neumann as linebacker and McNichol at defensive end.

Gaudar also expressed satisfaction at the thought of having McNichol and Neumann crashing into enemy backfields from either end of the Hamilton line.

The trade which sent McNichol to Hamilton and Ticats defensive end Harry Lampman to Montreal, was announced Thursday in Montreal.

LIONS GET HALF

VANCOUVER (CP) — The WIFU B.C. Lions announced Thursday the signing of Warren Lashua, three-time all-conference half back at Whitworth College.

Winnipeg Gets Canadian Pro Golf Tourney

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Professional Golfers' Association announced Thursday the 1960 CPGA championship will be played at the Niakwa Golf Club, Winnipeg, Aug. 4-8.

A revision of the scoring plan was also announced by which two Canadians will join the Caribbean circuit next winter as part of the total $6,500 prize money in the 34-hole CPGA tournament.

The title tournament itself carries prize money of $5,000. Those who make the Caribbean tour will receive $1,750 each for the trip. They will be picked on the basis of total-point performance in both the CPGA championship and the Canadian open championship. The four-day open begins at Toronto's St. George Club July 6.

When the total purse was increased to $6,000 from $5,000 at the CPGA championship in Hull, Que., last year, the winner and runner-up automatically earned the right to make the Caribbean circuit.

Under the new arrangement, showings in the Canadian Open will be added to CPGA results.

CPGA president Murray Tucker said that under the change "we will be sending the two best players from Canada's two major golfing tournaments instead of making it a one-shot performance at our own event."

University of Detroit stadium, where they played their home games, was poor.

'Voice of Denmark' Speaks From Small Toronto Room

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — "The Voice of Denmark", which rang in a lyric tenor for the resistance during the Nazi occupation, speaks in a quiet baritone from a small practice room in downtown Toronto.

Aksel Schiotz (pronounced Shoots) is teaching oratorio and German lieder in a room decorated by a grand piano and a red-cushioned Royal Conservatory of Music building.

"There was an enormous need for hearing Danish folk music during the occupation," he said in a heavy accent. "They told me I was too well-known to join the resistance movement — that I could do a better job singing the songs they needed to hear. I suppose I did. It was a strange thing but the Germans left me alone."

DECORATED BY KING

He was dubbed "the Voice of Denmark" when King Christian X gave the late King Christian X decorated him with the Order of Dannebrog.

Aksel Schiotz was born in Roskilde, Denmark, 53 years ago. He was 24 when he graduated from the University of Copenhagen in languages and became a high school teacher.

He joined the famous Danish Students' Choir and stayed with it until 1938 when he gave up teaching and became a professional singer.

Denmark was occupied in 1940 and from then until the end of the war he built up an extensive repertoire of oratorio, lieder and light lyric opera parts. He launched his international career in London in 1945. The next year he sang the leading tenor part at the first post-war Glyndebourne Festival.

BECAME BARITONE

Illness forced him into retirement at the end of that season and, when he returned to music in the 1948-49 season, it was as a baritone.

His return was marked by Copenhagen a university appointment who chose him "Artist of Honor" that year. Through the 1953 he has specialized in lieder, appearing in concerts in Edinburgh, Copenhagen, Paris and Europe for his North Africa.

John Kraglund of the Toronto Globe and Mail wrote in July, 1958 his critic "voice was nothing less than triumphant."

The following year the New York Times said:

"Admirers of Aksel Schiotz . . . went to his recital last night expecting to hear a distinguished musician. They were rewarded by hearing a great artist. . . ."

TAUGHT IN B.C.

He taught at the Royal Conservatory summer school in 1955 in 1956-57-58 he taught at the University of British Columbia summer school. He sang in the Vancouver Festival in 1958-59.

After a short time on the faculty of Macalester College and the University of Minnesota, he accepted an invitation to join the Royal Conservatory voice faculty in 1958.

His wife and twin daughters, students at the University of Toronto—live with him in a comfortable Rosedale district home. other daughter is married and living in Norway.

One son, Soren, a spare-time cello player, is with a Danish engineering firm in Iran and his second son, Michael, is an artist in Copenhagen.

DANISH VISIT

This summer he will take a weekend break from summer school duties in Boston to fly home to Copenhagen at the invitation of the Danish-Canadian Association.

"They have invited me to sing at their Canadian Dominion Day celebration in Denmark."

He had just returned from a Bach festival in London, Ont., and was preparing to leave for Ottawa to adjudicate a music festival there. One of his Ottawa functions was a reception in his honor given by the Danish ambassador.

The man who twice built himself an international reputation in music had wanted to move to North America for 30 years, ever since he first came to sing in a San Francisco festival.

ADMIRED CANADA

"I admire Canada's vitality and determination to progress. I like the vigor with which money is raised and given away in all parts of Canada to encourage education and the arts. In Europe, people take their cultural life for granted and tend to be lazy.

"I find students here more eager to learn than they are in my country.

. . . Why do Canadians feel they must leave the country to get "the real thing" Canadian cultural standards are excellent. . . . With the CBC, all the music festivals and the orchestras, there are more opportunities here than there are in the United States."

THE WORLD CHAMPS

MILAN (AP) — The world champion Brazilian national soccer team and Milan's Interzionale played a 3-3 tie at San Siro Stadium Thursday night.

SINGING HERO

Aksel Schiotz, known as the Voice of Denmark when he sang for the resistance during the Nazi occupation of Denmark, now teaches at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto. After the war he built up an international reputation in oratorio, lieder and other lyrical opera singing roles. For his work with the Danish resistance, he was decorated by the late King Christian X with the Order of Danneborg. He is shown studying a sheet of music in his Toronto classroom. (CP Photo).

May Play In Port Huron

DETROIT (CP)—A spokesman for Detroit Raiders of the Ontario Rugby Football Union said Thursday the club is negotiating with interests in Port Huron, Mich., on playing part of its home schedule there next season.

A meeting has been set for next week to discuss terms.

The Raiders had a dismal season last year, winding up in the cellar with only one victory to their credit. Attendance at the

Welcome Home Elvis Show Cost Sinatra Cool $100,000

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The report was that Elvis Presley received $100,000 for his appearance on Frank Sinatra's ABC special Thursday night.

Joey Bishop, one of Sinatra's top helpers, in fact, suggested that Frank could have produced the Second World War for the price of his Welcome Home, Elvis show, be that as it may, few have received so much for doing so little; two solos and one duet with his host.

At the opening of the show, we glimpsed our hero in a uniform that looked about two sizes too big for him. He didn't show up again until the very end of the program. Then it was in an unbuttoned dinner jacket and sideburns and guitar, but with a pompadour that must have gladdened the hair oil industry.

During his first song Elvis just stood still and sang. During the second number he engaged in some mobility of sorts, but maybe the concealing dinner jacket modified it. As apparently hand - picked audience of highly voiced female teen-agers almost drowned him out at times, seemingly on cue.

Oh, yes, there was more to the show. Sinatra sang a few songs, Sammy Davis Jr. was there with his usual bag of tricks—singing, dancing and impersonating. Peter Lawford did a dance with Sammy, Nancy Sinatra, who filled in for unavailable Dean Martin in the most unlikely substitution of the year, sang with her father, of course, and danced a bit with the chorus boys. Bishop, a comedian, hadn't much to do.

The whole program was a routine hour of variety which would have been sharper with more rehearsals. But, of course, they didn't matter. It had Elvis.

'Voice of Denmark' Speaks From Small Toronto Room

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — "The Voice of Denmark", which rang in a lyric tenor for the resistance during the Nazi occupation, today speaks in a quiet baritone from a small practice room in downtown Toronto.

Aksel Schiotz (pronounced Shoots) is teaching oratorio and German lieder in a room donated to him by several of the old-fashioned Royal Conservatory of Music building.

Welcome Home Elvis Show Cost Sinatra Cool $100,000

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The report was that Elvis Presley received $100,000 for his appearance on Frank Sinatra's ABC special Thursday night.

Joey Bishop, one of Sinatra's helpers, in fact, suggested that Frank could have produced the Second World War for the price of his Welcome Home, Elvis show. Be that as it may, few have received so much for doing so little: two solos and one duet with his host.

At the opening of the show, we glimpsed our hero in a uniform that looked about two sizes too big for him. He didn't show up again until the very end of the program. The rest is in accustomed dinner jacket minus sideburns and guitar, but with a pompadour that must have gladdened the hair oil industry.

During his first song Elvis looked still sad and sorry. During his second number he engaged in some modified writhing, and maybe the concealing dinner jacket modified it. As apparently hand - picked audience of high-voiced female teen-agers almost drowned him out at times, seemingly on cue.

Oh, yes, there was more in the show. Sinatra sang a few songs, Sammy Davis Jr. was there with his usual bag of tricks—singing, dancing and impersonating. Peter Lawford did a dance with Sammy. Nancy Sinatra, who filled in for unavailable Dean Martin in the most unlikely substitution of the year, sang with her father, of course, and danced a bit with the chorus boys. Bishop, a comedian, hadn't much to do.

The whole program was a roundup of talent from which would have been sharper with more rehearsals. But, of course, they didn't matter. It had Elvis.

PICKEREL, AHOY!

The trout-addicts have had their day—and a couple of wet weeks—now comes the pickerel-seekers' turn.

Tomorrow at the crack of dawn, the official whistle blows—the 1960 season for yellow pickerel, dore, wall-eye —call them what you will—is legally under way.

By the book the official season opens on May 15. But this year the government has decreed that any opening day falling on Sunday or Monday will be set back to the preceding Saturday.

And after you've hauled six lunkers, intermediates or junkers into your boat, creel, or whatever you use for storage, you can call it a day. That's the limit. Don't worry about size.

A number of city pickerel fanciers prefer the northern haunts of the wily dore while those of us who cannot resist, borrow, steal or afford a camp, cottage or forest motel are satisfied with the good old Bay of Quinte with its bays, coves, inlets and islands.

After all, the bay, reportedly not fit for human swimming purposes, is a mighty good hunting ground for pickerel which have no trouble getting around swim-wise and retaining their health.

As a matter of fact, the official word has it that the Bay of Quinte and the Kawartha are the best spots this opening day. Water is running high and too fast in the rivers and below the dams. Lakes and bays are the best.

A Department of Lands and Forests long-range survey started back in 1937 revealed that the Bay of Quinte pickerel population has one of the fastest rates of growth on record for yellow pickerel.

Information gleaned from examination of scales of 2583 pickerel revealed the growth as one year, 8.8 inches; two, years, 12.4; three, 15.4; four, 18.2; five, 19; six, 21; seven 22.9; eight, 23-3; nine, 24.1; ten, 25 inches.

The greatest age observed was 19 years. Very few of these fish exceed 29 inches in length. Females average two inches longer than the males.

Over 92 per cent of the anglers contacted in the Bay of Quinte were trolling while fishing for pickerel. Depths fished ranged from eight to 20 feet. The lures used were predominantly of the spinner type or live bait and spinner combinations. Pickerel apparently are seldom taken still-fishing or from the shore.

The mouth of the Trent River is one of the most productive regions while by far the greatest harvest of pickerel taken each year is made in Hay Bay, the long narrow stretch of water running east off the bay proper.

And here's a tip. The survey revealed that evening fishing was found 12.7 per cent more successful, on the average than morning fishing, and fishing before noon netted an average 22.9 per cent more fish than afternoon efforts.

Total pickerel harvest by anglers in the bay region for last year was estimated at 17,300 fish (31,140 pounds). Fifty-four per cent of this yield came from Hay Bay; 21 per cent from the upper section of the bay between Trenton and Napanee, about half of which was garnered from the mouth of the Trent River. The remainder of the catch was taken from the small bays adjacent to Hay Bay.

So away you go—and the best of luck, good weather, wet lines and plenty of those golden brown fillets sputtering in the skillet.

Speaking of fillets and skillets, ever hear of a pickerel pearl? King Whyte told us about them at a sports celebrities dinner a few years ago.

The "pearl" is the tastiest part of a pickerel, and it is usually thrown away. The next good pickerel you clean, feel for the soft spot on the gill cover. Then with a small, sharp knife carve out the soft spot and skin it. You'll find you have a piece of meat about the size of a silver dollar—a pickerel pearl. Fry a batch of them in butter. Man, what a feast. You'll drool for more.

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT!

Tonight the "rasslers" pry the lid off the 1960 season in Memorial Arena. Tonight the bewhiskered Kalmikoff Bros., two tough tovarishes from Siberia, snatch grunts, groans and hotchas (in Russian) with M'sieu Bernard Vignal, from Quebec, and the Mighty Jumbo, 317 pounds of animated rasslin' beef.

Jumbo who has been on a rigid diet will enter the ring at 317½ pounds. Vignal will enter on his back, and the Kalmikoffs through the skylight. How all will exit remains to be seen.

Then there's the tough, terrible Big Ed Miller, a 300-pound giant-killer guy, and our favorite here, who goes up against popular Billy Stack. Handsome Mike Valentino will trade "holds" with a newcomer, "Knobby" MacDonald, in the curtain raiser.

Bosox Leap Into Second Spot; Giants Make It Six

Win Second From White Sox As Tribe Piggy-Backs Yanks; Sanford Tosses 3rd 2-Hitter

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Fifty those poor San Francisco Giants. They had hitters and sluggers so they traded for more pitching. And what happens? Now the hitters don't hit and the sluggers get hurt, but they've got a two-game lead, a six-game streak and the best pitching in the National League—thanks to three guys they had all the time.

Righthander Jack Sanford came up with the third "no-hitter of the season by the staff for another 2-0 victory over Philadelphia Thursday. That gave the Giants, held to six hits by loser Robin Roberts and reliever Dick Farrell, their longest winning string since moving to San Francisco in 1958.

Third-place Milwaukee dropped St. Louis to a sixth straight defeat, winning 4-3 on Ed Mathews' tie-breaking home run in the eighth inning Cincinnati stretched his winning streak to eight with a 14-1 romp against Chicago's Cubs. Second - place Pittsburgh was idle.

MISSING SLUGGERS

The Giants, who have won only two games by more than two runs in the streak, didn't get a man on base until Willie Kirkland singled in the fifth. Hobie Landrith and Kirkland each had two hits for the Giants, who managed but five hits Wednesday when Sam Jones blanked the Phils 10-0 in a twohitter. Willie McCovey was out with a sore toe and another slugger, Orlando Cepeda, still wobbly from an April 28 injury, was hitless for the sixth game in a row.

Sanford (3-1) walked three, and like Jones, struck out 11 while extending the staff's shutout-inning streak to 20, all against the Phils.

The Giants have put away seven of the eight bowl-bit games in the National League this season. Jones has a one-hitter, a two-hitter, and a pair of three-hitters, and Mike McCormick has a two-hitter and a three-hitter.

SIXTH HOMER

Mathews' sixth home-run, third in two games, broke a 3-3 tie for the Braves and beat reliever Larry Jackson (1-5). The Cards, now 9-10 on the road, got their first two runs on a pair of doubles by Bill White and tied it in the eighth on pinch-hitter Curt Flood's sacrifice fly after starter Bob Buhl had walked with the bases loaded. Bob Rush (1-0) won it in relief for the Braves, who scored three in the first on three hits and two walks against Vinegar Bend Mizell.

The Reds scored seven runs in the first and six in the second with 11 of their 17 hits. Six runs were unearned. Bob Anderson (0-1) lost it. Righthander Bob Purkey (2-1) was the winner with a six-hitter as the Reds gained their longest streak since winning 12 in a row in 1957. The Cubs, playing their first game in a week after six consecutive postponements, used their run, unearned, in the fourth inning.

GOES TO NFL

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Delaveaux, former University of Illinois fullback and last season a standout with the Canadian football, signed a 1960 contract with the New York Giants of the National League Thursday. Delaveaux, now 23, was a star at Winnipeg Blue Bombers Grey Cup drive last season.

Boston's Red Sox, playing their best at home as usual, suddenly have won four in a row and six of their last seven. They are now only a half-game shy of the American League lead.

They made it with their second straight victory over Chicago's first place White Sox Thursday, a 1-0 decision on Tom Brewer's two-hit pitching and a ninth-inning single by Pete Runnels, who took over the AL batting lead at .426. Bob Shaw was the loser, relieving up nine hits.

Boston leap-frogged the New York Yankees, who skidded from second to fourth with a 3-2, 11-inning defeat by Cleveland Indians, taking third place and also, with a half-game of the lead, put it away on Russ Nixon's home run as right-hander Gary Bell out-dueled Ralph Terry for his first victory over the Yankees in his career decisions.

The second division clubs—Baltimore, Detroit, Washington and Kansas City—were trained out.

BREWERS' 13th SHUTOUT

The Boston win was Brewers' 13th shutout in the majors, but the first against the White Sox, who made but six hits were first-inning double by Minnie Minoso and a third-inning single by Luis Aparicio. Brewer, now 2-2, faced 30 batters, struck out one in his nine-inning stint and walked none. The losing doubleplay wiped out the only walk he allowed. He hit Jim Landis with a pitch in the eighth.

The Red Sox beat Shaw (2-2) in the first time in three career decisions with the help of his two-base error. Rookie Lu Clinton opened the ninth with a single and went to third when Shaw threw the ball into center field. Pinch-hitter Gary Geiger then got a hit off Shaw's glove that landed in left field, and after pinch-hitter Ted Williams hit into a force out at the plate, Runnels broke it up.

Runnels had three hits and gained 15 points, while Yankee Roger Maris fell to second place in the batting race at .393 with an 0-for-5 day.

Nixon's first home run of the season sent the Yankees to their third straight defeat, all in extra innings. Bell, who has lost one, became the fifth man to win four in the AL, with his third straight. He struck out seven and gave up 10 hits. Terry, one a tying solo home run in the eighth by Yogi Berra, who smacked his 353d birthday with two singles in addition to his 305th career homer.

The Indians, getting nine hits off Terry (1-1), scored an unearned run in the seventh and broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh on a two-out squeeze bunt by Johnny Temple.

Matthews Wins Over Persley

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Len Matthews, fourth - ranked lightweight, celebrated his 21st birthday Thursday night by scoring a fourth - round knockout over Arthur Persley of New York in an scheduled 10-round bout.

Matthews, who at 135½ gave Persley 1½ pounds to Persley's 133½, floored Persley with a right upper cut. It was the first time the 35-year-old Persley had lost by a knockout in 75 fights.

Should 'Monopoly Bill' Fail Continental Baseball League Will 'Declare War or Quit'

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Founder Bill Shea said Thursday his Continental Baseball League has one of two alternates if the pending congressional bill to curb the major leagues' alleged monopoly fails to pass:

"Declare war or quit."

Shea, in a press conference, charged organized baseball with throwing roadblocks in the Continental League's efforts to operate. He insisted, however, that the original April, 1961 opening was still the target date.

Shea, critical of the majors' motives ever since he started trying to bring another major league team to New York, reiterated his support of Senator Estes Kefauver bill to limit control of players by the big leagues.

ONLY HOPE

"The Kefauver bill is the only hope the Continental League has of getting players and going into business," he said. "The majors have been fighting us with the strongest weapon they have — delay, time is the thing that is hitting us in every direction.

"If the bill fails, it doesn't mean the end of the Continental League. It simply means that our only alternatives are war or quit.

That is, unless the majors do an about face and agree to cooperate."

Shea declined to state specifically that the Continental League would go outlaw but it appeared obvious that is what he meant.

Shea said his organization has reached an impasse in its negotiations with the International League and American Association regarding indemnities for seven franchises. They are Buffalo and Toronto in the IL and Denver, Houston, Dallas-Fort Worth, and Minneapolis and St. Paul in the AA.

"The IL demand of $850,000 for each club is outrageous," he said. "This ridiculous demand is proof they don't want us in baseball. The American Association has made it even more obvious. They told us they don't want to discuss the situation with us until after the season.

"They are fully aware that one of the ground rules laid down by the commissioner is that we have our teams and players 10 months before the start of the season we hope to operate."

COOKE CITES FIGURES

Toronto owner Jack Cooke, present at the conference, said the Continental League was willing to pay indemnity to the International League on the same formula that prevailed when the American League moved into Baltimore in 1954.

"The Baltimore indemnity was based on that city's contribution to the league on each admission the preceding year," he said. "That came to seven cents per admission. The Baltimore attendance in 1953 was 232,161. At seven cents a head over a three-year period, the sum came to $48,- 763.24.

"I would even be willing to go slightly higher," Cooke said, "I will single out the highest attendance Toronto ever had — around 53,000. 7 p.c. would amount to around $90,000. I feel Buffalo would do the same."

Cooke revealed the Continental League has had a meeting with International League representatives and another one was "imminent." He refused to say when.

FURILLO INACTIVE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles Dodgers placed veteran outfielder Carl Furillo on the inactive list Thursday night and recalled Frank Howard from Spokane of the Pacific Coast League. Furillo, a 15-year veteran, has been troubled by bad legs. He has a lifetime major league batting average of .299.

Local Boxers To Fight Out of Town

A number of fighters from the Belleville Boxing Club will be taking part in out of town action this weekend and are hoping to climb back into a local ring in the not too distant future.

George Polmanter, one of the matchmakers, said this morning that plans are being made now to stage an all-star card, featuring many local fighters, very shortly. He added that it would likely be an outdoor affair if arrangements proved according to plan.

In the meantime a number of Belleville's best will keep in condition with spots on out-of-town cards as well as nightly workouts.

Polmanter named nine boxers this morning who will fight on a Renfrew card tomorrow night. Gary night and another five slated for Pier action in Toronto on Monday.

Booked for action in Renfrew Saturday are Terry Bennett, Barry Parsons, Donny Smith, Doug Mannisor, Tommy Cross, Gordie Cole, Donnie Hannah, Eughie Langelle and Jerry Polmanter.

Slated for regular spots on Tuesday's Pier card Monday night are Bob and Gordie Cole, Barry Parsons, Terry Bennett and Benny Hobbs.

GIANTS BUY FIELDER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco Giants purchased Dave Philley, switch-hitting outfielder, Thursday for the $25,000 waiver price from Philadelphia. Philley, who will be 40 May 15, will be used as a pinch - hitter. The Giants sent rookie catcher Neil Wilson to Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League.

Jets Blank Havana Twice On Fine Hurling

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Exit the Richmond Vees and center Columbus in the current show of six-night International League pitching.

Lefthander Al Jackson and flighty Earl Francis shut out Havana Sugar Kings, 9-0 and 3-0 Thursday night in a doubleheader to run the string of scoreless innings by Columbus' pitchers to 20, the modest victory string to three and making it seven victories in nine games.

Richmond, which had a five-game winning streak thanks to superb pitching, suffered a 9-3 pounding when Miami teed off on Mark Freeman and two relievers. The Buffalo-Rochester and Toronto - Montreal games were postponed because of rain and cold weather.

Jackson (1-1) threw a two-hitter at the Kings in the seven-inning opener. A bases-loaded double by Hank Mitchell and Dick Barone's three-run homer sparked a six-run Columbus third inning against loser Mike Cuellar.

2nd PADS

Francis, now 3-1, allowed only four hits and fanned 12, getting support from Tom Burgess' two-run homer in the fourth. Only a run homer in the fourth. Only 264 —smallest crowd ever for an IL game in Columbus—watched the Jets move from seventh to fourth on a drizzly, 46-degree night.

Freeman allowed only two unearned runs for six innings before the Marlins broke out with a seven-run seventh. They added four more in the eighth against Tom Acker and Ed Dick.

Al Stagie drove in five Miami runs with two singles and a double. Harry Byrd was the winner, giving up seven hits. Jack Reed and Deron Johnson.

MOSS ESCAPES INJURY

SILVERSTONE, England (AP) —Stirling Moss, one of the world's greatest race drivers, narrowly escaped serious injury in a crash Thursday. His car hit another and spun around several times. Moss, testing the car for Saturday's International Trophy, was unhurt.

Maxwell Tops Golf Field

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Billy Maxwell shot a three-under-par 67 Thursday to take the first-round lead in the $30,000 Colonial Country Club course.

Ben Hogan, five-time winner of the tournament and Johnny Palmer, champion here in 1954, were among a group shooting 68s.

Arnold Palmer, the year's leading money winner and the favorite here, had a one-over-par 71.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver and six others were tied at 34th place with 74s. Leonard fired 36 going out and came back in 38.

GET BIG BUCK

PITTSBURGH (AP) — John Henry Johnson, a 6-2, 220-pound fullback obtained in a recent deal with Detroit Lions, signed a contract Thursday to play for Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League.

HAVING TROUBLE SELLING YOUR HOME?

HAVE YOU HEARD THIS OLD FOUR-LETTER COUPLE OF MONTHS BECAUSE YOUR HOUSE HASN'T SOLD

* MONEY IS TIGHT
* MORTGAGE IS TOO HIGH
* YOUR DOWNPAYMENT IS TOO HIGH
* PEOPLE ARE HARDER TO PLEASE
* HOUSES MOVE BETTER NEXT MONTH
* YOUR PAYMENTS DON'T STOP

Well it looks like the excuses you've been getting instead of an offer are going to be the end of it. Now let us know of your problems. Maybe we can help you. Even as it's made out to be, we know, because we've been in the same fix, have completely sold, and know the solutions to your problems. The Fireview Realty Limited, we say now how we're in the position to again sell homes in a quick, easy, fair way. Getting you the land business our office was best known for, its ability to sell those large or small, cheap or expensive, your home will be sold. Now is the time for you to call us. Our new modern office we will again give the personal service that served us in the past. At the present time we have a small number of homes listed and by listing now you can be assured of the personal service and immediate attention and prompt results.

So if you would like to hear YOUR SOLD — instead of those long drop around and talk over your problems with us.

SOUTH AFRICA

and said the primary objective of all Commonwealth countries is world peace and security.

They would "do everything in their power to achieve that objective and to endeavour to cooperate to that end with all the peace-loving nations of the world."

SUMMIT PROBLEMS

Prime Minister Macmillan, who presided at the talks, leaves Sunday for the summit meeting starting in Paris the next day. The communique said the Commonwealth leaders reviewed the major problems to be discussed at the summit.

"They expressed their sincere hope that a successful outcome of that conference be a further step in the relaxation of international tension and the welcomed progress made at three-power Geneva on ending nuclear tests.

"They hoped that the first results of preliminary work already done, in the conference room would be able to make some significant progress towards an eventual settlement under international control of the problem of disarmament."

TRADE CONCERN

On other problems, the conference expressed concern at the prospect of rival trade blocs in western Europe. It said western Europe formed an important market for Commonwealth exports and expressed hope that the trade blocs would abide by the principles of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Countries represented at the meeting were Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan, India, Ghana, Nigeria, Ceylon, Malaya and the Rhodesia-Nyasaland Federation.

For better or worse, observers said, the conference set a new note in the relationship of the participants, with the old rule of unanimity doomed.

PRINCE ALY KHAN

dicated Bichston was on the other side of the road, but police gave no confirmation of this.

Bettina, whose real name is Simone Bodin, told investigators that Aly—a racing driver in his youth—was not driving fast at the time of the accident.

EX-WIFE SHOCKED

Actress Rita Hayworth, whose marriage to Aly was a glittering Riviera affair in 1949, said in Hollywood that she and their 10-year-old daughter Yasmin were tremendously shocked.

Miss Hayworth and Aly were divorced in 1954.

Aly also is survived by two sons—Karim and Amyn—by his first marriage to Joan Yarde—Buller Guinness, daughter of an English nobleman. That marriage also ended in divorce.

Karim, 22, is the reigning Aga Khan IV, spiritual leader of the Ismaili sect of Moslems, with 20,000,000 followers. He succeeded to the title in 1957 on the death of Aly's father, the Aga Khan III, who passed over his son and named his grandson as his successor.

Prince Amyn, 22, is a student at Harvard.

The young Aga Khan flew from London to Paris today to make arrangements for the funeral. Burial is expected to be in the Middle East.

Aly was due to return to New York Sunday to discuss publication of his autobiography and to go on to Argentina to announce an additional diplomatic post as Pakistan's ambassador to that country.

Horses and women were the handsome prince's great passions in a fast-living, sometimes reckless life that led him in the headlines for a generation.

Between and after his two marriages his names was linked with many women. Gene Tierney, Merle Oberon and Joan Fontaine were among the Hollywood actresses he squired to parties. He was a man of enormous charm, with a tremendous attraction for women, but well liked by men also.

Aly was one of the sporting world's leading horsemen. He won more than 100 races as a amateur rider, and in 1937 beat over the great stable left by his father. Last year his horses were leading money winners of both British and French tracks. His holdings included almost 900 horses.

Aly was born in Turin, Italy June 13, 1911, the son of the Aga Khan III by the second of his four wives, Italian ballet dancer Theresa Magliano. He died in 1960.

The family titles came from the old Persian nobility and were confirmed a few years ago by his Shah of Iran.

Aly's early manhood was spent in sports and pleasure. But during the war he served with the French Foreign Legion then with the British Army, and was at one time stricken to the U.S. Army. He won the Croix de Guerre and the Legion of Honor.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RICHTER

Saturday, May 14, 1960

General Tendencies: Now you have a day and evening when all kinds of chances are present for you to get your existence on a more secure structure and basis by eliminating all froth and tinsel and keeping that which has proven worthwhile and satisfactory in bygone days. Be sure that you do listen to solemn words of experienced advisers.

Aries (March 21 to April 19) Do nothing that will take away from your prestige or cause difficulty with those upon whom you depend. Then the day is fine for handling all of your affairs efficiently and putting all in finest order.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Instead of fuming over some private anxiety, get busy with study and analysis of new and interesting outlets that can be very lucrative in the future. Improve others with your ability to adapt yourself to changes and modern systems.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Imperative you follow the advice of experts today instead of listening to somewhat superficial and inexperienced comrade, or you can make some pretty serious mistakes. Get your thinking cap on, too. Only by being practical do you win out.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 22) — Associates are your greatest helpers today — rather than higher-ups, who are troubled and want to take their ire out on you. You advance appreciably, depending upon how well you co-operate and if you show true gratitude.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Be steadfast now and do not run off to the untried or reckless, just to get away from duties. You can make real headway with whatever you have in progress. Roll up your sleeves and get to work seriously. P.M. relire early.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)— If you forget about doing unimportant, small tasks and concentrate on big issues only, you can make this a lucrative and happy day. Get the co-operation of partners, too. P.M. go out and have fun. Be cheerful.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — While you are tempted to spend this day with a dynamic and fascinating associate, be loyal to own family instead. Make them your first consideration. P.M. have a little party.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Going after the vital data you need is the best means by which to advance today. However, take great care you do not tread on the toes of fellow workers or associates this-free day. Don't jeopardize regular job.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be certain you accomplish work first and entertainment is concerned. Also, do not invest money unwisely in practical affairs. However, it is a good day to handle some important financial matter very efficiently.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — A fine day to go after your most cherished desires. A close tie may endeavor to deter you, but persistence will soon set him or her, out of your hair and you can proceed wisely. See that you are nicely dressed, immaculate.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Rather than follow that impulse to run around hither and yonder and waste time, concentrate upon analyzing why certain affairs are not working out as successfully as you had anticipated. Take proper steps to adjust them in P.M.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Not a good day for investments of any kind, but fine for having a rollicking good time. Increase prestige and circle of friends.

MR. TWEEDY by Ned Riddle

"I'm sorry, Tweedy, but my fiancee is positive she lost the set out of her ring in your kitchen last night."

Also, be thoughtful of the welfare and needs of pals and assist them as much as you can.

If your child is born today . . . the delightful child born today will soon develop an appreciation for gracious and elegant living, but it is imperative you early teach that one must earn such prizes. So be sure to give a fine an education as possible, plus a good deal of spiritual training. Then the chart is most promising and great success is assured in any field of endeavor desired.

The Rev. J. T. Irwin of Trenton, will preside at the opening exercises on Wednesday morning when 24 children will participate in two

Cross-Canada Survey

Adult Education Becoming Increasingly Important Economic Factor Today

By MEL SUFRIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Adult education is becoming an increasingly important economic factor in the remote areas of Canada.

For many, particularly Eskimos and Indians, it may mean the difference between existing on government handouts and earning a respectable living.

In contrast to the common picture of adult education as a continuation by grown - ups of childhood schooling, it often is the first experience in formal learning for natives in the far north.

A cross - Canada survey by The Canadian Press showed that most provinces have made efforts to promote education for adults in their own undeveloped areas but that these programs are less concerned with basic economics than federal government projects in the vast regions beyond provincial boundaries.

CO-OP PROGRAM

Groups of Eskimos beset by the uncertainties of trapping, hunting and fishing have been encouraged by the northern affairs department to set up co-operative industries. Several of the projects have met with marked success.

At Cape Dorset on Baffin Island, Eskimos were taught to make prints from their stone cuts and sealskin stencils. The first 12,000 prints were sold this year to dealers for $20,000, retailing for from $10 to $45 each in Montreal, New York and other cities. Made by 10 hunters in their spare time, the prints depict Eskimo fables, birds or animals and people.

The Cape Dorset Eskimos also operate a tourist co - operative. Last year 10 tourists were outfitted and provided with hunting guides. Each paid at least $600 into the co-op. More tourists are expected this summer.

At George River, which runs into Ungava Bay, Eskimos are being taught how to operate a commercial fishery. Their product, arctic char, is being sold in Montreal, Quebec, Toronto, Ottawa, Chicago and Vancouver. Officials of the department expect the Eskimos to learn to run their freezing plant and eventually take over operation of all but the marketing.

BUILDING OWN HALL

The George River Eskimos are also being taught logging and last year they floated logs 30 miles downriver to build their own hall at a new community, as yet unnamed, being built 20 miles from the river's mouth. They also made a boat and are building another this year for their fishing industry.

About 100 natives are involved in the co - op. They have been living in scattered groups but are expected to come together in one settlement over the next two or three years.

At Fort Burwell, an island off Quebec's northernmost tip, 30 people have a co-op store. A commercial fishery will begin operating there this year. The Eskimos produce handicrafts such as sealskin capes, slippers and mittens and the department now is testing markets for them.

The Cape Dorset co - op began with no federal funds. The George River and Port Burwell operations each borrowed $20,000 from a government loan fund and expect to repay them in less than three years.

PLANNED TO MOVE

The importance of such programs is underlined by Donald Snowden, chief of the department's industrial division, who said the George River natives were considering moving to Fort Chimo, Que., and living on relief before the government offered to help them form a co-op.

Fred Gooli, head of the division's co - operative development section, says there were at first great problems in educating Eskimos to run co - ops. They were used to the barter system and had no concept of money.

However, most could read and write a syllabic script developed by missionaries and they were eager to learn.

Education in the far north is a novel experience for the teachers. The department got into the business of education about 11 years ago and has just about replaced the traditional missionary-run schools.

Teachers are expected to teach Eskimo and one-day children during school hours and the adults afterward. And they must be versatile, able to switch from basic English to mechanics, sewing and housekeeping with emphasis on cleanliness and health conditions.

Northernmost school is at Resolute Bay, 1,100 miles north of Winnipeg, where the teacher helps adults in the Eskimo community learn to read and write in English, replacing the outmoded syllabic system.

Not all of the program is carried out on the spot. Northern affairs selects groups of Eskimos to be taken to big cities for education in nursing, welding, mechanics and cooking.

Teachers in Indian schools also do some double duty. The department estimates about 1,000 adults are learning English, health, handicrafts and recreation at Indian and Eskimo schools. There are also regular movie nights and many settlements now have community libraries.

Full-time centres at Yellowknife and Frobisher Bay in the Northwest Territories give vocational courses in carpentry and building construction as well as motor mechanics and other trades.

At Yellowknife, students built a 1,000 - kilowatt diesel electric power plant in three months and the plant went into operation in January. The eight trainees who built it for the Northern Canada Power Commission now are working for the commission at other centres in the Mackenzie Mackenzie delta.

The language barrier presents a major difficulty. Interpreters often are needed and this slows down the progress of teaching. Another difficulty is getting teachers to remain long enough to become experienced in the ways of teaching in these areas. It's a hard life and many leave just when they have become familiar with the problems of bringing education to the Eskimos and Indians.

Provincial programs are not confined to Eskimos and Indians although special projects are aimed at helping them in a number of provinces.

Nova Scotia runs two- and three-day courses for its Indians with emphasis on group leadership, community planning and the role of citizens in a democracy.

Newfoundland, with a widely-scattered population, is looking to correspondence courses and radio as means of encouraging learning in distant communities.

Sacred Heart University in Bathurst, N.B., does much of its work in remote areas, teaching sanitation, diet and homemaking along with vocational subjects.

There are more than 500 night classes in rural Quebec province and Ontario offers correspondence courses to people in distant regions.

Manitoba reports the largely Indian and Metis community of Duck Bay on the west shore of Lake Winnipegosis has benefited from evening classes, mainly in home economics, which have resulted in higher standards of cleanliness and better food preparation.

The Saskatchewan adult education division recently set up an information service program to serve people living in remote areas by mail and says the response has been encouraging.

In British Columbia, where a community can get help with its adult education program by forming a recreation commission, there are more than half a dozen in operation in northern communities such as Fort St. John and Queen Charlotte Islands.

Water Weakens Foleyet Dam Pier Situation Critical

Three Men on Flood Patrol Believed Drowned

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The flood threat in northeastern Ontario shifted from the sodden Timmins area Friday and centred on the little railway town of Foleyet, 65 miles to the southwest.

Foleyet's 650 residents are separated from the flooding waters of Lake Ivanhoe by a creaking, 40-year-old dam. In an unending battle since last Wednesday, 20 men from the department of lands and forests have piled more than 150 tons of sandbags against the weakening structure. They have just managed to hold their own against the lake, seven feet above normal.

But the situation is critical. A dam pier is reported becoming undermined.

Frightened residents began to relax Friday as the surging Matagami River began to drop steadily from its nine-foot-above-normal peak.

THREE DROWNED

In the wake of the floods, the first reports of drownings came Friday. Three men are believed to have died. Viljo Jokinen, 30, disappeared in the swirling Vermilion River, 25 miles southwest of Sudbury Friday night. Paper mill workers Rene Guyenard and Charles Saunders are believed to have drowned in the Abitibi River 40 miles north of Cochrane. Three were on flood patrol in a small boat.

The roughly 1,500 residents evacuated from the Timmins suburb of Mountjoy Township are still unable to return to their flooded homes. Some 300 families and individuals are receiving food by RCAF helicopter but officials are puzzled about how to feed some 300 stranded cattle.

Damage is estimated at $2,000,000. Dave Lalonde, who has been running the Timmins flood control centre, says the cleanup will be a big job.

Premier Frost has declared Timmins a disaster area and has promised the province will match dollar for dollar, Murdo Martin, CCF MP for Timmins, said Acting Prime Minister Fleming told him the federal government would take similar action to aid the area when it receives a formal request from the Ontario government.

STORM CONTINUES

Reports that members of a marooned family five miles north of Timmins were suffering from typhoid fever have been denied. Dr. D. W. Templeton who examined them said they had stomach flu.

In the rest of the province, the week-long rains and spring runoff of melting snow were their

GP Should Take Bigger Part in Health Programs

TORONTO (CP)—General practitioners need to take a bigger part in public health programs, a panel of doctors and health officials agreed Friday.

The panel, discussing the relationship between public health and general practice, met on the closing day of the Ontario Medical Association's annual conference.

Public health workers realize preventive medicine should be a large part of the practice of the family doctor, said Dr. L. W. C. Sturgeon, director of Welland and District health unit.

"I've asked people why they come and line up in a clinic when they can get personal care at their family doctor's and they say they would sooner do that than go around their doctor's office," he said.

MUST BE PAID FOR

Panel moderator Dr. M. E. Hobbs of Millbrook said some people think they are money saving to a free clinic. In fact, he said, the clinic is not free, but has to be paid for by taxation.

Earlier, Dr. Trenholm L. Fisher of Oshawa said medical advances in the last 40 years have caused a deterioration in the doctor-patient relationship.

Dr. Fisher, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Medical Protective Association, said the relationship had deteriorated to the point doctors must give deliberate consideration to protecting themselves against legal claims.

Officer Says He Will Arrest His Own Son

DORSET (CP)—A county police officer says he will arrest his 19-year-old fugitive son Gary Buell if he turns up at home.

Constable Douglas Russell, 45, of this community about 45 miles northwest of Orillia has joined provincial police in the search for Gary, who escaped from Brampton training school two weeks ago.

Russell escaped with Robert Delorenzi, 16, of Fort William. Delorenzi was captured in bush near here last week. He pleaded guilty in a Lindsay court Friday to a series of offences and was remanded for sentence.

Constable Russell says he thinks he is still hiding out in the bush near his home. He said he didn't think Gary would use the gun he is supposed to be carrying but added: "He wouldn't be afraid to use it."

"I've done everything I could for the boy. Several prominent people have tried to help straighten him out. I don't think there's much I can do about him."

He said Gary, an only child, was first convicted of an offence about the time of his mother's death three years ago. He was sent to training school for car theft.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis:

The day to day weather picture over Southern and Central Ontario has changed very little this week. It is hoped a storm now crossing the prairies will dislodge the low pressure area over Southern Ontario which has been the cause of the cool, rainy weather. A gradual clearing is expected later today. Sunday should be generally fair and warmer except in northwestern Ontario, where scattered showers and thunderstorms are forecast.

WINTER SEASON SPECIAL BENEFITS END ON SUNDAY

CCF Suggestion Ruled Out of Order

OTTAWA (CP)—Winter season special unemployment insurance benefits end Sunday as scheduled after failure of a CCF attempt in the Commons Friday to launch a full - dress debate aimed at extending them.

The appeal was supported by the Liberals, but ruled out of order by Speaker Michener after the government said its mover, H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) was using the emergency debate device incorrectly.

Special benefits are paid to unemployed workers who otherwise can't qualify for regular unemployment insurance benefits. They are paid for a period of 16 weeks to those who have made payroll contributions for 15 weeks in the winter season.

The seasonal benefit period was extended by two months by the Conservative government in a move now in force from Dec. 1 to May 15. Under the Liberal government it prevailed from Jan. 1 to April 15.

NO EXTENSION

The government resisted opposition pressure to extend the period further, saying that by mid-May the seasonal slack in employment should be taken up by farming and other work.

The Commons spent less than an hour debating the procedural wrangle, and then unanimously approved new federal-provincial tax-sharing legislation.

It will permit Quebec to charge a higher rate of taxes on corporations and use the funds to pay family allowances—activities on the same scale as other Canadian universities have been receiving from the federal government.

The bill was adopted 178-0 in the Commons and sent to the senate for concurrence.

Two Believed Drowned in Lake Ontario

KINGSTON (CP) — Two men were believed to have been drowned early today when their 18-foot fishing boat was overswamped in a three-mile stretch of water between Kingston Harbor and Wolfe Island. A third man was rescued.

Police identified Wilfrid Cosky and Kenneth Murphy, in their early 20s and from Kingston. Leo Millan of Kingston was found clinging to the 16-foot water-filled boat less than a mile from shore.

Cosky and Murphy vanished from sight moments after the stricken craft in an attempt to swim to safety.

Diefenbaker Returning Convinced Commonwealth Has Great Strength

LONDON (CP)—Canada's John Diefenbaker headed for home today, more convinced than ever of the mysterious strength of the Commonwealth.

Obviously impressed by problems in the other countries of the 10 Downing Street, the prime minister flew back to Ottawa, his London mission complete.

In a statement at the airport before boarding an RCAF Comet jet, he said he hopes future Commonwealth conferences can be held more frequently.

He added that he would like occasionally to garden at home, not to mention but most other Commonwealth members are against a change.

Diefenbaker said the conference at which he was the centre of attention only on the toughest question—South Africa's race policies.

He added: "The fact that we were able to come to such a degree of unanimity is a tribute to the restraint and statesmanship of those countries who by reason of their population have not only international interest but a peculiarly vital interest in the problems we discussed."

Asked if he thought the confer-

Rail Official Makes Attack On Durable-Goods Standard To Set Non-ops Income

MONTREAL (CP)— A railway executive made a seven-point attack Friday on the durable-goods standard of setting non-operating employees wages.

Keith Campbell, assistant manager of labor relations for the Canadian Pacific Railway, opened the companies case before a three-man conciliation board hearing a contract dispute between Canada's major railways and 120,000 employees not actually engaged in transportation.

After attacking the durable-goods standard, accepted since 1950 by conciliation boards as a fair comparison to wages for non-ops, he indicated a standard the railways prefer.

Using the durable-goods standard, the 15 non-ope unions are asking the average wage of their members be raised by 20 cents hourly. Present average pay is $1.77 hourly.

Mr. Campbell indicated a new standard — much like one suggested unsuccessfully to a 1958 conciliation board — shows the non-ops are already receiving a fair wage.

He said if the non-ops' demands were granted, and extended to unorganized non - operating employees, the annual wage bill for the CNR and CPR would be $73.2 million.

And this amount, he said, was $23,022,797 greater than the total yearly real income of Canadian non-ops in 1939.

The 1939 standard compared the average wage received by different trades included in the non-ops category to wages in similar trades across the country.

He said the durable - goods standard is unfair because the average wage of all non-ops to that in industries making such products as cars, aircraft and refrigerators — was inadequate for the following reasons:

1. About 60 per cent of the railways' gross revenue goes into wages, twice as much as in the durable-goods industries.

2. Competitive costs in the railway industry are far higher than in others, and they cannot simply jobs in the same way.

3. Railways must maintain country-wide facilities which prevent them from making full use of their employees time.

4. The railways cannot stockpile the services they produces as manufacturers of durable goods can.

5. The railways—whose rates are largely regulated by the government — cannot change them quickly to meet increased labor costs.

6. Each railway employee produces much less revenue than his counterpart in durable goods and has much less capital to work with, ways invest in each employee is much greater than in the manufactured industries.

7. Railway employees are spread over the whole country while durable - goods industries are concentrated in high-wage areas. This alone the railways said is enough to invalidate the standard.

Hearings resume Tuesday.

12 Hurt and 66 Arrested In San Francisco Riot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The biggest riot in San Francisco history flared up Friday as 1,500 persons — more than 200 shouting police clubbed to secure order — already - jammed hearing of the House un-American activities committee on un-American activities.

It took more than 400 policemen, using clubs and fire hoses, to handle what developed into a wild melee inside city hall. Twelve persons, including five policemen, were injured, officials said.

Sixty-six rioters were arrested. It was unclear at first whether the riot was instigated, or by whom. Communists which had filed protests in advance of the hearing disclaimed responsibility.

The hearing had been called to investigate Communist activity in northern California.

Committee counsel R. E. Wilkis, chairman of the un-American activities committee, said the "these young people have been misguided. But that didn't offer any suggestions as to who did the misguiding.

The hearing went on, despite the clamor in the corridors.

Mrs. Fairclough, 1958 Liberal leadership candidate that her security reasons Miss Rebrin must be deported.

Armed Robbery Charge Laid

TORONTO (CP) — Donald Fisher, 20, of Thorncliffe Park township, has been charged with armed robbery in connection with Friday's theft of $5,000 worth of diamonds from a downtown jewelry store.

Police seized a key and traced it to a railway station locker where they recovered the diamonds.

Detective J. M. Levy told police two men, one with a .45 calibre revolver, ordered him into a back room of the store where they taped his mouth and bound his arms and legs.

Castro Says U.S. Sub Violated Cuba Waters

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro says a Cuban coast guard boat fired on a United States submarine 65 miles northeast of Havana last night after the American warship of operating without lights near the coast in violation of international agreements.

In a midnight television speech Castro declared that the coast guard vessel opened up on the sub with machine-guns about 10 p.m. May 6 off Matanzas.

A Cuban navy ship joined in, he said, but pursuit of the submarine for about 30 miles but the latter "sped north swiftly with lights out."

The Cuban premier cited nine violations of U.S. law committed being sighted near Cuba's coast between May 6 and 12.

Castro charged that the U.S. cruiser Norfolk violated Cuban territorial waters by coming inside the three-mile limit.

The U.S. navy headquarters in Washington had no immediate comment on Castro's charges.)

Soviet Cautions Canada About U.S. Spy Planes

LONDON (AP)—The Canadian government was cautioned against permitting United States spy planes to fly from Canadian bases.

A Moscow radio broadcast to North America said Canada "willingly and unquestionably" allows its territory at the disposal of the U.S. Air Force and "the gentlemen of the U.S. defence department and the intelligence service are making themselves at home there.

"What happens next is a matter for the Canadian government's conscience to decide," said the English-language broadcast.

"As everybody knows, Canada has not yet dared to disobey its masters."

The rule of world peace depends in no small measure on the relations the Canadian government and the governments of the countries where U.S. bases are located draw from the incident of the spy plane."

This was the first direct mention of Canada's role in espionage in the last week about the American spy plane. External Affairs Minister Green has reiterated several times in the House of Commons that while U-2 high-flying jets of the type shot down do occasionally operate from the United States over Canada, they do not fly from Canadian airspace to other countries. The only U-2s flying over Canada are engaged in weather research and radioactivity research, Green has said.

JUDGE DISMISSES APPLICATION OF RUSSIAN TEACHER

Deportation Order Upheld by Court

VANCOUVER (CP) — Irene Rebrin is back in Russia today, confined at least until Tuesday in immigration department detention quarters here.

The 33-year-old Russian language teacher was returned to immigration department custody Friday when her application to leave the B.C. Supreme Court quash a deportation order against her was dismissed.

Her counsel filed notice of appeal several hours after Mr. Justice G. Norris Morrow's decision. Friday morning, but an application to her lawyer released on bail pending disposition of the appeal was delayed by time and Miss Rebrin remained in custody until Tuesday.

Miss Rebrin, free on $200 bond for 18 days previous to this decision, was Friday the 13th, went back to the same room 13 where she had been held for nearly two weeks following her arrest by immigration authorities last April 29.

On her arrest in April the department intended to deport her to Russia. She had come to Canada in 1958 as a visitor, but her intentions brought a stay. The police of appeal has the same effect.

Miss Rebrin's application for permanent residence in Canada was rejected in January, 1959, and her appeal against the order to Immigration Minister Fairclough was dismissed a year later.

A political refugee from Red China, where she was born of White Russian parents, she is considered stateless and thus not qualified to become an immigrant to Canada.

Mr. Justice Norris, in a written judgment rejected all arguments of Miss Rebrin's counsel while at the same time criticizing the police for their actions. He ruled that under the law there were sufficient grounds to uphold the deportation order.

Western Summit Delegations Are Pessimistic

Much Depends on How K Acts When Ike Arrives

PARIS (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev flew into Paris today for a summit showdown with President Eisenhower on the spy plane crisis in American-Soviet relations.

His Ilyushin - 18 airliner set down at Orly Field four hours and 45 minutes after he took off from Moscow. The weather here was sunny and brisk, but the attitude of the Western powers and delegations was gloomy.

Khrushchev, however, was smiling as he stepped down from the plane, to be greeted by Deputy Premier Roger Frey. A limousine and a company of troops paid the Soviet premier formal military honors.

Khrushchev got here almost 24 hours ahead of Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan. West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer arrived an hour before Khrushchev. Adenauer and Sen. J.W. Fulbright and French leaders in cocktail Western summit consultation Sunday.

LLOYD ARRIVES

About an hour after Khrushchev's arrival Britain's Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd flew in. Tomorrow Lloyd, Adenauer's foreign minister, Heinrich von Brentano, will arrive, soon, and also was planning to confer with the other foreign ministers of the Western Big Three.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko arrived with Khrushchev's delegation — one of the biggest ever seen at an international conference. Totaling 100, it included Defence Minister Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, disarmament expert Valerian Zorin, Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov, and Mikhail Menshikov, ambassador to the U.S.

President Eisenhower, who leaves Washington by air tonight, cancelled, without explanation, a firewall attainment he had planned to make before setting out.

KEY FIGURE

Khrushchev holds the initiative and, to a great degree, the key to the success of the conference. French and British officials agree that if he confronts Eisenhower in a bitter and hostile manner, hurling verbal invective, the first summit conference in 12 years could be over in a few minutes.

But there is also his arrival here. Khrushchev made an obvious bid for the United States when he told the airport crowd in a microphone that: "certain military circles in the U.S. continue the cold war.

"Such a policy will not be successful."

Speaking of the summit conference, he hailed as positive objectives disarmament and "liquidation of the consequences of the last war." He wanted to see a treaty of peace signed by both Germanys

'Have Cause for Bitter Complaint' If Spy Plane Left Pakistani Base

LONDON (Reuters)—Pakistan's Foreign Minister Mohamed Ikramullah said here today "we have cause for bitter complaint" if Russian charges are true that the downed American U-2 spy plane left a Pakistani base with the intention of flying over the Soviet Union.

Ikramullah, in London for the last-ended Commonwealth-prime ministers' conference, made the comment in a statement issued after a high Russian commission here. A Pakistani investigation is under way.

Friday night Russia warned Norway, Pakistan and Turkey it would regard as hostile any "provocatory measures" if their territories continue to be used as bases for spy planes.

The Norwegian government Friday lodged a protest with the United States and barred the use of its bases as a stopover for any American reconnaissance planes flying over Russia in the future.

The Soviet not to Norway and warned Russia has "means which, in case necessity, will make it possible to render harm-the military bases which are used for the carrying out of aggressive actions against the Soviet Union.

Speaking at an official banquet in honor of a Soviet parliamentary delegation visiting here, he said:

"If we were not fully convinced that the North Atlantic pact organization were purely a defence organization and nothing more, our country would not have joined it."

Foreign Minister Halvard Lange announced to the Storting (parliament) that the U-2 had intended to land at Bodo airfield in northern Norway.

He expressed understanding that Russia is "embittered over what happened."

"But from this rostrum I must protest against the threats against Norway made in this connection have been levelled by responsible political quarters in the Soviet Union."

Suggests Curb On Borrowing Outside Canada

HAMILTON (CP)—A check on the amounts which provinces and municipalities borrow outside Canada was suggested Friday to the annual meeting of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce.

The suggestion came from Jim Taylor, of London, Ont., president of Huron and Erie Mortgage Corporation and Canada Trust Company.

To put some control on provincial and municipal borrowing foreign funds, Mr. Taylor said, Canada Treasury Board could well be established.

Provinces and municipalities he added, are the largest borrowers abroad and there was some regulation of what they may do in this regard "considering beyond our means" could be checked.

COURT OF OPINION

Mr. Taylor said he was thinking of something in the nature of a court of public opinion.

In regard to American investment in Canada, Mr. Taylor said there has been indication of various adverse views between Dominion Premier Fleming and governor of the Bank of Canada Wynne E. Coyne. He added:

"It is confusing to laymen if not something in the nature of figures, both knowledgeable, and indeed, the same sources of information and advice, should be available to them on this fundamentally important subject of foreign capital invested Canada."

MEETING CONCLUDED

Mr. Taylor spoke in a panel discussion at the final session of the chamber's three-day annual meeting.

Drowns in Ditch

Highlanders Entertained by ANAF Branch

Members of the 46th Highlanders Association, Toronto, and their ladies are the guests of ANAF Branch 201 here over the weekend.

The visit is the "first half" of an annual exchange of sports and social events of the two service organizations. The ANAF and ladies will visit the Highlanders next September.

Darts, cribbage and rifle-shooting are the main sports events under the supervision of committee chairman Bill Ford.

Darts winners will receive the Dodge Trophy, cribbage victors the Dilena valley 45 miles north of Edmonton, as saying that the party requested a plan to be in January but it never arrived.

He claimed that a pre-arranged air pickup of the party of March 3 at their MacMillan Lake prospecting camp also never took place.

Richardson and Dave Rosenworn, 55, were rescued by two Yellowknife brothers who flew them to safety. They said a third member of the party, Alex Mclennon, 46, succumbed to cold and hunger, blew himself to pieces with dynamite while two others, Tom Pappas, 41, and Orville Webb, 36, tried to walk 110 miles to Yellowknife in a trapper's cabin. A search has been started for them.

In Ottawa, an RCMP spokesman said the Yellowknife detachment is attempting to organize a search by helicopter for the two missing men. A search was already under way by boat and light plane.

The spokesman said he had no knowledge of any request being made to the RCMP to have a plane sent to pick up the party last January.

FREE "BANK ROBBERS"

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Judge Sherrill Halbert has dismissed bank robbery charges against six Santa Rosa College students who staged a fake holdup with toy guns and costumes. "This is patently a foolish stunt, committed in an unthinking moment," Halbert said. Using air rifles and toy guns, the six staged the mock holdup at the Bank of America in Santa Rosa April 22.

The Wesleyan Methodist Church congregation, corner Everett and Henry Sts., Sunday will mark its 18th anniversary and will have as guest speaker the Rev. Virgil A. Mitchell, secretary church extension and evangelism.

Mr. Mitchell has had a notable career in the ministry, serving as pastor and conference superintendent. One year ago he was appointed head of the Department of Church Extension.

The Rev. Earl Bray, baritone soloist and Homer James, tenor, of Ottawa will sing. Both Mr. Bray, and Mr. James have spent a number of years in this work. Mr. James is associated with the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association.

Survivor Asks For Explanation Says Newspaper

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Sun says one of the survivors of an ill-fated Mackenzie Valley prospecting expedition has demanded a police investigation into why no aircraft was not sent to pick up the party.

The newspaper says RCMP officers at Yellowknife, N.W.T., have launched the investigation.

The Sun quotes John Richardson, 55, one of two men who survived a month-long ordeal against cold and hunger in the remote valley 425 miles north of Edmonton, as saying that the party requested a plan to be in January but it never arrived.

He claimed that a pre-arranged air pickup of the party of March 3 at their MacMillan Lake prospecting camp also never took place.

Approximately 25 Per Cent More Out of Work Than at Same Time Last Season

The sharp reduction in the amount of construction being carried on during the winter is having in a much higher level of unemployment in Belleville and area than is generally the case at this time of year.

Currently there are 2,265 persons in Belleville and in the Hastings county area on the list in the Belleville employment office, 1,815 male and 717 female — looking for work.

This is 450, or approximately 25 per cent more, 500 in fact than at the same time last year. Peak period of unemployment was during the week ended in March when there were 2,036 people looking for work.

Since then there has been a gradual brightening of the employment picture with about recently one week ago there were still 2,253 persons out of work.

"By far our greatest unemployment is in the unskilled and construction categories," noted Mrs. Dorothy Hughes of the Belleville employment office. "If we can get construction going on as was the case last year the picture would now be brighter than in 1959," he said.

BORNE OUT BY RECORDS

How true this is borne out by the records.

Last year this time there were 1,815 unskilled workers looking for jobs. This year the number is 1,973, up 158.

There are 364 construction workers out of work, up 138 from last year, while in the transportation fields the number is 178, up 49 from a year ago.

Fifty one more carpenters are job hunting than was the case last year, with 15 more machine operators, 18 bricklayers and seven more plumbers are out of job.

But even with the comparatively large increase in construction orders for construction workers are far fewer than that of a comparative date last year. The number of orders filled so far this year are 364 as compared with 1,037 last year.

The municipal winter works program this year resulted in 1,000 winter jobs, while during the past month 70 men received short time work with the Department of Lands and Forests in tree planting operations. Last year men were hired this year through the national employment office in Belleville.

ASKED TO REGISTER

This year too Mr. Hiuser is urging high school students who will shortly be looking for summer work to use the facilities of the Belleville employment office.

"If we can get a complete registration going on as was the case last year the picture would now be brighter than in 1959," he said.

A new congregation, Holy Trinity Lutheran Church of Belleville, will be formally organized at a special service tomorrow in Eastminster United Church at 3:00 p.m. Eighty-one adult charter members and fifteen fifty-one children will be received into the congregation by transfer, re-affirmation of faith, confirmation or baptism. The service will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Harold Landeman and Rev. Norman Berscher, Kitchener, who is the assistant to the president of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Canada. The choir of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Kingston, will lead the congregation in the singing of the liturgy and will also render an anthem.

The history of the Lutheran Church in Belleville goes back to May 1, 1946, when the first Lutheran service was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Kuhn, 26 Gordon St. The service was conducted by Dr. H. Hill, head evangelist of the Canada Synod, with an attendance of thirty-four. It was agreed at that time that there would be the beginning of a church in Belleville, and went into a congregation. However, an early survey showed that there were enough Lutheran prospects.

Worship services, nevertheless, were continued. Visiting pastors and seminary students conducted worship services at first and then every two weeks. From 1948 to 1950, weekly services were conducted by the pastors of St. Mark's, Kingston. Services for awhile were held in the I.O.O.F. hall and then in the College Hill United Church.

MISSION APPROVED

During these years Lutherans in Belleville enjoyed that the day would soon come when they would organize a congregation and build a church of their own. Finally, in 1959 their hopes were realized when the Board of American Missions of the United Lutheran Church approved the mission for development. The Lutheran Synod, of Canada approved. Property on Victoria Ave., just east of Moira Street was purchased as a parsonage at 27 Melrose Crescent. On November 1, Rev. Harold Lindemann of Orillonville, was called as full time mission developer.

Lutheran services were changed from College Hill United to the Belleville Technical Institute hall on Dundas St. East, so that the services could be held at 11:00 o'clock in the morning instead of the evening. Surveys were made to find more Lutherans. New prospects were invited and the response was gratifying. Attendances at the services have increased from thirty-eight to the number present over seventy in April.

CHARTER ROLL OPENED

On March 4th of this year, the charter roll for membership was opened and on the first day total of 81 adults signed. Since then, thirty-one more have been added to the list. In April the Board of American Missions gave the green light for organization. A subsequent meeting it was decided that organization take place on May 15 and that the congregation be named "Holy Trinity."

Lutherans in Canada number about half a million and over eight million in the U.S. The world Lutherans form by far the largest Protestant denomination with more than seventy million members.

IN MEMORIAM

LAHUE. — In loving memory of my dear brother, Stanley LaHue, who drowned May 13th, 1950.
A fisherman went out alone
In his little boat to bring home
His one flesh of his flesh
Who loved him best.
—Always remembered by Mary, Don, Tracy, Peter and Timothy Anderson.

LAHUE. — In loving memory of a dear son, Stanley, who drowned May 13th, 1950.
Gone are the days that meet
The sorrow the day would bring;
The heartache and the silent prayer
To see the one we loved so dear.
Sadly missed by his mother, Mrs. Ethel Lahue.
The flowers we bring you dearly
Are but little when compared To the love we have for you.
—Ever remembered by sister Gwen, husband Albert and children.

LAHUE. — In loving memory of my dear son, Stanley.
My son, my son, you were taken
From me in the night
God took you home so quickly
I didn't say goodbye.
You are gone but not forgotten
Your memory I'll always keep Heaven has one more angel
And God's garden one more flower.
—Lovingly remembered by mother.

LAHUE. — In loving memory of our dear brother, Stanley, who was drowned May 13th, 1950.
Dearest brother, you left us so soon
Just why you had to go,
Although we miss you yonder
We don't like to show
We can't be with you a while now
But we'll meet you there,
We long to see your smiling face
And wish that you were here.
—Lovingly remembered by Bill, Hazel, Gwen and Anthony.

LAHUE. — In loving memory of a dear friend, Stanley LaHue, who drowned May 13th, 1950.
Sadly missed by Bill and Cathy.

LAHUE. — In loving memory of a dear friend and fellow worker, Stanley LaHue, who died May 13th, 1950.
Opening Lake,
Peace by my some small way,
Memories of you come our way;
Sadly missed by Ethel and Carl.

LAHUE. — In loving memory of a dear son, Stanley LaHue.
Who was lost May 13th, 1950.
Dad, Mom and Family.

LAHUE. — In loving memory of our dear friend, Stanley LaHue, who drowned May 13th, 1950.
We've missed the sound of your voice
And your voice gives you have good.
Sadly missed by Fred, Ruth, Ronnie and Sandra.
—Always remembered by Fred, Ruth, Ronnie and Sandra.

NICKLE. — In loving memory of a dear brother, Harry Nickle, who died May 13th, 1959.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears of sorrow flow in vain,
When lies of love are broken
And loved ones have to part
Death leaves a wound that never heals
An ever aching heart.
Then in His arms we leave you,
There in him we find comfort,
Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by Mrs. Dora Nickle.

And whisper, "Dear Glenn we're coming."
—Lovingly remembered by his mother and sister, Dora Nickle.

RODGERS. — In loving memory of a dear son, Glenville Rodgers, who left us suddenly May 15th, 1959.
It's not goodbye but au revoir.
And as dawns another year,
You're not forgotten, dear,
Though of him are always near,
He still remembers dear.
Time cannot heal the wound in his heart
But they hide how the sorrow.
That lies within the heart concealed.
—Ever remembered by son Terry.

RODGERS. — In loving memory of my father, Glenville Merrill Rodgers.
You're not forgotten, father dear,
Nor ever shall you be;
As long as life and memory last,
I will remember thee.
—Ever remembered by son Terry.

Scouting activities

ST. THOMAS BANQUET

Over 100 fathers and sons enjoyed the wonderful turkey dinner prepared and served by the Boy Scouts' auxiliary. It was a gay scene that welcomed the guests, red streamers down the centre of the white tablecloths, small pack, troop and Union flags, coloured candles in the gold replicas of the Scout badge and at the head table place cards were red badges with gold stars, very effective and very beautiful.

Flag-bearer by T/L Eddie Prandchot was followed by "The Quest" and then grace by Canon A. S. McConnell.

PRESENTATIONS

Mr. Fred Ehlier presented a medal cooking kit to Scoutmaster Arthur Fort and Akela Reg Churcher received a basket and hat from Mrs. Fort. The gifts were in appreciation of their valuable services to the Scouting.

DCC Phil Allcorn gave recently earned badges to the Scouts: Swimmers: P. Soule, L. Stewart, B. Fisher, D. Hall, Scout Fort. Despatch Rider: F. Donaldson, A. Wilson, Pickering. Second Class Scout: Bill Fisher. First Class Scout: Jim Pickering, who also received his All Round Cord.

ASM Harry Smith was congratulated on having completed ten years' service as a leader. Scout Fort was given his Pathfinder Badge by ASM Harry Smith who said that David is now qualified to be a "Queen's Scout."

Frank Lancaster expressed pleasure in distributing badges to the following: Musicians to Scouts G. Fisher and B. Fisher. Cub Badges: Charles Smith, Richard Scott; David Green. First Star and Collectors: Terry Donovan. First Star and Cub server: Gregory Burkitt. First Star, Artist, Haymaker and Guide: Steven Tullock. First Star: Dean Stockwell. First Star: David Minette. Guide: Cyclist and Homecraft: Bob Scott.

JAMBOREE SCOUTS

Eddie Franchoi and David Fort, both of the 1st Bellevue Troop, have been chosen to represent the district at Colorado Springs. Mr. A. L. Gnaedinger, president District Council, expressed good wish. of the B.A.C. to these fine young men. May we congratulate Scoutmaster Fort, the District Council to these fine Scouts and Scouter.

Cub John Bailey thanked the fathers and mothers for their assistance in Scouting. Cub Bailey paid a well-deserved tribute to Mrs. Minette and auxiliary, particularly to Mrs. Athey convener for this splendid banquet. Cub Bailey is president of this fine group of ladies and their generous support enables to do what they could for the Scouts and Cubs.

PATROL HONORED

Mr. Ettiger awarded a plaque to the Building Patrol who earned the highest points in the troop. It seems this is a habit with them according to A.S.M. Smith, who may be a little biased however, he was the patrol leader many years ago.

A sing-song led by Frank Lancaster and a skit completed a most entertaining evening. Mr. Pickering, Akela committee and the auxiliary deserve high praise for a well-planned and enjoyable banquet.

Aviation Affairs

Ask Public For Support of Airfield Idea

BY DON HARVEY

The East Central Ontario Airport Committee formed more than a week ago by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce is already gaining ears appearing that this part of the province soon will have a busy airport.

The committee held an exploratory meeting this week and decided to seek the support of municipalities in the counties of Hastings, Lennox and Addington, Prince Edward and Northumberland. Members of the seven-man committee soon will embark on speaking tours to gain public support. You might say Jim Marker, an aircraft enthusiast will kick off the campaign tomorrow at 12:00 p.m. when Harry Mulhall will interview him on CJBQ hunt in on the broadcast and drop me a note if you agree or disagree with our ideas.

The committee has the interest of East Central Ontario at heart. Personally, I would also like to see the Belleville Wing of the RCAF Association throw its support behind the venture.

Just where the airport would be located is a matter undecided at the moment. Suffice it to say that Belleville and district is a number of ideas any one of which has merit. The point is, any progressive community in Canada today must think of including the airplane in its future plans. A start has to be made sometime. There is no point in waiting 15 or 20 years and suddenly awakening to the fact that something should have been done in 1960. However, it must be a matter of months before the committee finishes its objective.

THE ANGLE

The committee has decided that its venture must be tackled from the angle of bringing commercial feeder air service to this part of the province. This might not be very difficult to arrange. Quebecair of Rimouski, Que., has shown interest in the future possibilities of the Belleville district. At the moment it hopes to launch a feeder service between Montreal and Toronto with stops at Cornwall, Kingston and Belleville. Wheeler Airlines of St. Joviite, Que., is interested in operating a route in the Niagara Peninsula. It might like to link its Quebec service with Belleville and solve this part of Ontario on the way through.

The benefits of a civilian airport are unlimited. Ready-made airports are located at Kingston, Trenton, Mountain View and Picton. Each has its advantages and disadvantages. But they are all serviceable. Picton and Deseronto airports now are easily accessible to civilian aircraft. Permission must first be received from Air Force Headquarters or the station commanding officer concerned before civilian aircraft can use the RCAF airfields at either Mountain View or Trenton.

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce recently queried district industries to see if they would use a nearby airport. The result was astounding. More than 80 per cent supported the idea by saying they would use the field.

Perhaps during the past few weeks you have noticed I have tended to ramble in this column. I had a motive. By suggesting something and then turning around and shooting it down I was trying to drum up interest in the airport idea. I succeeded. Now the pot is beginning to boil.

Members of the airport committee are the chairman, Arthur Duncan, public relations officer of the Bata Shoe Company; Lawyer; J. A. Grant of Northern Electric; Earl Dickensheet, secretary-manager of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce; Ald. Wade Elliott; Ald. Jack Ellis; Jim Marker of W. T. Hawkins Ltd., and me.

Ignorance Darkest Thing About Africa

TRENTON — Speaking at the Kiwanis Club Thursday night Mrs. D. H. Thring of Trenton said that "the darkest thing about Darkest Africa has always been our ignorance of this vast continent."

Mrs. Thring said that she had spent three years in the African Sudan and several months in Kenya and that she had found the native "blacks" kind, peaceloving and loyal. She said that through the efforts of missionaries many of the people had become Christians.

The Thrings had lived in Khartoum in the northern Sudan. Mrs. Thring said that Khartoum was really three cities in one, with the government buildings and the industrial section being on one side of the Blue Nile, the native quarters, a city of mud huts, on the other side.

She said that prior to the Sudan gaining its independence in 1956, 50 years of British rule had seen the formation of an educational system for the non-Moslems and the training of the administration of justice and public health to be set up.

Mrs. Thring said that in spite of great changes having taken place in the Sudan, it was essentially British. Native labor is cheap and plentiful. She said it was a "man's world," although there were a few women who have been given some opportunity for education.

The speaker gave a brief account of the time she had spent in Kenya, which by way of contrast from the torrid Sudan, has an ideal climate.

Mrs. Thring was introduced by Derek Baker and thanked by Don Whitaker.

Three Trenton Aircraft Join Search for Plane

TRENTON (CP) — At least five planes are searching in good weather for a Beaver aircraft missing with four persons aboard in the Hudson Bay area since Thursday.

RCAF officials Friday night identified the persons as Fred DeLeew, the pilot; Mrs. Tom Notting, wife of the Wheeler Airlines fur manager, and a Miss Smith, identified only as a teacher. A fourth man believed aboard has not been identified.

The plane was last heard from when the pilot radioed the aircraft's destination more than six hours after it had taken off on a normal 24-hour flight.

The pilot said then he was proceeding on course from Povungnituk on the east shore of Hudson Bay to Sugluk on the Ungava peninsula, about 1,300 miles due north of Toronto.

The search was begun Thursday by the Murray Mining Company. Friday two C-54s owned by Wheeler Airlines of Montreal, owners of the missing plane, and three RCAF aircraft from Trenton joined in the hunt.

Council Briefs

TRENTON — The city of Peterborough wrote Trenton council asking that it endorse a resolution to approach Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Labor Minister Starr, asking that special studies be instigated into the unemployment situation in Canada, and that a public works program be devised to provide gainful employment for Canadians now out of work.

"It won't do any good", said Councillor McNair.

The other councillors evidently decided that it wouldn't do any harm, and agreed to support the resolution.

H. S. Pane, chairman of the board of health, submitted a letter to council asking that something be done about a town-owned house on Sapphire Street. The house, which is "registered" for the taxes, and is legally the property of the town subject to redemption before the end of the year, has been declared "dangerous" by Fire Chief Orval Ellis, because of the condition of the wiring.

"Condemn the house and evict the tenant", said Councillor C. V. Graham.

Dr. W. Larry town clerk-treasurer, pointed out that the house could not be condemned without giving the tenant a chance to correct the situation.

"Give them 30 days", suggested Councillor Vaun Lange.

"That's plenty of time for the board of health, Ernie?"

It was decided that the owner would be notified of the situation and that the town would notify the present tenant that rental payments would begin June 1 and that if he did not pay, the town could evict the family and leave the house empty until it was rewired.

Residents of Leopold and Louis Streets asked that they be allowed to buy a 10-foot lane at the rear of their properties. The lane is owned by the town.

"It isn't worth anything," said Councillor F. J. Whitley.

"Give it to them," said Councillor McNair.

Councillor Graham demurred. "The town needs the money."

"Could it be used for a fire access?" asked Councillor Fraser.

"It was built in haste and busby days," said Mr. Graham. "You couldn't get a fire truck through it."

Councillor Fraser wondered if each owner would assume the legal costs of making out deeds for the transfer of property. Roderick Campbell, town solicitor, said that "one great big long deed could cover all the lots."

In general discussion about the problem of condition committed by the Willman Company, Trenton garbage collectors, at the last council meeting, question at committee level.

Councillor Fraser thought the contract should include the collection of garbage from service stations and garages. Councillor Whitley said he thought brush should not be excluded from the contract.

"Well, we're tender-happy this year," he said, "put the job up for tender." asked Councillor Lange.

"A few years ago we tried another man and we were glad to get Willman back", said Councillor Graham.

"I'd like to remind you that Willman's contract has expired, and if you put the job up for tender he'd like to get a real, four weeks' garl age in the street wouldn't be a joke. You'd better make arrangements for an interim contractor," the town solicitor warned.

It was decided to discuss the

Trenton Woman Elected WMS Vice-President

Trenton Legion Notes

TRENTON — Trenton Branch 110 of the Canadian Legion will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday.

Following the business meeting, two films on nuclear warfare will be shown. A special "Bean Feed" has been arranged for the social period after the meeting, by Les Morton.

There is enrollment day for boys under 17 who are interested in the Pee-Wee ball. A good turn-out is expected. Bill Steinburg, Lorne Simpson and Tony Boucher are in charge of the enrollment.

May 23 to June 2, president Bill Lawson, 1st vice-president Ken Crisdee and 2nd Vice-president Wannacker and Past District Governor Lou Hall will represent the Trenton branch at the Dominion convention of the Canadian Legion in Ottawa.

In the near future, a committee of the presidents of the Trenton branch, Bill Lawson and a member of the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs will meet to discuss co-operation with the Trenton Chamber of Commerce on such matters as parking and dates for school-raising campaigns, etc., which will not conflict with other dates for such projects arranged by other town organizations.

Another program is under way at the Trenton branch. Operation Blue Shadow will concentrate on a program designed to improve the physical fitness of boys and girls from nine years old to the late teens. Each creek valley, largest in athletics, particularly in the Trenton area, field division, Vic Burtt is chairman of the project.

Woman Identified

MABERLY (CP)—The woman killed in a Maberly crash last Tuesday was identified Friday night by police as Elizabeth Leslie. Police said she is believed to be from Edmonton.

The woman died Tuesday in a head-on crash that also claimed the life of Frank P. Welch, 53, of Orleans, driver of the car.

An inquest will be held at Perth Monday night.

Plant Settings Plentiful on Local Market

This morning's market saw a good number of people taking advantage of the element weather to both display their produce and water of the show. A number of very colorful and attractive displays of flowers and plants were to be seen at several locations. All types of plant settings were available and ranged from 40 to 50 cents a box depending on the variety desired. Tulips and other cut flowers were available at 50 cents a dozen.

Asparagus and rhubarb were in good supply with the former selling for 30 cents a bunch and the latter at 15 cents a bunch or two for a quarter. Apples were selling from between 65 and 75 cents the basket and $2.50 to $3.00 a hamper.

Potatoes were selling at 75 cents the peck and around $4.25 a 75-pound bag. Onions sold at 55 to 60 cents a basket with mushrooms plentiful selling at 40 cents a quart.

Egg prices were down this week with extra large selling at 45 cents a dozen and Grade A large selling between 38 and 40 cents the dozen. Chicken sold at 50 cents per pound.

As is usual to the local indoor market there was a very fine display of baked goods with home-made pies selling between 35 and 65 cents, home-made bread was priced between 15 and 25 cents a loaf according to size and variety, and cookies made from various recipes sold at around 50 cents for three dozen.

WINDSOR (CP) — Mrs. Edith Barden died Friday of head injuries suffered when hit by a truck late Thursday night, on her 74th birthday.

Salvation Army Drive for Funds Is Going Well

The local Salvation Army's annual self-sacrifice campaign to raise $10,000 is beginning to roll.

Major Victor Greenwood of the Salvation Army Citadel reported this morning that although the campaign got off to quite a slow start, it is now "coming along nicely," with every indication of reaching its objective again this year.

Campaign chairman is Frank Domenico; and vice chairman is Bram Humphreys.

Similar campaigns are being held all across Canada during the month of May, which has been designated "Salvation Army Month."

banks and left hundreds of persons homeless.

At Pakes, northwest of North Bay, township Reeve Alfred Murray reported more than half-his town flooded by the Sturgeon River. Some of the residents of the area, a total of 750 persons are living in CNR sleeping cars on a siding.

In Pembroke the upper Ottawa River was 6½ feet above normal Friday. Friday - five families at Fort Coulogne, about 20 miles east of Pembroke, have been forced from their homes.

Water was still rising Friday on the Spanish River at Espanola and threatened the main dam of the KVP Company at Elliot Lake, 15 miles upriver from Espanola.

Dam crews say they will have to release more water to relieve pressure on the dam.

Many of the province's roads are still under water, although not all flooded roads are impassable.

and improvement of relations between East and West.

Western diplomats hung on his airport words with avid interest, hoping for some strong indication as to how the summit parleys will fare in their talks.

Khrushchev's brief arrival comments did not conclusively define his position. They left him poising the finger of accusation at the U.S. and claiming for himself a correct effort to end tensions and make East-West peace.

All i e d diplomats speculated that Khrushchev and Eisenhower might have a private talk prior to the Monday morning opening of the big Four summit sessions.

President de Gaulle was reported planning an attempt to get Khrushchev to soft-pedal the spy issue.

Prime Minister Macmillan, due from London Sunday morning, also is expected to devote his initial efforts to trying to save the summit from extinction.

PRAVDA CHARGES

The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda charged anew while that the flight of the United States U-2 was an attempt to "poison the atmosphere" on the eve of the summit.

The U.S. public realize," Pravda declares, "that similar provocations which themselves are extremely dangerous for the cause of peace, are steps out of control at present when only a few days remain from the beginning of the negotiations at the conference."

Eisenhower's position on the spy plane issue has been no less tough than Khrushchev's. The President's Press Secretary Christian Herter may find themselves faced with the need of explaining to their Western colleagues why they decided to scrap the traditional rules of espionage and admit secret flights over Soviet territory.

Allied officials here do not believe that the Soviet and American leaders that such flights are necessary. They do question publicly the wisdom of President Eisenhower's decision to admit flights over the country.

A Mistake—But Not the Worst Kind

Dr. Mackinnon Phillips, M.I.A. for North Grey, ancial secretary and former minister of health, has ned from the Ontario Cabinet.

Dr. Phillips failed to remain at the scene of an ent in Toronto and was fined $200.

t can quite understand that in addition to this ter being a matter of anguish for me it has been of embarrassment to you and your colleagues," Dr. ips wrote in his letter of resignation to Premier fle is right, of course. Cabinet ministers cannot round breaking the law. We think it ought to ided, though, that there are worse offences than of which Dr. Phillips was guilty. A moment of o could cause many of us to make a similar slip. is not in the same class with mistops which, ough involving a breach of the law, reveal a rable lack of appreciation for the necessity of men ing positions of trust in public life avoiding even appearance of evil. There appears to be a growing re to realize that a conflict of interests cannot be ated. This rule often works a real hardship on tinest man who is trying to serve his fellow citizens though, is an essential price if we are to avoid recurring suspicions of corruption.

As for Dr. Phillips, his record as a minister gives good reason for personal satisfaction. He assumed position of minister of health after what we always ded as an unhappy period in which the office of having this post filled by a medical doctor abandoned. It was the writer's privilege to cover earliest election campaign and we recall "Dr. Mac" ng a rather startled crowd of Conservatives, en home from a country meeting, that something ld have to be done about the rising cost of hospital and medical care—either this increase in costs ld have to be curbed or the government would have ep into the picture with an insurance scheme, "you call that socialism but I don't care." He was number of the Conservatives in the province, men here literally what Mr. VanderVelde is now. He stated: "They build their churches and ir schools according to the dictates of their conscience".

Common sense can easily discover the difference between Dutch this statement and the former one. Nobody said in the case of Dutch immigrants belonging to the Roman Catholic Church that their children to the (Roman Catholic) Separate school according to the dictates of their conscience, or to the public schools. If Protestant Dutch immigrants established and maintain private Christian schools according to "the dictates of their conscience" they do something which is at another entirely level.

Mr. VanderVelde does not seem to be well informed about the Christian Reformed Church in the Netherlands. According to the Christian Reformed church there is a "state-supported church" as he asks: "Why mention the fact, that schools and churches are being built by the Dutch largely for the use of their own offspring and who will go to be the Canadians anyway whether they go to Christian Reformed churches or not". To me it would be a deplorable fact if the Christian Reformed Church would be considered to be a Dutch church and not of fellow citizens got the impression that we build schools in order to raise a generation of Netherlanders in this soil. Our private Christian schools are nothing but schools of the Church (beautiful) Dutch language is not included in the curriculum. As for the Dutch-Reformed churches two out of every three services are in the English. Day in our Trenton Christian Reformed Church are held in the English language. In that nobody anymore has to be familiar with the Dutch language to be a member of this church. All our catechetical instruction is in the English language. A high percentage of the members of our Young People's Societies cannot be capable anymore to make an essay in the Dutch language.

All we can say about this statement of Mr. VanderVelde is just that the Christian Reformed Church and the private Christian school has now Dutch immigrants to Canadianize as soon as possible.

Following, Mr. VanderVelde asks rhetorically: "Why do not more Dutch immigrants have the insight to go to Canadian churches and their children to Canadian schools wouldn't they find it an asset in the way of a better understanding of the Canadian language and the Canadian way of life?". The answer to this is simply that we like to keep our Dutch church language or folklore, but we want the worship of God and Christ Him, unmitigated reference to His inspired Word in accordance with the historic reformed faith. For more detailed information we would like to advise Mr. VanderVelde to listen to the denominational broadcast of the Christian Reformed Church, namely the "Back to God-Hour". It is impossible to say that the first Christian Reformed Church in Canada still was established as far back as 1905 and that this church has a history in the new world of well over 100 years. Not many churches are that old. Too often we meet this misconception standing in the Christian Reformed Church is just an "invention" of the Dutch immigrants who came here after the Second World War.

Mr. VanderVelde also states that he loves Canada "even more than the material assets that I might gain the Jews; to them I just are under the law, as under the law . . . to them that are without the law, as without law to the Jews, because I am weak: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some". (1 Cor. 9:20-22).

I do hope that you do not mind if I presume to say to me to voice my opinion briefly on the letter written by Mr. R. H. VanderVelde, in which he refers to a speech of Mr. J. VanderVlist, the Vice-Consul of the Netherlands for this area, about the immigration of Dutch people to Canada and their integration in their new country.

Mr. VanderVelde calls himself a "fellow New-Canadian", but according to his letter he is a real fellow immigrant from Dutch origin. I should even be the style of his writing proves this fact, for the Dutch are particularly good in expressing their controversialists. To avoid wrong conclusions from his letter I would like to make the following observations, referring also to the excellent editorial "Integrating Canadians" in the same issue of the Trentonian, in which Mr. VanderVelde's letter was published.

According to Mr. VanderVelde Mr. VanderVlist said at the Executive Meeting that the Dutch immigrants have retained their Dutch characteristics by building Dutch schools and churches in this country". I am sure that Mr. VanderVlist never would have said anything like this, for the Dutch retain some of their Dutch characteristics even without their own schools and churches. It is the determination of Mr. VanderVelde's letter literally what Mr. VanderVlist said. It stated: "They build their churches and their schools according to the dictates of their conscience".

Broadcasting the Commons

Douglas Fisher, M.P. for Port Arthur, has suggested debates in the House of Commons should be adcast periodically.

"Of course," he said, "with the present standards difficulty would be to get any radio station to take broadcast."

Other members indicated they shared his low ion of the calibre of debate at times.

Mr. Fisher, who made his suggestion at a meeting committee considering revision of the rules of the se, proposed that the broadcasts start with an hour- k coverage of debate on private members' legis-

Burial Rites Grow Bizarre

Toronto Star

The bizarre, peculiarly North American funeral practice of treating the dead as "slumbering" who are somehow entitled to many of the comforts of living is again under attack in Scandinavia.

On the sound ground that this modern charade denies the realities of death it is the Scandinavian concept of the triumph of reason over fear. The Archbishop of Danforth Unified Church has urged that the Church resume its ancient role in funerals.

Mr. Methesen's comments were made at a panel discussion held by the Toronto Memorial Society, which is dedicated to organized to encourage simplicity, dignity and moderate expense in the disposal of remains.

All civilizations have had some method of disposing of the dead in the dignity of their burial rites. But it took the 20th century Christian Canadian, under influences of a floss-worshipping movie capital, to develop the most outlandish ceremonies.

The "memorial parlor" slickness became Forest Lawn Memorial park where "dead men on display" adopts some of the accepted oil duhot organ renditions of "Whispering Hope" and splashing fountains removed, for the more expensive period, the bitter impact of reality.

Larger Canadian cities ushered more Canadian bodies according to the first stages of the "Forest Lawn" idea, and there seems to have fallen prey to many of its extravagances and absurdities and there has been little organized resistance to the cult of embalming.

The Toronto Memorial Society performs a useful role in setting up other options on the ceremonial excesses into which the average Canadian, grief mourning Canadians, spokesmen of the society's panels have condemned undue pomp and show intended solely to glorify the dead and add to the already high cost of funerals.

But the society cannot protect the citizen who insists on "keeping up with the Joneses" in death as well as life. As long as this equipment is the expensive ostentation, as long as society promises the next of kin into "putting their best foot forward," there will be some undertakers ready and willing to provide every last item available. A Lift for Living

Working for a Rich, Full Life

By DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

A number of years ago Dr. Richard Cabot of Harvard wrote a book called "What Men Live By." Two words were have no rendered that book out-of-date. In it Dr. Cabot said there are four essential functions by which men live — Work, Play Love and Worship.

Consider work. It is necessary to life. Deprived of work people exhaust themselves like caged animals beating against the bars. Doctors recognize this in the treatment of nervous and mental cases. The patient is given something to occupy his hands and mind.

In my visits to college campuses I meet many young men wearing graduation but still groping to find their lifework. My sympathy goes out to them for I spent two years in the same dark night of indecision. A man does not really find himself until he finds what he calls a lifework.

And how does a person find his lifework? One approach is to start with yourself. Study your own capacities. Ask others to help appraise your aptitudes. And try to discover what you can do best.

Another approach is by way of the question, "What is the best thing I can do?"

MUST STUDY OURSELVES

I think the Master would have us study ourselves to see our aptitudes and talents. I do not believe He would have us try to fit a square peg into a round hole. But I think He would have us consider the hole even more than the peg. What need does our work fill? Would we be ultimately satisfied to do a thing well if it is not really worthwhile? The desire to make something of ourselves is good. But the desire to make something through ourselves is still better.

Christ said that a person does not really find himself until he loses sight of himself in something better than himself. So many of us today are restless and unhappy because we are looking too much at ourselves. We read all sorts of books on how to have peace of mind and happiness. A few years ago we were not reading such books. Why? A war was on. We were caught up in movements bigger than our own little interests. Strange, isn't it, that when we are in war we do not worry about our own peace of mind.

But we cannot wait for another war to give us peace of mind, because in our modern age war has become insanity. One nuclear attack and 60 million would be dead, so we are told.

And we cannot wait for the pay check to give us satisfaction in our work. About a dozen years ago a well-known British writer, discussing work and wages, declared that nobody works for the sake of the thing he is doing but in order to make money to do something else. While much a charge is too sweeping to be accurate, there is truth enough in it to make us all pause.

It makes a basic difference whether we work for the financial rewards of our labor or whether we find satisfaction in the work itself. If we toil primarily for the money or comfort that our work provides, then our aim is to get through with it as quickly as possible.

If our labor is to be truly our lifework, we must like it for itself. And this requires that we see our work in its larger setting as a part of God's purposes. Arnold Toynbee, the historian, makes this sweeping assertion: "Man at work can be happy and spiritually healthy only if he feels that he is working in God's world and for God's glory through doing what is God's work."

God puts a purpose into our work larger than our own little success. He makes us feel we are workers with Him. And when we get that feeling, even drudgery has a meaning. We cease to be worried so much about the credit and the reward of our labors, content to know that the work is done and done well. Such was the spirit of Stradivari, the violin-maker, as George Eliot interprets him saying:

When any master holds
Two violin and hand a violin
Of mine,
He will be glad that Stradivari lived,
Made violins and made them of the best.
For while God gives them
skill
I give them instruments to play upon,
God choosing me to help
Him.

When we, like Stradivari, feel our work fills a need, when we are concerned for the work rather than the credit, when we are conscious of a divine vocation in our work, we are getting a rich life through our work.

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mrs. Cecil H. Bateman of Springbrook, Ontario, wishes to announce the engagement of her only daughter, Shirley Lorraine, to Mr. Charles Wesley Finch, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Finch, Campbellford, Ontario. The wedding to take place at the United Church, Springbrook, at 2 p.m. on Saturday, May 28th, 1960.

The conveners of the YON Spring tea held Wednesday afternoon at Tabernacle United Church were Mrs. R. R. Bain and Mrs. J. Nelles.

Medical Society W.A. Views Art Handicraft

On the evening of April 28th the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Hastings and Prince Edward Medical Society was held at the home of Mrs. Brock Nugent, Belleville Crescent, Trenton, with 23 members and three visitors present.

The President, Mrs. Morphy, introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Murray Meyers, a talented, local artist.

Mr. Meyers, a paraplegic, due to a car accident several years ago, turned his hobby 'Art' into a means of livelihood. With his aid of books from the library and helpful assistance and encouragement from his parents, many beautiful objects were displayed in the living room. Two lovely coffee tables of driftwood, one white and gold French Provincial, the other a turquoise green Modern enhanced with artificial flowers and topped with plate glass were displayed on the wall was a large bird consisting of three pieces of driftwood, creating the effect of a bird in flight with it swallowed a fish.

On the mantle, a girl kneeling, sculptured from British Columbia driftwood, candelabras, lamps, ornamental planters, and a nut bowl all of driftwood, rebounded the talent and versatility of Mr. Meyers.

On the mantle of a northern lake, Mr. Meyers finds a supply of driftwood; using cedar and pine, sandpaper, steel wool, lacquer and pigment and hours of labor, he creates many beautiful objects of art.

Also on display were oil paintings, one winter scene and a portrait using the palette knife technique, the other a winter scene was done with brushes. Other works on display Mr. Meyers also paints children's portraits.

A candid invitation was extended to all present to visit his home at 13 Chatham St., Trenton, wife, and see more of his work and his mother's.

Mrs. F. Ryley graciously thanked Mr. Meyers for his talk and fine display of driftwood and his oil paintings.

Mrs. E. W. Dow, of Trenton, was asked to read the annual report at the O.M.A. in Toronto, May 25th.

Mrs. Rota reported for the lunch committee and thanked and stated that Mrs. Joy Wincknott would be a member and that Woodley's would supply the flowers.

The meeting was adjourned and a social hour enjoyed.

Energetic Club Visits Local Court House

The regular meeting of the Energetic Club was held on Wednesday evening, with Don and Marianne Ford's group in charge. The club met at the Court House and were fortunate in being able to sit in on a court case.

Later, the club was shown through the various rooms and their uses were outlined. Mr. Bruce Robson and Mrs. Mc-Caw helped to make the visit successful.

The club then went to the church for the rest of the meeting. Devotional was held by Mother's Day. Taking part in the devotions were Shirley Lucas, Bob Bleecker and Bea Bradshaw.

The business portion followed, after which the club gathered in the Sunday School rooms for delicious refreshments.

Phyl Lucas and Bill Campbell sang a couple of songs for Mother's Day.

Elwood Kerruish thanked the group for the enjoyable evening.

WIVES REBEL

LONDON (CP) — Rebellion of the wives against loneliness is the reason why many men leave forests and farms and take work of town and cities, says a government committee studying the drop in rural bee services.

Mr. and Mrs. William Alan Macfarlane are shown signing the register following their marriage in Eastminster United Church, Belleville. The bride is the former Miss Margaret Joan Macfarlane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. P. Macfarlane, of Belleville, and the late Mr. Macfarlane. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Macfarlane, of Ottawa. (Photo by William E. Riley, Belleville).

MACFARLANE — MACFARLANE

Pan-shaped standards of white; snapdragons, large white chrysanthemums, Shasta daisies and white bellflies, symbolic of the chancel and white satin bows the guest pews, in Eastminster United Church, Belleville, on Saturday, April 30th, at 2.30 p.m. for a lovely double-ring wedding, when Margaret Joan Macfarlane, Belleville, daughter of Mrs. Arthur C. T. Macfarlane, and the late Mr. Macfarlane, became the bride of William Alan Macfarlane of Ottawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Macfarlane. The Rev. Alexander McDowell, pastor of the church, officiated.

Mrs. J. H. Rennie, of Belleville, preluded at the console of the organ, and rendered the traditional wedding music with the prelude from Handel's Pastoral Symphony and Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring."

At the ceremony, and during the processional, the bridal chorus from Wagner's "Lohengrin," and, while the register was being signed, Handel's "Where'er You Walk," and the "Wedding March" from Mendelssohn, at the recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Whitney L. Macfarlane, of Port Arthur, Ontario, was radiantly lovely in her traditional bridal gown fashioned with princess lines of lustrous white silk organza and Chantilly lace. The long-sleeved bodice was accented by a jewelled neckline as were the sheath-like sleeves with appliqued medallions on the graceful bouffant skirt, the whole over a finger-tip veil of silk tulle illusion, tiny branching headdress encrusted with seed pearls, and carried a cascade bouquet of white Calla lilies.

Attending the bride were: Miss Donna MacDonald, of Belleville as maid of honor and the Misses Nancy Matthews, of Belleville, and Louise Macfarlane, of Ottawa, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids. All were gowned alike in bouffant Regency blue organzas with white bow headdresses and tiny veils, and carried sheath bouquets of chrysanthemums mingled with ivy leaves.

The little flower girl, Miss Linda Macfarlane, of Belleville, sister of the bride, was sweet in a blue-mingled frock of satin, pink crystal charm, with crystal charm bow headdress and carrying a tiny sheath of matching pink carnations.

A Good Travel Agent Big Help When Planning European Trip

By SHIRLEY and BOB SLOANE

(Ed. Note: This is the second of two articles by Shirley and Bob Sloane on planning that rough spot out of your trip to Europe.)

Obviously, planning a European trip is a lot different from hopping into the car here at home and following the crowds. You're going to have to face up to the problems of passports, health certificates, reservations, language barriers, currency changing and a camel-load of other straws that you're sure will break your back somewhere along the line.

The easiest way through and out of this difficulty is to let yourself off to a travel agent some months in advance and let him worry about it.

But before you take your hat off at his desk you should have these matters clear in your mind:

1. Where — just roughly — you want to go.
2. When.
3. For how long.
4. How much you can afford to spend.
5. Whether you want to go by ship or plane.

6. Whether you want to go with a group, put together as members come along, on a pre-arranged basis, or whether a pre-arranged tour (known as a package tour) is for yourself or for a tour to be worked out with the travel agent as a Foreign Independent Tour — or a Fit (or just-tell-me-a-ticket-I'll-see-you-in-Europe).

To elaborate:

Where — if you've got your mind made up to see Prague the agent isn't going to tout you on Tunisia. But he may have some good suggestions between Paris and Las Palmas within your budget.

When, how long and how much are personal decisions. But whether by ship or plane depends essentially on your time and temperament. Some people like the leisure and exercise of a week's crossing; others just want to get there by the fastest seasickness, that should figure into your plan.

DEPENDS ON BUDGET

There are generally three classes afloat and two aloft. All depends, that is, on budget. It should be added that first class flying is pretty much for the well-heeled and expense account operators only. The airliners try hard to make it exciting, but jet age travel will tell you it's worth no additional $15 an hour for seven hours to ride up front in a jet and eat jambon de Westphalia a la Belsuche for a canape instead of riding in back and making a meal of a ham sandwich.

Another form of ocean travel is the freighter passenger combination trip — going, coming or there — is on the same ship. This is an interesting way to go for some and offers better opportunities for individual style, port-call hat with soft beige-toned stilton roses, and bag and shoes in complementing tones.

Guests were present from New York City; New Preston, Conn.; Fort Arthur, Ontario; Montreal; Ottawa; Sarnia; Kitchener; Toronto; Whitby and Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Macfarlane are residing at 345 Wilbury Avenue, Ottawa.

This - - - and That

By HARRIET STEVENS

We do not know which came first, the poem or the song. We must confess that we never have heard the poem until now. But we've known and loved the verses. I wonder if they had been having quite as much fun as we have had. Verse One goes:

It is not raining rain to me,
It's raining daffodils;
In every dimpled drop I see
Wild flowers on the hills.

Verse 4:

Then into the happy!

A fig for him who frets-
It is not raining rain to me,
It's raining violets.

We must remind ourselves that "Fresh raindrop makes some floweret blow", as Charles Mackay said. But if April showers bring May flowers, what do May downpours bring?

Speaking of May and songs and poetry, we remember song rascals from the past — some who raised a rousing barbiere singing "Largo Al Factotum". The words in the climactic last line were "Hurrah! for the Cornish Dance!" We had only the faintest in the dim past, but now we understand that the real and moral dance is still alive. This is the ancient town of Helston, Cornwall, to be exact, each May of the traditional Furry Dance. Both Mr. Churchill and Mr. Michael have a part in the ceremony.

The people of Helston are proud of their historic old town, and cherish the rites and customs of their forbears. For many centuries, without break save for war or plague, local inhabitants have enacted each year their joyous, yet dignified, ritual which is known as the Furry Dance. We are told that the dance is a survival from pre-Christian in origin, and is essentially a festival of spring. In celebration of the season when Nature's seeming barrenness and death begins to give place to fruitful song and life, the dance is an expression of joy at being passing from darkness into light, the emergence of man victorious from the eternal struggle for survival. This year Furry Day was celebrated on May 7, a week ago today.

Everything is refurbished for Furry Day, gardens and streets are tidied up, friends and relations, many from abroad, arrive and there is a feeling of general gathering of the tribe. On May 6, town band leads the parades the streets with hundreds of children following, dancing to Harold Fury Day. This is just a preliminary. The final week of preparation sees the great inns and the meetings, the decoration of houses, streets and public buildings with beech and sycamore, evergreens and bluebells.

"Furry Dance" proper starts in the climactic last line were arrives, special early morning service held.

Promptly at 7 a.m. the Early Morning Dance emerges from the Guild Hall, led by the town band. There is an old Elizabethan song sung at certain stations in the village and costumed Hobby Horse, Hood, Friar Tuck and Little John, with Robin Hood and Maid Marian, have a part in the ceremony.

Music and picturesque are the legend of the custom's origin, and especially about St. Michael's connection with it. One tells of the battle between St. Michael and the Devil for possession of Helston, a fight which the saint won, throwing the body of his adversary into the Loe Pool. Helstonians thereupon danced through the streets and dwellings for sheer joy and relief at victory.

Another tells that the fight took place at Mont St. Michel in France and that at this time the saint was forced to retreat to St. Michael's Mount in Cornwall. The devil, afraid to cross the sea, lifted the Isle of Man and threw it at St. Michael. It fell one mile short of its target, into the centre of Helston, without harming anyone; and the people danced for joy at this miraculous escape.

The little Cornish borough offers a wholehearted welcome to its Maytime visitors, for they help to enhance the spirit of the day, and it suggests that the crowds of spectators — the people of Helston will dance the Furry Dance in spring as they have followed it for many years.

Mother's Helper

YOUR TODDLER may suspect his new baby brother or sister to arrive as a ready-made playmate. Take him to see someone else's tiny infant and explain a bit about the big event at your house, and explain how it will be, at first. Pictures of himself as a baby may make things clearer, too.

Eastminster W.F. Sponsors Colorful 'Maypole' Tea

Despite overcast skies and threatening rain there was a good turnout at the Maypole tea sponsored by Eastminster United Church Women on Saturday afternoon last.

Guests were welcomed by Mesdames McDowell, Mayhew, Williams and Swann, as they entered the foyer, gaily decorated with a maypole in pastel shades of yellow, green, blue and pink.

In charge of tickets were Mesdames Dixon, Clarke, Marion Henry and Mary Gardner.

Before the guests proceeded to the tea room most of them visited the lucky parlor in which the home-bake table with mouth-watering goodies, was set. This room convened this table with Mesdames Britton, Hoard, Agar, Armstrong, Wood, Elliott, Richards and Bowden included a large selection of pies, cookies, fudge, tarts, butter tarts, squares of many kinds, a variety of cakes, rolls, muffins and loaves. Mesdames Jones, Davies, jams and jellies.

Those helping in the kitchen were: Mesdames Bennett, Glover and Uens. The decorating committee, under the direction of Helen Holmes, consisted of Mesdames Pickering, Irwin, Chesher, Gunnoo and Meldrum.

Those who served the dainty sandwiches, cookies and tea were: Mesdames Mayhew, Bowden, Wilson, McKee, Yates, Cross, Holder, Browne, Diamond, Bell, Dexter, Hewson, Jones and MacMillan.

Mrs. Ernest Orr, Mrs. Edwards replenished the tea and the cups and saucers were replenished by Mrs. Chesher and Mrs. Hannah.

The tiered sandwich and cookie plates were looked after by Mesdames Dixon, Clarke, Bridge, Burnham, Dales, Carter, Fairman and Clarke.

The relishes were served by: Mrs. McDonald, Cleaver and Williams and Marilyn Garleyy, and Mesdames Wylie and Boyd replenished same.

Plainfield Couple Honored On 25th Wedding Anniversary

On a recent evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reeks, Main St., was the scene of a happy occasion when about 50 relatives and friends met with them in a surprise party, to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Parks were married May 14th 1935 at 11.30 a.m., by Rev. F. C. Beazer at the Methodist Church in Roslin. The two attendants at the marriage were the former Marie Parks, sister of the bridegroom, now Mrs. Edd Reeks, of Winnipeg and Mr. Fred Sills of Plainfield.

Mrs. Arthur Shannon read an address wishing Mr. and Mrs. Parks many more years of health and happiness among their wide circle of friends.

Sills and Gray sons served others ,who spoke briefly, congratulating the honored couple on their 25th anniversary, and recalling many happy and varied events shared with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Parks responded by thanking all for the enjoyable evening and the many lovely gifts presented to them.

Mrs. Ross Parks and Mrs. Glen Parks assisted by Mrs. Earl Reid and Mrs. Earl Gray served delicious refreshments of jellied cake, decorated with pink streamers and white candles centred with a beautiful wedding anniversary cake.

Many flash pictures were taken of the bride and bridegroom, their family, the bride's parents and the guests, bringing a pleasant evening to a close.

Mrs. Blake Parks, mother of the bridegroom with Mrs. Ed Reeks and family of Winnipeg, were unable to attend.

STORIES of FAMOUS HYMNS

I'LL PRAISE MY MA-KER WHILE I'VE BREATH

by HORACE B. POWELL

I'll praise my Maker while I've breath,
And when my voice is lost in death,
Days of praise shall ne'er be past,
While life and thought and being last,
Praise shall employ my nobler powers;
Or immortality endures.

Happy the man whose hopes rely
On Israel's God; He made the sky,
And earth and seas, with all their train;
His truth forever stand secure;
He saves the oppressed, He feeds the poor,
And none shall find His promise vain.

The Lord pours eyesight on the blind;
The Lord supports the fainting mind;
He sends the laboring conscience peace;
He helps the stranger in distress,
The widow and the fatherless,
And grants the prisoner sweet release.

I'll praise Him while He lends me breath,
And when my voice is lost in death,
Praise shall employ my nobler powers;
My days of praise shall ne'er be past,
While life and thought and being last,
Or immortality endures.

The one-hundred forty-sixth Psalm is a clarion call to praise God.

The psalmist, for his own part, promises that "while I live will I praise the Lord: I will sing praises unto my God while I have my being."

Dr. Isaac Watts has put the words into song in his version, which opens: "When wrath is provoked his hyrnn in 1719 he gave it the name, "Praise To God For His Goodness and Truth". Seventeen years later, the song was carried from England to America by John Wesley, founder of Methodism, whom he and his brother, Charles, crossed the Atlantic for a missionary crusade.

John Wesley loved Dr. Watts' hymns of praise all his life. It is said that he asked that it be sung one February night in 1791 just before he preached his last sermon at the City Road Chapel in London. Less than a week later, he was stricken with the illness from which he never rallied. Shortly before his death he assured his family and friends by singing the entire first verse of the song. Later, he tried to sing it again, but could only give expression to the first two words, "I'll praise". He repeated these over and over just before he slipped away into the spirit world.

MAZO DE LA ROCHE

(Part 3)

"A novelist . . . has to have a great heart." — Norman Mailer.

• • •

How, then, did Mazo de la Roche happen to publish her first Jalna novel?

Back in 1926, plans for a semi-annual competition in fiction were made by The Atlantic Monthly, we are told "in Friendly Candor," Atlantic-Little, Brown), and were announced by Edward Weeks, and editor-in-chief of that fine periodical explains:

"Prize contests were a novelty . . . The Atlantic Award was set at $10,000 which was big money for those days . . . our guess was that upwards of 900 book-length manuscripts would be submitted."

To their surprise, they were swamped with manuscripts of all sizes which totalled 1,117 in number. Readers were employed and instructed to mark the declined manuscripts with a "D" and a brief account of why.

Of the first hundred manuscripts which we shipped to the librarian," continues Mr. Weeks, speaking of a reader sponsored by the Boston Public Library, "not one in her opinion, was better than a plan "D." This seemed to me either bad luck or poor judgment, and I elected to check her reading. The first eight which I picked out at random were certainly duds; the ninth I noticed had a picture it up, had at least been typed by a professional. The reader's report was favorable. It was that of a large love-making family in Canada, presided over by a grandmother. The brothers have unseemly affairs with their sisters-in-law, and there is a lot of talk about the stable, including the odor. Not recommended." Glanced at the title page, which was certainly uncommon:

by

and I began to read. Three days later I had finished reading: "Now that I have served as a judge in more than a score of these contests, I know that when a write reemerges it is rather like a quarrelsome but caring clear in the home stretch. Such was the case with Jalna. The librarian, unfortunately, we paid for her unimaginative judgment, must have been coursged from further endeavor. Jalna was the unanimous choice for the prize."

Miss de la Roche's achievement and continued success well illustrate the point that the secret success formula establishes not only as a writer after a 12-year period of trial and disappointment, but sustained her career as a novelist writer of the first magnitude? Is it genius? Is it luck? Weeks' account of the first trip abroad, Mazo and her friend Caroline took soon after Jalna was published? For while in Sicily, Miss Roche, with her young British parents, there for health reasons, fell in love with London later, the travellers learned of the untimely death of the English mother of the child to become of the two infants — the mother, I can believe, a elderly aunt?

"With kindness and generosity that are characteristic, Mazo de la Roche applied for the legal adoption of the children," relates Mr. Weeks. "It was a brave undertaking for a woman of her first successful book and speaking as an editor and godfather, I can believe that the buoyancy and perennial refreshment which Eleno and Finch have brought into Mazo's life were among the love she has brought into theirs."

In a clue suggested by such words as "on the strength of" "brave undertaking" or "by the love" Is there faith? That spiritual quality which not necessarily produces wealth, but if lacking in a writer does not make for greatness; for, claims Anton Chekhov, animals and uncivilized people have only fear and doubt, whereas our highly developed natures can have faith.

Last week we happened to stop before the old gryptone window of Mrs. Ethel Wilson's of Amelia Warnock (Katherine Hale), an editor by blood. Here in the garden (hitherto recorded in this column) we formed the Silver Star Society, which to date has raised $50.— It is a club for girls, organized when nine little girls bonded together "to do good deeds" — by Mazo de la Roche.

It would seem, since Miss de la Roche's unpublished story for faith has accepted, in the words of Bert Weeks, that there is no remedy for love but to love more, and in bringing honor and fame to our land, Canada, or has scarcely less claim upon our admiration and affection, as presenting us with pattern of a lady with a beautiful heart.

Youth Groups Affiliate With Woman's Fed.

The May meeting of the Women's Federation of Eastminster United Church was an affiliation meeting with the C.G.I.T. and Explorers' Groups, with Mrs. Leppard and Miss Williams in charge respectively.

During the worship service which was conducted by these groups, Mrs. Hicks as president and secretary for affiliation C.G.I.T. Groups, presented the "Certificate of affiliation", and Mrs. Maybee, president of the Federation presented the "World Friendship Insignia".

The girls told of studying about other lands and other religions and of how they used to further the work of missionaries doctors and nurses in Angola in Portuguese West Africa and to help the Christian Vocational School for Girls in Angola and Northern Rhodesia.

After the benediction the groups sang an African song "HumbaYah" and then proceeded to the downstairs auditorium where they sang more African songs while doctors and nurses of Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gardner and her group, after which a social hour was held.

The secretary and treasurer read their reports. The conveners of the various projects which have been undertaken by the Federation, gave their reports and thanked all who helped them.

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER, Saturday, May 14, 1955

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a woman editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an encase history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Martha-R. — I'm not sure if we can make a go of it again.

Leonard R. — She has learned her lesson.

Martha R. — I am a divorcee of 30, with two children and I am very confused about what to do with my life.

Just after the divorce I felt very lonely and upset and made the mistake of getting involved with a man I didn't love. We had sex affair that lasted several months. At last I realized he had no respect for me and no intention of marrying me. Although I am about to give birth to his child.

My ex-husband is now willing to take me back. However, I don't know if we can make a go of it. Our marriage was miserable before and we had big fights. I also have always been rather selfish and I'm not sure I'm ready to be a wife again.

Leonard R. — I feel that Martha has learned her lesson and realizes a good husband is worth something. She came to me originally when she had "big pangs" and asked me to help her.

However, now that I've decided that I can't marry her, I don't know what she wants to do. She claims she feels sorry for her and don't love her. I am willing to try to live together again if she is willing to be a good wife.

I feel that Martha is a very immature person and is incapable of bringing up our children with love. She has also always been a very bad housekeeper and this was the cause of a lot of our fights. If she is willing to take on her full responsibilities everything will work out fine.

• • •

The Council — Martha is indecisively sorting out her relationship with her ex-husband. Leonard is willing to consider remarriage, but is very sympathetic with her hesitation to take him up on the offer.

Leonard's attitude is not exactly the one best calculates to make a woman feel grateful for barking on a new life with her husband. Leonard obviously places full blame for the failure of the marriage upon her. We do however, that it takes two to make a failure "as well as success of marriage. Leonard should further examine his conduct to see where he has gone wrong.

Leonard also makes his decision in the spirit of a parent who decided to forgive a very naughty child. This is certainly a poor basis for marriage. The statement suggest that he has not yet forgiven Martha for her ungrateful humble attitude. Such a marriage can continue happily on such a basis.

There is also the crucial question of the unborn child. Leonard not only says about child, but love him as his own? Unless he feels capable of this, it would be most unfair to bring up the child in the home.

Although she finds herself in dreadful situation, Martha is right not for love rather than duty from the man who will be her husband. Whatever wrong she has done must be put far in the background of the relationship. Day-to-day life between marriage partners requires a solid respect above all.

Martha should get professional guidance from a social agency. Consider for love possibility of the unborn child out of wedlock. This may whet her to best solution for the child.

QUESTION BOX

Question: This may seem like a silly question, but do you or don't you eat asparagus with the fingers? I enjoy eating asparagus with my fingers, but it is such a messy performance and I'm wondering if it is incorrect to do so?

Answer: It is considered correct to eat asparagus with the fingers. Personally, I advocate the use of a fork, particularly when dining in public. It is certainly not a very pleasing sight to see someone attempting to get a dripping stalk of asparagus to the mouth when holding it in the fingers.

Question: I have a friend of whom I am very fond, except for one reason. She has two children and has a full-time maid. This leaves her with a lot of time on her hands. She fills in some of this time by calling me on the 'phone several times a day. I have four children, and no servant. I try to stop the flood of chatter by saying I am busy in as polite a way as I can. I might as well save my breath! How can I stop this annoyance without losing a friend?

Answer: The only solution that I see is to be frank. Explain to her that your hands are full with children and household duties and that while you love to chat with her, you just haven't the time. Be tactful by adding that you will call her when you get a breathing spell and that you would appreciate it very much if she would abide by your wishes. If this fails, she really isn't much of a friend.

QUESTION:

About a year or so ago I wrote a small letter of appreciation on your fine recipe of croutanais which is still being used constantly. Today I come for help, or to be a little more exact, with some recipes for help. We have, from time to time, eaten very good Boeuf Bourguignon in some of the fine French restaurants in Montreal and Quebec City. We have looked for that recipe but to no avail. If per chance you would have a good recipe for Boeuf Bourguignon we would be more than happy to see it . . . Please mention for the amount and type of wine used . . . Rene M.

ANSWER:

Delighted to oblige a gentleman.

BEEF BOURGUIGNON:

3 lbs. beef sirloin, tender, cut in 1" cubes, 2 cups red Burgundy wine, 1-2 cup butter, 2 cups quartered mushroom caps, 1 cup chopped onion, 1 cup green onions, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 Melt 6 tablespoons butter in a deep casserole. Add beef cubes, onions and brown lightly in a hot oven of 400 deg. Fahr. for 20 minutes. Meanwhile sauté mushroom caps and shallots in remaining 2 tablespoons butter. Stir in flour. Add Burgundy and mix well. Pour over beef, cover and return to oven for 30 minutes. Serves 6.

QUESTION:

Do you have a recipe for Chop Suey? If so I would like to have it . . . J. E. M.

ANSWER:

Please in future always give your name and address. J.E.M.

CHOP SUEY:

2 lbs. uncooked chicken-breast cut into pieces 1-16" x 1" x 1-8", bean sprouts equal in measure to the chicken, 2 cups onions cut into threads, 2 cups bamboo shoots cut into pieces the same size as the chicken, 2 cups mushrooms sliced thin, fat or oil.

Put the chicken meat, bean sprouts, onions, bamboo shoots and mushrooms into a frying pan with a little fat or peanut oil to prevent sticking and saute gently for 10 minutes. Add hot water to barely cover and cook for fifteen minutes longer, gently. Add Chinese gravy (below); season to taste; remove from fire and serve at once.

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

SATURDAY

Veal Stew with Vegetable and Dumplings; Fine Cabbage Slaw with Green Pepper; Pineapple Sponge; Nut Ice Box Cookies; Coffee.

CHINESE GRAVY:

1 cup chicken stock, 1 teaspoon cornstarch, sesame seed oil (optional), sugar, salt, 3 teaspoons soy sauce.

Mix the cornstarch in a little cold water, stir in the chicken stock and let it boil until it thickens, stirring. Add the Chinese sauce, a few drops of sesame seed oil and sugar and salt to taste. Stir well.

Unemployment Insurance Facts

In this column we publish questions about unemployment insurance and employment, together with answers received from the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

If you are uncertain about any claim do not hesitate to send us your question. We will obtain an answer and publish it in this column.

Following are some questions with answers which may be of interest to you.

Q. I am receiving a pension from the Federal Government. I am 71 years old and still working. Is insurable employment. In the summer of 1959, I worked for 3 weeks. Am I entitled to seasonal benefits for the period January, February and March, 1960?

A. In order to have qualified for seasonal benefit during the period you mentioned, it would have been necessary for you to have made an application for benefit and to have fulfilled in all respects the conditions for entitlement to benefit. It would have been necessary that you had at least 15 contribution weeks between March 28, 1959 and the week in which your claim was filed, or to have had a regular benefit period which expired after May 16, 1959.

Q. I have a son who owns a store. I have been living with him for seven years and working as his clerk. Can he give me unemployment insurance stamps?

A. Your son can only insure you if you are employed under a contract of service — that is, if there is a genuine master and servant relationship. This question can be determined on the basis of the brief information supplied. Your employer should submit full details to the local NES office and ask for a ruling.

Q. I bought a forest five last year and earned $25. Please tell me whether I can get stamps for this work. The employer would like to know whether this can be counted for seasonal benefits.

A. Casual employment in fighting forest fires is not insurable unless the work extends over more than ten days within a period of thirty days. You should submit detailed information to the local NES office regarding the period and the number of days worked in order to obtain a ruling.

Q. I have three boys, 22 to 27 years of age. They couldn't find work, so I hired them to cut pulpwood and firewood. They cut 495 cords of wood from May 18 ot November 30, 1959. That the wood was cut on crown land and the other half was cut on a block of land I have 12 miles from home. I would like to know if I can get unemployment insurance contributions on their behalf.

A. From the limited information given, it appears that the work was a joint family under taking rather than employment under a master and servant relationship. However, to obtain a definite ruling you should apply to the local NES office, giving details regarding the hours of employment, method of payment, ordinary occupations of yourself and your sons, how the work was controlled and directed, and other necessary information.

Q. I have a 16-year-old son who received unemployment insurance stamps from November 9, 1958, to November, 1959. In the course of the year he accumulated 28 stamps, including 25 of the $1.05 denomination; two of the $1.20 denomination; and one of the $1.50 denomination. Please tell me whether he is entitled to unemployment insurance benefits.

A. If the contributions to which you refer are the only contributions your son has to his credit, he would be unable to qualify for benefit at the present time. To qualify for benefit a person is required to have at least 30 weekly contributions in the 104-week period prior to the date of his claim and eight of these contributions must be within the last 52 weeks. As your son has only 28 contributions, he would be unable to meet the 30-week requirement.

Q. I am a fisherman. I am receiving the old age pension and my wife receives her married allowance. I will receive a fisherman's bonus in the spring. Would I be entitled to unemployment insurance benefits considering all this income?

A. Receipt of the old age pension by yourself and the mother's allowance by your wife would not interfere with your receiving unemployment insurance benefits, if you would receive. We would point out that the exception of fishermen employed on a year-round basis would be against the payment of benefit to fishermen is, generally speaking, restricted to the seasonal benefit period.

Q. Why do enforcement officers visit claimants at their homes? Could the routine verification of claims not be done in the local office concerned?

A. When the enforcement officer visits a claimant's home, he is able to verify that the claimant is residing at the address given, that he is unemployed, and that he is capable of and available for work. If the check was made in the local office, the effectiveness of the investigation would be reduced.

Q. When infractions are discovered, who determines the penalty to be imposed?

A. The enforcement officer reports all the facts of each case he handles to his regional office. A legal staff reviews the evidence and decides on whether prosecutions should be undertaken or a penalty imposed against future benefits. Extenuating circumstances are considered, and each case is examined on its own merits. Policy and direction are given from head office in Ottawa, and the Department of Justice provides technical assistance where required.

OUTSTANDING AWARD

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP)—The St. Lawrence Power and seaway project will be presented the outstanding civil engineering achievement 1960 award of the American Society of Civil Engineers here May 19. The society also will award bronze plaques for contributions to the construction of the project to the New York state power authority, the Hydro-Electric Power Company of Ontario, the (American) St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation and the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority (Canadian).

Five miles northeast of Picton in Prince Edward County, is Lake on the Mountain, found throughout the whole country as a unique phenomenon. Situated on the Mountain Hill, a sheer rise of 150 feet above the level of the Bay of Quinte which can easily be seen from its shores, is a lake of clear fresh water, about three miles in circumference. On June 4, 1796, Major Peter Van Alstine was granted 437 acres of Lots 5 and 6 in the first concession of the Fifth Town, now named North Marysburgh, where he erected the third flouring mill of the Bay of Quinte district. In 1837 this grant of land was sold to the Lake family of which the original deed is still preserved on parchment. Here also Hugh MacDonald, related unsuccessfully to the Hon. John A. MacDonald, operated manufacturing a carding mill from 1853 to 1856. There mills were later operated by the Wilsker's and now the Ontario government fish hatchery.

To the left, in the picture, we can see what these mills looked like in the 1850s. Then, as now this was the Prince Edward side of the ferry-landing on the old Bath-York Road and in the distance Hallowell Bay, now named Picton Bay. In the foreground is probably the steamship, Frontenac, while in the distance is possibly the Charlotte which may be a series of log booms in it.

THE MARY'S Local

The regular meeting of St. Mark's Ladies Guild was held at the home of Mrs. Clifford Topping on May 5th with 11 members present.

The meeting was opened with the repeating of the members' prayer and the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Mrs. Coleman is holding a W.A. tea in her home on account of this tea will be sent to her Mrs. Kenneth Coleman which is doing missionary work in India. The tea will be held on the lawn, weather permitting and it is hoped that a good number will be present.

Mrs. Finlayson sent word that she will not continue a monthly sale the latter part of this month.

The next meeting will be held in the parish hall. The meeting closed with prayer.

Following the meeting Mrs. Stubbs auctioned the different articles which members had brought to the meeting. The results were most gratifying.

The hostess served lunch and the members enjoyed a social hour.

A fire reported to have been started by children playing with fire crackers on Saturday morning destroyed a large part of the two-car garage of William Cotter on Dundas St. The fire was first noticed by a lighter living several doors down the street who saw smoke rising from the roof. The firemen were called but it was to get at the seat of the blaze due to the extremely heavy smoke. The fire was finally put out by the two west wall and travelled inside the wall into the interior. The alarm was sounded at 11.35 and the fire was under control by twelve noon. Two lines of hose were used and some of the firemen suffered from smoke inhalation.

The building was severely damaged and considerable equipment stored inside was completely destroyed. Authorities were concerned about the supply of fire crackers getting into the hands of children as there is a town by-law against

Ont. W.I. Officers Hold Annual Meet

RAWDON—The 18th annual Ontario Women's Institute Officers' Conference was held last week at the Wm. Morrison Hall, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

The theme was "All that is necessary for the triumph of evil is that good men do nothing."—Edmund Burke.

The Provincial Women's Institute of Ontario arranged this conference for its public relations officers. Seventeen groups were assigned different rooms to discuss the problems and successes of this department on Thursday afternoon.

The special addresses during the six sessions were given by Mrs. L. G. Lyndsay, FWIO president; Mrs. E. J. Hoylance, FWIO first vice; Miss Helen M. McKerrow, director of Home Economics Service; the Honorable Wm. Stewart, Minister of Agriculture, and Dr. Neil Morrison.

Local area delegates in attendance were two public relations officers: Mrs. Percy Mackenzie of West Hastings District and Mrs. Wallace Ray of Prince Edward-Lennox-Addington; Mrs. Percy Brennan of Stirling W.I.; three alternates, Mrs. Charles Rose of Rawdon W.I., Mrs. Harold W.I., Mrs. Morley Rose, of Union-ville W.I., and Mrs. Ben Nicholson of Walbridge W.I. Also in attendance was Mrs. George Burkitt, a past board member of F.W.I.O., and Miss Jayne Gay, public relations officer for the Trent Valley area.

There were 140 ladies in attendance at the sessions, and a large number came in for part of the afternoon only.

Among the items stressed were: pasteurization of raw milk; proper care according to written instructions on household equipment; farm safety, especially where children are concerned; the value of recreation, such as reading all mail and papers; the proper care of veneers, and reading letters written by the president at the regular branch meetings.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

With the promised word of the pre-season activities of the McFarlands senior hockey club for next year still in the forthcoming stage, and the situation at the moment quieter than the middle of a mausoleum at midnight, comes a cheering word from the western part of the province.

It is no secret that the pros have been casting combither eyes at the Kitchener hockey brass in their bid to expand the Eastern League. They ogled North Bay, too, but the home of the Trappers, it is reported, leans definitely toward the junior "A" brand.

Now it seems the Kitchener Dutchmen brass, despite disappointment and perhaps some frustration after last season's venture, is very much in favor of operating in senior "A" circles next winter.

Sports editor Len Taylor of the Kitchener Record, says the Dutchmen are waiting to get their books straightened out, and also a settlement from the CAHA, a situation thrown out of temporary kilter by the recent death of George Dudley.

"But," he says, "you can rest assured the Dutchmen will be back in senior "A" hockey next season. There is no doubt they will operate in at least a five-team league, and it could be a six-club circuit."

"As for pro hockey," Taylor writes, "the Dutchmen just aren't interested. They don't believe it has any future here no matter how many people the Eastern League may have drawn in Sudbury. At least half the EPHL, only averaged 4,200 a game or fewer, with a budget twice that of a senior hockey club."

The pros, Taylor says, would demand a much higher rental arrangement as well as complete control of the program, and radio and TV rights. There is every reason to believe the Kitchener auditorium would fight to the last ditch on this issue.

As Taylor points out, the McFarlands will be ready to roll, or so it is reported. Wren Blair says the Whitby Dunlops will continue although they will not have any direct affiliation with the Boston Bruins. However, he hopes to use some of them in five-game trials with the Kingston Frontenacs wherein lies his chief hockey interest.

The Windsor Bulldogs are ready to throw in their lot with the senior circuit. Representatives of the club attended the recent meeting of the International League, but said it was only a fact-finding. That is where they would try to operate if there was no senior hockey in Ontario.

Chatham Maroons, if they live up to past performances, probably will not make any official announcement until the day before the season opens, but they're almost certain to be back after winning the OHA cup.

Then it is likely Johnny Horeck's Maroon crew will want to make a junket to Europe, either the autumn exhibition visit to Russia or the world tournament in Sweden in March. We agree the latter would be preferable to the Senior "A" circuit because the clubs could play a full schedule with the Maroons before they cast anchor.

"In any event," Taylor says, "there is no question hereabouts that the senior "A" league will operate. All we can hope is some commonsense prevails this season and that once the teams have decided the ground rules for the season they'll stick to them." Amen.

The Kitchener sports editor is of the opinion the senior "A" answer, outside of proper administration, is a six-team group. "Now that Guelph is selling out to the Rangers perhaps someone should try and get the homebrew hockey men in that city interested in a senior club."

"Enough good players have moved through the Biltmores to give Guelph an Allan Cup contender every year if only a few of them had been retained. It seems reasonable it might have been possible to keep them, too, if there had been a senior opportunity in the Royal City."

McCormick Beats Dodgers As Cincy Wins Nine in Row; Sox Trim Tribe, Tigers Win

By ED WILKS

Chicago White Sox still have the Indian sign on Cleveland.

They made it two-out-of-two over the Indians this season with a 4-2 decision Friday night in the opener of a three-game series at Cleveland—where they ambushed the pursuing Tribe with a four-game sweep last August, and officially clinched the American League pennant—on a one-game visit a month later.

The White Sox gained a one-game lead over the rain-idled Red Sox and Yankees. The New Yorkers vaulted past Cleveland for a virtual second-place tie with a 7-1 victory at Washington. Detroit defeated Kansas City 4-3 in 14 innings.

PIERCE EFFECTIVE

Southpaw Billy Pierce (3-1) cut Cleveland's winning spurt at three games and its eight-hitter, giving up solo home runs by Jimmy Piersall and Woodie Held. The White Sox, blanked for four innings, beat rookie Wynn Hawkins (3-2) with a three-run fifth.

Bill Skowron drove in two runs with an eighth-inning double that broke a 3-3 tie for the Yankees against lefthanded rookie Jim Rooker (1-2). Pitcher Bob Turley won his first, blanking the Senators without a hit in three innings of relief after Whitey Ford had given up a two-run homer to Julio Becquer. It was Lemon's seventh round - tripper going into a tie with Held for the league lead, Mickey Mantle hit his second for the Yankees in a three-run first inning.

An unearned run won for the Tigers after Hank Aguirre (1-1) had held the Athletics hitless for 5 2-3 innings of relief. The Tigers beat reliever Don Larsen (0-3) when catcher Harry Chiti dropped a throw to the plate after Eddie Yost had hit a base-loaded, one-out grounder to shortstop Ken Hamlin. It was the third straight victory for the Tigers, all by one run and second in extra innings, since losing 10 in a row.

Hockey Leafs Gave Man Pain in Heart

TORONTO (CP) — A Toronto doctor told the Ontario Medical Association convention Friday the new Toronto Maple Leaf hockey team may have caused one of his patient's heart attacks a few seconds ago.

Dr. W. B. Spaulding, an internal medicine specialist at Toronto General Hospital, said that whenever his elderly gentleman patient "watched the Leafs lose Saturday night hockey games on his television set, he got severe attacks of angina pectoris."

"They were painful to watch," the doctor said.

"I suppose he's improving now that the Leafs are doing better," he added.

Italy Gets Scare in Davis Cup Play

LONDON (AP) — Italy's tennis stars, last year's winners in the European zone of the Davis Cup, fought back after an early shock in Budapest Friday.

Powerful Orlando Sirola was beaten in a marathon battle by Andre Adams, Hungary's 38-year-old veteran. The Italians got a further shock when Nicola Pietrangeli lost his first set to Istvan Gulyas. But Pietrangeli recovered and won the match.

Hungary and Italy met in one of eight second-round European zone clashes.

Italy was one of four seeded countries that had byes in the first round last month. The other three— Britain, France and Spain — all made promising starts Friday.

France built up a 2-0 lead over Argentina in Paris and Britain took a 2-0 lead over Holland in Amsterdam. In Stockholm, the first day ended with the score 1-1 between Spain and Sweden.

In Monte Carlo, Chile went ahead 2-0 over Monaco. Brazil and Belgium were tied 1-1 in Brussels.

West Germany finished the first day leading Poland 2-1 in Warsaw. Denmark led Austria 3-0.

Chicubs' Infield Revamped In Player Deal With Phils

CHICAGO (AP) — The last-place Chicago Cubs traded Tony Taylor and Cal Neeman to Philadelphia Phils for Don Cardwell and Ed Bouchee Friday as new Cub manager Lou Boudreau almost entirely revamped his infield.

The struggling Cubs got what they needed desperately in right-hander Cardwell, a first - line pitcher. The Phils, in turn, obtained a good second sacker in Taylor and potential regular catcher in Neeman.

Bouchee, a .280 hitter, takes over first base in a Cub infield which Boudreau just about turned inside out.

Only shortstop Ernie Banks, the National League's most valuable player for two successive years, remains in the infield-Boudreau inherited from Charley Grimm 10 days ago.

Replacing Taylor at second base will be rookie Jerry Kindall, recalled from Houston. At third, Frank Thomas—erstwhile first sacker and outfielder—supplants Don Zimmer.

Cardwell, 24, is 1-2 this season and last year was 9-10 for the last-finishing Phils. "He's still a youngster with a great future," said Boudreau. "Naturally, he'll be a starter for us."

Bouchee, 27, has a four-season major league average of .281 and now is batting .274. Taylor, 24, has been a Cub regular since 1958. The fleet second sacker is hitting .260.

Chuvalo Must Defend Title Against Cleroux

QUEBEC (CP) — Canadian heavyweight champion George Chuvalo of Toronto must defend his title against Montreal's Robert Cleroux in June or July if a promoter can be found, Gene Lotou mesa, national commissioner of the Canadian Boxing Federation, said Friday.

"All Canadian boxing champions are supposed to defend their titles every six months, if there is a logical contender," he said, adding "in Robert Cleroux we have a logical contender."

Letourneau's statement contradicted federation president Merv McKenzie of Toronto who said earlier this week that title holders can wait two years between defences.

Russ Didn't Care for Jumbo, They Chose Vignal-and Won

By GEO. H. CARVER
Sports Editor

The Mistery K of the rack 'em but and rock 'em circuit are nobody's fools.

They have something more in their Ukrainium than paydays, the price of borsch, and how to get beard-trims in Alaska.

The Kalmikoff Brothers, had face a big problem here last night. It weighed 317 pounds on the hoof, and was nobody's bedfor from the ears up.

He was the Mighty Jumbo, Humpty-Dumpty type of wrestler who knows his rolls, plain or toasted and how to use his tremendous avoirdupois at the proper moment.

He had Frenchy Vignal a handsome Habitant in an assisting role and thereby lay his downfall.

For the wily Muscovites unable to do very much about hoisting the elephantine Jumbo inside the ring, picked on somebody their own size, to wit Mister Vignal who hasn't blow away neatly in the third reading and went home with the rubles.

Ivan, or was it Karol? all beards look alike to this reporter except when they adorn a circus lady, suddenly teamed on Frenchy after both had taken severe punishment, body-slammed him a couple of times and the lights went out for the pride of Quebec.

But after the first two bouts with Jumbo, they had a wholesome respect for the big perspirshape. They loosened, relaxed, and ricocheted off his big bulk and even resorted to the crying treatment which met with a fair modicum of success.

They tried the horizontal plan, but this failed. Jumbo rolled over a couple of times and when he arose you could see the creases alongside the legs of the newly-pressed "Beards".

At one time the arena threatened to move a few feet further eastward when Jumbo corralled Referee Bunny Dunlop in for a good measure and started a squeeze play.

You could hear the "whoosh-ing" all over the place especially after Vignal added some fine body-locking plunges.

Dunlop started a verbal tirade on Karol Kalmikoff. But Jumbo was bound him out of the ring was going to pay. So he put the finger on Ivan.

Mister Vignal won the first fall after flattening Ivan or was it Karol?

The Russ strategy became apparent in the second chapter when they teamed back his crybaits a couple of times, then pushed him out of the ring. Jumbo lingered too long — and was counted out.

Frenchy took over in the final frame and prestidated the broth-ers Kalmikoff — only until one of his moves backfired. Ivan or was it Karol — accidently hoisted him aloft, bashed him to the canvas and that was the game for Frenchy.

Mike Valentino and Knobby Walker drew the semi-windup limit draw in the opener while Big Ed Kilpatrick in the preliminary of Billy Stack after 12 minutes of campaigning in the semi-final.

Leafs Blank Red Wings 5-0; Royals Beaten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jumping the Friday the 13th jinx, Bob (Riverboat) Smith kept the Toronto Maple Leafs at the top of the International League standings by blanking Rochester 5-0 on one hit Friday night.

Only a couple of inches deprived Smith — celebrating his 23rd birthday — a no-hitter. Opposing pitcher Dick Ricketts trickled a soft bouncer past third baseman Clyde Parrit in the second inning for the Red Wings' lone hit.

Striking out 19 enroute to his second victory, Smith was yanked in the ninth when he opened the inning by issuing his fifth walk. Pat Scantlebury kept over and completed the task of handing the Wings their sixth loss in succession.

The triumph left the Leafs with a 13-3 record and a .706 percentage—just .006 points ahead of second-place Buffalo. The Bisons brought their mark to 14-5 by edging hapless Montreal 5-4 in 12 innings. It was the eighth consecutive defeat for the Royals.

THIRD PLACE TIE

Columbus moved into a tie for third place with Richmond by defeating the Virginians 4-3. Fifth-place Havana whipped Miami 7-5.

The Bisons won it in the 12th on a two-run burst built on two singles—one of the scratch variety—a pair of walks, a wild pitch and an error by infielder Jerry Snyder. Don Erickson, fifth Buffalo pitcher, faced one man and picked up his third victory.

The Jets scored what turned out to be the winner in the ninth when Prentiss Browne singled home Gino Cimoli for a 4-3 lead that stood up when Jesse Gonder hit a single-bounce home run in the half for the Vees.

A three - run homer by Jim Pendleton and a two-run blast by Felix Torres featured the Sugar Kings' 10-hit attack against the Marlins. Lefty Billy Hoeft, hammered for the two homers, took the loss while Bob Miller won it with 4 scoreblitzer.

GOOD STUDENT TOO

SASKATOON (CP) — Eleanor Haslam, 20, of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan senior Canadian track and field records, was named Province as the 1959-60 winner of the Governor-General's Gold Medal as the most distinguished graduate of the University of Saskatchewan. The award is scholastic, and graduate achieved what were believed the highest marks in the university's 51-year history—an average of 94.29 per cent over the three years she attended.

County Teams Provide Survey With Sterner Opposition

By ED KIMON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — Given fair weather and fine, the county cricket season differs from its predecessors in one important respect. Surrey no longer is the clear favorite for the championship.

Although Peter May's side batted gamely in defeat the wicket last summer in search of an eighth consecutive title, it was evident long the more Yorkshire squeezed home in the final week that the way was open for a new champion to take over.

Pre-season assessment of the 17 counties suggests the strong possibility of another tight finish this year.

LATER RETIRED

The old champs will miss the devastating spin-bowling of Jim Laker, who retired last fall, and batting has been made a new drastically weakened for months, until July when some of the six-dismal operation that ruined his effectiveness during England's tour of Australia last winter.

The best remaining Surrey bowler, at 39, is Peter Loader, who is likely to miss as many as 10 county matches while doing Test duty. Tony Lock is another of the visiting South Africans.

The new Surrey batting team was considered lucky to win last summer. But their roster includes Peter Parfitt, who England's most devastating fast-bowler, and the most promising batsmen on the fringe of permanent place in the Test side.

SPIN BOWLERS

Spin bowling, Yorkshire's chief weakness, is the county's powerful asset of Gloucestershire, the side that led Surrey second place in last year's standings. In David Allen, John Mortimore and Sam Cook, the western county boasts the most formidable array of spinners in England.

Another point in Gloucestershire's favor is the advancing age of their batting stalwarts, Milton and Martin Young, the latter 40 years old, upon whom are likely to be called on to bolster the batting strength. But the county's lack of first-class pace bowling could be fatal in a dry summer.

Warwickshire and Lancashire, both high in last year's standings, also are susceptible to the demands of the England selectors. The Midland county's batting strength depends heavily on Mike Smith, Dennis Amiss and Warwickshire's fast-bowling holds the Lancashire attack together. Both are sure to play against the West Indies.

Middlesex, searching for youthful batting strength to replace Denis Compton and Bill Edrich, and Hampshire, a consistent and experienced side which usually likely England candidates, are among the most promising outsiders.

Dutchies May Play in Senior ORFU

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Kitchener-Waterloo may support a senior team in the Ontario Rugby Football Union this season despite the fact the present executive says it is not interested in carrying on.

ORFU President Ralph Duffus said in an interview Friday a personal tour by ORFU officials in Kitchener-Waterloo area drew a "surprising" amount of interest in football.

Duffus said he and his colleagues are "optimistic" a Kitchener-Waterloo club could get under a re-organized directorate. The executive says only one player panied a bleak future for football theys, but personal contacts with Kitchener-Waterloo officials dispelled the gloom, he said.

Duffus also said the United States club in the league, Detroit Raiders, plan to play only one of their six home games in Detroit.

Subject to league ratification, four games would go to Port Huron, Mich., and one to Toledo, Ohi.

BREEDERS TO MEET

Wants Team But Needs Large Stadium

MONTREAL (CP) — Crawford Gordon, Montreal engineer, has applied to obtain a franchise for Montreal in the new American Football League but concedes that the first necessity is a large, modern stadium in the city.

Crawford said he and A. J. Bernier, Montreal real estate agent, were given an attentive hearing by American Football League officials at a meeting in Denver. Crawford said he thinks the league is financially sound, request for a franchise.

"We consider it is imperative that the city of Montreal endow a big stadium if the city is to have a major league club," he said.

He said McGill University's Molsom Stadium would not be available for a new pro team since it is used by Montreal Alouettes.

Crawford said, however, he would be willing to open with a team in Delorimier Stadium — the International League baseball park—on condition that a start had been made on a new sports structure.

WOSSA Meet Sees Many Marks Broken

GUELPH (CP) — Despite chilling winds and a puddle-spotted track, 19 records were broken and two more tied in the Central and Western Ontario Secondary Schools Association meet Friday at the Ontario Agricultural College.

Gloria Clews of Brantford's Pauline Johnson Collegiate set three marks for senior girls.

She ran the 75-yard dash in 9.0 seconds, the 100-yard dash in 12.0 seconds, and broadjumped 14 feet 6 inches.

Boys' records were set by:

G. Sims, Galt's Glenview Park, did the senior shot put.

B. Leishman, Brantford North Park, who cleared five feet, three inches in the intermediate pole-vault.

Leishman also tied the intermediate high jump record of five feet, six inches.

GIRLS' RECORDS

Other girls' records set were by Carla Knell, Eastwood Collegiate, Kitchener, who cleared four feet seven inches in the intermediate high jump; Judy Johnson, junior of K-W Collegiate, who threw the softball 186 feet 6½ inches in the intermediate competition.

Ruth Pilgrimson of Guelph Collegiate tied the senior 100-yard dash mark of 12.5 set a year ago.

The highest school total went to Pauline Johnson.

Individual medal awards were:

Boys — senior-K-W.; intermediate-Pauline Junior—Pauline Johnson; girls-senior — Pauline Johnson.

Individual honors were:

Boys senior—Jim Weber, K-W; intermediate — Fred Osborne, Glenview Park; junior — John Burch, Pauline Johnson; Dean McIntyre, Owen Sound Collegiate.

Girls senior — Gloria Clews, Pauline Johnson; intermediate-Mary Sproat, K-W; junior-Ruth Pitzgibbons, Guelph Collegiate.

Aussie Leads Golf Tourney

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Rodney Nagle, the big Australian sensational in playing in high winds, found conditions to his liking Friday and shot a two-under-par 68 to take the lead with a 137 total after 36 holes in the $30,000 colonial national invitation golf tournament.

Nagle, the Australian Open champion, held a two-stroke lead over Gene Littler and Doug Sanders, who had 139.

Billy Maxwell saw his first-round 74 go a long way when he soared to a six-over-par 76. Maxwell had taken the lead with a 67 in the opener.

Little Jerry Barber, who was in second place with a 69 at the second round began, limned in with a 72. Ben Hogan, the defending champion, also had to be satisfied with a 72 and fell down the list after a 71 opening.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver shot a 72 Friday, one stroke less than his round Thursday, for a 141 total after 36 holes.

Caryl Chessman's True Story! "Cell 2455, Death Row"

Convict Caryl Chessman's sensational best-seller, actually written in the Death Row at San Quentin, is the basis for Columbia Pictures' reprint, "Cell 2455, Death Row", starring William Campbell and Robert Campbell opens at the Park Theatre, Monday. The film tells how a young hoodlum, convicted as Los Angeles' notorious Lovers' Lane Bandit, first became a criminal and how he used his self-taught legal knowledge to win stay after stay of execution, twice within minutes of the gas chamber. Current newspaper headlines continue the story of his fight for life.

History's Most Wicked Woman!

'Affairs of Messalina'

"The Affairs of Messalina", Columbia Pictures' spectacular drama of Messalina, history's most wicked woman, opens at the Park Theatre on Monday as the added attraction. Starred in the film are Maria Felix as Messalina and George Marchal as her handsome lover. Featured in the impressive cast are Memo Benassi, Jean Chevrier, Jean Tissier, Michael Vitold, Germaine Kerjean and a host of others. "The Affairs of Messalina" was produced and directed by Carmine Gallone. Gallone wrote the screenplay with Pierre Laroche, Albert Valentin and Nino Novarese. "The Affair of Messalina" was produced for Columbia in Europe, by Produzione Gallone-Rome and Filmsoocor-Paris.

Another Auto Race Driver Meets Death

LONDON (AP) — Harry Schell, a handsome auto race driver with an American and French background, was killed Friday when his car crashed in a fiery 40-mile-an-hour crash in a practice run on Friday the 13th.

Schell, born in Paris of American parents and a veteran of the championship driving circuit, was the 13th top driver killed in the last three years.

The 38-year-old ace was practising at the Silverstone circuit for today's International Trophy race. The rear wheels of his Cooper slid off the track into the mud as he took a curve at 100 miles an hour in a heavy rain. Schell was thrown out.

Schell was typical of the carefree, daredevil type of racing ace. In the Paris night spots, admiring women would hang around as he talked to them in three or four languages.

Stirling Moss, who escaped unhurt from a crash at Silverstone Thursday, abandoned his practice and left the track immediately after Friday's accident.

HEMUS WRECKS PHONES

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Manager Solly Hemus became so angry Thursday after his St. Louis Cardinals lost their sixth straight National League game that he ripped two field phones from the wall in the visitor's dugout at County Stadium. "I just got mad because we keep losing, no matter what we try to do on the road," Hemus said the day. The Cardinals have lost all their road games this season.

Soccer Brass Won't Predict

TORONTO (CP) — Team officials of Manchester United and Heart of Midlothian are not making any predictions on the outcome of an exhibition soccer game here tonight.

The game at Varsity Stadium, will be the first of a North American tour for both clubs.

Manchester is in the English First Division, Hearts in the Scottish First Division.

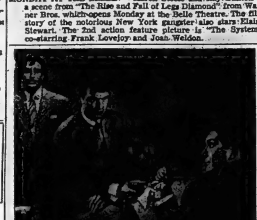
Hearts worked out in Oshawa Friday against a team of selects after attending a tour through General Motors and a visit to a stud farm. Manchester visited Niagara Falls.

NEW RACING OVAL

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — A new 2.4-mile year-round oval for sports cars and motorcycle racing is expected to open this fall on 450 acres of land near Orono, west of Highway 115. C. A. Bunting of Toronto, chairman of Mosport Limited, the sponsoring body, said the first event will be on a club basis. The first major contest with professionals driving would probably be held in May, 1961.

TIPS

By JOHN WETTLAUFER



Hold old is your television set? . . . 1 year? . . . 3 years? . . . 5 years? When a fairly new set gives trouble, chances are that replacing only one tube will restore perfect performance.

However, as a set becomes older, components such as resistors, condensers as well as tubes gradually fall off in efficiency. The serviceman may now have to replace several tubes or give the set a complete overhaul — or both — to bring back the original performance. In other words, as a TV set becomes older, it cost more to keep it in top operating condition.

You'll enjoy better television reception and save money in the long run by letting CHC-TV SERVICE, 364 Coleman St. check and adjust your set regularly. By finding minor troubles as they develop, you can avoid the greater cost of a major overhaul — Phone 962-6781 and we'll pick up your set and return it promptly.

MONDAY AT THE BELLE.... Karen Steele and Ray Danton in a scene from "The Rise and Fall of Legs Diamond" from Warner Bros. which opens Monday at the Belle Theatre. The film story of the notorious New York gangster also stars Elaine Stewart. The 2nd action feature picture is "The System", co-starring Frank Lovejoy and Joan Weldon.

AT THE PARK — William Campbell, as world's No. 1 condemned convict who attracted international headlines, is shown in a dramatic scene in Columbia Pictures' shocker, "Cell 2455, Death Row", based on Caryl Chessman's best-seller, opens Monday at the Park Theatre. On the same program for its first district showings "The Affairs of Messalina", a story of history's most wicked woman is brought to the screen with an all star cast of thousands.

Appeals Draft By Hamilton

TORONTO (CP) — Don Duke, an Elmira juvenile hockey player drafted by Hamilton of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, has appealed his draft to the OHA executive.

In a meeting Friday night the executive referred the matter to a sub-committee.

Duke said he wants to enter St. Michael's College here in the fall. Draft regulations say he can only play Junior A hockey for Hamilton, although he can play Junior B at St. Mike's.

The Hamilton team was given permission to operate its Junior B club, which has played out of Burlington, at Hamilton next season.

London Lou Balls had their Junior B franchise renewed. Although it was denied another group wanted to start a Junior B team in London the OHA ruled there was only room for one team.

Ingroil was given permission to continue in the Intermediate B league.

Bill Hartack Gets $200 Fine

BALTIMORE (AP) — Jockey Bill Hartack, who plays it hard to win them all, had to settle for half a victory Friday night in a bout with Pimlico officials.

He was fined $200 for meddling in business that should have been handled by his agent. At the same time he was restored to good standing by stewards of the Maryland Racing Commission and will be aboard Our Jody in the $25,000 Betsy Ross Stakes at Garden State Park.

Earlier Friday the star jockey was suspended by the stewards at Pimlico for pulling out of a commitment to ride Airmont Guide in the $50,000 Blackeyed Susan Stakes here today.

Sunday, May 15

General tendencies: Now you have a good day to look directly at whatever is of concern and importance to you and to make sure that you do attend the services, or the studies of your choice to gain a higher and better philosophy of life for the future. Then tonight much energy is released to put new plans into actual motion.

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — Realize that temptation to act unwisely and thereby lose much of the prestige that you have so laboriously built up. Attend services and live the Golden Rule in order to turn adversity into opportunity. Think positively.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — By being more broad-minded now you will open up fine new avenues of thought, inspiration and opportunity, plus gaining much peace of soul and real happiness. P. M. go out socially, have fun and combine business with pleasure.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — Be sure you follow that good intuition today and stay close to good comrades. Attend services of your choice, then let sociability reign. P. M. meet fine new prospects and before retiring study new data. Be progressive.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — Your usual associates today hold the key to new interests and opportunities, so be sure to cooperate with them very closely. P. M. look into any debts you may have and plan to discharge them. Be most devoted to loved one.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — See that you serve, understand others better today and be a great inspiration to all. Evening is then fine for going out with compatibles and deciding upon what courses to follow in the future. Have lots of fun, too.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — A day to be full of cheer and inspiration and to diversify service all about, especially loved one and any duty tots important to you. P. M. schedule coming week wisely. Put clothing in best order. Take health treatments.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Strive for greater harmony at home now, which is the vital place and part of your life. P.M. dine out at some swanky restaurant or indulge in any other charming diversion.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Listen to those inspiring thoughts that will show you how to advance in every one of your existence, after attending services. P. M. invite guests in and have a delightful time there entertaining lightly. Be gay.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) — Live up to the standards under which you were reared for the answers in degree to today's perplexing problems. Evening is then ideal for having fun out-of-doors with relatives or good friends.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Morning should be the time to attain any desires you may have, but without argument with kin or others. During the evening you will then be able to aid others through sensible and practical ideas. Do so.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — A good day to concentrate upon more modern and efficient methods of operating in the days to come. Planning is the best way to be with those influential persons who can be of real assistance to you. Be broad-minded.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Now you are able to learn what your true ambitions are and how to attain them in a practical and ethical way. Some lost love needs and they will cooperate, too. P. M. set the next week's activities planned wisely.

If your child is born today — there is a great deal of good and practical sense in his or her nature and from the earliest years, affairs will be conducted in a most orderly and sensible fashion. So, be sure you give your youngster the opportunity of as fine an education as possible. Adulthood will trend toward the most modern interests and your progeny will be a most valuable adjunct to the Great New Age ahead.

Monday, May 16

General tendencies: Every sort of upset can occur today and you can get into real trouble with others if you do try to force anyone to do anything that you feel is best for them. Unless they actually ask you, it would be quite intrusive to get them to do your bidding. Use much care on highway, in motion. Avoid arguments, too.

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — Conversations with others could very easily start some sort of argument today, so be sure you quietly go about your business and made this a day of accomplishment instead. P. M. do not go out socially as you had planned.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — Use the objective approach in handling your work or any civic affairs of importance today. Also, be appreciative of the efforts of others, particularly higher-ups. Loyalty instead of criticism must be the rule, day or evening.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — Begin the week properly by being respectful of others and very loyal, devoted to client interests. Give others the right to have any philosophy dissimilar to your own. Take care you do not irk anyone, or this can be a most unpleasant day.

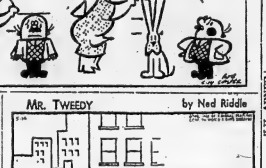
Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — While it is your desire to improve your monetary standing and also have great success, be sure personal relations are concerned, be sure you proceed with them through loyalty and by standing firm on present set-up. Changes would be disastrous.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Seek to maintain harmony today with associates and through the evening. Arguments could bring only failure. Be particularly careful to follow through with any commitments you have made, too. Advance.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Your job and the efficient manner in which you perform it is the means by which you will have your greatest progress today, so be sure you are at your very best. Be most co-operative with fellow workers will warrant success.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — Here is one of those days when you want to work for beyond your means just to have fun. Rid yourself of this temptation early and carry through with obligations. P. M. amuse yourself intensively.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — It would be best to resist that temptation to try to force others close to you to think along the lines that you do. Remember that everyone is entitled to his or her own premises or opinions. Live above reproach and all is O. K.



Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Discord with anyone today would begin your week improperly an' would augur badly for the coming days. Be more cooperative with partners or coworkers instead and do not gamble foolishly. Work.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — An excellent day to economize in various spheres of your life, investing too heavily could mean difficult days ahead. Be sure you take those treatments you need to improve your state of health.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — This is one of those days everything seems to go wrong and you are tempted to vent your ira on all about. Realize that others are equally annoyed and you will win out, if you are the one to keep the peace.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Be sure you put aside early any conflicting anxiety and go through with constructive ideas or plans that will help you to get ahead so that you can be of assistance to others, too. P. M. fine for study of new information.

If your child is born today — he, or she, is destined to be one of the fascinating Children of Tomorrow who will help bring reforms, invention, and greater ease to the multitudes. So be sure you give us fine an education as possible to fit your offspring for work in high governmental positions, key jobs with large corporations, and the like. Don't neglect spiritual training to bring out the love of humanity that is in this chart.

THE GOLDEN YEARS

Seeking a New Retirement Area? Perhaps This Will Help a Little

BY THOMAS COLLINS

"My life has been spent in the New England states, and as I come up to retirement my wife and I find our eyes wandering across the map of America.

"I will retire with an income of around $350 a month and in addition will have a modest nest egg for a rainy day.

"Both my wife and I, as is the fashion these days, have considered California, Florida and Arizona as the most logical areas for a retirement home. We find nothing wrong with these areas, but since this moving away at retirement is one of the great decisions of a lifetime, we wonder if there is not somewhere else we also should consider.

"They say that the people in New England are provincial and that we do not know anything about America except those places we have visited on vacation. I doubt people who live in other parts of the country may be provincial in the same way.

"Could you suggest for our study and exploration any area other than California, Florida and Arizona that might be worth the consideration of people of our means?"

LOOKING ELSEWHERE

In increasing numbers, retired people are beginning to look beyond the conventional retirement areas of the country. Repeatedly they come back to the California-Florida-Arizona idea because the reputation of these states as retirement paradises is established and generally true.

There are, however, some areas of the country that have much enchantment for retired people and are virtually unknown.

One of these, which southerners and westerners as well as Yankees from New England have probably never heard of, is the "Egypt" section of southern Illinois.

This is cornbread country, more southern than northern, and considered a quiet and economical life. It is an area that once was synonymous with coal mining and isn't any more. It is seeking to recoup its fortunes by inviting industry, vacationers and retired people to move in.

It is the area seeking to make an economic comeback on the one that never had much economic progress that can offer the most comfortable living on a retirement income. This is due in part to the fact that the prices for housing, services and food are likely to be somewhat depressed. It is due more importantly to the fact that there aren't too many rich folks bouncing around in convertibles.

Everything is relative, and to settle in a community where a $350 income doesn't look like poverty always makes for more comfortable living.

To say that I have found southern Illinois pleasant and would enjoy living there means nothing to you. And what your neighbor might say about it means nothing either. What you like is a most personal matter.

NOT OVERRUN YET

But for somebody looking for something new in retirement, a look at this section might be in order. It is not overrun yet, primarily because easterners keep going to California and Florida, midwesterners keep piling into Florida and Texas, and the westerners and the southerners stay home. If you're interested, you can get more information by writing Godfrey Hughes, executive director, Southern Illinois, Incorporated, Carterville, Ill.

Many retired people seem to find a certain security in retiring where other people retire. This is a safe formula. But sometimes it's not much fun and sometimes, no matter what sort of front they put up, it doesn't work.

TULIP FESTIVAL — One of Ottawa's big attractions is the annual spring tulip festival. Thousands of the flowers are displayed along 45 miles of the capital's parkways. A block in contrasting colors, the setting for the cannon fired each day at noon behind the Parliament Buildings by William J. Davis, is shown in this photo by Malak. (CP Photo).

The Capital's Love Affair With Tulips Starts Sunday

By ALEX MORIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa's love affair with the tulips is more advanced than ever this spring.

It began with a gift of gratitude from a Dutch princess to the city that sheltered her during the Second World War.

Now it's an annual smour that reduces such formal attractions as the Parliament Buildings or the National Gallery to passing flirtations.

The ninth Canadian Tulip Festival, sponsored by the Ottawa board of trade, runs from May 15 to 31 with the official opening Friday, May 20, presided over by Ann Hoogtvelt, Ottawa's Olympic ski champion.

The festival is credited with lengthening the Ottawa tourist season to 3½ months from two, and helping to make the city the second most popular tourist attraction after Niagara Falls.

Last year some 216,000 visitors with cameras and walking shoes took in the two - week show along the 45 miles of federal parkways.

The National Capital Commission, owner and official gardener of the more than 1,000,000 tulip plants 300,000 new bulbs each fall and rearranges many more.

Centrepiece of this year's show is one huge flower bed at Dow's Lake—a big lagoon along the old Rideau Canal — where 120,000 blooms are set up in contrasting blocks of solid color. The largest of a dozen such beds, it is flooded at night.

The Friday noon opening is attended by members of the diplomatic corps, representatives of all levels of government and mayors and reeves from municipalities within a 300 - mile radius in Ontario, Quebec and New York state.

As odd feature of this ceremony is that the bouquets delivered to the Queen, Mme. Georges Vanier, the governor - general's wife, and Mrs. John Diefenbaker and Mrs. Lester B. Pearson must be bought from a florist. The law protects flowers on this federal parkways.

Tulips have been given considerable attention for about 20 years, particularly since 1945 when Princess Juliana, now Queen of The Netherlands, returned home after wartime residence here and sent 20,000 bulbs, promising 10,000 more annually as long as she lives. To this the people of Holland added another 100,000.

That was when Edward Wood, chief landscape architect for the commission, decided to break with Victorian standards of small, intricate floral designs in favor of what now is called the "flowering mass display."

Rossmore

ROSSMORE — Mr and Mrs. F. Coglin spent Saturday evening as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Empey.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Pollitt visited the latter's mother, in Kingston, Sunday. She is a wonderful woman and has lived 88 fruitful years. Friends join in wishing her continued good health.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Empey entertained the members of the regular euchre party at their home Wednesday evening. Six tables were at play and a social time enjoyed. Prizes were awarded according to score. High prize going to Mrs. J. Fraser and J. Empey. Low prizes won by Mrs. Rhea Gerrow and Mike Moy. Lone hand prizes was won by Mrs. Coglin.

Sorry to report Mr. J. Foster is still a patient in Toronto hospital. Friends join in wishing him a quick recovery to health.

Mr. and Mrs. William Clapp have sold their house and are moving to the city. They will be missed by their many friends and neighbors.

Madoc Junction

MADOC JCT. — Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pitchett called on Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Ashley, Wednesday evening.

Miss Shelia Clarke was able to return to school Monday after her recent operation.

Mrs. Cyrus Summers, Mount Pleasant, spent Monday and Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Forde Stapley, Mr. Stapley and family.

Mrs. Clarence Fitchett and Mrs. Maurice Clancy called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Wannamaker, Sidrling, on Thursday.

Mr. Thomas Bridges, Peterborough, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bridges.

Miss Thelma Prest, of Belleville, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Prest. Miss Prest also attended the Mother's Day service held at Eggleton Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Eggleton, Whitby; Mrs. Peter Stallkovich, Belleville, also Miss Ruby Eggleton, Mrs. Kingston and Mr. Morley Eggleton of Foxboro, called Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fitchett.

Mrs. Forde Stapley, Billie and Eddie were weekend guests at the home of Mrs. Stapley's mother, Mrs. Cyrus Summers of Mount Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fitchett were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Clancy and Lloyd.

The annual Arbor Day was held Friday at the school, first the yard was cleaned, then the pupils, accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Bert Reid, enjoyed an afternoon walk through the nearby woods.

Dummy-Manned Red Space Ship Now In Orbit

Satellite, 9,920 Pounds, Biggest Yet Put Up

MOSCOW (Reuters) — A giant Russian spaceship satellite whirled around the globe today while Soviet experts forecast a possible manned flight into space by the end of this year.

The satellite carried a dummy man aboard and was circling the earth every 91 minutes. Moscow radio reported today that it still was very close to its calculated height at a height varying from 194 to 230 miles above the earth.

Its weight was given as 9,920 pounds and astounded Western scientists by its size. A British expert said that the first successful launching put Russia four years ahead of the United States in the race to explore space.

BIG EVENT NEAR

A Soviet expert, Charles Vilman, head of the Estonian branch of the National Astronomical and Geophysical Society, said plans and tactics for a Soviet manned space flight for the U.S.S.R. would take months rather than years in the light of today's successful launching.

"Possibly the great moment of man's flight into space will come before this year is out," he said.

"There was more speculation whether the Soviet Union would have a living man aboard the vehicle, and are using the dummy spaceman" twist just to throw American scientists off while testing to see whether safe recovery could be achieved.

"The dummy may be the real thing," said one scientist who declined to be identified. "And there's the possibility that if the Russians found everything worked all right, they would then make the dramatic announcement that they had a man in space.

"I'd be very chary about believing explicitly that it's only a dummy that's aboard."

Some 70 per cent of the rocket's weight was made up of a pressurized cabin with a dummy pilot inside, fitted out to send back information on human physical processes.

No attempt will be made to recover the cabin or the dummy man. The cabin will be separated from the ship by a radio signal from earth and burned up as it enters the atmosphere.

The launching was announced on the eve of the East-West summit meeting in Paris, was passing over the French capital every 91.2 minutes and also was speeding over Britain, the United States cities, including New York and London.

The Soviet announcement of the launching and the flight over Paris "has recalled not only the immense power of the Soviet Union but also our passionate desire to put this power to a new kind in the cause of progress of humanity," Moscow said.

NORMAL OPERATION

The spaceship was sending back information on the flight and radio signals, which were picked up throughout the world. Tass

Ten Planes Hunt Missing Beaver With 4 Aboard

TRENTON (CP) — Ten planes were searching today for a Beaver aircraft missing since last Thursday in the Hudson Bay area with four persons aboard.

Missing were Fred DeLarge, the pilot, Mrs. Tom Notting, wife of the Wheeler Airlines base manager, Miss Muriel Smith, 23, of Lockeport, N.S., a teacher with the northern affairs department and Guy Brown, airline mechanic.

A Wheeler Airlines official said today he believes the plane may be down on ice, walking for rescuers and fuel. He said there were plenty of snow and ice covered lakes in the area.

The craft was last heard from when he had taken off on a 2½-hour flight.

The pilot said then he was proceeding on course from Povungnituk on the east shore of Hudson Bay to Sugluk on the Ungava Peninsula, about 1,300 miles due north of Toronto.

RCAF at Trenton said that poor weather during the weekend forced the search planes to use radar and other electronic devices to try and find the downed aircraft.

The search was begun Thursday by a Norseman plane owned by Murray Mining Company. It was later joined by planes from the Trenton base and Wheeler Airlines.

Russia Protests French Plane Crosses Border

BONN, Germany (AP)—Russia protested today that an unidentified plane flying in from West Germany violated air space of Communist East Germany May 1.

A Western spokesman said the plane was a small French tourist aircraft that strayed across from Curtain.

The spokesman said the incident was routine and the French representative at the four-power air safety centre in Berlin had apologized to Soviet authorities.

"We get about eight of these incidents a month," one Western official said.

Nevertheless the Russians went ahead with a full-scale protest, fired off notes to the Western powers and published the protest in Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

TIMED WITH SUMMIT

Delivery of the notes apparently was timed with the opening of the summit conference in Paris.

"This has been done under the shadow of Sverdlovsk," an American official said. "The Soviet city of Sverdlovsk was where the Russians claimed to have shot down an American spy-plane on May Day."

The French Embassy said the aircraft was a small Vesmer-60 sport plane with one occupant. It was flying from Strasbourg, in eastern France, to Malmoe, southern Sweden, and got lost en route, an embassy spokesman said.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: Another sunny and warm day was promised for most of Ontario today. A disturbance in western Kansas will move into Illinois Tuesday morning and increasing cloudiness followed by scattered showers and thunderstorms will spread eastward across Southern Ontario during the day. The north country should continue to enjoy fine weather.

PLANES EVACUATE 65 FLOOD VICTIMS FROM FOLEYET

-Town Extensively Flooded, Dam Bursts

FOLEYET, Ont. (CP)—"Boil your drinking water."

Residents of this flood-hit railway town 60 miles west of Timmins got the bad news today that their drinking water had become contaminated.

The word came as a fleet of small aircraft, mostly ferried out 65 women, children and elderly men Sunday, took to the air to keep the evacuation moving.

Foleyet has only two links left with the outside world—by aircraft and a small, diesel-driven train operated by the department of lands and forests.

TOURS TOWN

Brig. Arnold Calvert, Salvation Army divisional commander for Northern Ontario, who flew here from Kirkland, Ont., today, toured the stricken town.

"There is no telephone or power in the town. The Salvation Army is using a disused Catholic school on high ground for sleeping and feeding of families.

"The Catholic sisters have prepared a meal for us and we hope to eat washrooms are available.

"The town presents a grim picture.

"Some houses have been washed away. Others have collapsed. Pianos, refrigerators and other furniture is lying on the roadway."

Much of the town was inundated Saturday by a 13-foot flood crest after a dam straining under a swift, heavy spring runoff, burst on nearby Ivanhoe Lake and drained the lake into Ivanhoe River.

Some two-storey houses were in water up to their roofs. Only a single block of houses remained dry.

Two lands and forests helicopters were ferrying children, women and children from the town to Ivanhoe Lake, where the seaplanes were picking them up and flying them to Timmins.

With the dropping of Ivanhoe Lake during the night, the seaplanes flew last night and stayed at the seaplane base at South Porcupine.

Those flying them in there, a lands and forests spokesman said, fear they would be stranded."

Approximately 200 persons have been dropped by helicopter homes.

No deaths or injuries were reported.

LIKE "WET KITTEN"

Ken Dowsett, Liberal-Swedish Ian Bay Airways, an air-lift flier, returned to South Porcupine for fuel.

"Foleyet is a pitiful sight. It looked like a wet kitten.

Mrs. Orville Armstrong and her six children were among the evacuees.

"The water was right up to the top of the windows," she said. "We were unable to get in to get anything and we have lost everything we own."

Khrushchev Goes for Morning Walk, Meets Refugee From Communism

PARIS (AP)— Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev went for a pre-summit stroll today and ran into a refugee from communism who obligingly interpreted for him.

The Soviet premier on his morning constitutional also advised a pretty Parisian lass to get herself a good husband and made some personal on-the-spot investigations of French living standards and wine.

The Soviet leader popped out of his embassy at about 7:30 a.m. and strode briskly past a prosperous middle class area.

He stirred up a grocery shop operated by 30-year-old Micheline Pacquet. The astonished proprietor rushed to fetch an interpreter.

Then up came a Yugoslav employe, 25-year-old Rata Racic, who came to France last year as a language student and stayed as a political refugee from communism.

Racic, who can speak Russian, translated Khrushchev's words for the shop proprietor. It obviously shook Khrushchev to hear

Should Put Surprise Attack Atop Agenda Says Nixon

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice-President Richard M. Nixon declared Sunday night that some good had come out of the U-2 spy-plane affair and said the Big Four leaders should "put surprise attack at the top of the summit agenda."

He defended reconnaissance flights over Russia under present conditions and denied that the United States had erred in flying the plane just three weeks before the opening of the summit meeting in Paris today.

In a television interview here that ran slightly four hours, Nixon said the U.S. could not afford any gaps in its intelligence.

As for the U-2-flight timing, he observed:

There is never a right time to make one of these flights if you're going to get caught."

Apparently unruffled and cool, Nixon sat under a wide-ranging

National Organization Will Plan Canada's Anniversary

OTTAWA (CP) — A national, non-governmental organization is to be founded here Tuesday to plan for Canada's 100th birthday in 1967.

Some 50 organizations are sending representatives to a founding meeting. Their job will be formally to set up a national office to provide interest in the Centenary and undertake some projects to get it on the rails.

The organizations include universities, welfare organizations, school boards, professional associations, ethnic groups, business groups, industries and several other citizens associations.

The new body is not being formed in any way in opposition to with the government," said John P. Robarts, Ontario minister of the Canadian Citizenship Council and a principal organizer of the gathering.

In earlier meetings at Montreal and Toronto, the groups agreed the most desirable structure would be one on which both governments and volunteer organizations should be represented — divorced from government but substantially financed by government.

Meanwhile, the voluntary

Diefenbaker Reports on Trip To Special Cabinet Meeting

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker returned from London Saturday night, held a 45-minute cabinet meeting and dismissed a Russian broadcaster's warning that Canada should prepare for another U-2 aircraft flying over its territory.

"There has been nothing from the government of the USSR giving any support to the views expressed by the commentator," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Diefenbaker flew from London in an RCAF Comet jet. Mr. Diefenbaker talked for 20 minutes with reporters and photographers. Then he drove to External Affairs Minister Green directly to Parliament Hill and the cabinet went into session at 7:30 p.m. It adjourned at 8:15 p.m.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he called the unusual Saturday night meeting, bringing some cabinet ministers back to Ottawa from weekends at their cottages, in order to get personally on the Canadian nonwealth prime ministers conference.

The cabinet was to meet again today before Mr. Diefenbaker reported to Parliament at 2:30 p.m. on his two-week trip.

During the cabinet meeting, the prime minister read press reports of the Russian broadcast. After the meeting he said the broadcast had "no basis in fact."

At the cabinet meeting, Mr. Diefenbaker said he had no announcements to make.

Mr. K. Withdraws Invitation To Eisenhower, Asks Talk Be Postponed Six Months

Eisenhower Pledges End to Spy Flights But Refuses Demand for Punishment

PARIS (CP) — The summit conference collapsed in its first session today, with Russia and the United States accusing each other of torpedoing the historic session called in an effort to ease world tensions.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain appealed to the heads of government to proceed with their work at the summit.

The meeting laundered over the U-2 spy plane incident and was further meetings were scheduled.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, bitterly attacking U.S. policy, called for a six- to eight-month delay and said he and U.S. administration understand the situation if the present administration can't. He withdrew his invitation for President Eisenhower to visit the Soviet Union next month.

President Eisenhower promised there will be no more U.S. spy flights over the Soviet Union, but he rejected an ultimatum from the Soviet leader that there should be punishment for the U-2 mission he admitted.

White House press secretary James Hagerty quoted the president as saying: "Khrushchev was left in no doubt by me that his ultimatum would never be acceptable to the United States."

But the president said that reconnaissance flights over Russia had been suspended after the Soviet shot down the U-2 May 1, they would not be resumed.

He also offered to hold bilateral talks with Khrushchev during the conference to iron out differences over the plane mission.

The president also offered to negotiate agreements that could "eliminate the necessity of all forms of espionage." If this was not possible, the president said he would take the issue of aerial security patrolling to the United Nations.

"The only conclusion that can be drawn from his (Khrushchev's) behavior this morning was that he came all the way from Moscow to Paris with the sole intention of torpedoing the meeting on which so much of the hopes of the world have rested."

The United States," the president said, "are here to consider in good faith the important problems before this conference. We are prepared either to carry out the program we have in order to undertake bilateral conversations between the United States and the U.S.S.R. within the conference procedure."

KHRUSHCHEV CONSULTING

Aides said Eisenhower considered Khrushchev insulting in his charges that nations were not hopeless as long as, in his words, the United States was threatened by the Soviet Union. The president dwelt at length on the May 1 flight of Gary Powers, downed in the Soviet Union as he flew the U-2 spy plane over Sverdlovsk in an effrt to gain reconnaissance information.

The president made his proposal on aerial security this way:

"It should prove impossible because of the Soviet attitude, to come to grips here in Paris with the important issues of peace, the issues threatening world peace, I propose that we refer the matter to submit to the United Nations a proposal for the creation of a United Nations aerial surveillance to detect preparations for attack.

"This plan I had intended to place before this conference.

"This surveillance system would operate in the territories of the nations participating, and accept such inspection. For its part the United States would be willing not only to accept United Nations aerial surveillance, but to do everything in its power to contribute to the rapid organization and successful operation of such international surveillance."

Eisenhower declared Khrushchev had brushed aside all reasonable arguments at the three-hour opening session.

"It was thus made apparent that the Soviet government to wreck the Paris conference.

INTENT "TO SABOTAGE"

"In fact, the only conclusion that can be drawn from his behavior this morning was that he came all the way from Moscow to Paris with the sole intention of torpedoing the meeting on which so much of the hopes of the world have rested."

"In spite of this serious and adverse development, I have no intention whatsoever to diminish my continuing efforts to promote progress toward a peace with justice. This applies to the remainder of my stay in Paris as well as thereafter."

The rejection of the Kremlin ultimatum ended the end of the historic heads of government meeting almost before it began.

Eisenhower said the Soviet premier had misunderstood one key point. He said, in fact, that the United States did not threaten to continue flying over Russia.

"The actual statements of my government go no further than to say that I, as President of the United States, will not shirk its responsibility to safeguard the security of the free world," Prime Minister Macmillan said. He and President Charles de Gaulle of France.

Small Dam on Missinabi River Reported in 'Unhealthy' Condition

FOLEYETE, Ont. (CP) — A small dam on the Missinabi River where 19 Ontario and Indians Lake, today was reported "in an unhealthy condition—it could go out today."

The report came from Ontario lands and forests officials who have been flying patrol over Northern Ontario, evacuating old men, women and children from Foleyet ever since the dam burst here last Thursday.

"There are only 45 to 50 persons in Peterbell, Ont., who would be affected if the Missinabi dam goes," a department spokesman said.

The airlift, which took 65 persons out of Foleyet Sunday, continued today when pilot Dave Croll of Sioux Lookout flew "15 to 16 children and mothers with kids," to safety. The children were lifted by department helicopters from Foleyet about seven miles to Ivanhoe Lake, where the seaplanes took them to Timmins.

Croll flew on from South Porcupine, Ont., to Kirkland Lake to pick up his water-dropping equipment. Then he flew to Foleyet, in the northwest part of the province, to help in fighting a 600-acre forest fire raging out of control in that area.

Rivers were high throughout most of northeast Ontario.

Lands and forests spokesmen said the main weight of the Ivanhoe River, released when the dam burst, has been thrust into the Groundhog River, which is "carrying it well."

Firemen were called out on one alarm over the past weekend. This was for stand-by duty at 54 MacDonald Avenue where hydro wires had been knocked down by a kite. No other damage occured.

GETS BIG TROUT IN DESERT LAKE

Nicky Sero, former great of the diamond, both in baseball and softball, from Shannonville, and his companion, Kenneth Hollands, also of Shannonville, had a wonderful day in angling for the Lake Trout over the weekend. The two journeyed to Desert Lake and Nick got a beauty, the trout tipping the scales at 16 1-2 pounds. It was 32 inches in length with a girth of 20 1-2 inches. Two others were caught and they averaged around the eight pounds apiece.

Asked to state exactly where Desert Lake was located, Nicky Sero said it was "somewhere in the north country." The big one was caught on a Williams lure.

FEATHERED THIEF

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (CP)—Owners of a hatchery here puzzled by disappearance of speckled trout fry, were surprised one day to see a small wren go through a hole in the wall, 1¼ inches in diameter, and pick one of the tiny trout from a trough.

Q. I am fifteen years old and go bowling pretty often. My parents say I can catch athlete's foot from shoes rented at the bowling alleys. How can I protect myself and still go bowling?

A. The best way is to buy your own shoes. However, when renting ice skates, roller skates, bowling shoes, etc., a liberal dusting powder could be sprinkled in the shoes before using or thick socks can be worn. This affords some protection.

Q. How long can the brain go without oxygen?

A. The effects of partial or complete oxygen lack on the brain has best be judged in persons who have been "brought back to life" after the heart stops beating. Apparently, the longest period of oxygen deficiency without brain damage is about four minutes.

NURSES' RESIDENCE — First year student nurses at Belleville General Hospital School of Nursing, Lynda Vincent and Charlotte Kernaghan, try out one of the beds in double dormitory rooms of new nurses' residence. Senior nursing students will be assigned to the new residence which has double and single room accommodation for 30 nurses.

NEW SCIENCE LABORATORY is part of facilities in the new Education Hall, which includes classrooms, auditorium demonstration room and office space. Seen in science room with Nursing Director Miss Dora Smith (centre) are student nurses Janice Hicks and Louise Fisher.

New Nurses' Residence, Education Hall at Hospital Formally Opened Saturday

Attended by hospital officials, municipal and parliamentary dignitaries and Belleville citizens official opening ceremonies for the new $300,000 Education Hall and nurses' residence at Belleville General Hospital were held on Saturday afternoon.

The new education hall provides dormitory accommodation for 30 nurses, has an auditorium which will seat 300 persons, two classrooms, a demonstration room and dietary and science laboratories as well as instructors' offices.

Mr. J. K. Jamieson, head of the Hospital Grants Division, Ontario Hospital Services Commission, cut the ribbon and declared the new building officially open.

In doing so he noted the lack of nurses' training facilities in Ontario. He said there were 5,000 new hospital beds planned or in the planning stage in the province, but only one new nursing school and one nursing school addition would be built now being completed at Belleville.

LACK OF ACCOMMODATION

But there was still a lack of hospital accommodation which was the responsibility of the local municipality to provide. "Federal and Provincial governments provided financial assistance but the initiative and responsibility lay with the local municipality," he said.

Mr. J. E. Buchan chairman of the hospital building committee, welcomed visitors to the opening, with Mr. Frank Domenico, chairman of the hospital board of governors, presiding over the ceremonies. Introduction of the platform guests was by J.E. Yeomans, vice chairman of the board.

Greetings from Hastings county were expressed by warden Earl Sager with Alderman George Wallace representing the city of Belleville.

Greetings were also heard from Lee Grills, M.P. for Hastings South; W. J. Sandercock, M.P.P. Hastings West; Clarke T. Rollins M.P.P. Hastings East, and Norris Whitney, M.P.P. for Prince Edward-Lennox.

Mrs. H. E. Burley, president of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary also extended greetings.

As chairman of the building committee Mr. Buchan extended the appreciation of the board members to L. F. Burfoot, hospital building supervisor and others who had contributed to the erection of the new building. He said the new building was functional and would provide for a great need at Belleville Hospital.

Among the guests introduced by Mr. Yeomans were Kenneth Box, former hospital administrator, Werner F. G. Barchard, hospital administrator; Mr. P. Keenlyside, member of the architect firm of Gouin, Ferguson, Lindsay, Kaminker, Langley and Keenlyside; Miss Agatha Murphy, president of District 8, Registered Nurses' Association of Ontario, Miss Kzazka, president of the Nurses' Alumnae of the Belleville General Hospital, and Jack Hudson, construction foreman for the new nurses' residence and education hall.

TURNS OVER KEY

Right Rev. J. P. Sullivan, of St. Michael's Church, pronounced the invocation with benediction by Rev. R. D. MacLeod, president of the Belleville Ministerial Association.

Mr. Burfoot as building supervisor, turned the key over to George Duke, representing the architects, who in turn presented it to Mr. Jamieson. Prior to the ribbon cutting the key was received by board chairman Mr. Domenico. Dr. D. M. Scott, the president of the Medical Staff Association, thanked Mr. Jamieson.

Also during the ceremony hospital poster contest awards were presented to 27-young contest winners. The presentations were made by P. C. McGuire, chairman of the hospital public relations committee, and A. F. Whitehead, chairman of the poster committee.

IN MEMORIAM

DARKE. — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Gertie Darke, who passed away May 16th, 1954.

Days of sadness still come o'er us, Tears in silence often flow; For memory keeps you ever near us Though you sleep'st many years ago.

Ever remembered by daughter Gladys, Murray and family.

KOMOROUSKI. — In loving memory of Earl Komoroski, who passed away May 16th, 1954.

Remembrance is a golden chain — Death tries to break, but all in vain The links are formed of memories dear That no one can break or take from here.

The years may roll on, many things But this they wipe out never — The memory of those happy days When we were all together.

Sadly missed and remembered by his wife Mildred, daughters and family, Bill, Anne and family.

CARDS OF THANKS

We would like to thank the girls for the lovely gift received at the tea shower held on April 28th in the home of Mrs. Judy Whitmore. We would also like to express appreciation for the gifts received at the china shower held on May 4th at the home of Miss Judy Whitmore by the girls of Trenholme School and to thank each and every friend and neighbour who remembered us at the miscellaneous shower for us on May 6th at the home of Mrs. Verna Crowe. Also we want to thank the "Happy Gang" for their musical selections.

Many Guests Attend RCAF W.A. Tulip Tea

TRENTON—Numerous guests attended the combined arts and crafts exhibition and garden tea held recently by the Women's Auxiliary of the RCAF.

Mrs. M. Pound and Mrs. G. W. Scott were co-convenors of the arts and crafts section, which was admired, while Mrs. W. G. Scott and Mrs. R. P. Condon co-convened the equally successful tea.

Mrs. C. Garfield Kelly and Mrs. P. Liggins, president, greeted the guests at the door.

Gold and white were the pre-vailing colors at the exquisite decorations in the tea room. Yellow chrysanthemums and white tulips were on the centre table, which was appreciated by an attractive miniature decorate with yellow tulips. The other tea tables were miniature copies of the centre table.

Mrs. A. Symmons, Mrs. D. Williams, Mrs. D. Stuart and Mrs. H. Keefer poured. Air Force Guides served tea.

Mrs. V. R. Whitman convened the bake table, assisted by Mrs. G. McNea, and Mrs. A. Moore. Mrs. R. Fredericks convened the white elephant table and Mrs. G. Gordon was in charge of tickets.

Mrs. Howard Russell sold copies of the RCAF 1955 anniversary cookbook, which was convened by Mrs. T. Causey. Mrs. G. W. Scott sold raffle tickets on a beautiful doll. — Hostesses for the arts and crafts section were Mrs. E. Saunders, Mrs. E. Irvine, Mrs. N. Middleton, assisted by Mrs. G. H. Gordon, Mrs. H. B. Hay, Mrs. H. R. Cramp, Mrs. Haylig, Mrs. R. Patillo, Mrs. W. Smith, Mrs. Ray Symmons, R. Fraleigh, Mrs. D. A. New, Mrs. R. Brown, Mrs. G. J. Moir and Mrs. R. Sirois.

Mrs. J. B. Ledingham played organ music, and Miss C. Carter was the vocal soloist to provide a musical accompaniment to the tea.

Instructors who displayed the various exhibits in the arts and crafts section were E. Barrs, rug hooking, Mrs. Gulliford, aluminum etching; Marg Scott, sewing; E. Evans, dress forms; Audrey Moore and Bill Brown, copper tooling; C. Sanderson and R. Roznik, smocking and C. Brown, millinery.

W. J. Houston, Toronto, Named H.S. Principal

TRENTON — F. J. Aziz, chairman of the management committee of the Board of Education, announced Saturday that William John Houston of Toronto, has been engaged as principal of Trenton H & I School for the 1960-61 term.

Mr. Houston, an honor graduate of the University of Toronto, was principal at North Toronto and Bloor Street Collegiate.

He is a specialist in English, history, modern languages.

Mr. and Mrs. Houston have one son, a lawyer, and one daughter, an honor graduate of Trinity College, who is on the editorial staff of the University of Toronto press.

It is expected the Houstons will move to Trenton in August.

Mr. Aziz said the appointment meant that with the exception of one teacher, the staff for the coming school season had been completed.

Air Cadets Inspected by RCAF Officer

TRENTON — The annual inspection of No. 173 Squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Cadets was carried out at Trenton High School last Thursday.

The reviewing officer was Wing Cmdr. C. H. A. Thompson, O.C. of Air Transport Command Headquarters at Trenton. Assisting him was F.O. W.S. West. Douglas Whitley, vice-chairman of the Ontario Provincial Committee of the Air Cadet League of Canada, was present.

A ceremonial review of the squadron and the girls' squadron under the leadership of Sgts. Ldr. Cadette Judy Graham was carried out. Sgt/Sp. Ldr. T. W. Spear is the commanding officer of No. 173 Squadron, and also adjutant is Flt. Lt. G. A. Frost.

A rifle drill was conducted with Cadet W.O. 2 Stephen Knight in charge.

Chairman for the afternoon's program was John Garrett, vice-principal of the Trenton High School.

Wing Cmdr. Thompson and Mr. Whitley spoke briefly, praising the smart appearance and efficiency of both squadrons.

The RCAF Station Trenton band provided military music for the march past and the inspection ceremony.

DEATH FOR AIR SPY?

MOSCOW (AP)—Two of the Soviet Union's highest legal authorities declared Sunday that Francis G. Powers must be "strictly punished as the gravest criminal, spy and war provocateur." The guilt of the American U-2 pilot is not arguable, said Izvestia article written by P. S. Romashkin, head of the legal institute of the Academy of Sciences, and S. A. Golunsky. The language used by the two jurists appeared to mean they favored the maximum sentence of death.

Jim Dobby New President Of Council

TRENTON — The Trenton District Council of the Boy Scout Association met recently with Jim Dobby to take over as president of the organization from Cohen Oakes who relinquished the office when he returned to England.

Plans for summer camp are being made. Each Cub and Scout attending camp must be registered, as he will not be covered by insurance if he is not registered. A new badge is offered to Scouts now; the draughtsman's badge. Scouts who are good at drawing, using protractors and dividers can enter into competition to secure the first draughtsman's badge in Trenton.

The summer camping day will be May 28. Scouts and Cubs will be taken to the parkland, near the Telephone Road.

Mel Mountenay has secured permission from the government. The trees will be planted in a one-day effort. An officer in charge of the project will be District Rover Leader Jim Page, assisted Mr. Whitley, the assistant district commissioner, Phil Simmons, and the district commissioner, Sam Mowbray.

The annual field day will be held June 4 in Bain Park.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

HOLBROOK, Mass. (AP)—The body of Michael J. Nolan, Jr., 12, was found hanging in a tree near a summer school Sunday. Police Chief Charles M. Williams said the boy committed suicide, but said no reason for the act could be determined.

Pickerel, Trout Fishermen Had Good Outing

Wind - whipped lakes and streams put the quietus on pickerel opening day for a lot of anglers but some of the big ones did not shy away.

Gary Gow tops the pickerel hauls with a five-pound two-ounce wall-eye caught on an Abu spinner at Hay Bay. Gow and party landed three dozen, one weighing in the neighborhood of six pounds.

Harry Morrison fishing the Trent River near Campbellford came home with an eight pounder. He used a minnow.

Several pickerel were caught at the mouth of the Moira near the CPR bridge over the weekend.

Charleston Lake north of Brockville yielded sevaqak, kingsize lake trout.

Gary Cranston, brother Dale and George Cooper brought home 29½ pounds of "lakers". Gary caught a ten-pounder, two others weighing 7½ and 5½ pounds. Geo. Cooper hauled in a 6½ pounder.

Cranston helped weigh another lake lunker weighing 13 pounds caught by a Brockville fisherman.

Gusting winds whipped some lakes into rough choppy water that spoiled any chances of angling.

Consecon Lake in Prince Edward county was exceptionally rough and few anglers deciding against trying the fishing.

One party reported that boat owners at the lake of their choice refused to rent boats due to the roughness of the weather.

BRITISH STUDENTS

Universities or university colleges in British had 102,000 full-time scholars in 1958, double the total for 1935.

Above may be seen one of 25 Wolf Cub pack flags which were flying at the Cuboree held at the fairgrounds Saturday afternoon. In the background may be seen some of the Cubs assembled for a test.

500 Wolf Cubs Hold Cuboree At Fairgrounds

Saturday afternoon was a busy time for over 500 local Wolf Cubs and their leaders at the centre field of the Belleville Fair Grounds as they participated in a Cuboree. The conference was organized to give local Cubs a chance to pass the athletic tests required for advancement through the Cub ranks.

The centre field was a hive of activity and at the west end of the field a number of enagna and the flags of the various Cub packs present fluttered bravely in the brisk breeze which swept across the field, adding color to the scene. The Union Jacks and pack flags were arranged in a circle within which the ceremony opening and closing activities were conducted.

Following the opening ceremonies, the Cubs present were divided up into different groups to participate in the athletic tests available. These tests, although basically the same, had two different set of standards according to the size of the Cub taking them.

The various tests included such events as rope climbing, ball throwing, broad jumping, high jumping, head stands, sprinting and ball catching. There were two organized ball games to allow Cubs to practice towards their team player's badge also.

The Cuboree was convened by Pere Pickering for the Belleville District Council of the Wolf Cubs. He was assisted by William Sweet and Mac McClelland both assistant district commissioners. The 18th Sea Scouts of Belleville acted as service scouts for the event and first aid service was provided by the St. John Ambulance Crusaders. Fifty-four leaders ran the events which saw Cubs from 25 packs competing.

Pickerel Angler Drowned, Three Saved at South Bay

The opening of the pickerel season in the Prince Edward county area took the life of one man by drowning and resulted in the near drowning of three others in South Bay, south of Picton.

Drowned when the boat in which he and a companion were riding upset, was Alfred J. Grigsby, 53, of Shaker Heights, Ohio.

Rescued by residents of the area were Paul Roetzak, 56, Roy Rubbley, about 52, and Carl Baldesare, 45, all of Ohio. Two of the rescued were admitted to Prince Edward county hospital at Picton.

Provincella Police said the four men were setting night lines from two boats in South Bay when the craft occupied by Mr. Grigsby and his companion upset, throwing the occupants into the water.

The other boat went to the rescue but as the attempt was made to get them aboard, one man into the boat, the second craft also overturned, forcing its occupants into the water.

Residents on the shore spotted the men in trouble and boats were put out to effect the rescue.

Three of the four men were rescued but Mr. Grigsby could not be located. The drowning accident occurred about 5.30 on Saturday afternoon.

Dr. C. R. Richmond of Picton was called as coroner. It was not stated whether an inquest would be called.

Four Possible Leaders

Four men are being mentioned as possible leaders of new left-of-centre political party to be born out of courtship of organized labor and the CCF.

Of these four only one is "labor" man, and he by "naturalization" rather than by birth. The four are Premier T. C. "Tommy" Douglas of Saskatchewan, Stanley Knowles, former CCF MP from Winnipeg, Ben Argue, present House of Commons leader of the and David Lewis.

Two of the four, Douglas and Knowles, are former sisters, Argue is a wheat farmer, Lewis a lawyer.

Knowles is a labor man by adoption, having epted an executive vice-president's post with the adian Congress of Labor after his defeat in the gressive Conservative sweep. One of the Conser- ives' stoutest allies in the Battle of the Pipeline, his cyclopedic knowledge of the rules of procedure so pressed his fellow warriors that it is said he could e had the position of first permanent speaker of the use had he cared to accept it.

Beyond the fact that they are both men of the th who left the parties that are the political platform, owles and Douglas have little in common. Knowles ard-working and sincere, but hardly genial. Douglas ked by even his bitterest political enemies—but is d to have so enraged his austere leader, M. J. owell, by his outrageously risque sense of humor s his office once removed from him he would leave the storm if Douglas told one of his favorite jokes. uglas shares with Prime Minister Diefenbaker membership in the Baptist Church—that and little else.

Hazen Argue was an unknown man to most Canaans until Conservative tide swept most of his league from the House of Commons and left him the lone Opposition member, of any political stripe, rvive the flood in the three Prairie provinces. He s called upon to play the role of a one-man band— has amazed many observers by his ability to provide ssionless tune while producing the maximum ount of noise.

Lewis is a man of another stripe, a Polish Jew, an ellectual, one of a long line of Rhodes scholars who e found that their knowledge of political affairs has been matched by their ability to win votes at the ls. Lewis, though, has run only twice, not par for course for many left-wingers, and his chief claim to e has been as an organizer. As national secretary the CCF he did a noteworthy job for that party.

Right Move, Wrong Reason

The central zone conference of the Ontario Urban Rural School Trustees Association has passed a olution asking for formation of a provincial salary edule committee.

We are heartily in favor of a truly uniform salary le for teachers. By this we do not mean a rigidly id schedule, ignoring differences in working condi- ns and living costs, but rather a scale which would ss as close as possible to assuring that teachers of similar ability doing an equivalent amount of work would be warded by acquiring an equality in purchasing power. achieve this, there would have to be some differences pay in different sections of the country.

If we are not mistaken, that is what the Urban Rural School Trustees envisage.

Unfortunately it is not necessary to make a reser- tion with respect to this proposal.

The Canadian Press report refers to it as an effort unite "all secondary school boards against the ario Secondary School Trustees Federation."

If that is the objective it is a poor one. School stees need to unite not against, but with, the Ontario condary School Teachers Federation, with trustees d teachers combining their efforts to improve our ucational standards.

Prospered regarded, a uniform salary scale, far from ing trustees against teachers, should make it sible for teachers and trustees to avoid present rabbles over salaries and turn all their efforts into ting the most for the money spent on our schools.

Strictly Personal

Artists Crave Compliments, Not Criticism

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Only once in my life have I heard a critic attacked by someone he had "over-praised." I was a guest at the home of a famous violinist, and he derided a music critic for having given him a rave review the day before.

"I played terribly," he confessed, "and the critic knew it. I've given in years. That critic knows that what they've heard is boring. His wants are not satisfied."

Most authors, artists and performers do. They rip into critics who condemn them, but they appreciate their work; but they object when their productions or performances are overvalued, as they often are.

They insist that what they want is objective criticism, apart from praise. But that, there's no such animal, they don't want it anyway. They want praise, as much of it as is possible, even when they don't deserve it. In some 15 years of drama reviewing, I have received many letters from grateful actresses thanking me for kind words about their performance. Not once have I received a letter of thanks for a glowing review about a bad performance.

Sometimes, when plays and concerts are good, they receive bad notices, and the performers are gag-outraged. But other times, when performances are bad they get and receive good notices. Hostile criticism is rarely heard, and even to complain just as vigorously. If they are serious about wanting objective criticism, but somehow they never do.

Perhaps our entertainers cannot be objective about his work; perhaps it is natural that everything he does is good. But the really top-rank artists I have known are painfully aware when they do less than their best. I have heard musicians curse themselves after a sloppy performance, but they never curse the bestower of somerelief praise.

This is one reason I pay little attention to the complaints about the critics' reviews. When they are unfairly severe, the artists jump on them; when they are unfairly generous, their justice does not mean being kind to me means be kind to me, it takes issue with them. As a result, most critics attain a reputation for severity.

Only when artists object just as vehemently to undeserved praises as they do undeserved disparagement will they be able to make out an honest case against the critic. Until then, what they really want is not criticism, good or bad, but simply a massaging of their egos.

Hiding Junk Army Problem

The Beaver

Getting ready for a major inspection is a major operation. Not the least of the problems is what to do with pieces of equipment that have become useless but an unpleasant appearance.

In the days when horses were the motive power of military transport this problem was less. One of the animals could be counted to take care with a load of material and return with it intact after the inspecting party had passed. The only hazard was that there was always the possibility that the inspection team might want to count horses.

The change from animal to vehicle transport presented another disadvantage. With vehicles came the birth of the phenomenon known as the "MT Department." With the birth of the MT, the average unit's holdings of wheeled junk increased by 300 percent.

In the days of the horse, bits and pieces of harness and horseshoes were the main worries. But with MT came towing vehicles (usually engine parts (mutated), odd tires (multiplied), and countless other (mutated).

The modern method for hiding junk before the inspection is to despatch a driver and a truck loaded with those items on a training mission during the period of danger. This method presents several problems. It must be timed so that the driver does not miss any meals while away and so that the inspection team does miss the junk.

If some 15 years of drama reviewing, I have received many letters from grateful actresses thanking me for kind words about their performance. Not once have I received a letter of thanks for a glowing review about a bad performance.

Sometimes, when plays and concerts are good, they receive bad notices, and the performers are gag-outraged. But other times, when performances are bad they get and receive good notices. Hostile criticism is rarely heard, and even to complain just as vigorously. If they are serious about wanting objective criticism, but somehow they never do.

Perhaps our entertainers cannot be objective about his work; perhaps it is natural that everything he does is good. But the really top-rank artists I have known are painfully aware when they do less than their best. I have heard musicians curse themselves after a sloppy performance, but they never curse the bestower of somerelief praise.

This is one reason I pay little attention to the complaints about the critics' reviews. When they are unfairly severe, the artists jump on them; when they are unfairly generous, their justice does not mean being kind to me means be kind to me, it takes issue with them. As a result, most critics attain a reputation for severity.

Only when artists object just as vehemently to undeserved praises as they do undeserved disparagement will they be able to make out an honest case against the critic. Until then, what they really want is not criticism, good or bad, but simply a massaging of their egos.

New Province

Sudbury Star

It is already economically feasible to create a Province of Northern Ontario that might include, say, the French River as its southern boundary. The forest and mineral wealth of the North alone would ensure economic stability.

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO
May 16, 1940

The annual trek to rivers and lakes where lurks the wily pickerel will be the means tomorrow for the local trask watcher, for, with the rise of the sun, government restrictions on the capture of this member of the royal fish family will be lifted. The quota is fifteen fish per day per person.

Another novelty in animal colors has been preserved for the Queen's University museum. It is a black-furred woodchuck, shot by Dr. N. E. Berry in the northern part of Frontenac County. The woodchuck are usually of a reddish brown color, so that a black one is considered very rare. Last summer an albino woodchuck was presented to the museum.

There are still spaeckled trout to be had in the streams of the northern part of this district. Irrefutable evidence of this fact was seen today when Mr. Harry Bateman of Albing Street, brought a handsome specimen of the red-speckled variety to the editorial rooms of the Ontario Intelligencer. The beauty measured fifteen inches in length and weighed two and one-half pounds. The fish was one of seventeen caught and hauled in from Mackie Lake near Stockdale.

Mr. and Mrs. George Adams of Lindsay have been spending the past two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams, Bleaham Street.

Mrs. J. W. Pearce, Mrs. W. Campbell and Miss Gertrude Nightingale have returned to the city after spending the winter months in Florida.

Labor Union Is Capitalist

Halifax Chronicle-Herald

The latest financial report of the United Mine Workers of America which has just been released in Washington shows the international labor organization to be well involved in big business too.

Investment of its net assets of $110 million has given it 40 per cent ownership of the Nation bank in the U.S. capital; 10 per cent of the Lincoln bank; part of 50,000 shares of preferred in one of the nation's major coal companies; 20 shares in a coal shipping firm; $3,000,000 worth of real estate and other investments.

It makes things a bit complicated when labor travels to develop in any of those enterprises.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

READER OFFERS REASSURING ADVICE TO HEART SUFFERER

Dear Dr. Molner: I just had to write in regard to Mrs. R. D., who has arthritis and heart trouble.

"I am 60. Five years ago I had an operation on the mitral valve of my heart. Before surgery I was unable to do anything because I was always tired.

"Now I play volleyball every Thursday, run up and down stairs, and do all my own work. The operation was a real success.

"I have three boys who are quite grown up.

"I hope Mrs. R. D. doesn't wait too long if surgeons say they can help. She won't get betted by waiting. I had to get this off my chest." — Mrs. R. H.

It strikes me as nice when people write letters like this one. It's a more convincing statement than a doctor can make, for a couple of reasons.

First, a doctor can say that an operation is successful if heart action — but it takes a patient to put it into words like "now I play volleyball every Thursday."

Second, a physician, who knows that some cases don't work out, is more inclined to say that a certain percentage (such as 75 or 80 or 85) "will be benefitted." But a patient who feels he should call equal attention to the whole story and which do not have such outstanding success. The patient, naturally, wants to have some enthusiasm generated. A doctor doesn't try to generate enthusiasm of that sort; he tries to give cold facts.

So much for that. Nobody can "guarantee" that any treatment, whether it be medicine or an antibiotic capsule, definitely will help you. And so, all we can honestly say is that the probabilities are thus and so. Still we can be as hopeful as possible probabilities.

But let me offer praise to Mrs. R. K. for the sentence toward the end of her letter: She hopes Mrs. R. D. doesn't wait too long if surgeons say they can help."

That's the important thing. After a decade or so of a lot of surgery, it is possible to tell which cases have a high prospect of benefit.

Don't demand miracles. Don't insist on heart surgery just because somebody else was specularly benefitted. Some operations can be helpful, others aren't.

But if in doubt, ask your surgeon for his frankest estimate. If he says the case is a long-odds case, accept his advice, however. If he says you have a strong possibility of benefit, accept that, too — and go ahead.

It is the latter cases which result in such remarkable recoveries as Mrs. R. K. has described.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I read about the drug serotonine in your booklet. Would you give information on where I can get it and how to use it?" — Mrs. R.H."

The drug requires a prescription and your doctor, when he writes it, will specify the use in your case.

Note to R.P.: Yes, hyperglycemia (high blood sugar) can be caused by overactivity of the thyroid, adrenals, or pituitary, and from other causes. However, I hasten to point out that it is also possible, in diabetes, for a patient to have high blood sugar yet have no sugar show in the urine — a condition called "high kidney threshold" in such cases the diabetes exists just the same. This is usually seen in older, overweight persons.

Auto Names Confusing

Wall Street Journal

Confused consumers have trouble sorting out the spate of new auto lines. The influx of the Falcon, Comet, Corvair, Valiant and Dart plus more foreign makes has created confusion among the new cars. Many admit perplexity over what's a "compact" and what falls in with the right maker. A Detroit ad man grouses: "A salesman at Ford Priority Chevrolet says shoppers call Corvairs Corvettes, Chevy Corvairs to Corvette." With 30 U.S. car nameplates already in the market and the Lancer, Fleetster, Rocket and Tempest (or Panther) to come next year, auto men see no ending of identification problems.

Smoking Bird Causes Fire

Montreal Star

It is all very well to get animal rights societies interested, but to encourage animals to take to the use of implements of stress seems to be taking a step too far. Only the other day, it was our painful duty to report on these pages that a dog, accustomed to a cigarette occasionally benefitted, had been causing accidents on the highway because people ran off the road when they saw the animal puffing a richly satisfying smoke (what cigarette is suited to dogs), in the passenger seat of a taxi he was not driving, but we see their point. Only the news comes to England that a warehouse fire was caused by a bird flying through a smoking in bed. All this is too much. We quite realize that the English have a very fond of birds and animals and things, but that is no reason to encourage in all our bad habits to them. Before we know where we are, the milk horses will be smoking cigarettes and pigeons will stop you in Dominion Square and ask you for a dime.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

The first meaning of the word "store" is as a place to lay up supply as when we say "a store of knowledge." It is said in for the journey," by connotation we meaning a shop, such as Woolworth's or Eaton's, but slowly losing its connection with the original meaning. Because, in cities, the trend now is for stores to be more show rooms. There is no room for abundance, no supply in them at all.

This is particularly true of appliances, furniture and larger purchasables. You go into a "store" filled with the most attractive goods, none of which is for sale. You place an order. You order what you ant, and it is delivered from some distant warehouse, or even from the manufacturer, who may be in another town.

In big cities, where centrally located stores are worth very costly, it is too expensive to maintain them. And even storkrooms on the premises of the "store", the show room, Besides, delivery of goods from a downtown store to the perimeter there is no abundance, and no supply in them at all.

Strategically located warehouses on the outskirts of a city make delivery a much simpler traffic problem. The congestion of the city core is thus avoided. Congestion is confined to the downtown and

HIGHWAY CONSIDERATION

If you don't think it is a great investment, in people, just to be considerate and kind to them, then you have not a fine judgment of life. A big element of happiness is the result. The number of car accidents bears on the increase. Consideration on the part of all should be a natural growth.

It might be a good idea for drivers to be presented an attractive medal, or decoration, to be worn by the person the other fellow the "benefit of the doubt," and play safe. We still have many small things to watch Consideration for others should never be forgotten. These high lights of life are not "sissy things, but powerful machines. Respect them as such. Happy Driving!

Quinte Trap And Gun Club

Jackie Wardaugh fired a perfect 25 to top the pack at the Quinte Trap and Gun Club shoot yesterday. And earlier in the week a Mr. Marvin also turned in a 25 score to make it a banner week at the local club.

Other good scores in the wednesday shoot included 24's by R. Thomson and J. Walsh, a 23 by Doug Johnston and 22's by D. Parker and H. Jewitt.

Dr. M. Walcott triggered 24, close on Wardaugh's heels, on Sunday. Other high scorers were: D. Johnston 23, J. Walsh 22, S. Keogh 22, R. Thomson 22, C. Gardner 22, R. McKinnon 21, G. Hammett 21 and S. Green 20.

Double Drowning Report Proves To Be Rumor

The report of a possible double drowning which fortunately turned out to be but a rumor sent provincial police from Belleville and Picton to the Bayside area of the Bay of Quinte on Sunday afternoon.

As it turned out two of a three-member fishing party which had left the north shore of the bay had waded ashore on the opposite shore after the boat either sprang a leak or shipped water.

When only one man of the three-man party returned ashore the boat the alarm was raised.

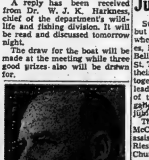
Police at Belleville said it was not quite clear what had happened to give rise to the rumor.

The incident involved three Toronto men, who went out on the bay from near Bayside. Later two of the men, William LaPointe and Stanley Stewart, waded ashore on the Prince Edward County side of the Bay.

By mid-day all three of the Toronto men were stated to be on their way home.

Fish and Game Holds Meeting Tuesday Night

The Belleville District and Game Club holds its last meeting of the fall and winter season at the Club Canara tomorrow night starting at eight o'clock.



The opening fall meeting is scheduled for September 20.

A film fishing extravaganza will feature tomorrow night's meeting. The films deal with fish, fishing and conservation.

At the last meeting the club discussed the reduction of the daily limit of lake trout from five to three. A letter was sent to the Department of Lands and Forests regarding the situation.

A reply has been received from Dr. W. J. K. Harkness, chief of the department's wildlife and fishing division. It will be read and discussed tomorrow night.

The draw for the boat will be made at the meeting while three good prizes also will be drawn for.

LT. COL. A. A. KENNEDY
Lieutenant-Colonel Alberic Arnett Kennedy, D.S.O., has been a Commissioner of The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario since May, 1955. He is chairman of the Owen Sound Public Utilities Commission; past-president of the Georgian Bay Municipal Electrical Association; and past-president of the Ontario Municipal Electric Association.

Col. Kennedy, born in Owen Sound on July 23, 1903, is both a distinguished soldier and a prominent businessman of that city. During World War II, he was awarded the Distinguished Service Order for gallantry in action. He commanded the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, serving with distinction in England, Italy and Northwest Europe. Since the end of the war, he has been Commanding Officer of the 45th Anti-Tank Regiment at Owen Sound.

He has long been active in civic affairs and has taken a vital interest for many years in the Ontario Hydro operation.

Col. Kennedy is married and has one son and three daughters.

CHURCH PARADE — Girl Guides and Brownies from Bellleville and district held their annual church parade Sunday afternoon, attending service at St. Thomas Anglican Church. Members of the 4th Belleville Guides are approaching church after marching from Collegiate campus.

500 Brownies, Guides Attend Jubilee Service

Sunday afternoon saw a brief but colorful parade downtown when over 500 Brownies, Guides, Rangers and Guiders of the Belleville Division assembled at St. Thomas' Anglican Church for their annual service of worship together. The children and their leaders filled the entire body of the church and part of the gallery for this service of the Golden year of guiding.

The Reverend Canon A. S. McConnell directed the service, assisted by the Reverend J. C. Riesberry, both of St. Thomas' Church. Mr. D. W. Davenport, organist, provided the music, assisted by the St. Thomas' Junior choir.

Members of the Guide movement taking special part in the service were: Brownie Judy Edwards, who read the opening prayer; Guide Margaret Van Slone, who led the responsive reading, and Ranger Phyllis Walsh, who read the Scripture lesson. Members of the Belleville Land Rangers distributing programs, looked after seating the Guides and Brownies, and presented the offertory that is to go to the World Refugee Year through the Guide World Friendship Fund.

WELCOME EXTENDED

The Reverend Canon A. S. McConnell welcomed the Brownies, Guides, Rangers and Guiders to St. Thomas' Church, noting that it was most appropriate that in the year that Guiding celebrates its Golden Jubilee its Belleville members should worship together in St. Thomas' Church which has now achieved more than twice Guiding's 50 years. Using as his text verses from Isaiah 54, which state: "Enlarge the place of thy tents, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations . . . lengthen thy cords and strengthen thy stakes" —and, taking his young congregation on an imaginary trip to the newly acquired Guide campsite at Waupoos, Canon McConnell let a most inspirational message with his listeners, showing them how the message applies both to the camping they all anticipate and enjoy and to their daily lives as well.

Following the service, assisted by the Salvation Army Band under the direction of Bandmaster Jack Green, the Brownies and Guides paraded, with their colors to the Campus of the B.C.I., where the salute was taken by Mrs. A. M. Haig, Guide Area Commissioner, who had also been in attendance at the service, and Division Commissioner, Mrs. D. D. Diamantides.

Also present at the saluting base which greeted her from her point of vantage at the saluting base.

Mrs. D. G. Diamantides thanked all those who had made the parade a success and left two messages with her listeners.

TREE PLANTING DAY

On May 23rd there is to be a tree-planting day at the new campsite at Waupoos when 5,000 trees are to be planted. All children in the Movement with their parents are invited to take a picnic to the camp site and to help with the planting. In connection with the camp, the adults are invited to offer their services for work parties to help in the redecorating of the Waupoos House dining-room, which is Belleville's responsibility.

In closing Mrs. Diamantides reminded those assembled that they had all worked hard for the new campsite during the first half of the Golden year of guiding and challenged them, in the second half of the year, to think of those in the less happy refugee camps — for this is World Refugee Year — and to put the thoughts into some action to help those whose camps are not camps of pleasure but their only homes — and even these they are in danger of losing.

It is good to be challenged, and as the Brownies and Guides, and their Guiders, stood at attention for God Save the Queen, which ended the activities of the afternoon, as their Union Jacks and Company Flags fluttered proudly in the breeze, the stirring sight left onlookers with a conviction that the challenge would be well met.

GREAT GROWTH

New York City's estimated population of 8,034,000 in 1959 compares with 49,401 in 1790.

King Geo. H-S Assoc. Presents Certificates

The King George Home and School Association held the finish session of the term on Monday evening in the school auditorium with the president, Mrs. C. Scott, presiding. Mrs. Scott welcomed the many parents present and also gave a special welcome to Mrs. Dave McDonald, executive member of the Belleville and District Home and School Council and thanked everyone who had worked so hard to made the bridge and euchre, held in April, the great success it was.

She also gave special thanks to the students of Grades VII and VIII for the posters they had made to advertise the card game. Prizes were awarded to Betty Bronson and Heather Campbell of Grade VII and Tammy Lake and Susan Riordan of Grade VIII for the best poster designs.

Special prizes were awarded to five boys for Grade VI — Allan Lee, Alistair Scott, Ernest Johnston, Warren Calbury and David Muir.

Mr. L. Price, who has been the treasurer for the past two years, was thanked by Mrs. Scott for doing such an efficient job and presented with a gift in appreciation. Mr. Coxon, school caretaker, was also thanked for all his help throughout the year and presented with a suitable gift.

The room count was taken with the junior banner going to Mrs. Thompson's room and a tie for the senior banner between Mr. Roblin's class and Mr. Moore's class.

NEW OFFICERS

Mr. W. Roblin, nominating chairman, presented the new slate of officers, who are as follows:

President, Mrs. C. Scott; 1st vice-president, Mr. R. Lee; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. H. Kelleher; recording secretary, Mrs. J. McKibbon; treasurer, Mr. H. Leech; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. Calkin; executive members, Mrs. H. Leech, Mrs. D. Stoughton, Mrs. D. Ashley, Mr. R. Kelleher, social convenors, Mrs. M. Dowbyuz and Mrs. R. Lee.

The officers were installed by Mrs. Dave McDonald, who congratulated each person and wished them success for the coming year.

A personal gift of an engraved silver tray was presented Mrs. C. Scott from Mrs. McDonald who spoke as follows: "Madame president, I make this personal presentation of a gavel to you in appreciation of the high esteem in which I hold you, and your untiring efforts toward Home and School."

The meeting was turned over to program convenor Mr. Ronald Lee, who presented the puppet play Grades VII and VIII with St. John Ambulance junior First Aid certificates. The students have now completed 18 weeks of first aid, taught by Mrs. Ashley and Mrs. Kelleher. This is the first time the course has ever been taught in a public school in Belleville and the pupils did exceptionally well.

The following boys obtained 100 per cent on their exams: Greg Michaud, Mike Nichols and Don Riddell.

Mr. Lee read a report on the first day's activities at the 41st annual convention of the Home and School Federation, compiled by Mrs. Dave McDonald and also his own report of the activities of the second day. He recommended that two delegates be sent to the convention next year as many more meetings could be covered. Mr. Lee gave a short address on artificial respiration and showed a few statistics to show how important it is for everyone to know how to apply artificial respiration, immediately, at the time of an accident, rather than have to wait for a qualified person to arrive.

A most interesting film on the subject was shown called "No Time to Spare."

Refreshments were served by social convenors Mrs. R. Lee and Mrs. M. Dowbyuz, assisted by the mothers of Grades VI and VII.

Nobel Peace Prize Winners Want Dag Sealed at Summit

CHICAGO (AP) — Four Nobel peace prize winners urged Saturday that Dag Hammarskjold, secretary-general of the United Nations, be seated at the summit conference in Paris this week.

L. B. Pearson of Canada, Lib-oral party leader and former Nobel prize in 1957 for his work in setting up the United Nations Emergency Force in the Middle East while he was external affairs minister, said telegrams urging UN representation at the conference table were sent to leaders of the four major powers participating in the summit talks.

The telegrams to President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Khrushchev, President de Gaulle and Prime Minister Macmillan said the UN official's presence would serve as "a living reminder of the purposes and principles and the existence of the United Nations, and of the vital interest of all mankind in the summit discussions."

Pearson's announcement came at a press conference following a meeting of Chicago members of the General Assembly.

Paul G. Hoffman, managing director of the UN special fund, told reporters that Hammarskjold's presence in Paris would demonstrate that the UN represents 32 nations and is master of no nation or small group of nations.
